22d's NCOs refresh 203 firing skills

Andrew Kell
Combat Correspondent

TEULADA, Sardinia – Bloop! Bloop! The distinctive M-203 grenade launcher was heard in Sardinia when the small unit leader of the 22d Marine Expeditionary Unit (Special Operations Capable) fired during the recent Teulada Fire Training 1-01.

"The job for the 203 is to get rounds on the enemy ..."

Cpl Winston Nolasco
Team Leader
2d Platoon, Charlie Company

Members from Battalion Team, 1st 8th Marines, set made targets to create with staggered targets at different distances. Team lead-ly corporals, fired their indirect-fire weapons into the rolling, rocky hills.

The job for the 203 is to get rounds on the enemy when they are in spaces, areas where you can't hit them directly with rifle fire. Cpl Winston Nolasco, a team leader in 2d Platoon, Charlie Company. "Italy has a lot of dead spaces because of all the hills and elevations."

BOARD USS KEARSARGE - "Assemble the Crisis Action Team in the flag-plot briefing room." That was the phrase heard throughout the USS Kearsarge's public announcement system several times over a 7-day period, beginning a barrage of missions testing capabilities of the 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit.

The 24th MEU completed its Special Operations Capable (SOC) certification March 26 after five months of intensive training. The 24th MEU (SOC) is now certified to perform a variety of operations during its deployment, such as mechanized raids, task force insertions, embassy reinforcements, boat landings, humanitarian assistance, non-combatant evacuations, casualty operations, tactical recovery of aircraft and personnel, visit board search and seizures and airfield seizures.

Bataan prepares for cruise

Welcomes Marines aboard

Cpl Thomas Michael Corcoran
Marine Combat Correspondent

ABOARD USS BATAAN- It seems as though Marines are constantly preparing for something ... some time in the field, a change of duty station or a deployment.

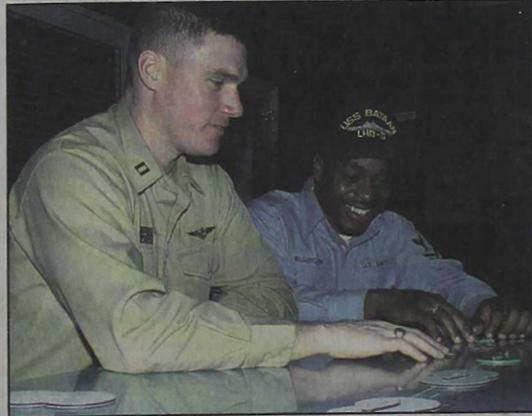

And it may seem that no one is ever prepared for Marines, whether it's the locals at an urban terrain exercise or the enemy that waits over the beach.

However, there's one group of people preparing to take on the Marines right now. They are the Sailors of Amphibious Squadron Eight getting ready for exercises and the six-month deployment that will follow with the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit.

Petty Officer 2nd Class Marcus S. Washington, USS Bataan aviation boatswain's mate, explained there is an 18-month cycle between deployments.

He said as soon as the ship gets back from deployment they begin a shipyard cycle for the repair and upgrade of equipment. Shortly after the shipyard they start their workup cycle.

QUICKSHOTS

B.O.L.D.

This week at LCTV-10, Happenings meets with Sheila Pierce, president of Bettering Our Local Downtown, to hear about future plans and events that will affect its neighbors in Jacksonville. Also, don't miss SOTG instructor 1stLt Dennis Hager as he talks about the Scout Swimmers Course.

Beach Cabanas

Onslow Beach patrons will no longer have to wait until the last minute to plan a family vacation. Effective Monday, Onslow Beach has new rental policies for their lodging facilities.

Whether it's a day at a cabana or a weekend planned for one of the trailers, there are now three lodging packages available to all potential occupants. For more information, contact the Reservation Office directly at (910) 450-7502.

Phone Prefixes

Marine Corps Air Station, New River, Camp Geiger and the Greater Sandy Run area now has a new calling prefix.

Instead of dialing 450, callers now need to dial 449.

This change was effective April 1, in conjunction with their DSN change from 750 to 752.

The telephone number changes will be published in the 2001 telephone directory.

Prize Drawing

Don't forget about the final prize drawing for the Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society 2001 Fund Drive. It will take place tomorrow at noon at the Main Exchange.

MajGen Ronald G. Richard is scheduled to announce the winner of the $5,000 grand prize. Come out, have lunch, and see who wins.

EMA

Supply and Logistics Specialists Take Note!
EMA's Looking for You!

Supply Specialist - As a member of our Team based in Charleston, SC, you'll travel worldwide to inventory and label USMC C4I IOS/TCO material. You'll handle each assignment from initial activity contact, through material search, inventory, and tagging, to the exit report to the Team Lead and Government sponsor. You'll also provide general support to the IOS/TCO Program Lead. In addition to a high school diploma and 3 years of related logistics/supply experience, this position requires 2 years of experience in Microsoft Access, Excel, and Word. You must have a complete understanding of material control and storage and be familiar with Defense Reutilization Material Services (DRMS). Experience in database development and management or secondary schooling is a plus.

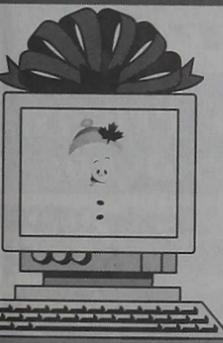

Logistics Analyst - With our Charleston Team, you'll provide logistics support to the USMC TEG and JSTARs C4I programs. You'll research supply sources, obtain vendor quotes, monitor shipping and track inbound material; and coordinate material storage, control, and issue. You'll manage "in house" material for loans; maintain a database of and report on program material; develop and maintain ILS-related program documentation; research and verify material allowances; and help field and follow-up on material. You'll travel approximately 25% of the time. This position requires a high school diploma and 4 years of USMC logistics/supply experience, plus 2 years of experience in Microsoft Access, Excel, and Word. Experience in database development and management is a plus.

If you've got strong communication skills, are a team player who can interface with a variety of individuals, and can handle multi-tasking in a dynamic environment, one of these positions may be just right for you!

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know
Brought To You
by Ryan Lanier

Surprisingly, of all the 65 Heisman Trophy winners in college football history, ONLY 6 are now in the pro football Hall of Fame. You'd think there would have been more, but there haven't. The only Heisman winners in the pro football Hall of Fame are Earl Campbell, Tony Dorsett, Paul Hornung, O.J. Simpson, Roger Staubach and Doak Walker.

One of the strangest cases in sports concerns big league baseball manager Davey Johnson. He's finished FIRST OR SECOND in 11 of his 12 full seasons as a manager -- and yet he's been fired by 4 teams, the Mets, Reds, Orioles and Dodgers.

A 57-year old retired policeman, Freddie Crockett of Roanoke, Va., has been playing golf for years. He never made a hole-in-one in his life - but on July 17, 2000, he made TWO in 30 minutes. He made a hole-in-one on the second hole, and then made another one on the fourth hole, 30 minutes later.

I bet you didn't know that Tire Country has FLOWMASTER MUFFLER
