Legion Of Merit To Colonel E. L. Bale

The Legion of Merit with Combat "V" was awarded to Colonel Edward L. Bale, Deputy Chief of Staff, Force Troops by Brigadier General John E. Williams, commanding general, Force Troops.

Colonel Bale was cited for his meritorious service as Assistant

Chief of Staff, G-4 and subsequently as Deputy Chief of Staff, Headquarters, First Marine Division in Vietnam from September 1966 to October 1967.

His citation read in part, "Colonel Bale serving as Assistant Chief of Staff G-4 was confronted with tremendous logistical responsibilities resulting from the displacement of the division to the Da Nang area while simultaneously maintaining logistical support in the Chu Lai tactical area of responsibility."

"He supervised and effected the displacement within a period of four days, traversing a distance of 64 miles through hostile territory."

"Colonel Bale planned and coordinated the expeditious construction of needed facilities both in the Da Nang and Chu Lai areas, while continuously improving communications throughout the command."

"Reassigned as Deputy Chief of Staff on 28 June 1967, Colonel Bale continued to exhibit the same qualities of dynamic leadership."

"Charged with many complex and sensitive projects as special representative of the commanding General, he was responsible for collecting factual information regarding the combat performance of the new M-16 rifle."

"Personally supervising a team composed of ordnance experts, he ensured that special instructions regarding care, cleaning, safety and maintenance procedures for the M-16 were provided at all echelons, including small unit leaders who were charged with presenting classes to their own personnel. As a direct result of his efforts, significant improvements in the effective use of the rifle were made within the division."

attack by a North Vietnamese company.

According to the citation, Maj. McAfee, "... the only American remaining.... requested tactical air support.... and stationed himself under the direct fire of the enemy in order to direct and adjust air strikes and artillery fire. He moved continually between the helicopter landing area and the defense perimeter, directing the medical evacuation and adjusting air strikes and artillery support."

Awarded the Silver Star Medal for his service as a squad leader with "E" Company, 2d Battalion, 1st Marines, was Sergeant Jack Centers of Military Police and Guard Company.

Sgt. Centers was cited for his heroic action during Operation Union when a perimeter area guarded by the sergeant's squad came under attack.

After 30 minutes of fighting Sgt. Centers was seriously wounded in the back making it impossible for him to walk or stand.

The citation said Sgt. Centers, "... crawled to the positions occupied by his men to direct their fire, render words of encouragement and comfort the wounded."

New Life Insurance Benefits Servicemen

When the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) went into effect in 1965, it was the first government-sponsored policy for servicemen since the Indemnity program ended in the mid 1950s.

SGLI is different from that program and from the Government Life Insurance offered during World War I and II. Persons having either of those policies can still get the SGLI coverage.

Unlike past government policies, SGLI is carried by commercial firms rather than the government, under a single master control. The policy, however, does not continue after you get out as did the old War I and II policies.

A serviceman has 120 days after he leaves active duty, for any reason, to convert to permanent Life Insurance; there are several variations.

A good reason not to pass up the full $10,000 at $2 a month SGLI coverage is that if a person later changes his mind about the policy, he will have to meet certain requirements, including the passing of physical tests of commercial firms. Unless a serviceman says no, the $2 will be deducted from his pay automatically. He may specify the $5,000 coverage at $1 a month.

At present SGLI coverage is limited to personnel on orders for more than 30 days of active duty. There is no proposal to provide insurance coverage for reservists on training tours.

One main feature of the SGLI coverage is that there are no limitations on who can be named the beneficiary. The serviceman is allowed to name any individual or a group such as a school, church or a charity.

No physical exam is required and the rate is the same for a serviceman in top health as one separated or retired for physical disability. And no war exclusion clause is permitted.

Not all companies insure in all areas. You can get a list for your area by writing the Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark, N.J. 07102.

No Standby On Holiday

Military reservation fares which allow servicemen on leave to travel on civilian airlines at two-thirds the usual fare will not apply during the Christmas and New Years holidays, according to Marine Corps Bulletin 1050 dated Nov. 20, 1967.

A majority of civilian air carriers have advised that special rates will not apply during the holiday period because of the high rate of travel.

Military reservation fares will not apply during the following times:

0001 Dec. 15 thru 2400 Dec. 16
1200 Dec. 17 thru 1200 Dec. 18
0001 Dec. 20 thru 1200 Dec. 23
1200 Dec. 24 thru 1200 Dec. 25
1200 Dec. 29 thru 1200 Dec. 30
1200 Dec. 31 thru 2400 Jan. 3

Additionally, Defense Department officials have cautioned servicemen that travel by military standby fares during the holiday will be difficult, since unreserved seats will be extremely limited.

That upon transfer, discharge, or release from active duty, policyholders of National Service Life Insurance and United States Government Life Insurance are directed to forward change of address cards to the Veterans' Administration. See MC Bulletin 1741-10 Nov 67.

Div. Band In Concert

The 2d Marine Division Band and the Camp Lejeune Community Chorus will present a Christmas Concert at the camp theater December 13, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The concert is open to civilian and military alike with no admission charge.

Popular and traditional Christmas selections will be featured during the performance.

The choir, directed by Mrs. Charles Small, will alternate musical selections with the division band, directed by First Lieutenant William G. Kennedy. Aside from their separate renditions, the band and choir will join for solo selections during the two-hour concert.

Gunnery Sergeant William Cox will give a narrative, with musical accompaniment, of "Twas the Night Before Christmas," and Mrs. Charles Small will perform a solo selection called "Cantique de Noel."

The concert's finale will be the combined band and chorus rendition of the "Hallelujah Chorus" from George Frederick Handel's "Messiah."

Increased Educational Opportunity

THE value and need of a good education in our modern technological world is well known. Countless studies have been made to show the increased earning power of men and women with advanced education.

In the employment market, such phrases as "must be high school graduate," "degree required" and "minimum two years college necessary" are commonplace.

In order to give military personnel every opportunity to raise their chances of success in both their military careers and in the civilian community, the Armed Forces stress technical and academic education.

The newest program available to members of the Armed Forces is the College Level Examination Program. It has been designed specifically to evaluate non-traditional college level education, including independent study and correspondence work in particular.

The College Entrance Examination Board, which developed the program, recognizes the continued growth and development of individuals in the military service and through this examining program has provided each college and university a useful tool in evaluating the educational experience of military personnel in terms that have meaning for both the individual and the institution.

With the increased educational benefits available under the 1966 and 1967 GI Bills, this program can play an important part toward the attainment of educational goals by both active duty service personnel and veterans.

Based upon the College Level Examination Program, recommendations have been made to colleges and universities to allow up to 30 semester hours of academic credit for those individuals achieving satisfactory scores on the five parts of the examination.

This program can be the first step toward educational fulfillment for those individuals with initiative and perseverance. See your Education Officer to learn the facts about the College Level Examination Program and take that first step. (AFPS)

GI Home Loan

President Johnson recently signed a readjustment act to extend the cutoff date for the use of unexpired loan entitlement by World War II veterans from July 25, 1967 to July 25, 1970.

However, individual entitlements are still determined on the basis of the veteran's active service in World War II and may expire prior to July 25, 1970.

A "savings clause" in the readjustment act provides that any World War II veteran having unexpired entitlements as of last July 26 will have until Dec. 30, 1967 in which to use his entitlement even though under the length of service formula it may expire at an earlier date.

Under the 1967 legislation, effective Oct. 1, the limit of the home loan was extended from $17,500 to $25,000.

Veterans eligible for this program include those who served at least 181 continuous days in the Armed Forces, with some part since Feb. 1, 1955. Also eligible are persons still in the Armed Forces, provided they had at least two years in active duty status.

All World War II veterans discharged for service-connected disabilities will have until the new date to use their GI loan benefits. Eligible widows of World War II servicemen or veterans whose deaths were due to military service receive the same extension.

Home Sellers

Military personnel who sell their homes and permit the buyer to assume their GI loan should get release of liability from the Veterans Administration.

Those who do not get such a release remain liable in case of subsequent foreclosure.

VA will issue a release provided the new buyer is approved as a good risk. The release from liability of course does not restore the veteran's eligibility for another GI loan. The eligibility, however, is restored if the veteran:

- (a) is forced to sell his home through no fault of his own.
- (b) has his property taken by a government agency for public use.
- (c) suffers property destruction by a natural hazard.
- (d) or if while still in service must dispose of his home because of military transfer. For further information call 7-5512 or 7-5572.

arking Lot To Save Money or 8th Engineer Battalion

A ribbon cutting ceremony officially opened a new 12-acre parking area for heavy equipment of the 8th Engineer Battalion, Force Troops.

Colonel B. W. McLean, Force Troops Chief of Staff, cut scarlet and gold ribbon as Lieutenant Colonel Thomas C. Mahan, then commanding officer of the Battalion, and the rines responsible for the aring away of heavy trees undergrowth looked on. Staff Sergeant's Robert Jack- and Jerry F. Hairston along with members of "C" Company and Headquarters and Service Company, 8th Engineer Battalion, were singled out for their efforts in making the new parking area available.

While the two-month clearing operations were underway, many Marines in both companies were afforded excellent training experience in engineering and vehicle operations.

Before the completion of the new park, heavy equipment that was to undergo maintenance had to be driven or trucked over 12 miles from the Battalion's stockade to the repair area. The new park will save an estimated 1500 men-hours, a month in transportation alone.

President Johnson Commends Corps

After his visit to Marine Corps installations on the West Coast and namely Camp Pendleton, Calif., President Johnson sent the following letter to Major General L. J. Fields, commanding general of the base:

"Dear General Fields:

I shall long remember my visit to Camp Pendleton. It was stirring and humbling to share in your birthday celebration amidst the pageantry of Veterans Day.

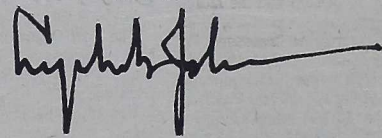

Coming home, I thought that no pageant, however colorful, could compare with the quiet courage and calm faith you Marines bring to the battlefields of freedom.

That is something every American can celebrate. And we do - with all the quiet gratitude of our own hearts. Whatever the crisis or the clamor, we find calmness and confidence in knowing that our Marines were born as a commitment to liberty. We find strength and resolve in seeing how you honor that commitment through every hour of the struggle for peace.

I can only repeat my tribute: Thank God for that.

As I am grateful for all who helped to arrange my visit, I will keep every Marine in my prayers. May God bless your lives and reward your bravery.

Sincerely,

'The Best She Could'

A Rhode Island farmer had the following words carved on the headstone of his wife's grave:

"She did the best she could."

In a way, this might seem a bit dubious. Yet in a true sense, it is high tribute to anyone. If it can be truthfully said of each of us, when God calls us, that "he did the best he could" to make the world a bit the better for his being in it - that would be tribute enough before God and man.

God does not demand the impossible of any of us. He does want us to do the best we can with the talents with which he has entrusted us.

However, if we bury the talents He has given us, if we insist on hiding our light under a bushel, if we postpone, neglect, avoid, or otherwise fail to play our part, however small, in "changing the world for the better," then it might be more truthful if it were written about us: "He failed to do the best he could."

"...unless your justice abound more than that of the scribes and pharisees, you shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:20)

Marines Fight Prison Champs Tomorrow

The Marine Corps Boxing team will host the North Carolina State Prison champions at Goette Memorial Field House tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Smarting from two straight defeats, Coach Ray Rogers and Trainer J. C. Davis are going with the best fighters they have. The novices have had their taste of fistic combat and now on, "we'll go with our best people in all of our fights," said Rogers.

"We had to give the new men a chance and I am not displeased with their performances. They did all right considering their experience. The teams we have faced have used their best men and we will begin doing the same with our team," said J. C. Davis.

"We're going to throw everything we have at the prison team," continued J. C. "Our fighters are after revenge."

The prison boxers are the prison tournament champions and will provide the roughest, most hardnosed competition of the year. What the prisoners lack in finesse, they make up for in guts and determination.

Sergeant Art Redden, Pan Am Games light heavyweight titleholder, will have his first regular season bout, with Stanley Johnson, furnishing the opposition. Johnson lost a split decision to Lejeune's Corporal Hinton Wilson last year.

Wilson will also fight for the first time this year as a member of the team. Wilson gives Redden all he can handle in sparring matches and is destined to be Lejeune's 165 pounder. Wilson arrived late in November and trainer Davis is dropping Wilson's weight slowly so that he can keep his strength.

Corporal Richard Royal, Pan Am Trials winner, will be in welterweight division. Royal lost his last fight at Norfolk and the flu bug put him down for a while so that he could not fight at High Point.

The Marine lineup includes: 122 lbs.—Armendariz; 125 lbs.—Cordero; 125 lbs.—Beverly; 132 lbs.—Browner; 139 lbs.—Brown; 147 lbs.—Royal; 156 lbs.—Phillips; 156 lbs.—Oliphant; 165 lbs.—Wilson; 178 lbs.—Redden.

High Point Boxers' Waterloo

Marine Corps boxers won one match and lost five at High Point last Saturday night. The Marines competed against Army, Navy, and civilian fighters.

Armendariz floored Lacy twice in the first round with left and right hooks and had his man groggy throughout the bout.

All-Marine light welterweight Les Brown and All-Marine welterweight Richard Royal did not participate in the match. Royal had a virus and Brown injured his hand in practice during the week.

Corporal Cecil Beverly lost by a decision to Navy's James Miller in the bantamweight encounter. As usual, Beverly had to chase a taller opponent, Miller scored with jabs and racked up too many points for the slugging Beverly to overcome.

Lance Corporal Pete Browner lost a decision to Leonard Smith of Army. Browner led throughout the fight until late in the third round when he missed a right and Smith shot a hard left jab to put Browner down. The knockdown earned Smith the victory.

Adrian Johnson, the Navy fighter who floored Royal at Norfolk last month, moved up to the 156 pound division and outfought Lejeune's Sergeant Lafayette Oliphant to garner a unanimous decision.

Private Willard Phillips stopped in 1:51 of the first round by Army's Quentin Lee. Phillips started strongly and put his opponent down with a right hand.

Lee got up and Phillips rushed at him just in time to get hit with a desperation left hook that rattled his bones and sent him to the canvas. Phillips got up the referee stopped the fight a few seconds later.

In the welterweight fight, Lejeune's Corporal Ed Crenshaw was knocked out by Jerry Anders of High Point in 1:09 of the second round.

Lejeune Judokas Win At Cherry Point

Three Lejeune Marines took honors at the Third Annual Cherry Point Invitational Judo Match last week.

Sergeant A. Mathias took second place in the heavyweight division. This was Mathias' first time in competition.

Master Sergeant C. A. Anderson took third place in the 80 pound class and Lieutenant W. Linder placed second in the 35 pound division.

8th Engineers Play Hq. Bn. For Football Championship

The All-Camp Intramural football championship will be decided at Liversedge Field. The champions of the A League, 8th Engineer Battalion, will battle the champions of the B League, Headquarters Battalion, 2d Division at 1 p.m.

The 8th Engineers finished the season with a 10-0 record, and were the only undefeated team in either league.

Ralph Edwards has scored at least twice in every game for the engineers. He is their leading scorer and runs from a half-back position. According to his coach, Lt. Parker, he has fine speed and can cut very quickly. Another swift back for the Engineers is Leslie Greeg. "He is quick and he starts very fast," said Lt. Parker.

The quarterback of the team is Billy Wright. "He has a good head and he is a good passer," continued Parker.

The best blocker on the team is James Booker. "He is our center on offense and he'll really help in the championship game.

The defense is led by line-backer Joe Kaniatobe. "He is our wild Indian," said Parker. Bill Bennett shores up the defensive line at guard and also on the offensive team.

Headquarters Battalion will feel the loss of their star quarterback Kilpatrick. Kilpatrick headed for civilian life last week, leaving Headquarters Battalion Coach Sallis with a gaping hole in his offense.

The leading scorer for the team is Green who has been at offensive end for most of the season. Green has been moved into the quarterback slot with Scabill as his backup man.

Marchman runs from the half-back position and is the team's second leading scorer. Other standout players for Headquarters

Battalion include end Crooks and halfback Debnan.

"Jackson is our outstanding offensive lineman," said Coach Sallis. "Lundy is the best center in the league on offense."

Defensive stalwarts for the team are center linebacker Walter and center guard Burdin.

Last week Headquarters Co., Force Troops bombed 2d Bridge Co., 32-7, 8th Comm. Bn. lost to 2d Tank Bn., 20-0, 2d AmTrac Bn. edged the Naval Hospital 15-14, and 10th Marines whitewashed Engineer Schools 17-0.

In Monday night's action 8th Comm. Bn. zapped Headquarters Co., Force Troops 20-13 and ITR won a forfeit from Recon. The Rifle Range also forfeited to 8th Marines.

After Recon and Rifle Range forfeited they played each other for cellar supremacy. Recon emerged the victor as they outscored Rifle Range 13-0.

Lejeune Outdoors

By Staff Sergeant Bill Adams

We recently received a memo from the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission requesting the aid of the Camp Lejeune turkey hunters. They have asked that anyone killing a turkey place certain specimens in specially made envelopes. These envelopes can be obtained at the Game Wardens Office and have directions printed on the back as to what to be saved and how to obtain it. In essence what is wanted are the wing tips, crops (craw) and the feet from above the spur; this is if you do not intend to have the bird mounted.

These items will enable the Commission to determine the reproductive success of last year, the average age of the bird and the feeding habits of our birds.

There were a number of nice buck killed on Thanksgiving Day, the 23rd of November. In spite of the Holiday Festivities, there was pretty good participation on the hunts.

LCpl. John Walsh, of H&S Co., D.P.P., 2d Serv. Bn. killed a nice 8 point buck on Hunt "E". Although the deer's rack was not large it was about as even a rack as a man could want.

Mr. Doug King, an active member of the Camp Lejeune Rod & Gun Club, killed a buck with an 8 point spread. Someone must have TIED this deer to a tree for if Doug gets as talkative in the woods as in the clubhouse, the deer would have stayed out of shotgun range.

Mr. W.W. Simpson of J-Ville was in for a surprise when he killed his deer Thurs. The deer had plenty of horn when he first saw it but after killing it he found that although it had a big rack it had 4 points on one side but only 2 on the other. I don't think that he would have passed it up for a more even rack regardless.

On Saturday, Nov. the 25th there were two nice deer that rated passing on. Dave Cartmill, 17 year old son of Lt Lloyd Cartmill of 3164 MOQ, had a rather unique decision to make. He was hunting on Lt. MacPherson's hunt when the dogs chased two bucks into his stand. Dave said there was no choice for one buck was an 8 point and the other a forkhorn. It took a couple of shots to kill the 8 pointer, but with Dave's own version of a Beatle haircut, which must obstruct his vision, it's no wonder!

Hunting with the combined hunts of Lt. Toth and 1st Sgt. Floyd, 15 year old Mike Jarman demonstrated his ability when he dropped a fine 9 pointer. The deer dressed out at over 120 lbs. and had a large and well developed spread of antlers. Mike killed the buck with one shot after his Father, Roy Jarman and 2 other hunters lost their shirt tails.

Although it was not as notable, it was quite humorous to listen to the duck hunting escapades of one Lt. John Bledsoe, the Base Training Facilities Officer. It seems that after shooting in excess of one and a half boxes and killing only three (3) ducks he decided it was time to retrieve his decoys and go home. To make this tale short, it seems that his decoys were made of painted canvas over a wood frame and absorb quite a bit of water. As John picked them up he stacked the boat full from the front to the rear. RESULTS? One boat, decoys, guns, clothes and HUNTER swamped in the middle of Morgan Bay. How about some HELPFUL HINTS for the beginning duck hunter Lt., or would you rather keep your secrets to yourself?

Devilpups Open Roundball Season On Road Tonight

Lejeune High opens its varied basketball season tonight at Jones Central High School. The Devilpups have four remaining lettermen, led by 6'3" forward Lane Argetsinger who averaged 25 points per game last year.

Argetsinger was followed closely in the scoring race by 6'2" Rick Gutekunst with a 14 points per game clip.

Coach John Griffin feels that his team has the best chance to beat out Swansboro, Dixon, and Pamlico for the conference title.

"We'll have a fine team this year and we will be very disappointed if we don't win the title. I talked to the Daily News sports editor and he said the other coaches in the league expect us to be the strongest team," said Griffin.

The Pups have good all around height. Ronnie Caves, 6'2", will play the post position. He is aggressive on the boards and scored 14 points per game last year.

"Ray Ogle will be our playmaker. He has good height at 6'2" and will be a real hustler," said Griffin.

Wade Judge will be at forward and guard this year after being seventh man on last year's team. Wayne Villeneuve, Earl Smith, Mike Dillard, Danny Overpeck, David Russel, and Randy Waters round out the 13 man squad.

Caribbean Thanksgiving Celebrated By BLT-2/6

VIEQUES, P.R. (Delayed) -- The Marines of the Caribbean Landing Force enjoyed the customary turkey in an unfamiliar setting this Thanksgiving.

The Landing Force, composed of Battalion Landing Team 2-6, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Paul B. Haigwood, and Marine Medium Helicopter (HMM) Squadron 261, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Joseph R. Dobratz Jr., celebrated Thanksgiving on Vieques, P.R.

The Squadron mixed business with pleasure, having flight quarters in the morning and afternoon and a meal of turkey, ham, sweet potatoes, cranberries, corn, asparagus, pumpkin pie, fruit cake, and mixed nuts.

The battalion had the day off and turned out for a field meet in the morning and afternoon. The planned events -- a three-legged race, a potato sack race, an egg-tossing contest, a tug-of-war, a relay race involving the assembly and disassembly of the M-14 rifle and the M-60 machine gun, and the battalion commander's invitational relay race for the company commanders, first sergeants, and gunnery sergeants, gave everyone a chance to participate.

After the field meet -- and shower -- the Marines adjourned to their own mess hall and sampled the fruits of the cornucopia prepared by the battalion cooks. No one left the table hun-

Okinawa Housing

Marines ordered on accompanied tours of duty on Okinawa will face a complicated housing arrangement, according to Marine Corps Bulletin 11101 of Oct. 25.

The Marine Corps has no family housing on Okinawa. However, the Army provides ten units of government housing for key Marine Corps personnel and the Navy provides quarters for Marines and their families assigned to the Officer-in-Charge of Construction, the Armed Forces Radio and Television Station, the Marine Barracks at Naha, and to the Naval Security Group.

Housing needs of all other groups must be met by assignment to private rental housing.

The military services have established the Joint Housing Inspection and Control Office (JHICO) to control private rental housing, since the 4,900 rental units are insufficient.

JHICO inspects and registers housing approved by that office for leasing to military personnel, and provides additional services such as establishing rental rates, maintaining waiting lists, mediating complaints, conducting checkout clearances, and inspecting and approving homes for purchase.

Those wishing further information should refer to Marine Corps Order 11101 of Oct. 25.

MOVIE REVIEWS

"The Young Americans"

The dramatic story of the birth of the new generation's most recent contribution to the folk scene comes to the screen in Columbia picture's "The Young Americans". Set against the backdrop of adventure that beset the group after a talented singer fails their audition, the film features the Young Americans and Milton C. Anderson. In color.

"God's Little Acre"

The sordid story of Southern farm life is depicted in this tale of a father's desperate effort to unite his rebellious family. The screen version of Erskine Caldwell's best seller stars Tina Louise as Greselda, the maverick daughter who delights in inciting masculine passion and Robert Ryan as Ty Ty, the hapless father who wastes his life on pathetic dreams.

"The Bobo"

A zany story about a singing matador who must win the most capricious, beautiful, frivolous woman in all Barcelona in order to get a bull-fighting contract, Peter Sellers stars as the matador, and Britt Ekland as the coquette. Rozanno Brazzi gives a supporting performance as a millionaire.

"Rage"

A suspense-filled story about a doctor who is hiding from himself and a beautiful girl who brings him to his senses. Filmed in Mexico, the story takes place in an isolated mining town. Glenn Ford stars as the doctor, with Stella Stevens as the traveling entertainer who takes a liking to him.

"Fobbery"

"Robbery" features Stanley Baker and William Marlowe as the conniving nucleus of a thieving band of criminals intent upon robbing a London mail train laden with a multi-million pound cargo. This compelling drama traces the drafting and execution of a crime that baffles Scotland Yard. The color production, filmed in England, also stars Joanna Pettet, James Booth and Barry Foster.

"St. Valentine's Day Massacre"

The St. Valentine's Day Massacre The brutal era of gangland Chicago explodes on the screen in this savage tale of the infamous Chicago carnage. Centered around the battle for control of Chicago's booze and vice markets, the film recounts the events which preceded one of the most shocking days in the annals of American criminology. The color production features Jason Robards, George Segal, Jeanne Hale and Ralph Meeker.

"El Dorado"

John Wayne makes the "Old West" live again with the aid of Robert Mitchum and Arthur Hummick in this typical Hollywood "horse opera". Full of gunplay, rough humor, and panoramic scenery, this movie is great if you like the type.

"Privilege"

A scathing commentary scoffing the establishment ignites the screen in Universal picture's "Privilege". Paul Jones stars as the slow groping ex-con who wins fame and fortune but isn't sure what to do with either. Jeane Shrimpton, the famous fashion model, is featured as the beautiful prize claimed by Jones' success.

The technicolor production also stars Mark London and Jeremy Child.

"Woman Times Seven"

The rollicking bawdy comedy of a femme fatale's maneuverings, this film features an international cast of stars. Filmed in a seven-part vignette style, the spicy flick stars Shirley MacLaine in the multi-voiced characterization of a woman in her natural element-love.

She stars as the two-timed wife who stalks off in a fury determined to provoke the passion of the first passing male; the dissatisfied mistress who resolves to end her affair with an hilarious double suicide; and the society matron who plants a bomb in her elegant rival's car. The lavish color production also features Rossano Brazzi, Michael Caine, Peter Sellers and Anita Ekberg.

Vietnam Story: Marines at War

Stories and Photos from III Marine Amphibious Force

Routine Change Nets More Kills

By Cpl. Jeff Ault
DA NANG, Vietnam, Oct. 21—Get the enemy, before he gets you.

The 2nd Bn., Fifth Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division, has added a new twist to ambushing in an attempt to get "him."

Previously, ambushes were set only during darkness. Continued use of this method of ambush began to give the Viet Cong somewhat of an edge. The enemy was becoming used to the routine.

The new method is basically the same in application; about the same number of men are used, and their dispersion still depends on the terrain.

The major change has been in the schedule, and to date, has paid off substantially in VC sightings and kills.

"We got the idea from the combined action platoon that I used to work with," said Sgt. John T. Stampfl, 24 (1024 Haverhill St., Sacramento, Calif.).

"Instead of setting a nighttime ambush, we went out in the morning and set ourselves into position before the sun came up. The first time we tried it, we got two confirmed VC kills and captured two automatic weapons they were carrying."

The VC had been caught flat-footed.

This particular ambush was held in an area that Marines had swept through earlier in the week. Contact had been light on the Marine patrol.

Typically the VC had fled the approaching Marines, leaving behind only those unfit for combat — women, children and village elders.

"The VC have an excellent word-of-mouth, early warning system," said Pfc. James R. McConnell, 19 (439 "L" St., Sparks, Nev.).

"As soon as a VC sympathizer spots a Marine patrol, the word is passed along to the enemy. This way the VC have time to hide before we get there."

When the Marines make the ambush positions, sightings of fighting-age Vietnamese men are frequent.

The Marines in ambush do not shoot the suspected VC unless they are spotted with weapons or a Kit Carson scout recognizes one as a Viet Cong.

The Kit Carson scouts, former VC now assisting our forces, accompany the Marines on ambushes.

Viet Cong sympathizers informed the enemy and the element of surprise was lost.

No longer can the Viet Cong feel too secure in the areas that they once were almost completely controlling. The daylight ambush is keeping the enemy off-balance.

Twin Trouble

DA NANG, Vietnam, Oct. 17 — The male counterparts of the comic strip "Jackson Twins" are causing identity problems for fellow Marines in Vietnam.

PFCs William and Welton Cochran, 19 (524 Lida St., Mansfield, Ohio) are assigned to "B" Co., 1st Bn., Fifth Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division.

The two are so much alike that it was a rare day when one was not "chewed out" for something the other twin did or did not do.

Routine Patrol Becomes

'Nightmare' For Marines

DA NANG, Vietnam, Oct. 11— "It was a nightmare I thought would never end—or if it did, would end in my death," said PFC. Daniel L. Brudevold, 19.

On Sept. 16, Brudevold, a member of "M" Co., 3rd Bn., First Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division, five miles southeast of Da Nang, was the point man on a four-man patrol.

The mission was to find the Viet Cong who had been ambushing Marine convoys near Tu Cau lake. Brudevold's problems began when a Vietnamese man stumbled into the team's position. The Marines had to hold him captive all day so he wouldn't reveal their position to the VC.

At nightfall the villagers started looking for the man and the Marines let him go.

"They must have been VC sympathizers," Brudevold said, "because a few minutes later we started receiving sniper fire."

"Our mission had been compromised so it was time to move out."

Brudevold crossed a rice paddy and waited for the rest of the team but no one came.

"I returned to where I had last seen the three Marines," he continued, "but they were gone."

"I started signalling by whistling and I received the signal back but it was from more than three so I knew I wasn't alone."

Throughout the night Brudevold received enemy fire.

"As I was crossing a rice paddy just about day-break," he continued, "two snipers opened up on me. I just kept running and firing. It seemed like a thousand years but I finally made it across the paddy safely."

"I didn't think I was going to make it back alive, but if I didn't I was going to go down fighting. When his squad returned the morning to find him, he had fired all but three rounds."

3d Marines Eyes

Search For Cag

CAMP CARROL, Vietnam, Oct. 19—The eyes that turn night into day for the Third Marine Regiment security are fever searching for possible attacks by the Viet Cong.

Sgt. Reuben Garcia (101 Herdian Ave., New York, N.Y.), heads the two three-man teams of a searchlight unit that helps provide the nightly security.

"We have two different types of light we can use," states Garcia. "Our choice is infrared or our regular searchlight."

Garcia explains that the infrared is most effective because the enemy cannot see it.

The 75 million candle power searchlights can serve more than one purpose.

"One time we had a patrol surrounded on a hillside," Garcia recalls. "We were called on to spot our lights and their positions so air strikes could be made."

"We found out later that we trained our lights on within 20 meters of the light, he turned and ran."

Former 'Colt' In Vietnam

DA NANG, Vietnam, Oct. 18—A former defensive end with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Baltimore Colts is now serving as a Marine officer in Vietnam.

LtCol. Ernest C. Cheatham, Jr., (12791 Chase St., Garden Grove, Calif.) is operations officer for the Fifth Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division.

In 1954, after a two-year tour with the Marine Corps, Cheatham played defensive end with the two professional football teams. He is better known as "Big Ernie Cheatham" to football fans.

At 255 pounds, he was considered too light to play his usual position of tackle. "I was the lightest man on the pro line by 10 pounds," he recalled, so they put me on as defensive end."

"I can remember Les Bingaman of the Detroit Lions," Cheatham continued. "Trying to move him was like trying to move two refrigerators tied together!"

"Jim Mutcheller used to be captain of the Notre Dame team. I played football with him on the Marine Corps team and later, when we got out, we also played with the Colts."

Cheatham was named All-American out of Loyola University and has also won most valuable player awards.

"I really enjoyed playing pro football," he concluded. "The people and the players were all wonderful to work with."
