

MEDAL OF HONOR TO ARTILLERY OFFICER

Captain Harvey Curtiss Barnum Jr., a Marine artillery officer who took command of a rifle company under fire when the company commander was killed, became the Marine Corps' fourth Medal of Honor winner for Vietnam valor.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze presented the medal to CAPTAIN H. C. BARNUM JR.

Capt Barnum during ceremonies at Marine Barracks, Eighth and "I" in Washington, D.C., February 27.

The Captain was serving as an artillery forward observer on December 18, 1965, attached to Company "H", 2d Bn., 9th Marines at the time of his heroic action. The company was under the operational control of the 2d Bn., 7th Marines at the time.

He was in Vietnam on Temporary Additional Duty orders from his base at Marine Barracks, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Many Marines were in such a status while combat forces were augmented.

The company he was with was pinned down. According to the accompanying citation, "He quickly made a hazardous reconnaissance of the area seeking targets for his artillery." Finding the company commander mortally wounded and the radio operator killed, he, with complete disregard for his own safety, gave aid to the dying commander, then removed the radio from the dead radio operator and strapped it to himself.

"He immediately assumed command of the rifle company and moving at once into the midst of the heavy fire, rallying and giving encouragement to all units, reorganized them to replace the lost key personnel and led their attack on enemy positions."

"His sound and swift decisions," the citation continued, "and his obvious calm served to stabilize the badly decimated units and his gallant example as he stood exposed repeatedly to point out targets, served as an inspiration to all."

"Provided with two armed helicopters, he moved fearlessly through enemy fire to control the air attack against the firmly entrenched enemy while skillfully directing one platoon in a successful counter attack on the key enemy positions."

After clearing a small area," he requested and directed the landing of two transport helicopters for the evacuation of the dead and the wounded.

"He then assisted in the mopping up and final seizure of the battalion's objective."

Captain Barnum is presently finishing his tour at Marine Barracks, Pearl Harbor. He enlisted in the Marine Corps through the Platoon Leaders Class program in November 1958 while attending St. Anselm's College in New Hampshire.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1962, he accepted an appointment as second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve and was ordered to Basic School, Quantico, Va.

He attended Artillery Officer Orientation Course at Quantico and then served with the 3d Marine Division on Okinawa in 1962 and later with the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing, Cherry Point, N.C.

FIRST AT LEJEUNE

Division Marine Earns Master Fitness Award

Six years ago, a high school boy named George P. Solovskoy, Jr., of St. Louis Park, Minnesota, decided that physical fitness was going to be his hobby and embarked on an enthusiastic but sensibly regulated program.

Last Monday morning, Marine Corporal Solovskoy, 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, 2d Marine Division, stood before his Commanding General, Major General Ormond R. Simpson, and became the first Marine at Camp Lejeune to receive the Marine Corps Master of Fitness Award.

Only six other Marines have been able to qualify for the honor since it was established in 1963.

To win the award, Cpl. Solovskoy performed 80 push-ups, 20 pull-ups, a 26-inch Jump and Reach, sit-up with a 50-pound weight resistance, 40-foot rope climb using hands only, 247-pound bench press, squat with 335 pounds, 20-foot walk balanced on his hands, a five-second arms locked, horizontal body extension from an upright pole, and the standard Marine Corps Physical Readiness Test of five events with much stricter requirements than normally imposed. His time in the three-mile run with combat gear was 17½ minutes.

Verifying Solovskoy's feats was SSgt. William Snell, Camp Lejeune Physical Fitness Specialist, who said that Solovskoy "wasn't even breathing hard at the end of each event, and wanted to keep going." Snell called his student "a great natural athlete and gymnast."

For a 21-year-old, Solovskoy has been around. He is a graduate of the Navy's SCUBA (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) School at Key West, Fla. He graduated from the Army's Airborne course at Ft. Benning, Ga., emerging among the top ten in a class of 800. He returned last summer following 13 months in Vietnam where a Viet Cong .45-caliber slug ripped the calf of his leg, barely missing the bone, which might have been shattered beyond repair.

At 5 foot, 10 inches and 175 pounds, Solovskoy is not a tank-like muscle man in the classic sense. Tanned, lithe and fair-haired, he gives the impression of an explosion ready to go off.

He doesn't smoke or drink, but isn't sanctimonious about it. He just thinks both are bad for him. He thinks Marine Corps food contains a perfect balance of the nutrients an athlete needs, and eats his fill.

His only taboos are sweets and milk. He calls running and swimming the best overall conditioners.

BrigGen Williams Tours Caribbean

Brigadier General John E. Williams, Commanding General, Force Troops, is on a 16-day inspection tour of Force Troops Units in the Caribbean.

General Williams left Cherry Point Sunday and will return March 15.

The General visited Guantanamo on his first stop. The rest of his tour includes Vieques, Roosevelt Roads, and San Juan Puerto Rico.

ECC Fourth Term Begins March 22

East Carolina College's Camp Lejeune Center provides an opportunity for U.S. Marine Corps personnel, their dependents, and all other eligible individuals of the surrounding area to complete two years of basic college courses and receive resident credit for their work.

The fourth term will begin March 22 and continue until May 17.

Freshmen must be at least 16 years of age and graduates of an accredited high school. The requirement of high school graduation may be waived for adults provided there is evidence through examination that they will be successful in the college.

Students who are considering enrolling in the center should talk with the college counselor about information concerning their program. Appointments may be made by calling the Director's Office, Camp Lejeune Center, East Carolina College, Building 67 or the Base Education Office, Building 19.

The resident center offers what is basically a Junior College Program. The courses offered are the basic college subjects which include the social sciences, English, Math, and foreign languages.

The cost is $9 per quarter hour of credit. Military personnel are entitled to financial assistance from the government at the rate of $6.75 per quarter hour. Forms for this financial assistance can be obtained at the Base Education Office.

The Resident Center Classes are held in the Lejeune Junior-Senior High School. The classes meet two evenings each week beginning at 6:30 and ending at 9:30 p.m. Three quarter-hour classes will meet for five weeks and five quarter-hour classes will meet for eight weeks.

The Base provides transportation to and from the classes each evening. The bus leaves from the Hadnot Point Station at 6 p.m. for classes.

Necessary application forms may be obtained from the Camp Lejeune Center, East Carolina College, Building 67 or the Base Education Office.

Staff Sgt Board Due Out Mar 17

WASHINGTON—Marine Corps promotions shift into low again March 1 when only 297 will move off the waiting lists into their new staff NCO grades.

This is the smallest group to be advanced in several months.

Later in March, however—probably around March 17 there will be good news for the 3800 due to be picked for promotion to staff sergeant during the rest of this fiscal year and maybe all of next.

Those remaining on previously selected list for staff sergeant will be advanced during March.

In addition, 225 gunnery sergeants will be promoted, leaving 1289 on the waiting list; four master sergeants get their new rank with 464 remaining; four first sergeants get their rank with 225 left on that list.

The top enlisted grade promotions will have four master gunnery sergeants with 124 remaining and four sergeants major to leave 133 to be promoted.

IN SHAPE — Corporal George P. Solovskoy Jr., center, 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, becomes the first Marine to win the Marine Corps Master of Physical Fitness Award while stationed at Camp Lejeune, and only the seventh to win it since it was established in 1963. Presenting the award is Major General Ormond R. Simpson, Commanding General, 2d Marine Division. At right is SSgt. William Snell, Camp Lejeune Physical Fitness Specialist, who tested Solovskoy on way to the award.

NHA-ISA Drive

During the next few weeks we will be approached by certain men in our units who have been designated "keymen" of the current fund raising campaign.

Some of us may consider this man the "bad guy" for the job he has been assigned, but all of us should take the meaning of this campaign to heart.

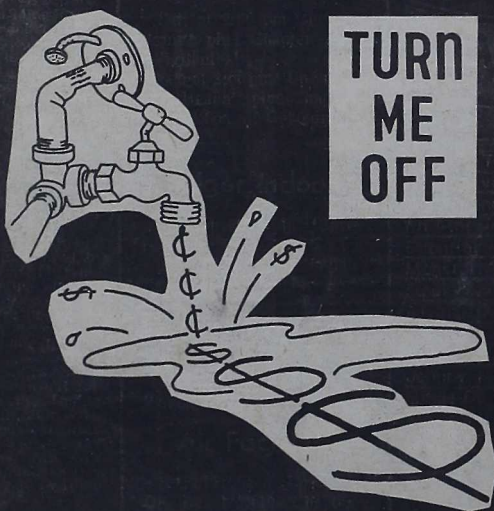

The organizations involved in the campaign are all working to promote better health, help for the needy, research to help find a cure for crippling diseases and in short, giving hope to those who suffer with the many diseases.

The Commanding General has urged 100 percent participation in this year's drive and the drive officials are pushing toward exceeding last year's contributions.

We have a few paydays left before this drive is over and with a little planning, we can all set aside a few cents each payday for our all out contribution.

When we dig into our pockets for our donation, let us also dig into our hearts and give generously to this most worthy cause. Your contribution, what ever the amount, will help some unfortunate person in the future by helping the organizations of this campaign.

LEAVING?

WATER CONSERVATION — Conservation of any utility should be the job of everyone who uses it at Camp Lejeune. During Fiscal Year 1966, the Base paid $289,090 for treatment, operation and maintenance of water resources. Much of this was wasted if we consider the many faucets which were left dripping all night or careless use of water on and off the Base. We use about 2,966,683,000 gallons of treated water on the Base each year from the six water treatment plants. Maintenance dollars rise every time we are negligent with the water provided. Save our money — conserve water and all utilities available to us.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF BOOKS

BOOKS FOR HORSE LOVERS AND OWNERS By Judy Ourand

Oh what a magnificent array of fine books your library has for all you horse lovers and owners of all ages! If you are interested in buying a horse, riding or showing a horse, or even if you are merely interested in what makes a horse tick, we have just the book for you.

Outstanding among our books for Western riders are WESTERN HORSEBACK RIDING by Glenn Balch and RIDE AMERICAN by Louis Taylor. WESTERN HORSEBACK RIDING is a well-written, well-illustrated book describing and explaining the Western saddle, the various bits and bridles and instruct the rider in their usage. Mr. Balch tells about the different breeds of horses found in the West and clearly describes the advantages of each as a suitable mount for the purposes of the Western rider. Louis Taylor's RIDE AMERICAN covers many questions and problems which riders of phases may have as well as some of the secrets of the professional horse trainer. A far-reaching book going into all phases of horse care and the art of Western riding.

For the English rider our books include RIDING WITH MARILES, an excellent book by Margaret Cabell Self. Here in this book are General Mariles's riding and schooling methods, the same ones which helped the Mexican Army Team win the International Perpetual Challenge Trophy for so many years. Also by Margaret Cabell Self we have HORSES: THEIR SELECTION, CARE, AND HANDLING. Written in the layman's language, this book is for the new horse owner who needs to know how to feed, groom, and care for his horse. It makes wonderful review for the long-time horse owner as well.

The master of Forward Seat riding, Vladimir Littauer, gives us his excellent program for training the young horse and re-schooling the older horse in his book SCHOOLING YOUR HORSE. Captain Littauer's riding and schooling methods are used successfully in every phase of English riding.

For the younger set there are such wonderful books as the famous MISTY OF CHINCOTEAGUE and STORMY, MISTY'S FOAL by the gifted writer Marguerite Henry. Beautifully illustrated, these books are a must for any child who loves animals.

C. W. Anderson's books for children include AFRAID TO RIDE, BILLY AND BLAZE, THE HORSE OF HURRICANE HILL, and HEADS UP-HEELS DOWN. Mr. Anderson's books are well written, wonderfully illustrated, and a joy for all to read.

Famous among all horse books are Walter Farley's THE BLACK STALLION MYSTERY, THE BLACK STALLION, THE BLOOD BAY COLT, MAN O'WAR and many others. Written with plenty of adventure and suspense, these books will give many a young reader hours of exciting reading.

These are but a few of the books we have for the many interested horseman. All are carefully chosen for their quality as well as for your use

OBEY EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT OR LOSE YOUR DRIVING PRIVILEGES. There are currently more than 34,000 private motor vehicles registered aboard this Base. From my personal experience and the reports of other emergency vehicle operators at Camp Lejeune, the MAJORITY of the drivers either ignorant of emergency signals or do not know how to yield the right way. In either case, a traffic hazard is created and the violator becomes a dangerous driver.

For the education of those drivers who do not know the regulation and/or the correct action to be taken, Paragraph 3.f., Chapter IV "Rules of the Road", BO P5560.2C is quoted in part. "The driver of a vehicle shall yield the right of way to civilian emergency vehicles, military police and fire department vehicles, and ambulances when they are on official business. . . The driver of a vehicle so yielding the right of way shall immediately drive the car to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right edge of the curb, clear of any intersection of roads, and shall STOP AND REMAIN IN SUCH POSITION, unless otherwise directed by a military policeman until the emergency vehicle shall have passed.

Traffic on one-way streets which cannot pull off to the right because of parked cars and traffic in the LEFT LANE OF DUAL LANES SHALL PULL OFF TO THE LEFT CLEAR OF THE TRAVELED PORTION OF THE ROAD." There are two types of visual emergency signals. Red lights are used by emergency vehicles such as fire trucks, ambulances, and emergency maintenance vehicles. Blue lights are used by law enforcement agencies to indicate that the occupants of the vehicle are armed.

The visual signal may be accompanied by an audible signal such as a siren, bell, air whistle, or honking horn. The audible signal is not normally used in apprehending traffic violators until the violator fails to obey the visual signal.

The standard excuses given for failure to obey traffic emergency equipment is. . . "I DIDN'T SEE THE LIGHT". . . "I DIDN'T HEAR THE SIREN".

In the first case, by not being alert and keeping a watch to the rear. In the second case, if you can't hear a siren, you're not physically qualified to operate a motor vehicle, or your radio is on too loud. Another problem driver is the self righteous individual who says to himself, "Why should I stop? I haven't done anything."

BE WARNED. As soon as you fail to obey the emergency equipment you HAVE "DONE SOMETHING", and you'll lose your driving privileges for 90 days on the first offense and six months for the second. . . in addition to 4 points on your driving record.

Most violations of this regulation occur during the peak traffic hours and on Holcomb Boulevard and other well traveled roads when it is most important that the emergency vehicle get through heavy and slow moving traffic.

WHEN YOU SEE A FLASHING RED OR BLUE LIGHT AND HEAR A SIREN, WHISTLE, BELL, OR HORN. . . GET OUT OF THE WAY AND STOP!

"THE SELF-INFLICTED WOUND AWARD" for the month of February goes to the two handball players who left their wallets, watches, rings, credit cards, savings passbook, uniforms, $200 worth of groceries, and $150.00 worth of professional equipment in an UNLOCKED CAR WITH THE KEYS ON THE FLOOR. That's right. . . stolen car with contents! . . . BEAUTIFUL. . . ANOTHER ENGRAVED INVITATION TO STEAL!

NUISANCE AND OBSCENE PHONE CALLS continue to be a problem. If you receive such a call, and are not aware of the procedures, call this office for instructions. . . 7-5151. Ask for the duty criminal investigator.

Solovskoy is in charge of SCUBA training for the 2d Reconnaissance Battalion. He manages to sandwich in about two hours of personal physical training a day, performing portions before each meal.

Solovskoy has some personal records in his carefully prepared log book which are eye openers. In 1965, he did 1013 push-ups in 56 minutes. The same year he did 118 sit-ups in 2 minutes, and ran 8 miles in 49 minutes. His consecutive pull-up record, set last year, is 37. He says he needs a little more work on that.

Change COs For 2d FAG

Major Charles L. McElheny assumed command of the 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, on February 17, from Lieutenant Colonel Lawrence R. Dorsa, Lt. Colonel Dorsa is TAD to Headquarters Marine Corps for four months. At the end of this tour he will return to his previous command.

Reserve Seabees From Pa., Ohio Train at Lejeune

Reserve Seabees of U. S. Naval Reserve Mobile Construction Battalion (RMCB)-20 will wind up their two weeks of intensive infantry training here tomorrow.

The 19 officers and 233 enlisted men which make up the battalion, came to Camp Lejeune February 19 and will conclude their training with a 'pass in review' ceremony.

The Seabees were hosted here by Headquarters and Service Battalion and are training under a special contingent of Marines commanded by Captain J. J. O'Meara.

Training for the Seabees included use of the compass; troop leading steps; nomenclature and operation of crew - served and individual weapons; qualification with the M-14 rifle and defensive tactics on the squad, platoon and company level.

Ten units from Ohio and Pennsylvania make up the battalion which is commanded by Commander J. D. Roberts. The Battalion is based at Gulfport, Miss.

The infantry training received by the Seabees provides the unit with the capability of defending their own perimeter during hostile action.

New Sgt Major At Force Troops

Sergeant Major Kenneth J. Postlewait relieved Sergeant Major Andy J. Bays as Force Troops Sergeant Major in colorful change-of-command ceremonies here.

Commanding Officer of the Troops was Sergeant Major Trope with an all staff NCO parade honoring the two Sergeant Majors. Representatives of all Force Troops units participated in the elaborate ceremony.

Highlighting the ceremony was the passing of a sword signifying the change-of-command. Brigadier General John E. Williams, Commanding General, Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic praised Sergeant Major Bays for his outstanding devotion to duty while serving with Force Troops.

Sergeant Major Bays has been reassigned to the Far East where he will serve with the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Vietnam.

Sergeant Major Postlewait vacates the Sergeant Major billet at the 2d Force Service Regiment, FMFLant, to assume his new duties as Force Troops Sergeant Major.

During World War II SgtMaj Postlewait was a member of the Marine Detachment aboard the USS HUGHES. During the Korean Conflict he was assigned to the 1st Force Service Regiment, 1st Marine Division.

High Shooter

High shooter for the week ending February 24 was Corporal Garry L. West of A Co., 2d AmTrac Bn, Force Troops. West's score of 131 led 640 shooters who fired in cold weather and brisk winds.

NHA-ISA Fund Drive In High Gear on Base

The annual Joint Fund Drive of the National Service Agencies-International Service Agencies is underway at Camp Lejeune.

Lieutenant Colonel Lyman E. Keown, Fund Drive Chairman, asks for generous support from all Federal personnel to expand health guarding programs of research, education and community services to patients here and abroad.

President Johnson has given his warm endorsement to the campaign, calling the agencies "strong allies of the government in the fight to improve health standards for all people".

The National Health Agencies lead dramatic assaults on illness in the areas of heart disease, arthritis, dystrophy, mental illness, retardation, cystic fibrosis, birth defects, multiple sclerosis, crippling afflictions, blindness, cerebral palsy and cancer.

International Service Agencies, fight poverty, ignorance, oppression, and disease through CARE, Project Hope, Radio Free Europe, and the American Korean Foundation.

U.S. Marine Corps Reservists and CARE, one of the International Service Agencies, recently raised $423,000 for the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund for Vietnam.

Lieutenant General Lewis W. Walt, Commanding General, III Marine Amphibious Force, in a recent report on the fund made the following statement: "On behalf of the Marines in Vietnam, on behalf of those Marines who have left all or part of their lives in this country, and on behalf of the Vietnamese recipients of your generosity, I want to thank you for entrusting us with the funds so that Vietnam finds the future it so richly deserves and desperately needs."

Lt. Col. Keown has made this appeal.

"Your financial support is essential in order that this good fight may be broadened. As in the past, you may designate agencies of your choice for portions of your gift. It is hoped that all of you will respond to the Campaign appeal with willing and generous spirit."

Water Safety Courses Begin March 6

Senior Life Saving, Water Safety Instructor, and Basic Small Craft Skills Courses will be given starting March 6 to qualify persons for assignments as lifeguards to swimming pools and beaches, as swimming instructors and for further assignment as drownproofing instructors.

Gen. Butcher (Akela) at Blue-Gold Banquets

"Akela", to a scout, means the leader and Cub Scouts of Packs 90, 190, 290 and 390, all of Camp Lejeune, were each visited by their Akela, Major General Joseph O. Butcher during their annual "Blue and Gold" banquets.

WEBLOS — Cub Paul Brown and Michael Markley are promoted to the Webelos rank by Major General J.O. Butcher (Akela) during annual Blue and Gold banquet for Pack 190 Feb. 25.

AUTOGRAPHS from Major General Butcher were a big hit with the Cubs of Pack 190.

The banquets started Feb. 24 with Pack 90 holding their festive celebration at the Paradise Point Officers' Club. On Feb. 24, Pack 290 held their banquet in the Stone Street School on Base.

Over the weekend, Cub Pack 190 celebrated their feast in a gaily decorated Tarawa Terrace Community Center Saturday night with Pack 390 holding their feast on Sunday at the 77 center.

Each occasion was a big event for both the scouts and their parents in attendance. It was a time for promotions up the ladder for the cubs and the feeling of pride for each parent as their sons received scouting awards.

The general advanced two young cubs into the Webelos, the step before entering boy scouts as a tenderfoot and was a big hit with the cubs when he autographed each of their programs.

The Blue and Gold banquets are held each year to re-charter the Packs and name new officials and are normally the time for competition between Dens for table decoration along the scouting theme.

Chaplain Speaks

IT'S TIME TO CHECK YOUR SPARE!

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness." This is the clear command of Christ. However, in peace and in war we frequently find ourselves seeking just about everything else instead. We would translate Christ's teaching as follows: "Seek ye last the kingdom of God and his righteousness if you still have time and energy after seeking everything else you want in life." And so we seek wealth, fame, happiness, sex, or 6 strokes of other things, often our philosophy of life be that religion is fine — don't let it interfere with life.

Our religion can be likened to the spare tire of an automobile. We acknowledge that the spare is important but most of the time it is forgotten as it rests in the trunk of the car. When suddenly a tire blows out, we immediately remember the spare tire. Have you ever had the experience of lifting the trunk lid only to discover that the spare is flat? What a revolting development! What has happened? Has someone forgotten to put air into the spare? No, it is just a case of neglect. Perhaps months have passed since the spare was checked and during that time it has lost its pressure. Now, when it is needed most, it cannot fulfill its purpose.

What about your religion? Will it bring you through life's most demanding experiences triumphantly? Or is it like the spare tire, potentially able to meet the emergency but actually incapable of rendering the desired aid because it has been neglected too long and the vital content of your religious faith has leaked out? Let us never forget the fact that our religious faith will take care of us only to the extent that we take care of it.

During this Lenten season "It's time to check your spare" and start today to "Seek ye FIRST the kingdom of God, and his righteousness."

— Chaplain Dudley C. Hathaway

Ordnance Company Maintains Firepower

Behind every Marine weapon fired in the field are skilled maintenance personnel and a vast armament of knowledge.

This knowledge and these behind-the-front Marines provide the assurance that the enormous firepower of the United States Marine Corps will be maintained.

Ordnance Maintenance Company, 2d Force Service Regiment, Force Troops, under the command of Captain Robert J. Faught, provides these vital support functions here. From the .45 caliber automatic pistol to the M-103 heavy tank and its 120mm projectile, the firepower of Camp Lejeune's Marines is kept in a high state of readiness by these skilled maintenance personnel.

In addition to providing ordnance repair support to Force Troops units, the company gives overflow 3rd and 4th echelon support to the 2d Marine Division; 2d Marine Aircraft Wing, and outlying Reserve units.

Ordnance Maintenance personnel are given the opportunity to attend formal Marine Corps Schools at Ordnance School, Quantico, Va., and Tracked Vehicle Repair School, Camp Pendleton, Calif. Included in the curriculum at these specialized schools are shop mathematics, heat treatment of metal, electricity, and hydraulics. Providing continuity amid the rapidly changing Marine personnel turnover is a backbone of civilian technicians.

One of the company's major tasks is providing maintenance support for the heavy combat tracked vehicles of the Marine Amphibious assault force. These vehicles include devastating tanks, multi-barrelled "Ontos", amphibian tractors, and long-range self-propelled artillery. A massive crane capable of lifting 54 ton tanks off the ground is only one example of the company's complex repair facilities.

Closely associated with the tracked vehicle repair section is the accessory shop. The numerous accessories utilized on these huge armored vehicles are each capable of disabling the vehicle. The continuous operation of carburetors, generators, control boxes, and starters are all essential if the vehicle is to operate and accomplish its mission.

Often the mission of a Marine unit requires the utilization of firepower. The small arms and artillery repair section gives Camp Lejeune Marines the assurance that they will have it.

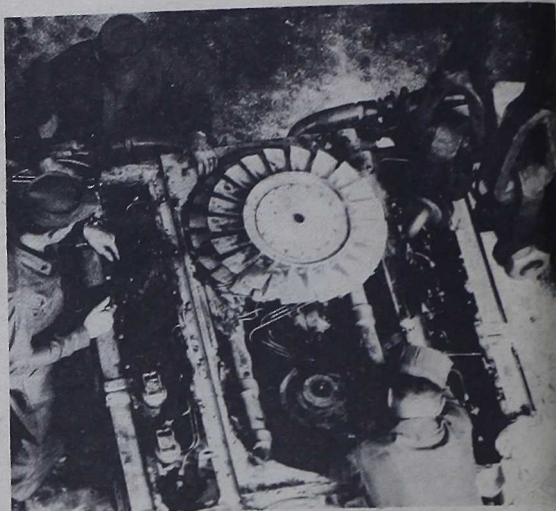

From fiberglassing M-14 rifle stocks to complete detailed stripping of medium 105mm howitzers, no job is too big for the Marine armorer.

Optical support is provided by the "Fire Control Section" under the leadership of the company Executive Officer, 2nd Lieutenant C.H. Rafferty. These support personnel expand the capabilities of the human eye giving our Marines every possible technological advantage over their enemies.

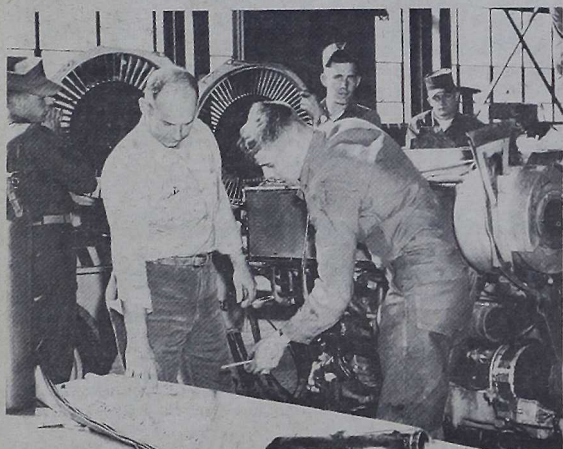

Even a lack of spare parts fails to halt the maintenance task of Ordnance Maintenance Company. Highly skilled Marine Corps trained machinists utilize the company's machine shop to fabricate, repair, and modify metal parts. Included in the shop's complex equipment are lathes, shapers, millers, drill presses, and radio presses.

Ordnance Maintenance Company is one of many behind-the-front companies giving vital support to Marine front line units. This teamwork between the front lines and the many supporting functions is essential for victory.

The support task of Ordnance Maintenance Company, providing continuous maximum firepower, is only one of numerous examples exemplifying the high state of combat readiness maintained by Camp Lejeune's Marines.

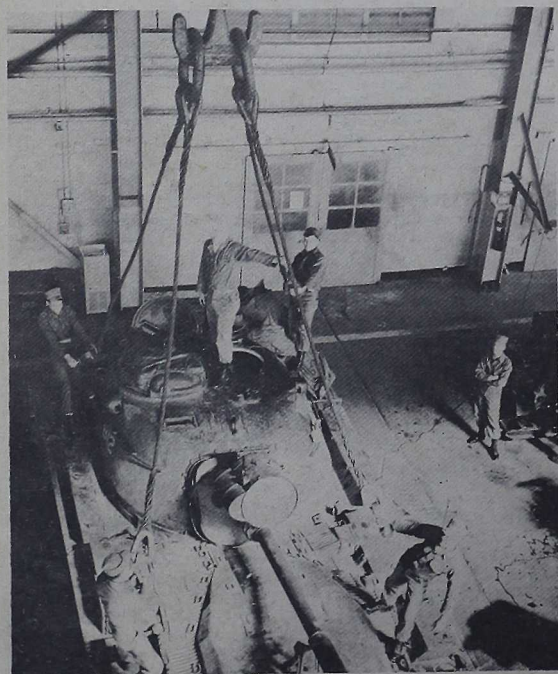

A LOT OF ENGINE for a lot of tank — Ordnance Maintenance Marines make repairs to a diesel engine from a medium M-48 Marine Corps Tank.

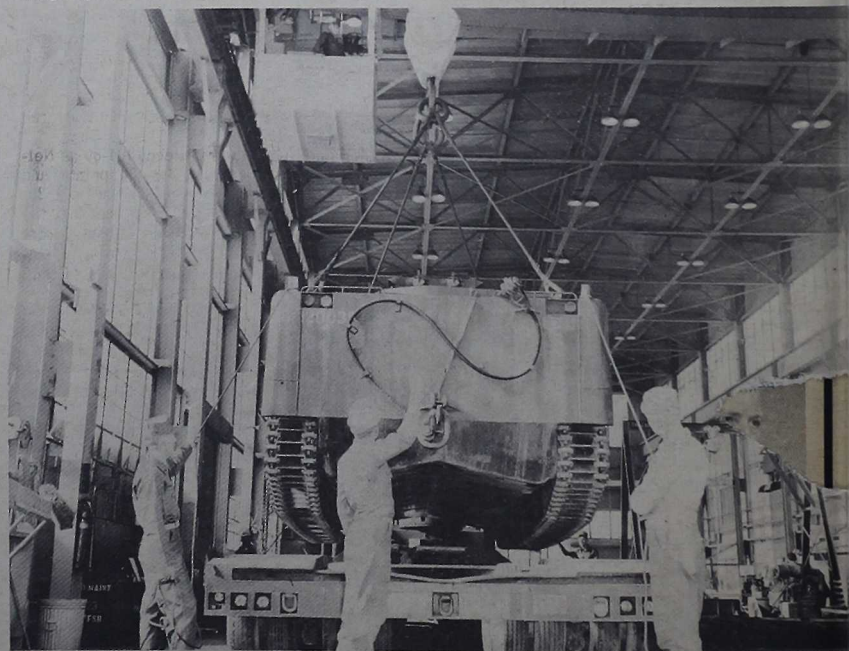

FINAL CHECK — One more look at the book just to be sure ... Mr. James A. Midgett, a civilian ordnance technician, shows a young Ordnance Maintenance Company Marine in the book and tells him how to repair a huge diesel engine from an M-48 Marine Corps tank.

WHERE TO BEGIN — Corporals P.J. Holdsworth (left) and R.E. Shimko (right) are undecided where to begin their limited technical inspection of rows and rows of M-16 rifles. The M-16 has only recently been added to the Marine Corps arsenal of weapons.

TENSION MOUNTS as a Marine M-48 medium tank takes to the air. Lifted by an overhead crane the 52 ton tank is being repaired by Maintenance specialist from Ordnance Maintenance Company, 2d Force Service Regiment.

"LET HER DOWN EASY" — 3rd echelon maintenance completed, an amphibian tractor is lowered slowly to the bed of a low boy truck. The "amtrac" will then be returned to its parent unit, the 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion.

Pro-Am Golf Tournament Scheduled for Monday

The Eastern Carolina Professional-Amateur Golf Association will hold a tournament Monday at Camp Lejeune's Paradise Golf Course. Marine golfers are invited to participate in the tournament and in a separate one for Marines only to be held Sunday.

Association brings professional and amateur golfers from Eastern North Carolina to the course once a week during the months when golfers are active and pro's can get away on their day off.

Purpose of the tournaments is for men of different communities to wouldn't otherwise meet to together for golf and a good time in an informal atmosphere.

Those entering the tournament make up their own game after signing up and receiving either 4, or 6 strokes according to their handicaps.

While the golfers are playing, the Association secretary makes pairings and assigns a team of four amateurs and one pro. When the scores are turned in, the best ball score of the team is determined by the low score on each hole after the amateur strokes are deducted.

A field of 60-80 golfers is expected to play this weekend. Entry fee is $6 per man, with $5 going for trophies and $1 for refreshments.

A similar event will be held for Marines on Sunday. Marines entering Sunday's tourney will be paired Sunday with a pro and can come to the Course Monday afternoon to see if their pro helped the team's score and to enjoy the refreshments.

Sunday's event will be for Marines only so that their entry fees will be won by Marines. Marines may also play in the Eastern Carolina event on Monday by paying another entry fee.

Rod and Gun Club

The Camp Lejeune Rod and Gun Club will have a steamed oyster outing for members only, this Sunday at 2 p.m., at the Club's building near the Paradise Point Tennis courts.

D'pups End Season with Victory

The Camp Lejeune High School Devilpups ended their most successful basketball season in several years last week with a 75-74 victory over Vanceboro, a team that downed the D'pups by 12 earlier this year.

The victory left the season record at 11 wins and seven losses for Coach John Griffin's crew.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was 21-20 for Lejeune.

At halftime it was knotted 41-41 and at the three quarter mark the Devilpups had opened a 63-58 bulge. But Vanceboro came back to almost win.

A Vanceboro shot rolled off the rim in the last seconds of play and Lejeune controlled the rebound to cinch their victory.

"I thought we played well on both offense and defense. We had some defensive lapses in the final minutes, but we held on," said Griffin.

Lane Argetsinger led the Lejeune scoring with 29 points.

Rick Gutekunst added 18, and seniors David Ogle, Terry Berglund, and John Winchester, playing their last game, tallied 10, 7, and 9 respectively.

Creed Mills led Vanceboro with 33 points while Jimmy Sermons dropped in 18 and Phil Russell 11.

Barring transfers, Lejeune should have another good basketball team next year. Argetsinger, Gutekunst, center Ronnie Caves, guard Ray Ogle, and a host of good prospects from this year's jayvee team will return.

Quantico Relays Loom As Major Track Event

QUANTICO, Va., — One of the largest outdoor track and field meets held in the United States, the Marine Corps Schools Relays, is "out of the blocks" and gaining momentum for its May 5-6 staging.

In its 11th year, the meet is expected to match the record drawing of last year, when some 1700 competitors from 104 college, club and service teams took part.

According to Relays director, Major Anthony P. Platea, nearly 40 colleges and clubs have answered affirmatively to the Relays' invitations, sent out two weeks ago. With just under three months remaining, Butler Stadium should be packed with track and field talent when the classic begins.

Prominent among the list of early entries is Kentucky State, which sent a small contingent last year that won three relay events, two in meet record time, and had on its roster the Relays' "most outstanding" athlete, Jim Kemp.

Acceptances have also come from such notables as St. Johns, Maryland, American University, LaSalle and Maryland State, Seton Hall, and Villanova.

Three new names to Relays competition have been added; Yale and the Universities of Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

No changes in the meet format of last year are scheduled for the 11th annual running, with 40 events slated.

Expected to be a major highlight of the Relays are the four women's events, which in their Relays inaugural last season, drew a highly favorable response from the fans. Major Platea is confident that this year's feminine field will surpass the total of 14 teams entered in 1966.

With 1968 being an Olympic year and the Relays now a "major league" meet, many of the top national track and field figures should be on hand May 5, when the action begins at Quantico.

Quad Command Highlights

REAR ADMIRAL VISITS — Rear Admiral H. N. Wallin, CEC, USN, Commander, Atlantic Division, Naval Facilities Engineering Command, Norfolk, Virginia is greeted by Major General Joseph O. Butcher, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, Admiral Wallin arrived aboard the Base February 21 and spent the day touring several construction sites before departing.

ROYAL MARINES VISIT — British Royal Marine Captain David V. Child (left) is briefed on the operation and mission of Camp Pendleton's Artillery School Feb. 7, by Major Oliver K. Johnson (right) Officer in Charge of the school, and Captain James R. Peterson, (center) School supervisor. Capt. Child is on exchange duty with the 2nd Marine Division at Camp Lejeune.

BROTHERS UNITED — Staff Sergeant John R. Dyer, (left), 10th Engineer Company, Fleet Marine Force, USMCR., shakes hands with his brother, Staff Sergeant Robert E. Dyer, Marine Corps Engineer School, Camp Lejeune, N.C. The brothers, natives of Brunswick, Maine, had not seen each other for about a year. John is a reservist from Portland, Maine who recently finished two weeks active duty, and Robert has been stationed at Camp Lejeune since his return from a tour of duty in Vietnam where he served with Company "A", 1st Battalion, 9th Marine Regiment, 3d Marine Division.

Meritorious Masts Given at H and S

Corporal Veva S. Killough has received a Meritorious Mast from her commanding officer, Colonel Gildo S. Codispoti, 8th S Bn, MCB.

Corporal Killough has served as a legal clerk, H and S Bn., MCB, since December 21, 1965. During this period the legal section processed over 250 special and summary court-martials with only 50 percent of its T-O strength.

Corporal Killough has continually, without compensatory time, cheerfully worked long hours and weekends in order to compensate for the personnel shortage in the legal section.

Through her attention to duty, initiative, loyalty and dedication there was no appreciable decrease in the recording or transcription of any court-martial records.

Master Gunnery Sergeant Alfred S. Pettinelli has been given Meritorious Mast by his commanding officer, Colonel Gildo S. Codispoti.

Master Gunnery Sergeant Pettinelli was assigned to the Base Quarters and Housing Division during the period from August 1966 to January 1967. He personally inspected all BOQ facilities and formulated ideas and plans for needed improvements, and during his time he worked diligently and relentlessly in liaison with the BOQ Manager toward better housing.

During this tour Master Gunnery Sergeant Pettinelli devoted himself completely to the betterment of living facilities for bachelor officers and staff non-commissioned officers.

Camp Lejeune Navy Is Cited

Seven Sailors and one Marine recently received letters of appreciation from Colonel H.E. Ing, Marine Corps Base G-3, for their immediate action and successful seamanship resulting in the salvage of a Marine Corps Air Facility aircraft from New River "with very minor damage".

The men are: PFC J. D. Stanley, SA S. G. Lykins, BM 1 R. P. Ewers, BM2 S.O. Erickson, BM 2 R.A. Mitchell, EN 2 R. Cole, SA R.J. Muligen, and SA D.E. Lowery.

The action occurred after the plane crashed into the river on December 19.

These men are part of the 14-man, four-ship "Navy" which operates year-round, from the Camp Knox boathouse. They carry personnel, ferry equipment, and police the firing ranges throughout Camp Lejeune's water areas.

First Lt. Wier Wins Bronze Star in Vietnam

First Lieutenant Richard F. Wier, Liaison Officer, Battalion Landing Team, 2d Battalion, 8th Marines, received the Bronze Star Medal here Feb. 11 for gallantry during combat in Vietnam.

Lt. Wier, a veteran of more than 10 battalion size operations, was serving as a Platoon Commander for Company D, 1st Battalion, 1st Marines. He received the Bronze Star for gallant service during Operations Liberty, Orange and Hastings.

Operation Orange began April 2, 1966 as a battalion size sweep against the Viet Cong. Lt. Wier's platoon, acting as point element, was moving through dense jungle and was the first to come under heavy fire. He immediately moved to the front of the platoon and directed his unit in gaining fire superiority over enemy and routing the Viet Cong. The result was 16 confirmed kills and the capture of automatic weapons.

During Operation Liberty Wier was an "inspiration to the unit and distinguished himself through exemplary performance" by leading his platoon.

Lt. Wier again made contact with North Vietnamese Regulars during Operation Hastings. The citation states, "Wier deployed his unit in a rapid manner and aggressively turned fire on the enemy position."

The lieutenant called in artillery strikes and supervised the medical evacuation of wounded Marines. The action resulted in a high number of enemy killed and the capture of several weapons, while his platoon suffered only light casualties.

The medal was presented during formal ceremonies by the Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel C. G. Cooper.

Lt. Wier, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Wier, 713 S. Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., is a graduate of Canisius High School and State University at Buffalo. He plans to teach in the Buffalo Public School System in fall.

Purple Heart Award Late

VIEQUES ISLAND, P. R., DE-LAYED — Staff Sergeant Sameul L. Hughes and Corporal Gerald J. Lee, were awarded the Purple Heart Medal here Feb. 11 for wounds suffered in Vietnam. SSgt. Hughes, Company G, Battalion Landing Team, 2d Battalion, 8th Marines, then a member of the 1st Military Police Bn., was serving as an instructor to South Vietnamese Popular Forces when he was wounded on July 28, 1966.

The second recipient of our nation's first combat award, Cpl. Lee, is currently serving with Company H, BLT 2-8. He was wounded April 17, 1966 when he stepped on a punji stake while on patrol as a fire team leader with Company M, 3d Battalion, 9th Marines, driving the stake through his foot.

COMMENDATION — Second Lieutenant Duane A. Balfanz, Executive Officer, Mortar Battery, 1st Bn., 10th Marines, 2d Marine Division, received the Navy Commendation Medal with Combat "V" from his Battalion Commander, Lieutenant Colonel Robert C. V. Hughes, during a ceremony held in the 10th Marines area Feb. 17. Balfanz received the medal as a result of his services as Assistant Operations Officer for the 4th Battalion, 11th Marines in the Republic of Vietnam.

Entertainment and Relaxation Are Featured at Staff Clubs

There are four Staff NCO Clubs at Camp Lejeune which provide fun and entertainment for thousands of Marines each week. These clubs are located at Hadnot Point, Montford Point, Courthouse Bay, and Camp Geiger.

Each of the four clubs is open seven nights a week; each features color TV, a juke box, at least one pool table, and lots of good food and drink at reasonable prices.

Once a week at each club, Game Night is observed. Valuable prizes are awarded to the winners of each game, with a grand prize exceeding $200 in value offered each week. On Club Night, which is held once or twice a week, depending on the location of the club, music is provided by various local bands. The dancing begins at 9 p.m. and continues till 1 a.m. On these occasions, the men are required to wear a shirt and tie.

Gunnery Sergeant Frigm, Manager of the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club, disclosed that his club offers the only self-service package store on the base. It is located in the rear of the club, and its hours of operation are from 11:30 a.m. til 1 p.m., and from 4 til 8 p.m. on weekdays, and from noon til 8 p.m. on Saturdays. The store is closed on Sundays and Holidays.

At all Staff NCO Clubs, any member may bring in any number of guests of Staff NCO rank or civilian guests, at any time, as long as he personally logs them in. In addition, any Staff NCO may bring in any Woman Marine of any rank, as long as she is not in uniform.

The Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club serves 50 to 75 people a night, and from 150 to 200 patrons on Game and Club Nights. The Club is open from 4 til 11 p.m. on week-days, except for Friday night, when it is open til 1 a.m. On Saturdays, it is open from 11 til 1 a.m., and on Sundays from noon til 11 p.m.

The Club also has available a complete extra room, which is used solely for private parties such as wedding anniversaries and birthday parties.

If you are a Staff NCO, the room is yours for the asking as long as the manager is notified at least one week in advance. A waiter will be supplied free of charge.

For a detailed listing of the activities held at your local Staff NCO Club this and every week, consult the Club Calendar on this page of the GLOBE weekly.

The Movies scheduled for showing this week-end at the USO are: "It Happened To Jane," "Living It Up," "Girls on the Beach," and the original version of "The D. I." The Hospitality Hour will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday, hosted by the "Toppers" of Camp Lejeune, and again on Sunday at 2 p.m., hosted by the Catholic Daughters.

DANCE SITE - The Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club Dance Floor is not always as serene as it appears here. On Saturday nights, 150 to 200 guests gyrate to the sounds of a local band. All the Staff NCO Clubs at Camp Lejeune boast stages and dance floors comparable to this one.
