Merle Travis May Play Here

MAJ. HARRISON asserted that in the past, several shows had been booked into the station theater but attendance at these shows had been poor. He said that in the future, no troupe would be booked until a sufficient number of personnel had expressed desires of seeing the program.

"We want to please the majority," the major declared, "and in this way, we feel it will give everyone a chance to say whether or not he wants to see the show. If the majority desires to see Merle Travis, then he will be engaged."

TRAVIS IS RECOGNIZED as being among the country's foremost authorities on folk legend and folk songs. One of the rare individuals gifted with the ability to put into music the things he knows best, Travis has composed hundreds of songs, among which are Steel Guitar Rag; Smoke, Smoke, Smoke (That Cigarette); So Round, So Firm and Fully Packed, and more. Several of these songs were

Air Force Pilot Has Service With 4 Branches

This business about unification of the Armed Services can get complicated.

On Monday morning, personnel of the Station disbursing office had an experience they will not soon forget. An Air Force officer received a Marine payroll from a Navy chief.

First Lt. Gene R. Johnson of the Air Force, an exchange pilot with the "Black Sheep" squadron, sees nothing too unusual in this situation, however. On loan to the Marine Corps under the exchange program, this makes the fourth service with which he has served.

First was the Army. He enlisted in 1947 and served with the Fifth Infantry division at

COMBINED CHARITY DRIVE KICKS OFF HERE SEPT. 1

A goal of $4,200 has been set for Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe, in the 14th Naval District's First Annual Combined Charities drive, Rear Adm. Schuyler N. Pyne, chairman of the governing committee, has announced.

THE DRIVE WILL begin Sept. 1 and continue through Oct. 29.

Individual goals for activities within the district have been calculated in general proportion to population and payrolls of the units. According to a recent notice by Rear Adm. C. E. Olsen, commandant of the Naval district, the goals "can be greatly exceeded if individuals will consider that an equivalent of about one day's pay is a reasonable contribution to cover 10 or more separate drives, plus the Community Chest drive which, in itself, consolidates collection for a number of charities."

MILITARY AND CIVILIAN personnel here will be contacted personally and may contribute to the drive on a voluntary basis only, according to Maj. Ray Bishop, industrial relations officer, who is handling the drive for Kaneohe.

"Each person may contribute to the charities to which he wishes to contribute. If no contribution is stated, the unexpended funds will be distributed by the 14th Naval District to approved charity organizations," Maj. Bishop stated.

A TOTAL GOAL of $4,200 has been set for the 14th Naval District which includes 60 Pacific area units.

Vol. III, No. 19 U. S. Marine Corps Air Station Kaneohe Bay, T. H. Friday, August 20, 1954

Cagney, Wm. Powell, Fonda 'Ordered' Here

Portions of "Mr. Roberts," the film to star Henry Fonda, James Cagney and William Powell, will be filmed partially at Kaneohe, it was announced this week by press representatives of Director John Ford.

SHOOTING WILL BEGIN at Midway at the end of this month. When scenes are completed in

Mr. Norman Cook, associate to Leland Hayward, who will produce "Mr. Roberts" for Warner Brothers Pictures, Screen Star James Cagney and members of the production company, visited the Air Station late Wednesday afternoon to confer with Col. Charles H. Hayes, commanding officer.

With Adm. John Dale Price USN, (Ret.), who will act as technical advisor on the production, the motion picture people visited the station's pier and other facilities which will be used for filming of scenes after the unit returns from Midway. Filming at the station is expected to get under way in early October, it was indicated.

that area, the crew and cast will return to the Windward air station for the additional sequences.

THE NAVY'S CARGO ship, USS Hewell, to be decommissioned Nov. 1, has one more major role to perform before ending her Navy career.

WM Leadership School Switched

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C.—The Women Marine Noncommissioned Officers' Leadership school, which trained 292 Women Marine sergeants and staff noncommissioned officers since it was organized here in January, 1953, has been moved to Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., to become part of the Women Officers training detachment.

Now undergoing a "facial makeup" by the Hawaiian Tuna Packers Ltd., the Hewell will be starred in the Warner Brothers' forthcoming production.

ALTHOUGH THE WORLD War II story, written by Thomas Heggen, took place on a larger cargo ship, the Hewell has been selected for the part on which most of the scenes will be filmed.

The only change being made for the picture is the construction of a catwalk forward of the pilot house.

THE HEWELL, commissioned at Pearl Harbor in 1950, returned here last July 18 after four years in the Western Pacific where she operated between Korea and Guam. She is presently commanded by Lt. R. F. F. Gerszewski of San Diego, Calif.

On the Cuff . . .

By Sgt. Don Fergusson

Last Sunday afternoon I awoke to find it raining cats and mice.

Television hadn't come on.

A state of extreme boredom was coming over me like a thick veil of fog.

What to do? The wife was sawing timbers, as usual, so I gave up the thought of playing Liverpool Rummy with her.

Then a brainstorm came along.

I licked my chops and went out to the pantry, checked the icebox, kicked the dog out of the house, put the monkey back in the cage and set out on a cake-baking spree.

This was going to put Betty Crocker to shame, I thought, as I checked over a list of recipes. Picked one out of the stack. It was called, "Grandma's Chocolate Cake."

First: Got out a bowl the size of a beer keg, a big mixing spoon and other utensils, and began.

Right away, however, trouble fell on me like a ton of flour. In fact, it was flour—A whole bag of the stuff. Santa would have taken one look, danced a jig and retired.

After searching throughout the nooks and corners of the kitchen, where women invariably keep everything, I finally secured the proper ingredients for the construction of a baker's dream.

Then the dog scratched on the door. I paid no attention. He scratched again. With a quart of milk in my hand, naturally, I pulled open the door and with one spring of the hind legs, the long-eared morrier found a comfortable place in my arms. Hungrily licking the milk from my shirt, he turned two innocent eyes up to me, barked, jumped to the porch steps and toddled off.

Man's best friend! He probably realized the mess I was making of the baking profession and decided to put an end to it.

Anyone want to buy a blond cocker, minus one shaggy ear? With good things on the mind, I went back and started again the masterpiece of pastries.

Glancing over the recipe, I noticed that a few of the directions were covered with food stains, and therefore unreadable, I was forced to make a few substitutions here and there.

The tabasco sauce bottle looked pretty, so I picked it as one of the subs. There were scads of different colored bottles. It was difficult to select from the large assortment, so I compromised. I threw in a little bit of everything.

My mother always had told me that a good cake depended on the amount of hard beating put to it. But who on this Earth could have beaten that mixture? It was about as stiff as cement and twice as heavy. This, I decided, had to be remedied.

Unfortunately, the milk was all pau. So, again, the great mind went to work. Mixed flour and water together. At least it turned out to be about the same color.

At last, three hours later, after dropping my glasses in the batter, the creation was prepared for the oven. I was still optimistic, so in it went, tabasco sauce and all.

Next, a topping had to be made for the cake.

Eggs, brown sugar, water, chocolate squares and Worcestershire sauce, in place of vanilla, were employed in the making of the frosting.

I was finished for the moment, TV came on and I found a comfortable place in the living room where I sat, tensely awaiting the outcome of my baking endeavors. The thing had to bake 30 minutes.

A horse opera, starring Johnny Mack Brown, was playing on television. Half a dozen cigarettes and four sticks of Wrigley's spearmint gum later, I hadn't discovered who the villain was. Unfortunately, the show was an hour long and I became quite engrossed.

Just when Johnny was fighting the heavy at the edge of a steep cliff, a loud explosion shook the house and I immediately took over under the big easy chair.

The war was over! No one could be invading Hawaii! It was impossible! I crawled from under the chair, wiped the sweat from my brow and stepped cautiously into the kitchen.

The oven door was flung open and something bulky and ugly was hanging out. Gay-colored splashes covered the walls and practically every exposed piece of furniture was riddled with bits of shrapnel from the explosion.

That's it! I hadn't baked a cake! I had discovered the successor

Deceased Pilot Is Identified As Lt. Middaugh

Identity was made known Wednesday of the Marine jet pilot, who crashed into the sea off the island of Molokai last Thursday afternoon.

THE OFFICER WAS 2nd Lt. Kenneth E. Middaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Middaugh of 441 High st., Sebastopol, Calif. The officer entered the Naval service in August, 1952, and was commissioned and given his wings at Pensacola, Fla., in March of this year. He underwent additional training at El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, Santa Ana, Calif., before being transferred to the "Red Devils" jet squadron here in June.

The accident occurred while Lt. Middaugh was on a routine training flight with other members of his squadron. After a bombing run, he began to experience engine trouble and squadron mates saw smoke issuing from the tail of the aircraft. The officer apparently tried a water landing and the craft exploded upon impact.

AN UNCLE, Lt. Col. Donald S. Bush, commanded the aerial photo squadron of the 1st Marine Air Wing which photographed Inchon and Seoul prior to the landing there in September, 1950, by Marine troops.

Memorial services were held for Lt. Middaugh Tuesday morning in the Termite village chapel. Chaplain Kermit I. Meier officiated at the services.

"Old Corps" Vet Retires on 24

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C.—An "Old Corps" veteran with 24 years' service who was one of the first paramarines and one of the first men assigned to the then-new Fleet Marine Force in 1933 was retired to the Fleet Marine Corps Reserve Saturday, July 31, in a ceremony at Peterfield Point.

to the "H" bomb, the "Tobasco bomb!"

At that point, the wife came in. She wasn't too pleased with my ingenious invention. Pots and pans began to fly, and just then Creachbaum knocked on the door. That's where he got the black eye.

I acquired callouses on the knees during the time which it took me to scrub down the kitchen. But, at long last, the job was done and my masterpiece was resting peacefully in the back yard trash can.

That evening, the bakery shop down the street had one more customer.

Jet Flyers Enlist In Confederate AF To Defend South

Yankees? Confederates? Same, same, you all.

A GROUP OF U. S. Marines at Cherry Point, N.C. has surrendered to the Confederacy lock, stock and airplane. Marine Fighter Squadron-312, headquartered there, got sworn in as colonels (kuhnels) in the Confederate Air Force. Every new colonel got six-inch gold wings and overnight became a card-carrying Confederate.

The man who instigated this infiltration of Yankee ranks, A. L. McSorley, colonel-in-chief, pledged the Marine aviators never to (1) wear a union suit, (2) take off from the north runway, (3) sit at the north end of a bar and (4) not leave that bar when the wind is coming from the north.

LT. COL. ARNOLD A. LUND, CO of the outfit and now a (kuhnel) in the Confeds, said that he expected his men to stand up and note these articles of war.

The 312th is the first jet squadron to join the Confederacy, and therefore, no army ever will reach Richmond again.

HAMS Favored To Cop Intramural Title

By CPL. HAL PIERCE

The Intramural Softball championship race narrowed down to two teams last Tuesday as MACS walked over VMF-214, 11-0, and HAMS triumphed over VMF-232 by a 12-2 count.

THE VMF-232 'Red Devils' and VMF-214, having no chance to win either first or second place due to the losses Tuesday, fought it out Wednesday afternoon for third place. The Devils, chagrined at losing out in the championship, took it out on the luckless Black Sheep nine, trampling it 16-6 in a wild-swinging affair.

The first of the "two out of three" series to determine the championship between HAMS and MACS turned into a pitcher's duel with HAMS Pitcher John Boden spinning a no-hitter to win 1-0 over MACS' Jim Ray. The lone tally of the game was an unearned run in the fifth inning.

WITH THE FIRST game of the series tucked away, the undefeated HAMS softballers are heavy favorites to walk away with the title, although the hard fighting MACS team will not let itself be counted out.

In the first play-off for the Intramural Softball championship, VMF-214 was knocked out of contention by MACS 11-0, and VMF-232 was eliminated by HAMS, 12-2.

THE MACS NINE, with Pitcher Jim Ray shackling the Black Sheep bats, showed a definite edge over its opponents from the first. MACS Lead-Off Hitter Reed singled in the first inning, stole second and went to third on Callihan's one-bagger. Reed then came home on a VMF-214 error and was followed shortly after by Callihan when Babgett blasted a line single. After that, however, the Black Sheep had their way, for the moment, as two fielder's choices and a pop fly halted the MACS attack. This merely served to delay the inevitable, as it happened, for the control squadron nine came back with a vengeance, completely dominating the play for the remainder of the game.

The VMF-214 softballers valiantly attempted to get back in the game, but faced with the torrid pitching of Ray, went down in order in all but two frames.

THE WINNING PITCHER was Ray, who allowed only two blows and no runs, while Loser Al Perez of VMF-214 gave up 12 hits, resulting in 11 MACS tallies.

In the HAMS versus VMF-232, tilt, the maintenance squadron team converted 11 hits into 12 runs to rout the strangely meek Red Devils 12-2.

AS THE HAMS batsmen belabored VMF-232 Pitcher Al Hackney, their own moundsman, John Boden, bewildered the heretofore arrogant Red Devil clubbers with a dazzling assortment of pitching "stuff," reluctantly giving up five scattered single-base blows.

Leading the slugging parade for the victors was John Shellito, with a homer, a double and a single, and Ed Krolkowski, who collected a brace of singles.

THE HAMS NINE took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, but the fighter squadron crew tied it up with one run in each of the second and third stanzas. This was but a brief respite, however, as the not-to-be-denied HAMS bat-

The favored HAMS softball team held a distinct advantage over its rival, MACS, as the paper went to press last night, by edging out the control squadron 1-0, Wednesday, on the strength of a no-hitter by HAMS Pitcher John Boden.

That the game was a pitcher's duel all the way is evident in the fact that the lone run of the game was unearned. The tally came in the fifth inning, after Lindy and Hinkson singled, and an error by MACS Catcher Babgett enabled Lindy to reach third. Pitcher Jim Ray then let loose with a wild pitch which brought Lindy scampering home. The HAMS nine had no chance to retaliate, as Boden set it down one-two-three in all but one inning, striking out nine of the 22 batters to face him. However, Jim Ray proved his right to hold his head up as he faced only 24 batters, striking out three of them and allowing but five scattered hits.

ters roared back with five counters in their half of the third frame. From then on, the runs piled up by the maintenance team were unnecessary, as Boden kept VMF-232 sluggers sufficiently off balance with his faultless hurling to forestall any Red Devil rally.

The win afforded HAMS the right to vie with MACS, winners over VMF-214, for the championship in a "best two out of three" series, which began Wednesday evening.

Oh! To Be Commandant for a Moment

GIVES THANKS—Many Marines volunteered for the "arduous" task of thanking attractive Denise Darcel, TV and screen star, for entertaining the Marines and former Marines who attended the First Marine Division reunion held early this month at New York's Hotel Astor. The Commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., exercised the prerogative of rank and personally attended to the assignment. If you were Commandant, wouldn't you have done the same? (Photo by S/Sgt. Norman E. Harvey).

24-Year-Old Marine Bachelor Is Foster Father to Korean, 18

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—At 24, S/Sgt. Harry R. Ritchie is father of an 18-year-old son. He's adopted a Korean orphan six years his junior.

The sergeant, a bachelor at Marine headquarters here, met Huhng Buhn Kim while fighting in Korea. Kim, now 18, was interpreter for our forces, while Sgt. Ritchie was assigned to the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing at Pohang.

After the shooting stopped, Kim and the sergeant became "brothers" in a common cause. They worked closely with CARE people and other relief organizations. Kim had the difficult job of deciding where the relief goods would help the most.

"That boy really did a job," said the sergeant. "He knew all the answers because, without parents, he had lived as a refugee himself."

The sergeant had to overcome a lot of red tape to get Kim to America, but his dogged tenacity finally paid off. After being denied a student visa because the quota was filled, Sgt. Ritchie filled out 35 documents to officially adopt the boy.

At the moment Kim is living in his "second" home on the Ritchie farm in Kingsport, Tenn.

MERLE TRAVIS

In 1946 Travis won the Billboard magazine award for top record sales and his popularity has shown no sign of diminishing during the intervening years.

JENKS "TEX" CARMAN, appearing with Merle Travis, is a popular instrumental and singing artist of stage, radio and records. Jenks is currently a featured Western artist with Capitol records.

Maj. Harrison announced that if personnel here desire to see this show, they must call the special services office, 72061-72548, prior to Tuesday noon, Aug. 24. If enough requests are received, prior to that time, the major said the show will be scheduled to appear here.

EM Face Longer Service-In-Grade

Promotions in the enlisted ranks of the Marine Corps will be slowed during the next 12 months. Longer time-in-grade requirements have been imposed by Headquarters, Marine Corps.

THE NEW PROMOTIONAL criteria will require Marines to serve more than seven years before they can aspire for promotion to master sergeant, according to the figures released to Congress by Assistant Defense Secretary John A. Hannah.

Marines now face the most rigid promotional standards in any of the Armed Services. Army personnel can now be promoted to master sergeant in a minimum of 44 months, while Air Force personnel can make the journey in a minimum of 60 months. A Navy man must have in a minimum of 76 months to become eligible for chief petty officer.

MARINE ENLISTED personnel, under the new time-in-grade requirements, must have at least 87 months, service before they can be considered for promotion to pay grade E-7.

Formerly, Marines could become eligible for promotion to the top pay grade after five years and seven months service.

THE NEW TIME-in-grade scale follows below:

E-6	24 months
E-5	20
E-4	15
E-3	12
E-2	12
E-1	End of boot training.

232 SWAMPS 361 14-1 IN 5 FRAMES

The VMF 232 "Red Devils", with the accent on devils, seemed just that to HMR-361 in an intramural game last week. The "chopper" crew was overwhelmed to the tune of 14-1.

EACH CLUB SCORED a run in its half of the first inning, but from that point on, VMF-232 asserted its superiority. The care-free Red Devils chalked up five runs in the second, four in the third and added insult to injury by showing across four more runs in the fifth frame. Al Hackney, pitcher for the fighter squadron, spun a one-hitter to the "whirlybird" nine, shutting the door on them with only one hit in the first stanza.

The game was called at the end of the fifth inning, according to a softball rule which decrees that any team leading by 10 or more runs at the end of the fifth, is automatically declared the winner.

ERRORS AND LOOSE infield control, resulting in stolen bases, spelled out the tragic story as the helicopter crew committed 10 errors and allowed six stolen bases in the five inning tilt.

Mixed Bowling League Meets Monday

A meeting was held last Tuesday for the purpose of forming a Mixed Bowling league. Five teams have already joined, but a minimum of ten teams are required to have a successful league.

Another meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at the Marine exchange table to give potential members a chance to sign up before the league contest begins.

HQSQ TAKES TASK FORCE IN FINAL TILT

The HQ-HQSQ Big Blue softball team handed TASK FORCE a 9-1 lacing last week in the final game of the regular Intramural Softball season.

HQ-HQSQ PITCHER Frank Young allowed the TASK FORCE batters seven hits, but scattered them so effectively the ground troops were unable to push across more than one run. While Young was handcuffing the TASK FORCE batters, his teammates were building a lead for him at the expense of TASK FORCE Pitcher Frank Reeve. However, even in this department, Young was making himself troublesome for his opponents as he collected two hits, a double and a single to pace the Big Blue.

The headquarters team prevailed on Reeve and Co. for two runs in each of the first, second and fifth frames and scored an additional three tallies in the third period for a total of nine runs. The Big Blue collected nine hits off Reeve and were aided in their cause by six walks and an error, chargeable to the TASK FORCE team.

JIM LEVY OF HQ-HQSQ blasted the lone home run of the game in the fifth stanza with two men on.

TASK FORCE seemed ready to give an accounting of itself in the fifth inning, but with one man on and one out, Kailua slapped a slow grounder back to the mound. Young threw to second and the double play relay to first was in time to get Kailua and retire the side, ending the threat.

Lewis Todd Wins Bull Riding Event

PFC Lewis Todd, a member of headquarters squadron, Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe, won top honors in the bull riding event at the Kaneohe rodeo Sunday. Bobbie Kamie placed second.

AT THE NEXT show, which is scheduled for the first part of September, Todd will attempt to retain his title, that of Hawaii Bull Riding Champion.

Todd hails from Sheridan, Wyo., where he has won various events in the rodeo circuit. He has been active on the West Coast and has become one of the top cowboys in the Islands.

TO RETAIN HIS title he will compete with such cowboys as Bobbie Kamie, Del Daghe, J. D. Lee, Jack Farrell and George Richmond.

HAMS Drop 4th To Ramblers In Overtime Tilt

The Kaneohe HAMS basketball team absorbed its fourth consecutive loss Monday night, 61-50, at the hands of the Ramblers. The game took place in the YM-CA gym.

DESPITE THE FINE showing of Guard Paul Smith, individual high scorer for the night with 24 points, HAMS failed to best the rampant Ramblers. Holding a 13-7 lead at the end of the first quarter, the sailors halted a second period surge of HAMS to remain in front 24-21. With Smith and Telosis Green paving the way, the Kaneohe team pulled out all stops in the third stanza and held the lead by 4 points, 36-32, when the buzzer rang for the final period.

The Ramblers proved equal to the challenge, however, and, with Sailor Jim Revert taking the helm by virtue of his timely and accurate shooting and flashy ball-handling, tied up the game in the final seconds to necessitate an overtime period.

THE FINAL THREE minutes opened with the Kaneohe team in possession of the ball. Employing the fast break down the court, the team immediately set up a play that netted two points, as Smith slipped through the Rambler defense for a lay-up. The sailors immediately retaliated with Revert showing the way, dumping in a one-handed set shot from 20 feet out. Showing increasingly improving form, the Navy team put on a rally that bewildered its opponents and left no doubt as to the outcome, outscoring the HAMS five 15-4 in the overtime.

The game did not affect either team's standings in the Summer Basketball league, however, as the tilt was a nonleague affray.

for record

by WOODY JONES

Theodore "Pump" Searle, Sr., one of the Grand Old Men of Hawaii sports and incumbent Commissioner of the second-year University-Armed Forces Invitational Football Conference, briefly addressed a sparse turnout of Quarterback Clubbers Monday noon at the Smile cafe.

Woody Jones

The 52-year-old boss of Honolulu stadium wasn't long-winded. He proved to be a rare specimen among luncheon speakers. Said what he wanted to in a few hundred words, and sat down. For which all hands should be grateful.

Never was too fond of hot air for dessert.

Pump seemed to be pretty high on prospects of armed forces clubs in the coming grid campaign. He told a sad story of how the civilian elevens would be faced with this or that problem while trying to meet the service teams on an even keel. Even went so far as to tell how most of the play-for-fun civvies would have to work on a regular job all day, dash over to some place on the Ala Wai for a hurried practice session before Old Sol snuck beyond the horizon, and so on.

"Don't get me wrong," he was quick to add. "That is no alibi if the civilian teams can't hold their own on the field against the service clubs."

Pump elaborated on his reasons for thinking Army, Navy and we'uns would produce squads worth going out to see this Fall. He stated that each service, anxious as all get-out to cop the diadem come November, had seen the light. In an effort to put their best foot (feet?) forward, they had found it necessary to merge, combine, or what-have-you.

The former Punahou high and UH athlete seemed to in favor of the combos, a la Kaneohe and Pearl Harbor. Said that he loved to see strong grid machines butt heads. He reminisced a little and, like so many old timers, went back to "the good old days" when "we poor civilians had to stand in line and beg for tickets to see the service teams play at the stadium." "Let me tell you," he asserted, "those clubs put on a spectacle closely akin to the one now staged annually by the two academies."

Pump also cut his audience in on the fact that the University would be on the Mainland early in the season for a pair of tussles with Arizona State and Fresno State, but would be back in time to make a strong bid in the UAFIFC. Delving in high finances, he let it be known that Nebraska was getting a $5,000 guarantee for its game with the Rainbows here the 26th of November, and that for the return game at Lincoln in '55 the local school would pick up a neat little $25,000.

Which could be enough for a down payment on some real talent. Who knows?

We caught a few short minutes of the initial turnout of grid candidates over at Pearl Harbor early this week. Maj. Wally Williams had between 30 and 40 behemoths cavorting up and down Quick field, getting soup-bones and stale muscles limbered. Judging by the size of some of the linemen we spied, we are mighty glad that we are no longer young and spry enough to be among the Kaneohe lads who'll be scrimmaging versus that beef, when it comes over the Pali next Monday for the pooling of Marine gridiron talent.

When CinCServPac pulled a story-book finish in the last of the ninth to defeat the Army baseballers 2-1 at Furlong field on the 16th, Bob Well's Admirals ruined a good story for yours truly.

An Army win would have sewed up the league flag, after the Commodores had been seemingly out of the picture earlier in the season. The defeat for Ray Smith's boys threw the race into a three-way deadlock, with SubPac the other club involved.

As you no doubt know by now, at a meeting the next day over at 14th Naval District the AF League was officially declared a three-way tie, with no play-off forthcoming.

CinCServPac and SubPac engaged in a two-out-of-three series at Ward field on the 18th, 19th—and today if need be—with the winner meeting a representative ship's team for the Hawaiian Area Navy championship. The club still top dog would then—enter the Pacific Fleet quarter-finals (Ward field) around the 23rd vs. nines from COMNAVFE, COMNAVPHIL and COMNAV MARIANAS (Guam).

The Pacific champ gets a trip to San Diego where it will meet the Western Naval District king the week of Sept. 6, with the victorious club being labeled Western Navy champion and being issued TRs for a get-together with the Eastern big shot, probably at Norfolk, Va., during the week of Sept. 13 for the coveted All-Navy crown.

The All-Navy title holder will anxiously stand by for the Inter-service tourney to be held about Sept. 23 at an undetermined site, with an Army aggregation as host.

From our cramped position here in the press box it appears that either local club, CinCServPac or SubPac could go all the way. Just to prove to you that we occasionally watch TV, "may the better team emerge triumphant!"

* * *

Wayne Owens, QB club head coach, slips us the info that UAFIFC coaches will be guests of honor for the noon session at Smile cafe on Sept. 20.

Catcher paws outta me butter, coach!

Windward Marine Receives New Sport Page Ed

The WINDWARD MARINE has a new sports editor.

He's Cpl. Hal Pierce, who has been serving with the public information section here for the past two months. Having been here for nearly a year, Cpl. Pierce has served at the commissary store and station operations prior to taking up PIO work.

"It doesn't look like an easy job," the new sports editor declares. "I'll have some mighty high standards to keep up. I'm speaking of the work Sgt. Tom Creachbaum has done for the past year."

Creachbaum, who became sports editor when the station publication was a mimeographed sheet, will leave soon for the Mainland where he will be released to inactive duty. Creachbaum was perhaps known for his outstanding coverage of the Intramural sports program here on the station. Many of the officials in the program have commented on his many excellent contributions to sports here at Kaneohe.

In addition to his duties as sports editor, Creachbaum was instrumental in the beginning of the weekly half-hour radio program which is aired each Saturday over Radio Station KANI in Kaneohe. On the program, he handled the sports cast, giving island-wide coverage to local Kaneohe Marine sport activities.

Cpl. Pierce worked on a school weekly prior to entering the Marine Corps. At that time, he majored in the sports field, and since then, has become well-versed in the field of athletics.

The corporal urges any and all comments and suggestions which will benefit the handling of sporting news here on the station. All sport news events, meetings, etc., can be called in to him at 72104.

M/SGT. LIPPNER ELECTED AS KBHC PRESIDENT

M/Sgt. R. A. Lippner was elected president of the Kaneohe Bow Hunters club in a meeting held at the station special services office.

Purposes for the meeting were to elect officers and to draw up the constitution for the club. The other officers elected during the meeting were: Vice president, Maj. John Ruhsam; and secretary, Capt. J. G. Freeman.

214 Wins Over MABS 12-7 To Climax Quarter

The VMF-214 "Black Sheep" climaxed the Intramural Softball season by defeating MABS 12-7 behind a sparkling eight-hit pitching performance by Al Perez.

AFTER GIVING UP four runs in the first frame, Perez tightened up, allowing MABS only three runs on five blows in the final six innings. Meanwhile, his teammates, collecting five rallies in the second to put 214 in front, were making life miserable for opposing Pitcher Jim Hawkins. The Black Sheep attack, led by Catcher Jim Kohl, continued to click, reaching Hawkins almost at will and scoring in all but the first and sixth periods.

The first inning proved to be the big one for the MABS nine, as Lead-Off Barter Carl Pottorff slapped a single to left field, but was thrown out at second on a fielder's choice when Frank Porter poked a grounder to Shortstop Bobby Ogden. Kabumi Omoto drew a walk, sending Porter to second. Back-to-back singles by Henderson and Waddell, followed by a "Texas Leaguer" by Dick Carion, which dropped behind short, accounted for three more tallies. Carion was tagged at second on a fielder's choice when Spidelmeyer rapped out an easy roller to third. Vern Snow flied out to left field to retire the side.

VMF-214'S KOHL opened the second inning fireworks when he slipped a single into the outfield. He advanced to second on a passed ball by the catcher and came home on a sharp single by Ron Haight. Successive one-baggers by Pat Tennyson, Otis Ivy and Perez, coupled with an error by Third Sacker Jim Carion, accounted for three more runs. "Angel" Siele scored the fifth counter when Centerfielder Bill Porter dropped a fly ball. Guy Badger struck out to end the inning.

The winning pitcher was Al Perez, who gave up eight hits, while Jim Hawkins was charged with the MABS loss, giving away a total of 12 hits to winning VMF-214.

Special Services Initiates Sailing Lessons; Has Boats

A sailing class is being sponsored by the Station special services for personnel interested in sailing. Two 16-foot sailing sloops have been purchased by special services, and if a sufficient number of personnel show an active interest, more boats will be ordered.

This is an excellent opportunity, according to Maj. Patrick Harrison, special services officer, to learn the "how and why" of sailing. The major added that special services eventually hopes to have enough participants in the sport to hold sailing tournaments.

A qualified instructor will be present at all times and will explain fully the operation and handling of the sloops. All personnel interested are requested to phone the special services office at 72061.

LAST WEEKEND A "roving range" was set up in the Fort Hase area by the members. This type range is a series of targets set up in such a way that different positions must be employed by the shooter in order to hit each target. The range at Fort Hase was built according to National Field Archery Assn. specifications. It consists of 14 targets, each one demanding the maximum skill from each archer.

Tournaments are being planned by the club as soon as a sufficient number of people have joined and are trained. Trophies, donated by the station special services, will be awarded to the top shooters in the tournaments. However, this does not mean that a novice in the game need necessarily end up in last place. The tournament will be judged on a handicap basis, as in golf, with the top spot going to the person with the highest score, balanced by that person's handicap.

THE KBHC IS sponsored by the station special services and everyone interested in archery is urged to contact either the special services office or one of the officers of the club. Persons eligible to become members of KBHC are all Marines and Navy personnel stationed at Kaneohe and their dependents. The club's regular meetings will be held the second Wednesday of each month. The meeting place has not yet been chosen.

Civilians Receive Course in First Aid

A beneficial suggestion that first aid training be made available on this Station for civilian personnel resulted in such a course being sponsored, according to Maj. Ray Bishop, industrial relations officer.

The program offered was the Red Cross Standard first aid course and was presented by Mr. Samuel O. Wallace, Hawaii American Red Cross.

Twenty-five civilian personnel already have completed the course successfully, Maj. Bishop said. They all were awarded the Red Cross Certificate of Eligibility which authorizes them to administer first aid to persons in need.

PERSONNEL MAY REPAY LOANS BY ALLOTMENT

By LT. COL. C. A. PHILLIPS
Disbursing Officer

Under recent changes in the allotment regulations, a service member may now take out an allotment in repayment of a home loan, regardless of the lending institution.

Previously, only allotments covering FHA loans were permitted. Now, allotments for such purpose may be made to banks, building loan associations and the like. Only one such allotment per member is allowed. Loans for improvements are not included.

Also, under the changes, allotment starts and stops must be in the allotment office in Washington 10 days earlier than before. This in turn will require allotment actions to be in the station disbursing office that much earlier.

For example: An allotment to come out of the member's October pay, should be received by the disbursing office by September 10. A stoppage of an allotment after deduction for September should likewise be received by the station disbursing office by September 10.

HOBBY SHOP MOVES

Station special services announces that the Hobby Shop is in the process of moving from its present location to the former station laundry building behind the messhall. The recreation facility will be closed temporarily and the opening will be announced at a later date.

UNDERGOING TREATMENT

According to an announcement from Task Force headquarters, Commissioned Warrant Officer Robert W. Hines, officer-in-charge of secret and confidential files, has been transferred to Tripler Army hospital where he is undergoing treatment for a stomach condition.

Recreation Trips Scheduled Soon

Want to take a trip to Hilo?

PLANS HAVE been made to conduct scheduled flights to and from Hilo on the first and third weekends of each month, it has been announced by Station headquarters. The purpose of the trips is to furnish personnel here with transportation to the Kilauea Military camp, vast recreation site on that island.

The announcement said that departure from HAMS-13 flight line will be 3 p.m. on Fridays, and from Hilo at 1 p.m. on Sundays for the return trip to Kaneohe. Personnel desiring to go to the camp, must be at the flight line 30 minutes prior to take off time.

REQUEST FOR reservations for these trips must be made by the individual to his group special services officer. A certificate authorizing liberty by the individual's organization must be presented before the reservation applications will be accepted. The announcement pointed out that the reservations must be completed no later than Wednesday of the week of the scheduled trip. A limit of 25 men for each trip has been established and reservations will be given on a first come, first served basis.

The cost of the reservations to Hilo is $7 per man, which includes food and lodging while at the camp. The fee must be paid in advance and all applications must be accompanied with the $7 at the time of submission to the special services officer.

UNIFORM FOR the trip to the Island, the announcement revealed, will be summer service "B" for men and the utility uniform for women. However, once on the Island, civilian attire may be worn.

Mokapu Begins Registration

In order to ascertain the total enrollment of the Mokapu elementary school for the 1954-55 school year, Mr. John E. McCarthy, principal, is asking that all pupils be registered at the school on the following dates between 9 and 11:30 a.m.

Aug. 23: All kindergarten pupils; Aug. 24: All primary grade pupils (first second and third grades); Aug. 25: All upper elementary pupils (fourth, fifth and sixth grades).

Children entering school for the first time, according to Mr. McCarthy, must bring health examination records and birth certificates. Transfer pupils should bring transfer records from the school attended previously.

Mr. McCarthy went on to state that the school would hold its first session, for teachers ONLY, on Sept. 1. On Sept. 2, he said, the children will attend for a half day, while the teachers will be present at Mokapu for the full day. Sept. 3 will be the first full day for both teachers and children.

Maj. James Hightower, school liaison officer, said late yesterday that a bus schedule, between the base and the towns of Kaneohe and Kailua, is being instituted and that the schedule will be available at the school on registration days.

The officer, who also is the station provost marshal, also pointed out that PID cards will be needed by all children planning on utilizing the busses to and from school during the coming year. These cards are available at the PM office at the main gate.

FLY AND MOSQUITO PRECAUTIONS OUTLINED

By H. L. SISK, HMC, USN

(Editor's Note:) According to the sanitation department, an increase in flies and mosquitoes has been noted. The following is published in the interest of decreasing this nuisance by pointing out several precautions which personnel and dependents should take.

* * * * *

Flies are a nuisance and a menace to health. They carry 30 or more diseases, including typhoid, dysentery, cholera, diarrhea and tuberculosis.

AS MANY AS 25,000,000 microbes have been found on one fly's body. Imagine the trail of contamination left by a single fly allowed to light on the family dinner table!

Because of the characteristic regurgitation of the fly before feeding, the cause of "fly specks" on their resting places, food standing about in uncovered dishes may be heavily contaminated. Dysentery germs, for example, may live in the intestines of the fly for about five days. Since the travel distance of a fly is about eight miles in one day, one can readily understand the danger of this method of contamination.

WITH THE ADVENT of many new insecticides, the health menace of the fly has been reduced. Every effort should be made to cover breeding places of flies and mosquitoes, preventing the larvae, or young of these insects, from growing to maturity. Garbage cans and trash heaps are likely breeding places for flies; stagnant pools of water are favorite breeding places for mosquitoes. Old cans or bottles, roof drains, lily ponds, sewer basins and similar water areas should be hunted out and sprayed with an insecticide.

While certain insecticides have been called miracle performers, they are not a substitute for hygiene and cleanliness. Homes that are not kept clean are a big menace to human health. Garbage standing in kitchens and soiled dishes are an invitation to insects, particularly flies and cockroaches.

PERSONNEL OF THIS station must cooperate with the sanitation department by keeping their homes and surroundings clean. Contamination will not flourish in clean surroundings and your chances for better health will be greatly enhanced.

Due to the returning of the Kona winds in the next few weeks, the fly and mosquito population will be increased. However, if the above precautions are followed closely, the pests can be controlled.

New Sports Almanac Names Service Stars; Lists Team Records

The Armed Forces Press Service sports almanac, the first book of its kind, has just about every answer to a sports question, regarding service sports, you can ask.

THIS HANDY sports reference guide, by Col. Charles O. Kates, lists the names of more than 40,000 service athletes. It covers 15 basic sports, records and standings of over 3,000 service teams.

It took nearly two years for research specialists to compile the information contained in the 577-page book. Published by the Military Service Publishing Co. in Harrisburg, Pa., the almanac is planned as an annual publication.

STEWART LEAVES

Sgt. Jim Stewart, captain of the 1954 Kaneohe Marine baseball team, left today for Marine Barracks, Treasure Island, San Francisco, to await discharge from the Marine Corps.

Stewart, sparkplug of the baseball team, played third base most of the time, but also was used effectively as a pitcher in several games.

FT. DERUSSY OPENS

Ft. DeRussy beach and bath house are now open for swimming under the lights until 10 p.m. on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. Also open is the snack and beer bar.

Fleet Reserve Assn. To Elect Officers

The meeting of the proposed new branch of the Fleet Reserve held in the Staff NCO club on Aug. 11, was a huge success according to Chief W. E. Darton, USN, acting secretary. Over 40 charter members were signed up. Due to the aloha party for Col. Dailey, the meeting was cut short and elections for officers were not held, as originally planned.

The charter petition has been mailed to the National office in Washington, D.C. and upon approval and return, members will be issued their Fleet Reserve Assn. membership cards.

The next meeting of the association will be held in the Staff NCO club on Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m. All charter members are urged to be there for election of officers and prospective members are cordially invited to attend.

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF

KOREA—Col. J. P. Berkley, former commanding officer of Marine Barracks, Washington, D.C., relieved Col. R. B. Wilde as 1st Marine Division chief of staff recently. Col. Wilde will join the Advance Research Group, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.
