BILLY LISKEY — SMALL, BUT QUITE A COWBOY
Top Money Winner Of 1960 Hawaiian Rodeo

15,000 Pack Truan Arena For 2nd Hawaiian Rodeo

Over 15,000 spectators thrilled to one of the finest rodeos ever staged in the Hawaiian Islands over the Labor Day weekend at Truan Arena aboard the air station. The first two days of the western event, it looked very much like the prize money would have to be split between the stock as cowboy after cowboy failed to ride them.

Bill Liskey, one of the clowns, carried off his share of the prize money as he took first place in the bareback bronc riding and senior bull riding, in addition to being picked as All-Around Cowboy.

Miss Ethel Gibson won the stock horse reining and Girls' Rodeo Association barrel racing events, while her 13-year-old brother Buddy was picked as Junior All-Around Cowboy, the second straight year he has won the honor.

During the presentation ceremonies held Monday night at the Pali Palms, over $5,000 in prize money was split between the winners. But not all the cowboys were winners. Much of the credit for the success of the rodeo goes to the cowboys behind the scenes. The cowpokes who worked long hard hours keeping the stock moving, the carpenter who worked constantly to keep the chutes repaired, the chute men, the cowboys who fed the stock, and even the personnel of the 1st Marine Brigade Band who gave up their weekend to provide music for the show, all these people deserve a well done.

Final winners of the three-day western event were:

Steer wrestling — Bill Liskey, Bob Farm.

Saddle bronc riding — Harry Noble, Klamath Falls, first; Bill Liskey, second.

Dally Team roping—Pete Baldwin, Maui, and Bob Brown of Kaneohe, first; Bud Cahill, Kaneohe, and David Cairns Sr., Waimanalo, second.

Poo Wai U — Fred Rice, Kahuku Ranch, Hawaii, first; Manuel Repoza, Waianae, second.

Calf roping — Fred Rice, first; James Dowsett, Hawaii, second.

Senior Bull riding — Michael Kann, Huntington, Pa., first; Bill Liskey, second.

Bareback bronc riding — Bill Liskey, first; Bob Brodecko, Valley Cattle Co., second.

Junior barrel racing — Billie Cambra, Kaneohe.

Junior calf roping — David Cairns Jr., Waimanalo, first; Buddy Gibson, Maunawili, second.

Junior bull riding—David Junk, Barber's Point, first; Buddy Gibson, second.

Marine Corps Announces New Field Test Program

The future tactical organization of the Fleet Marine Forces will depend heavily on the results of a four-phase test and evaluation program now in progress, Headquarters Marine Corps disclosed last week.

Scheduled troop tests underway in the Fleet Marine Forces are designed to expedite the efficient and orderly assimilation of modern equipment into combat units. The tests will involve almost every type of Marine organization, both ground and air. Results are expected to point the way to tables of organization best fitted to accommodate and exploit the Corps' newest hardware.

While much of the new equipment will augment or replace existing capabilities, many items will improve firepower, target detection, communications, surveillance, counter-measures, and combat support and will necessitate changes in organization, tactics and techniques.

The four phases of the program are scheduled as follows:

PHASE I: Test of basic ground combat units, already in progress and slated for completion in April, 1961.

PHASE II: Test of combat support and combat service units, during the period September 1960-May 1961.

PHASE III: Test of air support and air defense units, commencing Nov. 1960 and continuing.

PHASE IV: A series of regularly scheduled tests of the division/wing Marine expeditionary force continuing contingent upon determination of optimum structure and composition for this force.

K-Bay Navy Relief Aids 48 in August

Officials of the Kaneohe Branch of the Navy Relief Society scored a busy month during August assisting local military personnel.

Twelve loans were made totaling $460; four outright grants totaled $94.50. In addition volunteer workers handled 23 service cases and granted nine layette certificates.

N-R's Cake Sales During '60 Rodeo Called A Success

Jubilant officers of Kaneohe's Navy Relief Society termed their cake sale conducted at last weekend's rodeo a tremendous success.

Slightly more than 300 cakes were donated for the three day sale. All were sold and proceeds amounting to $413.70 were netted for the Society's treasury.

At the conclusion of the western show three NRS officers issued a message of appreciation which read: "May we express our sincere gratitude to all of you wonderful people who contributed cakes, who bought the cakes, and who worked at the Cake Booth at the Rodeo. The entire proceeds of $413.70 will go to the Navy Relief Society. It was a job which deserves a well done to all hands."

The "word of thanks" was signed by Father James Conte, Executive Secretary of Kaneohe's Branch; Mrs. Richard G. Weede, Chairman of Volunteer Women for the local NRS Branch and Mrs. Robert A. McMullen, Chairman of the Cake Sale Committee.

Knowledge Promotes Fire Safety

You don't have to be near the flames to have a fire snuff out your life!

"Smoke and combustion gases," local firemen point out, "often are the cause of death in home fires, rather than flames."

Fires are the leading cause of home death to everyone except infants and the very elderly, and are the No. 2 cause of home death to persons of all ages. Home fires take more than 11,000 lives a year and cost the nation billions of dollars.

Your chance of surviving a fire depends on how well you know what to do.

According to the experts, the odds are 1 in 100 that you'll have a home fire during the next year, 1 in 20 you'll have a fire within five years.

Best way to stay safe from fire, of course, is to prevent it before it starts — don't smoke in bed, for example.

If you are unfortunate enough to have a fire, your chances of coming out alive are better if you know these facts:

- It's not necessarily the flames from a fire that kill you. Rising heat and combustion gases are just as deadly.
- If possible, sleep with doors closed and windows open. It will help keep out the lethal gases that can end your life while you sleep.
- If you suspect fire in your home or apartment, don't hurriedly open the door. Check first to see if the door is hot. If it is, stay in your room. Get someone to call the fire department. Keep the door closed and get fresh air at the window till help arrives.

School Bus Conduct

School days are here again and once again K-Bay youngsters are boarding school busses which carry them to various institutions of learning.

Transporting the youngsters to school could be a headache. Here at K-Bay it is conveniently solved by government transportation. But with this convenience goes a parental responsibility to assure proper conduct by their youngsters.

Things to caution youngsters against include malicious damage, willful annoyance or loud and boisterous noises which could distract the driver and minor wrestling matches.

A moment of your time now may prevent an accident or suspension of your student's riding privileges.

TRANSPORTATION SEMINAR

Four MCAS employees were among the 30 civilians representing naval activities in the 14th Naval District who participated in a recent 40-hour training course of instruction and practical application of transportation equipment maintenance.

Receiving certificates for satisfactory completion of the course were Automotive Mechanics Arnold Howard, Fred Gardner and Richard Shinsato and Heavy Duty Equipment Mechanic Norman Higa.

Planned to provide basic instruction applicable to all types of automatic transmissions currently utilized in Navy transportation equipment, the training was aimed to improve the proficiency of personnel engaged in the task of maintaining the District transportation equipment fleet.

YOUTH AND OPPORTUNITIES
 Many thousands of years ago the first man Adam received an edict which has never been cancelled: "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread" (Genesis 3:19).

Some years later the writer of Proverbs said, "Where there is no vision, the people perish" (Proverbs 29:18). Vision and Work go hand in hand. He who has vision and does not work is an idle dreamer; he who merely works without vision will never attain any degree of success.

H. C. Frick, the barefoot boy employed as an obscure book-keeper, discerned the possibilities of coke. He was making a million dollars a year when in his thirties. He gave one reason for his success: "I worked very hard and always sought opportunities."

Morris and Company wanted a smart young man to keep tabs on their refrigerator cars. The young man selected refused the job stating he would not work in "so smelly a place." But a young clerk earning $40-a-week said, "Let me go!" And Thomas E. Wilson went, and later became president of Morris and Company plus Wilson and Company.

Three of the first five stores Frank W. Woolworth opened were failures, but he Would Not Quit; he Kept On! Charles Goodyear almost starved to death in his long, disheartening efforts to evolve a substance that would become a servant to man. Today the rubber industry is among the four great industries of the land.

Edison slaved 16 to 18 hours a day, year after year, before success came. Alexander Graham Bell and Theodore N. Vail were reduced to borrowing quarters for food before they succeeded with the telephone.

Alert young men today are Moving Out, they are Not Standing Still; they are Utilizing Precious Time, not Wasting It. The future is our own. God has done His part, it yet remains to be seen what we shall do.

Mokapu School Bars Kids Capehart Lunch

Mokapu School officials, after consultation with the Provost Marshal, have decided that, in the interest of safety, no children may go home for lunch if they must cross Lawrence Road.

This will, therefore, cancel all permissions for youngsters to have lunch at home if they live in Capehart.

Only children living in the immediate vicinity of the school may go home during the lunch period.

Inquiring Photographer

With the new school year just beginning, the Inquiring Photographer visited the Station Motor Transportation Section and asked veteran bus drivers of the 1959-60 school year, "What is your pet peeve when transporting school students?"

SGT. CHARLES H. HATCHER—"That's an easy one for me. My pet peeve is drivers who pass school busses when they are stopped to load or unload school kids. On-Station regulations are clear — school busses cannot be passed when they have stopped for passengers."

LCPL. RAYMOND R. MINOR—"My gripe is school kids standing up when the bus is in motion. I never know when I might have to make a quick stop because of traffic. A sudden stop will send these kids tumbling, possibly injuring themselves or others near them."

LCPL. JAMES E. POWELL — "My pet peeve is the last minute rush for the bus stops just when I'm about to leave. Some youngsters try to sprint the last 500 yards. If they'd start from home five minutes earlier this rush wouldn't be necessary and I wouldn't be delayed at each stop."

CPL. JUAN A. CANTU — "It's hard to turn down youngsters who plead with the driver to stop in front of their homes to load or unload. The regular stops have been set up to meet a time schedule and if a driver makes any extra stops the time schedule becomes useless."

Four Air Medals Are Awarded PMR's Famed Recovery Crew

For recovering the first orbited space vehicle ever to return to earth, four K-Bay members of the Pacific Missile Range's helicopter recovery crew, "Outrider Two," were awarded Air Medals Aug. 30.

They retrieved the history making capsule from the Pacific Ocean some 250 miles northwest of Honolulu on Aug. 11.

Crew members receiving the award were pilot Lt. Albert C. Pospisil, co-pilot Lt. (jg) Arthur S. Anderson, plane captain Clifford C. Ailsup, AD1, and Seuba diver Robert W. Carroll, BM3.

Carroll is believed to be the first Navy diver to receive an Air Medal.

Air Force Maj. Gen. Gordon A. Blake, Chief of Staff, Pacific Air Forces, presented the awards during a formal ceremony aboard the flight deck of the Pacific Missile Range recovery ship USNS Haiti Victory docked at Pearl Harbor.

The history making sequence of events began Thursday afternoon, Aug. 11, when the Discoverer XIII capsule was ejected from its orbiting vehicle and headed down toward the earth's surface.

Waiting below were the Pacific Missile Range recovery ships, radar aircraft and the specially equipped Air Force C-119's which would attempt a mid-air, snatch of the parachuting capsule.

The capsule fell into the pre-programmed area about 250 miles northwest of Honolulu.

PMR ships had the capsule on radar and were heading for the impact point. The Air Force C-119's also spotted the descending capsule but were too far away to make an air-catch.

HELICOPTER ACTION

With the capsule in the water, the Haiti Victory launched her two recovery helicopters. Lt. Pospisil, in helicopter "Outrider Two," hovered 10 feet above the bobbing capsule while diver Carroll leaped out into the water.

Working in four to five feet sea swells, Carroll prepared the capsule for hoisting.

It took Carroll just eight minutes from the time he jumped from the helicopter until plane captain Ailsup hoisted the waterborne package into the "chopper."

The helicopter then flew the capsule to the Haiti Victory.

The next day the successful recovery crew flew the capsule to Hickam AFB to return the capsule to the Air Force, sponsor of the Discoverer program.

Later the capsule was flown to NAS, Moffet Field, Calif., and then to Washington, D. C.

In presenting the Air Medals to the "Outrider Two" crew, Gen. Blake commented on the close teamwork of the Navy and Air Force in the Discoverer program.

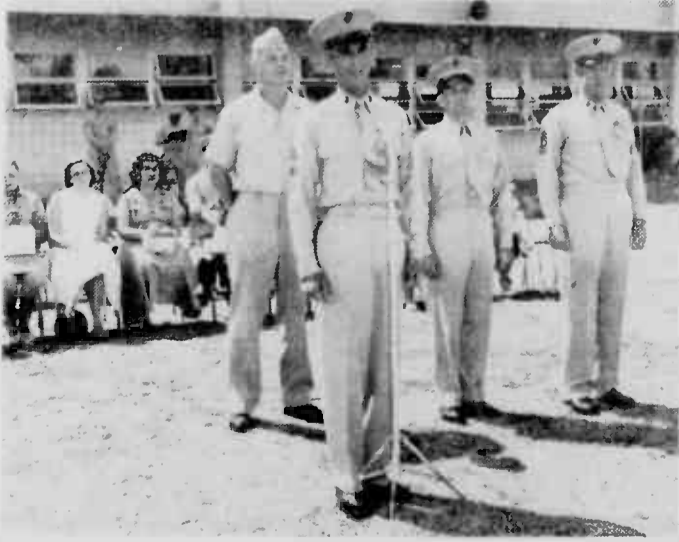

He went on to say "we had little doubt once the capsule was ejected that it would be recovered and the months spent in training for this recovery would pay-off. This crew did an excellent job in recovering the Discoverer XIII capsule."

Cdr. Albert W. Hayward, Pacific Missile Range Representative, during the ceremony said, "It was indeed an honor that the Navy was able to retrieve the Discoverer XIII capsule, the first vehicle to return from outer space and that the PMR recovery force was able to do their part in working side-by-side with the Air Force on this important National event in the conquest of space."

In Emergencies

Volunteer Drivers Needed By The Local Red Cross Unit

Local Red Cross officials are seeking persons capable and interested in assisting K-Bay's chapter as emergency drivers.

Utilizing Red Cross vehicles, the drivers are needed to aid in transporting mothers and dependent children, faced with emergency situations, to the Station Dispensary or Tripler Army Hospital.

These emergencies generally occur when military fathers are engaged in maneuvers or on temporary additional duty far from their families.

In some cases, the family does not have a personal vehicle or the mother does not have a driver's license or cannot drive for medical reasons.

Since it is impossible to forecast emergencies when the military sponsor will be absent, the local Red Cross Chapter is seeking to establish a group of emergency drivers to meet future needs.

Volunteer drivers are urged to contact the Red Cross office at 72606 for details.

Basic requirement is that each volunteer have a valid State of Hawaii driver's license.

Training classes for volunteer drivers will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. on Sept. 21 and Sept. 28 at Room 21, Turner Hall, Fort DeRussey.

The Sept. 21 class will be conducted by Herman D. Burrell, Director of Traffic Education for Honolulu and the Sept. 28 class by Mrs. T. H. Richert, local sports car enthusiast.

CWO Brouillard Is Named 'Veep' Of Warrant Unit

Memorial Observance Planned Locally For Gen. John Pershing

Sept. 13, birthdate of General of the Armies John J. Pershing, will be the occasion this year of numerous celebrations by the Armed Forces and other patriotic organizations to mark the centennial of the general's birth.

Locally the event will be marked by a memorial observance at 3 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 11, at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific at the Punchbowl.

Army units will furnish the honor guard. The Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force will be represented by four-man color guards.

Officers Wives

Ladies, right now is the time to make your reservations for our "O" Wives' Luncheon. Just call either Tony Kilduff, 253-054, or Eloise Fridrich, 252-823. The luncheon will be Sept. 13, at the Officers' Club and the social hour begins at 11 a.m.

This pleasant hour gives you a chance to relax and visit with friends before the luncheon begins. Lunch will be served at 12 noon.

The program will be entirely Hawaiian with the talent provided by our own K-Bay wives. One interesting feature will be a showing of Exchange fashions well within your budget.

Perhaps you are not aware of the fact you can make a standing reservation for all of the luncheons. When you call the telephone chairman, just tell her to put your name down for a standing reservation. This will save time and confusion on your part as well as our hard working telephone chairman. By the way all reservations must be in by Monday noon.

Let me remind you once again that it is time to pay your yearly dues of $2.50. You will have an opportunity to do this during the social hour at the luncheon. By paying this minimal sum you will become an official member of the club, eligible to vote and hold office.

Don't forget! Go to the phone right now and make your reservation for the Tuesday luncheon.

Register Now For First Aid Class

Local Red Cross officials announced last week that a class in first aid would begin Sept. 13. Aimed at dependents, but also open to military personnel, the classes will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. each Tuesday and Thursday through Sept. 29.

Registrations for the class are being taken now at the Red Cross office, phone 72606.

Marion Thorp has been named as the instructor.

KAHUKU RACES — Bill Johnson, in his Austin Healey Sprite, leads Dick Wasson, behind the wheel of his MGA, during the 4th Annual Labor Day Races at Kahuku strip. ## Four Armed Forces Foreign Car Club Drivers Win in Kahuku Racing Classic

Four members of Oahu's Armed Forces Foreign Car Club broke into the winners' circle during the running of the 4th Annual Labor Day Sports Car Races at the Kahuku strip Sunday. A crowd estimated at nearly 4,000 witnessed the "Grand Prix" classic of Hawaii.

Seven preliminary races preceded the main event which featured a Le Mans start and 20 laps on the 2.7 mile track. (A Le Mans start is when the drivers line up across the track from their cars and run to their vehicles, keys in hand, to begin the race.)

The irregular-shaped Kahuku track contains a number of treacherous curves, including a hairpin turn. Prior to the race, during the road test period, Rick Kelly, a member of another club, flipped his F modified Turner over on a sandy hairpin turn. Although his car was too damaged to enter the races, Kelly was uninjured.

AFFCC members who rode their cars to victory under the blazing sun at Kahuku Sunday were Gordon Hill, Tommy Long, Bill Johnson, and Dick Wasson.

Wasson, driving his MGA took second in class (F production) in the main event. He shared his win with "Skip" Schuster, president of the AFFCC. Wasson, after racing 12 laps, made a pit stop and turned the wheel over to Schuster who raced the vehicle the remaining eight laps.

In addition to his win in the main event, Wasson also placed 4th overall in the 1500 c.c. and under group. Gordon Hill, driving his sleek Gordoni Special, took the third overall trophy in the qualifying event, the number six race. In the main event, Hill's clutch burned out and he failed to finish the race.

Bill Johnson, behind the wheel of his Austin Healey Sprite, won a trophy for first in its class (H modified).

Tommy Long, driving his Volvo, raced to victory via a third in class (F production) win in the main event.

Johnny Humphrey, also of the AFFCC, scheduled to participate in the Kahuku classic, was unable to race his Alfa due to last-minute mechanical difficulties.

In addition to having entries in the races, members of the AFFCC also handled the flagging and communications duties at the meet.

Schuster, Wasson, and Johnson all serve with units at K-Bay.

Awards were presented during a victory banquet held in Punalou following the races. Millionaire sports car racing champion Lance Reventlow and his wife, actress Jill St. John, were among those present at the races and the dinner.

Membership in the AFFCC is open to all military personnel and their dependents who own foreign cars. Additional information on the Club may be obtained by calling Skip Schuster at 252-679 or Mrs. Margaret Johnson at 251-813.

LADY LINKSTERS

Last week's regular weekly tournament was played by the Klipper Wives.

The winners of the "Odds-or-Even" tourney were as follows: "A" Flight winner was Ann Roueche with 35 points, followed by Jane Christensen with 37 points; "B" Flight winner was Mil McDorman with 37 points, followed by Enid Westcott with 38.

The nine-hole contest resulted in a first-place tie with Sheila Dunn and Joyce Delaney each posting a 23 score.

Eight-Man Football Night Games Slated

K-Bay gridiron fans are in for a treat this season with the announcement from Special Services officials that competition in eight-man football will be held in the Brigade-Station intramural league.

It was also noted that all the games on the schedule will be night contests at Pollock field near the 3/12 Cannoneers area. This will give more spectators an opportunity to view the gridiron duels.

In addition to K-Bay squads, Camp Smith will also enter a team in the league.

The eight-man football team differs from the eleven-man type in that the two tackles and one back are eliminated. It also differs from the six-man variety in that only the ends and backs are eligible pass receivers.

An 80-yard field is used in the eight-man games.

According to a Special Services spokesman, lighting will make all the action on the field visible as well as in the end zones.

Although the opening game is more than a month away, it is expected that some of the teams will begin practice next week.

Additional information on the eight-man game will be published in next week's WINDWARD MARINE.

STATION TEAM SEEKS PLAYERS

GySgt. Willie Moore has been named to coach the Station team which will be entered in the Brigade-Station eight-man football loop. Moore has a varied background in sports, as a player, coach and official.

Moore has put out a call for all candidates to report for the first practice session Monday at 3 p.m. Personnel who wish to tryout for the team are requested to wear sneakers and sweat suits the first day.

The Station squad will practice on the field adjacent to Riseley Field and across from the Enlisted Men's Swimming pool.

The Station mentor pointed out that practice will go on an accelerated pace in order that the players can learn the fundamentals of eight-man football and still get in shape for the opener next month.

All Station personnel, including those attached on TAD, plus members of the 1st Composite Radio Co., are eligible to try out for the team.

Moore is also seeking assistant coaches to aid him in getting the team in shape. Additional information may be obtained from Moore at 72791.

AKU Marines

By SSgt. Ron Hamilton

The Aku's are still with a no-air situation but many plan to dive off of North Beach and Ft. Hase over the weekend.

Because the season opened recently, many Aku's will be getting lobster. Remember, you can only take them by hand and they must weigh at least a pound each.

With a new member or two joining at each of our meetings, the questions, "Where can I buy diving gear? How much does it cost, etc.?" have arisen.

The beverage store, located in the Main MX, sells all sorts of diving gear at reasonable prices. In addition, the MX special order department can order your scuba rigs, regulators and other diving equipment not found on the beverage store shelves. Orders are filled promptly and you can get the gear you need in a short time.

It will be up to the individual as to what type mask, fins and other equipment he decides to buy. It is suggested that personnel new to diving avoid buying the expensive gear until they're checked out enough to know what is the best gear for them.

Four Ball Play Set for October

Among the coming events scheduled at the K-Bay Klipper Course is the "Four Ball Tournament" slated for Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 15-16.

In this tournament, nine-hole matches will be played with the best ball on a match play determining the winners.

It is necessary that one-half of the combined handicap not be less than eight.

Merchandise awards, dependent upon the number of entrants, will be presented to the winners.

Entry fee is $2 per person.

Maj. B. E. Roueche, K-Bay golf tournament chairman, suggests that local linksters begin locating their partners now and join in the fun of the Four Ball contest.

Prodigal Golf Balls Return to Buzzelli— Many Still AWOL

GySgt. Mario Buzzelli, NCO-i-C of the K-Bay Klipper Course, reported this week that a number of missing golf balls have found their way back to the driving range.

He noted, however, that many more are still on the "wanted list." The renegade golf balls are distinguishable by a red band painted around their circumference.

Parents are requested to check their children's "treasure collections" for the AWOL golf balls.

Balls may be returned to the range green or to the counter at the clubhouse—no embarrassing questions will be asked.

K-Bay Rifle and Pistol Club Slates Films and Arms Display at Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Kaneohe Marine Rifle and Pistol Club will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Building 575.

A full program is being planned, which includes the showing of films made in the Browning Arms factory. Also on the agenda will be a display of new arms by Mr. Darrell Davenport of the Honolulu Sporting Goods Ltd. There will also be a discussion of hunting on the neighbor islands.

Capt. Tom Cain reports that the response to the NRA Classification program is not as great as it should be—so shooters let's try to qualify in all the brackets—it's free!

All you have to do is shoot a few good targets—Club members may certify them to Capt. Cain—and you get the rating.

There were a large number of pistol and rifle shooters out the afternoon of Aug. 26. We are always glad to see a large turnout.

No recreational shooting was scheduled last Saturday due to the big rodeo. We do hope to have a full line out tomorrow.

Your excuse of the week: "But I aimed at the bull's eye!"

SPORTS SCORES

Here's a Honolulu telephone number that K-Bay sports enthusiasts might do well to keep on file. It's 68-887, the number of the Kaiser Broadcasting sports department.

Sport scores are available "24 hours a day" just by dialing this number. You tell them the games and they will give the scores.

Top Marine Golfers Gather At Parris Island for Almar

Top Marine golfers from throughout the world are scheduled to take part in the Sixth Annual All-Marine Golf Championship at the MCRD Golf Course Sept. 21-24 at Parris Island.

Parris Island's 18-hole, 6,500-yard course is hoped to be a stern test for Marines attempting to gain All-Marine honors and a berth in the Inter-Service Golf Championships, Oct. 3-7, at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Male linksmen in the Open and Senior Divisions will open the 1960 classic with eight holes on Wednesday, Sept. 21 and play 18-holes on each of the following days until the final round of the 72-hole tournament on Saturday, Sept. 24. At that time an All-Marine team will be selected by the Parris Island executive committee. Consisting of five Open players and three Seniors, the team will represent the Marine Corps in the Inter-Service test.

The Ladies' Division is scheduled to tee off on Wednesday, Sept. 21, and conclude at the end of 54 holes on Sept. 23.

The Senior Division has been devised for Marines who have reached 45 years of age by the opening date of the tournament.

MSgt. B. Atkinson and GySgt. M. Buzzelli will also have to engage in a playoff to decide who takes the fifth place trophy. Each had a low net of 286.

Mokuleia Hunting Season Now Open

The 5,215-acre Mokuleia Forest Reserve was recently opened by the Board of Agriculture and Conservation as a State game management area and public shooting ground.

An indefinite hunting season for wild boar and goats opened last week with a bag limit of one wild boar and one goat per hunter each day.

The area has deep gulches and heavy forest growth which abound in wild boar and goats, a Division of Game spokesman said.

Each party of hunters is allowed only three hunting dogs. Hunters must obtain permits and check in and out of the Kuaokala Hunter Check Station where all game taken should be declared.

Permits may be obtained week days at the board office, 1423 South King Street, Honolulu, or the Kuaokala station on week ends.

Many Facilities Offered at Gym

Have you looked in a mirror lately and found that you are getting flabby around the middle? Are you developing middle age spread prematurely? Are you becoming a "fatso"?

If the answer is "yes," don't despair; there's hope. The partial remedy to your troubles may be found in Hangar 103 where the Station Special Services gymnasium is located.

Here you will find a variety of muscle building devices, plus a basketball court and four badminton courts with all the equipment.

There's even a trampoline for those who would like to take up this increasingly popular sport.

Exercise equipment includes weight lifting sets, bicycles, punching bags, skip ropes, rowing machines, horizontal bars, tumbling-wrestling mats and chest exercisers.

One of the nicest things about all these body-building facilities is that they are free for you and your dependents to use. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

The gymnasium is open Tuesdays through Saturdays, plus Holidays, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. It's closed Sundays and Mondays.

Peleliu Invasion Began Long Trek To U. S. Citizen

When Cpl. Raphael Ngnirmang of the 4th Marine Regiment was sworn in as a United States citizen yesterday morning at Honolulu, it marked the final step in his exodus from the island of Peleliu which began during the American invasion of his island home 16 years ago.

In Sept., 1944, Ngnirmang was introduced to the U.S. Marines the hard way as their air strikes began to soften up Peleliu for invasion.

Five days before the first waves of Marines stormed ashore there, he was evacuated to a nearby island. After the fighting subsided, his family returned to Peleliu where Ngnirmang began to develop his interest in Marines.

Later he attended school on Guam and while there met American Airman W. H. Turner who adopted him and took him to Memphis, Tenn. In Feb., 1957, Ngnirmang enlisted in the Marine Corps.

Prior to his assignment to Hawaii in 1959, he served for two years at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, California.

Semifinalists competed in a consolation round. MSgt. Lee Wortham was the victor in this event.

More than 40 golfers competed in the Labor Day weekend links contest.

'On With The Show' Opens Monday At Station Theater

A curvaceous bundle of feminine charms in the person of songstress Ruth Gillis will be an added eye-appealing attraction when the stage presentation of "On With the Show" plays here Monday.

Show time at Theater No. 1 is 7 p.m.

Sponsored by the USO, "On With the Show" is cost free to patrons. The regularly scheduled late movie will follow this special entertainment which is expected to run about 75 minutes.

Others in the cast of eight include comic Sid Marion, Happy Joe Lewis, Jeanne and Frank Valley, Billy Collins and Lucille and Babe Lund.

The pert and pretty vocalist, Ruth Gillis, hit the USO circuit after an engagement at Dino's Lodge in Hollywood. The bible of show biz, VARIETY, calls her a "real pro, who shows her versatility with torch songs, Latin numbers and songs with catchy rhythms."

Musical background for the show is provided by the Valley's, Jeanne and Frank, on the electric organ and drums respectively, and Collins on the saxophone. Their antics and patter add a breezy comical touch.

Juggling hi-jinks of the Lunds completes the entertainment bill of fare.

USO shows for the Armed Forces are made possible by contributions to United Funds, Community Chests and the Federal Services Overseas Fund campaigns.

Veteran Club Manager, Grid Star Assumes Staff NCO Club Duties

MSgt. Anthony J. "Tony" Beatrice, veteran Marine Corps club manager, formally relieved MSgt. John Toon as manager of the Kaneohe Bay Staff NCO Club Aug. 29.

A veteran of 17 years active service, Beatrice recently reported from headquarters Marine Corps,

Washington, D. C., where he managed the Staff NCO Club. During the Korean conflict he served with the 1st Marine Air Wing in Korea and, during the latter months of his tour, managed the Officers' Club at K-3.

Oldtimers will remember Beatrice best for his football exploits with various Marine varsity teams. A two-time "All Marine" center in both 1948 and 1949, Tony has often been called one of the all-time greats of the Corps.

In one of his first moves upon taking over the Club, Beatrice announced that a special "dungaree" policy has been interjected into the daily club schedule. Under the new policy Marines in dungarees can now enter the club from 4 to 6 p.m. each day.

THEATER SCHEDULE

TONIGHT

Teacher's Pet — No information other than this stars Doris Day. What more can we say. Naturally, the picture is rated excellent and is also for adults. Runs for two hours on the button.

SATURDAY MATINEE

The Surprise Of The Week — Actually, this is no title, just our way of telling you that, at presstime, Theater officials could not tell us what the matinee would be.

SATURDAY

Omar Khayyam — Celebrated as a mathematician and astronomer, as well as a poet, Omar's romantic life is told in this one. Straight out of the Arabian Nights, this one stars Cornel Wilde (of course), is rated very good and is fit fare for adults and youths (children, too, if they are mature: Parent's Magazine). Runs for 101 minutes.

SUNDAY MATINEE

The Week's Second Surprise — Again our Theater cronies could not give us the answer due to a malfunction in their booking office. Take a chance? Why not!

SUNDAY

Last Voyage—This is the story of how an aging luxury liner breaks up at sea and the valiant and successful efforts of its captain and crew to save the lives of its 1,500 Orient-bound passengers. The yarn focuses on one family (Robert Stack, Dorothy Malone and their young daughter) and Capt. George Saunders and his personnel. As the ship disintegrates — the catastrophe having started with a fire in the engine room — everyone is loaded into lifeboats with the exception of Dorothy who has been trapped in her cabin under a piece of falling steel debris. Will she be saved? Of course! The good part, though, is how? Rated very good for the entire family. Runs for 91 minutes.

MONDAY

SPECIAL NOTE

Inasmuch as the USO Stage Show "On With The Show" appears at Station Theater No. 1 Monday night, only the second movie of the evening will be shown — immediately following the stage event.

The Electronic Monster — Rod Cameron, an insurance investigator, is sent to France to look into the apparently accidental death of an American film star, heavily insured by his company. He discovers that just before his demise the actor had been a patient at a psychiatric clinic owned by two doctors and operated on the theory and practice that a series of dreams of selected variety will cure all mental disturbances. These dreams are enacted and filmed at a studio owned by Peter Illing and then transmitted to patients by a complicated electrical, brainwaves-controlling device. Rating: Weird, man! Seriously, though, this is rated fair for adults and youths. Runs for 90 minutes.

TUESDAY

Rise And Fall Of Legs Diamond — While there is no information on this it takes very little imagination to figure out what the picture is about. Good ol' Legs was the nemesis of the underworld during prohibition and his fall was a well-calculated maneuver by the authorities. Stars Karen Steele, is rated very good, is for adults only and runs for 100 minutes.

WEDNESDAY

Heller In Pink Tights — A traveling theatrical troupe owned by Anthony Quinn escapes a pursuing sheriff and rides into Cheyenne in the 1880's, where the beautiful star, Sophia Loren, attracts the attention of Steve Forrest, a young gunman, who tempts her into a poker game. She loses all her money—and herself—to Forrest but Quinn persuades her to get out of town with the troupe. En route to the southwest, Forrest catches up with the troupe but is helpful in getting them away from savage Indians, who kill their drivers. With their wagons and scenery abandoned, the troupe reaches Bonanza, where Forrest's arch-enemy, Ramon Navarro, has hired killers to get him. No rating but, with the top stars involved, we'd say at least very good. This is for adults and runs 116 minutes.

THURSDAY

Day They Robbed The Bank Of England — No information other than this stars Aldo Ray and probably is patterned after an actual event. Rated very good for adults. Runs for 92 minutes.

REGULAR APPOINTMENTS OPEN TO MCR OFFICERS

Certain reserve ground officers may be eligible to compete for appointment to the Regular Marine Corps according to Marine Corps Order 1120.14.

Due to circumstances beyond anyone's control, the family picnic at Ft. Hase had to be postponed . . . it is definitely on for Sunday, Sept. 11 at 1 p.m. and members are again urged to bring at least one new couple. Bring your own refreshment, the children will be entertained and we'll get to know each other better and meet some new friends.

It's not too late to join the Beginner's Hula Class at Ft. DeRussey Service Club, 6:30 p.m. every Friday nite. There are car pools going from the base, if you would like to get in one, call Marilyn Allen, 252-872.

Our meeting place has been changed and the regular monthly meeting will be in the ballroom at the Enlisted Men's Club Sept. 20 at 8 p.m. The back door of the ballroom will be open for our use so park in the lot behind the club and come directly into the ballroom through the back door.

DON'T FORGET THE PICNIC LET'S DOUBLE OUR MEMBERSHIP!
