Special camps

The Society of American Military Engineers (SAME)-US Army is hosting its annual Engineering and Construction Camp June 16-22 in Vicksburg.

The camp provides high school students with a great hands-on experience in engineering and construction activities. Vicksburg's wide-ranging engineering community provides a wealth of offerings in cutting edge engineering topics.

The one-week program is supervised by professional engineers and volunteers from engineering organizations in the lower Mississippi Valley.

The crewmates (campers) are exposed to a wealth of knowledge about the various career choices in the fields of engineering and construction, focusing primarily on water resources engineering. Applications are normally distributed to high schools in January for submission to the camp Student Affairs Committee by the middle of March each year.

The Mississippi Armed Forces Museum at Camp Shelby Joint Forces Training Center hosted the seventh annual Laying of the Wreaths ceremony May 23 to honor the memory of service members from Mississippi and other states who gave their lives in service to our nation.

"At today's event we're honoring those Mississippians who paid the ultimate sacrifice by defending our freedom and though they're gone from us their legacy of commitment and courage live on forever," said Brewer. "I'd like to say a special thanks to the members of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars for making today's event possible. Your service to the state and America is greatly appreciated."

Brewer also commended the Families and loved ones who have supported and encouraged our nation's service men and women during time of war.

"I'd also like to recognize our military spouses. These individuals have supported our troops from day one and they've been critical to our victory in this war that we're fighting right now,"
