Lt. Baker Awarded Silver Star Medal

A 2d Battalion, 2d Marines officer was awarded the nation's third and fourth highest combat decorations and two Purple Heart Medals during ceremonies yesterday while a fellow officer received the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry.

Major General Ormond R. Simpson, division commander, made the presentations at the battalion headquarters.

The Silver Star Medal was awarded to Second Lieutenant Clyde L. Baker for his decisive action in combat while serving as a platoon commander with the 1st Battalion, 4th Marines during "Operation Deckhouse VI" in Vietnam last February.

While his platoon was acting as a point element for a company movement across a rice paddy, they were ambushed.

Positioning his men on line, he led them on an assault to high ground, knocking over enemy positions and relieving the pressure on the rest of the company.

"When the ambush hit it was from three sides and my first thought was of my platoon," the lieutenant stated. "There were two heavy automatic weapons in front and it was either lose the whole platoon or knock over the position: I truly feel that it was the training these Marines had received that made our success as a combat unit."

During the day, Lieutenant Baker's platoon was also involved in hand-to-hand combat and was often under sniper fire.

By the close of the day, they had silenced every enemy weapon, all without suffering serious casualties.

The Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" was awarded to Lt. Baker for his participation in "Operation Prairie IV", again as a platoon commander with the 4th Marines.

Arlington Funeral For Colonel Bray

Funeral services for Colonel William T. Bray, Camp Lejeune's assistant base commander, were held in the nation's capital Tuesday morning. Burial was in Arlington 26 years in the Corps, Col. Bray was assistant chief of staff, G-3, with the 2d Marine Division here, base comptroller, and chief of staff, Marine Corps Base, before becoming assistant base commander in May.

Born in Oak Park, Illinois, in 1916, Col. Bray graduated from the University of Illinois in 1938 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps in 1941.

During World War II, he served with the 1st Marine Division at Guadalcanal and Tarawa. After the war, the Colonel held various staff billets within the Corps.

Prior to coming to Camp Lejeune, he attended the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington, D. C.

New Program Designed To Assist Dependents

Occasionally Marines serving overseas receive letters from their wives telling of family problems. These problems are sometimes of an emergency nature and sometimes they are a result of the Marine's failure to make necessary arrangements to provide for his family before he left home.

Often these problems can be solved by one of the family assistance organizations on the Base. And many of these problems can be avoided by a little careful planning.

Most Marines and their wives are familiar with the Navy Relief Society, American Red Cross, Chaplain's office, Housing Office, Legal Office, U. S. Naval Hospital, and the Informational Services Office, and their function in assisting the family in time of need.

What they don't know is that these organizations are now united under one head: the Family Assistance Advisory Council.

This parent organization reviews the activities and advises these units as to how they may best serve the Marine family. The program is designed primarily for the dependents in the husband's absence.

The Marine who has received orders for an unaccompanied tour overseas should acquaint his wife with the newly organized Family Assistance Program and explain to her how it may be of help to her should the situation arise.

To aid the Marine in familiarizing his wife with these procedures he is requested, but not required, to fill out a voluntary "registration for dependents" form when he receives his orders for overseas. This form may be obtained in the Marine's company office.

The company will send it to the Family Assistance Council and they in turn will send the dependent guidance pamphlets and information which will help her prepare for her husband's departure and insure that the family will be well provided for in his absence.

Under this program the services rendered by these organizations remain the same, but an advisor is on duty 24 hours a day to assist in any family problem that may develop. He is located in room 254, Building 1, and can be reached by telephone at 346-2111, extension 7-5417. However, during normal working hours, the dependent should contact the organization from which she requires help.

Fire Prevention Is Best Fire Protection

By LCpl. Bob O'Connell

Sunday marks the start of National Fire Prevention Week, a 7-day period annually designated by the President in somber commemoration of the Great Chicago Fire of 1871.

For many, the anniversary will mean only the second week in October—nothing more. There will be an increase of "Smokey the Bear" TV commercials. School children will drag home handfuls of fire prevention pamphlets and "Sparky" the fire dog comics, eventually to be laid with the newspapers in a basement corner next to the paint and kerosene cans.

For others, the slogans, tips, and demonstrations will strike a responsive chord, prompting a checkup and subsequent removal of home and office hazards.

And for still others, the campaign's cute cartoon figures and catchy jingles will soon come screaming to life amidst a fiery holocaust. The more fortunate of these will be safe, but possibly without a home for a short while, waiting for insurance money to rebuild charred remains. All because of a cigarette left burning.

The less fortunate, if they live, may have to face the blinding pain and hideous sight of blackened flesh. All because of a dirty oil heater.

For the victim of severe burning, the ensuing minutes are crucial. A ride in a speeding ambulance follows the rescue. Next of kin are notified—as are doctors on the other end of the line.

A cleric is usually present in the emergency room. He watches as doctors scrape off the burnt skin with razor blades. To the victim his skin feels like bacon. If the nerve endings are burnt, it tickles when they scrape the palms of his hands and soles of his feet.

After the operation, the victim is wheeled to an isolation room. Several weeks later whirlpool baths are started, and the cutting of decaying flesh begins. The bad flesh is carved from the good with scalpels, and if the nerve endings are now growing back the pain is excruciating. All because of a worn out cord.

The cutting goes on for 10 or 15 minutes at a time, until the patient can no longer stand it. Eventually, he may be put under sedation, and the rest cut off. Several weeks more, and skin grafting is begun. If the grafts don't "take," salt-water baths may be administered. The salt tortures the nerves, forcing the skin to grow faster to cover the nerve endings. All because of undisposed of rubbish.

Months later, after numerous pints of blood and skin grafts, the victim may return home, scarred but alive. Hopefully, he will work, or walk, again. And all because of a leaky gas stove.

During the past fiscal year at Camp Lejeune, fire prevention classes were held for 4,479 military personnel, all Camp Lejeune school children, and all civilian employees. Still, fires caused $154,394 in damages.

The Camp Lejeune Fire Department conducted 12,906 inspections, examining public assembly places every night. Houses were checked for fire hazards before new residents could move in. Still, 1,377 alarms were logged in, all but 43 resulting in losses of a dollar or less.

In the deaths from fire category, it was a very good year. There were none. Four were injured.

From Oct. 8-14, Boy Scouts will distribute fire prevention literature to all Base residents. The Fire Department will conduct lectures and drills at the Lejeune School. A window display will be up in the Central Exchange there will be fires there.

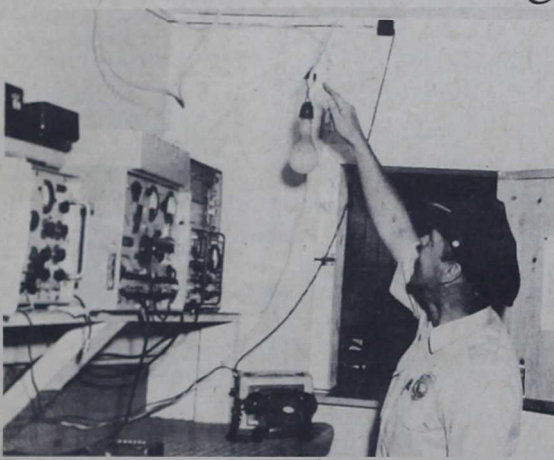

Some cannot be avoided. If housing residence, for example, find a fire hazard or around their homes unable to remove it, they contact Base Maintenance Base Maintenance is not to handle, the Fire Department is.

A trained staff of 118 is distributed among eight across the Base stands for another year of work hard. Hopefully, they will not work hard.

You, however, are your best insurance against death, and injury due to fire. Read the literature; use the slogans. Examine your household for fire hazards. Learn first aid techniques. What to do if a fire does occur.

There is no excuse for damage, or injury from fire because of carelessness.

Fall activities are upon us—and perhaps two of the most popular are the closing of the baseball season with its razzle-dazzle world series; and the beginning of the football season, when we all become armchair coaches as we watch the college and pro teams battle their way through the TV Season—or even spend many a wet and chilly evening in the bleachers watching our favorite high school struggle for the trophy.

Those of you who are watching the exciting climax of this year's baseball season may want to make some last-minute comparisons of teams in the major leagues in order to back up your favorite with pertinent statistics.

Jack Zanger in MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, 1967, has gathered all the inside dope on America's national pastime. With biographies, forecasts, records, and other indispensable data in this compact little book you will be able to discuss the results of the current World Series for weeks to come.

And for the fan who hates to admit the season is all but over, try PENNANT RACE by Jim Brosnan for an excellent story of a major league baseball team's long and grueling fight for the pennant.

Football has already taken the headlines of the sports columns and magazines, and your library has many fiction and non-fiction books to offer the pigskin fan.

RONALD ENCYCLOPEDIA OF FOOTBALL gives a 94-year history of the game complete with facts and figures on football as played by professional, college, and even some high school teams.

RUN TO DAYLIGHT by Vince Lombardi, FOOTBALL AND THE SINGLE MAN by Paul Hornung, and FOURTH AND ONE by Lee Grosscup, will give you the pro's own story of the ups and downs of the professional football world.

PRO FOOTBALL by Robert Smith, one of America's leading sportswriters, gives a thrilling, fiction-like account of the history of the game and its most famous players.

WINNING FOOTBALL PLAYS by America's foremost coaches, edited by Dave Camerer, is only one of several books on the techniques and strategy of the best college and professional football.

Medal of Honor Winner Is New Division G-2

Medal of Honor winner as-sion's assistant chief of staff, (intelligence) recently.

Colonel William E. Barber e to Camp Lejeune from quarters Marine Corps
re he had served as head
the Marksmanship Branch, replaced Major Peter J. O'- un, Jr., who transferred to serve status.

Col. Barber

Col. Barber was awarded the medal for his actions while a company commander serving with 2d Battalion, 7th Marines, 1st Marine Division (reinforced) in the Republic of Korea during November and December 1950.
The Colonel maintained a company defense on a three-mile mountain pass along a supply line for five days and six nights.
Despite sub-zero temperatures, snow and a leg wound that immobilized him, he maintained control of his company, often checking his defensive lines from a stretcher.

When the company was relieved, only 82 of Col. Barber's original 220 men were able to walk away, but they had held their position and had accounted for more than 1000 enemy dead.

The colonel attended Morehead (Kentucky) State Teachers College prior to enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1940. He served as a paramarine until 1943.

In May 1943, he entered Officers Candidate School and was commissioned a second lieutenant in August. He was then assigned to the 1st Parachute Regiment on the West Coast.

Transferred to the 26th Marines, 5th Marine Division, in 1944, he embarked for the Pacific area and later took part in combat on Iwo Jima as a platoon leader.

A wound caused him to be evacuated but he later returned to the regiment and served as a company commander. Promoted to first lieutenant late in the war, he commanded a company during the initial occupation of Japan.

In October 1950, he was ordered to Korea and took part in the action which earned him the Medal of Honor. He was wounded in November of that year and was hospitalized in Japan until his return to the United States in 1951. He was awarded the Medal of Honor by President Harry Truman at the White House on August 20, 1952.

Col. Barber also holds the Silver Star Medal and two Purple Heart Medals.

BRONZE STAR -- Corporal James H. Rowe receives the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" from Lieutenant Colonel John H. Miller, commander of 1st Battalion, 8th Marines.
Lance Corporal Edward Law (right) received the Purple Heart Medal in the same ceremony.

Hospital Asks For More Blood Donors

A request for more blood donors has been issued recently by the U. S. Naval Hospital.

The request was made necessary by added requirements for blood in the Pacific area.
According to the bulletin, units will be asked to provide a minimum of 45 volunteers for the program. After the list of volunteers has been received, the hospital will test and select 25 volunteers with Type "O" blood and 20 volunteers with type "A" blood.

The additional blood will be used to supply 32 units of whole blood on a weekly basis for use in hospitals in the Pacific.

Volunteers must be past the age of 18, weigh at least 110 pounds, must not have donated blood within the past five weeks, and must not have chronic diseases, malaria or certain other ailments. If the prospective donor has had a blood transfusion in the preceding six months, he will not be allowed to donate.

At present, the Naval Hospital uses approximately 45 units of whole blood per week. It maintains a blood bank of 90 units and in emergency situations will provide blood to civilian and military hospitals in the area.

Small But Dangerous Spider

Watch For 'Brown Recluse'

The Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory has urged that residents of the Camp Lejeune area be on the lookout for a small, brownish colored spider known as the Brown Recluse or Fiddler.

In the current issue of "Family Safety" magazine an article entitled "The Bashful Brown Solder" points out that the Brown Recluse, normally an inhabitant of the Deep South, has been sighted recently throughout 13 states in the South and Midwest.

The bite of the Fiddler generally produces a mild sting which may result in swelling, blistering or even hemorrhaging two or eight hours later. Considered to be more dangerous than the black widow, both sexes of the Brown Recluse are capable of inflicting a serious bite.

The small spider, usually about one half inch long in body and one quarter inch in width, is found of hiding in dry, dark places such as shoes, bedrolls, or packed clothing and bedding when returning from areas inhabited by the Brown Recluse.

If you should be bitten by a spider of any type, go calmly but directly to receive medical aid. If at all possible, capture the spider that has bitten you, since proper medical attention depends on positive identification of the variety involved.

The Naval Medical Research Laboratory desires any information which concerns sightings of the Brown Recluse or any specimens believed to be the Brown Recluse.

Camp Lejeune Senior Is Merit Semifinalist

A Camp Lejeune High School Senior was recently notified of his selection as semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST).

Paul A. Rowell, son of Lt. Commander and Mrs. D. A. Rowell of the Camp Lejeune Naval Hospital, said, "I will be among some 14,000 semifinalists in the running for about 2,900 Merit Scholarships. The scholarships will be awarded in 1968 and are valued at more than $8 million."

The semifinalists scored the highest in each state on the NMQST given last February. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the nation.

"These are young people of high intellectual potential and from this group will come future leaders of business industry, and the professions," said John M. Stalaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

To become a finalist, the semifinalist must have an endorsement from his school and take a second test. "I will be tested again in December to determine whether I will receive a possible four-year merit scholarship," said Rowell. Names of the winners will be announced by early May 1968.

Rowell is very active in school. He is the president of the Student Council, a member of the National Honor Society, Latin Club, and president of the Key Club. He says, "I want to study law in Florida, and later become a lawyer or politician."

Baton Classes

Registration for Baton Twirling and Acrobatic classes will be held at the Marston Pavilion Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Each course consists of a one hour course per week for two months costing $6. Those between the ages of four and 12 will be eligible.

Activities

OWC Group I

Group I of the Officers' Wives' Club will have a luncheon and fashion show Oct. 12, in the main dining room of the Paradise Point Officers' Club.

Ladies of Base Dental are hostesses for the event featuring fashions, cosmetics and hair styles. A social hour will be held at 11:30 a.m. and the luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Members and prospective members of Group I will be contacted by the reservations committee. Anyone not called is asked to contact Mary Lockhart, Ext. 6-6872.

Reservations for the Sitter Service must be made at least 24 hours in advance.

OWC Group V

The wives from 2-6 of Group V will host a luncheon on Oct. 13, in the Lejeune Room of the Officers' Club. Highlighting the affair will be a talk given by Mr. P. Page, President of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

The program will begin with a social hour from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Mothers are reminded to make reservations for their children at the Sitter

Service twenty-four hours in advance.

International Wives' Club

The first meeting of the International Wives' Club of Camp Lejeune will be held Oct. 20, at 10 a.m. at the Paradise Point Officers' Club.

The speaker for this meeting will be Mrs. J. O. Butcher who will relate to the club her experiences in Korea. Mrs. Butcher lived in Seoul for several months while she visited her husband, Maj. Gen. J. O. Butcher, who was then the senior member of the Military Armistice Commission of the United Nations.

Slides will be shown, and interesting souvenirs and other articles of interest will be on display. Assisting Mrs. Butcher will be Mrs. J. F. Boles and Mrs. Raymond Komo. Mrs. Komo, a native Korean, will supervise the preparation of the typical Korean menu.

For reservations call one of the following members: Mrs. D. U. Davidson (6-6840), Mrs. R. R. Gutekunst (6-6748), Mrs. C. T. Risher (6-6117), or Mrs. J. E. Sundholm (346-8751 or 346-9288).

Fashion Show

Set October 12

A 1967 kick-off of fall fashions will be presented Oct. 12 at Tarawa Terrace Community Center.

Men's fashions will be modeled by John Anderson and George Read. Refreshments will be served at the door. The Staff NCO sitter service facilities will be available providing sufficient reservations are made in advance. Please call 2-25

Redeye: Anti-Aircraft Missiles for Grunts

By LCpl. Milton Fields

own through time combatants had to depend on weapons of density and magnitude, but it's just a matter of "Take they're small!"

ut of this day and age of impact electronic marvels has emerged a supersonic, heat-seeking weapon that locks on its craft target with a voracious appetite for annihilation. It's the world's smallest guided missile—and the 2d Marine Division has it.

ocal operators of this 4-foot, round, shoulder-fired, anti-aircraft demon have recently returned from Marine Corps Base, Parris, N. Y., where they attended a four-week course conducted by the Marine Reserve Missile Training Center.

Specific skills learned in the eye gunner-platoon course include: aircraft recognition, map-reading, selection, communications, preventative maintenance, safety, air control, tactics, doctrine and motor skills and concentration needed to fire the missile.

The 2d Marine Division Redeye platoon is made up of three sections and a headquarters.

Within a section there are 13 men: one section leader, two radio operators, and five two-man Redeye teams. A Redeye team consists of a corporal as the gunner and a lance corporal as the radio operator and assistant gunner.

The headquarters section is composed of the platoon commander, the platoon sergeant and four radio operators.

For communications, each team has one portable radio control unit (PRC-25), each section has two PRC units, and the headquarters is equipped with a PRC unit and a radio jeep.

The Redeye weapon system, developed and produced for the U.S. Army and Marine Corps by Pomona Division of General Dynamics, is a passive infrared weapon system designed for use by front-line troops to provide immediate defense against low flying aircraft.

As stated by First Lieutenant Robert A. Kotz, officer-in-charge of the Division Redeye platoon, "Redeye provides the infantry battalion with its own private anti-aircraft guided missile system. It can be used either dynamically with the battalion or statically with the air wing."

With Redeye, initial aircraft detection by the gunner, or his assistant, is normally accomplished by the naked eye. Audible and visible signals indicate to the gunner when infrared acquisition of the target has occurred. When the target is "acquired," the gunner activates the "seeker" section of the missile which is then free to track the target.

The launcher is equipped with an optical sight with which the gunner both estimates the target's range and positions the launcher to the correct lead and superelevation angle before he fires. The weapon's firing trigger is depressed when the target is within intercept range.

The rocket motor has two stages; the first ejects the missile 20 feet, the second propels it to the target. In flight the missile control section receives continuous target position data from the "seeker" electronics system housed in the head of the missile.

The "seeker" system also computes angular seeker-to-target and line-of-sight data. Command signals are generated from this data which, in turn, continuously position the wing control surfaces to guide the missile to the target intercept point.

To provide protection against environmental effects, the missile is sealed within the launching tube. The forward end of the tube is sealed with an infrared transparent window and the aft end is sealed with a transparent breakable disc.

The Redeye launcher, which consists of the gripstock assembly, sighting scope, launching tube, and launcher battery housing, is made of molded plastic material. In addition, the launcher incorporates the operation controls, target acquisition indicators, launcher battery, and the necessary safe-and-arm interlock control circuits.

Although the Redeye missile system is still in the experimental stage, plans call for each Marine division to have its own Redeye platoon.

The motto of the 2d Marine Division Redeye platoon is "If it's in our range—it's OURS!"

Pre-Retirement Briefing Set

A pre-retirement briefing is scheduled for next Tuesday at 1:30 p.m., at the Camp Theatre. All retiring military personnel in the Camp Lejeune area are invited.

The program will include a briefing on the pre-retirement assistance program and counselling on civilian employment. Representatives from the Industrial Relations Office, the Veterans Administration, and the North Carolina Employment Office will speak.

Chaplain Speaks

LAY LEADERSHIP

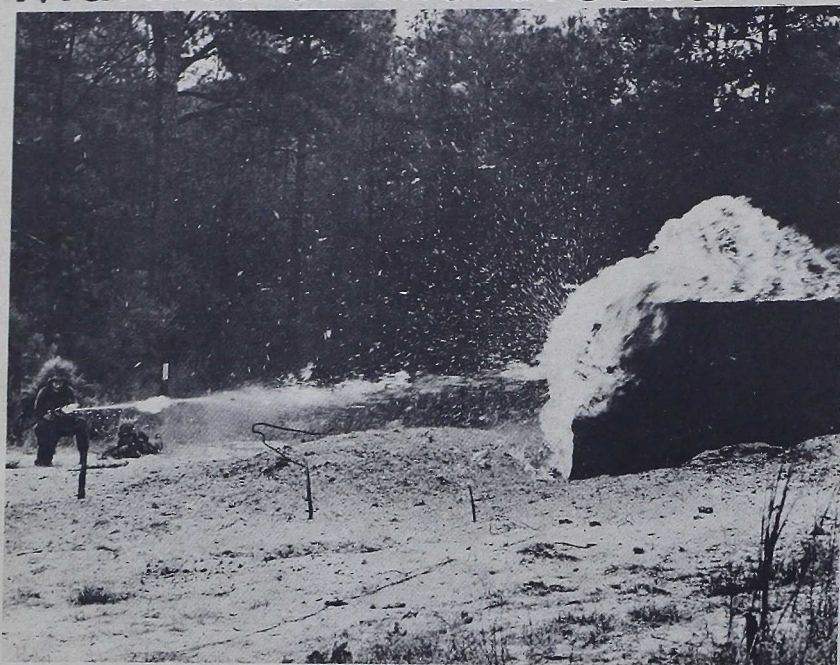

The success of any football team depends upon the extent of the "team effort". This effort must develop a balanced attack between running and passing. When this has been accomplished, the backfield and the ends will receive most of the acclaim, but the avid football fan knows that the linemen running the interference have made the plays work.

These same principles are necessary in other areas of life. The religious endeavors in our world today must be a team effort if we are to have any success whatsoever, a team effort between the clergy and the laity. As a layman you are on the line, the quality of your living gives evidence of the kind of "team effort" that exists in the religious groups of our world.

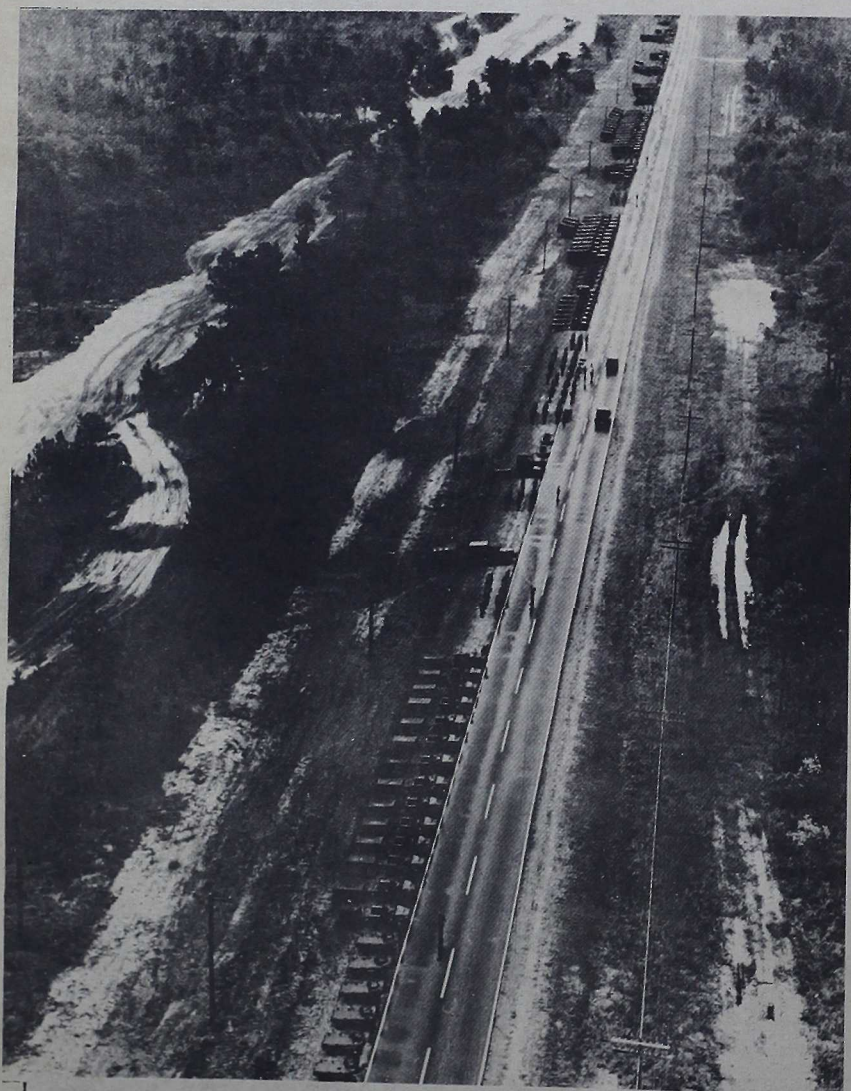

Religion desperately needs a balanced attack. Attack is the proper word, because passive indifference has never and will never succeed. When social injustices are corrected, when the dignity of man has been raised, when the laws of God are accepted as the way of life for all, it will be, because clergy and laity have developed a balanced attack. Religion needs the effort of dedicated laymen.

Fourth Straight Win28-7 Victory

Devilpups Ramble Over Richlands

The Richlands Wildcats clawed away and surprised Lejeune High for three quarters last week before the powerful Devilpups wore them down for a 28-7 victory.

The 'Pups led only 15-7 going into the final period. Although the 'Pups managed a total offense of 339 yards it was the defense again that told the story. Lejeune held Richlands to minus ten yards rushing as they repeatedly stopped a reverse play for big losses.

Iatomo Pau, Lejeune's 232 pound tackle, starred on defense when he blocked a third-down-and-18 Richlands' punt out of the end zone for a two point safety.

Coach Tom McGhee's offense sputtered along with flashes of brilliance as Rich Fofar ramblled for two touchdowns and two extra points.

This was the Devilpups first game without halfback Buddy Charlesworth, their top runner. He did not play because of injuries suffered during practice.

Fofar took up where Charlesworth left off as he busted several tackles enroute to a 53 yard touchdown run in the first period. Fofar also scored on a 11 yard run for the final TD.

Lejeune scored first early in the first period. Richlands' Warren Howard booted a fine 50 yard quick kick from his own 12. Bill Crites, replacing Charlesworth at halfback, gained 16 yards but the play was called back because of a penalty. On the next play quarterback Slaton flipped a pass to end Ed Cribbs and he raced 30 yards into the end zone.

The Pups scored again in the first period on Fofar's dash to make it 13-0.

Lejeune kicked off to Richlands and two plays later the Wildcats' Warren Howard and James Fisher combined for a 71-yard pass play and a touchdown. Howard passed to Fisher again for the PAT.

The two teams exchanged the ball until the 'Pups scored on the blocked kick. After that Lejeune had the game wrapped up.

Although the Devilpups rolled again they had troubles at quarterback. They only lost one fumble but their quarterbacks were having a hard time getting the ball from under center. Coach McGhee will have his men working hard on this aspect of the game as they work for their fifth win.

LEJEUNE SCORING: Cribbs, 45-yard pass from Slaton; Fofar, 53-yard run; Goss, four-yard run; Fofar, 11-yard run; Pau, safety; and Fofar, two points after touchdown.

The Devilpups host Pembroke tonight as they go for their fifth straight victory against no losses. Again they will be playing without Buddy Charlesworth, who sparked their offense in their first three games.

Lejeune has scored 121 points so far and their opponents have managed only 21 in four games. This speaks well for the 'Pup line which has been so great.

Charley Hoopes and Iatomo Pau are the defensive leaders along with Ted Rodarte who has been in on most of the key plays this year.

This is homecoming for the Devilpups and Pembroke will be in for a tough game. This is Pembroke's first year of varsity play as they travel here from the Fayetteville area.

Boys League Football

Junior Midget

The Packers, Eagles, and the Steelers had successful opening days last Saturday as they registered wins in the Junior Midget Football League.

Ralph Ladd led the Packers to victory as he scored his team's only touchdown in their 9-7 victory over the Cowboys. The Packers' winning points came on a safety. Keven Thomas scored a TD for the Cowboys.

The Eagles edged the Rams 7-6 as Bryan Catlin scored on a quarterback option play. Waters scored the winning PAT.

The Redskins swamped the Steelers 19-0 as Nolan Ladd scored 2 TD's to lead his team's scoring. Dennis Eldridge scored a TD and an extra point to complete the scoring for the winners.

Junior Bantam

The Cardinals and the Colts emerged victorious in their Junior Bantam Football League games played last Saturday.

The Cardinals romped 19-0 over Vikings as Joey Blick, the wingback, scored three times. Dennis scored the PAT for the winners.

The Colts managed a 14-13 squeaker against the Saints. Colt Henry Rodarte scored a TD on a 45 yard pass interception and ran for another as he piled up 12 points. Bimbo Rodarte raced for the winning PATs. Stokes and Stephens each scored touchdowns for the Saints.

No Pistols

Recreational firing on Range F-11 for Saturday will be for rifles only. The pistol range will be used for training at this time.

2d Division Pistol Team Wins In Fla.

A four-man squad from the 2d Marine Division's Pistol Team invaded Jacksonville, Fla., last weekend with telling results.

Competing against a field of more than 100 competitors representing the Army, Navy, Air Force and civilian gun clubs in the annual Southern Fall Pistol Championship Matches, the Camp Lejeune "Dingers" tallied a total of 10 first place honors during the individual matches.

Heavy hitter for the team was Sgt. J. Enriquez, whose 2560 out of a possible 2700, earned him first place slot in the Grand Aggregate match among service masters.

Teammate SSgt. B. C. Villegas also eked out a top honor in the .45-caliber slow-fire match with a 188 out of 200 over the 50-yard course of fire.

During team competition against 14 other team entries, the 2d Division squad captured match winner in both the centerfire and .45-caliber team matches with an 1109-22 and 1116-21, respectively.

JVs Bop Pamlico

Lejeune's JV's rolled again as they dumped Pamlico 27-7 last week. The little 'Pups gained 542 yards to 180 yards for Pamlico.

The 'Pups scored in every quarter as Pehovic scored on a 12 yarder, Langford grabbed a TD pass from Perkins, Buckley pushed over on a keeper, and Perkins scored 15 yards for a 6 pointer.

Ten Men Selected For Boxing Team

Ten men have slugged their way through rough and tumble boxing tryouts the past weeks to win a place on the Marine Corps boxing team that will train here.

They will join veterans Art Brown, Richard Royal, and John Wilson from last year's team as they fight their way to the 1968 Olympic Trials.

Training coach Ray Rogers has selected TAD orders on the winning men who were selected for the team: Lance Corporal James L. Allen, Co. B, 1-8; Lance Corporal Willard D. Phillips, Co. B, 1-8; Lance Corporal Shore Party Bn.; Sergeant James Oliphant, Co. B, 1-8; Lance Corporal Larry Armendariz, Engr Support Co., 2d Engineer Bn.; PFC Scott C. Snyder, Ser- Co., 8th Engineers, Force Bn.; Corporal Thayer Borel, Headquarters Co., MCB; Lance

Coach Rogers

Corporal Dwight Vaughters, H&S Co., 1-8; Lance Corporal Herbert Thompson, Mortar Battery, 1-10;

Sergeant James E. Williams, Company A, 1-8; Corporal Cecil M. Beverly, H & S Co., 1-8.

Coach Rogers hopes to have the selectees as permanent members of the squad by October 16.

Last year's All-Marine heavy-weight Ken Norton has turned pro on the West Coast and leaves a large gap in the bigger weights.

Rogers is planning on a match at Norfolk in the second week of November against the Navy team. This is only four weeks after all the fighters are scheduled to report.

"I plan to have matches every seven to ten days when the season begins," said the coach, "and we will fight the rest of the year."

"It will be a learn as you go thing since we have so little time to get ready," according to Rogers.

Lejeune Outdoors

By Staff Sergeant Bill Adams

Caution, as defined by Webster, "is a warning; either by word, act, or the like that conveys a message to be on guard; to take notice beforehand of approaching danger or evil."

Caution is something that is used by each of us every day at home, at work, and in our driving. But it is apparent that more caution is needed in our driving. This past week several fawn deer were killed on the Base that might be alive now, if more caution had been used.

In the past twelve months a total of 59 deer, 24 buck and 35 doe, have been killed by our motorists. Many more than this have been injured and made it to the forests before dying. Granted, that a small percentage of the incidents have been unavoidable, but the overall number is preposterous.

With the opening of deer season rapidly approaching, there will be a great increase in activity by animals and hunters. This will increase the chance of a deer or a dog darting heedlessly in front of your vehicle. (Possibly even an over-anxious hunter!)

Without more caution there will be more useless killing and injuring of deer, not to mention the costly damage to vehicles and possible injuries to the occupants.

So let's all do our share to reduce these statistics for the future. If an unfortunate incident occurs to you, report it within 48 hours, either by telephone to the Base Game Protector or by use of the format in B.O. 1710,20A.

This is the first of a new series of outdoor news articles. Future articles will contain information, helpful hints, and highlights of outdoor events. Anyone having a subject for discussion, or wishing to report an outdoor highlight should contact me at 353-2922.

Birt Sinks 2d Anti-tank With 2 TD Receptions

Tuesday Night

Two shutouts and a close game featured Tuesday night's action in Eight-man Tackle Football. In the shutouts Supply Schools massacred the Rifle Range 40-0 and 2d Engineer Bn. whipped 10th Marines, 27-0.

In the close game played under the lights of Liversedge Field ITR defeated 2d Anti-tank Bn. 13-6. ITR's end Birt scored on two pass plays from quarterback Carnes. He scored first in the second quarter on a 25 yard pass play to make the score 6-0. The extra point failed.

The ball changed hands several times with neither team able to mount a drive until late in the second period when Birt scored his second TD on a 45 yard pass from Carnes. Kinney ran for the extra point making it 13-0 in favor of ITR.

In the third period 2d Anti-tank scored their only touchdown. G. T. Pendlebury grabbed two interceptions for the losers, but their fired up effort was not enough to wrest the win from the determined ITR team.

Monday Night

In Monday's night's action 2d Service Bn. belted Recon 33-0 and the Naval Hospital bombed 8th Comm. 40-13. Headquarters Company, Force Troops, and Support Bn. played to a 12-12 tie as A League action opened.

Last Week

Second Anti-tank Battalion whipped 2d Recon by a 12-7 score in Eight-man Tackle Football last week. Other games found 8th Marines shutting out 2d Service Bn. 26-0, Supply Schools besting ITR 14-6, and 2d Engineer Bn. outscoring Rifle Range 12-6.

Decorations Awarded To Three 2d MarDiv Marines

Two 2d Division Marines received personal decorations for Vietnam service and one was honored for exemplary performance of duty during formal ceremonies held recently.

Brigadier General E. B. Wheeler, assistant division commander, presented the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" to Second Lieutenant John L. Judy, the Navy Commendation Medal with Combat "V" to Master Gunnery Sergeant Ancel Harrison and a Letter of Commendation to Lieutenant Colonel John J. Donahue.

While serving as a platoon commander with "M" Company, 3d Battalion, 7th Marines in Vietnam on January 28, Lt. Judy's platoon came under heavy enemy fire. Judy, in need of reinforcements, led part of his platoon on a mission against a flank of the enemy. Once this envelopment had been set up, he returned to the remainder of his unit and led them in an assault against the enemy position.

He is credited with "... saving numerous lives as well as being instrumental in the subsequent defeat of the enemy."

Lt. Judy is currently serving with 3d Battalion, 2d Marines.

MGySgt. Harrison received the Navy Commendation Medal for meritorious service as operations chief of the G-3 (plans and training) section, 3d Marine Division, Vietnam. According to the accompanying citation, "Sergeant Harrison demonstrated exceptional ability and leadership in the performance of his demanding duties. He was instrumental in initiating numerous improvements which resulted in increased operational efficiency despite a steadily increasing work schedule."

MGySgt. Harrison is presently regimental operations chief of S-3 (plans and training), 2d Marines.

A letter of commendation was presented to Colonel Donahue, Commanding Officer, 2/2, as a result of his "outstanding performance of duty" while serving with the Caribbean Admission Center, Miami, Fla. He served at this post from May 1965 until August 1967, when he became CO of 2/2.

Lt. Conklin Is Honor Graduate

First Lieutenant Leslie R. Conklin of Camp Lejeune was the honor graduate of Ordnance Officers Course 1-68 which ended last month at the Ordnance School at Quantico.

1stLt. Conklin compiled an average of 97.87 while completing the 10-week course which includes instruction in the fundamentals of staff functions and administrative duties of ordnance officers.

The course also stresses the storage and transportation of all types of ammunition used by the Marine Corps.

New Rifle Range Record Established

Staff Sergeant Robert E. Spanglehour of 2d Force Service Regiment, fired a 162 out of a possible 180 points to set a new Rifle Range record for the "C" course.

Spanglehour, of FSR's H&SCo., Maintenance Bn., shattered the old record of 159 set recently by PFC Mike Garcia.

Spanglehour fired expert all week, but Friday's requalification score was his best of the 5-day period. The Grove City, Penn., native has been at Camp Lejeune the past three years, and was formerly with Engineer Maintenance Co. before joining his present company.

Globe Wins Merit Awards

Two merit awards from the naval service's Chief of Information were presented recently to the Camp Lejeune Globe.

The awards were for a high level of performance during the second quarter of 1967 and for the special edition on Flag Day.

Quad Command Highlights

EXPENSIVE HANDSHAKE — Sergeant Frank O. Steele, Headquarters Battery, 4th Battalion, 10th Marines, accepts a check from Staff Sergeant Ben E. Moore, battalion career advisor. Sgt. Steele reenlisted for six years and received a promotion to his present rank, more than $7,000 in reenlistment bonuses and a three year tour of duty in Hawaii.

MOVIE REVIEWS

"The Triple Cross"

Eddie Chapman (Christopher Lummer), an elusive safecracker, is arrested by the police and sent to prison about the time World War II breaks out. He offers to turn agent for the Nazis and is taken from prison by a German intelligence chief (Yul Brynner) to be trained in undercover techniques. After completing his first assignment in England, it becomes quite obvious that the crafty Chapman has more in mind than just being an every-day spy. Features Romy Schneider, Trevor Howard and beautiful Claudine Auger. In Color.

"Mondo-Mod"

The movie brings to the screen a study of today's youth. It begins in Sunset Strip at the hangouts, shops and nightclubs where every desire of the restless youth is fulfilled. It then moves on to the 'in' fashions where way-out patterns, wild colors and crazy fabrics appeal to the younger generation. Stars "The Youth of the World" with "Sam the Soul and the Inspirations" and "The Group". In color.

"Ten Little Indians"

Eight strangely assorted human beings find themselves as house guests at a mysterious castle during the depths of winter. The castle, set in the midst of inaccessible country, is reachable only by a private cable car. The first night after dinner, a voice from the unknown charges each of them with murder and threatens all with death. Stars Hugh O'Brian, Shirley Eaton, Fabian, Leo Genn, Stanley Holloway, Marianne Hoppe, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Dennis Price and Dalila Lavi.

"The Defector"

U. S. Physicist James Bower (Montgomery Clift) reluctantly allows CIA Agent Adams (Roddy McDowall) to persuade him to convert a cultural visit to the Dresden Museum in Leipzig into a CIA assignment. Bower is to arrange a Leipzig rendezvous with Russian physicist Goshenko, and finalize details for Goshenko's defection to the West. After finding out Bower's mission, the Russian Secret Service goes all out to prevent him from obtaining the required information to complete his assignment. Also included are Hardy Kruger, Macha Meril, David Opatoshu and Christine Delaroche. In color.

"Faces of Fu Manchu"

Professor Muller (Walter Rilla) is forced into distilling a deadly black poison that Dr. Fu Manchu (Christopher Lee) desperately needs. The poison, if obtained by Dr. Manchu could be fatal to the entire world. Also stars Negel Green, James Robertson Justice, Karin Dor and Tsai Chin. In color.

"24 Hours to Kill"

An international flight develops engine trouble and is forced to land in Beirut. After finding out that it will take one day for the plane to be repaired the crew decides that since they have 24 hours to kill it would be a good idea to take in some sights of the exotic city. An end to their pleasure comes when one of the crewmen's past catches up with him, endangering all of their lives as he becomes the target for certain death within their 24 hour stay. Stars Mickey Rooney, Lex Barker, Walker Slezak and Michael Medwin. In color.

"The Greatest Story Ever Told"

Brings to the screen the underlying story of Jesus and his mission on earth. Stars Max Vonsydor as "Jesus", along with Dorothy McGuire, Charlton Heston, John Wayne, David McCallum, Van Heflin, Sal Mineo, Pat Boone, Shelly Winters, Sidney Poitier, and Ed Wynn. In Color.

TRIPLE EFFORT—Three commanding officers join forces during a ribbon cutting ceremony at the Courthouse Bay enlisted recreation area. The purpose of the ceremony was the opening of a new patio at the club. Participants were (left to right) Lieutenant Colonel George H. Nilsen, 2d Air Naval Gunfire Liaison Company, Lieutenant Colonel David G. Me-hargue, 2d Amphibious Tractor Battalion and Colonel Lester G. Harmon, Marine Corps Engineer Schools.

FIRE! Three of the mighty, 155-millimeter guns of 2d FAG line up in a standard battery formation. The gun in the center foreground is in the process of firing a training mission at a target 7,500 meters away.

2d FAG Keeps Sharp With FIREX

Standby...FIRE! The earth trembles as two hundred pounds of steel shoot out of the barrel and speed for the target 7,500 meters away.

The forward observer has spotted the enemy and he radios the pertinent data to the Fire Direction Control center. The "FDC" quickly and accurately computes the exact position of the target, type of explosive needed, and the fuse-time of the round. They in turn relay the new information to the gun crew, which readies the big eight-inch howitzer for firing.

The round is fired and even as the reloading process begins, the forward observer reports the effect of the first round and suggests adjustments to be made.

Relying on experience, expertise, and a great deal of pride, this training exercise has been accomplished by the members of 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops. The 2d FAG is currently conducting a month-long, live-fire exercise, FIREX 3-67, at Vieques, Puerto Rico.

One of the major support units that make up Force Troops, 2d Field Artillery Group, may be called upon at anytime to support a regimental or division size operation.

As the name implies, 2d Field Artillery Group is the mobile artillery arsenal of Force Troops. Armed with their precision-firing eight-inch self-propelled howitzers and the devastating 155-millimeter guns, they provide the heavy punch necessary to sustain an offensive assault.

Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Lawrence R. Dorsa, 2d FAG consists of Headquarters Battery, Eight-Inch Howitzer Battery, and 155-Millimeter Gun Battery. During the current FIREX the majority of the Group was moved to the extensive range facilities at Camp Garcia, the Fleet Marine Force's Caribbean training site.

Experience and training are evident in every facet of FIREX 3-67. From the cooks who operate mess facilities to the mechanics who keep the guns rolling, every man is aware of his importance in making the mission a success. Many members are Vietnam veterans and their invaluable experience in combat zone enhances the training program of 2d FAG.

The 2d FAG conducts intensive training programs highlighted by three yearly trips to either Fort Bragg, North Carolina, or Vieques. Only in these areas do the skilled artillerymen have the training space necessary to operate the tools of their trade.

Force Troops field training is an informative experience for the Marines of 2d Field Artillery Group realize that their guns, when needed, must be quick and accurate. 2d FAG is ready.

BETTER THAN A SLIDE RULE... Sgt. Francis G. Leone, assistant operation chief, demonstrates the M-18 Gun Direction Computer (FADAC) to Brigadier General John E. Williams. The computer, operated by one man, is fed data on range, targets and fuse time, and then determines the setting of the artillery piece.

EXACTING WORK... Sgt. Carl Glendinning, Headquarters Battery, calibrates the fire of a 155 millimeter gun with the Radar Chronograph as Sgt. James G. Rushing takes readings. The Chronograph was field tested for the first time by 2d FAG during the current FIREX.

QUICK AND PRECISE... A gun crew exemplifies speed and timing as they reload the "155" in preparing another training mission. The crew includes men trained in ammunition preparation, mechanics of the piece, and operation of precision firing mechanisms.

LOCK AND LOAD... 300 pounds of powerful explosive stand ready to be fed automatically into the breech upon the command from the Fire Directional Control center.
