More than 900 Marines from 3/4 returned to K-Bay Saturday after completing live-fire exercises and conducting their annual BLT Tactical Test June 2-4.

As the KC-130 "Hercules" transport touched-down at K-Bay and 3/4 Marines disembarked, the planes were quickly loaded with some 800 1/4 Marines enroute to Pohakuloa for training.

Marines from "F" Company, 2/4 and two platoons from B-Recon acted as aggressors during 3/4's test which began Wednesday of last week.

Units supporting three-four were detachments from B-Engineers, B-Med, 1stLt-SuptCo, 1stLandSuptCo, and detachments from MAG-13.

Artillery support for 3/4 was furnished by 1-3/12, which returned to K-Bay with 3/4. "G" Battery will support 1/4 during their training.

One-four is scheduled to conduct live-fire exercises until June 15, and complete the stay at Pohakuloa with the BLT Tactical Test June 16-18.

The battalion is due to return to the Station June 20.

The Regiment's F-2/4 and B-Recon will act as aggressors for the problem.

More Money Coming

K-Bay's NRS Drive Tops '63 Campaign

Although K-Bay's 1964 Navy Relief Society fund-raising campaign has already surpassed last year's contributions by more than $1800, there is more money coming in.

Several units must make their reports before final tabulations can be made.

BrigGen. M. E. Carl, Brigade CG and Col. P. T. Johnston, Station CO are pleased with K-Bay's Navy Relief participation.

Station, Pacific Missile Range Facility, and 1st Radio Company have more than doubled the amount given last year. They have contributed more than $1800.

Brigade's $5500 has already surpassed the combined total collected of the Station and Brigade last year.

Participating 100 per cent for the Brigade were 2/4, 3/4 and 3/12. HqCo, Brigade made the best showing on a per capita basis.

Cdr. C. J. Griffin, Station Chaplain and Executive Secretary of K-Bay's Navy Relief Society's Branch, wishes to thank all K-Bayites who contributed and helped make this outstanding showing for 1964. He is also grateful to the volunteers who responded to his appeal for assistance to carry out Navy Relief's functions aboard the Station.

Once again K-Bay has answered the call to help "its own" by helping Navy Relief.

Col. H. W. Hise

served in Japan and aboard carriers of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea.

Col. Spanjer then served as aide and staff pilot to General Christian Schilt prior to assuming command of VMF(N)-114 in early 1952.

In Korea the Colonel served as operations officer of VMF-115 and as an exchange pilot

Chaplain's Corner

We Can Dishonor the Name of God By Failing To Show Belief in Him

By Chaplain P. W. Powers

For many men and women today, a name is really more than simply a name.

It tells you what a person really is, is a clue to that person's character, status, weakness and strength.

When the Jewish people of whose history we read in our old Testament came to the holiest of all names, the name of God, they were reluctant to even speak or write it as they believed God's name to be.

God's mysterious name expresses what God really is.

It is part of nature living to speak the name of God with reverence and respect. To curse our almighty God, to use lightly or carelessly or to profane His name, shows our lack of interest in God and our failure to honor Him.

But there is another way we take God's name lightly. It is when we declare our belief in God, and do little or nothing about showing our conviction.

It is to live as practical atheists, to keep the flowers and fruits of the Christian faith but actually neglect the Christian roots. It is to approve of Christian worship in chapel but rarely to participate.

Let us reverence His name and live the life of His responsive, loving and obedient children — for His name's sake.

Flag Day — On Sunday, June 14, Flag Day, think of the words of Henry Ward Beecher, American clergyman-writer of the 1800's, who said "A thoughtful mind when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag, but the nation itself."

"And whatever may be its symbols, its insignia he reads chiefly in the flag: The government, the principles, the truths and history that belong to the nation that sets it forth."

Be Security Minded — Facts of the Cold War: Espionage, Sabotage and Subversion. Remember when you lock your safe, lock your mouth.

Cosmetic Consultant To Counsel Ladies — A beauty consultant, representing a nationally advertised cosmetic product, will be at Building 1090, Marine Corps Exchange Ladies' Dept. on Monday and Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Miss Gerri Kamiske will advise K-Bay's ladies on complete facial make-up and treatment lines.

Retired General Dies — Funeral services were held June 2 at the Fort Myer Chapel for Retired Marine LtGen. John T. Selden.

Burial with full military honors followed in Arlington National Cemetery.

Gen. Selden, 71, died May 30, while visiting friends in Richmond, Va.

He enlisted in the Marine Corps in January 1915 and was a veteran of World Wars I, II, and Korea.

Gen. Selden served over two years as an enlisted man before he was commissioned in 1918.

During World War II, he saw action at Cape Gloucester, Peleliu and Negesebus Islands. He was awarded a Legion of Merit and Bronze Star Medal for services as commander of the 5th Marine Regiment during the New Britain campaign.

Ruffle Succeeds Hughes As Troop 225 Leader — HM1 Dave Ruffle, H&S-2/4, has assumed the duties of Scoutmaster of K-Bay's Boy Scout troop.

LCpl. R. D. Hughes, former Scoutmaster departed for the Mainland for duty at MB, NAS, Quonset Point, R. I.

Library Fund Drive Slated for Monday

K-Bayites will be afforded an opportunity Monday to contribute to the John F. Kennedy National Library Memorial.

The "one day, all out" fund drive will be conducted by the Brigade and Station.

The campaign has been endorsed by the President and bi-partisan leadership of the Congress.

The library will house a complete record of President Kennedy's life, his time and his administration. It will be erected on a site donated by Harvard University and personally selected by President Kennedy before his death.

He planned to make his office there and the institution a center for the training and education of young people, both from America and abroad, who wish to pursue careers of public service.

Once the library is built it will become the property of the Government. It is estimated that the cost of the library will be 10 million dollars all of which is to be raised by public subscription and voluntary contributions.

Maj. W. E. Rudolph has been designated as the Air Station campaign chairman

Gifts Galore Await '64 Carnival Queen; Unit Candidate Contest Closes Monday

The 1964 Water Carnival Queen will be showered with prizes valued at more than $500, according to contest officials.

The Queen contest, which begins June 15, will end July 2, when officials announce K-Bay's selection for the Water Carnival Queen title.

Prizes to be added to Her Majesty's wardrobe include a capri set, a muu muu, a dress, a swim suit, and a three-piece luggage set in which to carry the gifts.

The Water Carnival Queen will be able to take her own personal movies and still pictures with the two cameras that she will receive. She will also receive a pen and pencil set, a wrist watch, a pair of shoes, a tote bag, and a bottle of French perfume.

The Queen will reign over the Water Carnival July 12, and grace the officials' stand as she presents trophies to the event winners. She will also make personal appearances on TV and at community functions to publicize the carnival.

Three units have announced their selections for the contest. The remaining units have until 4 p.m. Monday to choose their representatives.

One-Four (including Anti-Tanks) announced the selection Monday of Miss Georgette Farias as their candidate. Georgette, a 19 year-old student at the University of Hawaii, represented "D" Company during the battalion contest. Swimming is Georgette's favorite hobby.

Campaigning and strategy meetings are in full swing for Jeffie M. Carroll, 19, representing 2/4 (including Hq-Co—4th Marines), and 15 year-old Stephanie Lindsey, 3/12 (including HqCo—Brigade) candidate.

Once all seven major unit candidates are named, K-Bayites will face the difficult but pleasant task of selecting the "fairest of the fair."

THREE-TWELVE CANDIDATE — Miss Stephanie Lindsey, 15, will represent 3/12 (including HqCo — Brigade) in the Water Carnival Queen Contest. Miss Lindsey, whose nick-name is Stevie, is a junior at Kamehameha School for Girls.

MPs Provide Around-The-Clock Protection

PMO . . . Office of the Provost Marshal . . . Provost Marshal Officer . . . these terms might confuse the ordinary civilian, but every Marine and his dependents know what they mean.

The mission of PMO is the same as that of its civilian counterpart — the police department: "protect property and assist all personnel in the area of responsibility."

Here at K-Bay that means everything and everyone inside the gate.

A comparison between the civilian police department and the Provost Marshal section or Security section would probably look something like this:

PMO — Chief of Police

CID — Detective Bureau

MP Chief — Precinct Captain

Other bureaus such as the Pass & ID and Administrative sections would have their corresponding civilian branches — license bureau and traffic court.

This is the third tour of duty as a Provost Marshal for Maj. E. W. Whitten, not counting two years he spent as a gunnery sergeant with a Military Police company.

Maj. Whitten is proud of the job the MPs at K-Bay are doing.

He is especially pleased with the cooperation his office receives in the selection of men from the 1st Marine Brigade. Augmentation personnel make up about 50% of the security force. He points out that the majority of these are hand-picked. An MP platoon of one officer and 29 enlisted is TAD from the Brigade to the Station.

An MP receives about 15 hours instruction per week in addition to carrying out his regular duties. This covers military police training, preparation and filing of reports, familiarization with Station and Brigade orders, a working knowledge of state motor vehicle regulations, and regular military training.

Maj. Whitten said the Security Detachment here has a motto which sums up all their tasks — "Be Fair, be Friendly, but be Firm."

Assisting Maj. Whitten with the job of supervising and administering the 79-man section is 1stSgt. W. F. Mortimer, Provost Sergeant.

In addition to overall supervision of personnel in each section, the Provost Sergeant is NCOIC and is the PMO's liaison with other Station and Brigade units.

The Admin section, headed by Cpl. R. J. Sullivan, handles traffic citations and routine administrative requirements for the Provost Marshal.

Cpl. L. E. Brewer supervises the Pass and Tag office. This section keeps records on all civilian motor vehicles aboard the Station, issues licenses, registers boats, keeps track of pets, and registers personal firearms.

When you register a weapon with PMO, they register it with the State.

If you like statistics, try these from the Pass and Tag section: They have 8000 private vehicles registered, 4678 fishing passes in effect, 282 pets checked in, paperwork on 23 boats, and 506 firearms registered. Additionally, they take SRB photos and make out civilian ID cards and passes. One more statistic — it's only a four-man section.

K-Bay's detective bureau (CID) is headed by SSgt. Stephen H. Dugan, a 19-year veteran of police work. This eight-man CID section works closely with city, state, and federal agencies such as the FBI. It is held in high regard by local authorities and has enjoyed high praise from such prominent police officials as Honolulu's Police Chief Dan Liu.

CID has the additional responsibility of operating a lost and found department. They also investigate all on-Station traffic accidents. Then there are their routine investigations, 323 of them in 1963. Also during 1963, the K-Bay detective bureau conducted 19 crime prevention surveys and submitted recommendations to the Station CO for improvements.

The main body of the Security Detachment is the guard section. 1stLt. M. L. Lynch is the OIC and SSgt. S. A. Johnstone is Military Police Chief.

The guard mans three motor patrols, three traffic control points (TCP), a post on K-Tower, the Main gate and the gate receptionist desk. A Desk Sergeant is always on duty at the Guard-shack and a Sergeant of the Guard and Officer of the Day stand 24-hour watches.

Most posts other than TCPs or special assignments are four-hour watches during a 24-hour period. The following day is used for schooling, administrative tasks, and liberty.

Special events such as the annual Water Carnival, sporting contests, parades or emergency situations like tidal wave alerts continually serve to test the efficiency of the security traffic control plan.

Every minute of every hour of every day of the week, these Marines are on duty at K-Bay to "protect and assist."

A radio newscaster recently summed up how the community feels about K-Bay's MPs when he said "Somehow it makes you sleep a little better to know the Marines are around."

INSPECTION — Each relief is given a thorough inspection before he assumes the duty. 1stSgt. W. F. Mortimer adjusts the equipment of LCpl. Rudolf Gutwirth as LCpl. Ronald Swisher looks on.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT — Cpl. D. R. Kilishek keeps an eye on trainee PFC. R. S. Sanchez as he learns how to direct and regulate traffic at one of the three traffic control points. Every TCP MP spends several hours on the grinder during non-rush hours before he is qualified to man a TCP.

DETECTIVE BUREAU — Two of K-Bay's CID personnel look over a collection of weapons confiscated during some of their investigations.

ROUTINE CHECK — Military Policeman PFC. George Campbell makes a check of the driving credentials of an unidentified motorist.

MAN OF LETTERS — Maj. E. W. Whitten has many titles. As OIC he is responsible for the conduct and welfare of the Guard detachment. As PMO he is responsible for the security of the Station. As GDO (ground defense officer) he is responsible for the defense of the MCAS against attack or infiltration by an enemy force.

COLORS — The sound of "colors" in the morning and evening on any military base immediately brings everyone to a halt. Military Police color bearers are: (l to r), LCpl. Ronald Swisher, LCpl. Bill Leader and LCpl. Frederick Mosley.
