

Palazzo honors local Tuskegee Airman

Congressman Steven Palazzo (R-MS), recently hosted a ceremony officially recognizing Tuskegee Airman and Hattiesburg resident, Cpl. Needham Jones, Sr., at the Lake Terrace Convention Center in Hattiesburg. Palazzo presented Corporal Jones with a Congressional Gold Medal and certificate in the first official ceremony recognizing his service as a Tuskegee Airman.

As the first African American airmen, the Tuskegee Airmen faced extraordinary obstacles and discrimination during World War II. The Airmen's exemplary service played a significant role in prompting the Air Force to become the first service branch to begin integrating its ranks in 1949.

When asked to share his thoughts on The Tuskegee Airmen and his long-overdue recognition, Corporal Jones stated: "I am honored to be included with such a courageous group of trailblazers. I believe you should strive to be the best that you can in whatever you do. It takes all parts of a wheel to make it turn. No matter how small you think your part in the great scheme of things, do it well."

Jones was called up in the draft just six weeks after the bombing of Pearl Harbor in December 1941.

As a student at Alcorn A & M College, he was allowed to complete the spring semester as a member of the reserves and reported to the Air Corps at Camp Shelby, Mississippi on Sept. 7, 1942.

After eight days of testing, he was sent to Maxwell Air Force Base in Tuskegee, Ala., and became a member of the 99th Pursuit Squadron. He served in the Motor Pool and Ground support, keeping the Tuskegee Airmen's famous Red Tails in the air.

Congressman Steven Palazzo (MS-4), presents Cpl. Needham Jones, Sr., with a Congressional Gold Medal at a ceremony in Hattiesburg, in recognition of his service as a Tuskegee Airman.

MEDX® FOR CHRONIC LOW BACK OR NECK PAIN

Chronic pain is a pain which lasts for several months to several years. Despite onset, chronic low back or neck pain is frequently associated with weakness of the spinal extensor muscles. CARE Physical Therapy offers computerized MedX® testing and rehabilitation for the treatment of these chronic problems. Developed by Dr. Michael Pollock at the University of Florida in Gainesville, MedX® has been proven in countless clinical studies to help eliminate chronic back or neck pain. Initial treatment includes computerized testing to determine the extent of the spinal weakness compared to the norm. Complete rehabilitation involves 8 to 12 weeks of specific MedX® strengthening 2 to 3 times per week. Frequent retesting will help determine your progress.

For more information or for a free computerized MedX® evaluation, please contact Billy at (601) 296-0199. If you are an appropriate candidate, we will require a referral from your physician to begin your MedX® rehabilitation. We accept Medicare, workers compensation, and all health insurance programs. Let CARE Physical Therapy help put you on the road to recovery from these chronic conditions.
