VMA-214 Pilots Qualify Aboard Kearsarge

Some 23 VMA-214 pilots began semi-annual carrier qualifications Monday with a series of catapulted take-offs and arrested landings on board the antisubmarine carrier USS Kearsarge (CVS-33) in Hawaiian waters.

LtGen. V. H. Krulak, CG, FMFPac, went aboard the Kearsarge Monday to observe a portion of the operations.

VMA-214, commanded by Maj. Keith O'Keefe, used the Kearsarge as a floating airbase Monday and Tuesday as they completed a series of aerial requirements that requalify them as carrier pilots.

The aviators flew the A4C "Skyhawk" jet attack bomber, acquired by the squadron in April.

Numbering 30 officers and 170 enlisted men, the squadron is one of seven that comprise MAG-13.

Col. R. H. Spanjer, MAG-13 CO and six staff pilots from the Group accompanied VMA-214 aboard the Kearsarge and participated in the carrier qualifications.

Chaplain's Corner

Your Faith in God Is Not a Pillow But a Shield in the Fight for Faith

By Chaplain J. H. Lampe

The love of Jesus was no coddling affection. It had for its center a moral purpose that balked at no sacrifice.

He took crucifixion for Himself, and to His beloved disciples he cried, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

Such love is God's. Those who advertise His Fatherhood as a gentle nurse that shelters us from suffering have sapped the Gospel of its moral power. God's love is austere as well as bountiful. He is as Emerson so well said, the "terrific benefactor."

A faith in God's love as a coddling love makes it a cushion on which to lie, a sedative by which to sleep. When tasks await a man's strength, they quietly retreat upon their faith that God is good and will solve all problems—and religion becomes a reproach to earnest men.

Faith in God is not a pillow but a shield, from behind which men use a sword and fight the "good fight of faith."

Top FMFPac Assignments — Five top echelon reassignments will be completed at FMFPac headquarters by the end of August.

Included in the changes is the July 10 assignment of a new Chief of Staff. Col. George C. Axtell, who arrived in Hawaii from Washington, D.C., has been named to the top staff post by LtGen. V. H. Krulak, CG, FMFPac.

Col. Axtell replaces Col. R. S. Bruford, who has been Chief of Staff since August 1963. Col. Bruford, who came to Hawaii in July 1961, has been reassigned to MCB, Camp Pendleton.

Needed for Multiseat Aircraft

Naval Aviation Observer Applicants Sought for Expanding Requirements

Applicants for the Naval Aviation Observer (NAO) Program are being sought by CMC to meet expanding crew requirements in Marine aviation.

The increase in Naval Aviation Observers is needed to provide crew members for the new multiseat jet aircraft now entering the Corps' FMF aviation units. The NAO will fill billets that include radar intercept operator, bombardier-navigator and electronic countermeasures operator.

Marines in the following categories are eligible to apply for NAO training:

- Unrestricted lieutenants on active duty, under the age of 27 at the time of application.
- Captains who hold, or have held, an OF-73 MOS.
- Enlisted personnel selected for NAO training in conjunction with the annual Warrant Officer Selection Program. Such applicants must be under age 27 at the time of application. Marines already appointed warrant officers are not eligible for NAO training.

● Officers and MARCADS whose flight training is discontinued after completion of primary phase, unless such is by their own request or because of academic failure.

Complete information on the Naval Aviation Observer Program is contained in the recently revised MCO 1040.22A.

'64 Freedom Group Offers Cash Awards

K-Bay's military personnel on active duty are eligible to participate in the 1964 Freedoms Foundation Letter Awards Program.

The contest began on Apr. 1, 1964 and will continue through Nov. 1, 1964. Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, will offer 101 cash awards totaling $8500, and George Washington Honor Medals in the Letter Awards Program.

The subject of this year's contest is "My Vote: Freedom's Privilege." Since 1964 is a Presidential election year the theme will focus on voting.

It will stress the obligation of all American citizens to participate in their government by voting not only in national elections, but in state and local elections as well.

The top award is $1000. There are also fifty $100 awards and fifty $50 awards. All winners will receive the George Washington Honor Medal.

The top winner from each service will be invited to Washington Jan. 20, 1965 to attend the Presidential inauguration.

Letters must be between 100 and 500 words on the subject "My Vote: Freedom's Privilege." They should be sent to Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa.

While in Washington they will receive their cash and medal awards, meet their service chiefs, and U. S. Senators from their home states.

NEW OFFICIAL DESIGNATOR — LtCol. C. H. Ludden, VMF(AW)-212 CO (I) and Squadron 1stSgt. F. E. Davitt (r), hold the stencil while Sgt. D. M. Long, structural mechanic, sprays on the new "All Weather" designator. In addition to the new designation the squadron will also receive a total of 20 new F8D from Atsugi, Japan.

Lancers Get New Aircraft; Redesignated 'All Weather'

VMF-212 became VMF(AW)-212, July 1, when it was officially redesignated as an "All Weather" squadron.

Monday, the squadron received the first three of 20 new F8D all weather fighters. The remainder of the craft are scheduled to arrive by next Tuesday.

"Lancer" Marines are busy changing the designators on the new aircraft as they arrive at K-Bay.

The new planes, which arrived from Atsugi, Japan, aboard the USNS Sergeant Croatan, were flown from Barber's Point to K-Bay by squadron pilots.

The new aircraft is equipped with radar that gives it its all weather capabilities. It also contains an auto pilot which frees the pilot to concentrate on such matters as gunnery while the plane flies a preset course.

In addition, the new aircraft has doubled its armament with four Sidewinder air-to-air missiles instead of two. It can travel faster and farther than the old F8B.

Marine Votes Led Military Services In Past Elections

The Marine Corps has earned another distinction. This is the voting reputation that Marines have built up over the years.

Norman S. Paul, Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower) in charge of the Federal Voting Assistance Program, has stated that "the military voting turnout has been quite disappointing with the possible exception of the Marine Corps, which has done dramatically better than the other services."

Compared to the estimated 63% of the eligible civilian population which votes in general elections, only 32% of eligible Army personnel voted in the 1960 election; 44% of Navy eligibles; and 39% of those eligible in the Air Force. In the 1960 elections, 68% of all eligible Marines voted. This almost doubled the averages of the other services and exceeded the civilian mark by 5%.

chute accuracy jump to mark the official opening of the 1964 Water Carnival.

Before the crowds had calmed from the suspense of the parachute jump, the starter fired the gun that started the Kaneohe Yacht Club's Lightning, Thistle, International 101 and M. P. Class sailboats racing across the bay.

K-Bay's Globe and Anchor Ski Club, host for the Carnival along with representatives from Oahu, Paradise Ski Clubs and guest skiers combined to present various water acts ranging from ballets on skis and drill team maneuvers to clown acts.

Dave Packer, Pacific Yacht Club, received the Outstanding Individual Performance Trophy from Col. P. T. Johnston, Station CO. Dave performed such feats as skiing barefoot from a running start off the beach, to driving a speeding motor boat over the ski ramp during one of his clown acts.

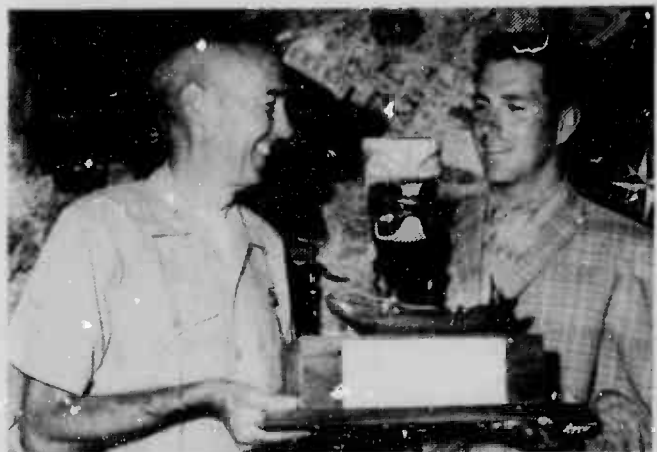

The air-sea-rescue demonstration was performed smoothly and quickly as a member of the Kaneohe Marine Sky Divers Club parachuted from 5,000 feet to land in front of the grandstand.

He was "rescued" by an SAR chopper and on his way in less than five minutes.

Throughout the day races were staged by the Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association, Kaneohe Yacht Club and the Windward Sailing Club.

Climaxing the one-day spectacular was a 25-second delay free-fall accuracy jump by five members of the Kaneohe Marine Skydivers whose graceful descent in multi-colored chutes put the final touch of color on the 1964 Water Carnival.

OUTSTANDING INDIVIDUAL PERFORMER — Col. Paul T. Johnston, Station CO (I), presents the 1964 Annual K-Bay Water Carnival Outstanding Individual Performance Trophy to Dave Packer. Former Para-Marine

Sky-Divers Missing Familiar Face; SgtMaj. MacPhail Goes to 3dMarDiv

Hawaiian Sport Parachute Clubs are missing a familiar face since SgtMaj. K. E. MacPhail was transferred to 3dMarDiv.

Prior to reporting to K-Bay he served with the 1st MAW, where he formed the first Navy-Marine Corps Sport Parachute Club.

Sgt. MacPhail was a key figure in the organization of the Iwakuni Skydivers Club in the Far East and the Lakehurst Naval Air Station Parachute Club.

While at K-Bay Sgt. MacPhail was president of the Station's parachute club from September 1961 until January 1964. He was the first vice-president of the Army's Military Skydivers Club of Hawaii at Schofield Barracks.

The Sergeant Major is no stranger to parachuting as he served with the famed Para-Marines during WWII and later with Force Recon.
