Picking up from where they left off last year, Better Opportunities for Single Soldiers (BOSS) members teamed up with the League of Dreams to provide local children with disabilities the chance to play baseball.

Led by Garrison Command Sgt. Maj. James Ervin and BOSS president Spc. Eric Jimenez, the Soldiers met League of Dreams founder Frank Kolarek at Cal Senior's Yard inside the Ripken Experience Complex during the Cal Ripken World Series in Aberdeen Aug. 17.

More than 30 players and parent/guardian volunteers were in attendance for the combined practice and game which preceded the day's World Series match ups.

Kolarek thanked Ervin and Jimenez for the Garrison's support of the program.

"Since we came to Aberdeen you and your Soldiers have been steadfast supporters of what we're trying to do for Maryland kids," he said. "We remain grateful to the APG Garrison for supporting and working with us to give these kids special moments that they'll cherish forever."

Area youth can learn about science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) careers from APG and other community professional volunteers during the third annual STEM in Scouting Day at Shore Park Sept. 28.

One of the event's organizers, John Gillette, said this year's goal is to make the event more inclusive by opening the program to more than just Boy Scouts. Cub Scouts (first through fifth grade boys), Venturers (male or female youth ages 14 to 20), and Girl Scouts are welcome to participate.

Garman Succeeds Bostick as 1st AML commander

Senior leaders, Soldiers, civilians and guests gathered at Aberdeen Proving Ground's Top of the Bay in July to witness a transition in leadership for the 1st Area Medical Laboratory as Col. Anthony C. Bostick relinquished command of the unit to Col. Patrick M. Garman.

Garman comes to APG from Tripler Army Medical Center, Hawaii, where he served as pharmacy consultant for the Pacific Regional Medical Command and as chief of the Department of Pharmacy.

Col. Jeffrey J. Johnson, commander of the 44th Medical Brigade, Fort Bragg, N.C. - the unit's higher headquarters - presided over the ceremony.

Johnson commended Bostick who took charge of the unit in 2011 as it was taking on a new mission order from Central Command while supporting the Army's Defense Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear and high-yield Explosives (CBRNE) Response Force (DCRF) mission.

"This was truly a great challenge, [they were] being pulled in three directions," Johnson said. He credited Bostick with using vision and tenacity during his tenure as the unit's commander, to develop and implement a three-team modular laboratory concept of operations, resulting in a more flexible, expeditionary laboratory, better able to meet the Warfighter's needs.

"[He] delivered this well-developed concept to FORSCOM [U.S. Army Forces Command] and the AMEDD [Army Medical Department] Directorate of Combat Doctrine Development, leading to a change in doctrine regarding the implementation of an AML in support of full spectrum operations," Johnson said.

He thanked Bostick for his patience and flexibility and, "continued leadership to the end."

"You and the Soldiers standing here today have set the standard for many yet to come in the future," he said.

Turning to Garman, Johnson welcomed him and his Family, adding, "I am fully confident the 1st AML will excel under your leadership."

"To the Soldiers of 1st AML," he added, "thank you for your service,

Back to school tips

Whether you’re a parent or educator, these resources and tips can help prepare for the new school year. More in-depth coverage and information on each topic is available at <http://www.usa.gov/Topics/Back-to-School.shtml>.

Immunizations/Health Requirements

It’s a good idea to take your child for a physical and eye exam before school starts. Most schools require up-to-date immunizations and may need documentation. Failing to keep immunizations current could prevent your child from attending school. Check the immunization requirements in your state.

Bring all health-related forms that the school requires when you take your child to the doctor. If your child will be participating in a sport, his/her doctor may have to sign a release form. Be sure to keep your own copy of any records.

Let your child’s doctor know if you have any questions or concerns about the scheduled vaccines or any other health-related issues that may be affecting your child.

Financial Assistance for Families

There are several programs and resources available to ease the financial burden of going back to school, including low cost meals and affordable health insurance.

Find out if your family qualifies for any Child Nutrition Programs, which includes the National School Lunch Program.

For free or low-cost health coverage, see if you qualify for the Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP). If you don’t qualify, you can find and compare health insurance through the Health Insurance Marketplace. Enrollment starts Oct. 1, 2013 for coverage beginning Jan. 1, 2014. For more information, visit <http://www.insurekidsnow.gov/chip/index.html>.

Homework Help

Homework can provide many benefits for children. It can improve memory and comprehension, develop study skills, and teach children how to manage time. You can help by making sure your kids have a quiet, well-lit place to do homework and provide assistance, but not complete answers. Learn how to help your kids with homework and succeed in school. For more information, visit <http://kids.usa.gov/> or <http://www2.ed.gov/parents/academic/help/homework/index.html>.

Shopping for School Supplies

Some states offer a “sales tax holiday” for a few days each year. This means that certain products won’t be taxed during a set period of time. If your state offers a sales tax holiday, you may be able to save money on clothes, shoes, and other supplies. Check to see if your state participates in sales tax holidays.

Healthy Eating/Physical Fitness

Nutrition is an important factor in academic performance. Studies have shown that children who eat healthy, balanced breakfasts and lunches are more alert throughout the school day and earn higher grades than those who have an unhealthy diet. Get tips for making a healthy school lunch and find healthy eating tips for the whole family.

Exercise is an important part of a child’s health. Physical activity helps build muscle, promotes strong bones, and controls weight. Research ways to help promote an active lifestyle. For more information, visit www.letsmove.gov/healthy-families.

Kids, the school bus and you

Courtesy USA.gov

For 23 million students nationwide, the school day begins and ends with a trip on a school bus. The greatest risk is not riding the bus, but approaching or leaving it. Before children go back to school or start school for the first time, it is essential that adults and children know traffic safety rules.

DRIVERS

When backing out of a driveway or leaving a garage, watch for children walking or bicycling to school.

When driving in neighborhoods with school zones, watch out for young people who may be thinking about getting to school, but may not be thinking of getting there safely.

Slow down. Watch for children walking in the street, especially in neighborhoods with no sidewalks.

Slow down. Watch for children playing and congregating near bus stops.

Be alert. Children arriving late for the bus may dart into the street without looking for traffic.

Learn and obey the school bus laws in your state. Learn the “flashing signal light system” that school bus drivers use to alert motorists of pending actions:

Yellow flashing lights indicate that the bus is preparing to stop to load or unload children. Motorists should slow down and prepare to stop their vehicles.

Red flashing lights and extended stop arms indicate that the bus has stopped, and that children are getting on or off. Motorists must stop their cars and wait until the red lights stop flashing, the extended stop sign is withdrawn, and the bus begins moving before they can start driving again.

CHILDREN

Get to the bus stop at least five minutes before the bus is scheduled to arrive.

When the bus approaches, stand at least three giant steps (6 feet) away from the curb, and line up away from the street.

Wait until the bus stops, the door opens, and the driver says that it’s okay before stepping onto the bus.

If you have to cross the street in front of the bus, walk on the sidewalk or along the side of the road to a point at least five giant steps (10 feet) ahead of the bus before you cross. Be sure that the bus driver can see you, and you can see the bus driver.

Use the handrails to avoid falls. When exiting the bus, be careful that clothing with drawstrings and book bags with straps don’t get caught in the handrails or doors.

Never walk behind the bus.

Walk at least three giant steps away from the side of the bus.

If you drop something near the bus, tell the bus driver. Never try to pick it up because the driver may not be able to see you.

PARENTS

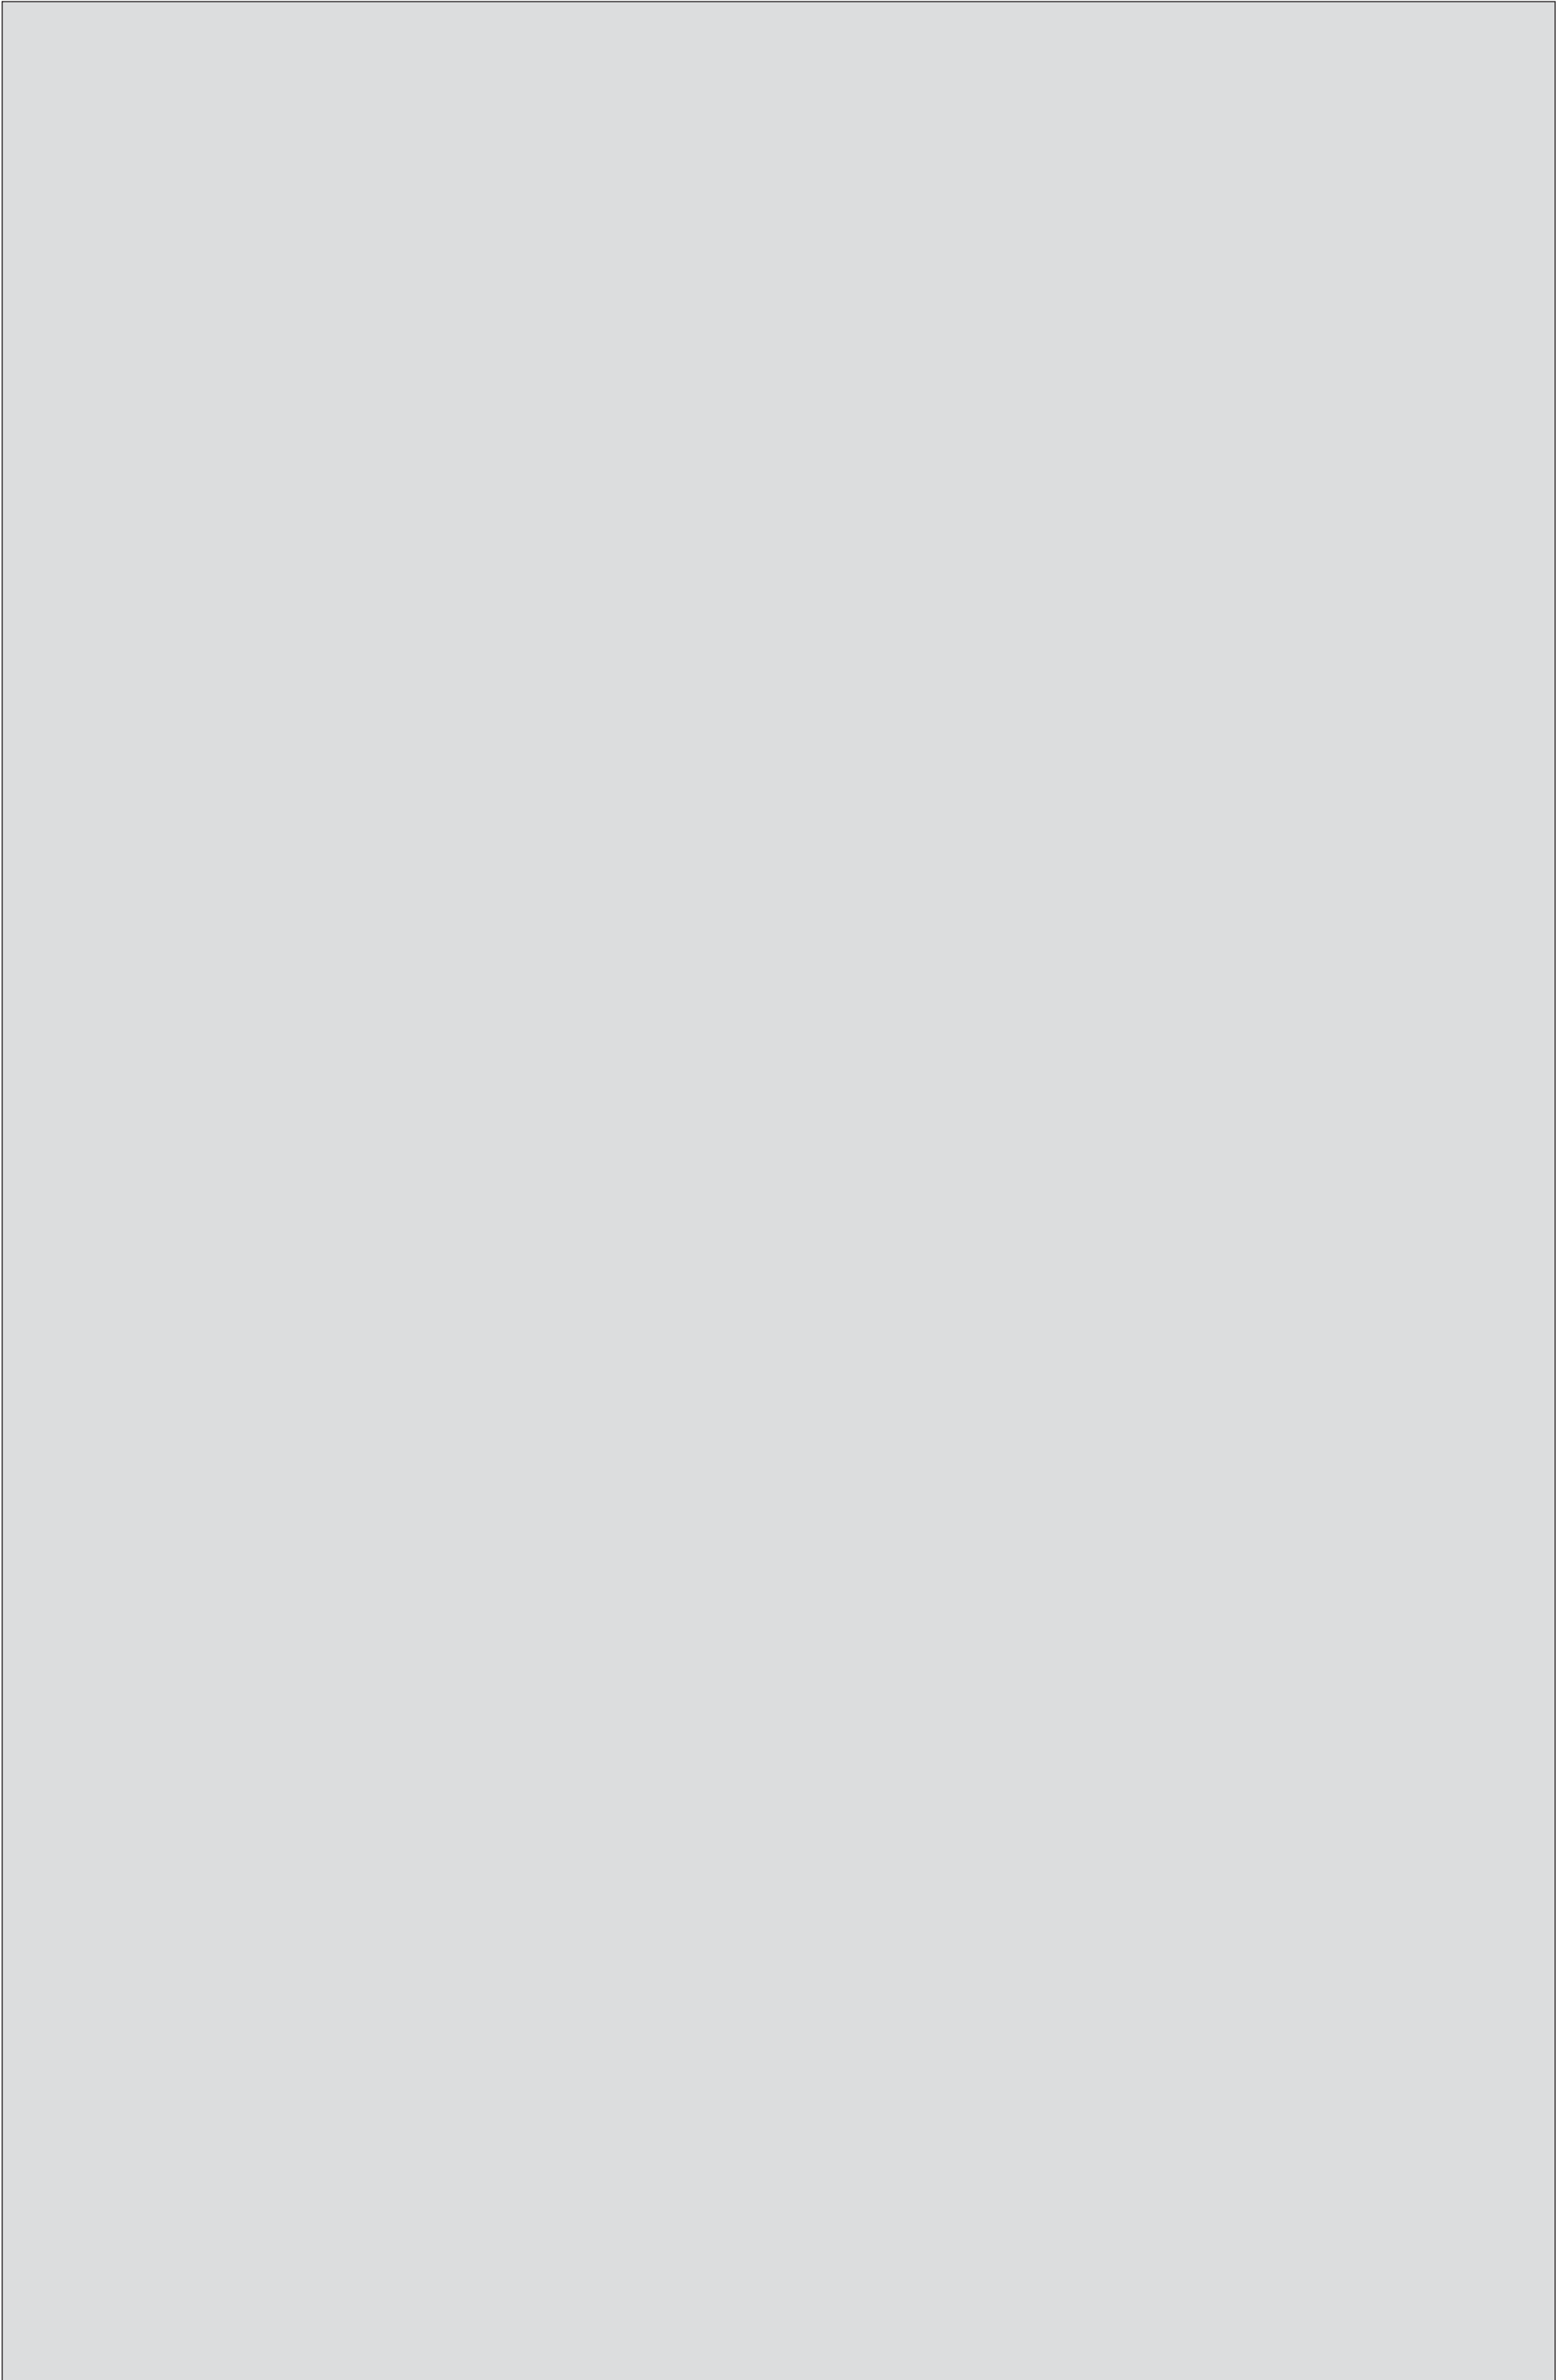

Teach children to follow these common sense practices to make school bus transportation safer.

Framing the Future

By ANGELA FRENCH MARKUM
CORVIAS MILITARY LIVING

On Aug. 19, Maj. Gen. Robert Ferrell, installation senior commander, and Col. Gregory McClinton, garrison commander, joined Corvias Military Living program leadership to oversee the initial stages of framing for a new upscale community center being built exclusively for residents living on post at Aberdeen Proving Ground.

During the beginning stages of construction, “the Bayside Community Center will dedicate nearly 8,000 square feet of first-class, free amenities tailored to meet the needs of Aberdeen families.

“This is going to be a home run,” said Ferrell. “It will be convenient for families and they will be able to entertain in a place that’s safe. When you look at all the activities that will be offered, it’s really going to add a wow effect for residents.”

The community center theme celebrates a Maryland landmark beloved by children and families who flock to it every year to relax – Ocean City, Maryland.

(From right) Installation and CECOM Commander Maj. Gen. Robert Ferrell talks about the benefits of a community center for APG families as Garrison Commander Col. Gregory McClinton and the Program Manager for Corvias Military Living Scott Kotwas, listen while standing inside the frame of what will be the new community center for APG residents.

last year or a short drive for Plumb Point and Edgewood residents, the center is designed to get to the heart of what military families deserve – first-class amenities conveniently located close to home.

Residents will not have to travel far to take a swim in a resort-style pool with lap lanes and beach-entry play area, or feel like they are on Ocean City’s classic wooden boardwalk. The center will incorporate Ocean City beach design elements and boast carnival-style arcade games such as skee-ball, pinball and a fortune teller machine - similar to Zoltar from the movie “Big,” for those old enough to remember.

Amenities will also include an expanded fitness center with attached children’s play room and a separate studio outfitted for classes such as yoga, calisthenics or group workouts. The wall-mounted flat- screen television will allow residents to bring aerobic videos from home to use in the studio space. The children’s play room will feature interactive electronic games focused on learning, so little ones can exercise their brains while mom and dad get in their physical training.

Also planned is a multi-purpose room with computers so residents can communicate with friends and Family or whost events like birthday parties, baby showers or Family Readiness Group (FRG) meetings.

The center will offer free Wi-Fi and is where the resident services staff will be located, enabling them to better serve resident needs. Other amenities include outdoor gathering spaces with play equipment and a picnic pavilion.

The grand opening of the center is slated for Spring 2014, just in time for residents to enjoy fun in the sun at the pool when it opens for the summer. In the meantime, residents can track the progress over the next several months as work crews begin the vertical construction phase.

Nearly four years into the 50-year partnership between the Army garrison and Corvias, the mission to improve the quality of life for Soldiers and families is being realized. Working together through the partnership, Corvias was able to move the construction of the Bayside Community Center forward in the development plans to deliver it to families one year earlier than expected.

This is truly a good partnership,” added Ferrell. “The relationship has been efficient, innovative and responsive in taking care of families.”

The partnership is an example of how private-sector funding provides solutions for the Army to continue improvement and construction projects, like the community center, despite current financial strains and Department of Defense budget cuts.

“Thanks to privatization and the partnership with the Army at Aberdeen Proving Ground, families living on post will continue to see improvements to their living conditions and quality of life,” said Scott Kotwas, program manager for Corvias.

Youth Center hosts robotics open house

APG News

The APG North (Aberdeen) youth center developing ROBOTICS program held an open house Aug. 13 to give the community a look at some of the new things coming up in Lego-designed platforms. The group focus is on youth exploration of robotic systems, scientific inquiry and the engineering design process, according to Norma Warwick, facility director.

“The open house allows parents and children of all ages to explore four Lego platforms and inquire about our developing club, Heroes With Heart Robotics. It’s going to be a lot of fun,” Warwick said.

The club stood up about a month ago and already is pursuing grants, she added. Already partnered with 4-H Youth Development Organization, the center’s youth regularly compete in 4-H events during the annual Harford County Farm Fair.

“Robotics is not new to 4-H, it’s just new to us,” Warwick said. “This is the kind of grassroots building from the ground up that’s getting kids interested in STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) subjects. It makes them knowledgeable and passionate about technology.”

The new comprehensive robotics program is indeed designed to inspire an early interest in robotics engineering and technology, according to Jerry Chaney, an engineering technician with the U.S. Army Research Laboratory and the group’s leader. Chaney, who coached a team at Roye-Williams Elementary School, asked Warwick about bringing an expanded family oriented program to the center.

The open house, he said, was held to draw interest, and hopefully, new members to the growing program. “The hope is to get this going and build up a nice technology outreach for the greater APG community,” he said.

4-H Robotics offers a comprehensive curriculum, “4-H Robotics: Engineering for Today and Tomorrow,” which introduces robotics to youth ages 9 to 18 with beginner, intermediate and advanced skill levels. There will also be a 4H Clover portion which is for youth ages 5-8. Chaney and his wife Wendy, an ARL Engineer, have two children enrolled in the youth center and in the 4-H Robotics program. They are not the only parent volunteers. Others include ARL’s Lisa Marvel and Angelique Scharine as well as ARL interns James Bartkowski and Greg Tolj; Tat Fung from the U.S. Army Communications-Electronics, Research, Development and Engineering Center (CERDEC); Kathleen Zielenski of the Network Enterprise Center and Dinah Thomas from the Program Executive Office-Command, Control, Communications-Tactical (PEO C3T).

The Heroes With Heart Robotics club is tentatively set to meet 5 to 6p.m. on a weeknight and for two hours on Sundays. For more information, contact Warwick at 410-278-9059; norma.a.warwick.naf@mail.mil or e-mail the 4H club at HeroesWithHeartRobotics@gmail.com.

4-H Robotics
www.4-h.org

4-H Robotics is delivered through 4-H clubs, camps, school enrichment, and after-school programs nationwide. Young people will engage in service learning and community service projects, develop leadership and citizenship skills, and develop numerous life skills taught in 4-H clubs nationwide. They will develop decision-making and critical thinking skills, and implement an understanding of the scientific and engineering design processes as they build real and virtual robots.

4-H Robotics is a unique opportunity to engage volunteers and corporate employees who can offer science expertise, workforce application, and mentoring to 4-H’ers in local communities.

APG Commemorates Women's Equality Day

August 26 1920 – 93 years ago this week – is a day more of us should take time to remember. That was the date when the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, granting women the right to vote throughout the country, was ratified.

The amendment was first drafted in 1878 by two icons of American history – Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who both devoted their lives to advancing opportunities for women all across our nation. It would ultimately take more than 42 years for the amendment to pass and neither woman would live to see it enacted or to watch as the first women cast their votes under the new law. However, each year on Aug. 26, we honor the passing of the 19th Amendment on what has become known as ‘Women’s Equality Day.’

It is vital that we commemorate not only the struggle and the very real sacrifice it took for the women of our nation to be allowed to vote, but also the incredible advances that American women – and the women of our armed forces – have made over the years. Today, women make up a majority of voters in our national elections. In fact, 53 percent of votes in the 2012 Presidential election were cast by women. In the America of 2013, women comprise nearly 50 percent of our workforce and a majority of the students in colleges and graduate schools. A recent study showed that women are either the primary or the sole breadwinner in 40 percent of American households.

All across today’s Army, women are serving in virtually every capacity: from leading security patrols in Afghanistan to leading entire institutions at their highest levels. For example, at the Headquarters, Department of the Army our current Deputy Chiefs of Staff for both the CIO/G6 and the G2 are Lt. Gen. Susan Lawrence and Lt. Gen. Mary Legere respectively, and Lt. Gen. Patricia Horoho is the first woman to serve as the Army Surgeon General. The Deputy Commanding General, U.S. Army Materiel Command (AMC), the higher headquarters for some of our APG team mates, is Lt. Gen. Patricia McQuiston, and the former Commanding General of AMC was Gen. Ann Dunwoody, the first female four-star officer in U.S. military history.

In addition, we are proud to have within our ranks tens of thousands of stellar young Soldiers like Sgt. Sherri Gallagher, who has claimed titles as ‘Soldier of the Year for the 2010 Best

It is vital that we commemorate not only the struggle and the very real sacrifice it took for the women of our Nation to be allowed to vote, but also the incredible advances that American women – and the women of our Armed Forces – have made over the years.

Warrior Competition’ and was further selected as the Association of the U.S. Army’s ‘Soldier of the Year for 2012.’

Through major efforts like the ‘Soldier 2020 Implementation Plan’, the Army is building on recent advances which include opening over 14,000 additional positions for women in 2012 and evaluating every job in the Army to determine its requirements – physical, mental and emotional - regardless of gender. The Army’s goal is to identify the best-qualified Soldier for the job – male or female - which ultimately aids in shaping our future force.

Our Department of the Army civilian force has made similar advances as well. Today’s Army senior civilian leaders include the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Acquisition, Logistics and Technology, Heidi Shyu; the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Installations and Environment, Kathy Hammack and the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Financial Management and Comptroller, Dr. Mary Sally Matiella. Overall, the number of Department of the Army civilian women, serving in the grades GS-13 thru the Senior Executive Service, has grown from just over 18 percent in 1995 to nearly 30 percent today.

At Aberdeen Proving Ground, women have also established a tremendous record of achievement. During World War II, members of the Women’s Army Corps – or WACs – served at APG in roles as diverse as ordnance testing and truck drivers to ferrying bombers and aircraft around the globe. In fact, during the war, the world’s first operational, digital computer – called ‘ENIAC’ (Electronic Numerical Integrator and Computer), which was moved to APG in 1947, was originally programmed by a team of six women! This is further proof that women have been a part of the science, technology, engineering and math mission at APG for many decades.

Today, not only are we proud to have talented and dedicated women working in every organization and in every field all across APG, we are equally proud that many of our commands are led by extraordinarily accomplished women who serve as tremendous role models for everyone at Team APG.

For example, the Program Executive Office for Command, Control, Communications-Tactical (PEO C3T) is led by Maj. Gen. N. Lee Price and her Deputy, Mary Woods. These two outstanding women leaders have nearly 65-years of experience serving our Army and our nation. They are joined at APG by other exemplary leaders such as Barbara Panther, who serves as the Director of our Consolidated Human Resources Agency. These are just a few examples of the thousands of exceptional women who serve across APG each and every day.

As we build the Army and Team APG of 2020 and beyond, it will be increasingly important for us to attract and develop the most talented women and men who come from every part of our diverse society. Recognizing Women’s Equality Day each year is one of the many important ways we honor the rich, diversity of our force and our nation.

A Women’s Equality Day Awards Program, sponsored by APG’s Research, Development and Engineering Command and the APG Federal Women’s Program, will be held Aug. 22, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., in the Ball Conference Center, Bldg 3074. Mary Woods of PEO C3T will be this year’s guest speaker.

For more information about the APG Federal Women’s Program, please contact Teresa Rudd at teresa.d.rudd.civ@mail.mil

To the many dedicated and talented women who are a part of Team APG – thank you for all you do and Army Strong!

Back-to-School Brigade provides school supplies to military children

By RACHEL PONDER
APG News

Volunteers from Operation Homefront DC Metro distributed 1,000 backpacks and school supplies to APG military children during the Back-to-School Brigade at Shore Park Aug. 19. This program helps offset the back-to-school expenses for military Families. According to Operation Homefront DC Metro Program Manager Roseanne Coleman, more than 5,000 backpacks were distributed to military Families in the DC Metro area last week. This is the fourth consecutive year that Operation Homefront Metro DC hosted this event on APG with assistance from Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation, and Army Community Service.

“The number of people who register for this event grows every year,” Coleman said. “We have been spreading the word through social media.”

In addition to donated backpacks, children received essential back-to-school items such as pens, pencils, markers, crayons, notebook paper, rulers, colored pencils, calculators, and erasers. This event was made possible through corporate sponsors like BAE Systems, Dollar Tree, SAIC, and Singhal.

“Back-to-school shopping can be very overwhelming, especially for single parents,” said Staff Sgt. Sekiah

Bailey, from Kirk U.S. Army Health Clinic, who picked up backpacks and supplies for her three children. “The lists can be long and demanding. Having free backpacks reduces the overall cost of back-to-school shopping.”

Gold Star Family Member Daylin Armstead, a college freshman, said he appreciates receiving free supplies.

“It gives me a good feeling to see that they are helping kids,” he said. “Military children also make sacrifices, they deserve the recognition.”

Staff Sgt. John Sorensen, from HHC, 20th Support Command (CBRNE), said that the event was a fun way to kick off the new school year for his three children.

“Philanthropy to our Soldiers and their Families is very important to our corporate culture,” said Dr. Chris D’Ascenzo from BAE Systems, who helped distribute supplies with a team of APG contractors.

“Throughout the year we give back to the military in different ways,” he said.

Operation Homefront Metro DC is a nonprofit organization that provides emergency services and financial assistance to families of active duty service members and Wounded Warriors in Maryland, Virginia and the Washington, D.C.

Stacie Umbarger Schools Liaison Officer

Preparations for the new school year, which begins Monday, Aug. 26, started weeks ago for Stacie Umbarger, APG’s Schools Liaison Officer. A Directorate of Family and Morale, Welfare & Recreation/Child, Youth and School Services employee, Umbarger is responsible for the coordination of services and communications between Harford, Cecil and Baltimore County public school systems and all Garrison Supported Organizations (GSO).

Basically, the SLO assists in CYSS and broader command functions when school involvement is required, Umbarger said.

Plentiful science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) and other mentoring partnerships with APG organizations assure a busy school year for students as well as the SLO and Umbarger said she is looking forward to it.

“I enjoy helping today’s children, who are tomorrow’s future, any way I can,” she said.

Umbarger is located in Army Community Service Bldg. 2503 Highpoint Road in APG North (Aberdeen). Her hours are 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday-Thursday (closed every other Friday due to Compressed Work Schedule).

For more information, contact Umbarger at 410-278-2857; e-mail stacie.e.umbarger.naf@mail.mil; or visit the MWR website at http://www.apgmwr.com/family/youth_liaison.html.

1st AML welcomes Garman as new commander dedication and sacrifice. I am fortunate to serve with you and I am proud to stand among you. Keep up the superb job.”

Bostick thanked Johnson for his kind words. He recalled that when he assumed command of the unit two years ago, its Soldiers were just returning from Afghanistan and the organization itself was “outdated” and in need of “repair.”

“The Soldiers before you ... have been the backbone behind the rebuilding of the 1st AML,” he said. “After two years, the AML is now standing strong and proud with a strong foundation which it will continue to build from.”

He added that the modular structure of the AML will now allow support for more than one operation, enhancing the unit’s ability to detect, analyze and report environmental contaminants. Bostick added thanks Master Sgt. Adrienne Harris, the unit’s senior noncommissioned officer, for being his “Battle Buddy,” and to Johnson and Brig. Gen. J.B. Burton, commander of the 20th Support Command (CBRNE) for supporting his endeavors.

“Thank you for your guidance, leadership and support and for giving me the opportunity to serve with you and these fine Soldiers,” he said.

Garman said that he was proud to assume the responsibility and humbled to be the next commander of the 1st AML. He thanked Burton and Johnson for the opportunity to lead.

“I look forward to working with each of you and your staffs to ensure this unit is ready to support and sustain the health of our fighting forces where ever they may be.”

The program included the singing of the national anthem by Sgt. 1st Class Jerry Jones and the invocation by APG Garrison Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Jerry Owens.

Col. Patrick M. Garman

Garman was born in Troy, Ohio and graduated from Miami East High School. He attended Ohio Northern University on an ROTC and basketball scholarship and received a bachelor’s degree in Pharmacy in 1991. He earned a master’s in Business Administration from Bowie State University in 1998, a Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Ohio State University in 2000, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Pharmacoepidemiology from the University of Florida in 2007.

Garman’s past assignments include Tripler Army Medical Center, Hawaii; 2nd Medical Brigade, Stensall, England; Office of the Army Surgeon General; 62nd Medical Brigade, Afghanistan; Congressional Staffer, U.S. Army House of Representatives; U.S. Army Medical Materiel Agency and Military Vaccine Agency, Fort Detrick, Md.; Seoul, Republic of Korea; Baumholder, Germany; Fort Sam Houston, Texas; and Fort Irwin, Calif.

His awards include the Bronze Star, Army Meritorious Service, Commendation and Achievement medals and Airborne, Air Assault and Expert Field Medical badges.

Garman is a member of the Order of Military Medical Merit, Association of Military Surgeons of the U.S.; Silver Caduceus Society of Korea, and the 38th Parallel Medical Society of Korea. Garman is married with four children.

1st Area Medical Laboratory

The 1st Area Medical Laboratory was activated March 20, 1942 at Fort Sam Houston, Texas as one of the 19 field laboratories activated during World War II. The unit served as an epidemiological and sanitary laboratory capable of performing studies required in the control and prevention of diseases. It also supplemented laboratory facilities of hospitals and other medical units such as aid stations and dispensaries.

The 1st Medical Laboratory participated in seven campaigns during World War I in North Africa, Italy, France and Germany. The unit deployed to Korea from 1951 to 1953, participated in five additional campaigns and provided laboratory services during the Vietnam War from 1968 to 1970.

The unit was awarded three meritorious unit citations for service during Korea and Vietnam. After Vietnam, the unit was deactivated. On Sept. 16, 2004, the unit was reactivated at APG and re-designated the 1st Area Medical Laboratory.

event is expected to be one of the largest gatherings of Scouts on a military base.

“It is exciting because it allows Scouts to be taught by experts in their field, doing some of the coolest things,” Hutton said.

Also new this year, participating Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Venturers can earn additional badges and NOVA Awards. NOVA awards were created by the Boy Scouts of America two years ago to help them develop critical skills in a competitive world market while increasing an interest in STEM.

Gillette said the Nova Awards generally take more time to complete than a merit badge, “so it is recommended that Scouts complete some of the requirements to earn a NOVA Award before attending the event.”

Approximately 25 Navy Midshipmen Eagle Scouts will join the roster of APG volunteers and Scout leaders to help mentor and instruct participants. Eagle Scouts have obtained the highest rank attainable in the Boy Scout program and bring a wealth of knowledge and experience, explained Hutton.

“These are solid role models,” Hutton said. “They will inspire the Scouts to think big.”

Hutton said the Baltimore Area Council is proud to be on the front end of STEM programs. The first STEM Merit Badge Day co-organized by the Baltimore Area Council was held at APG in 2011. Since then, events like STEM in Scouting have been held at Fort Meade, Md., and several other locations throughout Maryland.

“These events give them an opportunity to try something new,” he said. “Our goal is to expose Scouts to a variety of activities so they can become well-rounded people. Through this STEM event, hopefully they can develop a new interest or develop a passion that turns into a career.”

Gillette said participating Boy Scouts over the past two years have come from Maryland, as well as Washington D.C., Delaware, Virginia and Pennsylvania. This year, camp sites are reserved for Boy Scout Troops that wish to stay overnight at the Broad Creek Memorial Scout Reservation, located in nearby Whitford, Md.

During online registration, participants will pick their top three choices from among 32 STEM-related merit badges offered through BSA. Fields of study include space exploration, computers, dentistry, veterinary medicine, weather, robotics, computers and aviation.

“We will offer the top 13 to 15 merit badges,” Gillette said. “We did that purposely because we want the youth to drive the program.”

Volunteers are still needed help organize and run the event.

For more information about volunteering, contact Alex Hutton at 443-573-2526, or e-mail ahutton@baltimorebsa.org.

Find more information and register for the event at www.baltimorebsa.org/stemapg. Visit www.scouting.org/stem/Awards.aspx for more information on NOVA Awards.

The event will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. The cost is $20 per Scout. Participants must register by Aug. 30.

This event is a volunteer lead event from the APG Community and the Baltimore Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

balls as well as words of encouragement at the players as they practiced their catching and throwing skills. During the game, the Soldiers lined up near the on-deck circle where they high-5’d each player entering and leaving the game.

Each player got a chance to bat and run the bases assisted by volunteers as well as players from the CRWS Southeast region team.

Soldiers, parents and volunteers agreed it was a fun day for all.

Jackie and Tom Rivers, the founders of Rivers of Hope of Anne Arundel County said their daughter Kourtney, 11, is playing her second year with the League of Dreams.

“This is fun for her but it’s also important because it gives her a powerful sense of accomplishment,” said Tom Rivers. “We plan to continue this and other programs that build self esteem.”

Daniel Quinn and his wife Linda of Edgewood said their 15-year-old son Daniel loves playing baseball and other sports.

“He’s in his third year with the League of Dreams but he also runs with the Special Olympics of Maryland,” Daniel Quinn said. “He’s good with sports and the good thing about the League is that it gives him the opportunity to learn how to do other things.”

Vaughn Sholar, a coach with the Southeast region team said his players got involved to support two League of Dreams players who were bat boys for his team.

“They weren’t just bat boys, they were a part of our team and now they’re a part of our hearts,” Sholar said. “Baseball is the purest game there could ever be and one that every kid strives for. It was our pleasure to help these kids get there.”

The 14 BOSS volunteers helped the group achieve its community outreach goals, said Jimenez.

“This is our biggest event of the year not involving the military,” he said. “We enjoy it and you can see by the smiles on their faces that they truly appreciate it. We just try to make the event better with our presence.”

BOSS, Jimenez noted, is focused on increasing its presence in the community. One upcoming event is the “So You Think You’ve Got Talent” talent show set for Sept. 26 at the APG North (Aberdeen) recreation center. Open to active duty military as well as civilians age 16 and older, this year’s competition includes a military category prize as well as a “Most Talented Unit” streamer.

“BOSS is encouraging all Soldiers to come out and show their talents,” Jimenez said. For more information, visit the APG Morale, Welfare and Recreation website at www.apgmwr.com.
