Maj. Lee Awarded Medal of Honor Long New Division SgtMaj.

Sergeant Major Clyde M. Long relieve Sergeant Major E. V. Burgess as Sergeant Major of the Marine Division Monday in formal ceremonies at division headquarters.

SgtMaj. Burgess will retire Friday after a 28-year career, holder of the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" and a member of the Okinawa Campaign. SgtMaj. Long was formerly Sergeant Major of the 1st Marine Division. He entered the Marine Corps in April, 1941 and served the first year and one-half of his career as a security guard and admiral's orderly in Norfolk, Va.

Transferred to the Pacific Theatre during World War II, he served as platoon sergeant, company sergeant and field sergeant. He returned to the United States in December 1945 and served as personnel

SgtMaj. Long

SgtMaj. for Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton until January, 1946. At this time, he was transferred to the 1st Special Marine Brigade at Camp Lejeune.

His next tour of duty was as a Barracks SgtMaj. at Marine Barracks, Luzon. In August of 1951, he held an Instructor and Inspector staff billet in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Transferred from this post in October 1954, he returned to Camp Pendleton where he was SgtMaj. of the 1st Amphibious Reconnaissance Battalion.

From October 1956 until August 1958, SgtMaj. Long served as detachment first sergeant aboard the USS Bremerton. In August 1958 he returned once again to Camp Pendleton, this time for duty as a staging SgtMaj.

He remained here until January 1960 when he was transferred to the recruiting station in Richmond, Va.

In July 1963, SgtMaj. Long was once again transferred, this time to Cherry Point where he held billets as squadron, group and 2d Marine Aircraft Wing sergeant major. He remained at Cherry Point until March 1967 when he was sent to Vietnam.

In Vietnam, he served as SgtMaj. of the 3d Engineer Battalion, 3d Marines and 3d Marine Division. He served with the 2d Marines at Camp Lejeune from April until last week when he was relieved by Sergeant Major Kenneth L. Holt.

The 46 year-old Marine is a native of Carthage, N.C. He is married to the former Annie Mae Hales of Fayetteville, N.C. and they have three children; Joe, 24; Betty Lynn, 14; and Clyde, 4.

WASHINGTON, D.C. - A Marine officer who disregarded his own multiple wounds and led a relief force through enemy positions to one of his own outnumbered platoons is the seventh Marine to be awarded the Medal of Honor for heroism in Vietnam.

The President of the United States presented the nation's highest award to Major Howard V. Lee of New York City on Wednesday. Ceremonies were held at twelve noon at the White House.

At the time of his heroic action in Vietnam on August 8 and 9, 1966, Major Lee, then a captain, was serving as commanding officer of "E" Company, Fourth Marines, 3rd Marine Division. A platoon of his company was operating deep in enemy-controlled territory when the unit was attacked and surrounded by a large North Vietnamese force.

Captain Lee volunteered to take seven of his men by helicopter to reinforce the beleaguered platoon.

Major Lee

When Lee and his small unit arrived in the area, the platoon was still under heavy enemy attack.

The citation accompanying the award reads in part:

"Major Lee disembarked from the helicopter with two of his men, led them into the perimeter, where he fearlessly moved from position to position, directing and encouraging the overtaxed troops. The enemy then launched a massive attack with the full might of their forces.

Although painfully wounded by fragments from an enemy grenade in several areas of his body, including his eye, Major Lee continued undauntedly throughout the night to direct the valiant defense, coordinate supporting fires, and apprise higher headquarters of the plight of the platoon.

"The next morning he collapsed from his wounds and was forced to relinquish command. However the small band of Marines had held their position and repeatedly fought off many vicious enemy attacks for a grueling six hours until their evacuation

Retirement Ceremony to Honor 12 Marines

A total of two hundred eighty-nine years of military service will come to an end for 12 Marine Corps Base Marines on October

Major General Joseph O. Buttrick, base commander, will present these career Marines with their retirement papers during a retirement ceremony at the base. Colonel R. W. Glickert, chief of staff, will retire with 27 years service in the Marine Corps. He has been stationed at Camp Lejeune for the past four years, serving as the assistant chief of staff G-1 (personnel) and for the past 4 months as chief of staff.

Lieutenant Colonel R.D. Buckley, budget officer, Base Comptroller, a veteran of nearly 30 years, will manage his 276 acre farm in Locust Grove, Virginia on retirement.

Ending a 22 year career, first Lieutenant C.A. Dimuzio, executive officer, Food Service School Company, Marine Corps Supply Schools, will become the assistant food advisor for Prince Georges' County Schools in Maryland.

Master Gunnery Sergeant W.N. Burnett will retire in the Jacksonville. See RETIREMENTS, Page 3

Did You Know?

... that Daylight Savings Time ends at 2 a.m. Monday morning. At this time all clocks should be set back to 1 a.m. and Eastern Standard Time goes into effect.

... that all Trick or Treating on the Base will be limited to Tuesday night during the hours from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Governor Orders Traffic Crackdown

State Adopts 2 Devices to Nab Traffic Violators

The adoption of VASCAR and addition of 33 more "breathalyzers," with stiffer penalties for liquor law violators, has marked the start of a renewed campaign against North Carolina traffic violators. Gov. Dan Moore, in announcing the state's campaign, said the Highway Dept. now has a total of 69 "breathalyzers" available for testing persons suspected of drunken driving.

It is still unlawful, under recent North Carolina laws, to transport liquor in the passenger area of any vehicle, if the cap or seal is open or broken. A bottle of partially consumed liquor may be transported in the trunk area.

The vehicles of violators of any state liquor law may be seized and disposed of by public sale.

No amount of alcoholic beverage with the seal broken or cap open may be transported onto the base, no matter where it is in the vehicle. A person may not leave the base with more than one gallon of alcoholic beverages (seal intact) in his vehicle.

The adoption of VASCAR by the highway department makes the Tarheel State one of seven now using or testing the device. It has been in operation at Camp Lejeune since May.

More versatile than radar, yet easier to operate, VASCAR (visual average speed computer and recorder) is based on the mathematical formula that speed equals distance times time (S equals D x T).

The speed of a moving vehicle is determined by the time required for the vehicle to travel a given distance. VASCAR measures a given distance along a road and the time it takes a "target" vehicle to travel the distance, then instantly computes the vehicle's speed.

The trooper determines the distance, using two available reference points such as bridges, trees, signposts, changes in color

Today Is Navy Day

WHAT IS NAVY DAY? There is one day each year when our citizens join hands across the nation to render grateful tribute to our mighty Navy. On this day it is fitting and proper that a nation of free men and women give well deserved honor and recognition to the achievements of our Navy at sea, in the air, and on the land. It is a day to rededicate ourselves to those principles of freedom and self government which are guaranteed by our constitution and protected by our Navy.

WHEN IS NAVY DAY? October 27th was originally selected for the annual observance of Navy Day for two reasons: First, it commemorates the historic day in the year 1775 when the Continental Congress received a bill providing for the creation and establishment of a fleet to protect the lives and property of a young and struggling nation. That took place 192 years ago on the 27th of October. Secondly, this date also marks the birthday of President Theodore Roosevelt, that staunch and stouthearted American who recognized the vital need for a strong Navy and gave his hearty support to a program which resulted in a Navy respected by every nation on earth. He is fondly recognized as the father of our modern Navy.

WHEN WAS NAVY DAY FIRST CELEBRATED? The first national observance of Navy Day took place on October 27, 1922, under the sponsorship and supervision of the Navy League of the United States. Since that year the Navy League, as official sponsor of Navy Day celebrations, has played a major part in keeping American citizens informed and aware of the vital need for a strong, well-trained Navy - one ready to meet any emergency at any time.

This Sunday marks the beginning of the national celebration of Children's Book Week. Begun in 1919, this week has become a traditional time to highlight for children the pleasure and knowledge found in reading good books.

Read aloud to your children. It will bring your family closer together and enrich your children's lives. And it will be fun!

If possible, give your children books and shelves on which to put them. Teach your children the value of good books that they will read and re-read.

Set aside time to take your children to the library. If you do not already have a library card, get one at the Central Library, Bldg. 63.

BOOKS:

A PARENT'S GUIDE TO CHILDREN'S READING by Nancy Larrick. A gold mine of information to the world of books and reading for children. An annotated list of 500 Favorite Books for Boys and Girls.

READING WITH CHILDREN by Anne T. Eaton. The kind of basic book which will be read for sheer pleasure by parents. There is a complete index to authors, titles, and subjects.

CHILDREN AND BOOKS by May Hill Arbuthnot. A helpful book that covers the reading interests--imaginative and factual--of children from 2 to 16 years of age.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDGING: WHAT CHILDREN READ by Phyllis Fenner. It does not pretend to be about "all" the books that will interest children, but it's a starting point about some of the best-liked books of all times.

TREASURE FOR THE TAKING by Anne Thaxter Eaton. A book to provide some thread to guide you through the maze of books for boys and girls that are published every year.

FOR FREE DISTRIBUTION
As part of the national celebration of Children's Book Week, these attractive booklists are available free at the Central Library, Bldg. 63, and the Montford Point Library, Bldg. M321:

GROWING UP WITH BOOKS. A buying aid that lists 300 books for every child you know--the best books and the books they love the best.

GROWING UP WITH SCIENCE BOOKS. A pamphlet that lists books of scientific accuracy and of high interest appeal for young readers.

GROWING UP WITH PAPERBACKS. A buying aid that lists 200 books which are well-written, enjoyable and available at little cost.

AIDS TO CHOOSING BOOKS FOR CHILDREN. A selected bibliography of booklists.

BOOKMARK FOR PARENTS.

Freedom's Franchise

While millions of people around the world are fighting tyrants struggling for the right of self-determination, the privileged participating in freely-held elections--U.S. military personnel the opportunity to exercise this inherent right in the upcoming Nov. 7 elections.

It is an opportunity, a right, a duty for which countless millions of American fighting men have given their lives. It is not a privilege to be taken lightly.

Though this is an "off-election" year--with state, county and governmental positions at stake--it is a most important election. The foundation of America's democracy is strong, effective local county and state government.

Citizenship for all Americans, civilian and military alike begins at home. Because a serviceman may not at this time living in the state in which he is a registered voter is no excuse for failure to vote.

He needs only to check the voter registration requirements at his home of record, or the locality in which he presently resides to determine whether he is eligible to vote in one or the other.

If the serviceman is registered at his home of record, he should write local election officials requesting an absentee ballot. Action, however, should be taken immediately for most absentee ballots are required to be in the hands of election officials no more than five days before election day.

Any questions the serviceman might have on registration requirements and deadlines for the acquisition and return of absentee ballots should be taken to his unit's Voting Officer. (AFPS)

Major Accident Cause

Improper backing continues to be the leading cause of government vehicle accidents here. The Semi-Annual Accident Summary (BBul 5100) revealed that for the first half of this year 30 percent of all reportable accidents were a result of this violation.

These accidents add up to considerable damage to vehicles, property and occasional injuries.

The following precautions should be taken to reduce backing accidents:

—Never back unless you have to! Plan your route to avoid backing. You will save time and also reduce the chance of an accident.

—Use your rear view mirror and make sure it's clean and properly adjusted at all times. But don't depend entirely on the rear view mirror. Get out and look around or get someone to direct you. After you have made sure the way is clear, back slowly.

—When parking parallel, back around for a spot where you will have to back when pulling out from the curb.

—If possible, avoid backing a street to turn around. Drive around the block instead. If you must turn around the street, use a driveway or back into it. Always back out from traffic.

—Back to the left whenever possible. When you back to the right, you are backing to the blind side and may get into trouble.

A film entitled "Look, Backing Accidents" and a typograph are available at Training Aids Library, Bldg. 67, aid commanding officers and supervisors in their instructions on proper backing technique. Lecture material is available at the Base Safety Office, Bldg. 1110.

The United Fund—the Dollar You Give Helps You Live

United Fund Campaign officials prepare to enter the second week of solicitation as the total contribution mounts toward the $65,000 goal. Military personnel and civilians working aboard the Base will be given every opportunity to contribute to this national organization so that its agencies represented at Camp Lejeune can continue to serve our Marine and Navy families through the coming year.

Most everyone knows that the United Fund Campaign is a federation of agencies which are organized primarily to provide local health, welfare, safety, and recreational services, and all funds collected are used for local needs.

There are 12 local agencies benefiting from every dollar collected during the campaign. They are: American Red Cross, Emergency Relief Fund, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, retarded children, Carolinas United Services, Jacksonville, Swansboro, and Holly Ridge Rescue Squads, Salvation Army, United Jewish Appeal and the USO.

The three rescue squads operations illustrates the importance of these services. Operating on United Fund contributions, they provide ambulance service where it would otherwise be non-existent or long in coming. They assist firemen in rescue work. Boats, and even in some cases an airplane, are manned by the volunteers in search of lost boats and drowning victims.

The rescue squads are operated on a 24 hour a day basis, by volunteers trained in first aid, who give freely of their time to help others. The Holly Ridge team, for example, has 20 such volunteers, many of whom have recruited their wives to serve with them as ambulance attendants. More than once these attendants have brought a new life into the world when the hospital could not be reached in time.

Holly Ridge Rescue Squad volunteers have made 78 hospital emergency runs thus far this year. Many of these runs involved multiple victims and well over one third of these victims were military personnel or dependents. The Jacksonville and Swansboro Rescue Squads have a similar record of service to the military family. The work of these three rescue squads would not be possible were it not for the United Fund Campaign.

Equally dramatic is the story told daily by the American Red Cross. Also operating on a 24 hour-a-day basis, the two local branches of the Red Cross provide the following services: consultation and guidance, communication assistance, financial assistance, social type work, providing information on regulations and benefits affecting service personnel, referral services, and recreation program assistance.

Programs offered by the Red Cross are as follows: hospital volunteers, blood donations, first aid, water safety and small craft training, and the provision of a Red Cross volunteer in the school health rooms.

These volunteers spend hundreds of hours of their free time doing assistance work which could not be provided without their help. This year the Camp Lejeune branch has handled an average of more than 970 cases each month. They have assisted in emergency leave requests at a rate of 228 per month through Western Union wires and have handled an equal number of emergency phone calls.

The Red Cross has made 70 loans and average more than four grants each month, with a total financial assistance to military personnel of $62,137.91 in the past year.

These services provided by the Red Cross and the Rescue Squads would be greatly reduced or, in many cases non-existent, without the United Fund Campaign. Therefore, when your United Fund representative comes to you, give all that you can. Someday you may need these services, and it could happen that your very life will depend on them.

DETERMINATION -- Despite a broken arm, Gunnery Sergeant Arthur W. Seabury Jr., operations chief, 10th Marines, was determined to qualify this year at the rifle range. Unslung his arm, he blazed away with a 101 out of 180 to earn an expert classification. The sergeant's arm was broken prior to going to the range after a football tussle with his five-year-old son.

IN RECOGNITION -- Sergeant Russell L. Cavender, 2d Engineer Battalion, receives a Certificate of Commendation from Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, assistant division commander, for outstanding performance as a career advisor. Observing the presentation is LtCol. John F. Mader, commanding officer, 2d Engineer Battalion.

Generals Reassigned

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 13 -- Assignment plans for two Marine Corps general officers have been announced today by Marine Corps Headquarters.

Brigadier General Henry W. Doyle will be assigned in October as Assistant Wing Commander, 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, El Toro, California. He had been serving as Deputy Chief of Staff (Administration) at Headquarters, Marine Corps. His relief has not yet been designated.

Brigadier General Edward J. Doyle, who is serving as the Assistant Wing Commander, 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing, will be assigned in December to duty in J-5, the Joint Staff, Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Medal of Honor...

is effected the following morning. "Major Lee's actions saved the lives of many men from capture, minimized the loss of lives, and dealt the enemy a severe defeat. His indomitable fighting spirit, superb leadership, and great personal valor in the face of tremendous odds, reflect great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service."

Major Lee is currently serving in the Operations Section, 4 Division at Headquarters, Marine Corps. He was born in New York, New York, on August 1, 1933. His parents, Howard F. and Beatrice Lee, live at 15 Jacobus Place, New York City.

The Major and his wife, Jean, live at Route No. 1, Box 52-A, Empuries, Virginia. The couple have three children, Edward, 10; Linda Marie, 9; and Michael John, 3.

Major Lee was graduated from DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx, New York, in 1951, and from Pace College in New York with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1955. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in December, 1955.

Following his graduation from The Basic School at Quantico in July, 1956, he was assigned to the Supply Officer School at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune. Next he served in a variety of assignments in the United States, and also performed military duties on Okinawa and in the Dominican Republic.

Major Lee assumed command of "E" Company, 2d Battalion, 4th Marines, 3d Marine Division in Vietnam in March, 1966. Medically evacuated from Vietnam to the Bethesda Naval Hospital, he remained there from September until October 1966, at which time he was assigned to his present duties.

WestPac Volunteers Are Sought

Officers' requests for unaccompanied WestPac tours are now being accepted by Headquarters Marine Corps.

Requests are invited from Naval aviators (majors and below) and ground officers (captains and below), although transfer to WestPac forces cannot be effected prior to completion of 12 months at the requester's present duty station.

Officers submitting requests are not guaranteed assignment as requested, but every consideration will be given to forwarding endorsements. All requests will be answered on an individual basis through permanent change of station orders or by separate correspondence.

Requests, invited on a continuing basis, should be addressed to Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code DFA).

Retirements...

ville, N.C. area when he ends his 30 years of service. He is currently serving as base food services technician.

Master Gunnery Sergeant B.W. Keller, base supply chief, will retire with more than 26 years of service and will also live in Jacksonville.

Master Gunnery Sergeant R.E. Simpson, administrative chief, G-1 will retire with more than 21 years of service in the Marine Corps. He plans to take up farming in Granville, N.C.

Master Sergeant J.M. True, non-commissioned officer in charge of the operation instructional section, Motor Transport Company, Marine Corps Supply Schools, will retire with over 27 years of service and will be employed by the Volkswagen Corporation in Jacksonville.

A 23 year veteran, Master Sergeant K.A. Will, Jr., will move to Rochester, N.Y. Currently, he works at the base printing plant.

An administrative chief at Marine Corps Engineer Schools, Gunnery Sergeant N.J. Barrett, will work for either the Civil Service System or the Postal Service when he ends his 20 year career.

Gunnery Sergeant J.W. Dill, with over 20 years of service in the Marine Corps will work at the Westinghouse plant in Baltimore, Maryland.

Gunnery Sergeant J.F. Fry, Marine Corps Supply Schools, will start college when he retires. A veteran of 21 years of service, he will enroll in Marshall University, Huntington, West Va.

Staff Sergeant R.L. Marshall, will retire with 20 years of service in the Marine Corps and will live in Phoenix, Arizona.

Sunday School Teachers Slate Training Program

While "ghosts and goblins" are roaming walks and streets of Camp Lejeune at Halloween time, Protestant Sunday School teachers at Tarawa Terrace, Midway Park, Montford Point, and Stone Street will be trying to study the texts for the annual Fall Teacher Training Program to begin on November 6, for four consecutive Monday nights.

The first session on November 6 will feature the new film "First Steps in Religion" which tells the story of how three different families seek to answer their children's questions concerning religion.

Each Monday night from November 6 through November 27, the volunteer teachers from the four Protestant Sunday Schools will meet at Marston Pavilion from 7-9 p.m.

Purpose of the training program is to provide an opportunity for teachers from each of the four Base Protestant Sunday Schools to pool questions, answers, suggestions and experiences concerning teaching in the Sunday Schools.

Fair Rental Value Raised For Inadequate Quarters

Effective Wednesday, the fair rental value of inadequate public quarters at Camp Lejeune will be raised.

The new rates will increase the rent on one-bedroom units at Midway Park from $56.40 to $62.40. Two-bedroom units will go up from $64.20 to $72, and three-bedroom units from $70.50 to $76.20.

At Knox and Geiger Trailer Parks, a one-bedroom unit will be raised from $49.50 to $53 and two-bedroom units from $54.90 to $60.

Occupants must pay either the fair rental value or 75 per cent of the Basic Allowance for Quarters (BAQ), whichever is less.

IN KOREAN GARB--Ladies of the International Wives Club recently conducted a program about the "Land of the Morning Calm, Korea." Mrs. J. O. Butcher, second from right, was the primary speaker. She was assisted by, left to right, Mrs. Raymond Komo, Mrs. S. L. Collins, and Mrs. W. W. McClory.

Many Still Writing Defunct Loan Assn

WASHINGTON, October 11 -- Many Marines and former Marines are still writing to the Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA) in Washington for information and assistance in obtaining loans under the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program.

FNMA cannot help them, however, as the program expired October 1, 1965, and was not renewed. Under this program, servicemen and veterans unable to get home loans insured or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration or the Federal Housing Administration were able to apply to FNMA for assistance in finding lenders who would make them home loans. Today's servicemen with 2 or more years of active duty, veterans with 181 days or more of active duty, any part of which was served after January 31, 1955, are eligible for home loans insured by the VA or for Federal VA loans for homes or farms in areas where private financing is not available.

This is one of the benefits provided by the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-358). More information about these home loan programs can be obtained from military Personal Affairs Officers or from any Veterans Administration office.

The monthly social featuring a potluck supper, will be held on Saturday, Oct. 28 at 6 p.m. Also included on the agenda will be a Halloween Costume party for both adults and children. For additional information call President Joyce Pukaha at 353-2020.

Chaplain Speaks

We are believers in the old idealized maxim "home is where the heart is." Unfortunately, the home is often the place where one feels he has the right to lower the barrier against selfishness and to get comfortable. After all, if there is a place to relax and be one's self -- isn't it the home?

What we fail to realize or admit, is that the habit of self-comfort makes the members of the home uncomfortable. The reason we are stubborn about this is that the pictures we have of ourselves bear little resemblance to the way we appear to others. And, knowing we are loved, we are habitually comfortable even at the expense of happy family life.

Okay, what is the remedy? Tried and proven is the remedy composed of good manners. To be considerate of others; to be gentle; to avoid profanity; to request, not demand; practice these consistently for best results.

Dependents Invited To Holiday Meals

Holiday meals served in base messhalls will be available this year not only to the troops living in barracks but also bonafide guests of military personnel, military personnel on commuted rations and their dependents, and officers and their dependents.

These Marines and their dependents and guests are cordially invited to eat the special holiday meal celebrating the Marine Corps Birthday on Thursday, November 9, as well as the Thanksgiving meal on November 23, the Christmas meal on Christmas Day, and the New Year's Day meal, according to Base Bulletin 10110.

The price of the meals for officers and civilians will be $1.20. Enlisted personnel on commuted rations will pay $1, while children will be served for 60 cents.

BRONZE STAR—Sergeant Major Douglas K. Craig, 2d Force Service Regiment, is presented the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" by his commanding officer, Colonel H. Wallace.

SgtMaj. of 2d FSR Wins Bronze Star

Sergeant Major Douglas K. Craig, 2d Force Service Regiment, Force Troops, was recently presented the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" for his heroic achievement in Vietnam.

While serving as first sergeant of "C" Company, 1st Shore Party Battalion, 1st Marine Division, Craig displayed exceptional professional skill and resourcefulness in supervising all phases of administration and helicopter support operations.

During Operation "DeSoto," Craig's company position was attacked with a heavy mortar barrage. The sergeant major was seriously wounded, but continued to assist in the defense of the logistical support area until the attack was over.

Exhibiting exceptional dedication to duty, he volunteered for two extensions of his tour of duty in Vietnam.

With his extensive experience in helicopter support team operations, SgtMaj. Craig was instrumental in the development of helicopter support team doctrine, which has proved highly effective in combat operations.

Craig is currently serving as sergeant major of the 2d Force Service Regiment.

4 Marines Apprehend Car Thief

The long arm of the law was given an unexpected assist recently when four Marines apprehended an automobile thief.

While on their way Wilmington, N.C., Privates First Class Ray Gildorf, Ronald Rodriguez and Lance Corporal John Sheruda, Electrical School students, and Lance Corporal Ralph Adams, 1st Infantry Training Regiment, were offered a ride by a passing motorist.

"The driver was obviously drunk, and his complete disregard for the automobile made us wonder if it was actually his vehicle," commented LCpl Adams.

After riding a short distance, the four Marines cleared their doubt when the driver admitted that he had stolen the car. After a short struggle, the culprit was subdued and turned over to the Holly Ridge, N.C. police department.

The owner of the car, Staff Sergeant Myrna J. Morgan, Woman Marine Company, Headquarters and Service Battalion, Marine Corps Base, was notified.

The four heroes also received their reward -- they were meritoriously promoted to their present rank during an informal ceremony two days later.

1st Term Marines Now Eligible To Ship Over

WASHINGTON, October 11 -- Marines on their first enlistment now are eligible for early reenlistment and retraining with as little as two years service remaining, according to a policy change recently announced by Headquarters Marine Corps.

In the past, Marines had to wait until they had a year or less of their enlistment before they were eligible for early reenlistment.

Under the new policy, a Marine who is serving on his initial year enlistment may now be eligible to reenlist with as much as two years left to serve. Personnel in this category can request retraining in certain occupational fields, providing they meet the qualifications. Among the fields available under the new program are: signal intelligence, electronics, aerology, air control and telecommunications maintenance.

Marine Corps officials pointed out that promotional opportunities in these fields are excellent. Choice assignments, both stateside and overseas exist, and many of these fields are authorized Proficiency Pay.

Further details of the new program are spelled out in Marine Corps Order 1133.4G and 1133.15H.

Division Corporals Win Bronze Star

Two 2d Marine Division corporals were awarded the Bronze Star with Combat "V" here recently for their exemplary service in Vietnam.

They are Corporal Wayne M. Glickert of Headquarters Battalion and Corporal Richard C. Converse Jr., of the 2d Anti-Aircraft Battalion. Glickert was serving with "M" Company, 3d, 3d Marine Division, when his patrol came under heavy enemy fire from a entrenched North Vietnamese Army force.

Despite the heavy fire, Glickert rushed across 50 meters of exposed terrain to rescue a wounded comrade and bring him to safety.

Converse with the "C" Company, 3d Anti-Tank Battalion, 3d Marine Division when the Marine outpost at Con Thien was subjected to an intense enemy artillery barrage July 16. Despite the exploding shells, Cpl. Converse left his shelter and went to the aid of a wounded Marine, carrying him to safety.

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF -- Colonel Walter W. Stegemerten will assume duties Monday as chief of staff, Marine Corps Base, replacing Col. R. W. Glickert who will retire the same day. Col. Stegemerten was previously assistant chief of staff G-4 (logistics) for the base.

of pavement, his own vehicle, or the like. He must see the target vehicle pass by the two points he has determined before he can get a reading on his unit meter.

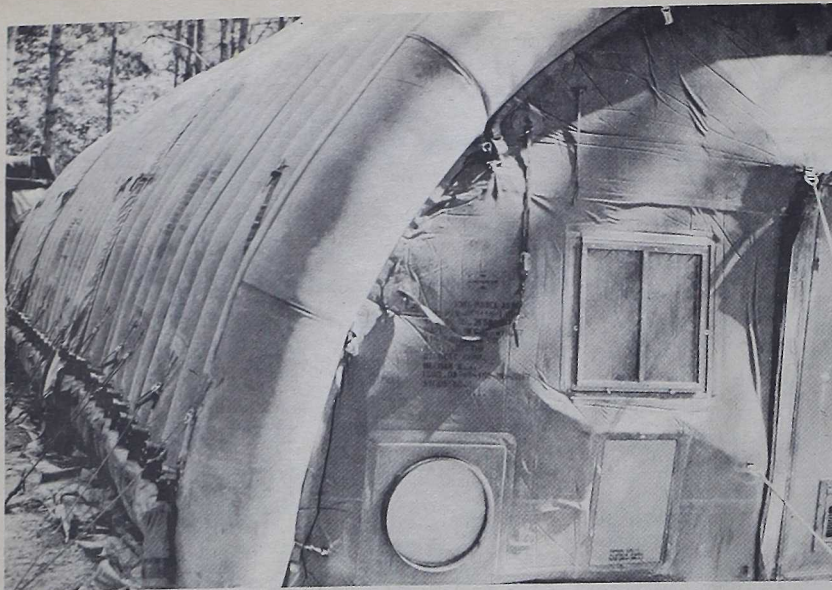

By using natural or ready-made landmarks the trooper eliminates the laying of wires, necessary for a radar trap. Because the trooper may choose reference points in front of himself, behind himself, or on either or both sides of himself, he is able to compute a target vehicle's speed from any direction.

Say, for example, that a vehicle is coming from the main gate toward the Central Exchange down Holcomb Blvd. An MP traveling from the exchange toward the main gate sees him coming. As the target vehicle passes by the Drive-In movie marquee the MP turns on the time switch on his VASCAR unit. At the instant the two vehicles pass each other on the road the MP turns off the time switch and simultaneously turns on the distance switch. Once the MP gets to the marquee he switches off the distance switch, and VASCAR multiplies the distance times the time of the target vehicle, giving the MP the vehicle's average speed. If the speed is in excess of the limit, the MP can either turn around and give chase or radio ahead to stop the speeder.

This is one way to compute speed with VASCAR. There are 22 more. The device is now in effect or being tested in seven states. Besides the elimination of the high-speed chase to clock speeders by speedometer, the device also allows the trooper to show speeders how fast they were going, since the pointer stays at the indicated speed until reset. It is no longer one man's word against another's.

2d Medical Battalion

INFLATABLE HOSPITAL -- A new addition to the battalion's mobile equipment is the inflatable hospital.

EQUIPMENT -- One sixty bed hospital stands ready for field duty.

PORTABLE HOSPITAL -- Camouflaged among trees a field hospital and its medical team await casualties.

Modern warfare with its super jet aircraft and helicopters, faster and better communications, and vastly improved weapons for the individual fighting man, has an equally modern medical arm -- and for the fighting men of the 2d Marine Division this means the 2d Medical Battalion.

The doctors and corpsmen of the battalion are ready to treat any and all ills ranging from the common cold to major surgery in addition to maintaining the thousands of personal health and dental records.

Unique, in that the entire battalion is as mobile as the Marines it treats, the unit is capable of establishing and maintaining four 60-bed tent hospitals in the field.

These mobile hospitals are primarily geared to collecting the Marines wounded in time of battle and giving them the necessary emergency treatment and temporary hospitalization until they can be evacuated from the battlefield. To carry out this important task, the battalion, like the rest of the division, is equipped with the latest in medical equipment. This includes a device to inflate rubber inflatable hospital.

This 2-bed or hospital works as a "balloon" in that when inflated, it occupies a space approximately 12 feet long, 3 1/2 feet wide and 7 feet high. It is easily transported by the motor transport section attached to the battalion.

When the medical compressor is attached to the hospital, they inflate the tent (Medical Unit, Contained, rammed, able), to a 5-foot hospital.

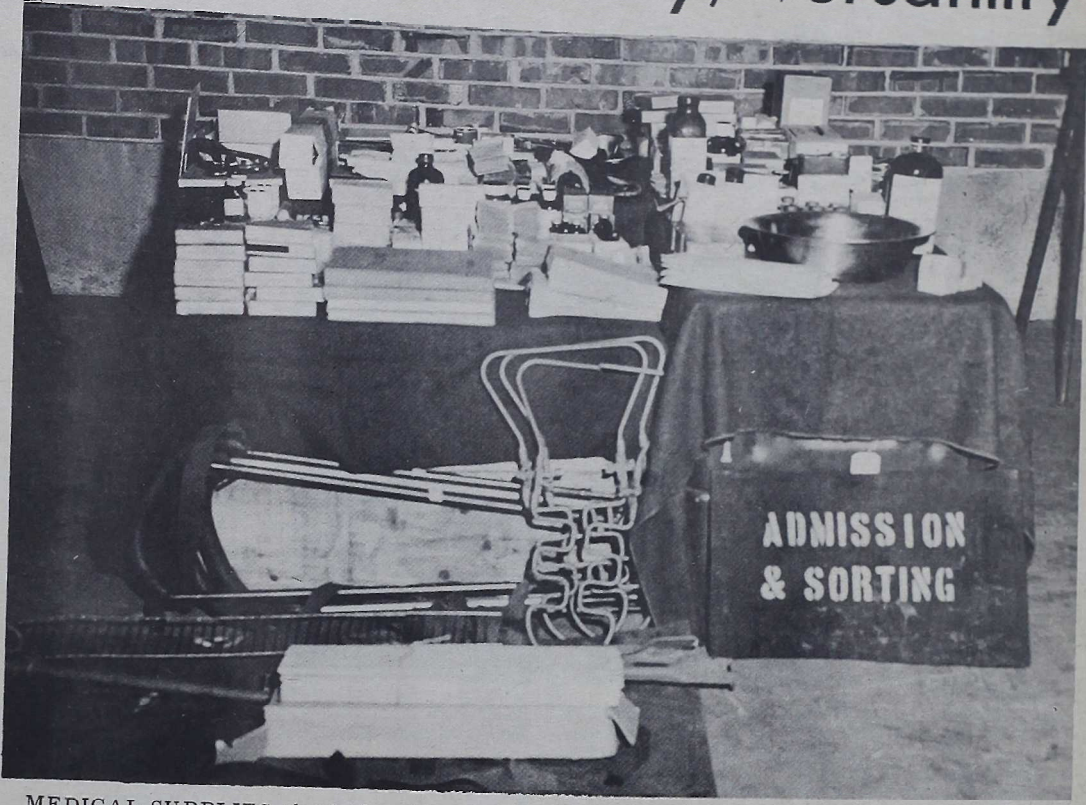

The unit is conditioned, has water and an over-head lighting facilities that give it its sick-bay and a cal ward.

COMFORT AND CARE are administered by doctors and corpsmen to Marines in hospital tents such as this one.

"Swansboro hardest hitters"—DevilpupsPups Chew Up Pirates 27-14

It was Tripoli all over again as the Marines took the Pirates last Friday night. Only this time the Pirates' haven was Swansboro, the Marines were dependents, and the Coastal Plains 2A Conference Title was up for grabs.

The battle was a hard-fought 27-14 football victory for Lejeune, bringing their season record to 7-0.

Tim Slaton, Buddy Charlesworth, Rich Fofar, and Dennis Goss spearheaded the Devilpup offense. Slaton led the team from his quarterback spot as he bombed the Pirate secondary for a touchdown pass, while running for two more.

The defense, led by Charley Hoopes, Dave Nichols, and Iatomo Pau, blunted the offensive swords of the Pirates all but two times, as they allowed only two touchdowns.

The first half was rock 'em-sock 'em, but Lejeune held a 14-7 lead when it ended.

The Pirates took the opening kick-off but fumbled on the first play from scrimmage. Lejeune's Pau thundered through the line and smothered the ball on the Swansboro ten-yard line.

Charlesworth got the ball from Slaton and rambled to the one-yard line. From there Slaton sneaked it over for the touchdown with Charlesworth scoring the PAT.

This quick score made it seem like "old times" for the Pups. In each game this year they have scored early in the first quarter.

With everyone waiting for the familiar rout to continue Swansboro picked itself up and marched 67 yards for a touchdown by Barry Mathews. Riggs scored the extra point, making it 7-7. After the two quick touchdowns the game settled down until the beginning of the second quarter when Lejeune took to the air.

The Pups moved 47 yards through the air with the touchdown coming on a fourth and ten call. Goss broke into the clear on the sidelines and Slaton hit him with a neat 20 yarder and a touchdown. Charlesworth scored the PAT.

As the "game of the year" progressed into the third quarter it was apparent that Lejeune was up against its toughest opponent of the season.

Coach McGhee said, "Our boys said that Swansboro was the hardest hitting team we faced all year."

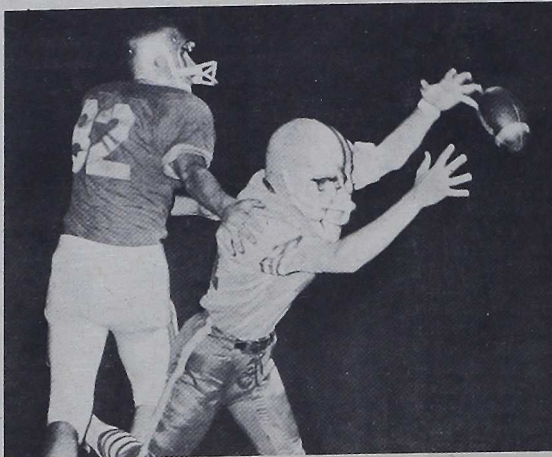

Late in the third quarter Lejeune moved 72 yards in 5 plays. The big play of the drive was a Slaton to Goss pass that carried all the way to six yard line. On the next play Slaton ran it over and the Pups led 20-7.

As the fourth quarter began the Devilpups shocked the Pirates when Tom Dempsey recovered a fumble on the Swansboro 20.

Goss raced to the Pirates' 2 yard line and Rich Fofar bulled it over for the touchdown. Slaton tried to pass for the PAT but ran it over then he found his receivers were covered.

Mathews scored the Pirates' final touchdown in the fourth quarter on a short run to end the scoring.

Eight-man Tackle Football8th Marines, 'Engineers Lead League

Eighth Engineers remained undefeated in the A league as they belted 8th Comm. Bn, 32-13 last Monday night.

Edwards and Mannis both scored two touchdowns for the winners. Hayes tallied another for the winners in a game that was tied 13-13 at the half.

Eighth Marines have the top team in the B league. Their record stands at 4-0. Last week they dumped 2d Anti-tank Bn, 24-13 for their fourth win.

In games played October 17 2d FAG handed Hq. Co. a 28-13 loss and 10th Marines edged Rifle Range 7-6. ITR upset 2d Engineers 20-7 for their third win.

October 18 games whipped up a storm as 2d Tank Bn, belted 2d Radio Bn, 24-13 and 2d FAG outpointed Hq. Co. 28-13.

Other Monday night games began with the 32-13 8th Engineer Bn, victory, and ended as 2d FAG shutout 2d Radio Bn, 20-0 and H & S Bn., FSR slipped by Maintenance Bn, 13-12.

2d Service Bn. won a forfeit from Rifle Range.

HIGH RECORD SET AT SOUTHERN OPEN. This past weekend over 40 bowlers from the Jacksonville-Lejeune Association made the trip to Durham, N. C., for the Southern open. All the bowlers who made the trip had a wonderful time. There were many "High" scores bowled and one of our men returned with one of these records. He holds the record for the Highest ball throw in the tournament this far. It went about 7 feet into the air and landed on the lane, went into the 1-2 pocket for a strike, but in his excitement he fouled.

Once again the Junior bowlers turned in some fine scores: Bitsy Bantams—David Cronk had all the honors with a 372 scratch and 477 hdc series, 135 scratch, and 170 hdc Games. Eliana Yanez had all the honors in the girls division with 239 scratch and 431 hdc series, 88 scratch and 152 hdc games.

Lucky Strikes: Ronnie Caves—473 scratch series; Ronnis Saller—588 hdc series; Jim Brown—383 scratch series, Ruth Simutis—588 hdc series; Debbie Canright 145 scratch and 207 hdc games.

Many splits were converted this past week with the BIG "4" as one of them. B. Sullivan in the Staff N.C.O. League converted the big "4."

Royal Starts Boxing Season Off Right

Richard Royal, 147 pound All-Marine Champion, fighting for the first time since the Pan American Games, won a split decision from Takeo Mokubayashi, the Japanese Welterweight Champion, at High Point, North Carolina last Saturday night.

The United States won 7 matches and lost three against the touring Japanese Olympic team, as soon as they finished at High Point, the Japanese left for Mexico City to compete in the Little Olympics.

Coach Rogers accompanied Royal on the trip. "I didn't expect the Japanese to hit as hard as they did. Ohhhh man, they could hit. They were tough and were in real good shape. We had to come off the canvas to win the last fight."

Royal started his bout fast, looking with both hands. In the middle of the round Royal rang Takeo's bell with a left hook, the blow was the hardest thrown by either fighter and probably as the deciding factor in the match. "I won the first round," said Royal. "The ring was real small and we threw punches all the time."

The second round the two fighters traded punches, with neither one scoring hard.

In the third round, Mokubayashi adjusted to Royal's style and was hard to hit. "The Japanese fighter got smart and looked much better in the final round. Richard just had piled up too many points in the early rounds," said Coach Rogers.

"I got tired for some reason in the third round," said Royal. "But J.C.'s training got me through. He told me what to expect and I was ready."

"The Japanese fighters come straight at you," said Coach Rogers.

"He (Takeo) was a tough fighter and fine guy," said Royal.

Sports Schedule

Lejeune's Varsity Soccer team will meet New Hanover Saturday at 2 p.m. on the field behind the High School.

The Sea Urchins will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow at 2523 Bougainville Drive.

The Devilfish swimming team will play host to Quantico at the area 5 pool on Saturday at 10 a.m.

Rogers Hopes To Schedule More Home Boxing Matches

All the Marine Corps fighters have arrived and training is getting harder according to Lejeune boxing coach Ray Rogers.

"We are starting to watch weights, ability, attitude a lot closer," said Rogers. "Our first match is closing in fast."

The first varsity boxing match will be against the Navy team based at Norfolk, Va., on November 14. There are tentative plans for the Navy to fight here December 29.

The first home match will be against Raleigh State Prison on December 2. In a letter to Coach Rogers the prison boxing coach said that he hopes his team can offer some "token opposition."

"Token baloney," said Rogers. "They hit hard and they are good tough fighters. They always give us a good fight."

There is a tentative match in Syracuse set for December 10.

Lejeune will also host the All-Marine Boxing Championships in February and the Inter-Service Matches in March.

Rogers is also working on an Open Invitational Match to be held in January.

Lejeune Outdoors

By Staff Sergeant Bill Adams

This past weekend I heard quite a bit of grumbling about the lack of deer being killed on the organized hunts. Since the opening day of the deer season, 1957 hunters have checked out hunting areas. Granted that not all of these are deer hunters, the records show that of the 600 organized hunters on the two organized hunting days, 48 had successful kills. Of the remaining 1357 hunters that have gone to the woods, 23 made deer kills. Considering the amount of areas that are closed at this time for training and the poor visibility in the woods the 12 per cent of the organized hunters that have connected is not too bad. With the amount of foliage still on the trees at this time of year a deer is able to pass within a few yards of a man and still be almost invisible. So don't be discouraged, the season is still young.

To get a tasty cut of venison on the table one must begin with proper field dressing of the deer. Here is one method until experience becomes a better teacher. Dress the deer immediately. Roll the deer over on its back with the head lower than the shoulders. Make a cut along the belly, from the breastbone to the base of the tail. First, cut the hide, then the belly muscle. To avoid cutting the intestines, use the free hand to guide the knife tip. Make a cut around both sides of the external organs and around the anus and draw both into the body being careful to avoid breaking the bladder. It may be necessary to split the H bone to do this. Reach through the belly opening and cut the diaphragm away. Cut the windpipe and remove every thing en masse. Prop the cavity pen with sticks to allow for rapid cooling.

If possible, after skinning, allow the deer to "age" for 2 or 3 days at temperatures of from 40-45 degrees before butchering. Your local butcher or slaughter house may help you with this. Aging mellows the gamey taste of venison.

During handling of your deer, avoid touching the musk gland on the inside rear legs. This gland is identified by a darker patch of hair.

GySgt Bill Tankersley from Engineers Schools dropped the biggest buck this past weekend. Bill was hunting with Maj. Joiner's hunt in the RB Area. His buck field dressed out at 145 lbs. and had a fine 10 point rack.

Although it may not have been the biggest buck of the day, the 6 point buck killed by Dwain MacPherson will be his most memorable one. Dwain was hunting on his Father's organized hunt when he bagged his deer. This was his first deer in his three years of hunting.

SSgt E.A. Sanders of H&S Bn., MCB was fishing from the New Topsail Ocean Pier at Topsail Island when he hooked and landed a 31½ lb, 33½ in., King Mackerel. He caught the beauty on Friday the 13th. Old Timers and employees of the pier claim this to be the largest caught there in years. This claim will get some response from other fishermen, I'm sure.

A number of hunters picked up area passes for this weekend's hunting and then never made it to the woods. Since only so many hunters can check out each area a lot of others could not get the area they wanted. If you find out you won't be able to make it, let the Game Protector know so that he can assign someone else, and if you have signed up for an organized hunt don't change your mind the morning of the hunt. Others will be glad to go.

Boys League Football

The Redskins and the Packers each chalked up their 4th win against no defeats last week to remain on top of the Junior Midget Football League.

The Redskins ran over the Rams 47-0, with Nolan Ladd and Dennis Eldridge each tallying 3 scores. Robert Weir also scored for the victors.

The Packers thumped the Steelers 29-0. Ralph Ladd scored twice and Gary Whitten and Mike Bauer each tallied once.

This Saturday both undefeated powers clash at Tarawa Terrace for the number one spot in the conference.

In other action, the Cowboys 39-0 romp over the Eagles made the whitewash circuit complete. Bressetts outstanding performance for the Cowboys accounted for two tds.

The Saints outlasted the Colts 21-13 in Junior Bantam League action last week. Ron Morris' fine defensive play preserved the victory.

In the final game, The Vikings squeezed by the Cardinals, 8-0.

Force Troops Rifle-Pistol Team Needs New Shooters

The Force Troops Rifle and Pistol Team needs new shooters. They must be in the rank of PFC through Sergeant and have at least two years to serve. They must also have qualified as an expert with the rifle or pistol.

Anyone who is interested should contact the Force Troops Rifle and Pistol team at 57374.

Pamlico Falls To JV's 25-6

The Lejeune JV's rolled over Pamlico in gridiron action last Thursday. Quarterback Perkins engineered a 25-6 victory as his team pounded out 357 yards on the ground in a game that sported strong Lejeune running attack. The first TD came on a pass from Perkins to Langford, who ampered 40 yards for the score.

Perkins' 15 yard gallop into the end zone produced the second TD. A long march to the 5 set up the third score. Cooper's 5 yard plunge scored the TD, and Bobby Catlin scored the PAT.

Bobby Catlin scored the final TD; again on a plunge from the John Fowler, the Lejeune JV's high middle guard, gave a fine performance on defense.

"We all played good football," commented Coach John Griffin.

Vietnam Story: Marines at War

Stories and Photos from III Marine Amphibious Force

CLOSE CALL -- An OE-1 "Bird Dog" light observation craft lies smoldering on the bunker of Marine LCpl. Paul Manley after the plane crashed Sept. 21. Manley was on guard at the other side of the bunker when the plane's engine quit and it plunged into the end of his bunker.

Sentry Learns To Keep His Head Down

KHE SANH, Vietnam, Oct. 11- LCpl. Paul Manley was standing perimeter watch at the combat base here when he heard the engine of a light observation aircraft stop.

He was in for a close brush with death.

He turned from his machinegun position in time to see an OE-1 heading for his bunker. . . it's wingtip missing Manley by a few feet

"It scared the heck out of me," he added.

According to Manley, the observer in the back seat of the plane immediately freed himself. The pilot was trapped inside, pinned down by a piece of twisted metal.

Manley and some navy-men working nearby rushed to the light plane to pull the pilot out.

"The plane caught fire about then," he stated, "but we managed to drag the pilot out."

The plane crash did no damage to the bunker whatsoever.

"It was a close call for the crew and myself," Manley said, "I'm just glad they got out okay."

RIVER FIGHT -- Marines of the 2d Bn., Fourth Regiment, take up positions in a river bed during a search and destroy operation south of Phu Bai against Viet Cong forces.

Snooping Marines Find VC Hideout

DA NANG, Vietnam--A slightly ajar camouflage cover for a tunnel led two Marines from "E" Co., 2nd Bn., First Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division to a Viet Cong lair and the discovery of VC equipment.

Cpl. Michael J. Cenkus, 20, and LCpl. Daniel R. Dowling, 19, discovered the find while on a platoon sweep recently 15 miles south of Da Nang.

Dowling spotted the tunnel site first. "We were walking down the trail when I noticed a box-like hole, exposed by the cover being slightly moved off the entrance," he said.

The Marines first threw in an M-26 grenade and then Dowling entered the tunnel to investigate.

"After moving through a small entrance and a short crawl down a tunnel, I came upon a larger room and saw a poncho laying on the floor," said Dowling.

Making sure that the poncho wasn't booby trapped, Dowling removed it and underneath discovered three cartridge magazines with grenades, one 20mm shell rigged as a booby trap and set of green utilities.

Crawling a little farther into the room, the Marine discovered an AK-44 rifle, an American-made survival knife, a pair of dressings, a can of rice, two cans of orange soda and two more.

Dowling passed all the gear to Cenkus and then crawled out. Upon opening the two bags, the Marines discovered nine sets of brand new gray uniforms.

About 15 feet past the entrance of the hidden gear, the Marines came upon a large room, with walls of brick and supported by wooden beams. They found a bamboo stalk running the surface used to bring in fresh air.

"The place was big enough to hide two or three men with the set up they had, they could have stayed underground for a long time. That is what we hadn't discovered their hideout and upset their plans," said Dowling.

ROOM WITH BATH -- LCpl. Robert A. Patrikios, New York City, grabs a quick bath under a faucet of a water trailer in the compound of Combined Action Platoon-3 in Hoa Khanh, Vietnam. The platoon is made up of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese Popular Forces troops. They are the principal protective force for the village of 30,000, and have been officially praised by the village chief for their military proficiency and friendly relations with the villagers.

Marine Corps Ring Is Family Tradition

DA NANG, Vietnam -- Cpl. Ronald J. Riley, 21, wears a Marine Corps ring which has been worn by seven other relatives since World War II and says a ninth member, a 17-year-old nephew, is about to enter the Corps.

"My father first wore the ring in 1941," said Riley, who is a member of "C" Co., 1st Bn., Seventh Marine Regiment, 1st

Marine Division. "Since then, I've had two uncles, a brother and three cousins wear it besides myself."

"It's been through WW-II, Korea, Laos and Vietnam. And it's still lucky, not one of us that's ever worn the ring has ever been wounded."

"I guess, like the ring, the Marine Corps is sort of a family tradition," said Riley. "Although my father never pressured me to join, it would've seemed a place to enter any other service."

Riley has participated in several operations. A resupply chopper is concerned with the delivery of food, clothes and medical supplies to the troops in the field.

He has been in Vietnam since May 1966, and is presently on a 6-month voluntary extension.

death stalks an ex-British officer employed by a London law firm as he investigates the African operations of a big-time diamond dredger. The investigation of his wealthy quarry leads to crawls, bloody assaults, murders, and finally an explosive showdown. Filmed on the Coast of Southwest Africa this picture stars Dale Robertson, Richard Todd and Marianne Koch.

Marshall Dan Blaise, ex-gunner, who is reputed to be the best gun in the West, is challenged for his title by young Lot McGuire. Blaise, who has no desire to return the challenge, tries to convince the younger man not to fight. McGuire persists and the showdown occurs. Action and conflict are the key words in this movie starring Glen Ford, Bud Everett and Angie Dickinson.

straddles the thin red line separating life and death. In his attempt to unravel the sinister mystery, Barth is alternately pursued by unknown attackers, drugged by a beautiful lady, kidnapped and finally trapped in a flaming car. This color production features Kerwin Mathews, Pier Angeli and Robert Hossein.

Rock 'n Roll

Three top rock attractions will perform at the Camp Theatre as part of the Marine Corps Birthday celebrations planned for lance corporals and below.

The Coasters, Little Bill and the Yummies and Bobby Moore and the Rhythm Aces will entertain November 9 from 6:30 - 9 p.m.

Privates through lance corporals, their wives and dates, only are authorized to attend.

The uniform of the day, or appropriate civilian attire is authorized. Dress blues are encouraged.

A Gala Halloween Costume Ball will be held at the Paradise Point Officers Club Saturday. The $3 cost per person includes a steak dinner and entertainment by the T-Tones. Make your reservation and purchase tickets at the information desk or by calling 6-6188.

Reservations are also being accepted for the Marine Corps Birthday Ball Dinner on November 8 and 9. For information call 6-6188.

THE BISBINIS exhibit unfaltering coordination in one of the fastest and largest juggling acts ever to come to Camp Lejeune. The circus will be here Saturday and Sunday with performances scheduled at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. and 2:30 and 5:30 respectively. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Movies this weekend will be: "The War Lord," "Around the World and under the Sea," "Busy Body" and the original version of "The D. L." Hostesses will be members of the Seven Oak and Nine Mile Homemakers Clubs.
