Tri-Command Power Displayed

Civic, Business Leaders Special Exercise Guests

SPECIAL GUESTS—Civic and business leaders from five Eastern North Carolina cities were shown a Battalion Landing Team on display with all its weapons and equipment from movements Sept. 15, as guests of MajGen. A. L.

Bowser, Base Commander. The civilians spent the day viewing a series of demonstrations and displays put on by the 2d Division, Force Troops, and Marine Corps Base.

A group of over 60 civic and business leaders from five eastern North Carolina cities spent the day at Camp Lejeune Tuesday as guests of MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Base Commander. On the day's agenda were a series of displays and demonstrations conducted by members of the 2nd Marine Division, Force Troops and Marine Corps Base.

Guests from Jacksonville, Kinston, New Bern, Swansboro, and Wilmington began arriving at the Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse at 7:45 Tuesday morning, and were treated to coffee and doughnuts before starting their tour. Their first stop was a static display presented by members of the 1st Bn., 8th Marines where the group viewed equipment used by a Battalion Landing Team followed by a presentation of troops and equipment showing the organic makeup of a BLT.

Next in line for the touring businessmen and civic leaders was a demonstration of an assault on a fortified position. Before the demonstration began, MajGen. W. J. Van Ryzin 2nd Division CG, explained the importance of BLT's and told the group where the landing teams are located throughout the world. After learning about the makeup of a Marine rifle squad, the guests witnessed a display of the Marines skills as members of Capt. G. A. Johnson's "M" Co. of the 3rd Bn., 8th Marines, demonstrated an attack on a fortified position using close air support furnished by four Skyhawk Jets home based at Cherry Point. The display was narrated by Capt. T. T. Glidden of 3/8.

The members of the tour then boarded their Marine Corps buses for a ride to the Engineers Schools at Courthouse Bay, where they were welcomed by LtCol. N. J. Dennis, the school's commanding officer. There the group viewed the academy award winning film "A Force in Readiness" which depicts the world-wide combat readiness of the Marine Corps air-ground team. Following the film, Gen. Bowser held a question and answer session during which the guests were able to learn about the operation of the base.

The noon meal was provided by the Engineer School mess-hall. After the luncheon, the group toured the Courthouse Bay complex and saw displays of equipment used in the instruction.

After spending most of the afternoon at Courthouse Bay, the guests re-boarded their buses for the trip back to the tour's starting-point, the Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse.

APT. J. H. BOYERS

New CO Named At Research Lab

Captain J. H. Boyers, MC, US, has assumed duties as Commanding Officer, Naval FMH Medical Research Laboratory, relieving Captain G. L. Cady, presently awaiting orders while on leave.

Commissioned in the Medical Corps in 1943 as a Lieutenant (JG) Capt. Boyers' last duty station was Cairo, Egypt where he commanded the research laboratory for four years.

The captain graduated with a degree of Doctor of Medicine from Ohio State College of Medicine in 1940, and completed his resident training in Internal Medicine at the U.S. Naval Hospital, Oakland, Calif. In 1955, after a year of post-graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania he was certified as an internist by the American Board of Internal Medicine.

Captain Boyers is married, has two children. He resides with his family at Camp Lejeune.

Memorial Cross Dedicated Honoring Fallen Marine

A 36 inch Celtic Overlay Cross was dedicated to the memory of the late LtCol. George E. Chamberlin, Jr., at memorial services held in the Protestant Chapel, Sept. 6.

A few months ago, LtCol. Chamberlin died in defense of his country, a victim of a plane crash in Vietnam.

Personnel of the Marine Corps Supply Activity, Philadelphia, where the late Col. Chamberlin served as Support Division Director and Commanding Officer, Headquarters Battalion, before leaving for Vietnam, wishing to give a memorial gift in his honor, presented the Protestant Chapel with the Altar Cross and a memorial plaque.

memorial plaque.

"We are honored to have received such a beautiful memorial gift in honor of our fallen comrade. We are proud of his record of service as a Marine to his country. We are grateful to the personnel of the Marine Corps Supply Activity, Philadelphia and we extend our sincere sympathy to his widow and three children in their bereavement," said Cmdr. S. L. Roberts, Assistant Base Chaplain, at the conclusion of the memorial service.

Also present for the service were MajGen. and Mrs. A. L. Bowser, Capt. G. H. Sargent, Division Chaplain, 2d Marine Division; and LtCmdr. B. F. Vondracek, Force Troops Senior Protestant Chaplain.

DEDICATION SERVICES—Capt. G. H. Sargent, USN, 2d Marine Division Chaplain, left; MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Base Commander; Cmdr. S. L. Roberts, Assistant Base Chaplain; and Senior Protestant Chaplain for Force Troops, LtCmdr. B. F. Vondracek, view the 36" Celtic Overlay Cross and plaque donated by members of the Marine Corps Supply Activity, Philadelphia in memory of LtCol. George E. Chamberlin, Jr., who was killed in a plane crash in Vietnam.

Team Effort

MCAF Pilots Fly Serum To Save 2-Year-Old Boy

The life of a two-year-old child was saved through the immediate action of a Navy-Marine Corps team recently, when badly needed serum was flown to his bedside.

A call for help was received at the New River Air Facility at approximately 7 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 5. The call came from the U. S. Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune. Cmdr. R. M. Tennille, Jr., had received an urgent plea for assistance in getting an antidote for an overdose of iron pills, to be used to save the life of Michael Robert Tate, 2, a military dependent in Charleston, S. C.

Doctor Tennille immediately called the Marine Corps Air Facility to obtain air transportation to pick up the serum at the nearest location, being in this case at the Duke University Hospital at Raleigh, N. C.

While the ready helicopter was enroute to Raleigh-Durham airport, Marine Aircraft Group-26 officials decided that a faster aircraft would be more help in expediting the delivery of the Desserol to the stricken child.

In a short period of time, the crew of the Air Facility C-117 consisting of Capt. R. V. Janis, WO J. T. Cain, and Sgt. N. P. Murphy, was assembled and ready for flight.

They were immediately airborne enroute to Raleigh-Durham airport to render further assistance.

Meanwhile, the helicopter crew had arrived at their destination and had received the badly needed serum, which had been rushed from Duke University by ambulance.

Through radio communications they had been advised to await the arrival of the speedier transport.

No sooner had the wheels stopped rolling on the C-117, when the serum was transferred

BLT 3/2 Holds 'Family Day'

Smorgasbord, Parade, Displays Highlighted By Top Squad Show

What is a Battalion Landing Team?

Lieutenant Colonel J. A. Weizenegger, Commanding Officer, Battalion Landing Team 3/2, Reinforced (BLT), undertook the task of trying to answer this question for dependents of the men in his battalion with a Family Day.

He started the day off with a parade, then a display of the different sections and weapons of the battalion, followed by a smorgasbord. The reason the idea came up is because the battalion was scheduled to deploy to the Caribbean area for an extended cruise.

The parade, conducted by the staff noncommissioned officers of the battalion, was held on the Marine Corps Base Parade Ground. Highlighting the parade was a demonstration put on by the 1st Squad, 1st Platoon, Company I, which won the Regimental Squad Competition and the right to represent the regiment at the annual Best Squad in the Marine Corps competition, to be held at Quantico, Va., later this month.

Major General W. J. Van Ryzin, Commanding General, 2d Marine Division, was the reviewing officer for the parade along with Col. Weizenegger and Battalion SgtMaj. J. H. Watts.

Escorted by members of the battalion, the dependents boarded buses, after the parade for the ride back to the battalion area. Upon their arrival they were taken on a tour of the displays by their own Marines. They were shown the weapons that are used in the battalion. Along with each weapon was a Marine to explain its use and capabilities and to answer any questions that might be asked.

The Communications Section set up a tent with two teletype machines in operation for anyone who would like to see how they worked. The visitors with typing experience that had never seen them in operation were amazed that you could type on one machine and it would reproduce the print on another.

For some reason, no matter where they may be, children will find vehicles to admire, and this they did at the display set up by the Motor Transport Section. Kids love jeeps, and the MT display had more than most of the children had ever seen at one time. Also to the delight of the youngsters, there were Mighty Mites and Mechanical Mules, which many of them had never seen before.

But on to what was interesting to the wives, girl friends, and parents of the men of the battalion—just what their men would be doing. This was skillfully demonstrated by each of the Staff Sections (S-1, S-2, S-3, and S-4), which had tents set up just as if they were in a tactical situation. Each section had a man standing by to explain its function and to answer any questions that might arise on the BLT.

The dependents were surprised to learn that a BLT is not comprised of just an infantry battalion, but has many supporting units attached to it. However, the infantry battalion is the core of the BLT. The 3d Battalion has been augmented by units from the Artillery Regt. Engineer Bn., Motor Transport Bn., Medical Bn., Dental Co., Service Bn., Shore Party Bn., Amphibious Tractor Bn., Tank Bn., and other supporting units of the Division.

"Why did all of these units add to the battalion?" some of the wives asked. The BLT is tailored to meet the combat requirements of each and every situation. By adding or taking away some of the supporting units the BLT can, and does form one of the most formidable military forces in the world was the answer they received.

Not to be forgotten are the Navy Corpsmen of the battalion. The "Docs", as they are so often referred to, had an aid station set up complete with operating table and patient. This was a wonder to the families who had only seen the corpsmen work in Naval Hospitals.

The guests were then invited to the Battalion Messhall where they were treated to a smorgasbord, which was prepared under the guidance of Gysgt. R. B. Rutherford, Battalion Mess Sergeant. The smorgasbord was comprised of such palate pleasers as roast turkey, fried chicken, fried shrimp, baked ham, baked beans, salads of all kinds and desserts, and for dessert there was a variety of pies and cakes. There were many compliments about the quantity and quality of food.

Even though the 3d Battalion has been an integral part of the Division since its organization in 1941, it was completely reorganized last April due to the controlled input program. The approximate life of an infantry battalion under the program is one year. Although the men have only been working together for about four months they have set quite a record for themselves.

They have won the 2d Division Softball Championship, 2d Marine Division Association Drill Competition and Squad Competition. Sgt. B. F. Clasing, of Company L, set a Rifle Range record of 205 of a possible 210 on the Marine Corps' new experimental "X" Course. As of this date thousands of Marines have requalified over this course and no one has yet broken Sgt. Clasing's record.

The Betto Battalion, as it is called by its members, made many landings in the Pacific during World War II.

As the day ended and the families left for their homes they had a new understanding of the Marine Corps, the 2d Division, and most of all they had learned what their loved ones would be doing in the Betto Battalion.

MULE—Private First Class T. V. Melillo, right, explains the uses of a Mechanical Mule to several members of the Motor Transport Section, 3d Battalion, 2d Marines, and their families.

PARADE IN REVIEW—The 3d Battalion, 2d Marines' Color Guard marches in review during a Staff NCO Parade. The parade was held to kick off a battalion Family Day and Open House.

Mr. Motorist

What Was Your Hurry?

There are many schools of thought on the most effective way of imparting a vital message to readers of a newspaper. Some think that repetition is the answer while others believe emotional impact is the only sure-fire approach to effectiveness.

The GLOBE, in its repeated efforts to emphasize the importance of safe driving throughout the year, has resorted to both approaches. So, in the third week of school for dependent children at Camp Lejeune, a reader has come to the assistance of the GLOBE to place a barb of caution in the conscience of car owners who will be passing through school zones. Mrs. John W. Burdette of Camp Lejeune sent a newspaper clipping which was originally received by the editor of the Los Angeles Mirror-News six years ago. Addressed to "Dear Mr. Motorist," it begins:

"I am not writing this to remind you all over again, but to all motorists because school again begins.

"I want to prevent the tragedy that we have shared together — a mother and you, Mr. Motorist.

"That day three sun-tanned little faces smiled as they waved me a happy goodbye and they so importantly went on their way to school. I wanted to call them back to tell them how lonesome it would be . . . I wanted to kiss them once more . . . then I saw you take that corner — tires screaming, car out of control.

"WHAT WAS your hurry? Were you late for work? Were you angry at someone? Surely not at my three. I am certain you would not want to run your screaming tires over the happy faces intentionally, erasing forever the smiles they had for me.

"But, Mr. Motorist, children are very forgiving in life, and, I'm sure, death. They would if they could, pat your hand and feel sad because of one tragic moment you are left to live over and over again, how your love of speed took three lives.

"I don't hate you any more. I feel sorry for you. I can still see those smiling faces as they wave me goodbye."

THE LETTER was signed. Under the signature was this postscript:

"Another year. And once again your flowers arrive. They are beautiful. Thank you."

Editors are skeptical of such messages — justifiably so, because they can so easily be faked. But sensing a possible story, the Mirror-News editor sent a reporter to talk with the writer.

She couldn't be located. He did talk with a close friend, who explained that the letter was written on the first anniversary of the tragedy. It was never intended to be mailed to the man driving the car. In fact, it was found in the mother's personal effects four years later and mailed to the newspaper.

What about the motorist, the reporter asked. He still sends flowers on each anniversary of the children's death. But they never reach the mother.

The tragedy was too much for her. She is beyond caring about the flowers — or writing letters to the editor. In her mind she still waves goodbye to the smiling faces of her children — from a barred window of a hospital for the hopelessly insane.

Chaplain's Corner

"They that are well need not the physician, but they that are sick. I came not to call the just but the sinner."

Sin is the absence of good, it is something negative, a stain on our soul. Just as darkness is the absence of light. Every grave or slight, is an offense against God and His law. The sinner is an unhappy man; he is alone and afraid in his inner struggle.

"Look thou upon me, O Lord, and have mercy on me, for I am alone and poor."

Every descending step a man takes in vice the more lonely he becomes; if there are those who do not ostracize him, it is because they have not discovered his vice. Such people are free and accepted by other sinners since society will not accept such conduct. There is, in reality, so much less for the sinner than he is so much more empty, so shriveled that only God can fill that small golden spot of goodness that justifies love. The sinner can never experience true happiness because only God and grace can bring happiness; the soul of the sinner has lost grace. Every man seeks happiness and good. But to the sinner sin is the apparent good. To him sins of the flesh are good, thus he indulges in them. The alcoholic, the slothful, the liar and the proud find a temporary pleasure that they consider worth while; but later result in unhappiness and despair. Unhappiness and despair are the fruits of sin because sin brings an inner conflict in man—a conflict or battle between body and soul, of good and evil. After each battle, man finds himself alone, tired and sad. He searches for something, an illusive something called the love of God. When he has found this love, he will never relinquish it; he will rejoice because he will never be alone again nor will he ever be afraid—because he will have found the Peace of Soul—a Peace that passeth all understanding.

If You Ask Me:

What do you think of our new bowling center?

CPL. W. E. JONES HQ Co., H&S Bn., MCB—I think it's going to be nice. It's good entertainment and will give Marines stationed here more recreational activity.

PVT. CALVIN JAMES MILLS, Co. "K", 3d Bn., 8th Marines, 2d Marine Division—It's great — it will give a lot of Marines something to do without having to leave the base.

PFC CHARLES REMICK, 8th Comm Spt. Co., 2d Marine Division—I think it's fabulous. It's someplace to spend your time and doesn't cost too much. These are the best facilities and alleys I've ever seen.

CHAPLAIN W. C. GLAS Separate Bns., 2d Marine Division—I think it's really outstanding. It is a fine addition to an already excellent special services program.

BECKY STEPHAN, dependent—It's wonderful, there's plenty of lanes and the facilities are marvelous.

PFC STEPHAN Z. STANISKI, Co. "K", 3d Bn., 8th Marines, 2d Marine Division—It's a great new idea for the base. It will provide a great deal of enjoyment for Marines stationed here, and the prices are very reasonable.

MOVIE REVIEWS

RHINO
 The human stars are Harry Cline and Robert Culp, two of the most popular actors in the business. In a series of dramatic adventures, they capture two rare rhinos, are caught in a forest clash with native poachers, and a leopard that has been threatening a Zulu village, operate on an injured lion and drug-dart buffalo.

3 BRAVE MEN
 A tense modern drama of human emotion enmeshed in the problems of the headline stories of "secret risks," starring Ray Milland, Robert Culp, Frank Lovejoy,
 and Dean Jagger. The potential is based on a real-life case reported in a series of Pulitzer Prize-winning articles. The potential matter, which the Navy Department wanted told, has been dramatized in CinemaScope by Twentieth Century-Fox with this all-star cast.

THE CHALK GARDEN
 When Madrigal (Deborah Kerr), comes at the imposing house standing on the Chalk Cliffs of Southern England and to apply for the position of governess to 16-year-old Laurel (Tilly Hines), she seems strangely moved by the knowledge that several applicants have fled before meeting their prospective employer, imperious Mrs. St. Maugham (Eva Marie Evans), Laurel's grandmother.
 It's about the fiery nature of her prospective charge from an unserious, Maitland (John Mills), and a nerve-wrecking meeting with her fail to prevent Madrigal from getting the job.

WILD AND WONDERFUL
 The laughs are wild, the loving wonderful and it's the two of them.
 It's the threesome, Tony Curtis, and Christine Kaufman and a mixed up French poodle named Monsieur Cognac, in Wild and Wonderful, the kookiest triangle since love began. Here's the most delightfully different comedy of the year, all about a man who loves a girl, who loves a dog, who's convinced he's a man.

THE EVIL OF FRANKENSTEIN Again he lives! He breathes! He walks! He sees! Staggering the imagination, challenging the thrill-proof.
 Amid lightning and thunder, amid sizzling wires and sparks, while the elements burst into a frenzy of wildest bedlam, a new monster is let loose upon a trembling world.
 Not for the nervous, the scary!
 If you get nightmares and tantrums, stay away! But if you enjoy thrills and chills don't miss the Evil of Frankenstein.

BETWEEN HEAVEN AND HELL
 Robert Wagner stars in this Army combat film. Before the war, Wagner, a young southerner, has extensive land holdings worked by sharecroppers. He has a rather feudal attitude toward his croppers and is inclined to be oppressive in handling them. When he finally hits the front lines he finds himself surrounded by fellow soldiers who at one time worked for him on his southern farm.

PANIC BUTTON
 This is a romantic comedy that tells the story of how an American company tries to lose a taxable half-million dollars by investing it in a TV Pilot film. The movie stars
 Maurice Chevalier, Eleanor Parker, Jayne Mansfield, Michael Connors and Akim Tamiroff.

BEDTIME STORY
 What could be better than a rollicking good Bedtime Story, well, there's just nothing that can equal it for laughs, and honest-to-badness hilarity. Starring Marlon Brando,

David Niven and Shirley Jones.
 You'll howl with glee at the capers of a pair of cunning con-men who fleece the sweetest chicks on the Riviera, until they match wits with a mink-lined lamb.

CAPTAIN'S EYE VIEW—The famous " Soo" locks of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., are seen from the bridge of the tank landing ship USS DESOTO COUNTY as the ship approaches the three American locks on her cruise from Marquette, Mich., to Chicago, Ill. The lock second from left is expected to be opened next year. The "Soo" locks transit more freight tonnage than the Panama and Suez Canals combined annually.

COVER DOWN—SSgt. William Fisch, Force Troops, gunnery sergeant for the embarked Marines, marches three squads of men down the main street of Ogdensburg, N. Y., as the colors take a right on the parade route. The troops were part of the city's Flag Day ceremonies.

BUFFALO THROWS LST—Long lines of Buffalo, N. Y., residents wait on the pier to board the USS DESOTO COUNTY.

How is success measured?

In a military operation, timing and the early securing of an objective are signs of impending success.

On an operation where the objective is reaching the public with the importance of the Navy-Marine Corps Team . . . a quarter of a million inquisitive guests at the half way point was more than a start in the right direction.

Both men and equipment from the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops, which toured the Great Lakes this summer aboard the tank landing ship USS DESOTO COUNTY (LST 1171) contributed immeasurably to this success.

The Marine troops, commanded by Maj. John A. O'Brien, departed Little Creek, Va., June 8, to begin the three-month summer cruise of the "Inland Seas."

The Marines, normally accustomed to eventually seeing broad expanses of beach when traveling on an LST, were soon to stare at the immensity of the seven locks on the St. Lawrence Seaway, upstern from Montreal.

The ports of call were begun with a patriotic flare as the ship arrived in Ogdensburg, N. Y., on June 14 — Flag Day.

Shortly after docking, SSgt. William Fisch, Force Troops, marched three squads of Marines down the city's parade route. The estimated 10,000 spectators were greatly impressed by the squads and the ship's Marine color guard.

The personnel manning the tank deck displays and equipment quickly learned of the public's interest in the Marine Corps. This interest may occasionally need an up-to-date briefing — evidence some of the questions asked.

"Is this the new M-14?" one man asked as he stood in front of the M-48 tank.

"Aren't they using Springfield rifles anymore?" was another query from an interested veteran.

And of course we met many a man who " . . . went into battle from an old LST."

The Marines left Ogdensburg with the feeling that its citizenry knew a great deal more about the modern Marine Corps.

The second stop, Rochester, N. Y., was one that will be long remembered by most of the Marines and sailors. The Desoto County moored adjacent to the city's Ontario Beach. The stop at the much-used beach and amusement center put the bathers at the ship's "door step."

Rochester was the beginning of large crowds on board as the attendance averaged 1,200 visitors per hour. People were waiting in lines extending beyond four blocks before the ship opened for visitation on Saturday, June 20. That day 13,343 visitors came ence of 150,000 Toledo spectators saw the Navy's Underwater Demolition Team, Marine karate team and Division chorus at the Walbridge Park celebration.

Record-breaking lines of visitors awaited the ship after it docked at Cobo Hall in Detroit, Mich. Off the ship, a packed schedule of public appearances kept the Marines and sailors busy. Karate demonstrations were scheduled three times daily, and the chorus and Navy band performed for numerous hospitals, civic and service clubs. Heading the list of appearances was a concert at Kennedy Square (formerly Cadillac Square) and before a standing-room-only group of 750 employees at one of the Motor City's leading auto producers.

Tours were arranged for troops and crew to the city's auto factories.

In seven days, 53,377 persons toured the ship for the top attendance stop. A one-day record of 15,494 visited the LST on Sunday, July 12.

In Bay City, Mich., the attendance figures reached the 200,000 mark with the arrival of a five-year-old Bay City boy. He was given a complete tour of the ship by the Captain, LtCmdr. Horace D. Mann, Jr., and Maj. O'Brien.

Docked at the end of the "Avenue of Flags" in Wenona Park, the sailors and Marines took charge of morning and evening colors at the 19 flagpoles to accent the stay in Bay City. It was a scene reminiscent of the flags at NATO Headquarters in Norfolk, Va.

Before transiting the famous "Soo" locks, the last of 16 locks of the inland system, the DeSoto County opened her quarterdeck to the residents and tourists in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

With a wealth of memories behind, both of liberty and a job well done, the Marines moved on to Duluth, Minn.

Duluth, the westernmost port on the cruise, marks the passing of the halfway point. It was the ninth port with eight remaining. The visit to the "land of ten thousand lakes" produced the expected total of one quarter million visitors.

A visit by LtGen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, materialized in Marquette, Mich., on Aug. 3. VAdm. John S. McCain, Jr., Commander Amphibious Forces Atlantic, came aboard in both Chicago and Cleveland. The Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Wallace M. Greene, Jr., visited the DeSoto County during the stop at Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 22-29.

The DeSoto County steamed out of the St. Lawrence during the first week of September and the "Inland Seas" Marines returned to Camp Lejeune last week.

TANK DECK—Lance Corporal Richard C. Williams, H&S, 3/2, demonstrates the speed at which the barrel group of an M-60 can be changed, as Maj. John A. O'Brien explains the maneuver to some of the ship's guests.

KARATE POWER—Corporals Glenn R. Premru, left, and Frank Poillucci, both from 3/10, demonstrate karate techniques as interested spectators gather around the stage. The four-man Marine karate team has attracted large audiences throughout the Great Lakes while presenting their deadly art.

IMPORTANT FIVE-YEAR-OLD—The 200,000th visitor to the DESOTO COUNTY, a five-year-old Bay City boy, is given a personally conducted tour of the ship by the Commanding Officer of Marine troops, Maj. John A. O'Brien.

Road Game Against Fort Benning

D'Dog Grid Season To Begin Saturday

The Camp Lejeune Devil Dogs will open their grid season Saturday against one of the most powerful service teams going — the Fort Benning Doughboys.

The Doughboys, always powerful, boast an array of talent from colleges such as Georgia Tech, University of Arizona, UCLA, V.P.I., Syracuse, University of Georgia, University of New Mexico, Colorado State, etc. Some of the men have played semi-pro ball and have been with AFL and NFL teams.

Running the Benning attack from the quarterback slot will be Dave Sarette, a former star at Syracuse, who played one year of professional football in Canada.

Lejeune will be throwing into battle a light, fast team, with touchdown capabilities from anywhere on the field.

Coach Davis says of the Devil Dogs, "I think we have a well balanced team. We can go inside, outside or through the middle, Jim Laurent (the quarterback) can throw the ball, and we have good pass receivers. We'll throw from anywhere on the field."

This year's team also has fast backs, who carry a break-away threat anytime they have the ball.

The interior line of the Devil Dogs is made up of "horses", who, although rather light, have good credentials. Starting tackles will be Paul Lund on the left side, and George Lombardo at right tackle. Lund is a returnee from last year's team, who has been showing great drive and desire during practice. Lombardo played football at Michigan State, Boston University, and was with the Quantico Marines last year.

Beside Lund, in the left guard slot will be Pete Optekar, a bruising blocker who played four years at the Naval Academy, and bolstered the Quantico line last season. The right guard will be Richard Serman, who gained experience at Geneva College.

George Tallafiero, a returning Devil Dog who was given Honorable Mention on the Leatherneck All-Marine Team last year, will start at center.

The ends will be Eli Knighten and Ken Norton, Knighten played last year with the Strikers on Okinawa, and was named to the Interservice All-Star Team there. Norton played at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

Calling the plays will be Jim Laurent, who played four years at Waynesburg College.

Halfbacks will be Jim Ross and Bob Johnston. Ross was on the Quantico squad for four years, and Johnston played at Wagner College. Both men are fast and elusive, and are capable of hitting paydirt anytime they have the ball.

Lawrence Humphreys will be starting from the fullback position. A returnee from last year, Humphreys features a plunging, hard-driving attack through the line.

Fort Benning is definitely favored in the coming battle, but the Devil Dogs aren't even nearly ready to concede yet.

FOOTBALL STARS—1st Lt. Jim Davis and Cpl. George Ferro were presented Leatherneck's All Marine Football last week by MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Commanding MCB, for their outstanding participation during the 19th ball season. Davis played center with Quantico last year, is coaching the Lejeune line this season. Tallafiero filled center slot with the Lejeune Devil Dogs last year and holding the position again this year.

Bears And Browns Win In Boys League Open

Major General A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, MCB, officially opened the Camp Lejeune Boys League football season last Saturday at the Tarawa Terrace Field. Following the traditional ceremonies which included music by the 2d Marine Division Band and introduction of team coaches and captains, Gen. Bowser spoke briefly to the assembled players and cheerleaders regarding perseverance and the will to win.

The initial contest in the Midget League pitted the '63 champion Bears against the '63 runner-up Eagle eleven. Despite first-game jitters, the combination of an aggressive line and back breaking backfield proved unbeatable as the Eagles fell to the Bruin attack. Halfback Phil Lacy, on a well-executed sprinted 38 yards in quarter to open the game. Longest TD sprint game belonged to the fullback, Steve Evans, 75 yards to paydirt in second period. Break 45 yard end sweep flanker-T formation, Lacy racked up his second pointer in the opening of the second half. Back Bruce Burns cut to left-end Brett Fischer, later sending in Fischer across the line for the final tally.

Although the Eagles paydirt only once on back Grant Melander's left end Mike Nowell opening play of the quarter, the aerial of this well-coached team troubles for its balance of the season.

In the Tiny Tot League's top team, the mounted their sting steamroller to finish scrappy Rams squad. "Brown's" Vaughn Veater, scored TD from the Rams' marker. Quarterback Burns added two scampers of his own. Melander, enacting the dream, snatched end punt in mid-air at it to the magic yardage away. Despite interceptions and snafus by Jim Martin and the Rams' offense stalled short of the Browns' end zone.

Four games are set for the coming weekend League football. The invited to watch double beginning at 1 p. m. and Sunday at the Tarawa race field.

All-Camp Lejeune Sailboat Races Set For Saturday, September 19

The Quad-Command sailing race will be held Sept. 19, at 1:30 p. m., in the Wallace Creek Boathouse area.

At stake in the race will be the All-Camp Lejeune Sailing Championship Trophy, now held by Marine Corps Base. The winning command will display this trophy, a large ship's bell, until the race next year.

Additional trophies will be awarded winning teams. Anyone interested in competing in the event should contact Lt. John Vining at Ext. 7-5397.

New River Officials Meeting

The New River Officials Assn. will hold a meeting Sept. 30, at 11:45 a. m., to elect officers for the next 12 months. The meeting site will be Goettge Memorial Field House.

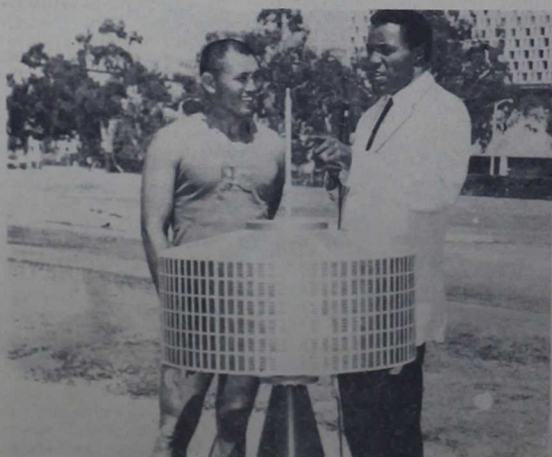

Jr. Rifle Club Meeting

There will be a meeting at the Rifle and Pistol Club (building D6) at 7 p. m., Sept. 29, for all boys or girls between the ages of 10-18 interested in learning to shoot.

Cross Country Series Begins Soon

The first of six cross-country races will be held at Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, Sept. 19, at 1 p. m.

The remainder of the schedule will be announced later. Anyone desiring transportation to Cherry Point to participate in this race should contact Lt. McDermott at Ext. 44313 prior to 3 p. m., Sept. 18.

OLYMPIC STARS—Three Olympic "stars" meet as Rafer Johnson, right, 1960 Olympic decathlon champion, explains to C. K. Yang of the Republic of China, 1964 decathlon favorite, how the Syncom III communications satellite, represented by a full-scale model, will transmit television coverage of the Tokyo Olympic Games. Mr. Johnson will help broadcast descriptions of the games via Syncom III, which is in orbit some 22,000 miles over the Pacific Ocean.

Ramblin' With Rich

Eighteen potential fighters turned out for physical examinations Monday, in preparation for the screening for the Lejeune Boxing Team.

So far, three of last year's fighters, all of them champions, have made their appearance at the Field House.

Ernie Mercedos, the Carolinas AAU 112 lb. champ, and Mina, current All-Marine 119 lb. king, and Bob Zacc, the man who beat Charlie Brown last year for the 11 lb. All-Marine Crown, turned out.

Coach has been named yet, but Ernie "Pappy" Lawse, a veteran of 19 years in the boxing game, as fighter, coach, and trainer, has started the ball rolling.

If you made plans to attend the Camp Lejeune vs. Dix game here, Nov. 7 — forget it. Dix had to drop out of football due to lack of participation.

At the end of August less than 20 men were out for practice with the Dix unit, and it takes twice that many men, after the final cut, to have much hope of fielding a winning team.

The Devil Dogs now have only three home games. Fort Levens dropped out earlier, cutting the D'Dogs to four battles on home soil. The athletic office was able to schedule Elon College to fill the open date, and although the game is at Elon this year and won't give too many Lejeune fans a chance to see the game next year Lejeune will have six home games, as Elon will play here.

The Elon College game is slated for 8 p.m., Oct. 10. Marines in uniform will be admitted to the game free.

Every athlete entered in the '64 Olympics were to vantage of Japan's lenient liquor and tobacco laws, the games might never take place.

A look at the allowances shows that members of the Olympic teams can bring: 7.5 bottles of whiskey, 60 bottles of beer, 60 bottles of wine, and 60 packs of cigarettes.

A Japanese official explained the list saying, "We don't expect everyone to bring that much liquor with them. We made the rule because we've been told training is harder from country to country."

While Americans are expected to stay on the wagon during competition and training, Germans, for instance, are included in their training diet, the French wine, and the Italians insist on mineral water.

Devilpups Lose To Garner 1-0 In Season's Opener

The '64 edition of the Camp Lejeune High School Devilpups displayed flashes of good potential in their first Friday against the Garner Rams, even though they lost, 21-0.

Devilpup coach George [Name], and his assistants, [Name] and John Griffin, led the team with a large number of inexperienced players and this lack of experience played a definite part in the opener. Some of the starters had never played an organized football game before.

In comparison, the Rams are a well-oiled AA in North Carolina. They are big, strong, and experienced.

Against this team the 'pups were out of sync, cold, and defensively they started off slow, then tightened up in the second period. The backfield, operating from a T formation, was running hard and fast, but they were unable to move too much due to faulty line support.

The Devilpups showed a lot of spirit in the game and occasionally displayed flashes of fine potential, and with more work and their growing experience, they are certain to bring grief to several teams this year.

The Rams scored touchdowns in the first, second, and fourth periods, and racked up a two point safety in the third quarter.

Devilpups' Football Schedule

Leatherneck Marksmen Win National Rifle Match

CAMP PERRY, OHIO — The U. S. Marine Corps Saturday captured the National Trophy Rifle Team championship in one of the most thrilling finishes since the inception of the event in 1903.

The six-man squad had to do it with superb shooting as the Air Force made a strong bid for the title.

The two teams finished with identical scores of 1,486 points out of a possible 1,500. But the Marines poured 145 of their shots into the v-ring, a smaller circle within the bulls eye used to break ties, while the men in blue managed only 131 v-ring shots.

The Air Force put the pressure on the Marines when their six men finished shooting the 50-shot per man course early and the word flashed down the line that they were only 14 points down.

The last Marine pair of shooters still had 17 shots left and their team was already down 14 points.

With a large portion of the crowd of spectators watching breathlessly behind them the two Marines, interservice champ SSgt. Donice Bartlett and Sgt. Ronald Cantey, from Camp Lejeune calmly drove home shot after shot into the black and received a rousing cheer when the last round was scored.

Channel Bass Run Starts At Hatteras

Hatteras, N.C.—Small channel bass began to show in the surf of Hatteras Island during the past couple of weeks.

Wheeler Ballance of Hatteras reported one party of anglers reeling in three, the largest a 14 pounder, just before the fall-end of Hurricane Cleo brushed the Dare Coast with heavy rains, and enough breeze to make the sea too rough for fishing.

Catching channel bass, even though small, during the last days of summer, is an indication of better runs and larger fish during the autumn months, according to piscatorial prognosticators of the Outer Banks.

If they are right in their predictions, it will be a good break for surfcasters going to Hatteras this fall, as many who fished for the bronze back fighters last Spring were disappointed at the lack of fish.

In addition to channel bass ranging from puppy drum and yearlings up to the whoppers that may scale at 50 or more pounds, the angler who answers the call of the Hatteras Island surf should be getting plenty of sea mullet, occasional tarpon, blue fish and trout during the coming days.

SSGT. DAN PRESTON holds up the results of more than 30 minutes of wild fighting in, under, and around a Surf City Pier. Preston believes this 30 pound amberjack is a pier fishing record.

USAFI Report

USAFI Offers Courses On Four Varied Levels

Before the United States Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) refined it, the correspondence course was the step-child of formal education.

Today the advantages of this form of learning are recognized by most educators. Nearly 85 percent of USAFI credits are accepted by civilian institutions.

USAFI offers 200 courses of its own on elementary, secondary, technical and college levels. It also provides for 6,000 additional courses offered through many cooperating colleges and universities.

USAFI provides the study guides, texts and tests for the existing courses offered by the Institute and is constantly revising, adapting and updating its materials.

Administered by a group of qualified, energetic, dedicated men and women, USAFI has great plans for the future; both their own and that of the men and women of the Armed Forces. On Nov. 1, 1963, USAFI had 272,000 active enrollments—persons taking courses and submitting lessons regularly. By Nov. 30, 1963, some 23,047 new enrollments were added to the total.

These figures include those enrolled in USAFI correspondence courses, group study courses and University of Wisconsin correspondence courses. The total of those enrolled actively in courses offered by participating colleges and universities is even greater.

WERS I WASHINGTON

By Douglas Cader

These new numbers are so relevant in the light of the current disposition of power in the United States into the hands of the politicians who have the political writers attempt to describe it. The book is a searching commentary on what has happened since the Second World War in the United States into the hands of the politicians. The author, is National Affairs Editor of THE PORTER, offers a appraisal of the strengths and weaknesses of a government which must be aware.

ARMAGEDDON

Leon Uris

Because the background of the war in Germany and the invading Russian aggressions, the author of EXODUS tells the story of Major Sean O'Sullivan, allied military governor of Berlin, who sees the beginning of the cold war.

THE SILKEN ANGELS

By Martin Caidin

This is the story of parachutes, the silken angels that have effected some of the most dramatic rescues ever recorded. Beginning with an account of the first known parachutist—a mongrel dog from the streets of Paris—it continues through the first person narrative of a man who jumped from almost 103,000 feet and free fell for more than four minutes before opening his chute. The author also tells about the men who have used parachutes as their only protection against sudden disaster—Charles Lindbergh, Jimmy Doolittle, Tommy Walker, the stunt jumpers, the test jumpers, and, of course, airmen in World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

ADVENTURES IN PUBLIC SERVICE

By Della and Ferdinand Smith

The story of eight men, some well known and others not, who have devoted their professional lives to serving the United States Government.

TT NCO Wives

The Tarawa Terrace NCO Wives Club held a White Elephant Sale at their last meeting. All proceeds went into the treasury, which now holds $131.60 which will be donated to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library Fund.

The USO and the NCO Wives Club are making "Home Town" books to be placed in the lobby of the Community Center on a rack which was donated by the Tarawa Terrace Community Council. There will be 50 books each one representing a different state of the Union. Feel free to drop in and look at these books and sign them. Evelyn Tyndall, Chariman of the Welcoming Coffee Committee, tells of a coffee that is planned for the near future though no date has been set. Free babysitting will probably be available that day. Watch the GLOBE for news of this event.

Don't forget Grocery Game night on Sept. 28. Price of admission is one canned good of any type.

Coming up in the near future is a cake decorating class.

Bargain Hunters Go To Thrift Shop

A better bargain can't be found than those you'll see when you shop at the Thrift Shop, located in bldg. 1403, next to toyland.

Sponsored by the Staff NCO Wives' Club, the shop is staffed by volunteer workers, and is open from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. Wednesday and Friday. Profits from the shop are donated to scholarships for the graduating class of Camp Lejeune High School and to charity.

With Mrs. Joyce Sharke, chairman of the Thrift Shop acting as CO of the operation and Mrs. Jo Howell as her XO, along with three advisors to the board, Mrs. Bernie Bender, Mrs. Bonnie Ehley and Mrs. Betty Barrow, the overall operation of the Thrift Shop runs like the precision movements of a swiss watch.

Donations and goods to be sold on consignment may be brought to the shop during the hours of 9-12 a. m. on the days the shop is open. All articles must be clean, pressed and in good repair.

Displayed on the racks and shelves are girls' and women's skirts and dresses; all colors, and all sizes. Also available for the men are winter and summer uniforms, dress blues, suits and sport coats. Formal, baby needs, dolls, aprons, books, games, purses, hats and kitchen gadgets are but a few of the other items displayed for sale.

There are three ways articles reach the Thrift Shop for resale: donation, donation through Navy Relief, and consignments. Of the articles that are put on consignment, the Thrift Shop takes 20 per cent of what the article sells for. Items are marked down 20 per cent every thirty days, and if they aren't sold in ninety days they are automatically donated to the Thrift Shop. Articles may be reclaimed after thirty days if they haven't sold.

The profit received from the operation of the Thrift Shop is channeled into scholarships which are awarded to deserving students to further their education. A total of $1,080 in scholarships is awarded each year to four deserving graduates of the Camp Lejeune High School.

The Thrift Shop also donates their profits to charitable organizations like the United Fund, Retarded Childrens Fund, the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmans Club in Washington, D. C.

Recipe Of The Week

CURRY OF LAMB (INDIA)

- 5 or 6 pound leg of lamb
- 3 or 4 cloves of garlic
- 2 tbsps. butter
- 1 large onion diced
- 2 stalks celery, diced
- 2 or 3 cans mushrooms
- 1 1/2 tbsps. curry powder
- 2 tbsps. water
- 2 1/2 tbsps. salt
- 1 tsp. pepper

First day, cut narrow gashes in roast and insert split cloves of garlic. Bake leg of lamb in open roaster at 350 degrees F., until the meat starts to brown, salt and pepper on that side and turn it, adding more garlic if desired and a small amount of water.

Bake in open roaster until meat browns on other side, add salt and pepper and about 2 cups water. Cover roaster and bake until meat is tender. When cool, place in refrigerator. Slices or cubes are better if cold, also save all pan juice.

Second day, cut up lamb as desired. Brown onion in melted butter, add celery and mushrooms, let simmer until thoroughly heated again.

Serve with boiled rice and any or all the following condiments: shredded coconut (fresh is best); chutney; ground peanuts; grated yolks of hard boiled eggs; grated whites of hard boiled eggs; chopped ripe olives; crisp bacon, chopped; green relish; red relish; raisins. Serves 16-20.

Top Division Squads Try For Corps' Best

The top three infantry squads of the 2d Marine Division will vie for the title of "Best Squad in the Marine Corps" in annual titration at Quantico, Va., tomorrow.

The top squads, chosen by inter-unit competition, are squads from Company "T", 3d Battalion, 2d Marines; Company "L", 3d Battalion, 6th Marines; and Company "L", 3d Battalion, 8th Marines.

The squads competed against squads in their own companies to win the chance to vie against battalion squads and then regiments. On Sept. 18, each squad member will feel the "butterflies" in his stomach as he goes up against eight other exacting and proficient squads for the coveted title in the most competitive contest his squad has faced this year.

All three 2d Marine Division squads are equally confident that they will return to Camp Lejeune with the trophy and the title of "Best Squad in the Marine Corps."

Their uniforms may not be the sharpest, after what they've been through, but they're standing tall and proud. This squad from Company "I", 3d Battalion, 2d Marines was chosen to represent their regiment in the All-Marine Squad Competition. Shortly after this picture was taken, these men went on a three-mile run, followed by a night reconnaissance patrol. At the head of his squad stands Squad Leader Sgt. Thomas C. White. Front row, left to right,

Cpl. C. A. Hopkins, LCpl. D. T. Lang, LCpl. L. J. Cobb, LCpl. G. T. McCenter, Cpl. R. B. Henry, LCpl. T. O. Green, LCpl. Dobie, PFC L. L. Leonard, Jr. Back row, left to right: Cpl. E. J. Fuller, S. L. Hurrin, LCpl. S. O. Hooper, PFC L. O. Bailes. Alternates (not shown) are Cpl. B. J. Daniels and PFC J. B. Parks.

res, LCpl. J. M. McGugin, Jr., LCpl. K. R. Klopton, PFC S. Irwin, Jr., Cpl. Robertson, PFC A. J. Vojtkofsky, PFC A. Franklin, PFC H. L. Panne, LCpl. W. L. Sutton. This is the 1st Squad, 1st Platoon, Company "L", 3d Battalion, 6th Marines.

Representing the 8th Marines, 2d Marine Division, will be this squad from the 1st Platoon, Company "L", 3d Battalion, 8th Marines. They pose here with their Regimental Commander, Col. R. S. Johnson, front row, left, and Squad Leader Sgt. J. E. Moody, front row, right. Second row, left to right are, PFC B. H. Riesold, Cpl. J. J. Moore, LCpl. D. J. Munre, LCpl. A. Reed, PFC

M. J. O'Brien and LCpl. J. A. Raber. 3d row: LCpl. J. H. Payne, PFC Corkran, PFC A. Rivera, PFC G. B. Prentice, and PFC S. O. Rawls. 4th row: LCpl. D. K. Hammon, LCpl. A. B. Crowley, PFC T. Richardson, PFC Potts, and Cpl. G. C. Creel.
