Month of the MILITARY CHILD

Calling all young artists: Show us what it means to be a military child

From 509th Bomb Wing staff reports

April is the Month of the Military Child and we want to hear from Team Whiteman's kids.

Military children face challenges that most other children outside the military may never have to face, but they also are enriched with unique experiences and broadening opportunities others will never know.

Recognizing the distinctive aspects of being a military child this month is a way to celebrate the youngest members of our military community. What does being a military child mean to your son or daughter?

THE ART OF BEING A MILITARY CHILD

WHAT: Ask your child to draw a picture of what it means to be a military child. Don't forget to include his or her first name and age.

WHO: Any child at Whiteman Air Force Base, age 6 and younger.

HOW: Scan your child's artwork and email it to whiteman.warrior@us.af.mil, or drop it off at the Bomb Wing building, 509 Spirit Blvd., Room 116.

WHEN: The deadline in Friday, April 12.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: We'll feature these drawings on Facebook and in the Warrior newspaper.
