

Senior Leaders

Sexual Assault Prevention and Response

"Our mission is to win wars. To win on the battlefield, service members must be able to implicitly trust each other and know that their peers and their leadership have their back." – Dr. Elizabeth Van Winkle, Department of Defense Office of Force Resiliency

On Point

JMC assesses future of the Army at Joint Warfighting Assessment 19

JWA 19 is the Army's premier modernization assessment; weaving material solutions, multi-domain operations, MDO formations, concepts and capabilities at echelon into the Army's largest joint, multinational, live, virtual and constructive exercise aligned to the U.S. Indo-Pacific Command area of operations. JWA 19's mission is to provide critical insights and feedback on Army modernization efforts. With warfighting systems and equipment becoming more complex, the U.S. Army continues to assess and evaluate warfighting concepts and capabilities.

Permanent Change of Station Move

Permanent Change of Station is when a Soldier or civilian has orders to move from one duty station to another. This assignment is for 20 plus weeks. The moving process begins with orders.

101st Airborne Division Welcomes New Senior Enlisted Advisor

Maj. Gen. Brian Winski, commanding general, 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault), pins Air Assault wings on Command Sgt. Maj. Bryan Barker, senior enlisted advisor for 101st Abn. Div. Barker assumed duties as the division's senior enlisted advisor, May 10. (U.S. Army photo by Sgt. 1st Class Carlos Davis)

By Sgt. 1st Class Katrina Craig 101st Airborne Division

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. - Command Sgt. Maj. Bryan Barker became the 33rd command sergeant major of the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) during an assumption of responsibility ceremony outside McAuliffe Hall, the division headquarters, May 10.

Soldiers of the division, along with families and members of the Fort Campbell community, gathered to welcome Barker, who comes to the division from 5th Armored Brigade, First Army Division West, at Fort Bliss, Texas.

"I was not sure I would be able to arrive, in-process, sign for my house, start Air Assault School, and receive my household goods all within 24 hours, but with the momentous effort of the incredible team here we pulled it off," said Barker.

This was Barker's second ceremony of the day, as he had just graduated Air Assault School that morning. He said he insisted on going through the rigorous 10-day training before starting his new position, just as he would expect of his "Screaming Eagle" Soldiers.

Maj. Gen. Brian Winski, commanding general, 101st Abn. Div., said he picked Barker to be his senior enlisted advisor because his career uniquely prepared him for the position. In his remarks, Winski said Barker had belonged to several unique "tribes" from within the Army, speaking of characteristics and cultures unique to units like Army Rangers, Airborne and mechanized infantry units, and the Army Reserve.

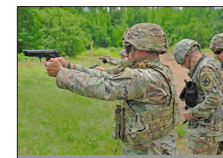

"Senior leaders from every tribe praised Barker's exceptional leadership," said Winski.

FORSCOM in the news

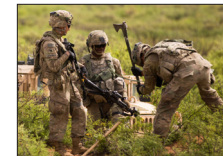

Col. Michelle K. Donahue and Soldiers attending the 49th Transportation Battalion's award ceremony salute the American Flag during the National Anthem.

Sgt. Alan Haney, 142nd Field Artillery Brigade, Arkansas National Guard, trains for the upcoming annual TAG Match, during Annual Training at the Fort Chaffee JMTC, May 12.

Soldiers use an axe to clear brush in order to maneuver and set up an effective fighting position during a gunnery qualification training event, May 7.

A Soldier with Task Force Desert Knights hangs tight while conducting aerial hoist training operations on board a UH-60 Blackhawk in Afghanistan, April 2.

Cpl. Tara Spurgeon, 1-189th Aviation Regiment, Salem, Oregon, removes landing cables after flight mission complete during Exercise Maple Resolve, May 10.

Meet your Army

Capt. Lisa Kasper, an emergency room nurse assigned to 3rd Brigade Combat Team, 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault), inserts an intravenous needle into a patient during a training exercise at Fort Campbell, Ky., May 1. (U.S. Army photo by Maj. John J. Moore)

TOP SHOTS

Here are the best photos from FORSCOM Public Affairs professionals worldwide. For more photos and information, click these photos or visit army.mil/forscom

Left: 11th Armored Cavalry Trooper holds his position against incoming elements of the 2nd Armored Brigade Combat Team, 1st Cavalry Division, National Training Center, Calif., April 11. This defense will test the 2/1 ABCT Cav's ability to attack and hold a foreign city. (U.S. Army photo By Sgt. Justin May)

Right: Spc. Bichthuy Truong of the 804th Movement Control Team records incoming vehicle shipments as part of her task at Exercise Maple Resolve 19-01 during an annual brigade-level validation exercise. (U.S. Army photo by Spc. Jermaine Jackson)

Above: A team of Task Force Heavy, Soldiers conduct refueling operations at the Forward Arming and Refueling Point in Afghanistan ensuring aviation operations continue without delay. (U.S. Army photo by Capt. Roxana Thompson)

Above: New Jersey National Guard troops with the 104th Brigade Engineering Battalion in Port Murray, New Jersey, maneuver a surveillance vehicle after its landing during Exercise Maple Resolve 19-01, 3rd Canadian Division Support Base Detachment Wainwright, May 11.

Left: Spc. Brendan Szymanski, a wheeled vehicle mechanic with the 180th Transportation Company, discusses development plans during engineering competition with Canadian Army soldiers during Exercise Maple Resolve 19-01, May 8. (U.S. Army photo by Spc. Khylee Woodford)

This week's
FORSCOM
PA Summary
(CAC required)