Commandant states hard-hitting policy on alcohol abuse

by Sgt E. R. Carlson

HQMC — "Alcohol abuse is not tolerated in the U.S. Marine Corps."

That statement, made May 18 by Commandant of the Marine Corps General Robert H. Barrow, forms the basis for the Corps' new policy on alcohol abuse as put forth in a recent hard-hitting directive.

The directive, ALMAR 125/82, defines alcohol abuse as "any irresponsible use of alcohol that adversely affects individual or unit performance, debilitates physical or mental health, interferes with financial responsibility, deteriorates personal relationships, leads to violation of military regulations or civil laws, or contributes to disorderly conduct."

THE COMMANDANT stressed that Marines who persist in abusing alcohol will be separated from the Marine Corps. "Alcohol abuse constitutes a threat to the quality of individual performance equal to that posed by the use of illegal drugs," Gen Barrow said.

The new alcohol abuse policy follows a February directive outlining the Corps' hard-line policy on drug abuse. Both policies point to a "total leadership effort" as the key to implementation.

The Commandant called on commanders to establish procedures to identify alcohol abusers "using every lawful means at their disposal. Biting areas and work spaces will be subject to health and welfare inspections to ensure compliance with alcohol policies and base commanders will employ random vehicle check points to detect individuals driving under the influence.

Marines identified as alcohol abusers must be formally counseled by their commanding officers. If the nature and circumstances surrounding the first alcohol-induced incident are serious enough, a service record book entry or a special fitness report may be made on the Marine involved. For those Marines who continue to abuse alcohol after the first incident, SRB entries and special fitness reports are mandatory.

"In all cases," said the Commandant, "emphasis up front should be placed on early identification of alcohol involvement, positive motivation and, when justified, rehabilitation with a goal of influencing changes before disciplinary or adverse administrative action is required."

NOBODY WILL BE ALLOWED to join the Marine Corps who acknowledges, or whose habits indicate, dependency on alcohol. For those already in the Corps, alcohol-related incidents will be handled firmly regardless of the grade or length of service of the Marine involved.

Anyone convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol on or off base will lose their on-base driving privileges for one year and consideration will be given to disciplinary action under the UCMJ when appropriate.

"Alcohol-dependent Marines and those who choose to drink irresponsibly will be required to participate in an organized education or treatment program," Gen Barrow said. "After successfully completing the program, they will either be returned to full duty or separated from the Marine Corps..." Any alcohol abuser who refuses to cooperate in a treatment program will be separated.

Marines whose alcohol abuse before formal treatment resulted in performance or behavior problems will be considered ineligible for reenlistment or augmentation for one year following the treatment. A one-year extension can be granted after treatment, if necessary, so the Marine can prove his conduct and performance are in keeping with Marine standards.

Kamehameha Day celebrations set

The Polynesian Cultural Center will celebrate Kamehameha Day June 11, with a special program of hula and pageantry at 1:45 p.m. in the Hawaiian village. There will also be day-long demonstrations of ancient Hawaiian arts and crafts in honor of the warrior-monarch who united these islands into one kingdom more than 150 years ago.

"Kamehameha Day is a Hawaii State holiday and at the Polynesian Cultural Center we like to go all out in honoring not only the man but the people and culture of our host islands of Hawaii," said William Cravens. Cravens is vice president and general manager of the 42-acre living museum, which is located in Laie about an hour's scenic drive from Waikiki.

Joseph Waiohala Ah Quin, chief of the Cultural Center's Hawaiian village, explained that the various demonstrations of ancient Hawaiian arts and crafts will include:

- *Poi Pounding (hourly from 10:30 a.m.): Boiled taro or kalo, a tuber root that is a staple in the Polynesian diet, is pounded in a carved wooden bowl and mixed with water until it reaches the consistency where it can be picked up with one, two, or three fingers. Samples will be available.
- *Net throwing from 10 a.m.

until 1:45 p.m., will be done in the lagoon between the Hawaiian and Tahitian villages.

- *Lei making: Waiohala said his villagers will demonstrate the making of traditionally strung Hawaiian leis, leikui or flowers on a string, as well as those made from feathers and in the haku or braided styles.
- *Hula dancing, from 10 a.m. until 1:45 p.m. The young women of the Polynesian Cultural Center's Hawaiian Village will dance the kahiko or ancient style.
- **Lauhala* weaving: The dried leaves of the pandanus plant will be woven into many useful items, such as baskets, mats, fans, etc. Also throughout the day before and after the special program visitors are welcome to learn and try konane, an island form of checkers; and ulu maika, an ancient Hawaiian version of lawn bowls.

"The Kamehameha Day program will begin in the Hawaiian village at 1:45," Waiohala said, "starting, of course, with a procession representing the ali'i or chiefs and nobles of old Hawaii."

Then Hui Hoooulo Aloha, a hula halau or school comprised of Polynesian Cultural Center employees and community residents will perform a variety of ancient and modern hulas.

Can I get money out of my First Hawaiian IRA if I need to?

YES.

Although an Individual Retirement Account is meant for retirement savings (you can make withdrawals without penalty starting at age 59½), if you need to, you can withdraw funds earlier. Let's say you suddenly need $2,000. You can take it out of your IRA, but the IRS requires a 10% penalty—$200 in this case. In addition, the $2,000 would be taxable in the year of the withdrawal. (There are other penalties, and exemptions from penalties, depending on individual situations.) We'd like to tell you more about our IRAs. So just ask a Customer Consultant at any First Hawaiian branch.

Mind-altering drugs affect driving ability

by J03 Joy Payne

WASHINGTON . . . Yearly, thousands of highway deaths are attributed to the misuse and abuse of drugs while driving. Millions of Americans take drugs daily and don't realize that drugs can affect their driving ability.

Alcohol, tranquilizers, marijuana — or any other mind-altering drug — affects the mental and physical skills a person needs to drive. Even some over-the-counter medicines can affect driving skills.

MOST PEOPLE ARE aware that drinking and driving don't mix, but few realize that many so-called household drugs are just as dangerous.

Tranquilizers are commonly misused drugs. These are central nervous system depressants which help relieve tension and anxiety. For example, consider diazepam (Valium), the most commonly prescribed tranquilizer.

Studies have shown that even small doses of diazepam can slightly impair psychomotor skills, thus slowing reaction time, interfering with eye-hand coordination and affecting the speed at which the brain processes sensory information. Driving simulator tests show that persons on diazepam are somewhat less likely than others to check roadway conditions.

SLEEPING PILLS are another type of tranquilizer that are often misused. Studies show that Flurazepam (Dalmane), the most commonly prescribed sleeping pill, accumulates in the body and that its residual effects impair driving skills. When test subjects drank alcohol after only a single night's dose of flurazepam, their skills became highly impaired.

Other sedative-hypnotic drugs, including barbiturates, are powerful depressants that calm people down or help them sleep.

Sleepy or oversaturated drivers are dangerous drivers and risk not only their lives but the lives of other drivers.

Stimulants — amphetamines, cocaine and caffeine — stimulate the central nervous system. Modest amounts of stimulants under a doctor's prescription are used to make people feel more alert. However, studies and actual driving records show that people who use stimulants such as amphetamines are slightly more accident prone because they are inclined to overestimate their ability and take more risks.

Hallucinogens and PCP distort judgment and reality, cause confusion and panic and can produce psychotic-like reactions. After the use of hallucinogens, a person may also experience depression and tremors which could severely impair driving skills and judgment.

MARIJUANA research has shown that even small amounts can affect concentration, judgment, and the sensory and perceptual skills needed for careful driving. The drug slows coordination and dulls reflexes that normally may be needed to prevent an accident. Simulator studies have also shown that subjects on marijuana have trouble staying in lanes and do not readily respond to a horn's warning sound.

There are many over-the-counter drugs which produce reactions that can affect a person's driving. Always read the label and stay away from drugs that cause drowsiness or promote sleep — such as cold preparations — if you have to drive.

People are different; so are drugs.

ANY DRUG you take might impair your ability as a driver. If you take one drug or if you mix several drugs, the result can still be the same. DISASTER!

Safe driving always requires an alert eye, a clear head and a steady hand.

Drugs Today: The facts for survival

Danger

Kids fall prey to drug-laced tattoos

by Sgt Greg Berry

"Hey Theresa, come look at my new tattoo," Johnny called excitedly to the girl next door. Of course, the tattoo was nothing more than a 'tattoo transfer' . . . or was it?

When Theresa came over to see Johnny, she thought her friend was playing possum, lying on the ground like he was dead.

"You can get up now," she teased. But as she reached to tickle him, she noticed the tattoo — Mickey Mouse. Her mother had warned her about cartoon stickers, because some of them were 'poisoned.' When Johnny didn't move, Theresa immediately ran and told her mother . . .

The story is make-believe as far as the kids are concerned, but the threat of drug-laced stickers is real.

Stickers of cartoon characters have always been popular with youngsters. Rumors, which were later confirmed, began circulating a few months ago with drug-laced stickers being sold on the mainland. Innocent cartoon characters such as Mickey Mouse were suddenly part of the drug scene — and unsuspecting children fell prey to the drugs.

This threat was brought closer to home recently when a Barbers Point fifth-grader became ill from the effects of LSD. The child spent several days and nights at Tripler Army Medical Center without sleep, but was later released in good condition.

In the make-believe story, Theresa had heard about the bad stickers and was able to go for help when Johnny passed out.

Let's make sure every child understands the danger.

Alcohol abuse policy

Marines to full duty who subsequently serve with full effectiveness. Promotion and assignment opportunities will not be denied any Marine solely on the basis of prior alcohol abuse that led to formal treatment, provided that the individual has demonstrated full restoration to productive service," the Commandant said.

"An essential part of the leadership effort is to change the attitude of Marines toward the use of alcohol," the Commandant explained. "The long-standing perception, particularly on the part of the younger personnel, that hard drinking somehow constitutes part of the image of a hard charging Marine must be dispelled."

THE COMMANDANT CALLED on leaders to "deglamorize" the use of alcohol and encourage healthy recreational alternatives aimed at combating boredom. "Anything that contributes to the all too prevalent perception that the use of alcohol is expected at social gatherings and certain recreational activities must be avoided," Gen Barrow added.

"The privilege of being a Marine includes the responsibility for maintaining the highest standards of discipline, conduct and performance." The Commandant concluded, "Alcohol abuse is a form of indiscipline that can seriously reduce the overall value and effectiveness of the individual Marine, and degrade the operational effectiveness of the Marine's organization. Those who choose to abuse alcohol will be identified and assisted to the degree possible, but in all cases held accountable for their actions."

Conference — combating drug and alcohol abuse

by SSgt Beckie Wass

QUANTICO, Va. — "Combating Drug and Alcohol Abuse" was this year's topic at the second annual Major General John H. Russell Leadership Conference. More than 60 representatives from Department of Defense, Headquarters Marine Corps and Marine Corps command attended the Command and Staff College Foundation's conference, May 11-14, at the FBI Academy here.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON drug and alcohol abuse lectured and participated in the seminars and panel discussion. Among the distinguished lecturers were David Toma, the ex-undercover narcotics cop, Reverend Vaughn Quinn, O.M.I., Director of Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center in Detroit, Dr. John Johns, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention, Ronald Gaetano, R. Ph. Vice President, Awareness Media Associates, Endwell, N.Y. and Joyce Nalepka, National Federation of Parents for a Drug Free Youth.

Gen Paul X. Kelley, Assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps, delivered the keynote address at The Basic School and Lieutenant Gen Edward Bronars, deputy chief of staff, for Manpower, Headquarters Marine Corps, made the welcoming remarks.

"We not only invited people from the Department of Defense, and Headquarters Marine Corps, but a variety of people from the field . . . company commanders, battalion commanders . . . those people in the trenches who actually fight the battle on a day-to-day basis," said MajGen David Twomey, deputy for Education/Director, Education Center here.

"The purpose of the conference was to evaluate the Commandant's present drug and alcohol program, to share ideas and recommendations, for the improvement of the Marine Corps' current drug program.

"WE CAME UP WITH several recommendations, one is that if we are to have an effective drug and alcohol program for the Marines, it must involve the families," Twomey said.

Twomey stressed that the success of the program depends upon the support of Marine noncommissioned officers. "The NCO's are the cornerstone of the drug and alcohol program. If we're going to do anything whatsoever in the Marine Corps we need the support of the young corporals and sergeants. We must train, educate and mobilize the young NCO's. In order to mobilize peer pressure, we must make them true believers in the program," he said.

Among additional ideas for improvement resulting from the conference were some concerning the logistics of the drug and alcohol program. "We do not have the administrative details running smoothly enough. Sometimes results from urinalysis testing do not come back for three or four months. This negates the entire program. There are certain resources that we really need more of: people, money and materials. We need to take a hard look at the logistics of the current program," Twomey said.

"A mobilized team, with perhaps a mixture of Marines and civilians, is another idea we discussed — something along the lines of the Human Resources program that helped alleviate racial problems a few years ago," Twomey added.

Maj Barry Griffin, MCDEC's Drug and Alcohol Officer agreed with the need for more people to act as "interveners" the need to include the family in the program, and a mobilized team. "My ideas about family involvement were reinforced at this conference. Those who may have expected magic answers last week discovered there are no magic answers, but that the solution is plain, old leadership and education," Griffin said.

One of the conference seminar leaders, Col Mathew Cooper, commanding officer of Officer Candidate School here, described the conference as an interchange of ideas. "We learned how to do our jobs better from others. We all left with new ideas to use at our own commands. Such an exchange of ideas makes for a more uniform application of the Commandant's program," Cooper said.

"THE CIVILIAN AND FBI representatives talked about how they

DISCUSSION — During the Major General John H. Russell Leadership Conference on Combating Drug and Alcohol Abuse, there were several panel discussions on the subject. One such panel included (l-r) Carl Eller, National Football League; Charles R. Jackson, Assistant Director of Security, NFL; Ronald J. Gaetano, Vice President, Awareness Media Associates; Jack Durell, Acting Deputy Director, National Institute on Drug Abuse;

John H. Johns, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense; Joyce Nalepka, National Federation of Parents for a Drug Free Youth; Peter D. Patrick, Clinical Psychologist, Psychotherapist and Diagnostician, Washington Hospital Center; and Dr. Langer, Director of the Office of Congressional and Public Affairs, Drug Enforcement Administration. deal with drug and alcohol abuse. We learned from them about the mind-set of young people . . . why they become involved with drugs . . . so we can better relate and then successfully convince them that there is something better in life," Cooper said.

"Let's face it, I am the establishment. Commanders have always been the establishment, they must be. We want to free our Marines, not lecture them. In order to convince them, we must be sincere and caring, that's the key," Cooper said. One of the liaison officers for the conference, Maj Jack Niemeyer, expressed his gratitude for MCDEC and FBI Academy support last week. "Motor Transport drivers, audiovisual personnel, photographers and the FBI Academy staff contributed their time, expertise and facilities. That's what kept the whole operation running so smoothly," said Niemeyer.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR the

Russell conference was drawn from the MajGen John H. Russell Endowment Fund. The fund was established with a grant from the Vincent Astor Foundation. The president of that foundation is Mrs. Vincent Astor, daughter of MajGen Russell, former Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Mrs. Astor's son, Ambassador Anthony Marshall, is the Commandant and Staff College Foundation's Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Money savings shelter you from a 'rainy day'

WASHINGTON — The Better Business Bureau says, "Saving money is not a thing of the past." However, with the nation's double-digit inflation, consumers must devise a scheme to make their money work harder for them.

Potential savers must first assess their family's needs and goals. Financial planners usually suggest that a family save an amount equal to at least six months' income in an easily accessible account for emergencies. After that, other savings methods can be considered:

PASSBOOK ACCOUNTS are available through banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions. When evaluating where to place your funds, ask about the rate of compounding, when the money is credited to your account, what minimum amount is required for earning interest and if there are any penalties or bonuses. Not all passbook accounts are the same, and differences can add up. Passbook accounts (and certificates of deposit and money-market certificates) are generally insured up to $100,000 by federal or state government agencies or by private insurers.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT involve a specific amount of money being deposited over a period of time in a bank, savings, credit or loan association. These certificates usually earn more interest than a passbook account. But if the money is withdrawn before the time period is up, a severe penalty is imposed, by federal law, on the interest.

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS are conservative time deposits commonly known as Series EE (matures in five years) and Series HH (matures in 10 years). The interest is exempt from state and local income taxes, and the federal taxes may be deferred until the bonds are redeemed.

U.S. TREASURY BILLS require a $10,000 minimum investment over three months to a year. You get a high interest rate, with earnings exempt from state and local taxes. Treasury bills can be bought through a bank, a stockbroker or directly from a Federal Reserve bank or branch.

MONEY-MARKET CERTIFICATES offer a return comparable to the Treasury Bills through time deposits at banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions. There is a minimum investment of $10,000 for six months; the earnings are taxable.

COMMON STOCKS are investments that make the stockholder a part owner in a corporation. They are not insured. Blue-chip corporations (high priced stock with a good record of earnings and price stability) provide the least risk. The more speculative stocks may bring higher risk but often offer potential for greater gain.

MUTUAL FUNDS are investment companies that pool investors' funds and invest in stocks and bonds. The buying and selling decisions are made by professional managers who usually diversify the portfolio to minimize loss. Different funds are tailored to different goals; some seek high yield, others are more speculative by sacrificing present earnings for possible greater gains.

MONEY-MARKET FUNDS are specialized mutual funds that pool funds for investment in short-term money-market instruments (certificates of deposit, commercial paper and government securities) at relatively high interest rates over short periods of time; they are not usually insured.

The best method of savings should be based on a person's situation and goals. In order to find out just which plan is appropriate for you and yours, consult a stockbroker or financial planner. To find one, ask friends, neighbors or business associates for recommendations and check with the Better Business Bureau. With or without professional guidance, a savings plan that is adhered to on a regular basis is a smart investment.

Entertainment

Discount desk offers reduced military rates

The Joint Special Services Discount Desk offers reduced rates for several Oahu entertainment sites.

For the military member interested in dining afloat while admiring Diamond Head, four different cruises are offered at discount prices.

The Aikane Catamarans Dinner Sails, normally offered for $25, is $19.50. The Hula Kai is reduced from $26 to $19.50. The Hokunani is $18 instead of $29.50, and Windjammer Cruises are offered at a "Salute the Military" price of $14.75.

If daylight scenery and outdoor parks are more the style, discounts to some of the more prominent parks are available.

A discount card admits "members, member's spouse, children and two guests" to Paradise Park. Admission to the park with the card is $3 for adults, $2 for children 4-12 years old and children under 4 free.

Another Special Services card is good for cut rate at Sea Life Park/Waimea Falls Park.

For those who can't get enough of a good thing, the discount card is good for unlimited visits. The cost is less with each visit, ending in one price of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children for each visit after the third.

Oahu's enchanted kingdom, Castle Park, is also among the places offering reduced rates.

Instead of charging admission, a "price ticket" is purchased. The price of each ride or activity offered at the park is punched on the card. If everything can't be crammed into one day, the remainder of the ticket can be used later.

These discounts can be obtained at the Joint Special Services ticket office from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

You can count on the Corps.

Almost to the nth degree.

For a college degree, special courses or a little brushing up, the Corps has tuition programs you could qualify for. In some cases, 100% of the bill is paid for by the Corps. Try and find that support in a civilian job.

In fact, what civilian job matches the Corps with job security... medical and retirement benefits... educational programs... and the pride you have of being a Marine? Think it over and...

Stay Marine.

F/A-18 Hornet

Trials evaluate Hornet, El Torro receives F/A-18

The Navy/Marine Corps' F/A-18 Hornet completed nine days of sea trials aboard the USS Carl Vinson off the Virginia coast in early April. This was the strike fighter's second series of shipboard tests. Initial sea trials were flown aboard the USS America in the fall of 1979.

Trials evaluated the Hornet during a variety of flight conditions, including night operations, different combinations of weapons and external fuel tanks and difficult catapult operations. Several automatic approaches were flown, with the Hornet under the control of the ship's automatic carrier landing system.

The Navy's final operational evaluation is scheduled this summer, before the Hornet is introduced into fleet service. Transitioning of A-7 attack squadrons to F/A-18 squadrons will begin in January 1983.

Marine Fighter Attack Squadron-314, "Black Knights," at Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif., will be the first Marine Corps squadron to receive the F/A-18 Hornet. Twenty-one years ago, VMFA-314 was the first Marine Corps squadron to fly F-4 Phantoms.

The Phantoms will be sent to Naval Weapons Center, China Lake, Calif., for use as drones.

IT TAKES MORE THAN BRAINS TO GO TO COLLEGE.

It takes money. For tuition, room and board, and books. And that's just the beginning.

To help meet these costs, the Army proudly introduces the Army College Fund. You can join it, upon qualifying, when you join the Army.

For every dollar you put in, Uncle Sam puts in five. Or more. So, after just two years in the Army, you can have up to $15,200 for college. After three years, up to $20,100.

Call for your free copy of the Army College Fund booklet. It could be the most important book you've ever read. Call toll free 800-423-2244.

Carrier of the Week

Kieth Wiggins

Kieth Wiggins is our Hawaii Marine "Carrier of the Week." For the last six months Kieth has been a familiar sight to residents along Parks Street and McLennan Street where he delivers his papers.

Kieth is a person who likes to travel, and he uses some of his newspaper earnings to save for trips. This summer Kieth will put his earnings to a happy use when he and his family begin a cross-country automobile trip.

Although the trip will be a lot of fun, Kieth is also looking forward to reaching the destination: Houston, Texas. Houston is where Kieth was born and where he will find relatives and old friends waiting to see him.

Carrier of the Week
receives a FREE
Big Mac® from McDonald's.

MCDONALD'S ASTOUNDING HAMBURGER STATISTICS

Enough shakes to wash down 18 billion hamburgers will fill every gas tank in the U.S. and that doesn't even include the countless gallons of soft drinks and coffee consumed at McDonald's.

HAWAII MARINE CIRCULATION POLICY

Each week, the HAWAII MARINE is delivered to all homes and apartments. Your carrier delivers the HAWAII MARINE and will call on you every few weeks.

If delivery service is satisfactory, and you enjoy the HAWAII MARINE, your voluntary payment will be a reward to our young businessman for a job well done. It's an incentive to work hard, and it's a way of letting our circulation department know which boys and girls are giving the best service.

The young carrier pictured above is a local businessman... a HAWAII MARINE carrier. Most likely, this is his first business venture, and it is an important educational experience. As one of his customers, you can make his route a way to genuine personal achievement and growth.

If you have any complaint about your HAWAII MARINE or the delivery service, please call 247-8755.

CARRIER APPLICATION

The HAWAII MARINE has openings for carriers. Responsible HAWAII MARINE workers earn as much as $10 per week for only a few hours work. If you want a business route of your own near your neighborhood, please mail in the application for information.

How To BUY A Car At The Public Auto Auction

Public Auto Auctions-Hawaii's first consumer auto auction
It is easy. And if you follow these simple guidelines you can end up with a good deal.

1. Inspection time is any day 9 am to 9 pm.
2. Inspect the windshield sticker. It lists the year, make, model and all the accessories. It also tells you the suggested retail value. This is taken from Kelley's Blue Book.
3. Once you've decided there is a car you might want, come back on Saturday and register to bid. Here you will be given a numbered badge.
4. When the car you like comes up for bidding, you raise your paddle at whatever price you are willing to pay.
5. If the auctioneer ends the bidding on your price, and it meets with the seller's requirement, you've bought yourself a car. Either pay 10 percent deposit or the total cost of the car.
6. Trained Public Auto Auction specialists will take care of the paper work required, including transfer of title. And can also help arrange financing and insurance.
7. What happens if you put up the 10% deposit and later you find that you cannot get financing? Provided you can bring a letter of credit by 4 p.m. the Monday following the day of sale, Public Auto Auction will give you your money back.
8. Some cars will carry "limited warranties" by the sellers. The seller can bring your own licensed mechanic back to the lot and have him inspect the car. If he finds something wrong with the Engine, Black, Transmission or Rear End, you can get your money back.
All cars will be sold "as is."
9. Special advice: Decide how much you are willing to pay. Don't be carried away and bid on impulse. You could end up paying too much.
10. Public Auto Auction has arranged for buyers to obtain either 100 mile-18 month warranties on cars at very reasonable rates and protection for your investment. Please inquire.

The following makes will be auctioned to the Public on behalf of Banks, Lease or Rental Companies, and the GENERAL PUBLIC.

WE BRING BUYERS AND SELLERS TOGETHER

How To SELL Your Car At The Public Auto Auction

Public Auto Auction's job is to bring buyer and seller together. If you have a car (or truck, van, etc.) you want to sell you can do it quickly and easily.

Here's all you do.

1. Make sure you have a valid safety sticker and current no fault insurance.
2. Bring your vehicle to Public Auto Auctions and register it with us. To do so, you must have valid certificate of ownership. (Your car does not have to be fully paid for to sell it, but cannot be sold for less than is owed.)
3. Clean up your car. It makes a nicer impression.
4. Try to bring your car to the auction lot several days ahead of time. Interested buyers will have a better chance to look it over.
5. To register your car, we require a $10 deposit. If, for some reason, no one buys your car, we keep the $10
as a service fee for trying.
6. KNOW WHAT YOUR CAR IS WORTH? We help you determine that and make sure all the features are noted on the windshield ticket we prepare for your car.
7. When we sell your car, our fee is 10 percent of the sales price.
8. Once your car is sold, we do all the paper work, including transfer of title, etc. We even help the buyer arrange financing and insurance.

Delivers the taste of cigarettes with up to twice the tar.

—Landmark Smoker Study

Extensive research proves 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT consistently matches the taste of leading higher tar brands.

---

Latest research offers the most conclusive evidence yet confirming MERIT as the proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking.

MERIT Taste Does It!

In impartial tests where brand identity was concealed, the overwhelming majority of smokers reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands.

Moreover, when tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Taste Debate Ends.

In a second part of the same study, smokers confirm that MERIT taste is a major factor in completing their successful switch from higher tar brands.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers report MERIT is an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.
