The Area Development Partnership, along with Lawrence Warren, owner of Warren Paving in Hattiesburg, held a social gathering for military service members of the 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team June 26.

This marked the fourth annual ADP social gathering for the unit at Warren’s house. Members of the brigade mingled with ADP board members and other guests while they enjoyed food catered by Mack’s.

The ADP is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving the quality of life for citizens of Greater Hattiesburg through community and economic development. The ADP unites hundreds of individuals, businesses and organizations, thus creating a unique agency working to enhance the region’s economy and build a better community.

“We are very grateful for you and your Families,” said Chad Newell, Area Development Partnership Hattiesburg president, as he addressed the Soldiers. “Because I know they sacrifice at home in your absence.”

“We are the ADP Chamber of Commerce. We get up every day trying to enhance the quality of life through economic progress. The large part of the economic progress is based off of three pillars of economics – healthcare, education and military. We are a college town to the core, we are a healthcare community and we are a military community. These are the three legs of the stool; they keep us strong.”

According to the ADP website, Camp Shelby is the largest service employer with a total of 3,300 employees. Forrester General Hospital ranks second and the University of Southern Mississippi comes in third with 2,220 employees.

“With over 3,000 employees, you are buying homes, renting cars and renting apartments,” said Newell. “We are very grateful for your economic impact.”

A number of 155th ABCT Soldiers braved the high temperatures and humidity to attend the gathering, with some even attending the after completion of field training at Camp Shelby.

“To all the members of the ADP, we say thank you,” said Maj. Gen. Augustus Collins, the Adjutant General of Mississippi. “Every year, you do this for us and we appreciate that. We thank you for all you do for our military.”
