MARINE CORPS BASE, CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C.

OCTOBER 28, 1965

LIFE MEMBER—General Wallace M. Greene, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, receives a plaque designating him honorary lifetime member of the Fleet Reserve Association. The presentation is FRA National Executive Secretary Nolan. The plaque, a gold lapel pin and membership card is presented to General Greene in his offices at Marine headquarters. The special recognition was voted by the FRA during its recent annual convention in Florida.

Applications for 2dLt/WO open for qualified SNCO's

Selection boards will convene at Headquarters, Marine Corps during January and February 1966 to select qualified SNCO's for temporary appointment to 2dLt/WO according to ALMAR 23 and MCO 1040.25. Applications are invited from all SNCO's who meet requirements of these or—applications made under programs are temporary appointments. All officer appointments will retain present rank and grade, but estimates indicate that will revert to permanent after 4 years service as temporary officer unless selected for LDO or permanent during the interim. Applications under this program not prejudice permanent promotion to higher permanent upon reversion if such action would have occurred while serving in higher temporary grade.

CO's selected for appointment to commissioned grade if otherwise qualified will be appointed 2dLt (temp) USMC on 15, 1966.

CO's selected for appointment to WO will, if otherwise qualified, be appointed WO(W-1) on June 30, 1966.

Senior and WO applicants for these programs will receive a uniform allowance in amount of $250.00. Form requirements listed in paragraph 2102 of MCO 0.34 are presently being used to eliminate the dress uniform requirements for temporary officers. Applications are invited from SNCO's who meet the following requirements:

FOR TEMP 2D LT:
Citizen of the United States.
Must not have reached 38th birthday on July 1, 1966.

Minimum GCT or AA of 110 (AA score is average of VE, AR, PA scores of AA test Btry)

Not have been convicted of a felony, GCM, or SPCM and no non-judicial punishment during current enlistment.

FOR TEMP WO(W-1):
Citizen of the United States
Not have reached 47th birthday on July 1, 1966.

Minimum GCT or AA of 110
Not have been convicted of a felony, GCM, or SPCM and no non-judicial punishment during current enlistment.

Be qualified for appropriate category IV MOS as listed in MCO P1200.7.

Applications will be submitted to CMC (Code DPB) using AA Form (NAVMC 10274) via CO. Administrative instructions for submission of this application can be found in ALMAR 23 dated Oct. 20, 1965 and MCO P1020.34.

Applicants who desire consideration for both programs and meet eligibility requirements will so indicate on application. These will be considered by Temporary Commissioned Officer Board first and only those not selected by that board will be reconsidered by

NATO officers conclude visit

Thirty-eight Flag and Staff Officers of the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) Standing Group visited Camp Lejeune October 25 to study the operation and strategic value of Marine Corps activities in North Carolina.

The group arrived at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, at 2 p. m. After traveling to Camp Lejeune by bus, the group received briefings by the Commanding Generals of Marine Corps Base, the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops.

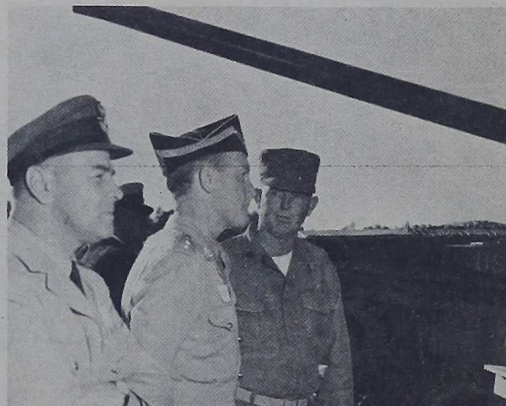

Following the briefings, the officers observed a static display of weapons and equipment used by Force Troops.

A cocktail party was held in honor of the visiting dignitaries prior to dinner in the Lejeune Room of the Paradise Point Officers' Club.

The officers represented the countries of Germany, France, Great Britain, Turkey, Italy, Denmark, Belgium, Canada, Greece, Norway, and the Netherlands.

Their visit is part of a U. S. Navy Orientation Tour of the combat efficiency of the United States Armed Forces.

The group departed Camp Lejeune at 8 a. m. yesterday.

Basic training changes announced by HQMC

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Additional Basic Training changes were announced today by Marine Corps Headquarters. The announcement emphasized that the Basic Training period will continue to be four months, but that within that period substantial alteration and intensification of training will occur.

The intensification, which began last month with the reduction of training at recruit depots from twelve to eight weeks will permit the addition of a four week program of basic specialist training in a number of fields such as artillery, motor transport and supply without requiring an extension of basic training period beyond the normal four months. Basic specialist training had previously been accomplished primarily by on-the-job training in operational commands.

Marines assigned to infantry duties will be provided additional instruction in their infantry sub-specialties. A Marine who will be assigned ultimately as a machine-gunner, rifleman, mortar-man or grenadier, for example, will receive, in addition to individual combat training, special training with his particular weapon.

The pattern of Basic Training for Marines will continue to be recruit training at Parris Island, S. C., or San Diego, California, followed by individual combat training at the Infantry Training Regiments at Camp Pendleton, Calif., or Camp Lejeune, N. C. The basic specialist training, or assignment to a military technical school for those men assigned highly technical specialties, will follow individual combat training.

Following recruit training, individual combat training and specialist training, Marines bound for the Pacific will receive additional training at the Staging Battalion at Camp Pendleton. This training will emphasize the conditions and problems which are encountered in Viet Nam, such as jungle warfare, small unit tactics, patrolling, and civic action.

In addition to the training program described, an additional training phase is contemplated for implementation in the near future. This proposed training will include approximately four weeks of unit and combined arms training at Camp Pendleton for those Marines destined for overseas assignment.

A Regular Letter Home Means More Than Words

Some 20 years ago a father received a letter from his serviceman son. It made little sense. A wartime censor had deleted most of the sentences, leaving a few disjointed paragraphs and some connective words.

The writer had unknowingly written items of interest to the enemy. A harmless sounding sentence, "Our outfit won't be Initial service entry is a strange experience for most people. It is equally strange for their families, representing the first separation for some.

A few scribbled lines such as "We're working hard and I have little time to write, but I want you to know I'm well fed, in good health, and keep you in my here much longer, so don't worry if I don't write for a while," had been deleted. This information clearly indicated a movement of U. S. forces.

This letter could have fallen into enemy hands in a number of ways. Captured mail sacks from a torpedoed ship in one example.

Today's letter-writing problem does not necessarily concern what service personnel write. It is what they fail to write. This problem is magnified for commanders during force buildups like the present one. Commanders are concerned with individuals who do not write home as regularly as they should.

thoughts," helps bring happiness to the folks at home and helps ease their worries. It need not be these exact words. The point is, it's better to write a short letter, than to delay writing.

More seasoned service personnel also have a responsibility in motivating the younger ones to "keep in touch" back home.

Perhaps the real value of letter writing might best be summed up by the words of one non-commissioned officer: "The most heart-warming sight I've ever seen was a middle-aged woman telling a neighbor lady about a letter received from her son. Her face actually glowed as she talked." (AFPS)

Your Dental Health

About one percent of the human population is immune to dental decay. The other 99 percent may suffer from its attacks. With dental disease on the increase in this country, the GLOBE in cooperation with the Base Dental Department presents a series of articles in "Your Dental Health." Today's article: "How to save your teeth from dental decay."

Preventing Dental Decay

Most of the tissues of the body can restore themselves or fill in gaps caused by injury, but tooth tissues cannot. A damaged tooth can never heal itself.

That's why dentists place so much emphasis on preventing dental disease--stopping it before it starts.

Dental decay--the eating away of the hard tissues of the teeth by acids in the mouth--occurs most frequently among children and teenagers and can largely be prevented.

What causes tooth decay?

Dental scientists believe that cavities are caused by chemical changes which take place in our mouths as a result of bacteria acting on the food we eat. These scientists explain that our mouths contain billions of organisms, so small that they can only be seen with a microscope. Most of these microorganisms, as they are called, are bacteria. As many as 5-1/2 billion microorganisms may exist in a few drops of saliva. Others cover our tongues. Still others coat the oral cavity.

Our teeth, too, are covered by a thin film of bacteria. Many of these bacteria are apparently not harmful, but some will produce various acids which can dissolve some of the tooth enamel.

At the same time, the breaking down process releases lactic acid and other acids, strong enough to attack some tooth enamel. A harmful amount of acid can develop within five minutes. Fortunately for our teeth, saliva neutralizes acid.

But if the acid is produced in a tooth crevice or pit where it may be protected from saliva, enough can accumulate to dissolve some tooth structure. Once a hole has been made in the enamel, the acids attack and destroy the softer dentin underneath, and then attack the tooth nerve. Rampant decay means loss of your teeth, if neglected.

How can decay be prevented? The American Dental Association recommends a four-point program:

1. Brush your teeth right after eating. If you can't brush, rinse your mouth vigorously with water to wash away food particles.
2. Eat a proper diet. Cut down on the amount of sweets.
3. Have regular checkups. With the use of x-rays, the dentist can detect cavities too small to be seen by the eye alone. He can fill these before they get larger. He can also detect and correct other dental troubles under the gums and in the supporting bone which may not yet be visible to the naked eye.
4. Drink fluoridated water. Fluoridation is a tooth-strengthening procedure we'll talk about in later articles.

Stay Loose

By RALPH DEEVER

One Tarawa Terrace dweller reports an intriguing incident.

A small group of people stood around the front of a dumpster talking animatedly. Others wandered over from across the street to join them. One man had his head stuck into the opening of the receptacle, while another pointed over his shoulder and talked to him. Several of the group maneuvered around to get a view of the dumpster's interior.

Can't you imagine what this would do to your morale? Here are residents--neighbors and acquaintances--whom you have always considered as perfectly normal. Suddenly, you find them engaged in this most unusual, if not downright questionable, activity. What do you do? You could call PMO to report a robbery in progress. But, then, how do you describe garbage thieves and their activities? Convincingly, I mean? You suddenly realize that you can't even say for sure that it's illegal.

Maybe you could call Maintenance to report tampering with the dumpster. But, of course, you couldn't make it stick if it turned out that "garbage-viewing" is authorized and legal.

What do you do? You start, several times, to join the group. You can hardly control your curiosity, as people stroll over, view the receptacle's interior, talk awhile, and wander away. But you wait, not wanting to get involved in such a smelly affair. You can just imagine how it would be to try and explain dumpster-watching to a board of inquiry.

While you stand uncertainly by the window, two men bring long boards up to the group. They put one inside, the end of it resting in the dumpsters' opening; they put the other on the outside, angled from the opening to the ground, forming a runway or ramp. The crowd moves back, the people stand quietly, watching the dumpster.

Just as your curiosity you from the window to others, they begin to drift laughing and talking with other. When you're sure it's all gone, you go on across the yard, down the walk, to the dumpster. When you peer inside, you see one small head, then another. Two animal forms materialize in dim light. Four rings look out at you. Raccoons.

You don't tell your neighbor that your laughter is more relief than amusement.

This story comes from a guy described by news as "A usually reliable source." When the Commandant of Marine Corps canceled a scheduled visit to Camp Lejeune, the Assistant Commandant arrived in his stead. He attended presentations, briefings and other events conducted by the Division, and the Troops.

He complimented one squad leader, following a squad's demonstration of tactics, assuring him that the Commandant would be pointed at missing such a interesting performance.

"It's quite all right," said the young Marine. "I'll run it up to the Commandant some other day."

With the announcement that "It's only a few more days coming days until Christmas," the coming more and more of the year these days, one of the minded of the gift-hinter by the college boy to his friends.

"If you can't think of a thing else," he told them, "member that money is nice."

WHEN YOU GIVE THE UNITED STATES WONDERFUL THINGS HAPPEN FOR PEOPLE

Chaplain's Corner

Whenever there is confusion in the world, everybody asks, "What do you think?" or, "What does he think?" We pick up our newspapers and all over its pages are printed opinions of this man or that woman.

What do my fellowmen care about my opinion? Have I so proved myself in my work, or in my home, or in my school that when it comes to discussing plans for our future, or working with the group, my friends ask, "What do you think?"

When we read the life of Jesus, his character is apparent. We see him walking the roads of Palestine and as he walks he heals the sick, he lifts up those who have fallen, he cheers those who have surrendered in life's battles, he takes people at the point of death and gives them back their lives. We have instances in which he gave mad-men their sanity. When nobody else could even come near them, he put his hands on them and healed them. He had an authority which made people sit and listen and obey. His words were never empty. He always spoke words full of meaning for those who heard him. Yet, his actions were humble.

If, in us, our fellow men can recognize virtues that reveal our human relations with another in the development of character, they will be in asking of us our opinion. Character is the result of growth in virtues, virtues a virtue which enables us to feel the proper thing to do in a given circumstance; and a grace which gives us self-control. Courage is the power to overcome the danger or pain when the stake is a moral good. This virtue is based on the conviction that there are worse things than death, and there are better things than life. And finally, the right relationship to our fellow men in the regard for fulfilling obligations, responsibilities, integrity and fairness.

Let us do what we can do well and thoroughly. Let us not boast. Let us speak for ourselves, not push ourselves forward when it is not our place to do so. Let us quietly go our way, our opinions are needed by our friends will come to us will be held in high esteem because of our character. Because of this esteem our opinions will be valued.

'Blinking Lights' To Indicate Help Needed

Occupants of family housing are informed that blinking lights, inside or outside their housing unit will be considered as an emergency summons for help. THIS METHOD WILL BE USED AS A LAST RESORT ONLY and is not meant to take the place of an immediate call for help from the Fire Department, Naval Hospital, Base Provost Marshal, neighbors, etc., whenever possible. However, as an example, there could be cases when a wife, alone with no telephone, requires emergency help in case of prowlers, accidents, etc., and she either could not or would not venture outside the housing unit.

The blinking light can be reported immediately by a neighbor or passerby to the Base Provost Marshal, telephone 7-3046 or 7-5151, who will radio dispatch aid. Used as a last resort, it is possible that this method of calling for assistance can help prevent disaster or save a life.

Marine Drum and Bugle Corps

On Nov. 7 the Bell Telephone Hour will present a Veterans Day Program in color over NBC Television. The Marine Drum and Bugle Corps and Silent Drill Team from Washington, D. C. perform their colorful Evening Parade ceremony as part of this program.

UNITED FUND CHICKENS—Mr. Percy Jones, left, Base Maintenance and Mack Berry hang chickens in the cold storage room at the Midway Park Food Center prior to cutting them for the Midway Park Chicken dinner. The dinner, open to "anyone who has a dollar," will be held at the Midway Park Community Center Oct. 30 from 12 noon until 6 p.m. All proceeds will go to the United Fund.

Trick or Treat on Saturday only

Due to the fact that Halloween falls on Sunday, Trick or Treating will be restricted to Saturday, Oct. 30, in all government housing areas of the Camp Lejeune complex.

Midway Park Nursery

The Midway Park Nursery will remain open for the Marine Corps Ball if the occasion demands. Services will be provided on a reservation basis only. A non-refundable deposit of $1.50 is required with your reservation.

Marine Parents Club

A group of parents of Marines in Kansas City, Mo., have banded together to form a national organization known as the Marine Parents Club.

This single chapter has been hard at work over the past couple of years and have now taken steps toward obtaining a National Charter which they desire to be recognized by both the Congress and the Marine Corps.

There have been similar requests for information on organizing local chapters in Pittsburgh and Dallas.

For further information on this organization and assistance in obtaining a charter for a local chapter, write to:

Carpenter cited Driver of Month

Something new has happened to Base Motor Transport. It has a new program which gives a driver the honor of being selected as Driver of the Month.

It is not as easy as all that. The criteria that is used by Section Leaders in the selection of the candidate is as follows: personal appearance and general military appearance (1-4 points); vehicle maintenance (condition of vehicle that driver is operating at the time of inspection -- 1 point); driver's qualifications (1 point); MCI courses (1 point for each course completed in the selection period -- each calendar month); and proficiency in operation. Also to be considered are: operation of the vehicle in a proper manner; adherence to his time schedule; knowledge of vehicle and regulations; and previous driving record.

After the candidate has been selected for the award he appears before the Driver of the Month Selection Committee; Supervisory Automotive Transportation Specialist, Chairman, Safety Committee; Mr. Clarence O. Barto, Commanding Officer, Motor Transport Company; Captain Billy Floyd, Officer in charge, Motor Transport Supply Branch; Captain Lloyd W. Hyatt, Maintenance Officer, Base Motor Transport; CWO Cecil Winchester, Licensing and Training Supervisor; Mr. Robert H. Hitch.

After the candidates have been interviewed, the winner is selected and notified.

In the recent selection LCpl. F. L. Carpenter, Marine Corps Engineer Schools, was selected from among seven contestants. The other six Marines contestants were: Cpl. J. C. Collins, Lance Corporal Dennis Haselrig, and R. D. Stefanish; together with PFC's D. L. Steele, and K. P. Moll.

AIMED AT VIET NAM—Mayor Richard J. Daley extends a proclamation to BGen. Hugh M. Elwood, USMC, marking the official Chicago opening of the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Program for Viet Nam. The program, through cooperation with CARE, seeks contributions to aid the Marines in their many humanitarian activities in support of the South Vietnamese. Gen. Elwood is Commanding General of Marine Air Reserve Training with Headquarters at the Glenview Naval Air Station.

CMC gives views...

"I have been asked many times about the role of the Marine Corps in Viet Nam, and whether our mission is one that should be assigned to the Marines. I can assure you that it is a job for us, and one that our air/ground teams, supported by the U. S. Navy, are uniquely qualified to do. This position of ours is nothing more than a projection of America's seapower ashore. We are ashore. We are firmly set, with room for expansion. We have our backs to the sea, and the United States Navy controls that sea. We can put in what supplies we want and need, whenever we want, through our beachheads."

USO conducts yule survey

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NAV-NEWS)...If you were a Marine or sailor on active duty in Viet Nam, 8,000 miles from home, what would you want for Christmas?

The USO asked the question at its three clubs there in Saigon, DaNang and Tan Son Nhut and released the results of the survey just completed.

Here's the serviceman's Christmas checking from Viet Nam:

More letters from home, including lots of Christmas cards. More pictures and snapshots of loved ones and friends, hometown and neighborhood activities.

More hometown newspapers. Current and popular magazines, even if they are out of date on arrival.

Tape-recorded messages which can be played back in the tape room of USO clubs overseas.

There is a marked increase in the exchange of tapes with family and friends. Taped recordings are rapidly becoming the most popular means of communication with today's generation in the Armed Forces.

Still high on the list of preferred presents overseas are homemade cakes, candy and cookies—but please, not store-bought...repeat homemade. A word of caution here—careful packaging and wrapping is, of course, a necessity with easily damaged foods, and special attention must be given their mailing.

Low on the list of things wanted for Christmas are personal jewelry, billfolds, cameras; all of which are available in base exchanges in Viet Nam.

Viet Nam Service Medal design approved by DOD

WASHINGTON (AFPS) -- A bronze, disc-shaped medal has been accepted by the Defense Department as the design for the Viet Nam Service Medal announced by President Johnson July 8.

All members of the U. S. armed forces are eligible to receive the medal for service in Viet Nam and contiguous waters, or airspace thereover, after July 3, 1965. Specific time periods and military participation for award of the medal are spelled out in a new Defense Department instruction.

Designed by the Army's Institute of Heraldry, the medal shows a cluster of bamboo trees superimposed on a traditional Oriental dragon above the inscription "Republic of Viet Nam Service."

The bamboo trees are adapted from the flag of the President of RVN and the partly-concealed dragon is in reference to the subversive nature of the conflict.

The reverse side of the medal shows a crossbow surmounted by a flaming torch above the words "United States of America." The crossbow is the ancient weapon of Viet Nam and the torch of the Statue of Liberty is a symbol of United States devotion to liberty and freedom.

The service medal is appended to a yellow ribbon with three vertical red stripes suggesting the colors of the RVN flag. The ribbon has a green border on each side, alluding to the jungle of that country.

The DOD instruction explains that designated areas for which the service medal may be awarded include the land boundaries of Viet Nam, both north and south, extending seaward to a maximum of approximately 150 miles.

Personnel who served in Viet Nam prior to July 3 and are entitled to the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal may elect to receive the Viet Nam Service Medal. However, no person is entitled to both medals for service in that country.

Combat zone mail faster and cheaper

NAVY TIMES—Congress has sent to the President a bill to speed mail to and from combat zones and overseas areas. It will not only be faster but cheaper.

The bill provides free air mail service for first-class letters and cards, for military people in combat areas, and for men who are hospitalized as a result of service in combat areas.

It generally reduces the rates on air parcel post packages to and from the U. S. and all overseas areas.

It also provides that smaller packages will be sent by air, on a space available basis, although the senders will pay only the regular domestic surface rates.

The bill, in effect, replaces the provision in this year's military pay bill which provided for free mail for men in Viet Nam (or wherever else the President proclaims a combat zone). The new law keeps the free mail privilege, but adds a provision requiring that the government send it all by air.

The new air parcel post rates for overseas servicemen affect both the men in uniform and their homefolks. As an example of this, when a wife or mother now wants to air mail a parcel post package to a serviceman overseas, she pay the "eighth zone", which is the most expensive zone. The new law will require her to pay only the cost between the place where she mails the package, and either New York or San Francisco.

Another example is under the old law, a three pound parcel being mailed in Dallas to a serviceman in Germany costs the "eighth zone" rate, which is $3.28. Under the new law, the sender would pay the postage from Dallas to New York, which would be $2.12.

Similarly, a three pound air parcel post package that now costs $3.28 to go from Chicago to Viet Nam will cost $2.23 under the new rate.

The new rates apply in both directions, to and from the serviceman.

The final provision of the new law provides space-available air shipment to and from servicemen of parcels which do not weigh more than five pounds and which do not exceed 60 inches in length and width combined. The surface parcel post rate will apply to these air-shipped packages.

President Johnson's approval of the bill, HR 11420, is assured, since Defense, The Budget Bureau and Post Office all favor it.

UNITED FUND BAR-B-CUE—Captain Wilbur Elder, Joyce Penuel, and 1st Lt. George Fennell pass through the chow line set up by the Retail Stores Division, Base Materiel Battalion, to support the United Fund. In addition to dinners sold at the food line, dinners were donated to all areas of the base. According to Dorsey Williams, Quartermaster-Shopman and coordinator of the dinner, about 300 plates were sold. All proceeds went to the United Fund.

Da Nang surveillance a dawn-to-dusk patrol

This enclave's dawn-and-dusk patrol has changed character. It's now the dawn-to-dusk patrol.

The patrol was an aerial surveillance of Da Nang's entire perimeter, launched at dawn and again at dusk each day. The armed helicopters roved over the countryside adjacent to the Marine lines, visually checking for Viet Cong activity, especially late evening build-ups which might signal a night attack, or new positions which the Viet Cong might have installed during darkness.

The dawn-and-dusk was an aerial sentry, pacing out in front of the Marine lines.

The new concept is basically the same. The same outfit, Marine Observation Squadron (VMO)-2, flies the patrols. The sentries still pace in pairs; two UH1E "Huey" helicopters in the same pattern. And this job hasn't changed. They provide visual and photographic reconnaissance of the front and offer instantaneous tactical intelligence to ground commanders below.

But, the hours have lengthened. There are now two VMO-2 Hueys, with trained aerial observers, roving the perimeter all day.

The added flying time has already caught the Viet Cong off pace. Numerous movements have been reported to the ground Marines, who stopped them instantly.

One dawn-to-dusk patrol even squelched a minor movement by itself. It flushed a single Viet Cong, who ran and hid beneath a beached, overturned boat. The Hueys drifted down until their rotor-wash blew the boat off the cowering Viet Cong. Then, one copter landed and a crewman took him prisoner.

PERIMETER PATROL—An aerial observer checks the ground in front of the Marine enclave at Dan Nang, looking for Viet Cong activity or signs of Viet Cong emplacements. ## Military ideas will bring cash awards President signs bill

According to ALNAV 69 dated Oct. 14, the President has signed public Law 89-198 authorizing cash awards of up to $25,000 to military personnel for suggestions, inventions, or scientific achievements which contribute to the efficiency and economy of government operations.

The suggestion from NAVEXOS 12450/8 (Rev. 3-64) used by civilian personnel may be used for submitting contributions by military personnel. These forms may be obtained at the Industrial Relations Office, Bldg. #33, just outside the main gate.

Where these forms are not available, such as aboard ship or at activities not employing civilian personnel, contributions will be submitted in writing to the Commanding Officer, identifying the suggestion by name, rank, and serial number.

Instructions concerning the processing of contributions and appropriate award scales will be issued as soon as they are developed by the Navy and the Marine Corps.

New MOS slated Feb.

NAVY TIMES—Changes to the Marine Corps MOS system which creates new MOSs and revises certain occupational fields, will become effective February 1.

Four new MOSs for the Systems field and its subfield. These include: 40, systems data analyst officer; 4970, data systems maintenance technical data systems manager officer.

MOS 4051—data processing equipment repairman—has been dropped from OF 28. The new MOS of 4977, computer purpose computer repairman, will also be assigned to an Marines. They are: investigator, 3441, auditor, technician and 2871, call technician.

Two new skill designations will be added to OF 28. The communications cryptographer man will be designated 2866 and men in supervisory positions will carry a 2866 designation.

Occupational Field 1 has been completely revised. Skill designators added to identify air freight personnel. New MOS of 5191 assistant master gunnery sergeants and master sergeants.

Change 20 will point to rule—effective from September 1—concerning MOS 3511, motive mechanic. Under the policy, this MOS will be assigned to graduates of automotive mechanics course, automotive organization maintenance course. No complete on the job training this field will be given other than 3516.

In OF 64, aircraft maintenance support equipment skills will be given MOSs instead of being identified by skill designators. These are: 6471, (AMSE) hydraulic mechanic, 6473, (AMSE) structures mechanic, 6474, (AMSE) refrigeration mechanic, 75, (AMSE) electrician.

Exchange Activities

All Marine Corps Exchange Activities will be closed Thursday, Nov. 11, in observance of Veterans Day, with the exception of a few low listed activities, which will be open in accordance with the holiday schedule.

- Recreation Centers
- Hostess House
- Theater Snack Bars
- Golf Clubhouse Fountain
- Geiger and Knox Brat changes
- Exchange Cafeteria
- Geiger Soda Shop
- Bowling Center Snacks

Sgt. to SSgt. looks tough

NAVY TIMES...The big jump from Sergeant to Staff Sergeant is going to be tougher this year even though the staff sergeant selection board is now in session, and they have been empowered to pick nearly 900 more selectees this year than last.

It is planned, that the board will choose an estimated 3668 new staff sergeants. This year the records show that 10,700 will be considered. Last year 2778 were named out of 6,600 eligible, but the rub comes when the number of those eligible for both years is considered.

Thus roughly 42 percent of those eligible made it last year and only 34 percent are likely to make it this year. The board, headed by Col. Arnold L. Emils, convened October 15 for a ten week session. And, although its ten-week schedule would call for an end-of-the-year reporting out date, observers feel the board will make an extra effort to finish before Christmas. The most optimistic estimates have the board finishing its work around December 17.

Sergeants with a date of rank of July 31, 1963, or earlier are eligible and the GMST requirements have been waived.

Staff sergeant boards usually are instructed to pick 75 percent of the selectees from among those with average time-in-grade or more.

The average time-in-grade of the staff sergeants chosen last year was 55 months, but there is a wide variance between occupational fields. Last year's selectees varied from a low of 41 months TIG for OF-40 to a high of 124 months for OF-32.

MC League aids Reserve in Civic Action Program

WASHINGTON--Members of the Marine Corps League are living up to the famous phrase... "Once a Marine, Always a Marine", by joining forces with the Marine Corps Reserve in its Civic Action program for Viet Nam, according to League Headquarters in Arlington, Va.

The Marine Corps League's assistance was put in full swing when Mr. Charles A. Weaver, National Adjutant Paymaster for the League and Brigadier General A. H. Adams, Director of Information, Headquarters Marine Corps, mailed out the first of 987 envelopes filled with information on how League members can contribute to the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund for Viet Nam drive.

Mr. Weaver said, "The funds collected by our organization will be combined with the contributions collected by the Reserves and forwarded to CARE, which is handling the purchasing and shipping of needed articles for use in Viet Nam. CARE will provide the Commandant of the Marine Corps with a bi-monthly report on the contributions received and how they are used."

Mr. Weaver stated that the Marine Corps League joined the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund for Viet Nam drive because "The Marine Corps League was incorporated by an Act of Congress for the purpose of preserving traditions and to promote the interests of the United States Marine Corps. If the League can assist in bringing a total victory in Viet Nam by helping the Marines win the support of the people through food and clothing...we will assist and aid these in uniform in any way we can."

Continuing, Mr. Weaver added, "Each envelope mailed out has a return envelope enclosed for the use of the individual members in sending in their contributions. A member with any questions should contact his nearest Marine Corps Reserve activity."

Closing, Mr. Weaver stressed, "The contributions received will be used exclusively by the Third Marine Amphibious Forces' Civic Action Program in Viet Nam. For as League members we believe... "Once a Marine...Always a Marine."

"ONCE A MARINE... ALWAYS A MARINE" — Mr. Charles A. Weaver, National Adjutant Paymaster for the Marine Corps League and Brigadier General A. H. Adams, Director of Information, Headquarters Marine Corps, drop the first of 987 envelopes in the mail. Envelopes are being sent to every Marine Corps League member for contributions towards the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund for Vietnam. (Official U. S. Marine Corps Photo.)

Early outs cancelled for 1965 Holidays

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—The customary early release for personnel due for separation over the Christmas-New Year holidays will not occur this year, according to officials.

Suspension of the early out was necessitated because of the manpower buildup and the situation in the Republic of Viet Nam.

Service officials also said that leave policies over the holiday period will be set by local commanders and will depend on operational requirements.

LANDING IN PROGRESS—Gov. Moore watches the landing of Marines at Onslow Beach with Vice Admiral Fitzhugh Lee, Commandant of the National War College in Washington, D. C. The Governor wore a helmet liner and raincoat, complete with two stars of a Major General.

D'dogs win 30-14; Quantico next foe

Camp Lejeune's Devildogs invaded a suddenly awesome Butler Stadium at Quantico, Va. Saturday to take on the startling Quantico Marines in a 1:30 ball game. Quantico overwhelmed Pensacola last Saturday, 37-0, in one of the season's most surprising games.

Meanwhile, the Devildogs were bombarding Depauw University here at friendly

Liversedge Field 30-14 in their finest offensive performance of the season, Jim Laurent threw three touchdown passes as the Devildogs amassed more than 400-yards in total offense during the contest while effectively containing a strong Depauw air attack.

The Devildogs scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, taking the opening kickoff and launching a 70-yard drive capped by a six-yard scoring toss from quarterback Jim Laurent to end Don Bartolazzi. Clark Blake's extra-point kick was wide, but the Lejeune squad had a 6-0 lead after only 6:45 of the first period.

Blake's field goal

After holding the Tigers and forcing a punt, the Devildogs marched to the Depauw 16, and, after the collegians stiffened, Clark Blake kicked a 39-yard field goal, and Camp Lejeune led 9-0.

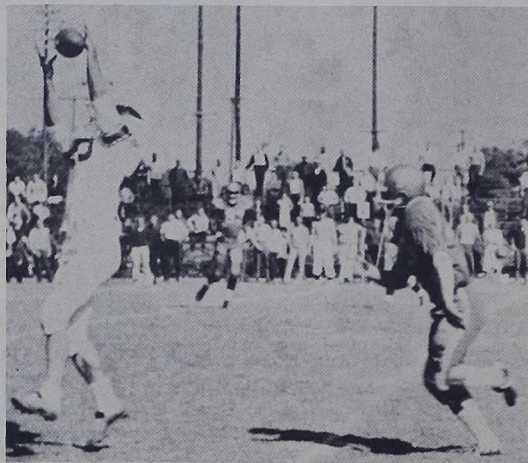

Depauw retaliated with an 80-yard drive for a score, climaxed by a one-yard quarterback sneak by sophomore Eric Lortz, who picked up 46-yards on carries during the drive. Lortz's extra-point pass attempt failed, and the Devildog lead was cut to 9-6.

After taking the ensuing kickoff to their own 21, the Marines stunned Depauw by scoring on their first play from scrimmage. Jim Laurent found halfback Johnnie Blount alone on the sideline, and Blount grabbed his pass and scampered 79-yards for the score. Laurent threw a strike to Don Bartolazzi for a two-point conversion, and the Devildogs for the first time this season, took a healthy 11-point lead into the locker-room at half-time.

Nay's interception

The half-time score might have been somewhat different had Lejeune defensive back Ron Nay not picked-off a Depauw pass in the Marine end zone after the Tigers had marched down to Lejeune's six-yard line with less than a minute remaining in the half.

The third-period was scoreless, although Depauw managed to reach the Devildog five before a fourth-down pass was incomplete. The Tigers had launched a strong aerial attack, opening the second-half, behind the right arm of another sophomore quarterback, Dan Breckenridge.

ALLEY OOP—Depauw University's Tom Cooper reaches for a fourth-quarter pass from Dan Breckenridge, as Devildog defensive back Ed Zuckerman comes up to make the stop. Cooper didn't hang on to this one however, as the Camp Lejeune team handed Depauw's Tigers a 30-14 setback.

After taking over on their own five, the Marines went 95-yards to paydirt, the last 17 coming on a swing pass from Laurent to Neil Johnston. The extra-point pass failed, and the D'Dogs led 23-6 with nine-and-one-half minutes left in the ballgame.

Fumble costly

In the closing moments, Depauw picked up a Lejeune fumble on the Marines' 40, and eight-plays later, halfback John Butler took it over from the three. Lortz hit end Tom Cooper for a two-point conversion, and with only a minute-and-a-half left to play, it looked like the ballgame would end 23-14.

Reserve quarterback John Dougherty had ideas of his own, however, and after the D'Dogs took an onside kickoff on their own 45, launched a drive for

Archery Meet

Camp Lejeune's Archery Club will hold an Archery Meet Sunday morning at nine at the Archery Range located behind Camp Lejeune's Drive-In Theater. Both a Chicago Round and 28-Target Field Round will be fired during the meet. Trophies and certificates will be presented to the top finishers. The meet is open to all archers as well as club members. Archers from Fort Bragg, Seymour Johnson Air Base, and Cherry Point are expected to be competing in this event. The registration fee will be $1.50, payable at the range Sunday morning. For further information, call SSgt. St. Andrews at Base Ext. 9-8150 during working hours.

sports a go go

The Camp Lejeune Devildogs looked impressive both offensively and defensively in last Saturday's counter with Depauw Univ. Their 434 yards of offense far outweighs any of their past performances and was a good tune-up for Saturday's game. But a closer look at what happened last week.

Neil Johnston, with eight carries for 56 yards and Art Redden, who garnered 49 yards on carries, were the top rushers for Camp Lejeune. Fullback Hal Brown averaged 8.5 yards on only four carries for one of his best performances.

Jim Laurent and Jeff Mair, who the coaches had their best games of the season, passed for 25 yards and completed 12 of 16. Mair was four-for-four. Laurent threw three touchdown passes, one a ball to tight end Johnnie Blount, who had five catches yards. Even reserve quarterback John Daugherty, hot, completing one of two attempts for a 31 yard touchdown with Redden on the receiving end.

After viewing the game films, the coaching staff had kind words for three of the linebacks. Brian Biggs, Leo Myzick and Ed Zuckerman. Biggs had his best game of the season Saturday, and Myzick and Zuckerman, both of whom had played well until the Depauw contest, were credited with outstanding performances and will be seeing more action.

More praise went to the members of the back team line. Men like guard Pete Optekar, center Craig, and tackles Charlie Hayes and Phil Gehring were really opening holes in the Tiger line, as well as doing a fine job of containment on defense.

Others who were mentioned by the coaches were guard Ned Chappell, and backs Blount and Redden. End Don Bartolazzi, who up until the Depauw game had not been especially feared for blocking, not only caught a touchdown pass and an extra-point heave, but also threw a couple of blocks in the ball game. One of Bart's blocks headed Blount to that 79-yard touchdown play.

While the Devildogs were thrashing Depauw, Pensacola Goshawks were getting the surprise of their life in Quantico's Butler Stadium. The Quantico Marines shut-out the high scoring Goshawks, 37-0 and completely throttled the Navy team's offense. Quantico's defense was so tough, in fact, that Pensacola gained only two yards rushing.

Bruce Abel, the highly touted signal-caller from the Naval Academy, was really overwhelmed by Quantico's defense. He only completed eight of 24 pass attempts and had three intercepted. His replacement John Quisenberry fared no better, throwing on only one of five attempts. Between them, they accounted for a scant 39 yards in total offense.

Quantico scored on two pass plays, one of 47-yards to flanker Hank Hatch, and on three rushing runs. They accumulated more than 300 yards in the ball game, and more importantly, proved that they were finally starting to jell. They ran from a pro game Saturday, and were effective. Now we have a chance to stop them.

Quantico has a team loaded with former college stars, headed by former All-American tackle, Bill Zadel, a West Point grad who saw the light. Their line averages 215 and their starting backfield averages 186, so they don't outweigh the Devildogs by much. Their win Saturday was their second straight shutout victory after three losses.

Camp Lejeune Coach Ron Cherubini promises his boys will give Quantico a good fight. He wasn't surprised by Quantico's win since they've been playing tough teams all season. Cherubini called the Quantico game "the game," and says it's the one that will determine what kind of season the Devildogs will have.

Turning to intramural football news, the championship game in the All-Camp Football Tourney will be played tonight at seven on the intramural field. Either the 2d Recon or 1/6 team is undefeated (they played Tuesday night—too late for the GLOBE'S deadline) and should be undefeated. The win tonight, the tourney will be all over. If not, the two finalists will square-off again tomorrow night.

In a baseball note, Camp Lejeune's star right-hander Dick Hall, has signed with the Cleveland Indians for "a substantial bonus." Hall, who's record was 11-1 with this year's Lejeune team, will report to the Des Moines team in the Class A, Midwest League this morning. Hall was signed by Cleveland scout Jim Gruzinski of Thomasville, N. C.

Camp Lejeune's Sports Car Club will hold a rally Saturday night. It'll be called the "Black and Ramble" honoring Halloween. The rally will start from the New River Shopping Center, and have a 30-car limit, so register as soon as possible.

Golf notes

The monthly Coastal Tournament of the Women's Golf Association was held at Cherry Point Oct. 19. Cherry Point's team won the cup from Lejeune's golfers with a low net of 286.

Low net winner for Camp Lejeune's team was Gene June, in the A-Flight, along with Edna Kinder who had low putts. In Flight-B, low gross champ was Mary Youngs, and low putts winner was Jean Corbett. Alice Herlihy won C-Flight's low gross, and low putts went to Helen Flory.

The Camp Lejeune low net performers were Mary Youngs with a 69, Gene June with a 71, Alice Herlihy with a 73 and Doris Koliber with a 75. They totaled 288 for the day's play.

The next monthly Coastal Tournament will be held at the Paradise Point Golf Course at Camp Lejeune, Nov. 16.

COGA

The Commissioned Officer's Golf Association will play host to approximately 50 members of The Pine Valley Country Club from Wilmington at Paradise Point on November 7. This is a return match with The Pine Valley Club and about 50 COGA members are needed for this match. All Camp Lejeune COGA members are urged to sign up in the club house at the golf course by November 2.

Many officers have come aboard the base and have no had an opportunity to join the Commissioned Officers' Golf Association. In order to build up our membership and have an active and full schedule for 1966 new members are required. All officer golfers are encouraged to stop by the Pro Shop, contact Mr. Gantz, and join COGA. COGA members enjoy the privilege of playing other clubs and courses around the Camp Lejeune community. The membership drive closes on December 4.

'Pups lose to Pirates

The Swansboro Pirates hijacked Camp Lejeune's Devilpups last Thursday night, 28-12 at Swansboro. The 'Pups play Midway here tomorrow night at eight.

Last week, both the Devilpups and Pirates put on quite a show for the fans in a game that was a lot closer than the final score would indicate. Swansboro's Jerry Riggs scored all four of the Pirates' touchdowns. Though only a sophomore, Riggs turned in a remarkable performance.

Riggs scored twice in the first quarter before the 'Pups managed to get on the scoreboard. His second TD came on a fourth-down dash of 15-yards. Camp Lejeune's Jim Tinkham raced 45-yards for the first 'Pups score of the evening. The kick failed, and the score by the 135-pounder was the last of the half, as both teams went to the locker rooms with Swansboro leading 14-6 at halftime.

An intercepted pass gave Swansboro another scoring chance in the third-quarter, and five plays later, Riggs lugged the ball across the goal-line for his third TD. His fourth score came after Gene Simonds had scored for the Devilpups by hauling in a 42-yard pass late in the final period.

Tomorrow night's game with Midway will be the final home contest of the season for the Devilpups. Kickoff time is eight p. m. at the intramural field adjacent to the Baseball stadium.

Rams finally win in Boys' League

By: SSgt. Tom Jones

The Camp Lejeune Boys' League action on Saturday saw one undefeated team fall by the wayside, and the undefeated Eagles forced to the limit before escaping the same fate.

In the initial action of the day, the undefeated Lions went down in a hard fought contest. The fired-up Browns took over the ball on their own 30, and marched the remaining 70-yards for the game's only score. With Mike Love and Stan Wood alternating the running, the Browns moved to the eight, from which Love crashed over for the touchdown.

The Lions made several valiant efforts to get a score, but the Brown defense rose up each time to stop them cold, and the Browns made their second-quarter TD stand up for a 7-0 win.

In the second game of the day, the Bears almost ambushed the high-flying Eagles in a bruising game. Led by the flying feet of John Calley and Paul Black, the Eagles made good on two long drives. Calley capped the first march with a five-yard run, and Black scored the second TD on a ten-yard burst.

The Bears came storming back on a 50-yard pass play from Mike Shoedler to Johnny Williams. In the final minutes of play, the Bears were on the move again, but the clock ran out, and the Eagles had a hard-earned 12-7 win.

In Sunday's action, a famine that had endured since September of last year came to an end as the Rams put up a tight defense along with a crunching running game to sink the Vikings.

Maintaining ball control throughout the game, the Rams running attack led by Joe Sawyer, was able to protect a 2-0 lead the Rams grabbed in the second-quarter when Ralph Ladd smeared the Vikings' ball-carrier in his own endzone.

After the safety, a tough Ram defense led by Ladd and Mike Moore, continually thwarted the Viking attack.

Second game action saw the Colts unloose a vicious ground attack that buried the Redskins 27-7.

Marine, Army shooters compete here in matches

Camp Lejeune's Rifle and Pistol Club held its monthly High Power Rifle Match on Oct. 16 and 17.

Competitors in the match were: Army Marksmanship Training Unit, Ft. Benning, Ga.; Marine Marksmanship Training Unit, Quantico, Va.; Marine Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.; North Carolina National Guard; as well as Marine shooters from North Carolina bases. In all, 101 shooters took part in the match.

The Grand Aggregate Winner was T. J. Boyle, Army MTU, Ft. Benning, Ga. with a score of 498-63V's.

The titleist in the High Service Rifle Aggregate category was another Army marksman, A. B. Falcon, who fired a 498 with 43V's.

A Quantico Marine, R. H. Green, won the First Master title by shooting 497-48V's. The high civilian in the match was a retired Marine Master Sergeant, Clemet Hensley, from Oak Ridge, Tenn. He shot a 484-35V's.

The Marine Corps and Army split the team matches. The MTU team from Quantico took top honors in the Combat Infantry Trophy Team event with a total of 1178. The Army Blue team won the Four-Man Team Match with a score of 988-91V's.

Sports Car Club schedules events

The Lejeune Sports Car Club's quarterly dinner meeting was held last Sunday. The thirty assorted members elected officers for the current term and discussed other business brought on by the club. Guest speaker Lt. William Hartley, from Camp Lejeune Provost Marshal's office, Lt. Hartley spoke of safety campaigns past, present, and discussed the club tentative safety programs to be instigated by club and Camp Lejeune. Succeeding Roger Hayes as president is Skip Vierling, Larry Trenary replaced by Reed as vice-president, and Linda Mitchell, secretary and treasurer respectively, were re-elected to their posts.

Four new committees were agreed upon and chairmen were appointed. Herb Halliday was designated to head the safety committee, which will handle the technical safety inspection prior to club events and control club safety campaigns. The publicity committee is being headed by Terry Reed, and Richard Waltz will serve as chairman of the membership committee. "Doc" Silliman was appointed chief of the events committee to oversee all club events.

Members also planned the "Black Cat Rumble", a Halloween night rally to take place this Saturday evening. Further information about the club and its coming events can be obtained by calling 353-2318.

Pass Safely

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NAVNEWS) ..... If you think you can do it, don't even try.

If you know you can do it, do it.

For example, if you are not certain that you can pass easily and safely, don't even start to try to do it. Wait until you can see clearly that it is easy and safe to do it.

Police registers and even tombstones, bear the names of many people who thought they could get away with it or of people who were victims of those who thought they could do it.

FIRST CEREMONY—In its first awards ceremony since it arrived in Viet Nam last May, Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron (HMM)-161 decorated 53 men and promoted six others. Twenty-nine Air Medals were presented to Marines who had flown 20 or more combat missions, as well as 24 Combat Aircrewmen Wings to members who have more than six missions. The promotions were all to sergeant. HMM-161 provides copter support for the Marine en here.

Traffic News

By: 1STLT. BILL HARTLEY

"Four Marines were killed Sunday evening in a head-on collision. The accident happened on Hwy 24, just east of Piney Green Rd." According to Sgt. R. L. Pettit, Duty Traffic Investigator, it took forty-five minutes to separate the two cars. A dismal sight to behold! If you were to see this one, Charlie, I'm sure that you would let off a little on the accelerator and engage the brain and brain-housing and think about driving, while driving. "SLOW DOWN, THINK, AND LIVE!"

This office has had a lot of questions about the GTT. I pulled the bark off the tree just outside the Main Gate. The Marine that was driving was in good shape at the time. There was only one man in the car and the car was "towed." Not "ONE" piece of it could be salvaged.

State Voting Information

U. S. Marines are reminded that several states are scheduled to hold regular statewide, scheduled and unscheduled elections this year.
 Marines using the absentee ballot should apply directly to their local voting officials in their home community or county. For some Marines, it is already too late to vote. However, some states allow voting as late as 15 days past election day.
 The following elections are slated to be held in 1965.

REGULAR
 Kentucky--Nov. 2, 1965, legislature

DI candidate's final test lies within his own ability

By: LCpl. R. V. Burns

Parris Island's Drill Instructor School is an unobtrusive testimonial to the solid professionalism of the man who trains today's Marines—the D.I.

Formal schooling for Drill Instructors is comparatively new in Marine Corps history; the first class convened in October, 1952.

Before that year Marines sufficiently versed in basic military subjects were ordered to the "Island" to train recruits. The honor man from each platoon was generally designated to stay on to assist in the training.

When the first class got underway, graduating recruits and permanent personnel made up the quotas. Soon the selection process now used was evolved, however, and candidates for training were screened from among many applicants, with only the best measuring up to exacting standards.

The present Director of the School is Capt. C. W. Keiser. The Chief Instructor is GySgt. T. B. Perrone, and the staff includes six permanent instructors.

"No man is fit to command another who cannot command himself," reads a sign in one of the classrooms in D. I. School. This seeming truism is more than a mere platitude here: it is toward this end—to be "fit to command"—that each candidate strives.

After the initial screening process, the rigorous physical training and academic program in the school serve to weed out those who can't measure up.

The training schedule itself has been reduced from the usual eight weeks to a concentrated five-week program, due to the heavy influx of recruits and the attendant need for more qualified Drill Instructors.

In the classrooms of the modern red-brick building shared by Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Warfare, Non-commissioned Officers and Personnel Administration Schools, the highly specialized activities of Drill Instructor training go greatly unnoticed by most Depots and visitors.

The instructors who staff the school are former D. I.'s who have successfully completed a tour of duty on the drill field. Special instructors come from such varied Depot activities as the Medical Department, Depot Legal, Classification, Provost Marshal, etc.

The D. I. candidate's day begins with an hour of physical training, a half-hour exercise period followed by a half-hour run, which progressively increases to a 10 minute exercise period and 50 minutes of running.

Physical training is only a small part of the student's training. He soon finds that to teach new recruits to be Marines, he first must master all the basic subjects of Marine training.

Since a great portion of recruit training consists of learning close order drill, the candidate must be thoroughly familiar with all phases of drill, and must develop a clear command voice—the command voice which is the hallmark of the Marine D. I.

Drill classes are held on the parade deck located behind the school. The candidates are separated into groups small enough to receive close attention and supervision by individual instructors.

The instructors in this instance, as in all phases of the training program, can then unequivocally assess each candidate's performance.

In addition to drill and physical training, long hours of classes are devoted to familiarizing the students with all general military subjects, such as first aid, packs, etc.

But all these subjects would be expected to be found in a school of this nature; however, D. I. School also schedules classes of a more unusual nature, in order to ensure that students can cope with the different problems likely to be encountered when actually working with recruits.

To help the candidates better understand the problems they will come across when they begin to mold a platoon of Marines from a varied assortment of civilians from every imaginable background, classes are held with the Depot psychiatrist and other special instructors.

In the class with the psychiatrist, the students are given actual case histories of problem recruits and an instructor who acts as moderator asks the future D. I.'s how they would handle the problem.

The psychiatrist listens to the dialogue which ensues, permitting the discussion to run its course, and then he apprises the men of the actual disposition of the case.

The determination of the students to succeed in molding their charges into Marines is exhibited in this class. Asked if they would be willing to keep trying with a particularly recalcitrant recruit, the class verdict was almost unanimous to keep the recruit rather than send him to a special training unit.

This type of response is an indication of the insistence of exhausting all means at the D. I.'s disposal to make Marines which is part of the creed of the school.

But the final test of their success lies within themselves. As GySgt. T. B. Perrone, Chief Instructor at the school said, "We don't make D. I.'s here. The individuals make D. I.'s of themselves. We provide them with the best possible training so they will be ready when they are assigned to a platoon, but the rest is up to them."

DI Team here Nov. 1-5

A five-man Drill Instructor Team from Parris Island, S. C., is slated to interview Marines from Camp Lejeune during the period Nov. 1-5. They are also scheduled to interview Marines from the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point and the Marine Corps Air Facility at New River during this period.

The interview team is headed by LtCol. G. L. Lillich, CO, 3rd Recruit Training Battalion at Parris Island.

The trip is made preceding each Drill Instructor School Class at Parris Island for the selection of potential students for the school.

Accompanying LtCol. Lillich on the tour will be Navy Lieutenant S. Schwartz, a psychiatrist with the Depot Medical Detachment; MSgt. P. Wemyss, S-3 Chief, 1st Recruit Training Battalion; GySgt. T. B. Perrone, Chief Instructor; and GySgt. A. D. Belligotti, Senior Gunnery Sergeant with Company "L", 2d Recruit Trng Bn.

General Walt appeals for Viet Nam aid

NEWSLETTER - WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Major General Lewis Walt, USMC, Commanding General of the III Marine Amphibious Force, Viet Nam, has sent an appeal, by personal letter, to many of his friends and relatives in the United States indicating that some organization in the United States should send old clothing, money for food, medical supplies, soap, etc., to his organization for distribution.

He indicated that it would be deeply appreciated by these people who have suffered for nearly ten years, and in some cases nearly twenty years, from the terrors of Communism.

If any Retired Marines wish to assist the General, there is such an organization on the west coast that will forward the supplies on to Viet Nam. Address your contribution to Operation Handclasp, U. S. Navy, San Diego, California. This Navy organization will ship the needed supplies by Navy ships, on a space available basis, to Viet Nam for distribution by the men of the Third Marine Division.

Christmas mailing dates announced

WASHINGTON (AFPS) -- The mailing period for sending Christmas parcels and greeting cards overseas has been announced by Post Office officials.

Packages and cards going by surface mail should be posted between Oct. 21-Nov. 10. Air mail should be deposited between Dec. 1-10.

These dates apply to parcels and cards going overseas to and from the United States, an official said, to insure delivery in time for the holiday.

Package contents should be firmly packed with nothing loose inside, the official explained, adding it is wise to put an additional address slip inside the package.

Officials also recommend that containers be of strong material, tied with heavy cord. Fibreboard packaging, such as cardboard boxes, should be wrapped in paper even though this is not a strict requirement.

Customs regulations apply to some items being mailed overseas. Some countries also prohibit various items and U. S. regulations prohibit certain other items. Local postal officials can give advice on these matters, a spokesman said.

2dLt./WO

the Temporary WO board.

All applications must reach Headquarters, Marine Corps (Code DPB) no later than Dec. 15, 1965 to be considered by appropriate selection boards.

Commanding Officers are requested to give the widest possible publicity to the contents of ALMAR 22 and ALMAR 23. Special efforts will be made to assure that this information is available to SNCO's enroute to new duty stations or in leave status.

PHOTO CONTEST CLOSES DEC. 31

WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 22—Active duty Army Forces' photographers and Informational Services' personnel have two months in which to enter the "Picture of the Year Competition," sponsored by the National Press Photographer's Association, University of Missouri and World Book Encyclopedia Science Service.

The contest is for military personnel only, and is divided into six different black and white categories. They are: news photographs of a scheduled or unscheduled news event; feature photographs or picture stories of human interest subjects; pictorial, design and mood picture stories of human interest subjects; sports; picture stories; and portrait and pictorial studies.

All photos, regardless of the size, must be mounted on a 16 x 20 mount with the caption on the back. Directly below the caption the contestant should add the category assignment, title of the picture, name and rank of the photographer, organization, current military address and his home town address. If overseas, he should give name of station or locality in addition to his fleet post office.

Rules for contestants are: no toned prints; no more than 20 prints to be submitted by any contestant (picture story counts as one photo); glossy or matte prints acceptable; and the photo must have been taken and initially published by news media military newspapers between January 1 and December 31, 1965. (These pictures must be taken while on an assignment or on the photographer's initiative, but they must be military subjects only.)

Judging for the contest will be held at the University of Missouri, School of Journalism. Entries are to be sent to Professor Cliff Edom, Journalism Annex, 27-A, School of Journalism, University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.

Entries postmarked no later than December 31, 1965 will be accepted for the contest. The top award of the contest, "Military Photographer of the Year," is open to those contestants who enter each of the six different categories. Trophies and prizes will be awarded as prizes to the winning contestants.

Viet crop claims paid in piastres

By: Cpl. S. R. Tiner

Some 17 Vietnamese from Hoa Cuong and Hoa Chau villages gathered at the Hoa Vang District headquarters near Da Nang to see a young Marine Lieutenant.

The villagers, old farmers in the main, had made, claims for crops damaged by Marine combat operations in this war-torn area.

First Lt. F. C. Woodruff (Utica, N. Y.) was the object of the villagers' attention. In his capacity as 3rd Marine Division Foreign Claims Officer, it had been his task to process the claims and forward them to U. S. Forces headquarters in Saigon for judgement.

Each and every claim is thoroughly investigated not only to ensure that they were not excessive, but also that each farmer received fair pay for his losses.

The meeting this week was the culmination of those efforts.

The 17 villagers were there to receive payments.

One by one the villagers were called into the office. Army of the Republic of Vietnam (ARVN) interpreter SSgt. Lai The Tam explained what amount had been adjudged in each case, and if they were not satisfied they could reapply and there would be a second judgement made by a higher authority.

In each case the villagers accepted the checks given them by the Lieutenant. In turn, he endorsed the checks and Woodruff gave them piastres (local money) in the amount of the checks. Some wrote names in Chinese while others who could not write at all, endorsed their checks with their prints witnessed by the respective village chief.

The smiling faces of the villagers indicated that this first payment of claims had been a resounding success.
