It Is Official: Next Friday's Holiday Here

Next Friday will be a day of leisure aboard K-Bay-it'll be holiday routine for most.

It's a national holiday in commemoration of Washington's Birthday Saturday. In Hawaii it is known as "President's Day."

All Exchange activities will close down Friday with the exception of the Patio Store, Malt Shop, K-Bay Inn and the 1090 and Golf Course snack bars.

The Main Commissary and Commissary Annex will be open for business as usual. The Commissary will close Saturday for its observance of Washington's Birthday.

The Annex will be open Saturday with normal open hours.

K-Bay's branch of the Bank of Hawaii will be closed. Station and Brigade Special Services activities will operate on their holiday scheduled.

Power Outage Set For Sure Sunday

The power outage scheduled aboard K-Bay last Sunday is now slated for this Sunday, Public Works has announced.

Postponement of last Sunday's outage came after the WM hit the streets Friday.

The outage hours remain the same — 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Areas affected also remain the same as reported last week.

As a reminder, some of the main areas include: Capehart, Manning Court and Rainbow housing. The SNCO and E-Club will also be affected.

FIFTY AND FLYING — LtCol. Merle C. Davis, MAG-13 S—4 (r), receives a surprise 50th birthday cake from 2dLt. John T. Murphy, 22, HMM-161, youngest pilot currently on Station. Col. Davis is the oldest pilot still logging flight time at K-Bay.

Due at Taiwan Yesterday

BLT 1-4 Aggressing for 'Back Pack' LEX

Battalion Landing Team 1/4, scheduled to arrive at Taiwan yesterday, will be aggressor in Operation "Back Pack," according to an announcement earlier this week from the USS Salisbury Sound.

The Brigade BLT, commanded by LtCol. A. I. Thomas, will be joined by a Chinese Marine battalion in the role of "enemy" for the exercise.

Back Pack, a Sino-American amphibious training operation to test the readiness of U. S. and Nationalist Chinese sea forces, was slated to commence yesterday.

Ships of the U. S. Seventh Fleet will assemble in waters off Okinawa, while ships of the Republic of China Navy will steam down the Taiwan coast.

Making the assault will be U. S. and Chinese Marines comprising the 7th Marine Expeditionary Force under MajGen. James M. Masters, CG of the 3dMarDiv.

BrigGen. G. S. Bowman, assistant commander of the 1st-Battalion Landing Team 1/4, MAW, will be a Deputy Exerheduled to arrive at Taiwan cise Director.

BLT 1/4, as aggressor, will be positioned as hore in the exercise area to test tactical skills of the landing forces.

A Troop Exercise Coordinator (TEC) Group will evaluate results of the operation.

John T. Murphy, 22, of HMM-161, the youngest pilot currently aboard the Air Station.

MAG Pilot, 50, Finds He's

Oldest Aboard Still Flying

When LtCol. Merle C. Davis,

MAG 13 S-4, observed his 50th birthday Monday, he didn't figure on an assist from the Brigade and the Air Group.

But he got it, anyway.

When he arrived in Hangar

105 to make a scheduled flight in a TF9F "Cougar" jet Monday morning he found:

A lot of people, including BrigGen. M. E. Carl, Brigade Commander, and Col. H. W. Hise, MAG CO, knew ator still flying at K-Bay; and it was his birthday;

Members of the Group staff helped Col. Davis eat the cake later in the day.

The veteran Marine pilot enlisted in the Corps in 1936. He served briefly as a DI at Parris Island, then joined the 4th Marines in Shanghai as a machinegumer in December 1936. He was with D—1/4 until June 1940.

After another tour as a DI, he joined Marine aviation as a first sergeant in 1942, serving with it in the Pacific during WWII.

Rising to the rank of Marine Gunner, he entered flight training in 1944. Under policies in effect at that time, he had to revert to master sergeant upon earning his wings.

He flew fighter combat missions in Korea in 1950-51 with VMF-311. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and six Air Medals during that tour.

He joined MAG-13 at K-Bay in January 1963.

RECEIVES AIR MEDALS—WO William L. Adamson, HMM-161 Pilot, received his fourth, fifth and sixth Air Medals last week. WO Adamson bat flight missions flown in Viet Nam.

Fourth Annual K-Bay Water Carnival Planning Underway; Set for July 12

The 4th Annual K-Bay Water Carnival has been set for Sunday, July 12.

Recognized as the biggest water show in the Islands, the 1964 spectacular is expected to take on about the same format as last year's event.

The 1963 carnival drew more than 30,000 spectators and netted nearly $17,000 for the K-Bay Youth Activities Association.

Any proceeds realized from this year's show will also go toward support of the youth activities group.

LtCol. G. H. Benskin Jr.

will be chairman for the '64 event. He is the Station Special Services Officer.

As in past years, a K-Bay Water Carnival Queen contest is scheduled to precede the big day and a colorful souvenir program will be published and distributed free to spectators during the carnival.

Admission and parking will also be free.

34 YEARS — 1stSgt. Thomas Guthrie, Station Management Engineering Analyist, holds a king-size Good Conduct ribbon with two Silver Stars, symbolic of his long service in the Corps. He enlisted Jan. 11, 1930 in Boston, Mass. He departs K-Bay in May for El Toro and his first leg on the next Silver Star.

Efforts in Homestretch

There's Still Time for Contributions To Make 100 Percent in Campaigns

Brigade keymen are set for a final push today in an all-out campaign for contributions for the 8th Annual National Health Agency and Federal Joint Crusade Campaign.

The Brigade campaign, which ends Tuesday, is a part of K-Bay's effort in the annual campaign which began almost five weeks ago with separate drives by Brigade, Station-PMR and First Radio Company.

The three drives have had top keymen on the job and each chairman has high hopes of reaching the goal set by all

-100 percent participation. Station-PMR drive ends Feb. 28 and 1stRadCo. has set its deadline as Mar. 15.

MCX Holding Valentine Day Sale at 1090 Today

K-Bay shoppers looking for bargains should find their share during the Main Exchange's Valentine's Day sale today.

According to WO Bruce Ellis, Exchange Officer, the sale will feature many items at reduced prices to fit the family budget.

APPOINTED TO CAPTAIN — Capt. E. D. Rector, B—Engineers, received congratulations last week from LtCol. W. J. Kohler, ServBn. CO (I), following the captain's promotion to his present rank. On hand for the advancement were the captain's wife, Clara, and their two childern, Edward II, and Deborah. Capt. Rector, presently a company officer, is scheduled to take command of the Engineers later this month.

CONDUCT AWARD — LCpls. Roger Dowdy (I) and Phillip Keller (r) received congratulations Wednesday from LtCol. J. R. Sloan, VMF-232 CO (c), shortly after receiving their first Good Conduct awards. Cpl. Dowdy works in Safety and Equipment, while Cpl. Keller is serving as a clerk.

Kids Can Walk One Mile

New DOD Directive Outlines School Bus Transportation

The Department of Defense has issued a new directive out-lining policies for providing school transportation to dependent children of military and civilian personnel.

DOD said the directive (4510.3) applies to all military installations in the United States, Puerto Rico, Wake Is-land, Guam and the Virgin Is-

The directive points out that DOD transportation normally will not be pro-vided when the school is within walking distance.

However, there are exceptions under special circumstances which may be determined by the installation commander.

The walking distance has been described as one mile or less between the school and the child's residence.

A school will be considered accessible if it is within walking distance or if the regular means of transportation and walking distance would involve an elapsed travel time of one hour or less each way.

The directive explains policies for providing transportation to local public schools, nearby public schools (other than local), and private schools.

Other general policies in the directive are:

- · The age of the children involved shall also be considered.
- Transportation provided shall not exceed one trip to the school and one trip from the school per school day for any child.
- · When more than one military installation is involved, commanders shall coordinate

U. S. Report On Smoking Is Available

How can cigarette smoking endanger your health and your life?

The answers can be found in the U. S. Government report on smoking now available at the Government Printing Office.

The report, compiled by the advisory committee to the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, points out on page 31:

'In view of the continuing and mounting evidence from many sources - it is the judgment of the committee that cigarette smoking con-tributed substantially to mortality from specific di-seases and to the overall death rate."

Destroy the Forces of Evil In Our Living; Exalt Christ

By Chaplain W. A. Lane

Those concerned with the spiritual issues of life are confronted with the problem of overcoming the forces of evil. An effective means is illustrated by this story.

An Army chaplain in WWI was assigned to a unit which was sent overseas. Some spiritual progress seemed to have been made until the men went to Paris on liberty.

After their return, the chaplain stopped by their dugout. To his disgust the walls were covered wth indecent pictures. In anger, the chaplain was tempted to tear down everyone of them. An inspiration came to him; he would use a more effective means of getting them down. He secured a large picture of Christ and put it up along with all the other pictures.

Shortly, the chaplain ob-served the lewd pictures were coming down, and in a few days every picture was down, save one. The picture of Christ remained alone.

Thus, it seems the best way to destroy evil is to exalt Christ in the midst of it by personal example and let men do the "tearing down" of evil in their own lives.

It also contains summaries on major governmental and private activities working to help people in emerging countries. It's especially for Americans living overseas, those planning travel abroad or having overseas businesses, and who deal with people in or visiting other countries.

The book is available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. The cost — $1.25.

Construction Bill - The Department of Defense has submitted to the Congress a Military Construction Authorization Bill totaling $1,809,308,000.

The bill requests new construction authorization in support of the active forces, reserve components, and defense agencies.

It includes funds for 10,529 family housing units in the United States and possessions and 1971 units at overseas bases. (AFPS)

Draft Call Doubles -Fiscal Year 1964 draft calls are expected to total more than twice those of FY63 because a large number of men inducted during the Berlin crisis of 1962 will be completing their two-year tours of duty.

A Defense Department spokesman said this fiscal year's draft will involve nearly 160,000 men.

According to DOD estimates, over 600,000 servicemen, including about 80,000 WWII and Korean Conflict veterans, will leave active military service during FY64.

This manpower departure from the services is about 100,000 more than average in recent years. (AFPS)

Drivers Practice Safety - K-Bay's government motor vehicle accident rate was 11 percent lower for 1963 than in

'62, according to Al Roth, Station Safety Officer.

Accidents for 1963 totaled only 1.32 per 100,000 miles driven. Mr. Roth reminds all hands to continue to drive safely and to strive for a better record for 1964.

FIRST AWARD - Cpl. John T. McDaniel, H&HS Security Section (r), receives the first Provost Marshal's "Marine of the Quarter" Award from Maj. E. W. Whitten, Station PMO. Cpl. McDaniel, assigned duty as desk sergeant, received the award last week for the quarter ending last Dec. 31. It will be presented each quarter to the military policeman demonstrating applica-tion to duty and outstanding professional skill.

Moves for 11 MC Generals Are in Offina

Two former K-Bay officers are among 11 Marine Corps general officers slated for new essignments, it was announced by HQMC this week.

The officers, both selected for brigadier general, are: Cols. J. W. Antonelli, former 4th Marine Regiment Commander, and W. G. Thrash, former MAG-13 CO and Brigade Chief of Staff.

Col. Antonelli, now in the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will become Deputy J-3, Commander-in-Chief, Europe, replacing BrigGen. O. M. Con-oley who retires.

Col. Thrash has been ordered to HQMC from Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic.

In other new assignment changes, MajGen. W. R. Collins, Deputy Chief of Staff, Commander in Chief Atlantic, becomes CG, 3dMarDiv.

He will be replaced by Brig-Gen. R. McC. Tompkins, now assistant Division Commander, 2dMarDiv.

BrigGen. G. S. Bowman, Jr., Assistant Wing Commander, 1stMAW, moves to the same position in the 2dMAW.

BrigGen. J. P. Coursey, now Commander, Marine Corps Air Bases, East; and CG, MCAS, Cherry Point, N. C., replaces Gen. Bow-CG,

Special Low Military Rates Extended by Rail Officials

Railroad officials have extended for another six months their special low rates for Servicemen traveling on leave

The low rates currently in force will apply until June 30, 1964. The special rates apply to both one-way and round-trip tickets and also allows the use of different routes for return trips routes for return trips.

Special round-trip fares for servicemen traveling by bus have extended until July 31, 1964. Department of Defense officials said that, while most bus lines grant the reduced fares, servicemen should check the bus line they intend to use about the special rates since some carriers are not taking part in the plan.

Space available air furlough fares, which roughly 50 percent of the jet coach fares, are expected to remain in effect until at least April 25, 1964.

These fares are available only to servicemen on leave and in uniform. It was stressed that authorized leave papers must be in the traveler's possession. (AFPS)

Vision-to-Reality for Former K-Bay Marine

New Sea Life Park Hosts Sharks, Porpoises, Turtles,

If you've ever had the urge look at a tiger shark eyeball-to-eyeball, study the idiotic antics of the world-renowned gooney bird, or see a porpoise hula, now's your chance. Sea Life Park, the world's largest exhibit of marine (sea, not U.S.) life, opened this week only a half hour or so drive from K-Bay.

And to top it off the spec-tacular "Oceanarium" is the vision-come-to-reality of a former K-Bay Marine chopper pilot, Taylor Pryor.

Then Capt. Pryor flew with HMM-161 here from 1955-57. At the same time, he was a

In 1960, he formed the Oceanics Foundation. He is now director of the Sea Life Park with its staff of 35.

The park is located at Makapu Point beyond Walmanalo, a good 30-minute haul in the family buggy. It's open every day except Monday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Various shows are offered throughout the day at established intervals. A single admission to the park covers all exhibits and shows and all the looking and seeing a family

Annual passes are also offered, permitting visits to the park as often as desired during a 12-month period. These run $4.30 for adults and $2.15 for kids, 7-12.

Special arrangements for groups and school classes are available by calling the park.

The exhibits are designed to present and interpret the around Hawaii in an authentic manner. They are fed by salt water right from the ocean at the rate of 5000-gallons per minute.

The Hawaiian Reef exhibit offers the visitor an opportunity to make like a skin-diver without getting wet. A long, spiral ramp starting at surface level descends gradually be-low the sea beneath a lava flow where a ribbon of glass panels allows excellent view-ing of all the colorful Hawaireef life.

An open-air shark pool permits mighty close-range viewing of tiger sharks in the swim timing and agility.

Like Marine recruits responding to a DIs command, they leap, spinning like a top; do aerial flips; and hula in formation—all in unison. Soon, whales will be added to the marine managerie.

Within the pool is a 5/8 scale replica of the famous square-rigged whaling ship, the Essex. You can watch the porpoises perform from the deck or you can go be-low into the concrete hold to watch the sleek fish operate below the surface.
Then there's the Leeward

Island Pool portraying the sea life of the leeward islands. It's inhabited by Hawaiian Monk seals, sea turtles, san albatross (gooney birds) and other sea birds.

Refreshments are available in the park at nominal cost.

10.000th HAMBURGER - An unusual award was presented at the E-Club Saturday when PFC. Jose A. Trujillo was feted with a steak dinner complete with all the trimmings. PFC. Trujillo, an Illustrator with MABS-13, ordered a hamburger (the 10,000th hamburger sold at the club) and was asked to return Monday to receive his reward.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW - This is what the K-Bay airfield looks like to the six Marine air traffic controllers who man the Station control tower. The rower which is manned around the clock, affords a bird's-eye view of the airfield and a good portion of the surrounding area. Manning the tower is the day (or night) supervisor, the flight data man, ground controller, departure controller, local controller and approach controller.

How would you like to hold tower day and night. a million dollars in your hand?

Certain K-Bay enlisted Marines are virtually charged with such responsibility, although they don't actually hold the cold, hard cash in their grip.

These are the Marines who guide jets from MAG-13 and other million-dollar aircraft in safe take-offs and landings Formally called air traffic tions. controllers, they man the Station's control tower reaching the K-Bay tow skyward atop Hangar 105. The thur L. Clum. perched nerve center affords a bird's-eye view of the K-Bay airfield and surrounding areas.

They operate in close coor-dination with Ground Control Approach (GCA) in directing the safe take-off and landing of planes in all types of weather.

Most tower Marines are from Marine Air Traffic Control Unit -62 (MATCU-62) which rotates its personnel between GCA and tower duty. Station also supplies five Marines who work exclusively in the tower.

Each air traffic controller is required to take a comprehensive Federal Aviation Agency certification examination. Requalification is necessary at each new duty station.

Normally, three crews of five Marines each operate the sive Marines each operate the sive Marines reduced to Alrops that might interfere with the aircraft all emergency units should the need arise.

Ronald E. Person, LCpl. Kenneth H. Maus and LCpl. Thomas A. Keller.

Cpl. Keller, as flight data man, receives flight plans on aircraft, keeps up with weather conditions, and acts as communication man. He also handles both the squawk-box tied to AirOps airfield. He clears vehicles to cross runways and provides aircraft with information on runways to use, local altimeter settings, time checks, and other aircraft in the area.

Performing as departure controller, Sgt. Eastep clears aircraft for take-off through coordination with local con-trol as soon as GCA or mobile search central (MSQ) provides radar service on any conflicting air traffic.

Also local controller, Sgt. Person handles all visual flight rules (VFR) flights in the area, clearing them for take-off and landing. He also clears all traffic airborne within a five-mile radius and passes advice to pilots to aid them in their flights.

LCpl. Maus is the approach controller. He places ap-proaching traffic at a given altitude and distance where it is picked up by GCA and brought in on instruments.

When the aircraft reaches a point three miles out, GCA gets a clearance from the tower for landing. This is done because GCA has no visual contact with field conditions

CLEARED FOR TAKE-OFF - The Station's C47J aircraft, cleared by air traffic controllers in K-Bay's control tower, prepares to take off. Observing the movement is Sgt. Ronald E. 9 Hawaii Marine Pugilists Fighting for Mainland Bids Win, lose or draw, the Ha-waii Marine Boxing Team put their skill and talent on the line Wednesday and Thursday competing in the HASAC Box ing Tournament.

Represented by nine suggers, the tournament was held on the Marines' home ground at the Station gym in Hangar

Going into the fights, spirits were high. Local puglists vowed to try and better last year's record of three wins and eight losses.

The Marines were well-represented in all divisions except the 112-pound weight class.

Scheduled to represent the Wooten, 119 lbs.; Armando Martinez, 125 lbs.; Bill Stan-ley, 132 lbs.; John Martinez, 139 lbs.; Zeb Allen, 147 lbs.;

Arlington Johnson, 156 lbs.; E. V. Lee, 165 lbs.; Willie Johnson, 174 lbs.; and Joseph Miller in the heavyweight division.

Following the HASAC tournament, the local puglists re-turn to the Civic Auditorium

Monday for a weekly smoker.

"With each and every bout, our fighters are gaining knowledge and experience for the All-Marine tournament to be held in March at Camp Pendleton," SSgt. R. H. Merwin, assistant boxing coach, said.

'We'll be ready - win, lose or draw," he added.

O-Wives Still Sing Praises

More Mahalos Due Doers

By Joyce Harte

Flapper-Dapper Night at the O-Club was such a success, we're still singing the praises for those who did all the work.

The excellent entertainment was packaged by HMM-161 under the leadership of George Pechar, who was MC for the show.

Many thanks to the "Navy-Whistlers" - whoever you Mahalo to Billie Beale who belted out a couple of swinging tunes. PMRF is on the thank you list for those beautifully costumed cigarette and money girls. Edie Shields did much leg work on this item, also.

Lt. and Mrs. Martin Brandtner, holding down the fort for absent 1/4, made all the window posters.

Special thanks go to Ina Ray Dyer, Norma Staffel and Evelyn Tope, O-Wives task force for the night, and to Bill Douglas, our helpful Club manager.

Mahalos also go to all you unnamed, unsung heroes. Flapper-Dapper Night was the greatest because of you.

Less $$$, More Vehicles, Rifles for FY-65 Says DOD weapons and combat vehicles in Fiscal Year 1965

Secretary McNamara's congressional testimony shows the $236.8 million FY65 budget to be $159.4 million less than in FY64.

Rifle procurement for the Army in FY1964-65 has been discontinued except for 85,000 of the combat-proven M-16 (AR-15) 5.6mm rifles now included in the FY64 program.

On hand or due from the M-14 program are 1.1 million rifles, and there are still more one million M-1 rifles available in inventory.

Summing up the rifle situation, Secretary McNamara told Congress: "In view of the upcoming field evaluation of the M-16, the expected completion of service tests of the special purpose individual in Fiscal 1965 and our relatively good overall rifle inventory position, I believe we can safely terminate M-14 procurement.

DOD plans to stretch out FY64 production quantities of the M-60 machine gun through FY65 to maintain an active production base for the 7.62mm weapon. Sufficient stock of the M-60 will be available to meet initial equipment objectives for the Army, DOD said.

Funds are included to buy M-108 105mm howitzers, up ping firepower for armored and mechanized units.

Fourteen million dollars have been proposed for iniprocurement of long leadtime items for the new Coneral Sheridan airborne armored vehicle designed for field Army reconnaissance work. Equipped with the Shillelagh weapons sys-tem, it will replace the M-41 light tank and the M-56 SP 90mm gun.

plans to spend less money for essentially complete all of the initial equipment require-ments for the M-113 and M-577 vehicles.

About tanks, Mr. McNamara said, "Together with the programs for combat engineer vehicles and the armored vehicle launched bridge, both of which use the M-60 chassis, the 1965 procurement of M-60 tanks will enable us to keep a production line operating at minimum sustaining rate."

The MMT in New York, for example, handles mail and parcel post for delivery over-seas in the European, North seas in the European, North African and Middle Eastern areas.

The New York MMT handles he largest volume of APO nail. The terminal moves each nonth approximately 40,000 sacks of parcel post, 35,000 sacks of newspapers and other periodicals, four million pieces of first class surface mail, and eight million air mail letters through its facilities.

"This figure virtually doubles during the Christmas rush in November and December," Maj. Seibert said.

One of the services of the MMT at all three centers is its directory service station, which processes incorrectly addressed mail, bearing either wrong unit designation or APO numbers.

Authorities advise servicemen to keep correspondents informed on current unit ad-dresses and proper APO or FPO numbers to insure prompt delivery.
