VP-45 Returns Home After Successful Deployment

By Lt.j.g. Kyle Hering
VP-45 PAO

“The World Famous Pelicans” of Patrol Squadron (VP) 45 returned to Naval Air Station Jacksonville Oct. 4, following a six-month deployment to the 7th Fleet area of operations.

VP-45, consisting of 304 personnel and seven P-8A Poseidon aircraft, deployed to Kadena Air Base, Japan in May 2021 and assumed command of Task Force 72.2, which is responsible for conducting anti-submarine warfare, theatre security cooperation, and intelligence, surveillance, reconnaissance operations in 7th Fleet.

The deployment was led by the squadron’s Commanding Officer (CO) Cmdr. Charles Larwood and Cmdr. Seth Eisenmenger, the executive officer at the time, who ‘fleeted up’ as CO during the deployment.

“VP-45 is no stranger to the Pacific or the geo political intricacies of the region”, said Eisenmenger. “We proudly represented American values in the region and reinforced the importance of international law through operations that ensured freedom of movement in the maritime domain. It is inspiring that we not only provided regional stability but had a positive impact on the global stage.”

The squadron was an essential asset in 7th Fleet, accomplishing over 440 sorties, totaling 2,750 flight hours, leading to increased cooperation with our partners and providing a forward presence which ensured a free and open Indo-Pacific.

On June 7, VP-45 held its 79th change of command ceremony, during which Eisenmenger relieved Larwood as commanding officer and Cmdr. Stephen Bruner became the new executive officer.

“My first impressions of VP-45 were that everyone on the team displayed refreshing, well-placed pride—pride in the mission, and pride in each

VP-10 Comes Home after Six-Month Deployment

From VP-10 Public Affairs

“The Patrol Squadron (VP) 10 “Red Lancers” have returned home from a six-month dual-site deployment in support of the Navy’s 4th and 7th Fleets. Throughout the deployment, VP-10 safely executed 516 sorties and flew more than 2,800 hours across 11 locations. They successfully executed 26 detachments from its Misawa, Japan hub, El Salvador and reestablished operations in the Philippines.

The Red Lancers conducted anti-submarine missions, search and rescue efforts, humanitarian and disaster relief flights, and counter-narcotics missions while assigned to Command Task Force (CTF) 47 and CTF-72.

Operating primarily out of Misawa Air Base in northern Japan, VP-10 supported 7th Fleet efforts around the Indo-Pacific region. Throughout deployment, the squadron successfully executed multiple detachments to the Republic of the Philippines, Australia, Sri Lanka, Alaska, Singapore, Atsugi, Okinawa, Wake Island, Iwo Jima, and Guam.

During their detachments, VP-10 flew in support of multinational exercises Talisman Sabre, Cooperation Afloat Readiness and Training Sri Lanka, and Pacific Griffin.

VP-10 also took the lead on a ‘first of its kind’ four-squadron detachment to Wake Island in support of high interest anti-submarine warfare (ASW) operations. The month-long prosecutions took the Red Lancers to new latitudes in the North Pacific and included recurring aerial refueling operations, continuing to expand the P-8A's ASW reach.

VP-10's ASW proficiency and tactical innovation exceeded all expectations of multiple supported Command Task Forces under the purview of Commander, U.S. 7th Fleet. Along with ASW missions, VP-10 continued to conduct maritime intelligence surveillance and reconnaissance (ISR) missions throughout the Indo-Pacific region.

Operating out of Forward Operating Location Comalapa, El Salvador, the Red Lancer team flew missions in support of joint, interagency Operation Martillo.

Their mission was the detection, interdiction, and seizure of illegal narcotics in both the Pacific Ocean and Caribbean Sea. Throughout deployment, VP-10 coordinated with the U.S. Coast Guard and partner nation assets to seize more than 19,284 kilos of cocaine valued at $1,349,880,000.

When Haiti was devastated by a 7.2 magnitude earthquake on Aug. 14, the El Salvador detachment's ready launch provided the first aerial images of the impacts to U.S. Southern Command. Over the next 17 days, all three of VP-10 El Salvador based aircrews, assigned to CTF-47 executed 241.1 flight hours in support of Haiti Humanitarian Aid and Disaster Relief (HADR) missions by providing ground ISR and air communication and coordination for JTF-Haiti.

Following the HADR flights, VP-10 participated in Teamwork South 2021, a bi-lateral exercise with partner nation Chile. Operating out of Santiago, VP-10 executed multiple ASW training flights in coordination with both American and Chilean units.

Primarily stationed at Misawa AB, though spread throughout detachment locations, VP-10 maintenance continued their exemplary performance, expertly handling the day-to-day maintenance operations of a deployed squadron. They managed rigorous scheduled maintenance inspection evolutions for seven theater P-8A Poseidon aircraft. VP-10 maintainers were integral to ensuring that each and every mission succeeded throughout the entirety of deployment.

The Red Lancers defined an expeditionary force this deployment with its global reach of agile and lethal maritime patrol P-8A Poseidon aircraft. VP-10's contributions led to strengthened partnerships with numerous allies which will have lasting impacts in the Indo-Pacific, Latin America, and Caribbean areas of responsibility.

other,” said Bruner. “The genuine care and ownership I observed in VP-45 immediately put me at ease, and I knew then that even with the burdens of deployment, COVID, and dynamic tasking, the Pelican team would not let the mission or each other fail.”

As to highlight the dynamic and fast-paced environment, VP-45 conducted a search and rescue mission on the same day as the change of command, which resulted in the successful rescue of a lost mariner.

On July 14, VP-45 joined Talisman Sabre, a large-scale, bilateral military exercise between Australia and the U.S. involving more than 17,000 participants from seven nations. The biennial event is designed to strengthen relationships and interoperability with allies and partners as well as enhance the U.S. military’s ability to address the full range of potential security concerns in the Indo-Pacific.

The next major milestone was the 25th iteration of Malabar, an exercise off the coast of Guam. Beginning Aug. 24, its primary focus was on advanced maritime tactics as well as improved interoperability between the four major naval forces in the Indo-Pacific region, the Royal Australian Navy, Indian Navy, and the Japan Maritime Self Defense Force.

Throughout the entirety of its deployment, VP-45 continued to execute missions that were critical to America and its allies’ interests. This included conducting 52 live weapon carries, dropping 4,250 sonobuoys, and receiving over 1.5 million pounds of gas in air-to-air refueling.

Operating out of nine different detachments required a dedicated maintenance department. VP-45’s pivotal role in 7th Fleet could not be accomplished without the 88,844 maintenance hours from 164 Sailors who worked endlessly to ensure the aircrews were able to accomplish missions on station.

As VP-45 returned home and the Sailors reunited with their loved ones they will take a moment to reconnect and become acclimated.

“Transitioning from the operational tempo of a deployment into a work up cycle does have its challenges but this team has built a solid plan to meet the requirements,” said Eisenmenger. “Once the team returns from some well-deserved time off, our focus returns to building the combat force ready to execute our nation’s needs.”

Bruner looked to the future, bearing in mind the lessons of this deployment.

“We continue to take care of each other while we re-build the next deploying maintenance and aircrew teams that will honor and swell the winning Pelican reputation,” Bruner said.

Bruner also highlighted the ‘Pelican pride’ as the core of each Sailor of VP-45, which he says represents the perseverance and unequivocal devotion to duty that the Sailors display and allows VP-45 to be the best patrol squadron in the United States Navy.

“I’m most proud of the dedicated VP-45 Sailors, who, together, consistently muster the pride and put forth the effort to win—no matter the conditions or complexity,” said Bruner. “The Pelican Sailors bring it, always. They are the strong foundation of the squadron and reliably deliver superhuman results every single day.”

Eisenmenger is looking to the future and says his Sailors are the key to continuing a great tradition.

“The Pelicans have a long standing history of operational excellence and the team we have now whole heartedly embraces this legacy and continues to hold the standard,” he said.

GO JUICE: Leaders Think BIG

Always looking at the BIG picture, leaders know that their success is only as great as their goals. As David Schwartz said, "Where success is concerned, people are not measured in inches, or pounds, or college degrees, or family background; they are measured by the size of their thinking."

If we consistently show the people we are developing the BIG picture and keep stressing possibilities rather than problems, they will start thinking BIG themselves!

A quality leader does not focus on just themselves and their individual success. They think BIG about the organization in which they serve and the people surrounding them. To mature others, we must teach them to think in terms of how they can promote others, mold others, and take along others.

How BIG we think determines the size of our potential accomplishments!

If we think BIG, and others around us invest into our vision, far greater things are yet to come!

86 Nease NJROTC cadets promote at fall ceremony

From NEASE High School NJROTC

Nease NJROTC held four separate Promotion & Award ceremonies spanning two days recognizing the cadet corps for exceptional performance during the first quarter.

Of the 211 cadet battalion, 86 cadets earned promotions for successfully passing a rigorous promotion exam as well as meeting conduct, fitness and performance requirements. Additionally, cadets received more than 445 individual awards for exceptional achievement in the areas of community service, school service, physical fitness and participation on one or more of the program's competitive teams.

Cadet company commanders directed formal military ceremonies during their respective class periods. As part of their hands-on leadership training, Cadets organized, planned and executed the entire ceremonies.

"Attending (Area-12) Leadership Academy last summer helped me prepare for moments like this," said

Delta Company Commander Emmelie Neff. "Sitting in a classroom and learning how to put together a major ceremony on paper is one thing, but actually leading one in front of the parents, military recruiters and school administrators was both nerve-racking and exhilarating."

In addition to Neff, Company Commanders Daniel Mahoney, John Alves and Anthony Tucker led their cadets in ceremonies with all of the formal customs and courtesies seen in active duty events. Proud parents pinned the new ranks on their cadets. Local recruiters from the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps presented many of the awards. "Nease NJROTC is a living, breathing leadership lab," said Senior Naval Science Instructor Capt. Scott LaRoche. "Cadet leaders organized these ceremonies demonstrating the same leadership skillsets that junior officers in the fleet possess."

The most prestigious awards presented during the day were the Sailors of the Quarter awards – given to the top performers from the past quarter. Cadets Ruhi Shanbhag and Theresa Thomas received these esteemed awards.

Nease NJROTC has been recognized as the #1 NJROTC unit in Area-12 (northern Florida and Georgia) for four consecutive years, and was the #2 Most Outstanding Unit in the nation this year.

ALLIGATOR SAFETY

- American Alligators are a native protected species of Florida.
- It is ILLEGAL to feed or harass an alligator. Subject to 6 days in jail and $500 fine if you feed an alligator. (Fla. Admin. Code R. 68A-25.001.)
- Once an alligator is fed it associates food with humans and become too friendly. Then, it begins to approach people and must be removed. When removed, it will be killed by trappers.
- While on the Installation be alert and aware of your surroundings especially near any body of water. If you are walking a dog, be sure to keep it on a leash and away from the water.
- DO NOT throw food scraps, trash, fish scraps, etc. in or near any body of water.
- If you encounter an alligator it is best to leave it alone and give it space. Alligators are shy and tend to avoid human contact.

MOSQUITO SAFETY

- Avoid applying repellents to the hands of children. Adults should apply repellent first to their own hands and then transfer it to the child’s skin and clothing.
- If additional protection is necessary, apply a permethrin repellent directly to your clothing. Again, always follow the manufacturer’s directions.

Cover doors and windows with screens to keep mosquitoes out of your house.

- Repair broken screening on windows, doors, porches, and patios.

To determine which repellent is right for you, consider using the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s search tool for skin-applied repellent products.

DOH-Clay continues to conduct statewide surveillance for mosquito-borne illnesses, including West Nile Virus, Eastern Equine Encephalitis, St. Louis Encephalitis, Malaria, and Dengue. For more information, visit DOH’s website for mosquito-borne and other insect-borne diseases or call your local county health department.

Florida residents are encouraged to report sightings of dead birds via the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission’s website for surveillance of wild-bird die-offs.
