LtGen. L. F. Chapman Jr. To Be 24th Commandant

Lieutenant General Leonard F. Chapman Jr., was named Monday by President Lyndon Johnson to succeed General Wallace M. Greene as Commandant of the Marine Corps.

General Chapman will take over the Corps top post January 1, and will become the 24th Commandant of the Marine Corps. He is presently the Assistant Commandant.

A veteran of more than 30 years as a Marine, General Chapman was commissioned a second Lieutenant July 8, 1935.

He took part in the early Pacific raids aboard the USS Astoria in World War II at Midway and the Coral Sea. He earned the Navy Commendation Medal as commander of the Marine detachment.

Later in the war, he commanded an artillery battalion with the 11th Marines, 1st Marine Division and earned the Bronze Star Medal during the battle for Peleliu and Okinawa.

His post-war assignments included service at FMF, Pacific; the Division of Plans and Policies, Headquarters Marine Corps; Amphibious Warfare School, Senior Course, Quantico, Va., and he was Chief of the Supporting Arms Group, Marine Corps Development Center, Quantico.

In 1953, he sailed for Japan as a Regimental commander of the 12th Marines and the following year he became commanding officer of Marine Barracks Yokosuka. In 1956 he was commanding officer of Marine Barracks, Washington, D.C.

He served at Camp Lejeune as a brigadier general in July, 1958, as commanding general, Force Troops. As Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4, at Headquarters in 1961, he earned a second Legion of Merit.

When General Greene, became commandant on January 1, 1964, General Chapman was appointed Chief of Staff of the Marine Corps and promoted to Lieutenant General.

When the Assistant Commandant, LtGen. Richard Mangrum, retired on July 1, 1967, he was named to take the Corps second highest post. For his service as Chief of Staff, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

Gen. Greene Decorated

General Wallace M. Greene, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, will be presented the Distinguished Service Medal by President Johnson at White House ceremonies in Washington on December 13 at 1:00 p.m., according to a recent Headquarters Marine Corps announcement.

General Greene will be recognized for exceptionally meritorious service to the Government of the United States while serving as Marine Corps Commandant since January 1, 1964. He is scheduled to retire from active service Dec. 31, upon completion of his normal four year term of office.

General Greene, a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy's Class of 1930, has served as a Marine officer for more than 37 years. He is the Corps' 23rd Commandant in its 192-year history.

LTGEN. L. F. CHAPMAN JR.

Parade Field To Be Named For First CO

The base parade field will be named W. P. T. Hill Field next in honor of Camp Lejeune's commanding officer, the Major General Hill.

The ceremonies will take place on Wednesday. General Hill's widow will be on hand for the dedication ceremony which will unveil the bronze plaque that has been placed behind the swing stand on the field.

Armed wishing to attend the ceremony should be at the Parade Field by 10:45 a.m. In addition, close friends and relatives of officers who served at Camp Lejeune during the early days of construction of the base will be on hand for the ceremony.

General Hill, then a Lieutenant Colonel, commanded the base for a short period in 1941, then turned over his command to supervise construction of our present base. The formal ceremony will include music by the 2d Marine Division Band, reading of the late general's chronology of his career and remarks by the Commandant's representative.

General Hill was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for "his remarkable achievement in constructing a permanent base under demanding wartime conditions."

BLT 2/6 Returns; BLT 1/8 To Carib

Battalion Landing Team (BLT) 2-6 will arrive at Morehead City starting at 6:30 a.m. Dec. 11.

Dependents and friends may meet the returning BLT members at the Area One Service Club on River Road, near the entrance to the Naval Hospital, starting at 4 p.m.

No one is allowed at the docking area.

The BLT is returning on the following ships: USS Guadalcanal; USS Ft. Mandan; USS Waldo County; USS Algol and USS Suffolk County.

Battalion Landing Team 1-8 (BLT 1-8), commanded by Lieutenant Colonel John H. Miller, departed Dec. 5 for a routine training deployment in the Caribbean as part of the Caribbean Ready Force.

BLT 1-8 will relieve BLT 2-6, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Paul B. Haigwood, which has been on station in the Caribbean since August.

Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 365, 2d Marine Air craft Wing, from the New River Air Facility, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Richard M. Cooke, will provide the helicopter support during the training deployment.

While in the Caribbean, the BLT will conduct extensive training operations utilizing support tanks, artillery and helicopters.

During the deployment the BLT members will have an opportunity to visit many of the historic liberty ports throughout the Caribbean area.

LEGION OF MERIT - Captain Joseph M. Piatt wears the Legion of Merit Medal with Combat "V", presented to him by Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, commanding general, 2d Marine Division. Capt. Piatt received the medal for exceptionally meritorious service while serving with the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

The Time Has Come

That time of year referred to as the "Holiday Season" is approaching again.

The big holidays, Christmas and New Year's, mean long weekends or leaves for most of us. There are also parties and shopping trips that become more frequent during this season of the year.

With the long weekends and family get-togethers, we'll be spending more and more time in our automobiles, making full use of the highways and city streets.

However, the additional traffic helps create more than seasonal excitement. It creates more and more opportunities for traffic accidents of all types.

Couple the increased traffic volume with longer hours of darkness, winter driving conditions, and driver fatigue and inattention, and you have the ingredients for real holiday tragedy on the highway.

Now is the time for everyone to give serious thought to their driving habits, before getting involved in the holiday season ahead.

We are going to have to be more careful, more alert and more courteous than ever on the highways.

Constantly and conscientiously apply all the rules of good driving which are all too often neglected. And remember that courtesy, consideration and defensive driving will help you and the other guy—have a safe, happy, holiday season. (AFPS)

Sowing The Seed

All of us probably know the parable of the sower and the seed. Christ tells that, if the word of God has not yet made a great change in us, it is not the fault of the seed. Nor is it the fault of the sower, — the preacher. EVERYTHING DEPENDS UPON THE SOIL UPON WHICH THE SEED FALLS.

The first type of hearer is a person hardened, impenetrable, macadamized by habits. The seed falls there and remains on the surface. If the thoughts with which some people occupy themselves during the time that God is trying to touch their hearts were to be revealed, most of us would be shocked.

The second class is that of the superficial. They are sentimental enthusiasts, all on the surface. They do not know themselves, their egotism, their inconstancy, their pride offer great opposition to the word of God. Everything they hear touches them but leaves not the least mark. They hasten to repeat to others the thoughts that they heard in the sermon, and NEVER LET THEM TAKE ROOT IN THEIR OWN SOULS.

The third class is the good, rich soil in which the word of God can take root. These are people of mature mind, but they hasten to choke the growth of the seed for fear that it might take hold of them and lead them too far. They are occupied with their work and find their present life so well filled that they feel that they have a right to neglect their eternal life. They are too intelligent to bow to the simplicity of the GOSPEL.

And finally, there is the good soil which receives the seed with gratitude and lets it come to fruition. Where is the field in which the word of God bears fruit? I am not afraid to tell you that the ones among you who have recognized themselves in the first three categories, are that soil. "That one is myself. He is speaking about me." They take it to themselves, open their hearts and give the seed a chance to grow. They allow themselves to be judged by the word of God in order that they may not be condemned by it on the last day.

Applications To Be Accepted For State Department

Applications are now being accepted by CMC from Staff NCO's interested in an unaccompanied tour of special foreign duty with the Department of State.

Marines requesting the duty must meet several qualifications which include: waving their overseas control date and to be Vietnam returnees.

Applications are also being accepted from personnel in any MOS, not eligible for proficiency pay, to fill Marine Security Guard School (State Department) quotas.

Grade substitutions of sergeant for corporal and lance corporal are authorized. Waiver of certain requirements will be considered providing the applicant has a recommendation from his commanding officer or field grade officer.

Marines Urged To Report Changes Affecting Housing

Marines living in Government housing with their families are required to report any changes in rank, organization or family size to the Base Housing and Quarters office.

An increasing number of cases appearing before the Base Housing Board reveal that failure to report these changes have resulted in the sponsor and his dependents being deprived of the family quarters they deserve.

Prompt reporting will, in most cases, eliminate any undue delay in moving into new quarters.

Postal Course For Marines

A course designed to prepare out-going Marines for civilian service postal careers is underway here as part of "Project Transition" program.

The course, under the direction of Wilmington postmaster Charles T. Burke, is one of several different types of courses being taught at the base. Of 36 servicemen enrolled in a similar class conducted last year at Fort Knox, Ky., 29 passed the civil service exam and became qualified for post office employment.

At the conclusion of the 40-hour, 10-day course, which covers the processing of various types of mail, the Marines will be given civil service examinations for the positions of mail carrier, clerk and mail handler. Camp Lejeune is one of the pilot sites designated by the Department of Defense for "Project Transition," an effort to assist returning veterans in finding gainful employment and help them make the transition to civilian life as swiftly as possible.

Project Transition was first outlined in President John F. Kennedy's April 1967 Manpower Report to Congress. Each service is currently conducting a pilot project to study ways and means of putting the project into actual operation.

1/6 Company Top In Drill

"A" Company, 1st Battalion, 6th Marines topped all competi- tors in the 2d Marine Division drill competition.

The unit, composed mostly of Vietnam veterans, led the three other competitors in all four phases of the competition. The company, commanded by First Lieutenant Carl Allen, took first place in the inspection, company drill, platoon drill and squad drill phases.

In the squad drill, Sergeant Frank Riggio's squad shattered all previous records in the competition.

Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, expressed his congratulations and pride in the company's outstanding show during a speech made to the unit on November 30.

The competition was conducted in the parking lot adjacent to the Goettge Memorial Field House here.

Units from the 10th Marines, soldier, Sgt. Eberhardt returned to his unit to obtain assistance and once again entered the dense brush. After maneuvering within one meter of the enemy soldier he killed him.

2d Shore Party Battalion and the 8th Marines finished second, third, and fourth respectively.

The 2d Marine Division association's "Follow Me" trophy for the drill competition will be presented to the company during the celebration of the division's 27th anniversary in February.

TO SPEAK --- Dr. James T. Cleeland, dean of the Duke University school of theology, will be the guest speaker at Camp Lejeune's Protestant Chapel this Sunday for the 9:15 and 11 a.m. services. The public is cordially invited.

RAdm. Yon Visits Here

Rear Admiral J. L. Yon, Medical Officer, 5th Naval District, arrived here Nov. 26 for a two-day inspection tour of medical and patient treatment facilities.

The tour began with a call on Major General Joseph O. Butcher, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, and Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, commanding general, 2d Marine Division. He later visited the United States Naval Hospital and conferred with Captain J. H. Sutor, commanding officer, on patient treatment at the hospital.

The admiral inspected the Naval Field Medical Services School at Montford Point and the Naval Field Medical Research Laboratory at Hadnot Point.

Other stops on his tour included visits with the commanding officer and medical officer of both the 1st Infantry Training Regiment at Camp Geiger and the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River.

The admiral was accompanied by his wife, Sally, and Captain F. L. Westbrook, medical officer, 5th Naval District.

Upon completion of his inspection tour, guided by Commander L. A. Peppier, hospital administrative officer, the admiral departed Wednesday from the Marine Air Station at Cherry Point for Headquarters, 5th Naval District, Norfolk, Va.

FLYING CROSS AWARDED -- Captain Michael H. Harper, Jr., receives the Distinguished Flying Cross from Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, 2d Marine Division commander. Capt. Harper received the medal for heroism and extraordinary achievement while serving with Marine All Weather Fighter Squadron-235 on July 4 in the Republic of Vietnam. When a malfunction occurred during a bombing mission, he brought his pitching aircraft under control and managed to land the crippled craft with one-half of his bomb load still attached to the aircraft. Capt. Harper is presently serving with 1st Battalion, 8th Marines.

18 NATO Surgeons Visit Base Facilities

Eighteen NATO surgeons toured Camp Lejeune in November. The doctors represented seven allied countries and military establishments.

Through the inter-command cooperation of Marine Corps Base, 2d Marine Division, Naval Field Medical Research Laboratory and Field Medical Service School, the officers attended briefings and observed many of the activities at Camp Lejeune.

The doctors arrived at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, from the ACLANT Headquarters, Norfolk, Virginia, Friday morning and were transported here by helicopter.

Captain J. M. Hirst, USN, Chief of Entomology Division, Naval Field Medical Research Laboratory, accompanied the doctors to Camp Lejeune and acted as their escort officer for the tour.

The first stop for the surgeons was the Counter Guerrilla Warfare School. There, the doctors observed training methods used.

After visiting the school, the officers called on Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, division commander, 2d Marine Division.

After lunch, the doctors toured the 2d Medical Battalion before calling on Major General Joseph O. Butcher, base commander.

Next, the doctors proceeded to the Naval Field Medical Research Laboratory for a tour and briefing.

Saturday, the officers attended a briefing at the Field Medical Service School given by Captain B. F. Duwel, USN, commanding officer of the school.

BATTLEFIELD COMMISSION -- Second Lieutenant Fred L. Migliorini receives congratulations from Colonel Lester G. Harmon, commanding officer, Marine Corps Engineer Schools, upon his "battlefield commissioning." The promotion was the result of Lt. Migliorini's bravery and leadership abilities while serving with the 3rd Engineer Battalion, 3rd Marine Division in Vietnam. Lt. Migliorini's wife, Keiko, admires the new bars. He is presently serving with the Marine Corps Engineer Schools here.

Onslow District Boy Scouts Honored Here November 30

Onslow District, Boy Scouts of America, honored its scouters at a recognition banquet held Nov. 30 in the Tarawa Terrace Community Center.

More than 200 scouters from Onslow County, Camp Lejeune and New River Air Facility attended the annual affair staged to recognize the work done by adult scouters in the Onslow County scouting movement.

Following a "Pot-luck" dinner, Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, 2d Marine Division commander, addressed the gathering. Following the general's remarks Master of Ceremonies Lou Cabral opened the awards ceremony which included the presentation of the District's highest recognition for adult scouters, the Council Compass Award. Mr. Howard Polbos, cubmaster of Cub Scout Pack #590 was the recipient of this honor.

The District's second highest scouter award, the Green Band, was presented to Mr. Lou Cabral, Mrs. Martha Reichstein and Mr. Mack Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. James Drew, Mr. & Mrs. Glaston Poole, Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Medina and Mr. Lloyd Horadan received the Onslow award.

Thirty-five letters of appreciation and special recognition were also presented to various recipients.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. Cabral presented his own award, the "Good Egg Award" to three people who in his words "had been a good egg in their work with scouts." Those receiving this honor were Gen. Wheeler, Mr. Nelson Jones and Mrs. Priscilla Wellington. Cabral has given 52 of these awards during his many years with the Scouting Program.

The program ended with the installation of Mr. Hugh McGlaughon, vice president of the First National Bank in New River, as the chairman of the district council for 1968.

The scouting movement in Onslow District includes more than 1300 boys and numerous adult leaders organized into 33 Explorer Posts, Boy Scout Troops, and Cub Scout packs.

Failure to Report Earnings Is Costly

Reporting the earnings of household help for social security purposes continues to be an area of wide misunderstanding, according to Adrian Hatfield, District Manager for Social Security at New Bern, N. C.

Mr. Hatfield emphasized that the law is very specific on this matter. The earnings of a person working in or around a private home must be reported if they amount to at least $50 cash in a three-month calendar quarter.

This is not a matter of choice for either the worker or the employer. A report of the earnings and the tax must be turned in to Internal Revenue Service at the end of the quarter.

"Failure to report can be costly and embarrassing," said Mr. Hatfield. In a recent case, a maid had worked for a lady for several years without her earnings being reported. When the maid came in this year to file for social security benefits, the error was discovered.

The employer was required to pay back taxes over several years plus penalty and interest charges for late reporting. "This amounted to a sizable sum of money all at one time," Mr. Hatfield pointed out. "If the earnings had been reported timely and spread out over several years, the amount would have been insignificant."

Many people do not realize that part-time household work is covered by social security. "The cleaning woman who comes in one day a week and makes as little as $4 a day will have earned over $50 by the end of a quarter," Mr. Hatfield added. "These part-time wages must be reported."

For more information on household workers, how to report and how to get the report forms, call or write your social security office. The New Bern Office is at 308 New Street; telephone 637-4101.

Activities

OWC Group VI

Group VI of the Officers' Wives' (OWC) Club will meet for a special Christmas luncheon at the Officers' Club on Dec. 13.

The events, planned by Mrs. J.F. Mader and the ladies of Second Engineers Battalion, promise to put you in the Christmas mood. All Officers' Wives' Club members are invited. The cost is $1.65.

All those attending are asked to bring something (gifts, food, decorations) they make for Christmas tagged with their name. The OWC Choral Group will sing carols and a 50 cent gift exchange is also planned.

Reservations may be made by calling the following hospitality hostesses by noon Monday, Dec. 11: Patty Sorrell, 346-3559; Bev Johnson, 353-3203; Lee Garr, base extension 6-6827; Mary Jean Baumgardner, 353-3867; Josie Pallang, 347-2838.

Any reservation cancelled after noon on Monday, Dec. 11 will be charged. Call early for sitter service reservations.

OWC Group II

MCB-62 Trains with 3rd Bn., 6th Marines

There was heavy fighting on the front this week, and while there were plenty of Marines nearby, they didn't join in the title.

The front was in one of the any wooded areas of Camp Lejeune, and the shooting was part of a field exercise climaxing an intensive training program for the Seabees of Mobile Construction Battalion (MCB) 62.

More than 530 men from the Seabee Battalion arrived here about three weeks ago from their homeport at the Construction Battalion Center in Gulfport, Mississippi.

Since then, the Marines of the 3rd Battalion, Sixth Regiment, have served up a thorough, in-depth and somewhat grueling program of ground warfare instruction to the construction men.

With weeks of instruction crammed into a few days, the Seabees have undergone training in communications, field medicine, infantry weapons, field messing, leadership, mine warfare, bridge building, counter guerrilla warfare and individual combat techniques.

Some of the time was spent in the classroom, but mostly, the Marines employed their favorite - "learn-it-by-doing-it-yourself" technique to polish up the fighting skills of the Seabees.

For many of the Navy builders this meant crawling over a good portion of Camp Lejeune's 180,000 acres on patrols, fighting their way out of simulated ambushes or blowing up earth, trees and chunks of metal with a wide variety of weapons.

The training began for MCB-62 on the Monday before Thanksgiving, and the four-day holiday weekend provided a welcome break from the work in the field.

Classes resumed on the following Monday, and the training was unusually intensive during the second week to make up for lost time.

The field problem this week put MCB 62's fighting abilities to the test. Early Monday morning the Battalion marched to its defensive area, encountering ambushes and sniper fire along the way. Once there, the Seabees set up a bivouac and dug in to defend their position for two days and nights.

During this period the construction men were attacked by Marine aggressors and MCB-62 Seabees who had gone through the 2d Marine Division's Counter Guerrilla Warfare School earlier in the training.

While the men were dug in they ate canned field rations and slept in sleeping bags under shelter halves between vigils in the fox holes.

The Battalion passes in review in honor of the host Battalion, the 3/6 Marines today to wind up the training here. Tomorrow the first of seven flights will take off to begin MCB-62's return to the CB Center, Gulfport.

The instruction here at Camp Lejeune is actually the second phase of military training for the men of the Seabee Battalion. Before arriving here they had two weeks of classroom and field training plus a week of target firing with the M-16 rifle.

For most of the Seabees, this was the second time through the training program at Camp Lejeune. The first time was about 11 months ago, shortly after the Battalion was activated.

Since then MCB 62 has spent about eight months in the combat area of South Vietnam. Deployed at Phu Bai, Battalion Seabees erected buildings and bridges, built highways and worked with the Vietnamese people in civic action projects.

The Battalion took part in one of the largest Marine operations in Vietnam, Operation Prairie, providing support for the 3rd Marine Division.

The construction of an interrogation center in the city of Hue for the use of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam, a road through Viet Cong held territory from Phu Bai to the South China Sea and a field hospital for Alfa Medical Company, 3rd Marine Division, are among the achievements of MCB-62 Seabees during their deployment.

The Battalion was also responsible for maintenance of all water, electrical and road systems in the Phu Bai Combat Base and for the establishment, operation and security of a rock quarry in an outlying area.

MCB-62 expects to meet new kinds of challenges when it leaves for a second Vietnam deployment in late January. There will be other roads to build and bridges to mend, and there will be the ever present threat of enemy attack.

Of course, like any fighting men, the Seabees hope that they will never be involved in battle. But if the occasion arises, they will be ready to call on their Lejeune combat training and the Seabee "CAN DO" spirit to fight for their country in the best American tradition.

FINE POINTS — 1stLt. William Schaaf, commanding officer, "A" Company, instructs Cpl. Charles E. Blasier in the fine points of keeping his truck in top condition. They received many hours of technical training to be able to repair any piece of their equipment.

By LCpl. Robert R. "You call, we'll haul" is more than just a motto with the 8th Motor Transportation Battalion, Force Troops, 1st Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C. The way of life, ranging from the snows of North America to the tropics of the Caribbean, and the balmy climate of the Panama Canal Zone, is a constant challenge.

Wherever Marines of the Atlantic Fleet Marine Force are called upon to serve, the units of the Battalion are there to "haul on call."

The "Motor T," as it is known, has come a long way from the days of transportation used in World Wars One and Two. In action in the front lines, the 8th Motor Transportation Battalion in 1919 saw the Marine transport the Jeffrey Quad truck at a speed of 35 miles an hour. The vehicles of today are the most modern transportation units in the world.

The battalion has 27 units of mobile transportation, including a single lift, the motorized transport of the battalion, and more than 2,000 Marines, 1,500 tons of cargo.

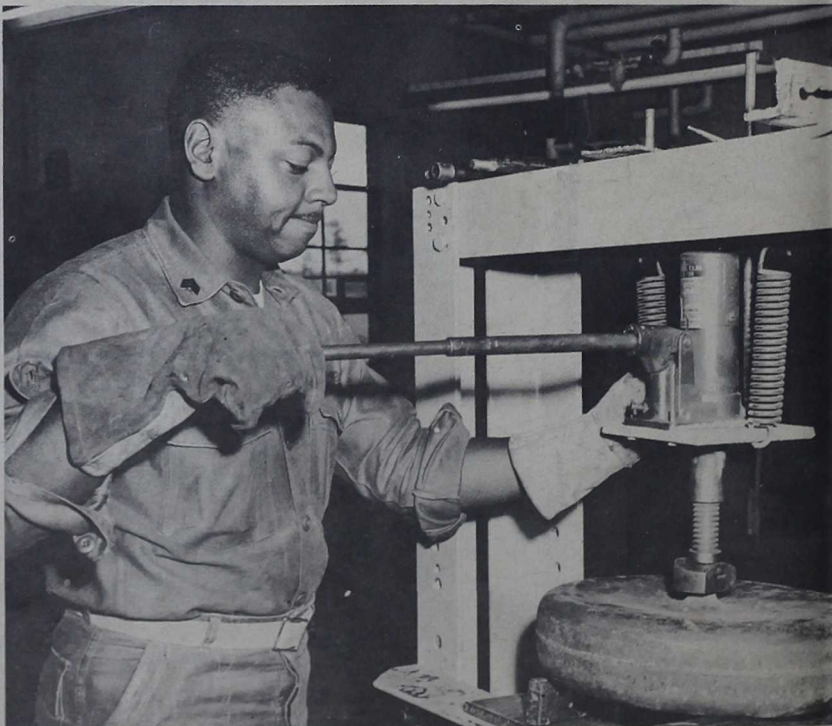

This is in addition to the specialized equipment such as trailers, radio jeeps, ambulances, wreckers, and low-bed trailers.

The battalion, one of the five Force Troops units, is one of the busiest organizations in the

Marine Pugilists Pound Prison Champs

The Marine Corps boxing team belted the North Carolina State Prison champions last Saturday night at Goettge Memorial field house before an estimated 2000 fans. The Devil Dogs won eight matches and lost two as they KO'd five of their opponents.

Private Willard "The Chief" Phillips was named the outstanding fighter of the match. Phillips locked horns with James Murray in a light middleweight bout and engaged in a toe-to-toe slugfest that never let up.

Murray was a "hard guy" throughout the fight as he proved he could take it, and take it he did as "The Chief" staggered him with a right-left combination in the second round. Murray was bleeding from the nose for the rest of the fight as Phillips garnered a unanimous decision.

Sergeant Art Redden continued his domination of the U.S. amateur light heavyweight division when he won a unanimous decision from Stanley Johnson, 1967 North Carolina State light heavyweight champ.

Redden concentrated on Johnson's midsection in the first round. In the second round he caught Johnson with a right hook-left hook combination that turned Johnson's legs into rubber. The N.C. champ held on the rest of the round.

In the third round Redden pressed his man but Johnson found his strength and held off the Marine to avoid a knockout.

The flyweight bout ended in 1:56 of the second round as Richard Williams fell to the canvas, a victim of a steady stream of punches to his body and a tremendous right hook thrown by Sergeant Larry Armendariz.

Williams bounced around like he knew what he was doing as he bothered Armendariz with his southpaw style in the first round. In the middle of the second round Armendariz slowed his man down with a straight right to the stomach and the end came thirty seconds later.

Welterweight All - Marine champ Richard Royal knocked J.C. Davis, prison light middleweight champion, clear off his feet with a left hook in the second round of their fight to score a knockout in 1:03 of the same round.

Corporal Hinton Wilson fought for the Marine Corps team for the first time this year and scored a knockout in 40 seconds of the second round. Wilson dropped Ernest Johnson with a right-left combination with 30 seconds to go in the first round and floored him again near the end of the round with rights to the head.

A left to the stomach and right to the head put Johnson out on his feet and he was unable to protect himself. The referee stepped in and stopped the fight at this point.

Corporal Cecil Beverly got hold of another fireball in the bantamweight bout. Segundo Garcia raced around the ring after the elusive Beverly for the first minute of the fight.

After that first outburst Beverly kept up a steady barrage of combinations, with a straight right snapping Garcia's head back late in the first round.

Garcia ran out of gas in the second round and "Bey" massacred him. The referee stopped the fight with 6 seconds left in the round.

Fighting for the second time in his life, Lance Corporal Fran Allen stopped Linell Copeland in the featherweight bout.

Lefty Allen scored mostly with right and left hooks to the body for the first two rounds. In the third round Copeland was out on his feet from the constant pounding dished out by the Marine. The referee stopped the fight in 56 seconds of the final round.

Lance Corporal Les Brown won a unanimous decision from Larry Leak as he pressed his fight all the way. Neither fighter landed many punches but Brown chased his man all over the ring.

Lance Corporal Al Browner continued his hard luck story as he lost a split decision to James Thomas in their light weight bout.

Thomas was a tough opponent and Browner chased him around and around the ring. Each time Browner got too close, Thomas let loose with a flurry of punches that caught Browner once too many times.

Corporal Thayer Borel dropped a split decision to John Harris in another lightweight bout. Borel stalked his man throughout the fight but continually beat Borel to the punch when the Marine finally caught up to him.

Fight Results

Flyweight - Sgt. L. Armendariz knocked out R. Williams in 1:56 of second round.

Bantamweight - Cpl. C. Beverly knocked out S. Garcia in 1:54 of second round.

Featherweight - LCpl. F. Allen knocked out L. Copeland in 56 seconds of third round.

Lightweight - J. Harris won a split decision from Cpl. T. Borel.

Lightweight - Thomas won split decision from LCpl. Al Browner.

Welterweight - LCpl. L. Brown won a unanimous decision from L. Leak.

Light Middleweight - Cpl. R. Royal knocked out J. Davis in 1:03 of the second round.

Light Middleweight - Pvt. W. Phillips won a unanimous decision from J. Murray.

Light Heavyweight - Cpl. Hinton Wilson knocked out E. Johnson in 40 seconds of the second round.

Boxing Team Fights At Syracuse Saturday

The Marine Corps boxing team will fight in Syracuse, N. Y. tomorrow night. The Syracuse Boy's Club and the Marine Corps League are sponsoring the boxing program which pits the Marines against an all-star team made up of fighters from Detroit, Cleveland, New York, and Philadelphia.

"We'll find out how good the national competition is," said Lejeune trainer J. C. Davis. "All of the men we will face will be tough," continued Davis.

The main event will feature Sergeant Art Redden, Pan American Games light heavyweight champion against Leonard Hutchins, 165 lb. National AAU Champion.

Hutchins is now fighting in the light heavyweight class. "I've seen Hutchins and he looks real good. It will be a good fight," said J. C. Davis.

"Hutchins is more of a boxer while Redden is more of a puncher. Hutchins is just a young kid and he is growing. He is real good as a middleweight but he will not be as strong as Redden because Red is a natural light heavyweight."

"I think Red can take him. It all depends who's on that night," said Davis.

In addition to Redden, boxing coach Ray Rogers is taking eight other fighters with him for the match. The Marine lineup will include: Sgt. L. Armendariz - featherweight; P. Cordero - bantamweight; C. Beverly - bantamweight; Al Browner - lightweight; L. Brown - light welterweight; R. Royal - welterweight; W. Phillips - light middleweight;

H. Wilson - middleweight; Redden - light heavyweight.

"Royal looked real good Saturday night. He fought the best fight I ever saw him in, I put it all together in that I sure hope he keeps it," said Davis.

Three fighters have been let from the boxing team for disciplinary reasons by Coach Rogers. At the beginning of the season Robers had said that no one ever permanent on the team. "I keep the best fighters on the team. We don't keep people who won't follow the training rules."

Lejeune Outdoors

By Staff Sergeant Bill Adams

I am glad that I can finally say that someone has killed the first turkey of the year. Ironical as it may seem, there were two "Toms" taken on Saturday, after 15 days of open season.

One "Tom" was killed by Cpl. D. Langford of "A" Co., 8th MT. Bn. in the H area and the second was taken by Mr. J. Rouse, who lives near Jacksonville. He was hunting in the IB area with an organized hunt.

Both "Toms" weighed 14 lbs. and had 11 inch beards.

For those of us who haven't taken a turkey from the woods as yet, we still have a chance for one before Christmas. The Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring a Turkey Shoot in time for the Holidays. The shoot will be held at the Staff Wives Sitting Service on Holcomb Blvd. at 10 a.m. on December 17, and will continue until the sporting blood or daylight gives out.

The club will provide all shells and some shotguns for the individuals who do not own their own. Join us and have a try at winning a free turkey. Winners will be announced later.

I have received information concerning two Marines who helped a young deer to safety. One of the men was GySgt. C.K. Barron, 2d Radio Bn., and the other one is known only by the name of Nick. (If anyone has any additional information please contact me.)

The deer was seen in the water off Onslow Beach and these men, thinking it was injured, attempted to rescue it. After a considerable amount of NCO type tactics and numerous ice water dunkings, the deer was rescued.

Although the young "button" buck did not have visible injuries, it was decided that he was full of salt water.

Gunny Barron loaded the kicking deer into his car and brought it to the game protectors office. Later it was taken to the Base Animal Shelter.

The Base veterinarian was called and the deer was given a checkup. After an overnight stay at Mainside, the deer was taken back to the beach area and released. We hope the little fellow is a little wiser in the future concerning the "whens" and "wheres" of swimming.

On the other side of the coin though, the records at the game protectors office show that five doe had been slaughtered in the Verona Loop, about 10-14 days ago, by a greedy and stupid person. I say greedy because they took only the hind quarters and left the rest to rot.

Killing a doe is a federal offense which carries a $100 fine and up to 30 days in jail, plus a six month probation period.

FMFLant Football Title Up For Grabs

Camp Lejeune is currently hosting the FMFLant Eight-Man Tackle Intramural Football Championship. All games are being played at Liversedge Field.

The tournament started December 7 with the championship game scheduled for 7 p.m. on December 14.

Four Teams are entered in the tournament. The 2d Division team is made up of All-Stars from the Headquarter Bn. and 2d Service Bn.

Force Troops has entered a team made up of all-stars from every team in their league.

Cherry Point is represented by the MAG-31 team and Beaufort, S. C. has entered a team from MAG 24.

The teams are playing a single elimination tournament with one game per day on the tourney schedule.

See-Saw Battle

Hq. Bn. Wins All-Camp Football Championship

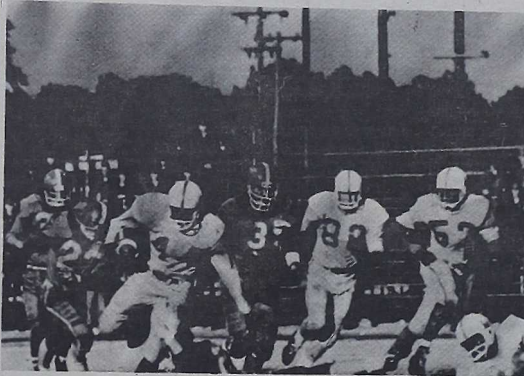

Headquarters Bn. walked away with all the marbles Friday afternoon, as they came from behind to defeat previously unbeaten 8th Engineers, 13-12 for the Base Intramural Football Championship.

The Engineers grabbed the opening kickoff as speedster Ralph Edwards galloped 75 yards for a TD. The PAT was no good. Late in the first period the Engineers came alive again. They opened up with a Billy Wright pass to his tight end Jack Hays, good for 40 yards to the enemy's 25. He tossed a second bomb to Ralph Edwards, Edwards had his man by 10 yards, but dropped the pigskin in the end zone. Edwards redeemed himself moments later when Wright rolled out to the left and hit him with a scoring toss.

Neither team was able to mount a scoring drive during the remainder of the second period, and the half ended with the Engineers holding a decided 12-0 edge.

Second half activity saw a revitalized Hq. Bn. come roaring out on the field. They received the opening kickoff and stormed 70 yards in 13 plays, scoring on a 10 yard pass from quarterback R.A. Green to his halfback Dehman. Jerry Holmes scored the PAT, and Hq. Bn. was suddenly back in the ball game.

Hq. Bn. had the ball on their own 50 as fourth period action got under way. They relentlessly drove to the enemy 7 and on first and goal Green sneaked over for the tally.

Devilpups Whip Jones Central In BB Opener

Camp Lejeune High School kicked off its basketball season Saturday night, getting off on the right track with a 62-54 win over Jones Central.

The Pups came out of the gate fast, grabbing a quick 17-6 advantage in the first period, and held on to it for the rest of the game.

Jones Central attempted to close the gap, but an 11 point deficit and Lane Argetsingers outside shooting was too much to handle. Argetsinger copped the scoring honors for both teams, pumping in 22 points. He connected on 10 field goals and was 2-2 from the line.

Balancing out the Pups scoring punch were Ron Caves, Rick Gutekunst and Roy Ogle. Caves was good for 14 points and Gutekunst and Ogle each tallied 10.

Tony Criscitello led the Jones Central effort with 18 points and was assisted by Rick Franks with 14 and Danny Yates with 11.

MOVIE REVIEWS

The Flim Flam Man

While hitching a ride on a freight train, Curley Treadaway, an army escapee, spies the crumpled body of Mordecai Jones springing headlong from one of the speeding cars. Thus the mood for the ensuing cinematic offering is set.

Mordecai, shaking of his injuries, turns out to be the Flim Flam Man, a roguish, but amiable aged con man, a swindler with a touch of creative genius. Curley becomes his angelic partner in crime.

Both men revel through the story playing their trade and leaving a host of irate citizens in their wake. Shifting from countryside to city, the dynamic duo caters to the greed of "honest" men.

The zany comedy features Michael Sarrazin as Curley Treadaway; George C. Scott as Mordecai Jones and Sue Lyon as Bonnie Lee Packard, the lovely young lass who falls in love with the rascally hero. In color.

The Tiger And The Pusycat

The Tiger and the Pusycat details a middle aged man's vain attempt to perpetuate his youth through an ill-conceived affection for a young flirt.

The film romps through parks and discotheques dramatizing the harried hero's total entrapment. Finally, after shattering a marriage and destroying the faith of his son, the hapless victim of infatuation admits that his hope for acceptance has been dragged in the dust of refusal.

"The Bobo"

A zany story about a singing matador who must win the most capricious, beautiful, frivolous woman in all Barcelona in order to get a bull-fighting contract. Peter Sellers stars as the matador and Britt Ekland as the coquette. Rozanne Braid gives a supporting performance as a millionaire.

Tobruk

This action-packed war adventure boasts a all-star cast, an award winning director, a multi-million dollar budget, and some of the most realistic battle scenes ever to appear on the screen.

The plot depicts the true story of a little-known World War II incident wherein a handful of soldiers are sent to destroy the huge guns at Tobruk, thus destroying or at least limiting Rommel's maneuverability.

The stars include Rock Hudson as a Canadian Army officer, Guy Stockwell as a German officer and George Peppard as the Teutonic leader of a unit of German-born Jews who are fighting on the side of the British. In technicolor.

The Hellbenders

The Hellbenders blaze their way across the West—their six guns barking defiance to surrender as they crash forward in a desperate attempt to reconstruct a war machine from the ashes of ruin left by the Civil War. This flick stars Joseph Cotton in his best horse opera since "Duel in the Sun".

"Rage"

A suspense-filled story about a doctor who is hiding from himself and a beautiful girl who brings him to his senses.

What's New on the Bookshelves

WINSTON S. CHURCHILL: YOUNG STATESMAN 1901-1914

by Randolph S. Churchill
This history takes the story of Churchill's life from his election to Parliament in 1901 to the outbreak of WW I in 1914 and shows explicitly the forging and tightening of that mainspring which drove him for so long.

THE CODE BREAKERS

by David Kahn
This is the thrilling account of the making and breaking of methods of secret communication—the most complete and most accurate ever written.

THE TROUBLED GENERATION

by Rudolph M. Wittenburg
The author, a practicing psychoanalyst, writes for all people involved with complex problems which may arise during the post-adolescent period of young adult development.

THE PLAYBOY BOOK OF HUMOR AND SATIRE

Between the covers of this book you'll find the hilarious work of the most gifted contemporary comedic talents, including selection by Woody Allen, Art Buchwald, Allan Sherman and many more.

THE FALL OF JAPAN

by William Craig
Here for the first time is the exciting and often incredible story of the final weeks of WW II in the Pacific. William Craig has masterfully reconstructed the tumultuous military and diplomatic events which signaled the end of the Japanese Empire.

THE FRAIL OCEAN

by Wesley Marx
The problem of air pollution is everywhere in the news these days, yet few people realize that the oceans of the world are likewise imperilled. Written with vividness and power, this is an account of the mighty ocean and of the delicate balance that has preserved it throughout the centuries.

NUCLEAR WAR AND NUCLEAR PEACE

by Y. Hackabi
This book deserves special merit, insofar that it will serve both as a textbook for the study of modern strategy within the framework of international relations, as well as an introduction for the laymen to the intricacies of modern strategy and its ramifications.

USO National Director Visits J'ville Chapter

Justin M. Morrill, United Service Organization's executive director, visited the Jacksonville USO last week.

Accompanied by Mr. Thomas D. Hinton, executive director of National Catholic Community Service, Mr. Morrill inspected the work and achievements of the local USO and talked to the local committee members.

In his address, Mr. Morrill commented on The growth of the USO and the contributions and co-operation received from Camp Lejeune. The staff workers of the club were congratulated for their untiring effort to make the USO "a home away from home" for the servicemen stationed in the area.

Following his talk, both Mr. Morrill and Mr. Hinton were presented keys to the city from Mayor Bruce Teachey for their contribution to the success of the local USO and the City of Jacksonville.

After observing a night's activity at the USO and how the servicemen enjoy themselves, Mr. Morrill approved a recommendation for enlarging the present USO building with aid from the national organization.

Tarheel Girl Adopts Vietnam Wing Unit

By Cpl. R.R. Keene

CHU LAI — An 18-year-old Rockingham, N.C. girl has adopted 33 Marines of Marine Aircraft Group - 12 at Chu Lai.

About a year ago, Trudy Lynn Hammond wrote a letter to Headquarters and Maintenance Squadron-12. Perhaps she confused a squadron for a squad, but Trudy, then a junior at Rockingham High School, said that she wanted to do her part for the war effort by adopting, as brothers, a squadron of Marines.

She went on to say that her intentions were to correspond with the Marines, send Christmas and birthday cards, and make homemade cookies and candy for her "brothers."

1stLt. Ray B. McClellan was given the letter to answer.

"Although H&MS-12 appreciated Trudy's enthusiasm," smiles McClellan, "I had to explain to her that a squadron of approximately 520 officers and men might be too large for one person to handle."

McClellan suggested that she might try to adopt a section within the squadron and described the various sections and their functions.

Trudy picked the ground support section which supports MAG-12's A-4E Skyhawks and A-6A Intruders by supplying and maintaining aircraft starting units, bomb loaders, air compressors and gun pods.

McClellan told the 33 men in the section about Trudy and her idea.

Since that time, Trudy has become a well-known personality and a friend to every man in the section. Every one of them has received mail from her.

"She never misses a birthday," says pl. Richard Henning. "When I arrived in Vietnam, I got a get-acquainted letter from her and every letter since has been a good morale booster."

Marine Bags Viet Cong Without Firing A Shot

By Sgt. Larry L. Saski
DA NANG — Pfc. Cliff J. Garrett captured a Viet Cong without firing a shot recently.

His platoon, part of "K" Co., 3rd Bn., 1st Marines, was near the hamlet of Viem Dong, Quang Nam province, five miles southeast of Da Nang. Two squads took a break to eat while the third swept through the hamlet.

The Marines had just taken off their packs when Garrett heard someone talking. No one was found.

A few minutes later, Garrett heard talking again. This time he found someone.

"As I went down the trail," Garrett explained, "I saw a VC with his back to me."

Garrett started walking up to him as quietly as possible but before he reached him, the VC turned around.

"I brought my rifle to my shoulder and told him to come here but he started to yell," Garrett said. "I put my arm around his neck and mouth and held him."

Garrett looked to his right and saw another VC in the brush. He gave the captured VC to his platoon commander and fired at the enemy in the brush, but the VC got away.

"I told the lieutenant to move back," Garrett said, "because I figured VC were all around us by then."

"We started moving back down the trail when a VC jumped out of a tree and started down the trail. I shot at him, but he also escaped."

The Marines finally made it back with the captured VC, and later learned that the two escaped VC had been killed.

Cong Soldier Stalked By Indian Methods

Four Marines applied Indian Style methods in stalking an enemy and ended up killing one North Vietnamese soldier and capturing his Chinese communist assault machine-gun.

The Marines were from 2nd Bn., 1st Marines and were participating in Operation Medina, a nine day operation in the mountainous jungles 15 miles south of Quang Tri.

The action began when "E" Co., was cutting its way down into one of the many mountain ravines and came upon a large clearing being used by the enemy as a patrol base camp.

Apparently the enemy had been in the area that morning for the Marines found freshly-dug fighting positions and pieces of dry paper.

The Marines didn't have long to wait to verify their estimates.

A machine gun opened up from within the nearby dense jungle brush. The initial burst of enemy firstwounded three Marines and another Marine was wounded by a grenade.

While the Marines were momentarily pinned down by the enemy, squad leader Cpl. Tilo Oesterreich and a group of Marines began crawling Indian-style into the brush to seek out the enemy's position.

"It was pretty thick going in there and we were all trying to keep quiet," said LCpl. Dennis K. Knobloc, the point man of the "brush" patrol.

"When he opened up again on the Marines, I got his general direction and started over that way," Knobloc said. "Then I saw a head of black hair and a set of eyeballs peering over the nearby river bank and I let him have it with my M-16."

The NVA was dead when the Marines arrived at the position. The soldier was clutching a live Chi-com grenade.

LCpl. Dita, who had previously received demolitions training, gently spread the dead enemy's fingers apart to remove and disarm the live grenade.

"It was pretty tense there for a moment, I must admit," concluded Kita.

The Marines captured the machinegun complete with 300 rounds of ammunition.

It was the second Chinese machinegun that Kita had helped capture during the operation.

The day before, his squad killed an NVA carrying a similar machinegun.
