Medal of Honor Given To Marine Posthumously

WASHINGTON, MAY 1 — A Marine platoon sergeant, who chose to sacrifice his own life covering a grenade in order to protect the lives of his men, became the U. S. Marine Corps' fifth Medal of Honor recipient from the Vietnam war.

The President of the United States presented the Medal of Honor Tuesday in White House ceremonies to Staff Sergeant Peter S. Connor's widow, Mrs. Eleanor M. Connor, of Ocean-side, California.

At the time of his gallant sacrifice, Sergeant Connor was platoon sergeant of the Third Platoon "F" Company, 2d Battalion, Third Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division (Reinforced). His platoon was taking part in a search and destroy operation in Quang Ngai Province on February 25, 1966, in an area of extensive caves and tunnel complexes.

The citation accompanying his award reads in part:

"Exhibiting particular alertness and keen observation, he spotted an enemy spider hole emplacement approximately fifteen meters to his front. Upon pulling the pin of a grenade, he realized that the firing mechanism was faulty, and that even as he held the safety device firmly in place, the fuse charge was already activated. He further realized that he could not cover the distance to the small opening of the spider hole in sufficient time... to safely throw the grenade.

"Manifesting extra-ordinary gallantry and with utter disregard for his personal safety, he chose to hold the grenade against his own body in order to absorb the terrific explosion and spare his comrades."

Connor was born September 4, 1932 in Orange, New Jersey, and graduated from South Orange High School in 1950. He enlisted in the Marine Corps on February 5, 1952 and saw action during the Korean conflict while serving as a fire team leader in "B" Company, 1st Battalion, Fifth Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division.

Returning to the United States in October 1953, Sergeant Connor, then a corporal, served as squad leader and platoon guide in the 2d Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, prior to being released

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED — Major General J. O. Butcher, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, congratulates co-chairman Major H. R. Bartyzel 2d Division, as the final contributions were turned in for the 1967 NHA-ISA Fund Drive Campaign. Observing are (l. to r.) Captain D. P. Childers, Marine Corps Base, Commander A. R. Saeger, Jr., Force Troops, Major Bartyzel, General Butcher, Captain W. J. Shriner, Air Facility, and Lieutenant Colonel L. E. Keown, drive chairman.

Fund Drive Exceeds Goal

Camp Lejeune Marines, government employees, and government organizations united to contribute $40,959.94 to the National Health Agencies - International Service Agencies joint fund drive this year. This amount topped the goal that had been set before the campaign began.

General Joseph O. Butcher, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, has extended his warmest congratulations to each organization commander and to every individual who helped the fund drive go over goal.

The campaign chairman, Lieutenant Colonel Lyman E. Keown, and the co-chairmen: Major H. R. Bartyzel, 2d Marine Division; Commander A. R. Saeger, Jr., Force Troops; Captain Don Childers, Marine Corps Base, and Captain W. J. Shriner, Marine Corps Air Facility, have expressed their thanks to all who participated in the campaign.

More than 1,200 visitors are the guests of the 2d Marine Division this week as the Marine Corps air - ground team demonstrates its readiness.

Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic units, under the coordination of the 2d Division's Commanding General, Major General Ormond R. Simpson, are participating in a Special Purpose Exercise, (SPEX) today and tomorrow.

A dress rehearsal was held yesterday for military personnel and their dependents who had tickets.

Guests include top government officials, military commanders, members of the Armed Forces Staff College, Naval War College, Marine Corps Command and Staff College, and members of the Canadian Army Staff College plus invited guests.

The schedule of events includes an amphibious landing across Onslow Beach by a Battalion Landing Team, (BLT); an assault on a fortified position; a BLT static display; firsthand spectator examination of the latest equipment and weapons; and Short Airfield for Tactical Support; (SATS) demonstration, using aircraft - carrier - styled launch and arrest equipment to provide small "Instant Airfields" for Shore - based Combat Support.

Today the exercise will be seen by members of both the Armed Forces Staff College and the Naval War College. Tomorrow members of the Marine Corps Command and Staff College and the Canadian Army Staff College will watch the demonstration.

The itinerary is exactly the same for both days, beginning at 8 a.m. when the observers arrive at Cherry Point and are then transported to Bogue Field by helicopter.

During this phase of events, the visitors will view the SATS Demonstration and also the aircraft and ordnance display. The guests will be given an opportunity to see the equipment supporting the SATS field in a combat situation.

Following the noon meal as guests of the 2d Marine Division, they will observe men of the 3d Battalion, 2d Marines (3-2), under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Clark V. Judge, assault a fortified position.

A county fair will also be held by 3-2, which will include a BLT's organic equipment and weaponry, along with the array of supporting equipment and weapons. The fair is designed to allow the visitors to get a closeup view and speak with the individual Marines who operate the equipment and weapons.

Before departing, the observers will see an Amphibious Landing Demonstration by Amphibious Squadron Eight.

TIGER BITES OFF MORE THAN HE CAN CHEW

DONG HA, Vietnam, April 26 — Cpl. D. Schwinlan, 20, "L" Co., 3rd Bn., Third Marine Regiment, was bitten by a tiger while on an ambush against the North Vietnamese Army (NVA).

His unit had set an ambush south of the demilitarized zone and Schwinlan was waiting quietly in position when without warning the tiger leaped from the surrounding bush and bit him on the right arm.

"It happened so suddenly that my only reaction was to punch the damn thing in the nose," he said.

Schwinlan's patrol mates drove the tiger off. He was then air-evacuated for treatment.

Doctors said a skin graft and time will heal his arm completely.

Soliciting On Base

By order of the Commanding General, the Base Provost Marshal has the authority and responsibility to enforce the law aboard this Base. He must apprehend all violators and conspirators of crime whether military personnel or civilians.

Base Order 1741.1c of December 1, 1964 protects Marines from falling prey to crimes of fraud committed by unscrupulous businessmen who try to take advantage of servicemen by approaching them with phony offers of financial gains.

This order requires written authorization for an agent to solicit on the Base. Authorization is granted by the Provost Marshal only after the agent has met all requirements which insure that he will not attempt to sell insurance, mutual funds, investment plans, or securities with fraudulent motives.

This authorization does not constitute official government or command approval of the insurance, mutual fund, investment plan, or securities; it merely means that the company and agent have complied with the Base requirements to do business on the Base.

It is a privilege, not a right, to have this authorization and as such it can and will be revoked if abused or misused.

These laws are set up to protect you -- the investor -- and it is your responsibility to see they are not violated. Contact the Provost Marshal if you are in doubt of the honesty of a soliciting agent, or are receiving unwanted calls or visits. The Provost Marshal's Office does its job and they do it well, but they need your help.

Pay Bill's Path

Legislation now before Congress proposes a 5.6 percent basic pay increase for members of the armed forces.

In this pay bill, the Department of Defense sent a request simultaneously to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate as part of the Defense legislative program. The measure has been referred by both houses to their Armed Services Committees.

The chairman of each committee has introduced identical bills on the proposal.

In a bill of this nature, hearings are normally held and Defense Department officials asked to testify.

Once in a committee, the bill may be amended. Assuming a favorable report is made by the committee, the bill is then sent to the floor of the House or Senate to be debated.

At the end of the debate, a voice or roll-call vote is taken and if the bill passes by a majority, it is sent to the Senate (assuming the House acted first) where the House bill is considered. If the Senate has not yet held hearings on its bill, it will consider the House proposal, but may amend it and report out a new bill.

If the House and Senate debate their own bills and pass them with any differences between the two or if an amended version of the House bill is passed by the Senate, a conference committee is appointed by each House to resolve the differences.

Once approved by both House and Senate, the bill is sent to the President. The bill becomes law after it is signed by the President or when passed a second time by a two-thirds vote of Congress over a Presidential veto.

If the President holds the bill 10 calendar days (excepting Sundays) without signing it, the bill automatically becomes law. However, if Congress adjourns during the 10 days, the bill is automatically killed. (AFNB)

BOOKS in REVIEW

by Thelma Turnage

The following are among the books on the Recommended Reading List for Navy and Marine Corps Officers and are presently available at the Central Library, Building 63. Enlisted men are also encouraged to read these books. For your convenience, these and other titles on the list will be found displayed on a separate shelf appropriately marked.

Naval and Military Affairs

DECISION AT LEYTE by Stanley F. Falk. In this dramatic story of a key Pacific War campaign, Falk surveys both Japanese and Allied strategy and tactics. The narrative ranges from high level policy decisions to individual acts of heroism, shows the interrelated air strikes, landings and naval actions, and how these affected each other and the outcome of the battle.

ONE MINUTE OF TIME: THE MELBOURNE - VOYAGER COLLISION by VADM Harold Hickling RN(Ret.), A. H. & A. W. Reed. After a graphic account of the collision in 1964 between the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne and the destroyer Voyager, Admiral Hickling reviews critically the findings of the official investigations.

BATTLES LOST AND WON: GREAT CAMPAIGNS OF WORLD WAR II by Hanson W. Baldwin. Eleven famous, if not necessarily pivotal, battles are re-created and refought by a master of the art, the military editor of the New York Times.

MIDWAY: TURNING POINT OF THE PACIFIC by William W. Smith. Vice Admiral Smith (Ret.) provides a participant's view, replete with reminiscences of minor incidents and salted with human interest and warm humor. His opinions on the proper, and improper, use of aircraft in battles at sea are interesting.

THE MILITARY - TECHNICAL REVOLUTION: ITS IMPACT ON STRATEGY AND FOREIGN POLICY by John Erickson. An unevenness in the quality of selections included prevents this book from being recommended in toto. However certain chapters, notably those by Rees, "Towards the McNamara Doctrine," Herrick, "Soviet Naval Strategy," Thomas, "The Role of Missile Defense in Soviet Strategy and Foreign Policy," are informative and provocative.

STRATEGIC DEFENSES by Stanley L. Englehardt. This is a brief interesting view of America's interdependent radar, missile, plane, submarine, and communications defense network and of the men and organizations that developed the complex system.

Toward a Civic Action Program WAR WITHOUT GUNS: AMERICAN CIVILIANS IN RURAL VIETNAM by George K. Tanham. A frank, critical, balance sheet on the US Aid Mission's efforts to help Vietnamese at the roots toward a more productive economy and a sound society.

Stay Loose

By 1stLt. Ralph Deaver

If somebody told you he knew a guy who voluntarily makes himself available to a 24-hour per day, 7-day-a-week job, you'd find it hard to believe. When he announced that this same guy gives up privacy, individuality, high pay rates, and some of his freedom of movement you'd scoff at him. But the proverbial straw would come as he looked you in the eye and told you this acquaintance of his may live and work in 110 degree-plus temperatures one month, snow and ice the next, and torrential rains the next.

"Nobody would put up with that," you say decisively.

"This guy I know does," he says. "In addition, he can not choose his own manner of dress, does not get any overtime pay; and, if he's married, sometimes cannot choose the neighborhood his family will live in."

"Impossible."

"That's what you think," he says. "This guy does it. Not only that he occasionally risks his life just doing his job."

"What's he? Some kind of a nut?"

"No, he's a perfectly rational guy. Leastwise, as rational as you and I."

"Unbelievable!" you say. "Why, he doesn't have to do all of that. There's lots of jobs around. He could always join the Marine Corps."

"He IS a Marine," he says. "You think about it a minute."

"Oh, yeah, I get it. But, wait -- that's different. It's not fair to draw a comparison between a Marine's job and a regular job, is it? I thought you were talking about."

"A Marine's job IS a regular job. Just about one of the most regular jobs there is."

"I agree, but ..."

"No 'buts' about it," he says; "It's a big job, an important job. Takes a big man to do it. If you don't believe it, just go back to the description -- long hours, lack of privacy and individuality, no scale nothing to crow about, a chance to face danger more often than some ..."

"Stop it! Stop it, I'm sold. It's a big job. 'Course, it's a satisfying job, measuring yourself against some high standards. I tell you what I do it -- I LIKE it. I volunteered for the job."

"We all did," he says.

Say, he's right. Why do some forget?

AIRLINE LIMOUSINE SERVICE

Rates for airport limousine service will be $3.00 per person to or from the Kinston Air Terminal and $2.75 per person to or from the New Bern Air Terminal.
 Pick-up points for limousine service are the Bus Station at Camp Lejeune's Central Area (Bldg. 233), Building TC-930 at Camp Geiger, and the parking lot across from Building M-202 at Montford Point.

Delivery points are the same as pick-up points, but passengers so desiring shall be delivered to any point along the normally travelled routes between the Airports and Camp Lejeune with no adjustment in fare.

At least one limousine will be at the Kinston Air Terminal and at least one at the New Bern Air Terminal at the scheduled arrival time for every regular commercial airline flight. Additionally, adequate vehicles will be at the Air Terminals, or readily available, for all transportation requirements to Camp Lejeune.

When three (3) or more persons request service, they shall be transported immediately to their destination. If less than three persons require transportation, they may be detained until the arrival of a subsequent flight or flights until at least three require transportation. However, in no case may a passenger be detained more than one (1) hour.

Marine 'Hit' Four Times During Fire Fight

DA NANG, Vietnam - It wasn't until the raging day-long battle had ended that Marine PFC John T. Helms, 19, of Dayton, Ohio, realized that he had been "hit" four times.

The 2nd Bn., Fifth Marine Regiment, Leatherneck was struck in the canteen, the flack jacket, the pack and on his rifle stock during an operation 30 miles southwest of Da Nang. He came out of the fight without a scratch.

"We were halfway across an open field when the Viet Cong opened up on the platoon," said Helms. "They hit us with everything from small arms to mortars and 57mm recoilless rifle fire."

"I felt something wet running down my leg," said Helms. "I rubbed my hand over the spot and came up with water which had drained from my canteen," he said.

Inspection of his gear revealed the three additional hits.

Marine Millionaire Can't Afford 'R and R' Leave

CHU LAI, Vietnam, April 10- He's a Marine with a million dollars who had to turn down a rest and recuperation (R&R) trip to Bangkok Thailand.

"I was flat broke as usual when my name came up to make the trip," explained Marine Sgt. Pat G. Kennedy, as he fumbled through his empty billfold.

"See, not a cent! I'm the poorest millionaire going I guess, but I really don't care," said the 24-year-old Sioux Falls, South Dakotan presently serving with Marine Aircraft Group-12 at Chu Lai.

Kennedy, according to buddies, does not act like a millionaire. But, according to his lawyers back in the States, he is one - and then some.

Just last year Pat Kennedy was paid Uncle Sam a whopping $100,000 in taxes.

Why would a Marine sergeant have to pay more taxes during one year than he could earn in the service during the next 20? Simple, Pat had just inherited his million dollars and inheritance tax on that amount is steep.

When the young jet mechanic's aunt passed away two years ago Kennedy was one of five persons named in her will to share an estate which came to more than 12 million dollars.

The will was probated last year and Pat ended up, according to his lawyers, with at least one million - all in blue chip stocks and bonds.

"All that loot and I'm still poor as a church mouse," joked Kennedy, who has worked part time since joining the Marines three and a half years ago.

"I had to make ends meet as I've got a wife and a young son," he said. He drove a trailer - hauling truck during off - duty hours while stationed at the Marines Cherry Point (N. C.) Air Station.

"I've had the money for more than a year now, but I still can't touch a penny of it. It's in a trust fund until I'm 25-years-old," he said.

Kennedy will be 25 in September. His enlistment in the Marines ends the following month. What will he do upon discharge after claiming his money?

"There's one thing for sure, I'll keep working. I've been promised a jet mechanic's job with a large airline in Chicago, and I think I'll take it," he said.

Medal of Honor...

from active duty on February 4, 1955.

Reenlisting in the regular Marine Corps in 1961, he was assigned to duty with the 2d Battalion, Eighth Marine Regiment, 2d Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, and later was assigned to the 2d Battalion, Twenty - Second Marines at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

In July 1962, Sergeant Connor was transferred to the West Coast and joined the 1st Marine Division.

In November 1963, he sailed with his battalion to the Far East and served with the 3d Marine Division (Reinforced) during the Gulf of Tonkin incident in late 1964. He returned to the United States and to the 1st Marine Division in December of 1964.

Then, on August 8, 1965, he served in the Republic of Vietnam and participated in combat operations against the Viet Cong until he was wounded on February 25, 1966. He died of his wounds March 8, 1966, while on board the hospital ship, USS REPOSE.

Budget Examiner

Jim Fish, Budget Examiner with the Bureau of the Budget, is visiting Camp Lejeune this week for orientation and briefings on Supply Matters.

Arriving Wednesday morning, Mr. Fish toured Base facilities and is scheduled to visit Force Troops and the 2d Division today.

18-Year-Old Marine Ages Quickly With Foot on Mine

by Cpl. Ray Wilkinson
DONG HA, Vietnam, April 19—A Marine can grow old very quickly in Vietnam. Ask 18-year-old Noel D. Redding; he lived "a lifetime" in just 28 minutes. During that period of time, he distance of one-sixteenth of an inch and a small piece of tile were all that separated the Marine from death.

Redding triggered the drama when he stepped on a mine during Operation Big Horn, 28 miles northwest of Phu Bai.

Reacting instantly to the dead-end "click," Redding froze on the spot and yelled for nearby Marines to clear the area.

PFC Gary N. Kauper (who had only 26 days before rotation back to the States) worked to disarm the mine for the next 28 minutes as Redding stood unmoving.

Redding, a machinegunner with the 1st Bn., Ninth Marine Regiment, said his "company was sweeping a village on line when we came to a gully crossing the rice paddies. As I crossed the gully I noticed a punji trap and stopped to rip it up."

"I destroyed it, turned, and began to walk away when I heard something click. The first thing I thought about was a mine. The toe of my left foot had depressed one of the three prongs of the mine."

"I put all my weight on my left foot, unsprung my rifle and put it on the ground, and called my gunner back."

The gunner began to probe the earth near Redding's foot with his bayonet and discovered the mine. Redding then told his gunner to pick up his machinegun and for everyone to evacuate the area.

"The first thing I knew about it was when I heard the call 'engineer up,'" Kauper said, "When they told me the situation I thought 'Oh, God,'" he said. Kauper took off his helmet and pack and cleared away the dirt from around the mine."

Redding said, "Kauper's eyes got real big and he said, 'it's a bouncing betty.'"

Redding asked, "Is that the one that jumps up in the air and blows up?"

Kauper told him, "Yes."

"Kauper told me to keep all my weight on my left foot because the firing pin lacked only one-sixteenth of an inch for detonation," Redding said. "My foot looked like a tree in a hurricane, it was shaking that much," he added.

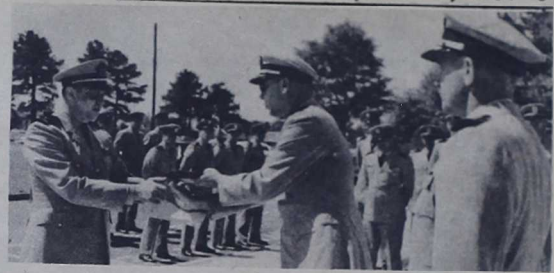

Kauper said the plunger of the mine was halfway home. He called for some wire but the nearest thing available was a safety pin from a bandolier.

"I bent it like a fish-hook and tried to insert it into the safety hold. It wouldn't go. I had to get a bayonet and push the fuse even further down to insert the pin in the hole," Kauper said.

Redding was told to jump away from the mine.

"I jumped. It was the longest two seconds of my life, but it didn't go off," he added with a grin.

Kauper said he was calm while disarming the mine, but "after it was over I began shaking like a leaf. If I had really thought about it all I don't think I could have done it," he said.

RETIRING—At his retirement ceremony April 28, Chief Warrant Officer Walter J. Powner Jr., receives a plaque and two Certificates of Appreciation from Captain J. Adams, Base Medical Officer.

CWO Powner Retires After 28 Years of Naval Service

Twenty-eight years of Naval service were honored at retirement ceremonies conducted April 28 in front of Building 15. Chief Warrant Officer Walter J. Powner was presented two certificates of appreciation and a plaque by Captain J. Adams, Base Medical Officer.

The certificates awarded were from Major General J. O. Butcher, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, and the Chief Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. The plaque was from the Base Medical Department with whom he has worked for the past year.

Mr. Powner, born in Indianapolis, Ind., graduated from Ben Davis High School and attended Montgomery Junior College, Bethesda, Md.

He began his military career in the Marine Corps as a private, and later thereafter transferred into the Navy.

Mr. Powner has served at more than 20 different duty stations including: Camp Elliot, San Diego; Pearl Harbor; Kaneohe Bay, Oahu; Palmyra Island; Oakland, Calif; Houston, Texas; Bethesda, Md.; San Francisco and Iwakuni, Japan. He reported to Camp Lejeune in 1966, where he assumed duties as Sanitation Officer.

Mr. Powner and his wife Margaret, a former Woman Marine, have two children, Ronald Lee 17 and April Marie 15.

Research Lab Salutes Base

Captain J. H. Boyers, USN, Commanding Officer of the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory, has sent the following message to Major General J. O. Butcher, CG, Marine Corps Base, commemorating Camp Lejeune's 26th anniversary:

"On occasion of Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune's 26th birthday, I would like to extend my congratulations to your command and to the individual Marines who have so ably assisted this laboratory in carrying out its mission. All here are very proud of our association with Marine Corps Base and salute the members of your organization who make the Base the truly great place it is and who do such a fine job of making a home for all the activities housed here."

Chaplain Speaks

MY PRAYER

"Life is the destiny you are bound to refuse until you have consented to die."

If I have life and have it abundantly, I must appreciate its beginning and the reality of its end. All this and the changes between, I look at and consider from a tower of faith. It is no dainty thing needing the air, but artfully and oddly built, plainly stamped at its base; MY PERSONAL FAITH - UNIQUE - CHRISTIAN.

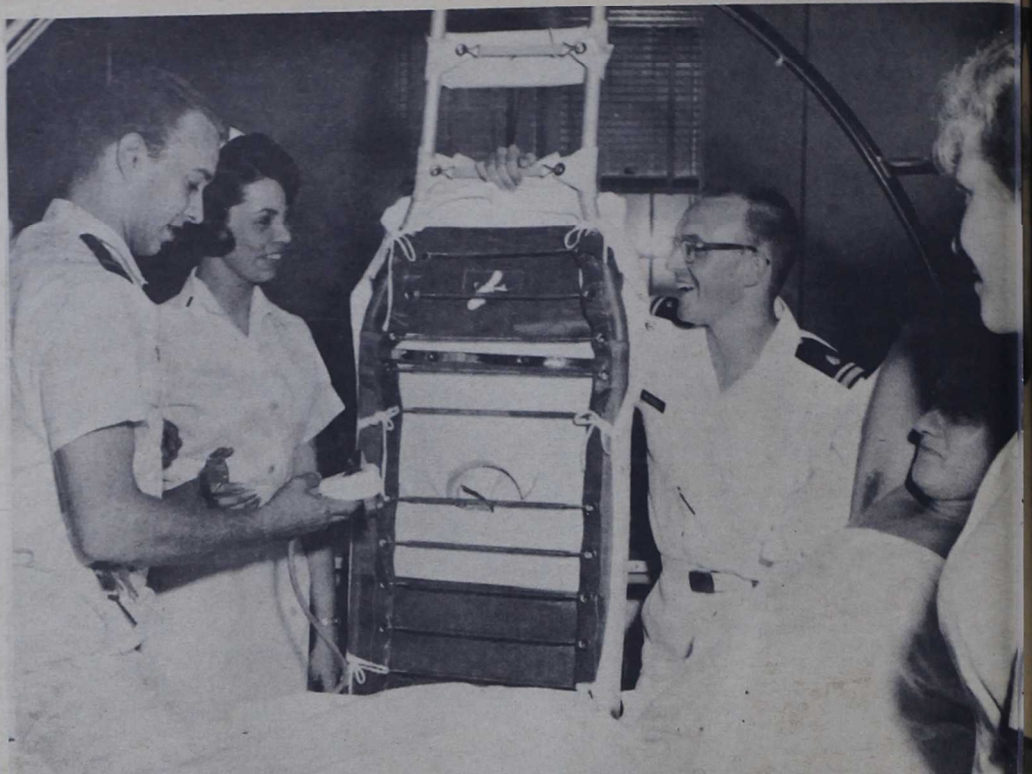

The top of the tower is my vantage point. It changes. There is the new step, or rebuilding that dips the top down then moves it higher. And when I stand on each successive, finished step, looking down, smoothed out below me is my life. Sidelights of joy, disappointment, fear, anger, and tenderness help color the fields I see from above, the blocks of experience plotted out below. Life, like a map, has more meaning seen from above, a better angle.

If this tower is stunted, I cannot blame the friends I love, the people who help make my life. The tower height is my own doing, planning, willing, believing. My encouragement is that the higher I go, the greater perspective I will have. Or will I see wilderness ... wilderness ... wilderness?

God gave me courage to continue each day to cut the new, narrower turns to the top. If I stop while I live, I am dead already. If I stop, I can only lean out and look back longingly at the past. If I stop and faith goes no further, my tower may be a well-kept landmark, but it becomes no monument to Christ. And if there is anything monumental about me - or after me - let it be a full grown tower of faith from which to see life. May yours rise beside it.

HAPPY

FAMILIARIZATION with an electric rotating bed is the subject of this lecture. Nurses involved are Ensigns Loren K. Zeitz (l.) and Lee Sharyn Duncan, (j. g.) Joseph J. Prudente (the instructor), and Lieutenant Donna L. Urbaniak (bed). The patient is Marine Corporal Bob Carpenter.

LEJEUNE NURSES MARK THREE MILESTONES

Navy nurses at the U. S. Naval Hospital will have three occasions to celebrate in the coming months, as they mark their 59th year as the Nurse Corps, their 24th year at Camp Lejeune, and their first full year with male nurses on the staff.

Formed on May 13, 1908, Navy nurses were part of the original staff at the Naval hospital here when it was commissioned on May 1, 1943. The nursing staff has grown from two to a total of 55 at present.

Most significant is the addition of male nurses to the staff. This precedent was first set about eighteen months ago on a Navy-wide basis. It was not until July 3, 1966, however, that Lieutenant (j.g.) Charles G. Dubose became the first male nurse at Camp Lejeune.

At present, there are seven male nurses at the Camp Lejeune Naval Hospital, and according to Chief Nurse Commander Pauline W. Schmid, "They are doing a very fine job -- we are proud to have them with us."

In fulfilling their mission, nurses here serve over 14,700 patients monthly.

HISTORY OF THE NAVY NURSE CORPS

"By act of Congress, the Nurse Corps, U. S. Navy, is hereby established, and authorized one superintendent and as many chief nurses, nurses, and reserve nurses as necessary."

Fifty-nine years ago, on May 13, this proclamation established the Nurse Corps. Today, this branch serves the wounded, injured and sick of the Marine Corps and Navy on bases, hospital ships and in military hospitals the world over.

The Nurse Corps originated with twenty nurses under Superintendent Esther Voorhees Hasson. Called the "Sacred Twenty," these women first reported to the U. S. Naval Hospital in Washington, D. C. in October 1908.

For the first two years of their existence, nurses served in the continental United States only. In 1910, the first nurses were sent to the Philippines and shortly after they were assigned to Guam, Honolulu, Yokohama, Samoa, Virgin Islands and Cuba.

The Nurse Corps reached its peak strength in 1942 when 11,000 nurses were serving in hospitals and posts within and outside the continental United States. Its maximum strength during the Korean Conflict was 3,200. Today, the Nurse Corps numbers approximately 2,000.

The Navy Nurse is responsible for five general areas of duty: bedside nursing, staff and patient teaching, ward management, supervision, and administration. To perform these duties proficiently, nurses are trained and retrained in the best military and civilian schools of medicine and nursing.

Nurses must first graduate from an accredited School of Nursing and then train as Naval Officers in a four-week course at the Naval Station in Newport, R. I.

The hospital ship, an important unit in the present conflict in Vietnam, saw its first Navy nurse assigned to such duty when several nurses reported aboard the USS Relief in August, 1920.

Today, as part of their regular activities, the Nurse Corps maintains a staff on all of the hospital ships operating under U. S. Navy control.

Although the nurse is not usually assigned a combat billet, four Navy nurses assigned to Army field medical facilities in Europe during World War I were awarded the Navy Cross for outstanding services. Three of these awards were posthumous.

One Navy Nurse, operating with an Army unit in Bataan, was the first person in the Naval service in World War II to be awarded the Legion of Merit.

F. T. Rifle Coach Says

"All You Need Is A Pocketful Of Bullets"

Gunnery Sergeant Paul G. Yeager, coach of the Force Troops Rifle and Pistol Team, admits that his team is thin on experience and shooting medals. There are 44 men vying for berths on the rifle team and 30 of them are trying for the pistol team.

The Gunny is a "no tricks" coach. "You just hold 'em and squeeze 'em," he said. "All you need is a pocketful of bullets, sight alignment, and trigger squeeze."

The Force Troops team finished 4th Master with a score of 973 with 78 v rings in the North Carolina High Power Rifle Championships held at the Rifle Range at Stone Bay last weekend. Second Lieutenant F.E. Hensel, Second Lieutenant W.R. Walsh, Jr., CWO-3 Harold Eoff, and Gunny Yeager were members of the 4th Master Team.

The best new hope for the team is 2d Lt. Walsh and he probably will not shoot on the first team in the Eastern Matches. He is firing against 2d Lt. Hensel, a distinguished shooter, who fired with the Marine Corps Team from 1960-62. Lt. Hensel helped coach the Marine Corps Team in 1963. Lt. Walsh is vying for the officer's berth on the team.

In the North Carolina High Power Rifle Championships Lt. Walsh took places in six of the eight events he fired in. The Lieutenant fired in the unclassified division since this was his first Marine Corps competition. He was first in the unclassified division in these events: 200 yard offhand with a score of 97 with 3 v rings; Slow-fire Aggregate with a score of 291 with 22 v rings; and the Grand Aggregate with a score of 487 with 33 v rings.

"Corporal R.W. Austin is the best new shooter I have in the enlisted ranks. He really has the best potential," said Gunny Yeager.

Corporal Austin was third in the unclassified division in the 200 yard rapid fire with a score of 100 with 4 v rings and in the 600 yard match with a score of 98 with 12 v rings.

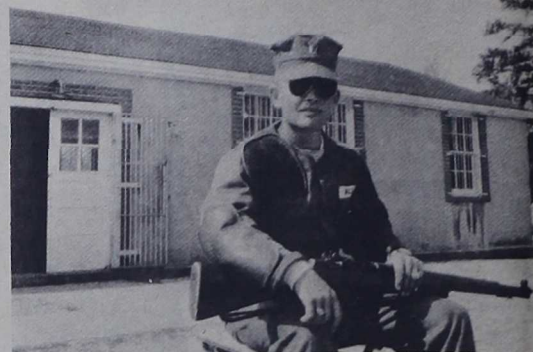

Gunnery Sergeant Ronald C. Ryninger is a distinguished shooter and will probably be a member of the first team. He became distinguished in 1960 with the pistol and with the rifle in 1961. He shot with the Marine Corps Team from 1958-1961.

Staff Sergeant Elmer L. Burr has six points toward being distinguished. He began shooting in 1965.

CWO-4 Joseph G. Navolanic is the team captain. He began shooting for the Marine Corps in 1935 and became distinguished with the rifle in 1948. He was a member of the winning Elliott Trophy Team and the winning Inter-Division Rifle Team in 1948.

When asked what his greatest accomplishment was Gunny Yeager shrugged and guessed that it came in 1964. During that time he coached the 2d Marine Air Wing Rifle and Pistol Team. His team won the Elliot Trophy for the first time in its history.

A few minutes later he had his men snapping in, hoping to get his "underdogs" ready for an upset.

DISTINGUISHED SHOOTER - Gunny Ryninger has his first team position sewed up. Here he practices his sitting position.

"HOLD 'EM AND SQUEEZE 'EM" - Gunny Yeager (left) and CWO-4 Navolanic (right) are ready to help Lt. Hensel as he vies for a first team berth.

1715 To Compete In Quantico Relays

The Eleventh Annual Marine Corps Schools Relays will draw more competitors May 5 and 6 than ever in the history of the event.

Over 1715 confirmed track men and women from more than 103 colleges, universities, service and athletic clubs will be on hand for the eleventh running of the event.

To date, 14 former Olympians will be on hand acting as participants, coaches and officials.

Former Olympians participating in the event will be: Mel Pender and Tommy Farrell, U. S. Army; Morgan Groth, Quantico Marines; Edwin Roberts, Ed Skinner, and Kent Bernard, Baltimore Olympic Club; Benedict Cayenne, Maryland State; Jay Luck, New Haven Track Club; Paul Drayton, Philadelphia Pioneers; and Chris Mousaides, New York Athletic Club; and woman competitor, Wyomia Tyus, Tennessee State. Coaches Ira Davis, Cheyney State, and Al Cantello, U. S. Naval Academy field coach, are also former Olympians.

Seton Hall University Coach John Gibson, another former Olympian, will coach the Pirates and be the Director of Field Events for the meet. Ollan Cassell, member of the 1964 Olympic 1600-meter relay team for the United States will be a finish judge.

Future Olympic hopefuls from track powerhouses will also be on hand. Grand St. Boys' Charlie Mays, winner of the 500-yard run at the Millrose Games, Francis Kraker, women's world record holder of the 600-yard run and Villanova's Dave Patrick, along with many others, have already been entered.

American University, St. John's University, the U. S. Army, Baltimore Olympic Club, Grand Street Boys, and the New York Athletic Club, are but a few of the many perennial track powers invading Marine Corps Schools' Butler Stadium.

5 Errors Drop 'Pups Into Second Place

Lejeune High School's Mike Evans dropped his first decision of the year as Pamlico defeated Lejeune last Tuesday, 4-3. The loss dropped the Devilpups into second place in the conference. Pamlico's Sadler opened the bottom of the seventh inning with a single and took second on Lejeune's fifth error of the game. Evans walked Kemp intentionally to try for a double play but Caraway singled for the winners and the game was over as Sadler scored easily.

Evans gave up only two earned runs but the Lejeune coach said that the five errors killed the team.

Skip Smith went two for two in the game. He slugged a double and a single.

Last week's Thursday game saw Lejeune take Swansboro's The 'Pups scored the winning run in the seventh inning as Smith squeezed in Buddy Charlesworth. Charlesworth got a pinch hit single.

Junior Hughes was tremendous as he struck out nine Swansboro hitters and walked only one. Hughes went the whole way for a victory.

Rich Stegemerten was two for three and he drove in two runs in the sixth inning to tie the score.

MTU Dominates North Carolina Rifle Champ.

The Marksmanship Training Unit from Quantico, Va., dominated the North Carolina State Rifle Championships on the Rifle Range at Stone Bay last weekend. One hundred eighty-nine shooters and 32 teams competed in the match.

Weather conditions were ideal though there were frequent gusts of wind. Scores were high due to the perfect shooting weather.

In the 200 yard rapid fire event of 25 shooters shot perfect scores. E. Gunderson, shooting for the MTU in the 600 yard event fired a perfect score with 7's. This was excellent shooting but it did not break the course record of a perfect score and 19's.

The high-shooting North Carolina resident was B. Shows, CB. His score was 491x500. Grand Aggregate Winner - D. Artlett, MTU, 498x500. High North Carolina Resident B. Shows, MCB, 491.

High Service Rifle - E. Gunderson, MTU, 495. High Belt Rifle - C. Lauer, CB, 483.

High Marine Corps Reserve - Clark, 483-34. High Civilian - F. Master, NC & P Assoc., 470-31.

1st Master Service - D. Sanchez, MTU, 495-32. 1st Master Bolt - J. Byrd, CB, 482-36.

1st Master Reserve - V. Levander, USNR, 475-32. 1st Expert - J. Ellis - MCAS, Cherry Point, 479-25.

1st Sharpshooter - H. Jack, 2d IV, 472-28. 1st Marksman - J. Backer, Marine Barracks, Norfolk, 468-2.

1st Unclassified - W. Walsh, Force Troops, 487-32. Thirty-two teams fired in the North Carolina State Four Man team Match. Marksmanship training Unit Blue, Quantico, won the team match with a score of 24-106. The Marine Corps Base team was the High North Carolina Resident Team Champion. Their score was 982-97.

Team results were: 1st Master - MTU, Quantico, 989-113. 2d Master - USMC Oldtimers, 84-89.

1st Expert - MCAS, Cherry Point, 971-67. 1st Unclassified - Parriss Island Silver, 966-74.

The Men's Jacksonville-Lejeune City Tournament officially ended Sunday night, but all of us will be talking about the good bowling we saw for a long time to come.

The suspense was terrific as the last few teams stepped up to compete in the final match of the Tournament; each one hoping to bowl just that few extra pins to cinch first place.

They all did well, but 3156 is pretty tough to beat, and the Bonneyman Strikers stayed in the lead. Congratulations to Lloyd James, Joe Gaddi, Ron Millar, John Matson, and Bob Kiphart. What a team! J. Openlander turned in a big 271 to win High Game with handicap. For High Series it was Ron Millar's 654 scratch and R.W. Landwehr's 700 with handicap.

Bob Wiggs just about walked away with the entire Tournament when he won SEVEN first places. Just check these scores.

Bob took the All Events with an 1862 scratch and cashed in once more in the handicap division with a 1979.

In the Singles Bob came through again in both divisions with a 640 scratch and 679 with handicap. His whopping 267 won High Game scratch.

In the Doubles it was Bob Wiggs' and Rex Overlin's 1195 scratch and 1285 with handicap that took first in both divisions.

Also this past weekend two of our top bowlers from this area went to Augusta, Georgia to compete in the 250 Masters Tournament. In six games Al Elfretth bowled an 1125 and Danny Cieliesz turned in a 1004.

They said they didn't qualify but just the fact that they ever bowled 250 at all impresses us.

On May 17 the Scratch Trios will start bowling at 7:30 p.m. instead of the usual time. There will be a meeting of all members immediately following the bowling.

Quad Command Highlights

MCSS MESS NIGHT - Sixty officers attended the Marine Corps Supply Schools Mess Night held April 21 at Montford Point. Shown above are Major T.J. Pentecost; Captain B.F. Duwel (USN); Major General J.O. Butcher, Guest of Honor; Colonel F.A. Quint, President of the Mess; Colonel W.T. Bray; Major D.H. Sayce; and Major J.L. Altman, Jr.

MCB-7 Completes Training With Formal Ceremonies

Mobile Construction Battalion (MCB) - 7 of Davisville, R.I., climaxed three weeks of infantry training at Camp Lejeune with a Pass - in - Review April 28 at the Rifle Range Parade Field.

Featured at the ceremonies were performances by the Seabee Drill Team, the 2d Division Band, and remarks made by Major General Joseph O. Butcher, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base.

The drill team, composed of Seabees from all battalions on the Atlantic coast, performed several maneuvers with the Springfield '03 rifle.

General Butcher inspected the troops, accompanied by Commander Leroy D. Lawson, CEC, USN, Commanding Officer of MCB-7.

After inspecting the troops, General Butcher presented the Navy Commendation Medal to Lieutenant Peter M. Faharney, MC, USN. Lieutenant Faharney was cited for outstanding achievement as battalion medical officer during MCB-7's tour in the Republic of Vietnam.

In his remarks to the Battalion, General Butcher commended the Seabees on their fine record and termed them "one of the finest military organizations in our country."

General Butcher, Honorable O. O. Allsbrook, Mayor of Wilmington, N. C., Lieutenant Faharney, and Commander Lawson observed the battalion as it passed in review.

MCB - 7 departed Camp Lejeune April 29 for their home port where they will prepare for their deployment to the Republic of Vietnam in June.

APPRECIATED - Staff Sergeant Maurice E. Woodfin received a Certificate of Appreciation from Major General Joseph O. Butcher April 26. Sergeant Woodfin is the Career Advisory NCO for Supply Schools. He was given the award for "exceptional effort and devotion in contributing to a successful Marine Corps Advisory Program." He reenlisted more than 34% of his men during the last six month period. This is the second such award for SSgt. Woodfin.

DINGERS - Sergeant R.D. Ayers (above), MAD, NAT-TC, Memphis, Tenn., fired a 168 at the Rifle Range last week, but his score will not count as the course record since he used match ammo and match sights. LCpl. R.E. Cernock, (below) 2d Field Artillery Group, was the official high shooter with a 141 on his first attempt at the "C" Course.

Three From Force Troops Receive N. Commendation

Sergeant Major Eugene F. Ross, 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion, Staff Sergeant Earl F. Morris, 2d Air and Naval Gunfire Liaison Company, and Sergeant Larry D. Whysong, 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion, recently received the Navy Commendation Medal from their commanding officers.

Sergeant Major Ross received his medal for "meritorious service". Staff Sergeant Morris was presented his medal for "meritorious service" while serving in the Republic of Vietnam. Sergeant Whysong received his commendation for "outstanding performance of duty" while serving with the United States Delegation to NATO.

There are over 4,300 buildings and structures at Camp Lejeune.

MINUTEMAN AWARD - Major General Ormond R. Simpson, Commanding General, 2d Marine Division, presents Minuteman Flags to commanding officers of the battalions attaining 90 per-cent or more participation in this year's Savings Bond Program. Officers receiving the awards are: (LtCol) LtCol William S. Fagan, 3rd Battalion, 6th Marines; LtCol Edward J. Megarr, 2d Shore Party Battalion; Gen. Simpson; LtCol Harrol Kiser, 2d Recon Battalion, and LtCol Elliot R. Laino Jr., 2d Anti-Tank Battalion.

NEW MAJOR - Major J.P. Joiner has his new rank insignia pinned on by his wife and Major General Joseph O. Butcher, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base. Observing the ceremonies is the Major's Commanding Officer, Colonel F.A. Quint, Commanding Officer, Marine Corps Supply Schools.

REENLISTMENT BONUSES - A total of $14,800 was received by three Marines from 2d Bridge Company, Force Troops, as a reenlistment bonus. Captain Robert J. Genovese administers the oath to Corporal Kenneth Woodward, Sergeant James B. Bell, and Sergeant Harry A. Hertless.

CINEMA SUMMARY

WHAT DID YOU DO IN THE WAR, DADDY?

This hilarious war comedy tells the story of an "attack" by American troops on an Italian stronghold. The Commander of the Italian forces is only too willing to surrender, provided that the townspeople are allowed to hold their annual wine festival. A wild and frantic party ensues which rages throughout the night, leading headquarters to believe that the Americans are meeting heavy resistance. Actually, the G.I.s are merely helping the Italians celebrate. When reinforcements are sent, complete pandemonium breaks loose.

An excellent cast romps through the farce, casually creating the mad-house atmosphere essential in a flick of this type. James Coburn (known in other circles as Derek Flint) gives a riotous performance as the Lieutenant who exhorts his Captain to permit the celebration. Dick Shawn portrays the confused Captain. Aldo Ray is the alcoholic Sgt., and Giovanna Ralli supplies the love interest as the ex-girl of the Italian Commander.

NOTICE

The Children's Swimming Classes, sponsored by The American Red Cross and held at the Area 2 Pool on Thursdays from 3-5 p.m., have been cancelled due to the temporary closing of the pool for repairs.

COMPANY REGROUPS — A Marine company begins regrouping after landing on the southeastern shore of Puerto Rico. The company is part of the 8th Marine Expeditionary Brigade, Camp Lejeune, N.C., which made an amphibious landing on Puerto Rico during "Clove Hitch III," a unified Atlantic Command training exercise. The exercise, deploying men of all the armed services, is a test of the command's combat readiness.

THIRSTY ANYONE — "It's not as good as water, but it'll have to do," may be what PFC S.J. Bulcroft of the 8th Marine Expeditionary Brigade is thinking as he attacks a cactus plant during a thirsty moment in the sweltering heat of southern Puerto Rico. PFC Bulcroft is one of nearly 3,000 United States Marines participating in the joint military operation.

UNFANCY FOOTWORK — Members of the 8th Marine Expeditionary Brigade, Camp Lejeune, N.C., hit the beaches of southeastern Puerto Rico.

CLOVE HITCH III HIGHLIGHTS

CRIME DOES NOT PAY — PFC Joseph T. Brady, on the ground, learns the hard way that crime does not pay. He was one of the Marines assigned to the guerrilla forces during Operation CLOVE HITCH III. He was doing a good job in his assignment until some of the "friendlies" came along and captured him. Conducting the search of the unfortunate "bad-guy" is pl. R.J. White.

FOOT-DRYING TIME — It's foot-drying time for these Marines who take advantage of a break in training to drum air out their socks. Operation CLOVE HITCH III provided the time for such luxuries in the steaming heat of Puerto Rico.
