Marines, Helix Charter High School face off on field of battle

MARINE CORPS AIR STATION MIRAMAR, Calif. - Adrenaline is pumping through his veins. Quick mental snapshots before ducking into the huddle. Hours of practice and preparation are all he has to rely on - he knows all his teammates, what the enemy is approaching from, and how to rally his team into a better field position. One wrong move, and BAM! (Click on the photo for the full story)

A Message From the Commanding Officer

Congratulations on the completion of another successful quarter. As a District we continue to accomplish the mission with fewer resources, to include less vehicles and limited TAD funds, we continue not only make our mission, but have the lowest MCRD attrition in the nation.

Our success is not only the quality of men and women we are currently recruiting into the Marine Corps today, but more importantly, it reflects the dedication and hard work each and every one of you.

As we move into the remainder of the FY, we will see additional shipping cuts as a result of the draw
