

Retirees Get Agencies' Aid In Job Hunting

Are you preparing to leave the service?

If so, your career advisor has information concerning your 'second career'.

"We have a program designed to inform personnel preparing to leave the service of available civilian job-finding agencies," said SSgt. F. W. Czech, H&MS Career Advisor.

Assisting the career advisors are the Veterans Employment Service and a number of National, State and local employment agencies.

With their help the career advisor can counsel the individual about the problems he may encounter while looking for a job.

Capt. F. A. Wyatt, USNR (Ret.), National Chairman, Navy League Operation Highline, spoke to Marine and Navy personnel concerning civilian job opportunities, at a meeting at K-Bay Monday morning.

Capt. Wyatt gave his audience ideas about what to look for when seeking a civilian job.

A tape recording of the Captain's address is available for use by individual units.

Interested units may make arrangements for use of the tape by contacting SSgt. Czech at 73630.

19 YEARS OF SERVICE—Henry S. Kuniyuki, Veterans Employment representative for Hawaii (c), discusses civilian job opportunities with SSgt. P. H. Slifer, HqCo—Brigade (l), as SSgt. F. W. Czech, H&MS Career Advisor looks on. SSgt. Slifer is scheduled to transfer to the Fleet Reserve in July.

Oral Polio Vaccine Now Available To Dependents at K-Bay Dispensary

ARE YOU AND YOUR FAMILY PROTECTED?

According to the Medical Message of the Month put out by the Hawaii Medical Association (HMA), thousands of people in Hawaii protected themselves against Types I and II polio in 1962 by taking part in Operation Swallow.

Swallow III was cancelled due to rumored reports of a small number of serious reactions in adults to this vaccine.

Thorough study of these reports and more than two years of world-wide experience with all the oral polio vaccines have proved their safety and effectiveness, according to HMA.

But a vaccine is effective only in those who have taken it.

Many newcomers have settled in Hawaii during the past two years. Our islands are the crossroads of the Pacific and travelers pass through every day who come from areas where polio is not under control. Among these people may be carriers of the polio virus.

The HMA message added that unless the majority of the people in this State protect themselves, there could be an outbreak of polio any time!

Present research indicates that polio vaccines that are swallowed are the only ones that will give what is hoped will be lifelong immunization.

"If not," said Navy Capt. H. C. Nordstrom (MC), "I recommend that all K-Bayites start and complete the oral polio vaccine series."

The Station Dispensary's Senior Medical Officer added that the vaccine is available for dependents from 7:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday at the Dependents Clinic.

Doctor Nordstrom added that sufficient vaccine is on hand to meet requirements of all dependents.

The chances of getting polio, commonly called Infantile Paralysis when contracted by children, can be drastically reduced with the "swallow series."

Dr. Nordstrom said, "When infants are given their six-week check up at the U.S. Army Tripler General Hospital, they are automatically given their first swallow of the series. We doctors here at the Air Station would like to see all dependents, especially the children protected."

Chaplain's Corner

Saying Grace before Meals Easily Continued in Public

By Chaplain G.S. Thilking

Many of us were reared in homes where it was the practice to have a prayer before we began to eat.

This custom can easily be continued by those of us who live in our own homes. Those who eat in mess halls and other public places may tend to forget to say grace.

The Chaplain's Corner this week would urge that each reader consider the value of prayerful meditation before meals.

Chaplain J.H. Parker in his book, Prayers At Sea, suggests a number of graces before meals. Here are several you may want to use:

Bless the Lord, O my Soul, and forget not all his benefits. All things come from thee, O Lord, and for Thy blessings we give Thee our hearty thanks. Amen.

For these and all Thy blessings, we give Thee thanks, O Lord. Bless the food to the use of our bodies and us to Thy service. Amen.

We humble beseech Thee, O Lord, to accept our thanks for all the blessings of life. Be with our own loved ones at home as they gather about their tables. May all of us look unto Thee for providence and care. Amen.

If They Know These Rules

Sitters Can Avoid Tragedy

According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, leaving your children with a baby sitter could result in tragedy unless the sitter is a responsible person, and understands what to do in emergencies.

A set of rules established by the board suggests that "before changing the guard" parents should insure that the sitter:

... knows all exits and how to get the children out of the house in case of fire.

... understands that in case of fire to get the children out of the house, then call the fire department and notify the parents, IN THAT ORDER.

... keeps the children out of the kitchen if possible.

... understands that matches, electrical cords, and appliances are "taboo" to the inquisitive tots.

... knows the telephone number of the local fire department, police, doctor, hospital, and the number where parents may be reached.

Do you insure that your children's sentry knows and understands his or her General Orders?

DROVER CHANGE—LtCol. N. W. Hicks, 3/4 CO (c), looks on as 2dLt. R. R. Welpott, L-3/4 (l), relinquishes the Battalion's Carabao and his title as "Drover" to 2dLt. S. B. Kimple, M-3/4. The Carabao, which has been with the Battalion since April 1962, is entrusted to the junior second lieutenant and junior Staff NCO of the battalion.

3/4 Junior Lieutenant Takes Reins As New Battalion 'Carabao Drover'

LtCol. N. W. Hicks, 3/4 CO, continued a battalion tradition by ordering a change in "Carabao drovers" last Friday.

The change found 2dLt. R. R. Welpott, L-3/4, relinquishing the Carabao to 2dLt. S. B. Kimple, M-3/4.

The position of drover is considered one of esteem by the battalion and is shared by the junior second lieutenant and junior staff NCO of the battalion.

The Carabao was adopted as the battalion symbol in February 1962, when 3/4 participated in "Operation Tulungan" in the Philippines.

In April 1962, two wooden Carabao were purchased in Japan and transported to K-Bay under the care of the battalion's junior lieutenant.

The drovers are responsible for the proper care and maintenance of the Carabao and for insuring their presence at battalion social functions.

Military Admitted for Half-Price

Sea Life Park Offers Armed Forces, Families Reduced Rates In October

Sea Life Park, which is located at Makapuu Point on Windward Oahu, is offering half-price tickets to military personnel and their dependents during October.

Tickets will cost $1.15 for adults and $.60 for children 7 through 12. Children under 7 years of age are admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

The reduced rate is also available to organized groups of military personnel and dependents.

Sea Life Park is open every day, except Monday, from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Ample parking space and refreshment are available.

The Park is conducted on an educational and a scientific basis and contains five major exhibits. They are the Hawaiian Reef, Shark Pool, Glass Porpoise Theatre, Whaler's Cove and the whaler ship, Essex.

The Hawaiian Reef Exhibit takes visitors on a descent into the sea. A ramp descends from surface level and spirals beneath a lava flow where a ribbon of glass panels affords an unobstructed view of colorful Hawaiian reef life.

Fishes, coral and a myriad of marine creatures live in the lagoon with the same natural habitants of the sea.

In the Shark Pool visitors can look a tiger shark in the eye and study sand sharks and hammerheads at a close range.

The intelligence, humor and physical agility of the porpoise are demonstrated in the Glass Porpoise Theatre. Here the mammals are taught to perform their tricks that they have been taught through Sonar sound associations.

At the Whaler's Cove the visitor sees the spinning porpoise, the only kind of species in captivity. Porpoises are trained to dance the hula, compete in races and walk on their tails.

The Essex, located in Whaler's Cove, offers the spectator a chance to view the training of the spinning porpoises through portholes below the deck. The ship is a 5/8 scale replica of a whaler ship sunk by a whale in the early 19th century.

Groups of 34 or more Marines may contact Brigade Special Services at 73233 for transportation to Sea Life Park any day except Sunday and Monday. Transportation requests should be made at least one working day in advance.

ALOHA—Trained spinning porpoises, greet spectators at Whaler's Cove.

UNDERSEA VIEW—A 300,000-gallon pool contains more than 80 different species of tropical fish from the Pacific Ocean.

K-Bay's

By PFC. R. K. Sandbank

To many the sound of evening colors is a call to liberty—a time when thoughts turn to a night on the town or an evening with the wife and kids.

But to 'Night People' it is a call to duty and a time to think of a 'day's' work to be done.

To get a better perspective of what it takes to keep K-Bay 'alive' after normal working hours, let's take a tour of the Station at night.

The first stop on our tour is Fire Station #17. We are greeted by some of the firemen who keep a round-the-clock vigil to prevent loss of lives and property.

We stop next at the Guard Shack for a chat with the Military Police Desk Sergeant. Patrolling the Station, manning the gate and answering emergency calls are all part of the 24-hour-a-day job of the Military Police.

Photos By
Sgt. L.D. Choate

We cross the street and, after receiving clearance, enter the Station Message Center. The Center handles both incoming and outgoing messages. Because some messages are classified, message center men burn used materials in a specially constructed furnace.

As we leave the Message Center and travel along a darkened street we see the silhouette of a Marine sentry reporting his post. Since his 7th General Order forbids him to talk to anyone except in the line of duty, we don't stop.

The 'high point' of our tour is truly that, as it takes us atop Hangar 105. Here, in the control tower, we watch air traffic controllers clear one of the last scheduled flights of the evening for take-off.

As we leave Hangar 105 we hear the scream of a siren. An ambulance has been dispatched to rush an expectant mother to Tripler Hospital.

Corpsmen tell us that this is not exactly routine but not really unusual either during the night watch at the dispensary.

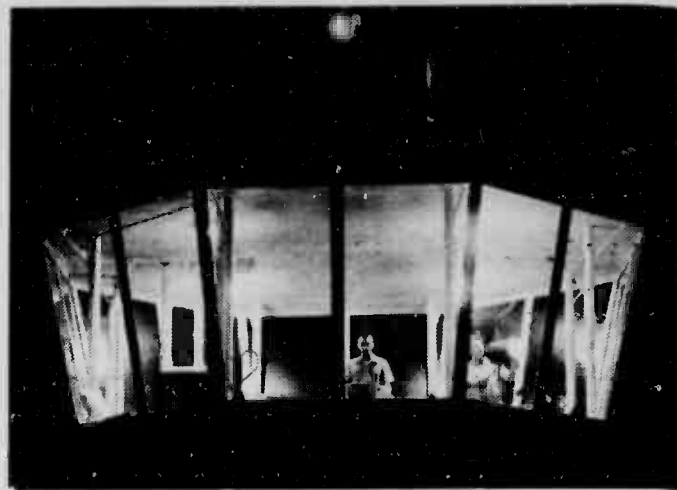

Marines are as notorious for their ability to put away chow as they are famous for their ability to fight, so we make our last stop Mess Hall #2. We discover that we are not the only hungry ones as we fall-in at the end of a line of 'Night People' waiting for their 'mid-rats'.

It's midnight, and for us 'Day People' the end of a long day, but it's only noon for 'Night People'.

LATE CHOW—Late chow is one of the more popular night activities. From 11:30 p.m. until a half hour after midnight Mess Hall #2 feeds the "Night People."

OWLS EYE VIEW—With the aid of an Aldis light, Sgt. A. A. Marvin, (r), an air traffic controller, gets an Owl's eye view of the flight line from his perch in the control tower atop Hangar 105. Cpl. J.A. Chase is also an air traffic controller.

SPECIAL DELIVERY—HN J. E. Grundstrom (r), secures an oxygen mask after returning from an emergency run. He and ambulance operator Cpl. D. S. Taitano, accompanied an expectant mother to Tripler Hospital.

ALL'S QUIET—Anthony B. Medeiros, a fire captain with the Station's Fire Department, looks into the night at the street he usually sees from his position next to the driver in the department's pumper-truck.

PATROL CAR—Cpl. L.M. Jeffery, an MP (I), notes the location of an accident received via the vehicle's radio, as LCpl. B. F. Leader prepares to acknowledge the call.

THIRD-TOP-LEFT—PFC. L. O. Moen, Station Transportation, mentally works the puzzle known as an Early Call list. One of his duties as four to six fire watch is to wake early risers.

SERGEANT FOR A NIGHT—Cpl. R. M. Lawson, an MP Desk Sergeant, prepares to dispatch a patrol vehicle, via radio, while LCpl. J. H. Stafford takes a telephone report.

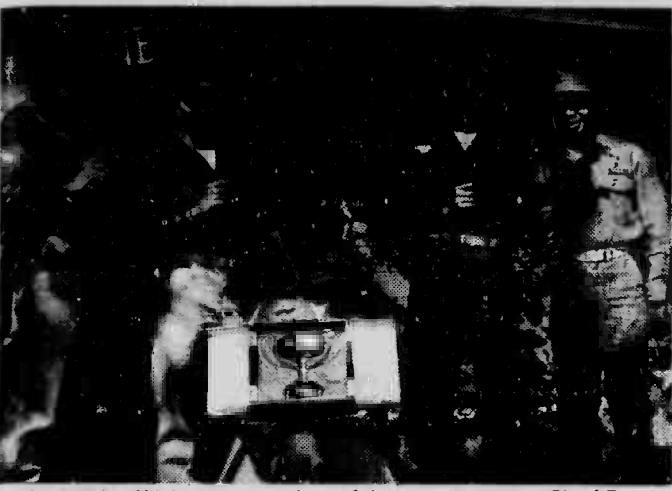

NOTHING UNUSUAL TO REPORT, SIR—PFC. John Parker, D-1/4 (I) reports his post to Commander of the Guard, Sgt. Arthur Fernandez, D-1/4 Platoon Sergeant.

Camp Smith 'Necks Rip Hickam 46-19 For Third Straight Gridiron Victory

The Camp Smith Marines picked up their third straight win last weekend when they defeated the Hickam flyers 46-19. Sporting a season record of 3-0-1, the 'Necks will take on the Barber's Point Naval Air tomorrow night at Bordelon Field. The Marines jumped off to an early lead in the first quarter when Henry Williams broke through the line and romped 54-yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good. Hickam scored on a 37-yard pass by Cass Schichtle to half-back Don Millwood. The extra point was good and the Flyers led 7-6. The Marines came back strong mid-way through the second quarter, when Frank James threw a 49-yard pass to Henry Hatchett. Hatchett was pulled down on the 11-yard line. On the next play James shot over for the Td. Again the extra point attempt was no good. In the closing minutes of the first half, James again threw a pass to Hatchett. Hatchett went over for the third Marine score. Ron Houseman kicked the extra point. Early in the second half, the Marines recovered a Flyer fumble on their 25-yard line and four plays later Henry Williams went over for the score. Houseman ran for two extra points. In the fourth quarter the Marines and Flyers traded touchdowns as they both scored twice. The Flyers were first to cross the goal line when Stan Nagatona hit Jim Huffman in the end zone with a pass. Minute later, reserve quarterback Andy Bubins hit Ron Houseman with a 45-yard pass. Houseman crossed the goal line to bring the score to 39-13 in favor of the 'Necks. Houseman kicked the extra point. The Flyers connected again with a pass from Nagatona to Huffman for their final score of the game. The Marines crossed the goal line for the final time while Willie Smith plunged over from the 11-yard line. The play was set up by a 51-yard run by Smith.

Silver Services Available to O-Wives

By Helen Lo Prete

Many times the events and happenings of the O-Wives are so numerous that it's quite a task to squeeze them into this column.

However, today is NOT one of those times, so this might be a good chance to mention a couple of little known items, particularly to newcomers.

Planning on giving a Coffee? But you don't own a silver service like Mrs. Gottrock down the street?

Weep not dear hearts, for there are two sets available at the O-Club for your use.

You can reserve one by merely notifying the O-Club of the date you wish to borrow one.

These were purchased by the O-Wives expressly for this purpose. Nice idea, wot?

There are apparently some mothers who, in their mad desire to have a few hours of "freedom" at our monthly luncheons, are forgetting that it is necessary to make reservations at the Child Care Center before depositing little Zelda or baby Irving.

Do remember this and be sure to take full advantage of all services available, they exist for YOU!

Next week: An onlooker's scintillating comments on Tuesday's brunch. Can you wait?!

Civil Service Management Positions Implement President's Job Directive

"Here at K-Bay, all levels of management have cooperated fully in implementing the President's directive and new Civil Service regulations prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex," stated Mrs. B. H. Burum, Industrial Relations Officer.

Mrs. Burum emphasized that qualified women should be encouraged to apply for promotional opportunities, not hesitating to develop and train themselves in fields which, traditionally, may have appeared limited to men.

"For instance, of the 16 employees in grades GS-9 and above, six or 37 per cent are women. So far in 1964, three women have been employed in positions which normally would have been filled by men," she added.

The concept of equal employment opportunity in the Federal career service has been emphasized in recent months to include non-discrimination on the basis of sex.

The President has taken a direct personal interest in this activity.

He stated that it is in the national interest to promote the economy, security, and national defense through the most efficient and effective utilization of the skills of all persons and that women should be assured the opportunity to develop their capacities and fulfill their aspirations on a continuing basis.

By Executive Order 11126, Nov. 1 1963, the President established an Interdepartmental

Committee and a Citizens Advisory Council on the status of women to assure effective and continuing leadership in this area.
