Whiteman heritage highlighted during missileer reunion

Retired missiliers return to tour the Oscar-01 inactive Missile Alert Facility at Whiteman Air Force Base, Missouri, on April 6, 2019. For almost 30 years, Oscar-01 was the home of 10 ballistic missiles that served as part of the defense strategy during the Cold War. Today, the bunker is used for tours to show what life and duty was like for a missileer. Retiree Linda Aldridge and fellow missileers found a photo of her working in 1970's during their reunion.
