
Calling all young artists: Show us what it means to be a military child

From 509th Bomb Wing staff reports

April is the Month of the Military Child and we want to hear from Team Whiteman's kids.

Military children face challenges that most other children outside the military may never have to face, but they also are enriched with unique experiences and broadening opportunities others will never know.

Recognizing the distinctive aspects of being a military child this month is a way to celebrate the youngest members of our military community. What does being a military child mean to your son or daughter?

THE ART OF BEING A MILITARY CHILD

WHAT: Ask your child to draw a picture of what it means to be a military child. Don't forget to include his or her first name and age.

WHO: Any child at Whiteman Air Force Base, age 6 and younger.

HOW: Scan your child's artwork and email it to whiteman.warrior@us.af.mil, or drop it off at the Bomb Wing building, 509 Spirit Blvd., Room 116.

WHEN: The deadline in Friday, April 12.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: We'll feature these drawings on Facebook and in the Warrior newspaper.

We're here for all of your loved ones.

We know the health of your family is your top priority, it's ours too. We strive to provide high quality, family-centric care in a friendly and efficient environment. Through working with you, our providers are dedicated to empowering you to make the best health care decisions for you and your loved ones.

With convenience in mind, WMMC offers family health providers in multiple locations, bringing quality family healthcare closer to home!

Choose a family physician who is committed to the health of your family and the health of your community.

Visit WMMC.com/family to find a family physician near you!

Western Missouri
MEDICAL CENTER

(660) 747-2500 | WMMC.com

554745s