New Corps MOS Concept Will Identify

Some Marines with specialized training skills in highly technical occupational fields are Letting new Military Occupational Specialties, according to a HQMC announcement made last week.

Under the new concept, already in effect in Occupational Fields 26 and 27, the first two digits of the MOS identify the occupational field. The third digit designates the principal skill and the fourth digit identifies an additional skill.

Here's how it works: A Marine in OF 26 (Telephone Teletype Maintenance) with MOS 2631 is a Telephone-Teletype Technician with no related skills in his field.

If the Marine successfully completes Cryptographic Equipment Technician school he acquires the MOS 2632. He is still basically qualified as Telephone-Teletype Techni-

General MacArthur Dies

"Old soldiers never die; they just fade away."
These words of General of the Army Douglas
A. MacArthur proved to be his epitaph when the General died at Walter Reed Hospital last Sunday.

After graduating from West Point in 1903, Gen. MacArthur fought in World Wars I and II and in Korea to become the first five-star commander in American history.

He rose to the rank of brigadier general during the first world war, served as Supreme Allied Commander of the South Pacific during WW II, and on Apr. 6, 1945, was named Commander of U. S. Army forces in the Pacific.

In Korea Gen. MacArthur was Supreme Com-mander of all United Nations forces.

President Johnson proclaimed that all U. S. flags around the world be flown at half mast until after burial services tomorrow.

Gen. MacArthur will be interred in the Mac-Arthur Memorial, Norfolk, Va., with full military honors.

$30 Monthly for Shorter Tour

DOD Seeks Pay for Voluntary Separation

Defense officials are looking for ways to change the law so that servicemen volunseparated from their families may receive the $30 a month separation allowance.

According to Navy Times, members of the House Armed Services' pay subcommittee feel that the services can write orders calling for short unaccompanied tours.

If the law is changed the pay will go to those families in which the sponsor elects to serve the shorter unaccompanied to ur overseas rather than take his family. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D. S.C.) and John R. Blandford, chairman and counsel, respectively, of the subcommittee, said if it is found it is administratively impossible to change the law they will approve necessary legislation for the change.

A Comptroller General decision reported last month made it impossible under present regulations to pay the money to those families which separate voluntarily.

Defense officials are faced with the problem as they en-courage servicemen to take the short, unaccompanied tour whenever possible to tour whenever possible to cut the gold outflow and other expenses.

A Comptroller ruling penals izes those who elect the unac-companied tour by denying them separation pay.

it the Station Library during National Library Week Apr. 12-18

According to BrigGen. T. F. Riley, who visited the library in his tour as Inspector General last September, the library is the finest he has seen in or out of the military.

Directed by Maccine Titus, Chief Librarian, the library has a collection of more than 16,500 books. Approximately 3000 new books were added during 1963.

Patrons using the facilities last year totaled 184, 574. Library personnel answered 5445 reference and 6519 telephone queries. They sent 6443 overdue notices and mended 2236 damaged books.

K-Bayites are reminded by Al Roth, Station Safety Offi-cer, to exercise caution when using crosswalks.

out of 10 adult pedestrians killed by automobiles are nondrivers.

"Perhaps that explains why some people deliberately step into the crosswalk in front of an oncoming vehicle. They have little knowledge about the limitations of a driver stopping his car.

"With normal reaction, it takes a driver 61 feet to stop

"Operation KIDS" Run by Reserve Marines, Police at '64 Mardi Gras

Ninety-six children, whose parents got lost during this year's Mardi Gras in New Orleans, La., were reunited with their wayward parents through 'Operation KIDS" conducted by members of the 3dBn, 24th Marines, USMCR.

"Operation Kids" (K-ids I-n Distress S-ervice), which was brought to CMC's attention by Mr. Paddy Ryan, Operations Manager of Educational Television Station WYES in New Orleans, is sponsored by the Marine Reservists, the New Orleans Police Department, and WYES-TV.

On Mardi Gras Day more than 100,000 people filled a 10-block area of Canal Street. Marine Reservists, stationed at key points several blocks apart on Canal, were in constant communications with a Marine CP established at the WYES remote unit.

Parents and police inform- Chop Suey

ed Marines when a child was lost. Word was relayed to the CP and a search for the missing child was launched immediately.

Once the child was found: he or she was taken to the Marine CP. Policemen of the Juvenile Division, assisted by Marines, watched over the children until they were re-united with their parents.
