Fort Riley administers first COVID-19 vaccine

Dr. Andrew Bloom, the Fort Riley EMS medical director, was the first recipient of the COVID-19 vaccination at Fort Riley, Kansas, Dec. 23, 2020. Bloom spoke about what it meant to him to receive the vaccine and his confidence in its effectiveness. You can view his words in the video linked here.

Get Digital Garrison App, enter AAFES sweepstakes

The Digital Garrison mobile app helps Fort Riley Soldiers, Army families, retirees stay in the know— and now it can help them win a $100 Exchange gift card. For a chance to win, Fort Riley shoppers should download the free app, sign into their ShopMyExchange.com account via the app and then enter the sweepstakes online at ShopMyExchange.com/sweepstakes. Sweepstakes runs Dec. 16 – Feb. 10 with a winner every week.

Last chance to give feedback on Fort Riley housing

Fort Riley leaders are committed to making changes and improvement for residents of on-post housing but they need to hear from you and there are only a few days left to complete the Army Tenant Satisfaction Survey. The survey period ends Jan. 15, 2021.

Fort Riley's Podcast

This week we take you to the floor of the COVID-19 Vaccination facility. Fort Riley's Irwin Army Community Hospital staff explain why the vaccine is important to them. We also hear how it is prepared.
