

'Project Transition' Gets Underway Here

Marine Corps participation in Project Transition", a Defense Department program designed to ease servicemen scheduled for transition from active duty in civilian related job skills, went into swing here this week.

The program, presented by Assistant Johnson in his April 7 manpower message to Congress, is being implemented by Department of Defense, with service presently conducting a pilot program to study means to put the program into actual operation.

The Marine Corps' pilot program is being conducted here at Camp Lejeune under the auspices of the Base commanding general, Major General Joseph O. Butcher.

Under the program, personnel with one to six months remaining on active duty whose military occupational fields are not compatible with civilian jobs, will be given an opportunity to "retrain" in a skill which will increase their chances of civilian employment once discharged.

Preference under the voluntary program will be given to personnel who have had no prior civilian job experience and whose military jobs do not qualify them for civilian employment.

The program began here this week as more than 1,000 Marines scheduled for discharge between October 15 and April 30 filled out eligibility questionnaires. The questionnaires will be processed and eligible personnel who indicate interest in the training will be interviewed.

Succeeding phases of the pilot program will consist of analyzing the interview results, proceeding with the establishment of courses of instruction and contacting prospective employers, including federal and state agencies.

Under present policy, participation in the pilot program is limited to Marine Corps Base Personnel. Once the program is fully implemented, members of the Base tenant commands, the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops, will be eligible.

Marines doubtful about reenlistment and those retiring are also excluded from participation in the retraining aspects of the pilot program.

According to the project officer, Lieutenant Colonel George

H. Nilson, assistant base G-3 (plans and training), local policy calls for training under the program to be conducted during off-duty hours. In addition, for test purposes two and four-hour programs will be held during normal working hours.

Target date for nation-wide implementation of the program is January 1, 1968.

Camp Lejeune will host a conference in December for all Marine Corps Bases and installations scheduled to kick off their programs in January.

31 Decorated During Base Awards Ceremony

Thirty-one Marine Corps Base personnel received personal decorations at the Infantry Training Regiment parade field today. Colonel Richard S. Johnson, commanding officer of the 1st Infantry Training Regiment, presented the decorations during formal ceremonies.

The Silver Star Medal was awarded to Gunnery Sergeant Arthur L. Fitzgerald. He distinguished himself in Vietnam, while serving with "E" Company, 2d Battalion, 5th Marines, 1st Marine Division. Exposing himself to enemy fire while his unit was under attack, he enabled several wounded Marines to be evacuated to safety.

Sergeant Hillous York was presented the Silver Star Medal for outstanding performance of duty in Vietnam while serving as a platoon sergeant with "C" Company, 1st Battalion, 5th Marines, 1st Marine Division. Sgt. York took command of his platoon after the platoon commander was killed during an attack on an enemy position. He continued direct fire on the enemy positions while wounded Marines were evacuated to safety. Later he constantly exposed himself to fire while leading a rescue party.

Corporal William C. Adams received the Silver Star Medal for heroic actions while serving as a squad leader with "D" Company, 1st Battalion, 5th Marines, 1st Marine Division in Vietnam.

While under heavy enemy fire, Cpl. Adams continued to lead his squad across the fire-swept terrain in spite of a painful hand wound. During an attempt to warn an unsuspecting platoon of their advance into enemy fields of fire, he was severely wounded again. In spite of this, he continued to lead his squad effectively, contributing significantly to the mission of his unit.

A Gold Star in Lieu of his second Bronze Star Medal was awarded to Colonel William W. Curtis for meritorious service while serving as commanding officer of the Chu Lai Defense Command and subsequently as Inspector of the 1st Marine Division from August 10, 1966 to August 1, 1967.

The Bronze Star Medal was presented to Corporal Jerry K. Fite for heroic achievement while serving with "F" Company, 2d Battalion, 3d Marines, 9th Marine Amphibious Brigade in Vietnam. He was cited for heroic and outstanding leadership in leading his squad against fortified enemy positions.

Corporal Richard A. Shuler received the Bronze Star Medal for service in Vietnam with "F" Company, 2d Battalion, 1st Marines, 1st Marine Division. He took the position of his platoon sergeant who was killed in the opening moments of an enemy attack. Although his platoon was surrounded throughout the night, he maintained the morale of his men and led them successfully out of the seemingly hopeless situation.

The Navy Commendation Medal was presented to Lieutenant Colonel Vincent J. Pross Jr., for meritorious achievement while serving as commanding officer of a supply company and subsequently as intelligence officer of the Provisional Service Battalion, 9th Marine Amphibious Brigade in Vietnam.

Captain Gilbert D. Johnson, 2d Lieutenant John A. Petronzio and Warrant Officer Sydney H. Scott received the Navy Commenda-

Telephone Service In Quarters To Be Provided By Carolina T&T

All telephone services in government quarters at Paradise Point, Berkeley Manor, and Midway Park that are presently being furnished by the Base Telephone System will be changed over to the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company during the first quarter of 1968.

Carolina T&T is presently serving Tarawa Terrace and Traylor Park. Notices will be sent by mail to all occupants of the affected housing areas this November by Carolina T&T representatives. The change is to be completed by March 21, 1968.

Plans are presently being made to include individual phone service for the Bachelor Officers Quarters also.

There will be no charge for installations made before the change-over date. Once Carolina T&T has taken over service to the quarters, subsequent installations will require an installation charge.

Once occupants have obtained phone services through the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company their calls will be made through the Jacksonville switch board and their telephones will have seven digit phone numbers. After March 21, 1968, the government will no longer offer telephone service to quarters previously mentioned.

Coincident with the provision of Jacksonville telephone service to on-base housing residents, arrangements will be made to enable Jacksonville telephone users to dial direct to official telephones at Camp Lejeune and New River without routing through a base operator.

Incoming long distance calls to official telephones at Camp Lejeune and New River will continue to be handled through base operators.

Until further notice all telephone business of base housing occupants will continue to go through the Telephone Business Office in Bldg. 1202.

There will also be Carolina Telephone and Telegraph representatives in this building so that occupants can inquire for information and make orders for phone service.

Did You Know?

EDUCATION

CAMP LEJEUNE

By John L. Clark.

A total of 6,680 North Carolina veterans and servicemen entered training under the GI Bill during the first 13 months (June 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967) of the program.

W. R. Phillips, Manager of the Winston-Salem VA Regional Office, announced that 4,738 veterans and 80 servicemen were enrolled at the college level. He added that 1,860 veterans and 2 servicemen were enrolled in vocational training or other courses below the college level.

The substantial increases effective October 1, 1967, in GI Bill allowances and the addition of on-the-job and farm cooperative training assistance, plus a new program of flight training allowances, are expected to increase the number of North Carolina and other state trainees participating in these new GI Bill programs this year.

Under legislation signed recently by the President, the GI Bill allowance for full-time college students will be $130 a month for a veteran with no dependents, $155 a month for a veteran with one dependent, and $175 a month for a veteran with two dependents, plus $10 for each additional dependent.

Veterans who have not finished high school may complete their high school education and receive the above assistance allowances without reducing their eligibility for financial help at college.

Vietnam veterans and others who have had 181 days of active duty and were released after January 31, 1955, are eligible for the GI Bill, Phillips said. Military personnel may make an appointment to see the VA Representative by calling the Base Education Office, 7-5572 or 7-5512.

Recent additions to the book collection at Central Library, Bldg. 63, are:

THE DECLINE AND FALL OF THE NEW YORK YANKEES by Jack Mann. Why did the House that Ruth Built come tumbling down after so many years of triumph? From 1920 to 1964, the New York Yankees were a national symbol of invincibility and their stars were household names. Not merely a book about sports, it's a small piece of history.

THE EMPEROR'S LAST SOLDIERS by Ito Masashi. An extraordinary account of adventure and survival by the last of the Japanese stragglers, who hid for 16 years in the Guam jungle.

MODERN MAN IN SEARCH OF MANHOOD by Thayer A. Greene. Being a man has never been easy -- it may have gotten harder and more confusing. A book that deals in depth and honesty with today's world of changing sex roles.

BLACK AND WHITE by William Brink and Louis Harris. The authors of THE NEGRO REVOLUTION IN AMERICA give up-to-the-minute answers to the question, "What has happened to the Negro revolution in America?"

THE NEW FACE OF BUDDHA by Jerrold Schecter. This fascinating, important book provides a new and urgent insight into Buddhism not only as religion and philosophy, but as nationalism, ideology and the ultimate source of Asian values.

THE FOX AND THE HOUND by Daniel P. Mannix. A remarkable animal story of a duel between two superbly skilled antagonists -- each one born and bred to his dangerous calling.

THE HUNGER AND THE WHALE by Laurens Van der Post. A tale of Africa; one of the great whaling stories of the world.

THE SPARROW'S FALL by Red Bodsworth. Two of man's most basic urges: love and survival are told with simplicity and grandeur rarely achieved in fiction today.

THE FRONTIERSMEN by Allan W. Eckert. Researched for seven years, this is the story of wilderness America itself.

AN OPERATIONAL NECESSITY by Gwyn Griffin. A story of wartime murder in the South Atlantic in World War II; an exploration of crime and punishment and climaxed by one of the most electrifying courtroom scenes in modern fiction.

ALL THE LITTLE LIVE THINGS by Wallace Stegner. A novel that deals with contemporary life: the cult of youth, the Hippie Revolution, the older generation and the excruciating conflict.

THE GIFT SHOP by Charlotte Armstrong. A thrilling new Armstrong novel that will dazzle even the most seasoned connoisseurs of suspense -- the gripping, jet-paced adventure of a desperate man's search for his missing daughter.

JACKSON'S WAR by Ray Rigby. A wild utterly believable take-care-of-number-one story of a comically wolfish corporal.

Stay Loose

By 1stLt. Ralph Deaver

One of the fringe benefits often overlooked in discussing a Corps career is the high level "Education by Travel," "Education by Association," "Education by Experience" status attained by children.

Take my kids, for example. My daughters know things already I hadn't thought of when I was old enough to vote.

They know, for instance, that Atlanta, Ga., has more streets, ways, roads, places, drives, and boulevards de "Peachtree." They know that New Bridge Street is in Jacksonville, N. C., that tobacco fields border the road to Charlotte, Durham, Winston-Salem, and Raleigh are names of Carolina as well as tobacco products dispensed at the corner drug store.

They know that you seldom see a movie star at Los Angeles Hollywood and Vine Streets, but that you may often glimpse the Del Mar Racetrack. They know that Big Bear is a mountain in California, not a TV cartoon character.

They have seen Route 66, the Mojave Desert, and Hot Springs National Park. They have played along the beaches of the Atlantic and the Pacific, they've seen the Smoky Mountains, the Rockies, and the Great Plains, and they've watched dawn streak the sky over Illinois corn-fields.

They've viewed seven states from Chattanooga's Lookout Mountain. They've beheld the lush crops of the Mississippi Delta, and they've looked at the nation's capitol down Pennsylvania Avenue.

In addition, they know the General Orders for Sentries on Fort Mifflin, the meaning of "Comrats," and the difference in TAD and PC. They know fore from aft, port from starboard, that you walk on the open hatch, climb the ladder, and hang pictures from the back of the head. They can tie eight separate knots in a mooring-line, and they know how to hawser-I forget which-in accordance with the Blue Jacket's regulations.

I'll confess that they've never learned to properly stand at attention in their clothing, but that's a moot point-their mother and I support of my inspection program within the home is not as enthusiastic as it could be.

The point I'm trying to make is this: For all the things they've learned, I deserve little of the credit. What they know and what they've been accredited to travel, association with new friends, attendance at diversification of public schools, and all the other unique experiences of close proximity to military personnel and military personnel's children.

You might say their knowledge of things is the product of the job training. On-the-job training for LIFE.

Beneficial Suggestions Can Earn Cash for You

Military and civilian personnel can now receive cash awards for their adopted suggestions.

If you have an idea running through your mind about how a job could be done better, faster, safer or more economically, don't just think about it--do something about it. Put your idea in writing on a Beneficial Suggestion form, NAVEXOS 12450-8.

Describe in detail the improvement you have in mind, what it will improve, how it will improve it, and how substantial or extensive you anticipate the benefits to be. Consider all factors in detail and explain thoroughly.

Prime objectives of the Incentive Awards program are to improve efficiency and economy in the Department of Defense and the military services.

Division and Force Troop personnel are asked to submit suggestions in triplicate through channels to their commanding generals, Military and Air Force personnel should submit suggestions to the Industrial Relations Officer.

The Incentive Awards Committee determines what suggestions are to be adopted, nature of award to be given, and amount of award--the amount.

8th Marines Celebrate Their 50th Anniversary

A commemorative ceremony highlighted the 8th Marines' 50th anniversary activities held at Liversedge Field October 6th.

After the ceremony, Major General Ormond R. Simpson, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, delivered a speech commending the 8th Marines on their services to the 2d Marine Division. The most decorated officer and enlisted man of the regiment shared in cutting the first piece of cake.

The 8th Marine Regiment was originally formed at Quantico, Virginia, in October, 1917, and was transferred to Fort Crockett near Galveston, Texas, soon after to guard the Mexican oil fields. It was then attached to the 9th Regiment to form the 3rd Brigade and was the Marine Corps' first advance base force in World War I.

This base force established and defended an advance base in the Caribbean area. After the Armistice in 1919, the 8th Marines were demobilized.

The inactivity of the 8th was short lived as the regiment was re-activated in January, 1920, for duty in Haiti against the Cacos bandits. The Marines eliminated banditry from Haiti for the first time in a hundred years and in July, 1925, their mission completed, they were once again de-activated.

The regiment lay dormant until it was apparent that our country would be involved in World War II. The 8th was the first regiment to sail into the Pacific where the unbeaten Japanese fleet was at large.

Their mission was to hold the Samoan Islands, which they did, until called to the aid of the 1st Marine Division on Guadalcanal. Here, they received their first Presidential Unit Citation for courage and bravery.

The 8th was sent to Hawaii to replace its losses after the Guadalcanal Campaign. While there, they trained for the next combat assignment. On June 15, 1944, the regiment slammed ashore on the island of Saipan and secured it within a month. After a fifteen day rest they took part in the assault and capture of Tinian.

Next, the 2d Marine Division trained at Saipan for employment against Okinawa. After a week of fighting, victory was in sight, and it was the 8th Marines who spearheaded the attack which broke the back of the last enemy resistance on Okinawa, thus bringing the Pacific Island Campaign to a close.

Since 1946, the 8th Marines have been based at Camp Lejeune where, as part of the 2d Marine Division, they have helped maintain a peace force in the Mediterranean and Caribbean. They participated in the Lebanon Operation in 1957, and were deployed in 1962 during the Cuban Crisis.

In October 1964, during operation "STEELPIKE I" the 8th Marines were the first regiment in the history of the Marine Corps to land personnel, equipment and supplies entirely by helicopter.

In the spring of 1965 they joined the 4th Marine Expeditionary Brigade for a peace-keeping effort in the Dominican Republic and have continued to provide Battalion Landing Teams to the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, the Caribbean Ready Force, and reinforced Infantry battalions in ground defense of the U. S. Naval Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Today, as in the past, the 8th continues to contribute to the development of amphibious doctrine and currently enhances the effectiveness of the 2d Marine Division as a "Force in Readiness."

Cpl. Farano Given Bronze Star Medal

Corporal Dana F. Farano, 2d Arabian Tractor Battalion, 8th Marines, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with Combat for his heroic achievement in Vietnam.

The citation for the award in part: "A Marine tank company, located in the vicinity of Cam Lo, was infiltrated and attacked by a numerically superior enemy force of Cong and North Vietnamese. As a Radio Operator with the Forward Air Control Team, Farano was wounded by fragments from a satchel charge explosion during the initial exchange of fire.

Ignoring his own painful wound, he continued to operate his radio, calling in helicopters to evacuate his wounded companions.

"With complete disregard for his own safety, Farano exposed himself to heavy enemy fire in an effort to find a suitable landing zone. Carrying two radios, engineer tape, and signal lights to an area he considered to be relatively safe, he marked a landing zone and began to direct the helicopters in for a landing."

Corporal Farano's commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel David G. McHargue, presented the award.

phic and occupational cross section of the country, see for themselves how the Department of Defense is operated. Its objective is to broaden the base of public understanding of the Defense program, the Department of Defense and the Armed Services.

The day-long program for SPEX, hosted by Major General Ormond R. Simpson, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, will include an amphibious assault across Onslow Beach by a Marine Battalion Landing Team (BLT), a rifle platoon assault on a fortified position, a display of equipment of a BLT, and a Short Airfield for Tactical Support (SATS) demonstration.

SATS utilizes launch and arresting gear similar to that used aboard aircraft carriers to provide "infant airfields" for support of combat operations ashore.

Following SPEX, the conferees are scheduled to observe operation "Brass Strike", a joint Army-Air Force exercise at Fort Bragg October 18.

Seabee Battalion Arrives For Combat Training Here

The first contingent of U. S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion-58 arrived at Camp Lejeune on October 3 after a flight from NAS Quonset Point. The rest of the 750-man battalion arrived on later flights.

The Seabee Battalion, under the command of CDR W. W. DeGroot III, CEC, USN, began a three-week schedule of military training Monday. The Third Battalion, Eighth Marine Regiment will be their host battalion and NMCB-58 will be billeted in the Second Battalion, Sixth Marine Regiment area. This is the second deployment of NMCB-58 to Camp Lejeune for military training; their first deployment here took place in September 1966.

In the intervening time NMCB-58 completed an eight month deployment to Da Nang, Vietnam, constructing facilities in support of the Third Marine Amphibious Force.

The Seabees' training will begin with two weeks of individual combat training, crew-served weapons firing and attendance at various schools, including field medicine, field communications, field cooking, counter-guerrilla warfare, mines and demolitions and bridge building.

The third week will consist of a three day field exercise for the whole battalion and a Pass in Review at the Division Parade Grounds on October 26.

Former Dive Bomber Pilot Named 2d Marines Chaplain

An insignia worn on the uniform of a Navy chaplain when he reported into the 2d Marine Division recently caused quite a bit of commotion among his fellow servicemen.

The Chaplain Corps insignia on the collar did not bother anyone, but the gold Navy flight wings worn over the left breast pocket by Commander Jay V. Nickelson were the subject of several questions.

The questions were quickly answered, however, as Chaplain Nickelson explained his military career. The 44-year-old Episcopalian minister was a World War II dive bomber pilot. After the war, he left active duty long enough to complete his divinity studies and to be ordained into the ministry. He recently reported to Camp Lejeune to serve as the 2d Marines regimental chaplain.

When he left active duty in 1945, he enrolled in Union Theological Seminary in New York City to finish his education. His studies did not interrupt his flying, however, as he remained in the active reserves until he returned to active duty in 1952 as a chaplain. During his reserve time, he was called back to active duty once to fly during the Berlin Blockade.

The minister-pilot, a native of Winder, Ga., is married to the former Mary Jane Bell of Atlanta, Ga. They have four children.

Guests From 7 Counties Attend Red Cross Meet

Representatives of seven counties in North Carolina were on hand for the semi-annual American Red Cross Volunteer Service Council meeting held at the Commissioned Officers' Mess (Open) Oct. 3.

The council, established in 1955, is made up of representatives from seven North Carolina counties, Camp Lejeune, and Cherry Point who solicit needed items and articles within their respective communities. These articles, along with foods and crafts, are then distributed to patients at the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Capt. J.A. Suitor, commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Hospital, spoke of the work done for the comfort of patients by volunteers and representatives of surrounding communities. He also suggested changes that could benefit the program in the future.

After the captain's talk, the representatives saw a skit performed by patients called "Not For Sale". The skit was enacted to show appreciation for the voluntary work performed by members of the council.

Counties represented at the meeting were: Onslow, Pitt, Pender, Lenoir, Duplin, Craven and Pamlico.

Division Band Sets Concert

The 2d Marine Division Band will conduct a concert for civilians, military personnel and dependents in the Camp Theatre at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 17, according to Lieutenant William G. Kennedy, band director.

The concert will feature selections by the band, a joint arrangement of "Sunset" by the band and 15 representatives of the 2d Division Drum and Bugle Corps, and two solo performances by soprano Jose Pruette.

The band will play various popular marches and Broadway musical arrangements and will be under the direction of Lt. Kennedy and Warrant Officer Gordon K. Smith.

Mrs. Pruette, a professional singer who is currently performing in the local area with the "T-Tones", will sing "I Feel Pretty" and "Tonight" from the Broadway hit "West Side Story."

Chaplain Speaks

"THE SECOND EFFORT"

This is the season for "knocking heads" on the football field around the nation, and many coaches are asking for that "second effort" out of every player. A winning team requires the very best every team member can give, and a little more. The same goes to all walks of life. Medal of Honor winners are not the average; they represent the very best effort in the combat situation. Champions never make the top on wishful thinking. It is that something special which wins the first prize.

Our Lord Jesus Christ was talking about sacrifice as they to win the world to Him. He demonstrated the highest and the best which God had to offer. Christ was not spared the struggle to resist, and demonstrated "The Second Effort" in accepting his mission when He requested that the cup he must bear be passed to Him, but never-the-less God's Will be done. Those who follow the Saviour are requested to go the second mile when forced to go one, and if sued for your coat, give your cloak as well.

You must determine what you give whether it will be the best, average or the very best of which you are capable, without something extra thrown in for good measure. Remember, when you give a "second effort", there is the self-assurance all is within your power to accomplish the task.

Force Troops Testing New Minesweeper

The performance of the Marine Corps' amphibian minesweeping tractor, the LVTE-1, is currently being evaluated at Vieques Island, Puerto Rico.

A platoon from the 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion, Force Troops, deployed to the Caribbean training grounds of Vieques early this week under the command of Second Lieutenant Robert E. Galusier to support the testing of this unusual vehicle.

The amphibian tractor clears a path through a minefield by firing a 1,750 - pound, rocket-propelled line charge across the obstructed area.

Once extended into the minefield, the line is detonated electrically from within the vehicle. Any mines in the area are set off by the explosive charge which will clear an area approximately 300 feet long and 20 feet wide.

Help Is A Phone Call Away

Legal Assistance 7-5860

The Base Legal Assistance Office provides counseling in all legal matters for Marines and their dependents. The office is located in Building 203, Midway Point.

Military Police 7-5151

Military Policemen patrol the base and Dependent Housing areas to provide security. In these areas they respond to emergency assistance calls, day or night; investigate complaints; control and assist visitors; handle domestic disturbances, firearm registration, vehicle registration and pet control; and have MPs stationed at Geiger-Knox Trailer Parks, Tarawa Terrace and Midway Park on a 24 - hour basis. A call is all that is necessary for assistance from the Military Police.

Navy Relief- 7-5584

Many Marines at Camp Lejeune have at one time or another needed help for which there seemed no place to turn, simply because they did not know about Navy Relief.

Camp Lejeune's Navy Relief Society provides assistance in financial cases in accordance with basic family needs, pending receipt of government benefits.

It provides for non-recurring emergencies out of the range of normal income, such as hospital and medical bills of dependents, funeral expenses for dependents, emergency transportation, and special medical and dental needs. The Society provides Registered Nurse service which includes home visits to mothers of new born infants; followup visits on patients confined to bed under medical direction, and pre-natal courses for expectant mothers. Well Baby Clinics are provided at Camp Geiger and Knox Trailer Parks.

Navy Relief also provides information on local welfare agencies; referrals to other related organizations; budget counselling; home condition reports on dependents and next of kin to alleviate anxiety; consultations; stop - gap emergency aid to dependents of deployed personnel until such time as permission is given by servicemen for a loan; college loan assistance; and distribution of children's toys on basis of need.

A phone call is all that is required. . . Navy Relief is ready to help.

Chaplains

The Chaplains at Camp Lejeune, in addition to leading you in Divine Worship, can help you or your family in many other ways. . . They arrange for religious instruction through which you may receive individual or group training in all phases of religion. . . counsel you to seek solutions to problems of all kinds having to do with your personal or military life, your marriage, your family, or problems at home. They guide you spiritually toward the development of sound value judgement, a deepened devotional life and high goals. Call on them in your hour of need. They can be reached on the following extensions: Base 7-5543; Division 7-5441; and Force Troops 7-5711.

Red Cross- 7-5523

The American Red Cross comes into our military lives from time to time but little thought is given to what it really does for us. We are helped by Red Cross Assistance during emergency leave situations, when we need verification of an emergency, and we know of Red Cross disaster work.

However many of us don't realize that the Red Cross sends telegrams to their field representatives around the world to assist families in distress. It provides financial assistance when necessary to servicemen and their families.

These services are available here at Camp Lejeune by simply contacting the Field Office, day or night.

Staff Duty Officer 7-5635

The Staff Duty Officer is the commanding General's representative during non - working hours and is prepared to handle any situation not covered by other agencies. He will provide assistance or put you in touch with the appropriate agency.

R & R in Hawaii: SuSu

MARINE CORPS AIR STATION, KANEOHE BAY, OAHU, HAWAII, September 26 - A Marine fighting in Vietnam is allowed a short five-day respite from his duties and sent on rest and recuperation (R&R).

Although short in number, these days can bring joy and pleasure to a Marine and his loved ones - or they can bring about frustration and disappointment. Hawaii, for all its swaying palms, romantic star-lit evenings and opportunities and accommodations for visiting servicemen, is no exception.

A case in point of a tragic episode was the recent arrival of a 22-year-old wife who landed with a three-month-old baby in her arms and a total of six cents in her pocket. Expecting to meet her husband the same day, the woman's tense situation was compounded when she learned she had misread her husband's R&R orders and was three months early.

No one would purposely set a long awaited meeting with their loved one in jeopardy, but it constantly happens. The R&R facilities in Hawaii are unsurpassed anywhere and completely at your disposal, so the only obvious conclusion to be drawn is a lack of coordination between R&R visitors and their dependents and the highly trained personnel of Hawaii's R&R center: Fort DeRussy.

The facilities of Fort DeRussy are near limitless. Modern clubs with the finest in entertainment, one of the largest stretches of beach in Waikiki, commissary and beverage sales, and housing for visiting servicemen are a few of the services available.

More important than entertainment and living facilities is the help available to families planning an R&R reunion in Hawaii. Long before the reunion ever takes place, a confirmation of the dates and times involved can be obtained by mail.

For those arriving in Hawaii without any afore-made plans, the staff at the center is almost a necessity. Women coming to Hawaii to meet R&R servicemen need only report to the R&R Center at Fort DeRussy and from there they are swept in a whirlwind of friendly, efficient service to the meeting with their loved ones.

Bus service is available to take them to the center where there is a required 15-minute orientation lecture for incoming R&R personnel followed by the issuing of R&R cards.

The backbone of the efficiency at DeRussy's R&R center is the "in" processing team of five members - one Air Force, two Marine and two Navy. Three "in" teams operate, with one available to meet R&R flights 24 hours a day. To Marines like SSgt. Terrell E. Jones, "in" team leader from Camp Smith, SSgt. Charles B. Hiett, Marine Liaison from First Marine Brigade, and SSgt. Dale Saunders, "in" team leader from Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe, an incoming flight is a signal for a series of experience-tested events to be instigated.

The moment a flight touches ground, the "in" team is on the spot to make everything easier for R&R servicemen. Team members take care of baggage, alert the R&R center at Fort DeRussy and provide busses to transport the men to the center. This efficient service virtually eliminates all expense, worry and waste of time for R&R Marines.

The second part of the R&R center's service comes when the Marines arrive at Fort DeRussy. All arrivals go through a 15-minute orientation lecture at DeRussy's briefing room and are given R&R cards which enable them to save time dealing with any inesses.

Immediate follow-up entation brings them to the tour service and the briefing room. The R&R center thus has the serve accommodation to tire stay during the eliminating the search out the ag.

Anyone who has made a hotel reservation in Honolulu for the peak of the can appreciate the center's service. There is a scheduling center which takes a number of reservations in town. It is always one of every four couples he in- terviews-interviews usually last about one hour each-and also performs his regular duties as the R&R Center's chaplain, his task appears near impossible.

The chaplain explains the high number of people not being married after being interviewed is due primarily to improper paper- work and a desire on his part to avoid "quickie" marriages. R&R Marines planning to marry in Hawaii should remember they will come under Hawaiian laws.

One law that often causes problems, according to Chap- lain Prophet, is the one requir- ing the consent of both parents of a girl under 20. He recom- mends anyone planning an R&R marriage should write a few months in advance and receive a copy of all requirements.

Weighing the evidence of how long they have known each other and their motives for getting married, the chaplain's main concern is the happiness and last- ing marriages of the couple.

The services that Lieutenant Colonel Charles E. Murphy, Of ficer in charge of the R&R Cen- ter at Fort DeRussy, and those serving under him perform for visitors from all branches of the service are beyond value. By providing assistance and service for all their needs, the center makes each vacation more en- joyable, and, in so doing, boosts the morale of our fighting forces.

MILITARY HELPING HAND -- Wives and loved ones of R&R personnel check with Center prior to arrival of R&R flight to avoid any waste of time or possible complica- tions.

PRIVATE PLACE OF RECUPERATION -- Servicemen taking R&R at Fort DeRussy have the opportunity to stay in one of the numerous cottage-style homes situated a short distance from Waikiki Beach.

"Our best game"—Coach McGhee

Devilpups Humble Pembroke 58-0

Homecoming couldn't have been sweeter if the yard lines had been made from sugar as the Devilpups plucked the feathers of the Pembroke Eagles offense and salted the tails of their halfbacks.

Pembroke gained minus 26 yards on the ground and 21 yards in the air giving them a total offense of minus 5 yards for the night.

Lejeune's first team rested the entire second half after building up a 49-0 half-time lead. With the second team in command in the second half for the Devilpups, Lejeune scored nine more points to make it 58-0. This is the most points scored by Lejeune all year.

Devilpup backs ran over, under, around, and through the Pembroke defense for 246 yards rushing. They also passed for 151 yards with quarterback Tim Slaton flinging two touchdown passes, both to Dennis Goss.

Richard Fofar ripped off runs of 55 and 60 yards for TD's in the first quarter and also scored three extra points to lead the Lejeune offense.

Possibly the newest and best thing to happen to the 'Pups outside of their victory was the advent of 135 pound halfback Billy Crites. All Crites did was boot five straight extra points and run like crazy all night! This means that Lejeune can score the big PAT's the easy way—sending them air mail. Crites kicked so well that he might be good for some field goals inside the 30 yard line.

When a defensive team allows an average of four points a game it is hard to say they looked improved over their first four games of the season but that is just the case.

Gang tackling regained its popularity with the Lejeune defense as Ted Rodarte and Iatomo Pau led the 'Pup defense on Pigsaw safaris throughout the Eagle backfield.

The scoring parade began in the first period as Fofar galloped 55 yards for a touchdown on Lejeune's first play from scrimmage.

A few minutes later the Eagles put the ball in the air and Ted Rodarte snatched it for the 'Pups and ran 45 yards for the touchdown.

Still in the first quarter Slaton passed to Claude Campbell for 11 yards and a TD.

Things got worse for the Devilpups before Fofar made them better the next time they got the ball. With a busted play and two penalties making it third down and 44 yards to go, Slaton pulled a fullback draw play and Fofar gunned his engines for a 60 yard TD.

In the second quarter Dennis Goss scored on a 34 yard pass play to cap a four play drive that was beautifully engineered by Slaton.

With Bill Catlin in at fullback the 'Pups drove for 61 yards and a score. Catlin took it over from the Eagles' 25 yard line.

On the last play of the first half, reserve quarterback Mike

Evans pitched a strike to Butch Wooten for a 24 yard pass completion and a six pointer.

In the third quarter Slaton flipped his second TD pass of the night to Dennis Goss for the final TD of the game.

The 'Pups scored again as defensive end Mike Schoedler tackled a Pembroke ball carrier in the Eagle end zone for a twopoint safety.

Pembroke Coach Tommy Martin took the loss philosophically when he said, "You play a team with a 5-4 Pro-type defense that dares you to run at them, and murders you when you do, then you know they are something. They are the best team that we have seen this year."

JV's Convince Swansboro, 21-6

Lejeune High's JV's stopped Swansboro for the second time this year as they piled up a convincing 21-6 victory against the home team.

The first time Lejeune had the ball they scored as Mike Hollingsworth took a punt and rambled 80 yards for a TD.

Another first quarter score came when Perry Langford grabbed a pass from Devilpup halfback Bill Perkins and took it into the end zone for a 45-yard scoring play.

In the third quarter Bill Perkins ran 15 yards for the final TD of the game.

Courtney Cooper, Tom Iull, Bob Catlin scored extra points for the 'Pups.

BEST NIGHT— Reserve Halfback Ron Peoples carries the ball deep into Eagle territory. Peoples had his best night of the year with a seven yards per carry average in five tries.

Lejeune Outdoors

By Staff Sergeant Bill Adams

Deer Hunting - When? Where? How?

The answers to these questions will provide the first step for many Marines and their dependents toward one of this area's finest sports—a sport where everyone interested can be an active participant—where each man tallies his own score and the day's enjoyment is proportionate to the effort expended.

I am of course referring to the organized deer hunts that are conducted by the Rod and Gun Club. Hundreds of Marines and dependents take to the woods weekly, seeking to match wits against nature and the elusive deer. The first hunt is scheduled for this Saturday.

The hard core of these hunters are the members of the Rod and Gun Club that devote many hours to planning, organizing, and scouting of areas in preparation for these hunts.

At present there are five shotgun hunts set up for each day's hunting. Each hunt consists of one huntmaster and his assistant, three to five squad leaders, a truck and driver for each squad, and a number of dog-handlers with dogs. Upwards of 50 personnel participate in each hunt.

The areas to be hunted are preselected on a rotation basis by the huntmasters. Each hunting day, parts of the Base are designated as organized hunting areas and parts of the Base are designated as individual hunting areas. (Individual hunting refers to hunting without the benefit of dogs.)

Personnel hunting on the Base must have the following: County or State Hunting License, Base Hunting and Fishing License, Certificate of Release of the Government, and a Certificate of Understanding.

Personnel wishing to hunt with an organized hunt will contact one of the five huntmasters, on a first-come, first-served basis. This should be done at least one day prior to the hunting day. At this time the huntmaster will tell you where and when to meet his hunting party. The hunt usually begins at 5:30 a.m.

Civilian vehicles will be parked and the hunters will proceed by trucks. It will be necessary for you to take what clothing or rain gear you need. Also, take your own food.

NOTE: No intoxicating beverages are permitted on these hunts!

The dogs are provided by civilian hunters in the area. A small donation is collected prior to each hunt for the dog's upkeep and vehicle expenses for the dog-handlers.

There are usually three to four separate hunts by each hunting party per day.

At the end of the day all deer killed by the hunt will be dressed and butchered. First choice of the venison will go to the man who killed the deer. The remainder of the deer will be divided evenly among the less fortunate hunters.

The shotgun loaded with buckshot is the only lawful way of killing deer at Camp Lejeune. Shotguns may be checked out from Special Services. The first organized hunt will be this Saturday.

The companionship, good will, and humor found on these hunts is unsurpassed.

Congratulations to Jackie Kinsey of Jacksonville. She won the Rod and Gun Club sponsored fishing contest by landing a four-pound ten ounce Black Bass. She caught the fish in Duck Creek, Craven County.

HINT OF THE WEEK—Today is the first day of the season on people! Ticks and chiggers are waiting for the unsuspecting hunters. Take plenty of insect repellent when you go hunting.

Devilfish Meet Ft. Bragg

The Camp Lejeune Devilfish will meet the Ft. Bragg Swim Team in the first meet of the season on Saturday at the Area 5 pool, at 10:30 a.m.

1st Div. Padre Killed After Viet Duty Plea

DA NANG, Vietnam, Sept. 15—A memorial mass was held at the 1st Marine Division Chapel Sept. 13 for Navy Chaplain Lt. Vincent R. Capodanno—a man who loved life so much that he gave his own.

Father Capodanno was killed in action Sept. 4 while serving with the 3d Bn., Fifth Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division. He was the first Navy chaplain to die ashore in Vietnam. Even though shrapnel had torn into his right arm and blown away part of his hand, he stayed with the Marines.

As wounded Marines fell around him, he gave last rites to seriously wounded Marines and prayed over the bodies of others until he too fell mortally wounded. Father Lawrence Lawry, (Holidaysburg, Pa.), a fellow chaplain and a good friend said, "He gave the ultimate, the most he could give—his life."

Father Capodanno had served 18 months in Vietnam and had requested another six month extension. His request was disapproved and he was slated shortly for duty elsewhere.

A day after his death, a letter appeared on the regimental Commander's desk from Father Capodanno saying, "I am due to go home in late November or early December. I humbly request that I stay over Christmas and New Year's with my men. I am willing to relinquish my 30 days leave. . ."

Father Lawry, chaplain with 1st Medical Bn., 1st Marine Division, said, "Father Capodanno was the most dedicated, most unselfish man I have ever met in my life." He continued, "The greatest loss will be to the 'grunts' whom Father Capodanno loved very much—his whole life was completely dedicated to them."

HEADING HOME—Leathernecks of the 2d Bn., Ninth Marine Regiment move out of the demilitarized zone after a sweep of the area.

WET CROSSING—Two Marines from the 2d Bn., Fourth Marine Regiment cross a deep river while on a search and destroy operation south of Phu Bai. The Marines welcomed the cool contrast after walking through hot, steaming jungles searching for enemy forces.

ON TARGET — A gunner on a Navy Swift Boat returns fire on North Vietnamese Army positions south of the DMZ supporting 3d Marine Division operations. The Navy boat supported the Marines with .50 caliber machinegun and 81mm mortar fire at the mouth of the Cua Viet river.

ON THE MOVE—A convoy of Marine M-48 tanks moves along a dirt road south of the demilitarized zone. The 3d Tank Bn. patrols the areas of recent Marine ground action against the North Vietnamese Army between Dong Ha and Con Thien.

Exploding Ammo Traps 30 Troops

DONG HA, Vietnam, Sept. 13—"Living hell" is the way SSgt. Garland L. Wonder described four-and-one-half hours he spent in an exploding ammunition dump at Dong Ha September 3.

Wonder was one of 30 Marines and soldiers trapped within the dump when North Vietnamese artillery ignited a variety of stored ammunition.

An estimated two-thirds of the ammo was detonated during chain reaction explosions and fires which raged throughout the day.

Miraculously, none of the trapped men were killed or seriously injured. They survived by taking cover in concrete and sand-bagged bunkers within the dump and remaining there until the heaviest of the explosions were over.

Wonder, a section leader at the dump, and three other men used an old French concrete bunker. When the heat from burning and exploding shells came intense, they covered themselves with mattresses and soaked themselves with water.

"The concussion was terrible," said Wonder. "We were ping pong balls bouncing around inside the bunker."

Asked what he thought accounted for the survival of all the men pinned down throughout the ordeal, Wonder pointed skyward. "We had help from the Lord above—a lot of help," he said. "One of the main factors was that everybody kept their heads. Nobody panicked."

Shockwaves from simultaneously exploding shells could be felt 10 miles away in Quang Tri where citizens were visiting their national conventions.

Force Troops Disbursing $ $ $ $ $

Keeps the Record Straight $ $ $ $ $

Consider for a moment that someone gives you a million and a half dollars to distribute among 7500 people.

There are 16 different levels at which you can divide the money. Part of the fund must be used to pay one of the 7500 any time they leave Camp Lejeune.

You must accurately compute each individual's amount every two weeks and every six months completely audit your work to assure that everyone has the correct balance.

Sound complicated? It is—unless you've reached the high degree of organization and proficiency of the Force Troops Disbursing Office.

Under the direction of Captain Bruce W. Simpson, the five officers and 36 enlisted men of Disbursing maintain the pay records of the 7500 men of Force Troops.

Their job is a continual race against time and paper work since Marines are paid every two weeks regardless of circumstances. Over $550,000 flows out of Disbursing every payday in the form of "cold cash" and checks.

In addition, there are the individual payments made daily for separations, advance pay, and travel allowance. Other reimbursements such as travel claims are processed at the rate of nearly 100 a day.

But let's put it on a simple basis.

Start with an unmarried Marine corporal under two years; we'll call him Leatherneck. He currently receives a basic salary of $168.60 plus clothing allowance. Disbursing has no problem computing exactly how much this man will be paid after taxes and social security are deducted.

Leatherneck receives a pay raise as of October 1st, and this means that five percent more must be added to his paycheck. Things still aren't too difficult at this stage but there's more to come.

With an eye towards the future, Corporal Leatherneck decides to take out a Savings Allotment to his hometown bank. The work involved is routine but it must be noted on his pay data, and Disbursing, not the individual, sends the money to the bank every month.

A short time later Leatherneck is sent to Vieques for several days TAD and on his return he requests 15 days leave. Both the TAD and leave affect his pay and must be recorded. While on leave Corporal Leatherneck marries his high school sweetheart and brings her back to Camp Lejeune. Again the Disbursing Office must process his allotment and add Basic Allowance for Quarters to his earnings.

Just about the time that Corporal Leatherneck's pay record is completely up to date, his time in service goes over two years and shortly thereafter he is promoted to Sergeant.

Our hypothetical corporal's problems are far from being unique. If anything, his pay is easier than many because he has no lost time, fines, deductions in grade or other elements which mean hours of extra computation for the disbursing clerk.

Multiply this average Marine's allotments, promotions, time in service, personal affairs, leave by 7,500 and it's apparent that the Force Troops Disbursing Office merits admiration, respect and gratitude every Force Troops Marine.

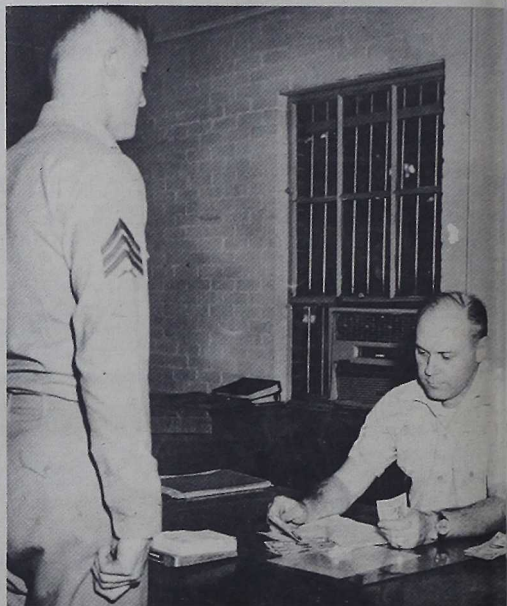

RESEARCHING PAST RECORDS — LCpl. Franklin Sanchez searches the elaborate file system for previous pay rolls.

THE RECORD SHOWS — SSgt. Joseph N. Parisi and Sgt. John C. Kochis discuss the latest entry on a Force Troops Marine's pay record.

NEVER FINISHED! — LCpl. Gregory A. Harper attacks the mounds of travel claims which are submitted by Force Troops Marines upon reporting in from leave or TAD.

TWENTY-FORTY-SIXTY — CWO John H. Roberson, Disbursing Officer, counts out advance pay for a Force Troops sergeant.
