

National Training Center

ROTATION REPORT

"PREPARING OUR MILITARY TO WIN THE FIRST FIGHT." - Brig. Gen. Jeff Broadwater

January 2017 | RT 17-03

BATTLEFIELD CIRCULATION

Brig. Gen. Jeffery Broadwater, NTC Commander with Lt. Col. Mark Liston Commander of 2nd LAR BN during battlefield circulation at the NTC.

The Marine battalion served alongside the 11th ACR enhancing a world class opposing force.

SINGAPORE ARMY

HIGHLIGHT VIDEO

DEVIL COY, 5TH BN IR

Check out this video to see the professionalism of our Stingrays as they successfully concluded Exercise Lightning Strike in the freezing conditions at National Training Center/Fort Irwin. Silent Deadly Swift! Video footages by: Cyberpioneer Video edited by: PTE Tan Jit Jenn (Army News)

www.irwin.army.mil

The rotation report is a publication, highlighting joint readiness training at the National Training Center, Fort Irwin, Calif.

INTERNATIONAL PARTNERS TRAIN SIDE-BY-SIDE

U.S. Army Soldier with the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment slouches in the driver seat after a fierce battle at the embassy gate with Devil Coy, 5th Battalion Singapore Infantry Regiment, city of Razish, National Training Center, Jan. 19. (Photo by Jason Miller Fort Irwin/NTC PAO)

Slouched into the driver seat of a damaged pick-up truck, an insurgent guerrilla fighter notionally takes his last breath after a barrage of gunfire. In front of the embassy at the city of Razish.

This was the fourth attempt in 24 hours to rattle the Soldiers of Devil Coy, 5th Battalion of the Singapore Army Infantry Regiment during their crucible joint readiness training exercise at the National Training Center along with their U.S. partners, the 1st Stryker Brigade Combat Team, 25th Infantry Regiment.

The insurgent was a member of a guerrilla force that had taken refuge in Razish, one of the largest cities with well over 500 buildings in the 1,200 Sq. miles of austere training area. The group had made the city an epicenter for conducting their operations and Capt. Ng Eng Ping, Commander of Devil Coy, was given orders to occupy the city.

"My company along with C Co., 1st Stryker Brigade Combat Team were able to secure Razish with little to no resistance, in other words we caught the enemy by surprise," said Ping. "We occupied the embassy, library and mansion because it gave us the best military advantage point possible to provide security to the people."

2ND LAR CONDUCTS TRAINING AT NTC

The Marines with 2nd Light Armored Reconnaissance Battalion participated in a 10-day field exercise from Jan. 13 to Jan. 23 at Fort Irwin, California as part of Marine Corps Combat Readiness Evaluation Exercise (MCREE) to evaluate their overall unit readiness.

74TH FIGHTER SQUADRON SUPPORTS JOINT READINESS TRAINING AT NTC

Pilots from the 74th Fighter Squadron prepared for future deployments while participating in Green Flag-West 17-03, Jan. 13 - 27, at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev. "The entire purpose of the NTC is to make training as realistic as possible," Busenbark said.

NTC TOP SHOTS

Here are the top photos from the National Training Center Public Affairs professionals.

Left: Capt. Ng Eng Ping, Commander of Devil Coy, 5th Battalion Singapore Infantry Regiment discuss key leader engagement with U.S. Army Capt. Daniel Voorhies, Team Leader for B Co., with 426th Civil Affairs Battalion (Airborne) Ping requested help to influence the area of operations, National Training Center, Jan. 19. (Photo by Jason Miller Fort Irwin/NTC PAO/Released)

Right: U.S. Army Soldiers assigned to 1st Battalion, 5th Infantry Regiment, 1st SBCT, 25th Infantry Division, carry a simulated casualty, National Training Center in Fort Irwin, Calif., Jan. 20, 2017. (U.S. Army photo by Spc. David Devich, Operations Group, National Training Center / Released)

Above: U.S. Army Soldiers assigned to Bravo Battery, 2nd Battalion, 8th Field Artillery Regiment, 1st Brigade Combat Team, 25th Infantry Division, conduct a fire mission using a M777 towed 155mm howitzer at the National Training Center, Fort Irwin, Calif., Jan. 12, 2017. (U.S. Army photo by Spc. Lisa Orender, Operations Group, National Training Center/Released)

Top: Artillerymen with 2nd Battalion, 8th Field Artillery, 1/25 SBCT "Arctic Wolves" execute a fire mission at the National Training Center/Fort Irwin, Calif., Jan. 25, 2017. Field Artillery provides responsive lethal and nonlethal indirect fires to protect and ensure freedom of maneuver for ground forces involved in decisive, shaping, and sustaining operations. (U.S. Army video by Staff Sgt. Sean Brady)

Left: U.S. Army Soldiers with 1SBCT, 25th Infantry Division work alongside their international partners, Devil Coy, 5th Battalion Singapore Infantry Regiment during RSOI at the National Training Center. (U.S. Army Sgt. Michael Spandau/Released)

National Training Center Public Affairs Office
Bldg. 983 Inner Loop Rd., Fort Irwin, Ca 92310
jason.r.miller109.civ@mail.mil

The National Training Center Rotation Report is a newsletter highlighting NTC-related news from the Army and commercial news media. The content is not necessarily the official views of—or endorsed by—the U.S. Government or Department of the Army. It is produced by the NTC Public Affairs Office. To subscribe or submit articles and photographs, please use the contact information on the left or call our office at (760) 380-3073.