Marines Get Chance To Aid Their Own As Navy Relief Fund Campaign Begins

Navy Relief Society's 1964 call for funds begins Monday at K-Bay.

The fund-raising drive is scheduled to continue through June 6. Once a year Naval Service Personnel stationed throughout the world are asked to support their Navy Relief Society by contributing during the period May 4 to June 6, commemorating the Navy-Marine sea-air battles of the Coral Sea and Midway.

A generous response at this time will insure that the Society can continue rendering timely and appropriate assistance in times of need to Marine Corps and Navy personnel and their families.

During the campaign, Station and Brigade personnel will be contacted by their respective keymen.

Maj. C. B. Gartrell, Station S-1, has been named fund-drive chairman for the Station. 1stLt. F. W. Milling, Hq-

Co Brigade, has been designated Brigade chairman.

Civilian workers aboard the Station and civil service per-visiting nurses and professional social workers for those with personal and family problems.

More than 5900 part-time volunteers donate their time and energy to Navy Relief activities.

During 1963, the Navy Relief at K-Bay provided financial assistance in 518 cases (loans totaled $24066.44 and grants totaled $2361.69) and service involving no monetary aid in an additional 373 cases.

On hand to aid K-Bayites are one full-time employee, BrigGen. M. E. Carl, Brigade CG, directs the following message to all Brigade Marines and their dependents.

"As Marines we take pride in caring for our own. One of the best ways we can do this is by giving generously when Navy Relief makes its annual request for funds.

"Administrative expenses of the Navy Relief are paid by income from investments on a national level. This leaves all of our contributions available for direct, individual aid to Marines and Navymen in distress.

"I urge all of you to do your part. Give as you can and set our goal at 100 per cent participation in this once-a-year drive for Navy Relief. For the many Marines who may never need Navy Relief services there is great satisfaction in helping the many who daily benefit from this excellent organization."

Col. P. T. Johnston, Station CO, extends the following message to K-Bayites.

"Since 1904 when the Navy Relief Society was organized, thousands of Marines, sailors and other eligible personnel have been aided in time of need. 'Take care of our own' might well be the motto of this fine, non-profit organization.

"Members of the Naval Service have been giving generously to the Navy Relief Society year after year — and willingly — because, as we all know, this is one organization which will extend a helping hand to any of us if the need arises.

"Because of the very special clientele who are the beneficiaries of Navy Relief (Marines, sailors, widows of deceased Navy or Marine personnel, retired Naval and Marine personnel), I urge each of you here at K-Bay to give very generously in a single cash contribution.

"Ask the man in your outfit who has been assisted by Navy Relief what he thinks — then give what you can afford."

sonnel may contribute if they so desire.

Anxious to care for its own, Naval Service personnel founded the Naval Relief Society in 1904 to provide Marines and Navymen in need, financial aid through outright grants, loans without interest or a combination of the two.

His schedule calls for his arrival at K-Bay by HMM-161 helicopter at 8:45 this morning.

Following briefings by Brigade and Station commanders in Kansas Tower, Secretary Longstreet will tour MAG-13 and observe a Short Airfield for Tactical Support demonstration and a Tactical Airfield Fuel Dispensing System display.

Couples Dance, 2 Shows Slated for E-Club May 10

K-Bay's Enlisted Club, sparing no expense to give its patrons the best in entertainment, will host a "couples only" dance complete with two floor shows Sunday, May 10.

Highlighting the evening's busy slate of festivities will be the Versatiles, a 10-piece orchestra from Pearl Harbor, and Art Thiesen, well-known hypnotist from Kailua.

The Versatiles will get the spectacular underway at 7 p.m. when they begin playing melodies for listening and dancing. In addition to playing all types of music, the band will present a stage show at 9 p.m. featuring comedians, vocalists and just plain good music.

Highly acclaimed in military club circuits and local nightclubs, the Versatiles big claim to fame is "We specialize in not specializing."

Preceding the Versatiles, will be Mr. Thiesen at 8:15 with a bag of hypnotic tricks and feats. The retired Air Force major has appeared at the club twice and has played to "standing room only" crowds.

He picks his subjects from the onlookers and before they know it they're doing such things as eating raw onions and calling for people they've never heard of before.

And, as usual, Mr. Thiesen will have a surprise or two. Who knows? Maybe you'll be a part of his surprises!

During the past six months, the Thrift Shop has given $50 to the Red Cross, $50 for Christmas gifts for patients at the dispensary, $150 to the Armed Forces Retarded Children Association and $100 each to the Catholic and Protestant Chapel funds.

Church Demands Ability, Dedication From All Those Committed to Christ

By Chaplain J. H. Lampe

The more we look around us in these days, the more we read in the papers of what happens — and look at the pictures which show in a graphic way the results of some of the actions taken, the more the question seems to arise as to what, exactly, people are looking for.

There are those in positions of considerable influence, who have done everything in their power to insure the future of the people of this country. Not only in legislative halls, but in union halls, in the area of pensions and benefits, in insurance and social security, the trend seems to be to do everything possible to make sure that your future and mine are SECURE.

But do we, individually, want that? Two girls killed when they were evidently racing another car at top speed — does this sound as if they were insuring old age security? A man drowned while trying his luck against tide and current; another one killed when he tried surfing in the "really big ones."

And what about your "religion", if you have any? Has the church gotten so "tame," that it never gives any zest to your kind of life? Has the church become the haven for people who are interested in "security" in the hereafter?

If that is what it has become for you, you're in trouble; for the church has always demanded the best in ability and dedication. It is tough to live up to a commitment to Christ; even the best, physically, mentally and morally, find it a rough go.

What are you looking for in your life — and how do you expect to get it?

Siren Test Goes Today—K-Bay's sirens will be tested today at approximately 30 seconds prior to 11 a.m.

The tests, conducted monthly in connection with the sounding of Civil Defense sirens on the island, ensure that each siren is operative.

Air raid tests will consist of a steady blast of one minute, then one minute of silence, followed by one minute of the wailing "TAKE COVER" signal.

The tidal wave warning system will be tested one minute after the wailing tone ends. It will be a steady blast for one minute.

Marine Reservists To Train at K-Bay—Members of HMM-764 from MARTD, Los Alamitos, Calif., are scheduled to journey to K-Bay for their annual summer training. The squadron will integrate with HMM-161 from Aug. 22 to Sept. 6.

Wanted — Bookkeeper — The Child Care Center is accepting applications for a bookkeeper. The position will be open May 15. Interested persons are asked to come to the Center for an interview.

Coin Club Confers — The K-Bay Koin Klub will hold a meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in Bldg. 258, Brigade Schools. All members and interested persons, military and dependents are invited to attend. There will be a coin auction following the meeting.

Economy's Long Arm Reaches K-Bay — Domestic and international money orders will NOT be issued and inquiry and claims requests will NOT be accepted at the Station Post Office starting Saturday, May 9 and every Saturday thereafter.

The service adjustments have been made to cut some of the costs in postal operations in keeping with President Johnson's economy program.

Was Not Open for Christmas — An insured parcel, mailed on Nov. 26, 1963, at the Station Post Office, has been returned from the Claims and Inquiry Dept., Baltimore, Md., as undeliverable due to lack of an address.

The return address label apparently used on the parcel became detached during transit.

Since the sender's address is not on the parcel, it may be claimed at the Station Post Office by supplying proper description of the contents and presenting the insured receipt issued by the post office.

Operation Deepfreeze 1965

Cdr. Blades To Head Antarctic Facility

Navy Cdr. Jehu L. Blades, Planning Officer for the Pacific Missile Range Facility here at K-Bay, has been chosen by the Bureau of Navy Personnel, Washington, D.C., to head the U. S. Antarctica base during Blades will be commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Air Facility, McMurdo Sound, and will be responsible for all five Navy-operated stations on the Antarctica continent.

The Commander is no "boot" when it comes to polar operations. He served as officer in charge of a helicopter detachment aboard the icebreaker USS Burton Island during the Beaufort Sea Expedition of 1952.

Three years later, as a member of Air Development Squadron Six, he skippered the oiler YOG-34 during its tow from Norfolk, Va., to the Antarctica and during its summer operations period in the Ross Sea.

This particular tow (YOG-34) lasted from November 1955 to March 1956 and covered a distance of 9000 miles. It went into the books as the longest and fastest tow on record.

Operation Deepfreeze is a Navy-supported effort to study scientific phenomena in the Antarctica. It is accomplished through the mutual cooperation of scientists from the U.S., the Soviet Union and other major powers around the world.

Introduces New Series 'E' Bond

K-Bay's Savings Bond Drive Begins Today

The 1964 U. S. Savings Bond Campaign, "Operation Security," begins today at K-Bay as the program's 23-year-old Series "E" adds a new member to its family.

A $75 Series "E" bond, bearing the likeness of the late President John F. Kennedy, goes on sale today for $56.25.

The annual campaign, which will end on the 188th Anniversary of our Independence, July 4, is conducted to emphasize the advantages of participation in the Savings Bond program.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze said, "Operation Security" is the theme of this year's Savings Bond Campaign. All over the world today, in Berlin, Asia, Africa and in our own hemisphere, freedom is endangered as never before.

"Many of us have asked what we can do as individuals to help defend our 'American way of life.' The Federal Government has asked our assistance in pointing out one way all of us CAN help... the regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds, truly 'Bonds of Freedom.'

"It is one of the easiest and most logical ways for providing the inherent, personal freedom of the individual saver."

K-Bay's military bond officers are: 1stLt. J. W. Bower, onstrations will also be presented.

At Pacific Missile Range Headquarters, Bldg. 1181, movies on the project "Gemini" and "Apollo" space programs and a demonstration of the Missile Impact Locator System will alternate throughout the day.

Green Serge Uniform Available July 1; Coat Must Be Modified for Officer Use

Marine Corps winter service uniforms made of new serge material are scheduled to become available through all cash sales outlets by July 1.

The new greens, tailored from 15-ounce wool serge, retain the color and style of the present kersey uniforms worn by enlisted Marines.

Enlisted personnel will have until July 1, 1968, to replace their kersey uniforms with the new serge greens.

According to HQMC, officers may use the new greens as one of the two winter service uniforms they are required to possess. However, they must have the coat modified for a sword slit and replace the sewn-down pockets.

Caps, cap covers, trousers, coats, coat belts and overcoats will be available in the serge material. The jacket will not be carried by Marine Corps cash sales outlets after July 1, 1964, and will no longer be authorized for wear after July 1, 1968.

Meanwhile, green kersey will be sold as replacement items. However, after July 1, 1964, coats, jackets and overcoats of this material will not be available. Sales and initial issues of the wool serge uniform during the interim period will be made only after kersey uniform items have been exhausted.

Except for the overcoat, kersey and serge uniform items may not be mixed. The kersey overcoat may be worn until it requires replacement. Mixing of complete kersey and serge uniforms in troop formation will be permitted until discontinuance of kersey uniforms.

MARCAD Training Provides Career as Aviation Officer

By GySgt. T. W. McCarty
Brigade Career Advisory NCO

One of the many officer training programs available to enlisted Marines on active duty is the Marine Aviation Cadet Program (MARCAD).

After looking over several service record books, and talking with many young Marines it was found that many are basically qualified, but for some reason or other they never apply.

Let's take a look at the basic requirements needed to so until commissioned.

- Able to pass Navy Medical Department physical standards.
- Possess at least 120 GCT, 116 pattern analysis score or the equivalent on the aptitude area battery of tests.

Other requirements and procedures are outlined in Marine Corps Order 1532 series.

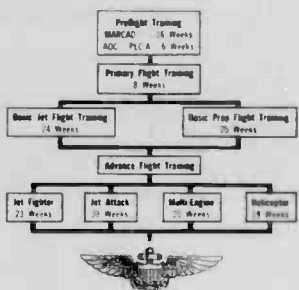

If you lack the college requirements, as stated above, the attainment of satisfactory scores on the college level GED tests is all that is needed. This test is given every week in the Station Education Office.

Applications for MARCAD are invited from qualified Marines and can be submitted at any time.

After successful completion of approximately 18 months of ground and flight training you will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the reserves with an opportunity to apply for a regular commission.

For more information see your unit Career Advisory NCO who will assist you in submitting your application.

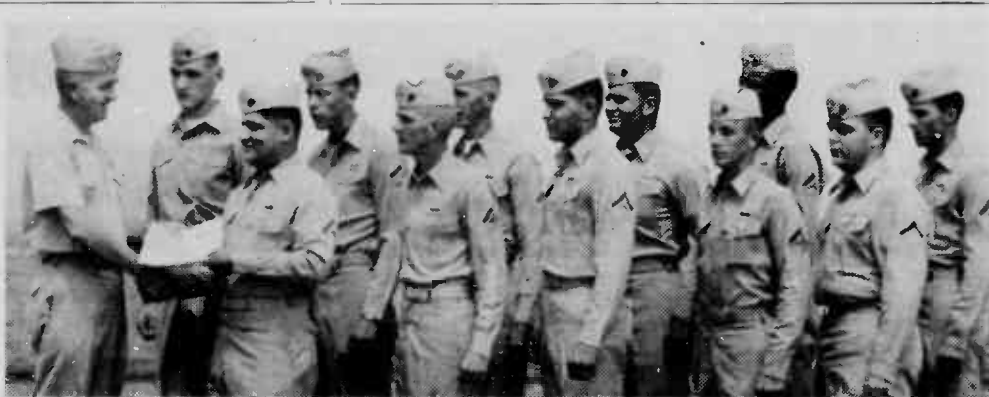

"It's a good career... stay with it."

apply for flight training under MARCAD program.

It's open to enlisted Marines, provided they are:

- At least 18 and less than 25 years of age on the date the application is submitted.
