Vol. 21, No. 24

"Welcome Home Daddy," was perhaps a Father's Day gift a few days late, but the spirit was still the same as Terry Mussoto and her daughter Erica await husband and father, Cpl David M. Mussoto, returning to K-Bay from Vietnam with VMFA-212. (photo by LCP Mike Lane)

VMFA-212 returns

by Sgt Bruce A. Waitman

Marine Fighter Attack Squadron-212, which has been providing close air support to the South Vietnamese during the latest communist offensive, is now returning home to K-Bay.

The squadron has been in South Vietnam about two months. Over 200 members of 212 landed at K-Bay Wednesday morning. The rest are scheduled to arrive this weekend.

General Robert E. Cushman, Commandant of the Marine Corps, made the announcement about 212 during a Press Conference with Hawaiian news media representatives Tuesday.

In response to queries from the newsmen, Gen Cushman remarked that the F4J Phantom's of 212, a fighter aircraft, will be replaced by a squadron of A6's, an attack aircraft.

The general stated that the A6 aircraft will be able to provide better close air support to the South Vietnamese troops than the F4J could.

VMFA-212 was originally activated on March 1, 1942 at Ewa, Territory of Hawaii. During World War II, 212 amassed an enviable record. It was credited with shooting down 132½ enemy aircraft, the fifth highest total for a Marine squadron during the war; destroyed countless tons of small shipping; and earned two Presidential Unit Citations for operations during the Guadalcanal-Tulagi and Okinawa-Ryukyus Campaigns.

During the Korean War the squadron flew a total of 18,257 combat missions with a total flying time of 39,893.4 hours.

The squadron first came to K-Bay in April 1955, where it joined the 1st Provisional Marine Air-Ground Task Force (the forerunner of the 1st Marine Brigade). In the fall of 1958, 212 left for Japan, returning during the Spring of 1959.

In September 1960, 212 left again for the Far East, returning eight months later.

In January 1965, 212 left for California for training exercises with Naval squadrons attached to Attack Carrier Air Wing 16 (CVW 16) in preparation for deployment to Southeast Asia. In April, CVW 16 left for Vietnam.

For the third time in its history 212 was called upon to engage an enemy in Asia.

The squadron returned to K-Bay on Dec. 10, 1965. In 1966, 212 was awarded the Commandant's Aviation Efficiency Trophy for general excellence. Last year the squadron was awarded the Chief of Naval Operations Annual Safety Award and The Captain Robert M. Hanson Marine Fighter Squadron of the Year Award.

VMFA-212 is commanded by LtCol R.D. Revie.

'Pleased with K-Bay appearance'

"Combat Readiness is the name of the game," according to Gen Robert E. Cushman, Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Gen Cushman made the remarks Monday during his visit to K-Bay while speaking to the men of the 3rd Marine Regiment at a Regimental Field Meet.

Aside from the Field Meet, the Commandant also was briefed at Kansas Tower on the mission of the Station and Brigade, observed an intercept on the radar scope at MACS-2, between a Phantom armed with sidewinder missiles and a drone. He also looked at the new Beach House.

Following lunch at the O'Club where he commended the officers present on the appearance of the base, Gen Cushman took part in the ribbon cutting ceremony dedicating the "Showboat," the new enlisted guest house.

After meeting several sergeant majors at the SNCO Club he stopped at all three Homes of the Month.

Next came a short trip to the Rifle Range, followed by the Field Meet at Regimental Headquarters. The general presented individual as well as company trophies to the winners.

After stopping at the E'Club and Messhall 1 he proceeded to Hanger 105 where he was briefed on MAG-24 and looked at MAG's aircraft.

The general left around 3 p.m.

His visit here was the last stop of a Western Pacific tour to Marine bases in Japan, Vietnam and Okinawa.

DFC to Capt Robillard

by SSgt Philip F. Hartranft

Marine Capt John A. Robillard was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross here June 16 for his heroism in supporting the successful medical evacuation of twenty friendly casualties in Vietnam.

Colonel W.G. Crocker, commanding Officer, MAG-24, presented the award to Capt Robillard during formal ceremonies.

Robillard, currently serving as the Ground Support Officer, H&MS-24, received his decoration for his heroic actions on April 9, 1971, in Quang Nam Province.

On that date and while serving with Marine Light Helicopter Squadron-367, he was advised that twenty friendly casualties needed to be evacuated from an area near Liberty Bridge. The ground unit was engaged in a hotly contested ground fight with an undetermined number of enemy troops. Capt (then a first lieutenant) Robillard was immediately launched as Wingman in a flight of two AH-1G Cobra helicopters (gunships) assigned to support the evacuation of the wounded.

Upon arrival at the area he was told by the ground forces that they were under intense mortar and automatic weapons fire from enemy positions to their south and east.

The citation, which accompanied his award, told of the ensuing action in part: "...Undaunted by the heavy volume of hostile fire directed at his aircraft, several rounds of which struck and damaged his helicopter, he skillfully maneuvered his gunship at low altitude to lay down a dense smoke screen along the southern and eastern edge of the friendly perimeter and then completely disregarded his own safety as he boldly maneuvered his helicopter on repeated rocket and strafing runs which suppressed the enemy fire sufficiently enough to enable the casualties to be safely extracted."

Once he determined that the casualties were safely out of the area he returned to his home base to rearm and refuel his Cobra helicopter. Then once again he returned to the beleaguered ground force still hotly engaged with the enemy force.

His citation, in part, continues: "...Undeterred by the intensity of the hostile fire which again damaged his aircraft, impending darkness, and deteriorating weather conditions, he boldly maneuvered his gunship on repeated rocket and strafing runs and delivered his ordnance with such devastating effectiveness that the fire from some enemy positions was silenced and the fire from others suppressed sufficiently enough to enable the friendly ground unit to break contact."

Capt Robillard, a five-year Marine veteran, reported to the Air Station a year ago following a tour in Vietnam.

This boat doesn't float

by Sgt Robert L. Nash

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies were held Monday by the Commandant of the Marine Corps officially designating a Hostess House at K-Bay.

It's called the Showboat Hostess House and opens today at 10 a.m. The Showboat is located in Building 462 next to the SNCO Club.

A Hostess House is exactly what the name implies. It is "to provide lodging at reasonable prices so personnel may host dependents and family guests." Priority for assignment at the Hostess House will be enlisted ranks, privates through sergeants major, then retired enlisted.

For personnel on Temporary Living Allowance (TLA) the Showboat is perfect. Persons on TLA staying at the Showboat will receive half of their TLA plus the normal daily room fee of $8.

Your parents, sister, brother coming to Hawaii to visit you? Make their trip a unique experience by living aboard base in a quarters-type unit. This is only one example where the Showboat may be of use. Another would be for those Marines on unaccompanied tours whose wife may be able to come out for a 2-4 week visit.

Although the usual length of stay at the Showboat is two weeks, two one-week extensions may be granted on a space available basis.

Now that you know there is a Hostess House, how about the accommodations? What is it - a hotel, motel? No! The Showboat is more elaborately furnished. "It's more like a house," replied one enlisted man upon viewing the living quarters.

The Showboat has 12 living units: ten two-bedroom units, one three-bedroom unit, and one four-bedroom unit. Each features a complete kitchenette with a refrigerator and stove, and all have spacious living rooms. Some have dining rooms and the smaller ones have dinettes.

Work on the Showboat began prior to last December and a complete renovation was accomplished by Public Works personnel. This included interior/exterior painting and repairs, plus electrical rewiring and boiler maintenance. The project officer for the Showboat was Maj Royall W. Geis, Station Management Engineer.

All units rent for $8 a day. The Showboat will have a civilian manager, two desk clerks and maid service six out of seven days.

Although initially the units will have all the basic living essentials, within the next sixty days all units will have wall-to-wall carpeting, drapes and decorative pictures for the walls. Further downstream the Hostess House will acquire smokestacks, a wheelhouse and a large side paddle wheel giving creditability to its title as "The Showboat."

For more information about the Showboat call 73520 or 73108. Ask for Mrs. Vivian Bryant.

LtCol Warfield MAG XO

by Sgt Robert L. Nash

A new face appeared at K-Bay June 15 as LtCol Clifford D. Warfield assumed the duties as the Executive Officer of MAG-24.

He relieved LtCol Paul K. German who will be attending the Naval War College in Newport, R.I.

LtCol Warfield comes to K-Bay from FMFPac where he served with the Air Operations training Section, G-3 for two and one half years.

A native of Frankfort, S.D., he is the recipient of the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross (two), and 21 Strike/Flight Air Medals.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Huron College, Huron, S.D., and a MBA from George Washington University.

He served in Vietnam with Marine Aircraft Group-12 in 1968 and 1969.

LtCol Warfield is married to the former Lois Burkowski of Westington Springs, S.C. He and his wife have three children.

Help'em with clean up

Volunteers are needed to help clean-up areas of the old Waimanalo Plantation Village.

The project will begin tomorrow at 8 a.m. with volunteers meeting at the high school located in the center of Waimanalo. Men and women are needed to volunteer a day of their time to help tow abandoned cars, cut overhanging branches, and pick up roadside trash.

The project will be the start of a rat control program conducted by the Waimanalo Health Committee. Persons desiring additional information should call Capt Cook, Human Relations Officer, at 72337.

At the completion of the cleanup, there will be a Luau for all participants of the cleanup.

Go to the fair

The 50th State Fair is being held at the H.I.C. It will end July 4.

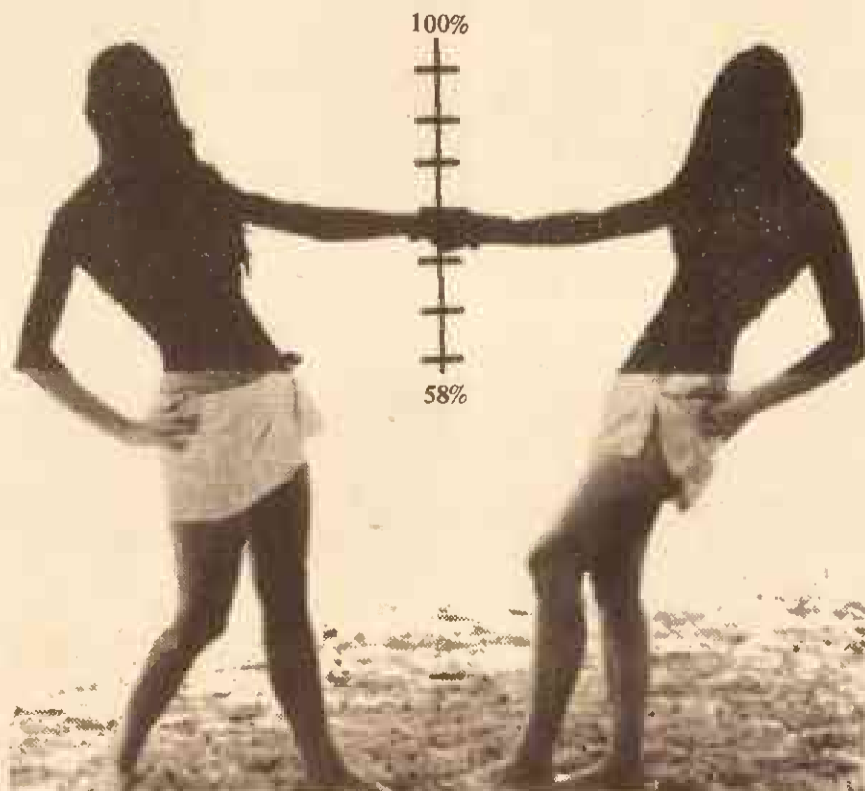

Among the free attractions offered will be band concerts, singers, magic and clown acts and appearances by Checkers and Pogo.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for children. Special Services no longer has any tickets.

Fair hours will be from 6 p.m. to midnight weekdays and from 11 a.m. to midnight Saturdays, Sundays and July 4.

Dig a little deeper if you want to see the rest. You presently see a little over half of the girls. For those who haven't noticed the scale 58 percent would be exact. This representing the figure that the Navy Relief fund drive has reached of its set goal. Each week in the Windy more and more of the girls will be shown as the drive climbs towards its goal. But if you want to see the rest you'll have to hurry up as the drive reaches the half way point today.

A FOUR DAY WEEKEND HAS BEEN AUTHORIZED FOR JULY 1-4.

Viewpoint: Have you earned that respect?

The article in Windy's "Viewpoint", entitled "Treat NCOs Right," requested views and comments. As an NCO of a different opinion, I would appreciate having my opinion published in response to R.R.R.

The ambivalence expressed in the statement "How can we gain the respect of the troops and the authority over them..." appalls me as an NCO. It seems to me that an NCO merits respect from his troops because he is capable of leading Marines in the accomplishment of a given task. If he is incapable of this, his promotion to NCO is wasted. Troops need not be career-minded to respect an NCO who is responsible and capable of exemplary conduct, but they do not respect a man simply because he is an NCO.

While the rank rates respect, the NCO must rate the rank by gaining respect.

For years NCOs have told troops that there is a logical and practical reason for personnel who live in the barracks to check out on liberty. Why should NCOs be exempted from something that they themselves have presented to the troops as a necessity for so long? By the same token, even Staff NCOs and Officers are included on recall rosters.

Perhaps the Career-Oriented Marine who expects to be given more than the stripe and pay increase, ought to examine the goals of his career. The endowment of other benefits is instilled by the NCO himself, not by the Marine Corps. Respect and authority are earned, not rationed. Remember the piece of paper that ordains an NCO? It says something about "special trust and confidence in the fidelity and abilities..."

R.R.R.'s reference to those NCOs "who picked up rank too fast and were unable to cope with the responsibility... have been weeded out or are in the process of getting out," is misdirected at best. Perhaps many of those who get out, do so because of a different brand of weed; other NCOs who are content to stagnate on their NCO laurels while their troops are subjected to the core of the Corps.

If, indeed, there is a very dark future for the Marine Corps, as R.R.R. suggests, perhaps we NCOs are obligated to examine and reconsider our own priorities. After all, it is nobody's Corps... but our own.

Commentary:

Vote on Nov. 7, 1972

WASHINGTON, D.C. (NAVNEWS) - The general election of 1972 will see Americans all over the world taking part in choosing a President, Vice President, members of the Congress, and State and local officials.

For many members of the Armed Forces who are between the ages of 18 and 21 - this will be their first opportunity to take part in the elective process of the United States.

In the American system of government, the voter is ultimately empowered with choosing the direction of our domestic and foreign policy. Coupled with this right is the responsibility to find out what alternatives are available to the nation. Each individual must determine for himself which policies he thinks are in the best interests of the country, and which candidates or parties offer the best leadership in the pursuit of those policies.

Such is the electoral process, the foundation of our form of government. And, the process begins now.

If you want to be a part of it and have an educated voice in the direction of our government, register, apply for an absentee ballot, become well informed about the issues and the candidates and vote on November 7.

Navy Nurse 'waves' hello to new home

by Sgt Robert L. Nash

In May a lady in white entered the Dependents Clinic, becoming the first and only Navy Nurse at K-Bay.

The lady is Lieutenant Ann Yahner. She presently heads the Dependents Clinic here.

Her Navy career began in 1966 when she graduated from the University of Vermont with a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing. She was also commissioned that same year.

Working with Marines and their dependents is no "new thing" for Lt Yahner. She is married to Marine Lieutenant Frank Yahner, a Naval Flight Officer presently stationed at Cherry Point, N.C. He is due to report to Camp Smith later this fall.

She has been stationed with Marines a number of times. Her duty stations include Camp Pendleton, San Diego, Guam, Vietnam and prior to reporting here, Cherry Point.

She could probably "best" some Marines at telling "war stories," as she spent a year off the coast of Vietnam on the USS Sanctuary, a hospital ship. She describes her tour aboard the Sanctuary as "a most rewarding part of her career."

She also worked in a field hospital in Phu Bai, Vietnam, while doing exchange duty with the Army. A Vietnam Vet, no doubt... with lots of OJT (on the job training).

Upon reporting to K-Bay Lt Yahner's observations were, "that the Dependents Clinics are well supervised and offers a surprisingly large number of services to dependents."

She looks forward to her job at the Dependents Clinic with "interest." "It will be a challenge," she says, "alleviating problems and offering more services to dependents." Most of all she wants to make people aware of the services that the Dependents Clinic has to offer.

Her plans are: (1) getting dependents in to see the doctor with the least amount of waiting time, (2) improving the physical outlay of waiting and examining rooms, and (3) making larger, the allergy and immunization area.

A native of Burlington, Vt., she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott-Smith.

Belleau Wood, a page in history

by Sgt "Mojo" Ryan.

In all of mankind there is no greater test than Mortal Combat, where one man is pitted against another and usually only one can be the victor. This test came for the men of the 4th Marine Brigade in France. One June 26, 1918 some 54 years ago, they fought at a place called Belleau Wood, and won against seasoned German troops.

The 4th Marine Brigade was formed in France in February 1918, and its units were the 5th and 6th Regiments and the 6th Machine Gun Battalion. BGen Wendell C. Neville, was the commanding officer of the Brigade.

On June 26 the Brigade was sent on its first mission in the Belleau Wood area to stop the German drive that was headed toward Paris.

The Germans in Belleau Wood were well dug in as the Marines attacked their positions. The fighting was vicious and no quarter was given.

In most cases the action was hand to hand combat, and the Marines fought so hard and well the Germans nicknamed them the "Teufel-Hunden (DEVIL-DOGS)". For 20 days the fighting raged, and not only did the Marines defeat the Germans, but drove them out of Belleau Wood.

For a unit fighting its first combat action, this was indeed an outstanding feat. The Germans who were driven out of Belleau Wood were the better part of two divisions, considered to be the best in the German army.

So the Marines had their acid test in Belleau Wood. Their guts and determination gave them a decisive victory!

The 4th Marines went on to other battles, but the one in Belleau Wood added a page in history for the Marine Corps.

Freedom Letter Contest Opens

The Freedom's Foundation Valley Forge Patriots Award letter writing contest has opened for 1972 with the theme, "Freedom Has A Price."

The writers of the best letters from among all branches of the active duty Armed Forces and reserve components will each receive $1,000 from the Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. There also will be 50 awards of $100 each and another 50 awards of $50 each. George Washington Honor Medals and Honor Certificates also will be awarded.

The top 10 winners of the 1972 contest will be invited to Valley Forge to receive their awards at the annual presentation ceremony.

Entries need not be in letter form, but may be essay or poetry of from 100 to 500 words. Included should be the author's name, rank, social security number, branch of service, complete unit and home state addresses, and zip codes. All entries should be sent by Nov. 1 to Freedom's Foundation, Valley Forge, PA 19481.

Service members also are encouraged to enter other categories, such as editorials, cartoons, essays, public addresses or sermons relating to the theme "Freedom Has A Price." These categories are open to both civilians and military personnel.

The 10 Commandments For Getting Along

1. Keep skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Cultivate a low, persuasive voice. How you say it often counts for more than what you say.
2. Make promises sparingly and keep them faithfully, no matter what it costs you.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging word to—or about—somebody. Praise good work done, regardless of who did it. If criticism is merited, criticize helpfully, never spitefully.
4. Be interested in others; interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes and families. Make merry with those who weep. Let everyone you meet, however hum-

- ble, feel that you regard him as a person of importance.
5. Be cheerful. Keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your pains, worries and disappointments under a pleasant smile. Laugh at good stories and learn to tell them.
6. Persevere an open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss, but don't argue. It is a mark of superior minds to disagree and yet be friendly.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for - themselves and refuse to talk of another's vices. Discourage gossip and make it a rule to say nothing of another unless it is something good.

8. Be careful of others' feelings. Wit and humor at the other fellow's expense are rarely worth the effort and may hurt where least expected.
9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Simply live so that nobody will believe them. Disordered nerves and poor digestion are common results of backbiting.

CHAMPUS after service???

DENVER - The Denver-based headquarters of the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services has received a number of inquiries concerning the eligibility for CHAMPUS benefits of dependents of active duty military personnel following the sponsor's separation from the military service under announced early-out programs.

CHAMPUS officials are reminding beneficiaries that except when the active duty sponsor retires or dies, a family's eligibility for CHAMPUS ceases as of midnight the day the sponsor is separated from active duty. If a dependent is hospitalized at the time of the sponsor's separation, CHAMPUS can share the cost of care only through midnight of the day of separation. Similarly, CHAMPUS cannot, under current provisions of the law, pay for maternity care beyond the day of separation.
