Col Christmas takes command of 3rd Marines

Col Richard H. Esau passed the regimental colors to Col George R. Christmas during a 3d Marine Regiment change of command ceremony Friday at Platt Field.

Esau will be reporting for duty at Headquarters, Marine Corps, Washington, D.C.

Christmas takes the reins of the Corps' largest regiment after a 22-year career highlighted by distinguished service during the Vietnam War. Christmas was seriously wounded during the battle for Hue City in 1968, and evacuated to the Philadelphia Naval Hospital. He was awarded the Navy Cross for his actions at Hue City.

The new regimental commanders' past assignments include duty as P. - K Milita Bragg at The last served as tactical group chief.

The 44-year-old colonel came to Hawaii in 1982, and served as a Naval Operations Officer and then Chief of Staff of the 3d Marine Division (5-SDH) (CODE 11DS-5).

He, Sherrill, have four children: Tracy, Jim, Kevin and Brian.

Rent Plus changes take effect Oct. 1.

If you are single, or are here without your dependents, live out in town and are thinking of moving, you may want to reconsider.

Starting on Oct. 1, the Rent Plus housing allowance for single servicemembers will be limited to 80 percent of the "with dependents" rate.

This change came about as a result of Rent Plus procedures being revised by the Per Diem Travel and Transportation Allowance Committee, which established individual paygrade maximum rental ceilings for members without dependents. This change was also a result of a general review of RPHA procedures conducted in the fall of 1983.

Servicemembers who are now receiving RPHA will remain at the same rate unless they change their place of residence or until Oct. 1, 1988, whichever occurs first. The change will affect those single servicemembers who sign a lease or mortgage agreement on or after Oct. 1.

The change may also affect those servicemembers who are sharing dwelling expenses... so before you sign a new agreement, check with your admin office to make sure you are identified under the proper occupancy status code.

If you need more information on RPHA, see ALMAR 196/84, of Sept. 20, 1984, or see the admin personnel at your unit.

Urinalysis testing equipment improves

by Sgt Theresa Anthony

If you smoke marijuana every now and then, or experiment with cocaine once in a while and it hasn't been detected, it isn't because you outsmarted the drug screening system.

Recently, new, more sensitive urinalysis testing equipment was installed at five of the Navy drug screening laboratories. According to the Department of Defense, the new equipment has the capabilities of detecting lower levels of drug substances in a urine sample.

Along with this new capability, DoD has lowered its criteria for a positive reading to .000020 grams of drug substance present versus .000050 grams. Before, a urine sample reading .000048 would have received a negative test reading.

The new equipment will also bring greater automation and faster lab service. In FY-83, 1.2 million samples were tested for drug content. With the new equipment, the screening labs are now capable of testing 1.8 million.

"Taking a urinalysis test has become routine, just like a PFT," said CWO-4 Don Galvin, Brigade Human Affairs Officer.

Although this does not necessarily mean an increase in drug users, it means that the better equipment is catching those who up to now have tested negative; and the chances of "outsmarting" the equipment have been greatly reduced.

Two wheels + alcohol = DOA

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A young sailor assigned to a ship in Norfolk, Va., decided a motorcycle would be a great way to get around. So he bought one.

One Friday night, he and a friend went for a ride on his new bike and stopped at a local bar for a few beers. Shortly after leaving the bar, the two were killed in an accident.

Moral of the story: Drinking and riding motorcycles is DUMB. It's that simple.

Last year, 86 sailors were killed and another 1,092 were injured in motorcycle accidents. More than 70 percent of those fatalities were alcohol related. According to the Naval Safety Center, all but three of those deaths could have been avoided if the motorcycle operator had full control of his faculties and had been alert to take proper evasive maneuvers.

The combination of alcohol, speed and loss of control is a guaranteed recipe for getting yourself killed on a motorcycle.

"You don't have to get falling-down drunk to be affected," said Jim Filek of the Naval Safety Center. Unlike driving a car, riding a motorcycle requires balance. After a few drinks, you develop a sense of false courage. Balance and reaction time are affected after only two beers per hour for an average-size person. The coordination and awareness needed to ride a motorcycle safely allows no room for impairment of any kind.

In a message to all operating forces, the Chief of Naval Operations stated: "The present level of motorcycle accidents and the resulting high costs through loss and suffering to our people must be reduced. I am calling on all levels of command, security and safety offices, and all those who operate motorcycles to focus attention on this problem. Specifically, I want strict adherence to safety standards, enforcement of regulations, adequate operator education, and above all, responsible behavior as regards drinking and operation of motorcycles and other vehicles."

Families have their day with 37th MAU

by Cpl Pat Lewandowski

Hamburgers sizzling on a grill, children splashing in warm Hawaiian waters, wives discussing an upcoming deployment while their husbands talk to other Marines and neighbors they had never met before was the scene at the Hale Koa Beach Park where the 37th Marine Amphibious Unit gathered for a picnic.

The Family Day, held last Saturday, marked the first time that the 37th MAU got together as a unit. It began with a display of combat and support equipment, including helicopters, an amphibious assault vehicle and other weapons used by the MAU.

Children and wives enjoyed a Marine's view of the equipment, and asked questions and learned how to operate it. In addition to the family members who clambered on vehicles or tried to shoulder an M-60 machine gun, the MAU Leathernecks also had a chance to see what other Marines do as their part of the MAU.

The largest attraction was the Marine infantrymen who were dressed in a variety of camouflage uniforms, sporting an array of weapons and combat equipment.

After looking the equipment over, Marines and their families moved to Hale Koa Beach for a picnic and beach activities.

The aroma of hot dogs and hamburgers being cooked filled the air as Marines and their families played volleyball and horseshoes. The children enjoyed the water, where they splashed and swam.

The success of Family Day could be measured in the warm and happy faces of the Marine families. The afternoon gave them the opportunity to meet others who have experienced family separation, a valuable tool in helping families cope with an inevitable situation.

According to LtCol Dave McSorley, commanding officer of HMM-262, the day provided a social setting for Marines and their families to create new friendships and to foster a family spirit among themselves and in the squadron.

Although the MAU units, which include 2nd Bn., 3d Marines, HMM-262 and MSSG-37, occupied a different area of the beach, there was a sense of unity in the day's activities.

"This was a great idea," said Jamie Cantrall, ombudsman for 2/3. "It lets everyone know that we all are in the same boat. It really shows command interest in the morale and welfare of its families. The participation today proved that our efforts are working," Cantrall concluded.

Cpl Steve Minnix, 2nd Platoon, A Co., 3d Recon. Bn., helps Diane Lietzav examine an M16A1 rifle equipped with a starlight scope.

Billy never can't make up his mind about which jeep is his favorite. Billy and other children had the opportunity to see what Dad does on a mission during Family Day.

Sgt Stan Sanders, MSSG-37, explains the proper use of the M16A1 rifle to Charles Chatot, H&S Co., 2/3 during his camouflage lesson at Family Day.

Voting this year? Common questions answered

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In most cases, military people exercising their right to vote must do so by absentee ballot. Following are questions about and answers to a few things voters should know.

Q. What is my legal state of residence?

A. When it comes to voting, your legal state of residence is the state you were living in before joining the service or the state you have since claimed as your legal residence. Even if you don't maintain formal ties — such as property ownership — in that state, election officials need the address to place you in the proper voting district or ward.

Q. When is the best time to apply for an absentee ballot?

A. If you're only requesting a ballot, election officials should receive the Federal Post Card Application at least 30 days before the election. The ballot may have to be sent earlier if you are applying for both registration and an absentee ballot. The 1984 Voting Assistance Guide contains more information on state deadlines.

Q. Where can I get information on state and local issues?

A. You might consider subscribing to your hometown newspaper or relying on friends and relatives for information on state and local issues. The League of Women Voters, with regional offices throughout the country, also publishes information. Their main office is at 1730 M St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Things to watch out for when filling out an FPCA:

Item 2. Voting address./residence on FPCA — Those having addresses which are rural routes or P.O. box numbers must provide additional specific address information so that election officials can place applicants in the right voting district. FPCAs without this information could be invalidated, and the applicant might not receive a ballot.

Item 7(d). Don't circle item 7(d), which says "all as permitted . . ." Many states don't accept this category of request and will not mail you a ballot. To avoid this problem, file a separate FPCA for each election.

Item 10. You must place an "x" or check mark in the box describing your status. In most states, checking any box — 10(a) through (f) — will entitle you to a full ballot.

Item 15. Signature. Don't forget to sign the FPCA. Unsigned FPCAs are invalid.

Item 16. Oath. Not all states require completion of the oath or notary provision. For those states that do, a commissioned officer is authorized to administer the oath and witness the signature.

Legible writing. Election officials will not process FPCAs which can't be read.

The above items are some of the common pitfalls military people face when filling out an FPCA. In all cases, you should consult the 1984 Voting Assistance Guide for voting specifics before filling out an FPCA.

For more information contact your unit's voting assistance office.

For a listing of unit voting representatives, see Page A-10.

The whole body is the most important concern of chiropractic. It deals with the inter-relationship of the central nervous system, the brain and the spinal column and their single and combined effect on the rest of the body, especially when malfunctions occur.

Cure for Backache

One of the most important functions of your chiropractor is manipulation of the spine to erase aches and pains and to allow normal transmission of nerve impulses from the brain through the spine to every part of the body. If you suffer periodically from the nagging symptoms of backache, a simple adjustment for proper spinal alignment may be all it takes to make you feel great again. Call us today.

— Col C.D. Robinson, commanding officer of the Air Station, and Susan Cleveland, Child Care Center manager, assists in a ribbon cutting ceremony held at the Day Care Center, Friday, opening the new annex. The Day Care Center children presented scarlet and white flowered leis to the honored guests at the beginning of the ceremony, followed by a blessing, given by Chaplain Daniel Stewart, Air Station Chaplain. The building is unique because of its wedge-shape design, which permits energy efficient use of the regular trade winds for natural air conditioning, and effectively uses the sunshine for its interior lighting. The new annex will provide services for an additional 26 children, three through four years old.

Day Care Center annex opens

— Cathi Joseph, a teacher at the Day Care Center, assists the children in preparing breakfast in one of the new rooms at the annex. "We always encourage them to do their own," explained Joseph. To help celebrate the grand opening of the annex, the children made homemade cookies the day before for everyone to enjoy after the ceremony.

The Aloha Week Parade begins at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Iolani Palace in downtown Honolulu and proceeds down Kapiolani Boulevard and Ward Avenue to Ala Moana Park. Al Harrington was recently appointed as the Ambassador of Aloha 1984.

Blood drive

The Camp H.M. Smith Medical Clinic will conduct a blood drive Oct. 9 from 8 a.m. to noon. All active duty personnel, retirees and civilians are encouraged to participate. Interested personnel should contact HM1 Jobe at 477-6414.

Clinics closed

The Camp H.M. Smith Medical Clinic and Dental Clinic will be closed tomorrow starting at 11:30 a.m. A duty corpsman and ambulance driver will be available for emergencies only, and there will be a 2 p.m. shuttle run to Tripler Army Medical Center and Pearl Harbor.

Emergency dental treatment will be provided by the Pearl Harbor Dental Clinic. For information call 471-3911.

Reading classes

A Lay Leader/Reader

training conference will be held Oct. 5 from 8-11:30 a.m. at the Brigade Chaplain's office. The purpose of the conference is to provide training to enhance the effectiveness of lay leaders/readers and to provide them with the basic guidance in performing their duties. Attendees can register by calling the Brigade Chaplain's office at 257-3178/3182 before Oct. 3.

Orientation Tour

The Family Service Center here, in conjunction with the Polynesian Cultural Center, is sponsoring an orientation program tomorrow for Marines, sailors and families who have arrived on the island in the last three months.

A briefing will be given at the Station Theater from 7:30 to 9 a.m., and a bus will leave after the briefing for the Cultural Center. The program is free except for lunch. Attendees have the option of buying lunch at the center or taking their own.

A sign-up sheet is available through your unit. For more information contact your unit admin office or the Family Service Center at 257-3168.

Power outages

There will be a daily power outage scheduled from Oct. 1 through Oct. 19, except weekends, to allow a contractor to upgrade the primary electrical distribution system.

The following facilities will be affected from 8 a.m.-3:30 p.m.: buildings 1392, 1509-1518, 1538, 1544 and 1599.

The following areas will also be affected from Oct. 1-15: building 1551 and the rifle range.

Emergency power will be provided to bunker 1511 and limited power will be provided to the rifle range.

Questions concerning the outages should be directed to the utilities general foreman, Mr. Fujita, at 257-2171.

New MCX hours

In an effort to better serve the needs of Marines and their families here, the Marine Corps Main Exchange has extended its normal operating hours.

Effective Monday, the exchange will be open 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Monday through Friday. Saturday hours will be shortened by 30 minutes as the Exchange will be open 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday hours will remain the same, Noon-5 p.m.

For added convenience, the Exchange will extend its hours on military paydays from 9 a.m.-7 p.m.

The self-service/hardware department will continue to be open 10 a.m.-9 p.m., 7 days a week; except Sundays when it opens at noon.

Memorial services set for motorcycle accident victim

Memorial services for LCpl Robert E. Foster, Weapons Company, 1st Battalion, 3d Marines, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Station Chapel.

Foster, 22, a native of Huntington Beach, Calif., was killed in a motorcycle accident in Kailua at 4:45 a.m. Saturday.

Experiencing LSD is costly

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sailors involved with LSD (lysergic acid diethylamide) found out what harsh punishment is like.

Sixteen sailors are now serving sentences of one to 12 years at hard labor because of their involvement in an LSD drug trafficking ring. Sentences awarded during military trials included bad conduct or dishonorable discharges, forfeitures of pay and allowances and reduction to paygrade E-1.

LSD is a hallucinogen which affects perception, sensation and emotions. One of the most dangerous aspects of LSD is that the user's emotional response varies widely — from feeling several different emotions at once to swinging rapidly from one emotion to another.

Physical reactions to LSD include dilated pupils, rise in temperature and heartbeat, increased blood pressure, muscular weakness and nausea. Heavy users sometimes experience impaired memory and attention span, mental confusion and difficulty with abstract thinking.

LSD may bring about changes in time and space perception and produce delusions and hallucinations. Sensations may seem to "cross over" — music may be seen or color heard.

In its pure form, LSD is an odorless, tasteless, colorless powder; doses are measured in micrograms — millionths of a gram. The weight of a teaspoon of table salt is equal to 192,000 doses of 25 micrograms of LSD (enough to produce a hallucinogenic effect).

Usually taken orally, LSD may also be sniffed or injected. It is generally marketed as microdots (tiny balls of compacted powder), window panes (small squares of a gelatin sheet), blotter acid (liquid soaked into pieces of blotting paper), or liquid soaked into chewing gum, sugar cubes, tablets, animal crackers or heart candies. Its marketing format gives rise to its street names: acid, dot, microdot, tabs, crackers, sugar, etc. A coloring agent often added to the liquid is also reflected in street names: blue acid, blue mist, chocolate chips, mellow yellows, orange cubes, purple hearts, etc.

Initial effects of LSD are felt in less than one hour and generally last from two to 12 hours, with effects tapering off gradually. Tolerance to the drug develops quickly — within three to four days — and larger doses must be taken to produce the same effects. This tolerance is usually lost after a few days' abstinence.

Old Hawaiian art taught here

by LCpl Karen Izbinski

Lei making classes were given for the wives of Marines and Sailors at the Dependent Recreation Center here Friday.

Patty Kealohalani Wright, a teacher of Polynesian hula dancing and lei making, taught the class the sounds of The Puakea Serenaders hula music. She collected most of the materials for the class herself.

Wright has been teaching the class for as long as she has been teaching hula dancing "for hula dancing and leis go hand-in-hand in Polynesian culture," she said.

"The approximate time to make one lei is two hours," said Wright. "Some of the students learning the lei making process didn't anticipate it would be such a long process, but feel that knowing the technique of making a lei is all worthwhile."

When asked if she were making a lei for a special occasion, Eileen Bailey said, "No, but when an occasion does arise, you can be sure we'll be ready with leis in hand."

Patty Kealohalani Wright (r), a hula teacher and lei making instructor at Dependent Recreation Center, aids Gretchen Pison in completing her lei for the class.

Bicycles gain popularity as economical transportation

For 105 million Americans the bicycle is an alternative to driving gas-guzzling cars. Over the past few years, Americans have increasingly relied on the bicycle to get around. In 1975, 500,000 Americans commuted to work by bicycle. The U.S. Department of Transportation estimates that by 1985 that figure will rise to 2.5 million. Of course, the bike is still primarily used for recreational purposes, especially for physical fitness. A 1982 Nielson study of the nation's favorite leisure-time activities listed bicycling second — right behind swimming.

With the increasing popularity of bicycling, should be an increased safety awareness. Here are some tips for operating a bike safely:

— Ride single file. Bicycling shoulder to shoulder is not only dangerous, it's against the law. A sudden swerve by a car or fellow cyclist could be dangerous.

— Make sure you are visible at night. You can do this by ensuring your tail light or reflector can be seen from 300 feet away and your headlight can be seen from 500 feet. It is also a good idea to wear light colored clothes.

— Don't hitch a ride on another vehicle. Holding on to the back of a truck while riding is asking for trouble. A sudden turn by the truck could send a hitching rider flying. Always use your own power to operate a bicycle.

— Be wary of parked cars. Watch out for car doors opening suddenly and vehicles pulling out into traffic.

— Use hand signals. Letting drivers know when you are going to stop or turn gives them an opportunity to adjust to your actions.

— Don't carry other riders. An extra rider hampers bicycle operations and obstructs the operator's vision. Packages can do the same.

— Ride with the traffic. Always keep to the right and never ride against the flow of traffic. Remember to keep a safe distance between you and other vehicles.

— Move into traffic with caution. Bikes are small and sometimes are hard for drivers to see.

— Drive defensively. Be on the lookout for pedestrians as well as vehicles.

— Keeping these suggestions in mind will enable you to ride with confidence and fully enjoy the fun of one of American's fastest-growing pastimes — two wheeling.

The Military Police Department will be cracking down on motorcycle operators who do not use the safety equipment required by DoD and Air Station regulations. According to Air Station Order P5500.6B, operators and passengers of a motorcycle must wear a helmet, protective shields or goggles and boots or closed toe shoes.

Motorcycle regulations receive emphasis

by Sgt J.L. Muhlenkamp

An approved helmet, according to DoD Instruction 1000.16, is one that complies with the requirements of the state the motorcycle will be operated in. If the state does not have a helmet regulation, the helmets will meet the American National Standards Institute, Standard Z90.1. Eye protective shields or goggles must be of nonshatterable material. Safety glasses will not be allowed as a substitute for the safety shield or goggles. A windshield or fairing may be used provided it extends four inches above the driver's eye level and is of a nonshatterable material.

According to the Air Station order tennis shoes may be worn in place of boots or closed toe shoes, but shower shoes, sandals or other similar items will not be worn.

All persons who operate a motorcycle without the proper safety equipment will not be allowed on the Air Station according to MSgt Robert D. Rebar, Military Police Operations Chief. "People who are stopped will be instructed to get off of their motorcycles and walk them to where they can obtain the proper safety equipment," said Rebar.

Personnel stopped for not having the proper safety equipment will also receive a traffic citation and a court date. Civilians and dependents will receive a Federal Magistrates citation and be sent to traffic court in Honolulu. Active duty military will receive a military citation and will be required to go to Station traffic court.

Protect your life and your privilege to operate a motorcycle. Never ride without a helmet, protective shield or goggles and boots or closed toe shoes.

Commissary savings

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A recent study has proven something most military shoppers already know. Grocery shopping at the commissary saves you money. In fact, the survey showed a commissary shopper saves an overall 21.6 percent when compared to competitive commercial supermarkets.

The survey was conducted in seven geographical areas throughout the United States. More than 100 selected brand name items were compared between local commissary stores and five nearby supermarkets. A 5-percent surcharge was added to commissary prices, and local sales tax was tacked on to some supermarket products.

The survey revealed an overall savings of 21.6 percent. The savings by product category were: grocery, 21.7 percent; meat, 19.3 percent; and produce, 26.8 percent.

Commissaries strive to enhance the quality of military life by responding to customer demands for food and household products at significant overall savings. Price comparison surveys will be conducted at regular intervals to validate the savings being offered.

Shop at your local commissary and save!

Dairy products included in diet improve health

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Getting into physical shape for the summer is important to most people, and since fitness is enhanced by good nutrition, milk is one dairy product that provides health by the glassful.

Called "the most nearly perfect food," milk is an outstanding source of nutrients — carbohydrates, fats, minerals, proteins and vitamins — needed for energy, growth and replacement of worn-out tissue.

Children who drink milk grow faster than children who eat the same kind of foods, but don't drink milk. Many doctors and nutrition experts recommend that children and teenagers drink three 8-ounce glasses of milk a day and adults at least one glass.

For people attempting to reduce cholesterol in their bloodstream, doctors suggest substituting skim milk for whole milk. Skim milk contains no cholesterol.

But milk is not the only nutritious dairy product. Other dairy products include cheese, butter, ice cream and yogurt.

Cheese has much of milk's food value but in a concentrated form. For example, 8 ounces of American cheese provide as much protein and calcium as six 8-ounce glasses of milk.

Yogurt has the same nutritional elements as milk and contains bacteria beneficial to intestinal digestion. Because unflavored yogurt is low in calories, it's especially popular for low-calorie diets.

Once you've gotten into shape for summer, follow the basic rules of good nutrition and don't forget to include healthful dairy products in your diet — you'll help yourself stay fit throughout the year.

Home of record requirements clarified

WASHINGTON, D.C. — If you're in the military, it's possible that you could live in Virginia, work in Maryland and possess a valid California driver's license. How? It's all simply a matter of determining your home of record. Virginia and Maryland are bordering states so it's not uncommon to live in one state and work in the other. Having possessed a California driver's license and transferred from that state because of military orders, you can retain your California driver's license as long as you remain on active duty. It's the place recorded on your Your home of record and domicile are usually the same. Cont. on Page A-12

Rag Bag's quarterback Michael Baggs churns up dust as he rushes for a first down in their winning clash against H&HS.

H&HS's Andy Sanchez grabs the flags of a Rag Bag runner as he rushes for a first down.

Heavy traffic in the middle of the line thwarts an H&HS runner as Rag Bag's "Mr Butler" makes the grab.

Flag football

Rag Bag sneaks by H&HS

It's third down and four yards from the goal line, with seconds left in the first half. H&HS comes out of their huddle as 1st Rad Bn. (Rag Bag) prepares for the onslaught.

The ball is hiked to quarterback, Joe Lovan. As he rolls out to the right, no one is open in the end zone so he tucks the ball and heads in for the goal line; but quick-footed, Don Dean, Rag Bag's "Executioner" stops him.

On fourth down, Lovan drops back for a short pass to John Milles on the goal line. As he grasps it, a Rag Bag defender strips it out of his hands. No score.

On the first possession of the game last Thursday, H&HS couldn't get their offense together for a first down, and had to kick to Rag Bag. With fake passes and end-sweeps, quarterback Michael Baggs brought the ball to the H&HS 20-yard line. A pass deep in the end zone to Jim Hamp was good for the first score of the game.

The extra point attempt by Jack Eitzroth was good, and Rag Bag led, 7-0.

H&HS received the kickoff deep in their own territory. After sputtering, the offense got a first down on an end run by Lovan, then a couple of quick passes and H&HS was knocking. The two-minute warning sounded. Lovan went to the sidelines to confer with the coaches. Decisions were made and taken back on the gridiron, but Rag Bag held and the first half ended.

In the early minutes of the second half, Rag Bag took the kickoff and marched downfield. Moments later, a pass from Baggs to Hamp was good for another touchdown. The extra point attempt by Eitzroth went wide to the left so the score remained, 13-0.

Lovan got the H&HS offense on track and began moving down field. A short pass over center was good for a first down, and a sweep around the right end was good for another.

Penalties plagued both teams as the officials marched the offense and the defense back and forth across midfield. Lovan drifted back, didn't see anyone open in the end-zone, so he ran in for a 15-yard touchdown. Milles kicked the extra point to make the score, 13-7.

Fans yelled cheers to both teams throughout the game as an almost festive mood prevailed. Taunts from a group of Rag Bag followers drew comments from all sides as friendly rivalry took place.

On the field, however, Baggs was heading up an offensive drive. "Defense! Defense!" came the yell from the H&HS commanding officer as his team was being backed further and further against their own goal posts. Baggs put the Rag Bag offense into high gear, mixing passing and running plays until he ran the ball in to the end zone himself.

This time the extra point attempt was good and the score was 20-7.

After the kickoff, H&HS began moving the ball back up field using short passes and end sweeps by Lovan, and they were knocking for another touchdown. Rag Bag's defense stiffened and H&HS was forced to punt. Penalties began taking their toll for both teams. In the waning moments, H&HS got inside the Rag Bag 20-yard line. Stiff defense brought the play to fourth-and-three for a touchdown. A pass from Lovan to Jim Hewey, who was near the goal line and H&HS scored on the quick feet of Hewey.

Moments later, the whistle blew signifying the end of the game and Rag Bag prevailed, 20-14.

"Your team played with good discipline," said SgtMaj P.W. Todd, acting coach for the H&HS team, as he congratulated a Rag Bag player. "They played well today, some got a bit intimidating, but you all played a good game," he said.

"We watched H&HS play so we worked out our strategy the day before," said Frank Marquez, coach for Rag Bag. "We knew Baggs had the speed to go around the corner."

Intramural football games are played evenings and Sundays at Pop Warner field and at the Station training field.

H&HS's Joe Lovan boots the point-after attempt as John Milles holds. The point was good, but not enough to beat Rag Bag who held on to win, 20-14.

Art show

October's University of Hawaii Art Show features the talents of Leeward Community College's art faculty.

The artworks express the individual artist's philosophy of creating new images and forms to stimulate an awareness on how an individual perceives his surroundings. Viewers can browse through the exhibit which includes ceramics, mixed media, screenprints and oil paintings.

The Foyer Art Gallery exhibit opens with a reception at 2 p.m. Oct. 9 and continues through Oct. 26. Hours are Monday-Friday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For more information call 455-0230.

Hawaiian proverbs

An informative and educational lecture presentation on Hawaiian proverbs and sayings will be presented in Waianae Oct. 18 at 7 p.m. at the District Park Gym.

This free lecture is the first in the 1984-85 series of lectures presented by Leeward Community College and the Continuing Education Division of the Kamehameha Schools.

For more information call 455-0230.

USO

USO of Hawaii will celebrate the first anniversary of the USO Lounge at Hickam Air Force Base's Military Airlift Command Terminal at 4 p.m. on Monday.

The lounge operates 12 hours a day for military members or retirees and their families who are waiting for a flight on military aircraft. The lounge offers light refreshments, TV, magazines and cribs for dependent infants.

USO of Hawaii volunteers operate the lounge from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. "We are trying to get additional volunteers to work the late hours, allowing us to stay open 24 hours a day," said Connie Guenther, volunteer manager of the Hickam Lounge.

Mokapu PTSA

The Mokapu Elementary School PTSA will hold a general meeting on Oct. 9 at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Free babysitting will be provided, and all parents are cordially invited.

The PTSA is sponsoring a Halloween carnival on Oct. 27 at Mokapu, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be game booths, pony rides, a haunted house, food, drawings and a costume parade with prizes. The carnival is open to the military community.

Hawaiian culture explored

If you're interested in learning more about Hawaiian culture and natural history, and sharing your knowledge you can become a docent at Bishop Museum and join a team of specially trained volunteer guides.

Classes begin Monday and include sessions on the social, artistic, religious and family aspects of Hawaiian life. The course is 10 weeks long, and classes meet each Tuesday from 9 a.m. until noon.

For information call 847-3511 and ask for Dorothy Weight or the Docent Office.

Canoe pageant

The Polynesian Cultural Center has changed the schedule of its "Voyages of the Pacific" canoe program.

"Voyages" — a colorful pageant of double-hulled canoes decorated with flowers and ferns, islanders, songs and dances — now begins at 2:45 p.m. on the Center's freshwater lagoon. There are short performances in each of the villages at 3, 3:20 and 3:40 p.m. in which the voyagers share and exchange talents with their cousins on shore. In between, they sing and dance aboard the canoes.

At 4 p.m. there is a parade of all the canoes in "Voyages" along the length of the lagoon; and at 5 p.m. there is a fashion parade of canoes.

Dance concert

A modern dance concert, entitled "Changing Room," will be held Oct. 5 and 6 at 8 p.m. at the Jones-Ludin Dance Center, 930 McCully Street.

IF YOUR OFFICE IS FULL OF MACHINES THAT WRITE,

YOU NEED ONE THAT READS.

It's called the Best WorkLess Station™. It reads typewritten information right off the page. And it's fast. So fast, it reads and transfers eight pages into your office computer* in two minutes flat. Which is quite a feat when you consider it would take one hour to keyboard them on a good day. Once you've got the information into the system, you can do just about anything with it. Including word processing, electronic filing, and electronic mail. IBM, Wang, Digital, Exxon, CPT & Most PCs.

With the Best WorkLess Station, your people can spend less time feeding information into the computer. And you can spend more time deciding what to do with the results. Which means, the answer to greater productivity may not be another writing machine. Just one that reads. For more information, contact:

Your family benefits, too.

The experience of being a Marine goes beyond the regular workday. It includes being part of a community that has something in common. It means, when you transfer from one base to another, you'll probably run into friends at that new base. Plus, families can find all kinds of services available to them at Marine Corps bases throughout the world like recreational facilities for the kids. Day-care centers for tots. And events happening on base that families can participate in.

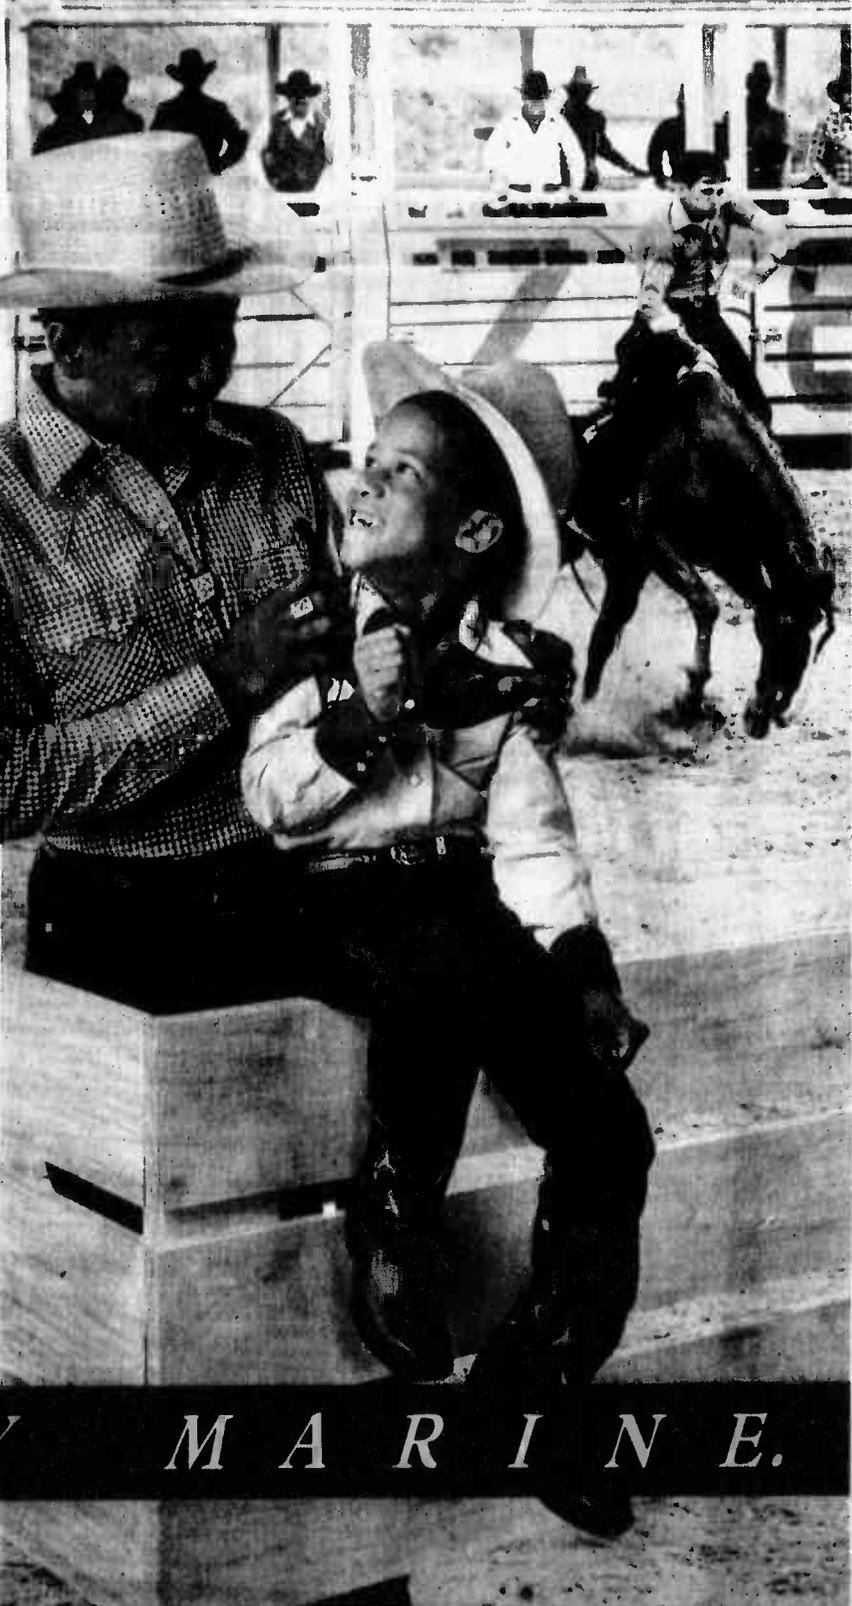

There's also a helpful moving package designed for Marine Corps wives so they can take full advantage of all they have coming to them on a move.

When you look at the security, the medical, educational and retirement benefits available to families through the Marine Corps, there are some good reasons to stay.

You can count on the Corps.

Use helps prevent serious injury or death

by Sgt Theresa Anthony
More children under the age of 5 are killed or crippled in motor vehicles than the total number who are killed or crippled by pertussis, tetanus, diphtheria, measles, mumps, rubella and polio, according to a U.S. Department of Transportation child safety report. Infants and small children are especially vulnerable to death and disfigurement because of their delicate structures. The soft bones of a child can be easily crushed when jammed into an instrument panel or windshield. Cont. on Page B-6 shield of a vehicle. Children may suffer irreversible brain damage, mental retardation, epilepsy or spinal cord injury, which can paralyze them for life.

During 1983, in Hawaii alone, 261 children under the age of 4 were killed or injured in motor vehicle accidents.

The facts are endless, leaving everyone who is made aware of them alarmed, but wiser. As a result, all states, (excluding Wyoming), have passed laws requiring infants and young children to be restrained in safety tested car seats.

Hawaiian law states that children, 3 years old and under, must be secured in a child restraint seat. Children between the ages of 3 and 4, must be seat-belted securely. Non-compliance with this law can result in a court fine of up to $100 for the first offense.

"Child restraints provide more protection than the standard vehicle safety belt," said Toni Snellback, of the Motor Vehicle Safety Office,

Hawaii Marine

DOT. Snellback recommends that parents try before they buy, as common mistakes made in the purchase and use of the restraint can take away from its effectiveness.

There are approximately 50 child restraints currently on the market that are approved by the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Office, but that does not mean that they will properly fit your child and your car.

There are seats specifically designed for an infant or a toddler, and also those that can be converted from infant to toddler size as the child grows. In addition, some child restraints are too large for a compact size vehicle.

"Parents must also be educated in the proper use of the restraint," explained Snellback. Some common mistakes made when using the seat are improper positioning in the motor vehicle, failure to attach it securely to the vehicle's cushion and failure to secure the child safely in the restraint.

Public information programs for seat usage are available through the Highway Safety Office, local hospitals and lending closets.

At the Air Station, the Marine Corps Exchange carries the convertible child restraint which costs between $40 and $50, depending on the model. Families who are waiting for their household goods shipment to arrive can borrow a child restraint from the Family Services Lending Closet for up to 30 days.

Recognizing that the safety of children is of concern of all, Hawaii's Governor George Ariyoshi officially proclaimed Aug. 29, 1984, to be Hawaii Child Passenger Safety Awareness Day.

GLOSSARY

Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) 213
Current federal safety standard; became effective 1/81, ensures that seats are dynamically crash-tested.
3 Point Harness
V-shaped harness; usually used in infant only seat or with a shield or partial shield in toddler seat.
5 Point Harness
Harness comes over shoulders, around the hips, and through the legs. Does not require a shield or armrest for protection.

Full Shield
Designed to absorb crash forces across entire body.
Partial Shield
Designed to absorb crash forces in lap area; must be used with harness.
Armrest
Provides no safety function; must be used with 5 point harness.
Tether or Anchor Strap
Strap attached to rear of safety seat or attached to auto booster harness. Connects to anchor plate which must be secured to auto frame or connects to rear lap belts. If not used, or used incorrectly, protection will be greatly reduced.

Tethered Harness
Harness used with auto booster when shoulder belt is not available. Provides upper body protection. Must be used with a tether strap.
FAA Approved
The designated seats are approved for aircraft as well as auto use.
E-ZON Vest
Tethered vest used with vehicle belt; not a safety seat.

SAVE YOURSELF SOME MONEY, WHILE YOU GIVE HAWAII'S CHARITIES A HAND.

Presenting the Gold C Values Discount Coupon Book for 1984-85

As a community service, for the third successful year, Bank of Hawaii is pleased to sponsor the Gold C discount coupon book.
Each book contains hundreds of valuable coupons which will save you over $1,000! For example: 2 meals for the price of one at many of your favorite fast-food places, dollar discounts at selected fine dining restaurants, special offer coupons for selected merchandise, recreational entertainment, plus much, much more.

Queen • Castle Park • Magoo's Pizza • Popeye's • Wendy's • Orange Julius
This great value book costs just $6, and $3 of that goes to one of Hawaii's charities: Aloha United Way, the YMCA or YWCA, or any other charity you specify. (The remaining $3 goes to Gold C.)

How to purchase your coupon book. Pick up a book at any Oahu YMCA, or the Richards Street or Koko-kahi YWCA (with your $3 contribution going to the 'Y'). Or order by mail using the coupon below. You'll receive your book in a few days and we'll give your $3 donation to the charity of your choice.
Gold C Values. It's a great way to save yourself some money and give Hawaii's charities a hand at the same time.

These are just some of the participating stores: Baskin Robbins • Coca Cola • Hickory Farms • Taco Bell • 7-Eleven • Yacht Harbor Restaurant • Computerland • Longs • Sears • Tower Records • Waldenbooks • Pay 'N Save • Dairy

Political activities of servicemembers

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Although election day remains little more than a month away, the daily news is full of items on candidates.

Military people (and all federal employees) are encouraged to vote and privately support the candidates of their choice. However, legal restrictions stemming from DOD Directive 1344.10 prohibit members of the Armed Forces from participating in some types of political activity. The purpose of the directive is to strike a balance between the individual member's rights to political expression and the need to keep the Armed Forces officially neutral on issues of partisan politics.

Partisan politics encompass more than just the major parties. For instance, support of an "independent" candidate is still considered partisan politics.

To be non-partisan, the issue or candidate must not be associated with any organized group or set of ideals. For example, a non-partisan issue was the campaign to extend the right to vote to citizens 18 years of age or older, which became effective under the 26th Amendment.

DoD Directive 1344.10 defines activities in which active-duty members may or may not become involved. Here are some guidelines for military members:

- You may express opinions on candidates and issues, but only as a private citizen. You may put a bumper sticker on your car, but not a large sign or banner. You may sign petitions which do not obligate you to partisan activity. You may write letters to the editor which do not promote a partisan political cause.
- You may attend partisan rallies as a spectator but not in uniform. You may not make speeches at any partisan gathering.
- You may make an individual monetary contribution to the candidate of your choice through a political organization, but do not donate through other members of the Armed Forces or through a federal employee. You may not solicit contributions from others.
- You may not participate in the management of partisan campaigns or conventions. You may not work — for instance, as a clerk or telephone solicitor — in the office of a partisan committee or candidate.
- You may not be a candidate for partisan office, or a non-partisan candidate for an office requiring full-time service.

— As a general rule, if you can't be sure of the legality of your political actions, don't do it.

The Corps encourages everyone to register early and vote. Contact your unit voting officer for information. If you need an absentee ballot, your voting officer can provide you with a Federal Post Card Application.

Remember — keep your uniform out of politics. The closest it should come to political activity is the voting booth on Nov. 6.

Education

Scholarships available

The Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation is a nonprofit corporation founded in 1962 and encourages needy and deserving children of Marines and former Marines to develop their capabilities with education by providing financial assistance to qualified applicants.

Approximately 300 scholarships, ranging from $500 to $1,500 each, are awarded by the foundation every academic year. Recipients' geographical location does not matter when applying for assistance, as shown by grants awarded to students during 1982-83 who were representing 44 states.

To qualify for scholastic aid, applicants must be the son or daughter of a Marine who has served honorably for a minimum of 90 days and who is either a Marine on active duty or in the Reserves, or a former Marine or Marine Reservist.

The applicant must currently be a senior in high school, a high school graduate or currently enrolled in a certified college or vocational school. The applicant's family income cannot exceed a prescribed limit. For the 1983 tax year, the limit was $25,000.

To request more information on the foundation or to obtain an application for scholarship, write to: Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation, Inc., James Forrestal Campus, P.O. Box 3008, Princeton, N.J. 08540-0908.

The Joint Education Center here has a limited number of brochures on the foundation. For information on what JEC has, call 257-3572.

GUARANTEE A SKILL THAT CAN HELP GET YOU MONEY FOR COLLEGE.

What you do is to combine two Army programs. Delayed Entry and the Army College Fund.

With Delayed Entry, you pick a skill you want to learn, and once you qualify, the Army guarantees your skill training for a year. And you don't go in the Army until it's available.

If you choose a skill that entitles you to participate in Army College Fund, you can earn up to $15,200 for college in a two-year enlistment. It works exactly like a savings plan. You save up to $100 per month from your pay (over $570 per month to start) up to a maximum contribution of $2,400, and the government matches your savings 5 to 1.

Find out all about Delayed Entry and the Army College Fund. Ask your Army Recruiter.

STAND OUT STYLING, POWERFUL PERFORMANCE

Classic custom styling with the Honda difference! The Shadow's advanced V-twin technology, including liquid-cooling, Hydraulic Valve Adjusters, three-valve/dual plug heads, solid state ignition and shaft drive ensure you get all the power and torque you need, plus low maintenance and Honda dependability. The Shadow is the way a custom motorcycle should have been built all along.
