

LtCol. Howe Leads Flight As 'Turn Table' Continues

VMA-214's Operation "Turn Table," a 2233-mile, trans-Pacific, return flight from El Toro, Calif., to K-Bay, began Wednesday.

The Brigade's "Blacksheep" squadron departed K-Bay Mar. 20 on Operation "Change Train" to trade-in their old A4B aircraft for the newer model A4C.

The lead aircraft, piloted by LtCol. O. "E" Howe Jr., Squadron CO, left El Toro at 8:18 a.m. (Hawaii time) and landed at K-Bay at 2:26 p.m. Wednesday.

"This is real fine training and every squadron that has the capability should do it, but we are sure glad to be back at Kaneohe," said Col. Howe.

Flying with Col. Howe were 1stLts. G. K. Kelly and D. C. Jarvis. An additional aircraft returned to El Toro when it was unable to take on sufficient fuel at the initial in-flight refueling point.

A second division of four aircraft which launched at 9:32 a.m. (Hawaii time) was led by Capt. Thomas P. Brooks. With him were Capt. F. T. Sullivan, L. D. Combs and D. H. Yon. They landed at 3:37 p.m. Wednesday.

The squadron's 17 remaining aircraft were scheduled to arrive yesterday and today.

The aircraft were refueled over the Pacific twice by KC-130 "Hercules" tankers from VMGR-352 stationed at El Toro. The aerial refueller squadron also conducted weather reconnaissance over the flight course.

After receiving the new aircraft at El Toro, the squadron underwent two weeks of flight and weapons training at MCAS, Yuma, Ariz. They flew back to El Toro Apr. 11 to prepare for the return Pacific Ocean crossing.

'Finest Campaign'

Red Cross Field Director Lauds K-Bay

"This is the finest Red Cross Fund Campaign on record for KMCAS," according to Cliff Hadley, K-Bay's Field Director.

Contributions to the Red Cross Fund Campaign by K-Bayites have already exceeded last year's by more than $1000, and some keymen kits are still out, Mr. Hadley said.

Final tabulations cannot be made until all the kits are returned.

Since the first week of the drive a steady increase was shown over previous weeks. More than $2140 was given the first week — the largest for the first weeks of the last two years.

BrigGen. M. E. Carl, Brigade CG and Col. P. T. Johnston, Station CO started things off with the first contribution on Mar. 12.

Brigade Dental achieved 100 percent participation during the first week. K-Bayites exceeded $2700 at the end of the second week.

As the drive moved into its fourth week the $4000 mark was passed. Last week the fund campaign" soared above the $5000 figure.

After all the kits are returned, the project officers will review the results. All units exceeding 1963's contributions will be given Red Cross awards.

"I ask that all keymen turn their kits in today to speed the final tabulations," Mr. Hadley said.

KMCAS Tests Sirens May 1

K-Bay's sirens will be tested next Friday at 30 seconds prior to 11 a.m.

The tests are conducted monthly in connection with the sounding of the Civil Defense sirens on the island of Oahu. These tests ensure that each siren is operative.

Air raid tests will consist of a steady blast of one minute followed by one minute of silence, then one minute of the wailing "TAKE COVER" signal.

The tidal wave warning system will be tested one minute after the wailing tone ends. This is a one minute steady blast.

Announcements over the Station Public Address System will precede the tests.

In 1943 the Colonel was assigned to the Officers Candidate School, Quantico, Va., as a battalion commander and remained there until 1944 when he was transferred overseas as Commander, Central China, a part of Naval Group, China.

The Colonel was assigned to duty on the staff of both the First and Seventh Fleets during the Korean War. He was awarded the Silver Star for leading a recon and UDT team to clear Inchon Harbor during the period 12-25 August, 1950.

REPLICA IN APPRECIATION — LtCol. R. R. Klingman, Station S-1 (r), receives a cake, in the form of an F4U "Corsair", from S-Wives president, Barbara Iconogle (l), and Freda DeCola, club vice-president. Col. Klingman, who piloted an F4U in WWII, received the cake last week in appreciation of his help and guidance as Club advisor since his arrival at K-Bay in January 1961.

S-Wives Show Appreciation For LtCol. Klingman's Help

LtCol. R. R. Klingman, Station S-1, was treated to a surprise Aloha Coffee last Friday morning at the S-Club by members of K-Bay's S-Wives Club.

In appreciation for his help and guidance as Club advisor since his arrival at K-Bay in January 1961, Col. Klingman was presented a cake decorated as a replica of the F4U "Corsair" he piloted in WWII.

The aircraft contained a broken propeller and a much damaged fuselage and with good reason.

As a member of a four plane section patrolling Okinawa skies, Col. Klingman, then a lieutenant, and the other pilots of the section spotted the vapor trails of a two-seater Nick fighter plane at an extremely high altitude.

Two of the F4Us had to drop out, but Col. Klingman and then Capt. K. L. Reusser continued to pursue the enemy plane. They expended most of their ammunition to lighten their aircraft and at 38,000 feet they closed in.

Capt. Reusser expended his ammunition damaging the enemy's wing and left engine. Col. Klingman's guns froze within 50 feet of the enemy, but he continued the attack and after two passes he severed the rudder of the enemy plane with his own plane's propeller.

A third pass cut off the stabilizer. The enemy plane went into a spin and lost both wings at 15,000 feet.

Col. Klingman returned to Kadena with part of his plane's propeller missing; its wings, engine and fuselage riddled and its cowlings containing pieces of the enemy aircraft.

Mrs. Klingman was on hand for the coffee as were Col. and Mrs. P. T. Johnston.

Marxism Initiates Religious Offense; Attack Plans Called Thought Control

By Chaplain K. M. Loughman

The Communist Party recently opened a brand new offense against religion. Since the days of Marx and Engels, the followers of the Communist System have endeavored to bury this opponent. For short periods of time in various places they have been successful, but never has a tombstone been heavy enough to inter this influence.

A different plan of attack had to be devised, spearheaded not by military might

Station PMO Tells Dangers of Keikis Playing in Streets

Do you know where your children are now?

Maybe you do, but according to the Station Provost Marshal, there are quite a few parents who would have to answer "no."

The Provost Marshal's office has received many complaints lately regarding preschool-age children playing in the streets of the new housing area.

A large volume of traffic passes through the new living quarters in order to reach the Rifle Range, MACS-2 and other units located near the beach.

If this problem continues, the roving MP patrols will begin picking up unsupervised children in the streets. Parents will be required to report to PMO for their children.

PMO officials fear an accident will occur resulting in the avoidable death of some small child.

Air OPS Gets Newer Phone Line System

A new $6000 101A key telephone system has been installed in the Station Control Tower and in Station Flight Clearance to improve the operational efficiency.

Telephone technicians from the 14th Naval District joined Airfield Operations and Station Communications personnel to install and place the system into service this week.

All lines terminate into a series of 10-line key boxes eliminating 26 separate telephone instruments in Flight Clearance and the Control Tower.

Incoming calls are indicated by a flashing light and a buzzer over each line switch, making it easier to determine which telephone is ringing.

GySgt. A. S. Greene, NCO-IC, Flight Clearance, said the 101A key system should eliminate a good portion of the noise and confusion created by a mass of separate telephone instruments. Operational efficiency should increase at least 90 percent.

"It's like going from a horse and buggy to an automatic-drive automobile," Gunny Greene said.

Corps To Get New Redeye

The world's smallest guided missile, the Redeye air defense shoulder weapon, is going into production for use by both the Marine Corps and the Army.

Officials say plans call for two-man Redeye teams to be used down to company level in both Marine and Army units. Only one man is needed to fire the weapon but two men provide the best 360-degree coverage.

Development of the shoulder-fired rocket was jointly funded by the Marines and the Army. Each service will share in the missiles produced. (AFPS)

Eagle No 'Spring Chicken'; Has 5000 Years Longevity

When the Continental Congress on June 20, 1782, adopted the eagle as the emblem of the United States, it was following in ancient footsteps.

The eagle emblem, which appears on 3000 U.S. formal documents annually, on most monetary units, on all government and presidential seals and various U. S. military cap ornaments and insignia, has an ancestry 5000 years old.

Use of the eagle as a symbol began in 3000 B.C., with the Sumerians, who originated Western civilization on the banks of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers.

By 2500 B.C., Sumerian military power reigned supreme in the world and its army marched under the standard of the eagle.

The eagle emblem found adherents among nations related to the Sumerians, one being the Hittites, who passed the eagle on to the Greeks, where it became prominent in mythology.

The Hittites made an innovation in the eagle symbol by tacking another head onto the bird, originating the double-headed eagle.

When Rome became an empire, the Sumerian eagle became the glorified ideal of all Roman emperors.
