

U.S. Army photos by Staff Sgt. Kenny Hatten, CSJFTC Public Affairs

Above, A member of the U.S. Army Tank and Armament Command's Team Abrams walks down the line of flatcars before the unloading process begins at CSJFTC. Members of the Camp Shelby MATES team work as ground guides during the unloading process, acting as an "extra set of eyes" for the tank drivers as they carefully maneuver the huge vehicles off the rail cars at CSJFTC.

More tanks for 155th

By STAFF SGT. KENNY HATTEN
CSJFTC Public Affairs

A batch of 30 new M1A2 Abrams SEPv.2 main battle tanks arrived at the Mobilization And Training Equipment Site (MATES) rail yard at Camp Shelby Joint Forces Training Center May 17. The tanks represent a significant upgrade for the gaining units of the 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team, and tank crews from across Mississippi will soon begin training on the latest and greatest combat vehicle in the Army's high tech arsenal.

