

Green Receives Two Winged 'S' Commendations

Sergeant J. L. Green, a 16-year Marine, received two Sikorsky Winged "S" Awards last week from Col. F. C. Opeka, Station commanding officer.

An observer and crew chief on the Sea and Air Rescue helicopter, Sgt. Green earned the first award aiding in the rescue of a downed pilot in Kaneohe Bay during February 1967. The second was for aiding in the pickup of a liter case off a Greek freighter in October 1967.

Sea Life Park Offers 'K-Bay Week' for All

Take a porpoise, a whale, a beautiful Polynesian girl on an island, throw in a special military rate and you have the ingredients for an economical day of spectacular sights at Hawaii's Sea Life Park.

July 8th through July 14th is Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station Week at the park. All personnel working on K-Bay, civilian or military and their dependents, will be offered special rates. One dollar for adults and children under 12 free.

Visitors can observe trained porpoises go through their act that has been interrupted on occasion by an inquisitive sea gull.

Three fathoms beneath the ocean's floor, visitors can view the beauty of Hawaiian reef waters. Colorful coral, thousands of small fish and deadly denizens of the deep such as sharks, moray eels, sting rays, and octopus are found in these waters.

Whaler's Cove offers porpoises and false killer whales entertaining with high leaps and agile swimming. A polynesian beauty in a small outrigger does nothing to distract from the beauty of the small lagoon where the program is held.

After the program, visitors can go aboard the whaling ship Essex to take pictures or to pretend they are sailing with Captain Ahab in search of Moby Dick.

The park will be open all days and the shows are continuous from 10 a.m.

Commissary Closes July 4

The Commissary Store will be closed in observance of Independence Day, July 4. Normal operations will resume July 5.

Legion of Merit

Stapp, McGraw Earn Decorations

During the First Marine Brigade change of command ceremony last Thursday, June 20, Colonels Donald H. Stapp and William C. McGraw, Jr. were awarded the Navy Department's fifth highest award, the Legion of Merit, for outstanding service.

Colonel Stapp, who stepped down as commanding officer of the brigade, received the Legion of Merit for his outstanding leadership of the unit from July 8, 1966 to June 22, 1968.

"Throughout this period," the citation said, "Colonel Stapp exhibited superior leadership and professional ability as he directed and coordinated the vast training effort of the Brigade during a period of rapid acceleration of operations in the Republic of Vietnam."

"During his tenure, three of his units; Marine Air Traffic Control Unit Sixty-Two, Marine All Weather Fighter Squadron 232 and the First Battalion, Twenty-Sventh Marines deployed to Vietnam. Through his tireless efforts, Colonel Stapp ensured that each unit was fully trained, equipped and possessed a high level of combat readiness."

Colonel Stapp also "demonstrated superior organizational ability" during the activation of two units on base-Marine Air Group-24 and Marine Air Traffic Control Unit-70.

"During Operation Alligator Hide," in California the citation continued, "and other training exercises in the Hawaiian Islands, Colonel Stapp directed and implemented a stringent training syllabus which resulted in outstanding ground and flight coordinated training."

In conclusion, the citation explains that Colonel Stapp, "completely dedicated to the realization of the goals of his government, brought to his duties outstanding military acumen, exceptional managerial ability and professional skill which resulted in a major contribution to the mission of the Marine Corps in Southeast Asia."

The awards were made by Lieutenant General Henry W. Buse, Jr., Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

Colonel William C. McGraw, Jr. received a gold star in lieu of the Second Legion of Merit for outstanding service while serving with Headquarters, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific from July 1965 to March 1968.

"During the period when the Marine commitment in Vietnam grew from less than 1,000 to more than 75,000 Marines," the citation said, "Colonel McGraw effectively monitored the strength of Marine Corps forces in the WestPac area and ensured the equitable distribution of limited personnel assets for aviation units during this critical period."

As training officer for the headquarters, Colonel McGraw directed and carried out training for the newly activated Fifth Marine Division. Working on a deadline schedule, Colonel McGraw supervised the training of all Fleet Marine Force, Pacific air and ground units preparing for deployment to Vietnam.

In addition to training units for Far East deployment, Colonel McGraw frequently attended high level aviation training and readiness conferences to increase his knowledge and provide a sound basis for the formation of plans regarding future operations.

The citation went on - "Finally, as the operations officer and Deputy Assistant Chief of Staff, Colonel McGraw continued to exhibit the same qualities of

Chef de Cuisine By La Trelle

When I think of Korea, I picture hot red peppers, soya sauce, garlic and scallions. O-i-jim is my favorite combination of these spices from "The land of the morning calm."

Cucumber with Beef (O-i-jim)

- 6 medium cucumbers
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 3 tablespoons oil
- ¼ pound beef
- 1 tablespoon soyu
- 1 tablespoon prepared sesame seed,
- dash pepper
- 1 clove garlic
- 2 red chili peppers
- 1 tablespoon pine nuts
- 1 egg

Wash and trim off the stem end of the cucumber. Cut 3 slits lengthwise at equal distances around the cucumber, being careful not to break it. Sprinkle with salt and let stand 15 minutes. Wash off the salt and squeeze out the water. Heat the oil in a skillet and fry the cucumbers until they are bright green, turning often. Do not over cook.

Chop the beef fine, add soy sauce, prepared sesame seed, pepper, chopped garlic and mix well. Pack this mixture into the slits of the cucumber. Shred the chili peppers very fine and insert a little in each slit. Put pine nuts at equal distances in the slits.

Separate the yolk and white of the egg and beat slightly with a fork. Cook by circling a small amount of egg over the bottom of a heated, oiled skillet. When firm, turn and cook slightly on the other side. Roll each layer in a long tube and shred crosswise very fine. Insert shreds of egg into the slits of the cucumber. Fry the cucumbers again slowly, turning often, until the meat is done. Arrange on a plate and decorate with remaining shredded egg.

I will be the first to admit that this is not one of the simpler recipes, but if you've followed this column for the eighteen or so weeks its been running, you should master this one with very few problems. Use time and patience in great quantities as well as all ingredients mentioned. Au revoir and bon appetit.

Maccine Titus

Choice-of-the-Month at the Station Library is "The Clinic" by James Kerr.

Here is a savagely shocking novel that strips away the shroud of secrecy about medical malpractice...its victims and its conscienceless perpetrators.

Read of surgery and sudden death...and the most electrifying malpractice trial in modern fiction.

Dr. Mathew Hatch was rich and respected, chief surgeon at the private clinic which bore his name.

But the name of the game was greed...and now there was a young, idealistic doctor willing to risk his career to prove it.

Dr. Peter de Haan knew that any attack upon a senior surgeon would unite the medical profession against him in a common bond of fear and silence.

For months he lived with his secret knowledge of surgeon Mathew Hatch... knowledge of dangerous hunches, unnecessary operations, and fraudulent autopsies.

Then without warning, Dr. Hatch's ruthless scalpel cut deeply and tragically into Peter's own life...and now the decision had to be made.

The authenticity is well-earned. "James Kerr" is actually a practicing physician...writing with candor and suspense, a medical story that needs to be told.

"The Clinic" includes detail surgical scenes never before attempted in fiction and its climax in a tense and dramatic malpractice trial is dominated by a charismatic attorney who will inevitably remind readers of Clarence Darrow.

Kailua Plans Independence Day Parade

The City of Kailua is planning a real "old-fashioned" 4th of July celebration, complete with a parade, band concert, an address by Governor John Burns, an afternoon continuous show at Kailua Beach Park and fireworks in the evening.

Parade units will include a Color Guard from the Air Station, a company of Marines from the First Marine Brigade, the Fleet Marine Force Pacific Drum and Bugle Corps, and the Marine Barracks, Pearl Harbor, band.

Included among the floats will be an entry from the 1st Air and Naval Gunfire Liaison Company (ANGLICO).

The Parade will start promptly at 9:30 a.m. on July 4th. The program at Kailua Beach Park will get underway at 2:30 that afternoon and the fireworks display from an island in Kailua Bay will start about 7:30 p.m.

A complete schedule of events and the parade route will be published in next week's Windward Marine.

Career Notes

The Enlisted Distribution Branch at Headquarters Marine Corps informs us that there are over 170 openings each two months for sergeants and below at the Marine Security Guard School for assignment to duty with the Department of State, commonly known as Embassy Duty.

This is a great opportunity for a Marine to see all those places in the world that he wouldn't otherwise have the chance to visit. See your Career Advisor for details.

The Officer Retention Section, headed by Major Larry Baldwin, is now in full swing at Headquarters Marine Corps. Questionnaires will be distributed to the field for Marine officers with career questions or problems. The retention section will take action on each and furnish a copy to the individual of the action taken.

Marine Corps Order 1133.15H, which covers the various reenlistment incentives, states that an individual Marine selecting a formal school as an incentive will normally be assigned to the first available class regardless of time on station. A Marine selecting a duty station will normally be reassigned after completion of his present tour of duty.

Again I state, before you decide to extend your enlistment for a particular benefit, make sure that the benefit for which you are extending is stated on the extension agreement. People have the best intentions, but mistakes do happen. Help us to help you.

In addition, remember this point: If you extend your enlistment, you are not permitted to reenlist early. You will have to wait until regular expiration of your enlistment, reenlist and cancel out the agreement to extend.

OFFICERS CLUB

FRIDAY: Happy Hour goes on the Lanai from 4 to 7 p.m. This is the day you have been looking for all week so why not come on out and lift a few of your favorite drinks and enjoy plenty of our famous Pupus. Then tonight why not bring your love one in and enjoy a delicious meal from our new menu (you will find a lot of new dinners to choose from). Tonight's music will be furnished by the LITTLE JOHN'S QUARTET for your dancing and listening pleasure.

SATURDAY: Bar opens in the Tapa and once again we will feature that special drink for the Happy Hour wanderers from the night before. Our dining room opens at 7 tonight and our Chef is really going all out to satisfy your taste, celebrating the brand new galley equipment we installed last week. Come on out and check our new menu. Dancing will be on the Lanai. Music will be furnished by the AMBASSADORS. Bar closes at 1 a.m.

SUNDAY: Bar opens on the Lanai and draft beer is on special. While the little ones are enjoying themselves at poolside why not enjoy yourself at bar side! Then tonight is the night for the family buffet. So why not make this a family affair and come on out and enjoy our famous Island Wide Prime Rib at only $3.25 (Children under 12, $1.65, under 3, no charge.) If you haven't listened to the piano playing of CHARLIE TATE'S you have been missing something! CHARLIE plays every Sunday night for your family buffet dinner and at 8 p.m. he switches and starts on the organ for the sing along group. Why not stick around. Bar closes at 11:30 p.m. SORRY, NO MORE WEDNESDAY HAPPY HOURS DUE TO LACK OF PARTICIPATION.

STAFF NCO CLUB

TODAY: Board of Advisory Group meeting today at 2 p.m. in the Aloha Room. This is one day out of the month the T/M hates to see come around. It's like a "hippy" with long hair getting his draft notice into the Marine Corps!

FRIDAY: Well, the "Mystery Band" has been exposed — we have the FABULOUS FASCINATIONS back again to entertain you. This is a show and dance group and have been received here with great success. If you haven't caught their act you are really missing a good show. They begin at 8:30 p.m. and don't stop until 12:30 a.m. The "Famous Friday Family Special" is still with us and apparently is here to stay. Like we said before — it's a family bargain and a night out together for such a low price. For a family or five, it's only $3.75 and no dishes to wash! Fish dinner, 75 cents or veal dinner, 85 cents. Oh, before we go any further don't forget Happy Hour (as if we had to remind you.) Starts at 4 p.m. and goes on to 6 p.m. and to curb your hunger we have our European chef preparing his famous Pupus. They go fast so come early.

SATURDAY: The Club has to open at 7:30 a.m. today to let the janitors in but the bar doesn't open until 11. Just in time to catch chapter no. 462 of the "Donut Man" — the Baker's son. Have you heard? Road Runner ran out of "beep-beep." Now tonight we have a group called THE CONTINENTALS. The only info on them is that they are very good — so says the booking agent. Our dining room is going through a change and we hope you will forgive the inconvenience. Mark, our janitor, is changing the light bulbs. If you want something different may we recommend our Maine Baked Stuffed Lobster. They are good!

SUNDAY: Once again, it comes every so often, we have to say "Aloha" to a fine couple. Chief Bob and Nancy will be missed at our noon lunches. Good Luck! The dining room has a Teri-steak for its "Sunday Special" and going for the low price of only $1.60. Come in and join us on our Lanai and enjoy the view of our beautiful golf course and listen to the pitter-patter of the new sprinkler system hitting the greens. It's so "in" these days.

NOTICE: Bartenders, waiters and waitresses are needed at the Staff NCO Club. Apply in person. No experience necessary.

MONDAY: Pizza night again — the way you like them. Just call 73195. With cheese — small, 70 cents; medium, $1.15; and large, $1.50. With pepperoni — small, 80 cents; medium, $1.25; and large, $1.65.

SPECIAL NOTE: NANCY WILSON SHOW TICKETS ARE NOW ON SALE AT THE CLUB. We are sorry to say that due to lack of space and a limit to the Club capacity we can only accept 300 reservations. However, a stand-by list will be on hand in the event of late cancellations. Tickets sell for $6 which includes one free Mai Tai or your choice of beverage. Please make reservations early — FIRST COME, FIRST SERVE, and be a happyppy one.

'GET FIT'
'STAY FIT'

ARE YOU MAD...

...at yourself, because you can't seem to get that weight down...and if you occasionally do get it down, you just can't keep it down.

The worst thing you can do, is to feel that you have been hard-done by. Some people do in fact have a heavy cross to bear, in that they will put on weight on a food intake that others would consider was a starvation diet.

There are factors to be taken into consideration in a climate like Hawaii's, which is never really cold enough at its coldest...to enable the burning up of 'soft tissue' to any great extent. Here, we require to indulge in physical exertion, deliberately intentioned. The natural elements of sun, wind, rain, ocean-water, sandy beaches and mountain reaches...will aid much in toning, and should be enjoyed often. You've got to get lots of oxygen into those lungs if you want to burn up fatty tissue and to have ample energy.

I cannot imagine one really overweight person...who does not drink a lot of liquid. A tragic error has crept into our thinking...and that is, 'we need a lot of water'. The body in fact needs for all its physiological processes, the equivalent of from six to eight glasses of liquid daily. (You will note that I didn't say 'water'). Most of this quantity of liquid we get from the food we ingest...or can or should ingest. There just isn't one item on foodstuffs, that doesn't contain liquid (even melba-toast, grains and beans).

The real culprits, tending to overweight and girth, are refined sugar and starch items and animal fats. This is particularly true in a climate like Hawaii's...where we require little if any 'heat-producing' food.

FOOD — is what we are made of, remember! But, we must indulge in a good deal of physical exertion if we are to make use of it to our advantage.

Lei Making Easy, When You Have Pretty Teacher

Stuck with the assignment of finding extra flower leis for K-Bay Water Carnival VIPs, Windy turned to his own plumeria tree and his next door neighbors, Debbie Yuen and Ann Booker.

Have you ever made a lei? Well, it takes a lot of flowers and dear ole Windy had to pick them all. Once the flowers were picked, the girls were glad to sew them.

After picking the flowers, in this case, plumerias, they are sewn together with needle and thread.

The single strand of flowers is the simplest and the one Windy dealt with, naturally.

It's easy really, just stick the needle through the stem of the flower and slide it to the end of the tread. After it is the desired length, tie the ends together and cut off the excess. You now have a beautiful flower lei, free.

If you are wondering about taking the advice of a man about making leis, Windy received expert instructions. Debbie and Ann have been making leis since they were five.

Ann is a 21 year old Samoan housewife and makes leis just for fun.

Debbie is a 19 year old Chinese-Hawaiian who uses her lei making talents for business. A former nursing student, she now dances Tahitian, Maori, and the Hula for fun and profit.

Either the platoon commander was versed in the art of ventriloquism or one nervous Leatherneck had taken hold of the business end of an enemy rifle.

Corporal Joseph Braggs of Waterbury, Conn., was part of a Marine platoon involved in a skirmish with an enemy force when a wounded communist attempted to crawl through the Marine position.

An order had been passed by the platoon commander to shoot anything that moved.

Braggs grabbed the mussel of a rifle sticking out of the bushes next to him and shook it. "Is that you Lieutenant?" he called softly.

"Ah... that's a negative," came the Lieutenants reply some ten feet away!

Realizing that it was an enemy infiltrator, Braggs fired a burst from his M-16 killing the North Vietnamese soldier.

"I've been shot," calmly stated a Marine rifleman while on a company size operation near Quang Tri.

"Are you hurt bad?" one of his fellow Marines asked

"I'm not hurt at all," Cptl. Charles S. Martin of Greenfield, Tenn., replied, "but I have five bullet holes in the left side of my flak jacket."

Four of the five were his own.

When a North Vietnamese soldier shot Martin the bullet struck his M-16 magazine exploding four rounds.

Martin shot and killed the enemy rifleman.

The folk song "Oh No, Don't Let the Rain Come Down" is on the bottom of the popularity charts on Hill 861, a Marine stronghold near Khe Sanh, Vietnam.

The Leathernecks on the hilltop built showers out of spare lumber and empty 50 gal. fuel drums.

There's only one problem. Mother Nature is the only source of water there, and it hasn't rained much lately.

If they ever have a rainstorm on the hill there may well be a new world record set 25 combat Leathernecks jammed into a threefoot shower stall!

Two packages marked "donated by the United States of America" were delivered via catapult to Leathernecks guarding Liberty Bridge, south of Da Nang, compliments of the local Viet Cong.

The gifts weighed five to six pounds apiece and were filled with high explosives and shrapnel wrapped in a burlap bag and placed in a metal cannister.

"Gifts are one thing, but we couldn't stand too much of this kindness," said GySgt R T Fitzhugh.

The cannisters were originally sent from the United States containing some type of grain or cooking oil. They had been confiscated by the Viet Cong and turned into deadly return gifts.

Marine pilot who bailed out over enemy territory found that his life was on the line in more ways than one.

To be more specific, after his descent by parachute he found himself suspended from a clothesline being used by North Vietnamese soldiers.

The wash was still wet.

Not bothering to compare the whiteness and brightness of the wash, Capt. Donnie C. Evans rapidly disentangled himself and made his way toward a suitable pick-up point where he was rescued by helicopter.

A 1st Division Marine is sporting a good-sized lump on his head these days and he's happy about it!

The lumpy Leatherneck, Pfc. Fred Wilson, is stationed at Liberty Bridge, near Da Nang, Vietnam.

He was standing perimeter guard in a one-man foxhole when the Viet Cong began probing the lines. Using one of their favorite tricks, the VC were throwing grenades at the perimeter hoping the Marines would open fire. They could then tell where the fighting holes were located.

Wilson remembers an object dropping out of the night and hitting him squarely atop the head. Searching frantically he finally found the "grenade". It was an enemy rock!

Credit Union Offers $ Aid to Members

Fourteen years ago, Civil Service Personnel started a Credit Union on K-Bay. Since then, it has grown until it has assets of over a million dollars and except for operating expenses, its 4,665 members receive all the benefits.

Offering loans and a savings program, K-Bay's Credit Union loans money on signature, cosigner, automobiles under five years old, motorcycles and stocks and bonds. Signature loans on appliance's purchase at Household Goods are also available.

The field of membership is limited to civil service personnel working on Station, military personnel and their dependents, and has been expanded to include retired military personnel using Station facilities. Military personnel transferred from here to Vietnam are also eligible.

To get a loan, you must be a member. The amount varies and you must own at least one share in the Credit Union. Five dollars will buy you this one share.

Your rank and rotation date determine how much you can borrow if you are a corporal or below. For sergeants and above, expiration of enlistment is the deciding factor.

Corporals and below are required to pay back their loans on an allotment basis. If you never see the money, you hardly miss it. Sergeants and above are allowed to make cash payments if they so desire.

For those interested in saving money, the Credit Union pays from 5¼ to 5½ per cent quarterly and sends out quarterly statements. By the end of the year, you are getting paid interest on your interest. Also, with every dollar saved, you get a dollars worth of life insurance up to $2,000 per person. The Credit Union insures all loans and it doesn't cost you a cent.

Credit Union Services have been expanded to include a Notary Republic since Mrs. Ruth

E. Charter, Credit Union manager has received her commission.

"The prime interest is service and to assist members in solving their financial problems and help develop the habit of saving," stated Mrs. Charter.

Siren Test

Monday, at 30 seconds prior to 11 a.m., the monthly testing of the Civil Defense sirens will be conducted.

The test will consist of a steady blast of one minute followed by one minute of silence and then one minute of the wailing "Take Cover" signal. The tidal wave warning system will be tested one minute after termination of the wailing tone. This is a one minute steady blast on the coastal sirens only.

Eligible for membership are persons who have served honorably in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States who are receiving retired/retainer pay based on length of active duty service and those still on active duty who will become eligible for retired/retainer pay within two years.

Interested persons may obtain more information by writing the Association at P.O. Box 5327, North Charleston, S.C., 29406.

Indians Setback Twice;
Lead Loop By Half-Game

“Scalped” could be a term loosely used by Indian baseball players following last week’s Little League contests.

The word has good meaning as the league leaders went into Minor Division play resting two full games ahead of their nearest competition, the Tigers and Dodgers played the fifth and sixth place teams in the league, and wound up finding themselves only a half game up.

Playing June 19, the Yankees set the pace-setters on their heels, dropping the leaders, 16-6 to mark their fourth season loss. In play the following day, the Giants tacked on another defeat, emerging victorious in a slug-fest encounter, 16-13. The Dodgers, taking advantage of the losses, whipped the Giants, 19-6 in play over the weekend. The Tigers gained ground also, whipping the last place Cardinals, 16-5, but losing a half game in Saturday’s action, falling to the Yankees, 14-6.

The almost invincible Twins, turning the Major Division into a runaway, copped their 15th win of the season, turning back the Phillies, 5-2 in play June 19. The Twins jumped ahead five full games of the Athletics, who were whipped 3-2 in an encounter with the Pirates, June 17. Other league battles saw the Braves sink the Senators, 14-7. Ricky Woods provided the Senators only scoring punch, blasting a bases-loaded, grand-slam home run, his second of the season in the final inning of play. Rounding out last week’s action, the Twins marked number sixteen, blitzing the Senators, 15-3. John Arthur belted his fifth round-tripper of the season, with Mike Tinney also providing a home-run punch for the victors, his fourth of the season.

July 4th will get off with a bang at the Station Bowling Alley in the 4th of July Roll-Off’s, beginning noon and running until 5 p.m., and is open to all bowlers who wish to participate.

Prizes will be awarded for high series with handicap, and keglers don’t have to have to have an established average to compete. A bowling ball, bag and shoes will be given to the first place winner, with second place receiving a ball and shoes. Third place winner receives a pair of bowling shoes.

Bowlers may compete for a $3 entry fee and those wishing to bowl in the roll-off’s are urged to contact Sgt. Jones, 72597 before July 2.

WOODS & WATERS

By Ron Harwood

Had a few with an old friend of ours after the Islanders ball game Saturday evening and heard one of the most unusual “fish stories” we’ve been exposed to in quite a while.

Bob Duliba, who some of the old-timers might remember for his pitching prowess with Parris Island and the Hawaii Marines in the 1955-58 era, is a skilled outdoorsman who happens to make his living playing baseball. However, he tries not to let his vocation interfere with his avocation, hunting and fishing.

Currently a relief pitcher with the Vancouver Mounties, Bob takes full advantage of his few days off during the season to “wet a line” wherever he can.

When the club is at home, he only has a few miles to go for some of the best fishing in North America. It was while on an outing for Pacific salmon that his “tale” took place.

Bob was running the motor on an outboard while a teammate was trolling for salmon when one of the fish hit.

“I shut down and watched as the salmon cleared the water in an attempt to shake the hook,” narrated Duliba. “The fish was on a run straight away from us and causing no big trouble when all of a sudden the thing took off at a right angle to its original course and seemed to be headed for shore.”

Not wanting to break the line, and unable to turn the fish with the drag of the reel, the fisherman signaled for Bob to start the engine and off they went in pursuit of the strange acting salmon.

“Then it broke water again and I started laughing,” chuckled Bob, “a seal had a firm grip on the salmon’s tail and wasn’t about to let go!”

“We chased that thing all over the bay, much to the delight of other fishermen in the area, before it finally got tired.”

When the seal ran out of gas, Bob aimed the boat at it and the

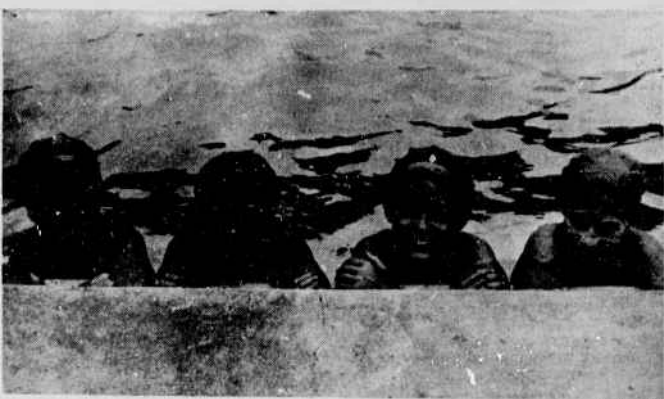

Seven State Marks Fall
In Classified Swim Meet

Swimming in the Hawaiian Association and AAU sanctioned 2nd and 3rd Classified Long Course Swimming Meet, June 15, at the KMCAS pool, Maggie Buckon, Barbara Hefti, Maura Buckon and Laurie Reyton re-wrote the record books.

The young swimmers etched their new mark, swimming in the girls 10 and under age group, 200-meter freestyle relay, besting the old time of 2:31.5 recorded by the Aina Haina quartet in 1966 by .4 of a second, 2:31.1.

K-Bay’s feat was one of seven established during the day in which 12 island swim clubs competed.

Prior to K-Bay’s record, the Schofield Sharks boys relay team in the 10 and under group, marked a new time in the 200-meter freestyle relay, clipping the old Hawaiian record of 2:19.9 by 1.9 seconds.

Skin, Scuba
Meeting Set

Mr. Marty Conboy of the Naval Underseas Warfare Center will host a meeting July 1, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Station Boat House club room, discussing the training of dolphins and other interesting aspects of NUWC projects.

The meeting is open to all interested skin and SCUBA divers who wish to attend.

K-Bay’s local SCUBA Club, the Aku Marines, meets regularly the first and third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the boat house club room.

“double-caught” salmon was freed from the grip on its tail.

“When I reached down to grab the leader and pull the salmon aboard, the seal leaped clear out of the water after it. All I can say is that the thing sure must have been hungry.”

Speaking of fishing, at the end of this column we’re running the tentative schedule of fishing trips, deep-sea type, sponsored by Station Special Services and the units that have the craft.

Many thanks to Frank Dunn and his crew for a well-planned and well-executed outing Sunday. Nobody could have come away hungry and the food was excellent. See you at the meeting Tuesday.
