Grassroots Guerrillas Defend 'Mob' Coffee Call Pledge To Stop 4th MEB Troops

GRASSROOTS GUERRILLAS—Villagers recruited by guerrilla forces salute the "Circle Trigon Party" flag during an early morning ceremony at their forest headquarters near Camp Pickett, Va. The Circle Trigon is the official flag of the guerrilla forces who are opposing members of the 4th Marine Expeditionary Brigade in mock-war during Exercise Grassroots-64. Guerrilla Commandante J. D. Retter and his followers have pledged to prevent the "Yankee invaders" of the 4th MEB from entering the mythical District of "Mob" created within Camp Pickett. The Marine exercise is designed to give commanders, staff officers and troops practical experience in large-scale counter guerrilla/counterinsurgency operations.

CAMP PICKETT, VA.—A nine-village district of "Mob" has been established at this army camp by Marines who are acting as a Spanish-speaking civilian populace participating in Exercise Grassroots-64, which began here Sept. 1.

Governor of the district is 22-year-old Marine Private First Class Mario Montegudo of Miami, Fla., a member of Force Troops based at Camp Lejeune. Acting as a civilian chieftain named Julio Rodriguez, PFC Montegudo and his followers have become key figures in the 6,000-man exercise being directed by Marine BrigGen. Donn J. Robertson.

According to General Robertson, both friendly and guerrilla forces may attempt to gain village support by various means, including coercion, armed force, and psychological warfare techniques.

Specially trained for the exercise, Marines acting as civilian officials of Mob converse only in Spanish with members of the 4th Marine Expeditionary Brigade, the "friendly force" in Grassroots. Thus 4th MEB unit commanders are forced to recruit and utilize interpreters from within their ranks to conduct their civil affairs program within the district.

According to the concept of Exercise Grassroots, the 4th MEB, commanded by Marine BrigGen. John G. Bouker, will enter the district of Mob (Camp Pickett) at the request of Governor Rodriguez and his followers. Guerrilla forces in the province, in addition to opposing friendly forces in mock armed combat, will attempt to infiltrate the civilian populace and conduct insurgent operations.

One battalion of Marines from the 4th MEB arrived in the Blackstone, Va., area Aug. 31 in a 200-truck convoy from Camp Lejeune. An additional assault company was landed by helicopter at the Lawrenceville, Va., airport. On Sept. 1, both units launched an assault on guerrilla forces already deployed within the Camp Pickett army reservation.

Exercise Grassroots is designed to give Marine commanders, staff officers and troops practical experience in large-scale counterinsurgency/counter guerrilla operations. Units participating are from the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops at Camp Lejeune and the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing, based at MCAS, Cherry Point, N. C.

Colonel Jack Hawkins, author of the novel "Never Say Die", which narrates his escape from a Japanese prisoner of war camp in the Philippines, was presented the Joint Service Commendation Medal Aug. 26 by MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Base Commander.

Colonel Hawkins' colorful Marine Corps career began in 1939 when he was sent to the Basic School in Philadelphia, Pa. At the outbreak of World War II he was stationed on the island of Bataan serving as platoon leader with Company 1st Battalion, 4th Marines. It was decided that GOVERNOR OF MOB—Marine Private First Class Mario Montegudo, 22, is playing the role of "Julio Rodriguez" governor of the mythical district of Mob during Operation Grassroots-64 being held at Camp Pickett, Va. The Spanish-speaking governor heads a nine-village district inhabited by specially trained Marines acting as a foreign speaking civilian populace.

After Parents Killed

El Toro Marine Major Adopts Seven Children

When Marine Maj. Edward E. Backus set up an archery target in the back yard of his home, little did he realize that it would lead to the adoption of seven children six years later.

Ranging in age from two to 15, the kids have been orphaned since January when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Dorey, and a four-year-old sister were killed in an automobile accident in Pittsford, Vt.

Major Backus and his wife Gertrude, are now in the process of adopting the children and have been appointed their co-guardians. They are living in Santa Ana, Calif., where he is a communications officer with Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron Three at the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station.

In 1958, the Backus' became close friends of the Doreys', then their neighbors, when the major was on duty as an Inspector-Instructor for the organized reserves in Burlington, Vt.

One day, soon after moving into their new home, Backus set up a target in his back yard and started practicing his favorite hobby—archery. Eager young eyes watched him over his fence and soon he was teaching the Dorey children with other neighborhood youngsters the basics of the long bow.

In 1961, Paul and Dolores Dorey visited the Backus' while the major was stationed at Twentynine Palms Marine Corps Base in Southern California. The Doreys' long trip from Vermont brought up the subject of the adoption of their children should any misfortune befall them and the kids were left alone. They made an agreement whereby if this should occur, the Backus' would adopt all of the children as a family and raise them as Catholics, even though the Backus' are not of the Catholic faith.

On a cold, wintry January 19, Paul and Dolores Dorey were killed in a head-on collision which also took the lives of their daughter, Jana, 4, and two elderly neighbor ladies who were traveling with the Dorey family. Six of the children were taken to a nearby hospital and only 12-year-old Dennis sustained lasting injury; a badly fractured leg.

Major Backus, stationed at El Toro, got news of the accident the next day by a telephone call from the children's uncle. Fifteen-year-old Paul, had reminded his relatives of his parent's plan for such a situation.

Backus and his wife, flew to Vermont immediately and arrived the next day, just after the funeral. The Dorey relatives wanted to find someone who would be "competent and capable of bringing up the children as a family."

"I had the problem of convincing the relatives and appropriate judge whom I had never met that I was the right person to bring up the kids," said the major.

He said the primary reasons why he is adopting the children are his love for them and his intention to keep them together as a family.

Mrs. Backus stayed with the children in their Vermont home while the major returned to El Toro.

In late June, he drove to Vermont to take his wife and the children in his converted nine-passenger station wagon back to the base where they are living now.

During the first part of the trip until they reached Indiana, they camped out, but soon tired of this and stayed in motels the rest of the way.

In talking about his wife's effort in caring for the children, the major observed, "The end result has been that the children have gained the weight she has lost."

Another of the Marine's observations in the extent that people have gone out of their way to help him and the children. After the people of Vermont recovered from the shock of the tragic accident, they immediately started collections and fund drives to help raise money for the children.

Over $8000 was collected using every method from a cupcake sale to an all-star hockey game with famous players competing.

A landslide of cards and letters expressing sympathy were sent from people everywhere. They offered money, material goods and several wanted to take one or two of the kids for their own.

A man in Idaho whom Backus had never met wanted to give him a piece of land in Northern California.

"You know, kindness is contagious" said the Marine.

ONE OF MANY new items of equipment that the Marine Corps Landing Force Development Center takes a look at each year in an effort to find the right equipment for the fighting Marine is this amphibian called the Marsh Screw. This vehicle was recently evaluated for capabilities with current helicopter and copter slings, its operational capabilities amphibious shipping and landing craft, and capability of the amphibian to traverse swamps, marshes, rivers and streams.

MCAF, New River Gets CNO Award

Two 2d Marine Aircraft Wing squadrons have been selected to receive the Chief of Naval Operations annual safety award for outstanding safety achievements in fiscal year 1964, the 2d Wing Aviation Safety Office announced Aug. 12.

Marine Observation Squadron-1 (VMO-1), MCAF, New River, N. C., was selected as having the most outstanding safety record in competition with all other Marine Corps special fleet units, Marine All-Weather Fighter Squadron-451 (VMF(AW)-451), Beaufort, S. C., took top honors in the all-weather fighter squadron category. '451 recently flew the first non-stop trans-Atlantic flight to Rota, Spain earlier this year.

'Marsh Screw' Evaluation Underway At Quantico

The Amphibian Vehicle Division of the Landing Force Development Center at Quantico, Va., is a ground for proposed additions to the Navy's amphibious arsenal.

Working in this capacity members of the Amphibian Vehicle Division under the direction of Maj. J. V. Phillips have completed a three week test series on Chrysler Corporation's latest amphibian, the "Marsh Screw".

Built for the Bureau of Ships, the Marsh Screw was tested and evaluated at the request of the Chief of Naval Operations.

The tests were designed to evaluate: the capabilities of the Marsh Screw with current helicopter and copter slings; its operational capabilities with amphibious shipping and craft; and the capability amphibian to traverse swamps, marshes, rivers and streams.

Designed to operate marshy soils, water in the vehicle is capable of porting six passenger driver and can deliver pound payload.

Two counter-rotating propellers, a 116 h.p. engine give the forward, backward and thrust.

The body, rotors, engine, transmission are constructed of light-weight aluminum.

The vehicle measures in length, 8' 2" in width has a ground clearance of 10 inches. It has attained water speed better than 14 m. p. h.

It is the responsibility of the Amphibian Vehicle Division as an integral part of the Landing Force Development Center to provide factual information concerning the efficiency and utility of military equipment being considered by the service.

In a recent statement Wallace M. Greene, Commandant of the Marine Corps, said, "In furtherance of the Marine Corps' responsibility in research and development we continue to evolve the best in tactics, technique, equipment for use by our forces." The Commandant of the Marine Corps and all organizations are duals to forward their ideas for improvement in tactics, techniques and equipment to the Landing Force Development Center. He said that through the efforts of all Marine personnel solutions to our development problems will be found.

Meet Designer Of Purple Heart Medal

In the photo at right, Miss Elizabeth Will displays the Purple Heart Medal she designed 32 years ago. The medal, awarded to thousands of members of the Armed Forces of World Wars I and II and conflicts since, contains a likeness of Gen. George Washington and his family coat of arms. The first and only other Purple Heart decoration was a simple cloth device authorized by Washington for men of the Continental Army. Miss Will has completed 40 years of service with the Department of the Army and is assigned to the Institute of Heraldry, Cameron Station, Va.

The President signed the bill Aug. 7 that will authorize payment of 51 cents-a-mile to move a serviceman's trailer by a commercial hauler. This is an increase of 15 cents-a-mile.

Although the President signed the bill, he left the effective date up to the Pentagon, but barring any last minute changes it will be retroactive to the date it was signed.

This means that a serviceman who has moved his trailer on permanent change of station orders since that time will be entitled to the new allowance.

The 11 cents-a-mile allowance the government pays a serviceman to move his own trailer is still in effect, but Defense has the authority to pay up to 20 cents-a-mile.

The physical examinations required for entry into the Camp Lejeune schools for the school year 1964-65, will be done at Bldg. 15 each Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 3:30 p.m., throughout the school year for those children who were not examined during the regular examination period.

The aforementioned regulations, while pertaining to all personnel, drivers and pedestrians alike, aboard Camp Lejeune, are not designed to put a stop to or hamper car pool operations. Members of pools, both drivers and riders, keeping in mind the existing traffic regulations, are advised to arrange among themselves the proper pick-up and drop-off points.

The pedestrian strolling along the highway or its shoulder, with his back toward oncoming traffic is not only going the wrong way according to regulations, but he is also going in the opposite direction of safety. While most targets hard to see are hard to hit, in the case of pedestrians, the target (pedestrian) that is hardest to see is even harder to miss. The best advice to the pedestrian, if the roadside walk is necessary, is to "walk on the left side," facing the traffic and avoid facing a ticket or the Grim Reaper.

Finders are keepers, generally, but not in all cases. At some time one may find an article which is part of a survey and by returning the article to its original owner, could help in the gathering of scientific data.

Such was the case last Sunday when MSgt. William F. Fairchild, Headquarters Co., Force Troops, went to Onslow Beach for a day of sunning and swimming with his wife.

Sergeant Fairchild spotted a strange looking bottle lying on the beach while he was beachcombing. While examining the bottle he discovered that it was one of those placed in the ocean by the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, Woods Hole, Mass.

The institution places a number of these bottles to drift in the water with enclosed cards containing its address so that finders may inform them of just where and when the jar was retrieved and thus supply them with data on the flow of currents and tides for their oceanographic surveys.

Although the jar itself is sealed to keep it buoyant, finders are sometime surprised to find that sand has been driven through the seal of the bottle. Evidence of the force contained in moving water, which is not always apparent to most of us. Sergeant Farichild found approximately two teaspoons of sand had accumulated since the jar was first set adrift.

Med Men Select Milady's Fashions After Models Show Aboard Monrovia

WITH THE U. S. SIXTH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, (Delayed) — Generally, in this so-called man's world, it is not surprising to learn that most woman's clothing is designed by men. Although women must generally accept the designs and styles, they must also select that design that suits them most. Then, as the final item is approved, man must again enter the picture and purchase the newly selected attire.

A slight twist to this sequence of events took place August 4, when Marine and Navy personnel stationed aboard the attack transport USS Monrovia (APA-31), were treated to a special Paris style show.

Mlle. Martine Hymans and her traveling troupe of four fashion models (manequins), arrived aboard the flagship of

Stop Highway Slaughter

Camp Lejeune personnel and their families are urged to pitch in and make this Labor Day the safest holiday of all.

Let's remember the spirit and purpose of Labor's own holiday by putting an end to the slaughter on our highways. Remember safe driving practices and courtesy on the road as you celebrate this great holiday.

These holiday tragedies need not be repeated this year. Accidents can be prevented if all concerned do their part. Safety is everybody's job — on the highway, at work, in the home, and at play. All personnel are urged to help in this all-out effort to save lives and maintain the dignity of Labor Day.

Beginning at 6 p.m. tomorrow, the country's 3.5 million miles of streets and highways will begin to swarm with probably the largest number of cars ever to take to the road.

The intelligent driver will keep this in mind and remember that the increased traffic likewise increases the possibilities of accidents. He will drive defensively.

He will be especially alert, observing all the rules of good driving, and he will not depend on the other driver. When he sees another car approaching an intersecting crossroad at a high rate of speed he will slow down.

The defensive driver will not drive when he is overtired, he will not try to pass on curves and hills.

He will always keep in mind that there will be others on the road who will not obey these basic safety rules and will be alert for them so that he and his family do not become innocent victims of the reckless and the speeders.

Votes Climax Campaign

One of the greatest dramas on earth is entering the final scenes. The players are performing with great intensity, building toward the big climax.

The drama, of course, is the 1964 presidential campaign, and the big climax is Election Day, Nov. 3. The players are the candidates, the campaign managers and all the people it takes to get the production on stage.

But this is one production in which, ultimately, the audience plays a greater role than any of the principals. Without them and their vote, the drama would have no big climax.

As servicemen, we are an important part of the audience — the American people. We are the first to be affected by the course of national defense policy. We can reasonably be expected to scrutinize the ideas of the candidates on this great issue more carefully than the average citizen.

And we should never delude ourselves that, because we wear uniforms, we should remain aloof from the contest. The uniform doesn't amount to a reason not to vote; it amounts to a duty to vote!

Your branch of the Armed Forces wants you to vote! It urges you to apply for an absentee ballot. It appoints a voting officer to give you assistance in obtaining it.

Your home states wants you to vote! It provides all the necessary ballots and voting information.

And above all, the candidates want you to vote! After all, one of them will be your Commander-in-Chief as a result of the election. Your interests and your mission will be among his greatest concerns.

So why not join the cast? Send for your absentee ballot today and make sure your name is listed in the credits when the final curtain comes down.

Chaplain's Corner

Over this Labor Day week-end Camp Lejeune is sponsoring a Traffic Safety Program. You may well ask, "What do we have to do with the Chaplains or religion?" The answer: For Christianity is not confined to Holy Days alone. As a fact, in every respect, Christianity is "a way of life." It is our EVERY action and not just those actions we choose to influence. In this regard, let us consider two quotations as meaning as they relate to our lives.

What the writer of the book of Romans tells us, Shakespeare rephrases in his tragedy, Hamlet. Paul the Apostle writes none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself" (14:7). Shakespeare puts similar words into the mouth of P. who speaks them to his son in fatherly advice, "This above thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night thou canst not then be false to any man." (Hamlet, Act III).

Here we are told that "our business" is not always business—but that what we do and are, affects the lives of about us. Paul indicates that our lives reflect upon God, and we are told that they reflect upon and influence our fellow neighbors.

How very true this is. There is not a tragedy or sorrow, but what touches the lives of others than the ones involved. It seems "smart" to say, "What I do is MY business and mine alone", or "I can live my own life". This is a reply, for herein we confess that we care only for ourselves and no one else.

"...None of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself." Doesn't this place a burden of responsibility upon us—to the extent that we stop to realize our carelessness affect not only our guilty selves, but the innocent bystander?

Shakespeare says, in effect, "before we can do otherwise, we will first betray our basic trust in ourselves as principled persons, we will see our lives as intersecting with, and interacting upon those of family, friends, and even complete strangers. This is especially true of the operator of an automobile, on this Labor Day Week-end.

MOVIE REVIEWS

THE PINK PANTHER
Is it a mystery? Is it a farce? Is it a comedy? Is it a lampoon on the doings of the high jinx of the international set on the Italian Riviera? None of these things and all of them, say the producers of Mirisch Company's Blake Edwards production "The Pink Panther" starring David Niven, Peter Sellers, Robert Wagner and Capucine in Technicolor-Technirama.

THE NUTTY PROFESSOR
After taking pot shots at the Army, the Navy, law enforcement, outer space and the hotel business, Jerry Lewis now directs his attention to higher education in his new comedy, "The Nutty Professor."

In the movie, Jerry plays a screwball professor of chemistry who in the daytime is a meek, humble teacher, and at night there is an expression of terror on his face.

FIEND WITHOUT A FACE
A horror-drama, centering on monstrous fiends created by thought materialization and threatening to destroy the country. Starring Marshall Thompson and Viennese Kim Parker. The story begins in a small Canadian town, where the U. S. Air Force has set up a secret radar experiment station. During a test, a farmer is found dead in the woods. There are no signs of violence on his body, but there is an expression of terror on his face.

THE THIN RED LINE
Here is a story of human beings under the ordeal of close and sustained infantry combat in a world they never made; no faceless men, or mere types, but individuals known, and deeply probed. Full of fear and bitterness, cowardice and shame. Is a searching analysis of the heroism of modern war.

THE WHEELER-DEALERS
To those high-flying fast-living tycoons from Texas who do everything for fun, money is just a way of keeping score. Starring that husky, handsome James Garner and lovely, adorable Lee Remick. He's a get-rich-quick guy and she's a girl who's not really out to make a million dollars, because that's already been done. So it's one lulu of a love-chase with everyone going along for the joy-ride.

LADY IN A CAGE
The story of a rich elegant woman who, through a power failure, becomes trapped in her home elevator. As she and the elevator hang suspended nine feet above the ground a series of shocking events occur. Into this gentle woman's home comes a wino, a street walker and three young hoodlums and suddenly the atmosphere becomes charged with violence and murder.

FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE
British Secret Service Agent James Bond is assigned by his superior, M, to aid a young Russian girl defect to the West. Believing herself to be a willing tool of her government, she is actually the pawn of SPECTRE, a group of international criminals who plan to use the beautiful Russian girl to lure Bond to his death and confound both the British and Russian secret service agencies.

ADVANCE TO THE REAR
Some fighting men win battles through sheer heroism. Some win them by cunning and logistics, and then, of course, there's Company "Q," the only soldiers ever to win a war by mistake. Company "Q" is an outfit of misfits. In fact, they're the ones who invented snafu. So, when they are sent on a vital military mission, well, no hamlet is left unturned as they "Advance to the Rear."

FOR THOSE WHO THINK YOUNG
Filmed in Technicolor and Techniscope, the teen-themed, tune-filled comedy presents a starring cast made up of America's most, liveliest dramatic and musical talent. James Darren stars as a millionaire college playboy who chases campus queen Pamela Tifft until she catches him. Though the accent is on youth, the film was made for full family enjoyment with the emphasis on all-around entertainment.

THE THRILL OF IT ALL
This laugh-filled comedy stars Doris Day and James Garner. In the film, Doris plays the average American housewife, but she's about as average as the Hope Diamond, because she earns $80,000 a year on the side selling soap on TV. She does her housework in a 3600 house dress and in the evenings she goes to formal dinners in a chauffeur-driven Rolls-Royce. She bathes her children regularly while a crew of work men are putting a 50-foot swimming pool in her back yard.

WONDERFUL TO BE YOUNG
This romantic comedy introduces to American film fans Cliff Richard, top recording star abroad, and idol of millions of teen-agers. In the film Cliff portrays the leader of a youth club whose members buck a real estate tycoon, Curtis father, who is intent on acquiring the property on which their clubhouse is situated.

RHINO
The human stars are Harry Guardino and Robert Culp, two popular Hollywood actors, and Shirley Eaton, a platinum blonde British beauty. In a series of dramatic adventures, they capture two rare white rhinos, are caught in a forest fire, clash with native poachers, tame a leopard that has been threatening a Zulu village, operate on an injured lion and drug-dart wild buffalo, zebra wildebeest and other animals to determine the proper dosage to be used on the huge rhino.

LABOR DAY HOLIDAY

Tomorrow opens the long Labor Day weekend across the country. For many people, it will be their last. The National Safety Council predicts well over 400 human beings will die due to traffic accidents over the three-day holiday.

As of the end of last month, more than 21,630 privately owned cars were registered aboard Camp Lejeune. It is hoped that on next Tuesday morning,

"I have great extra-sensory perception for this sort of thing."

"I told you you were following too close."

this total is not reduced, except perhaps through the transfer of personnel or the sale of vehicles.

With a lot of extra effort on the part of all Camp Lejeune drivers, whether spending the weekend locally or hundreds of miles away, none of Lejeune's Marines, sailors or their dependents will be listed among the national statistics.

No one will have to look around in ranks in search of the man who stood beside him before the weekend, or marched in front on "last week's" hike, or look at an unoccupied desk across the office.

In the past, the holiday traffic toll averaged an increase of 25 percent over non-holiday weekends. The traffic is heavier on the holidays than it normally would be, and this only in-sarily have to climb.

The drawing, signs and cartoons accompanying this article are intended to pictorially express what has been verbally repeated over and over again — sometimes doing good and sometimes not. Even the cartoons, with their humorous tone, are full of meaning. Each carries its own suggestion for safety.

As the hands of the clock approach liberty call tomorrow and the Duty NCO prepares for the rush for liberty cards, then is the time to begin practicing highway safety. Remember, there is plenty of time and everyone should conduct themselves, and operate their cars accordingly.

Statistics show that the first 12 hours of a holiday period takes the heaviest toll of lives on the highways. In this early period an average of six deaths occur every hour. The last 12 hours of the holiday, an average of four persons are killed per hour.

One gruesome fact about traffic fatalities is that two-thirds of these deaths occurring, and poor judgment.

cur just around the corner, within 25 miles of home, and half take place within 10 miles of either the starting point or the destination. The rush to get ahead of the heavy traffic or to get out in front when starting out, and the delay until the last possible minute contributes highly to these deaths.

Once on the road, one safety measure to observe besides watching out for the other guy, is to watch out for you. Three out of five holiday traffic acci-

Figures show that most holiday drivers meet their deaths at their own hands — through excessive speeds, distractions while

"Come back here, you."

Road Forks

Driving at night is always hazardous during good weather and even worse during poor weather. One common mistake at night is over driving the car's headlights. Under good conditions, it takes a car 366 feet or 23 car lengths to stop from 60 mph. A good practice is to reduce your speed during the hours of darkness by at least 10 miles lower than your daylight limit.

practices, even if you got away with them before. The odds are heavy already and are continuously mounting against you. Drive safely this coming weekend and live to drive safely other weekends.

Football Season To Open Sept. 11th For Devilpups

With only eight days remaining before the opening game of the Camp Lejeune High School "Devilpups", football season, coach George Slaughter still isn't sure of the caliber of his team.

"We have a bunch of young, inexperienced ball players. There is a lot of potential on the team this year, and they have looked good in practice, but you can't tell what they are going to do until they get in a game". They are learning a lot though, and overall, the prospects are good."

The Devilpups open their season Sept. 11, at Gardner, N. C. The first home game will be against Hallsboro, Sept. 18. Nine games are on the Devilpups schedule this year.

Except for the final game of the year, against Quantico, all the "Pups home games will be played at the Intramural Field, near Harry Agganis Field, starting at 8 p. m.

Grand Regatta Planned For Labor Day Weekend

Plenty of action is planned at the New River Air Facility for those who will be staying close to the base over the long week-end coming up.

A Grand Regatta, a three-day affair will be underway featuring canoe races, rowboat races, log rolling, sailboat races, canoe jousting, powerboat races, a ski tournament, ski race, and a water ski show.

All military personnel and their dependents are welcome to either watch or participate.

Football Outlook

(EDITOR'S NOTE: First of a three-part series on the pro, collegiate, and service academy football prospects for '64, contributed by the Armed Forces Press Service.)

The way professional football is played today, the only thing certain is that nothing is certain. It has been the pro format for a decade and was never more evident than last season.

In both the National Football League and the newer but firmly established American Football League, the 1964 forecast again points to a season with tight division races, volatile offenses, interesting defenses, packed houses and the "guarantee" that somebody will upset somebody every weekend.

It's the uncertainty in the championship races of both leagues that breeds excitement and indicates another record year at the gate. There are the favorites, of course, but who wants to predict the Chicago Bears a sure-winner in the NFL, or the San Diego Chargers a shoo-in in the AFL?

have a lot of fancy names, just good ball players." Buffalo, with Cruncher Cooke, and Boston, with its fine passing game, are the co-favorites, but New York and Houston certainly are not headed for embarrassment. The Oilers, though they lack consistency, are long on explosiveness.

Bowling Officers

The Officers Bowling League is scheduled to kick off their winter league at the new base bowling center at 6:30 p.m., Sept. 16.

Any officer interested in entering a team is reminded that Sept. 11 is the deadline for registration. Openings are still available.

Three Flights Set For All-Lejeune Golf Tournament

Three flights and three consolation flights have been set up to accommodate nearly 100 competitors who entered the All-Camp Lejeune Championship Golf Tournament.

Matches for the event have been posted at the Paradise Point club house. The first two rounds must be played by Sept. 12. The tournament will be completed by Sept. 27.

There will be three trophies awarded in each flight at the post-tournament banquet.

Lytle Cops Top Honors In All-Marine Golf Match

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—Corporal Dick Lytle from MCRD, San Diego, Calif., posted a six-over-par 78 for the final round of the All-Marine Golf Tournament on the Parris Island course recently, but still coasted to victory and the All-Marine Championship.

Lytle, who is also the current interservice Champion, ran into trouble on the par fourth hole where he carded a double bogie six. On the sixth hole Lytle recorded five bogies and took a stroke penalty for a lift out of a water hazard and another double bogie six. He finished the nine with two bogies on the eighth and ninth holes for a nine hole total of 41. In the final round, he recorded some of his previous form as he negotiated the final nine in 37 strokes. He had carded the three previous rounds with sub par scores of 71, 70 and 71 to carry him to victory.

Platte First Class Pat Baker of MCAF, El Toro, Calif., proved the competitive thrill for spectators as he sank an 11 foot birdie putt on the second hole of a sudden death playoff to take the runner up spot from Sgt. Ray Royal of MCRD Parris Island.

After charging from behind with second round four-under-par to assume the runner-up spot the 36 hole mark, Baker set the scene for the playoff as he hit a 76 and a 79 for the final two rounds. Royal fired 75 and 76 to overtake and tie Baker at the end of the 72 holes.

After halving the first hole of the playoff with pars, Baker hit an enormous drive and second shot on the par five 527-yard second hole which left him only thirty yards off the green. Royal put his third shot twenty feet on the pin but Baker hit a wedge shot that left him hole in one. Baker sank his birdie putt after Royal missed his two footer by a hair.

Baker's second day score of 68 was low for the tournament and was only one stroke away from tying the course record of 66.

Seant Vern Hyslop, who previously shot more birdies—

DICK LYTLE

Glenview, Ill., with a total of 299. This set the scene for another sudden death playoff which terminated on the second hole with a birdie by Hyslop.

Halving the first hole with Beverly by a bogie, Hyslop put his third shot on the second hole only four feet from the pin. Beverly's third shot was twenty five feet to the right of the cup and on the apron. Hyslop sank his four foot putt for the bird and forced Beverly to settle for fifth place in the tournament.

NFL (Eastern)

Meet me in St. Louis, Louie, because it could be the Cardinals' year. With a bevy of backs like Crowe, Gault, Childress and Triplett, St. Louis depth has the other six division clubs worried. The Giants, as usual, will go as far as Tittle can take them, but New York now has defensive troubles. A dark horse: the Washington Redskins, whose trades have given them a new look. A team with Brown on it is always a threat, but Cleveland needs more than Jimmy. Dallas is another club deep in talent and could go all the way. Pittsburgh has a sure toe in Lou Michaels, not much in the way of a consistent offense. The "new" Eagles won't be the patsy they were in '63.

NFL (Western)

Can the Bear offense take the pressure off the fantastic Bear defense, the biggest single factor in Chicago's '63 championship? The Packers don't think so, mainly because they lost twice to the Bears last year and have made moves to see it doesn't happen again. Baltimore, with Unitas, and Detroit, with its great linemen, are not to be counted out. Mira's arm should pitch the 49ers into prominence, but not this year. Minnesota and Los Angeles are low in experience.

AFL (Western)

San Diego to repeat, but certainly not as easily. Oakland won one game in '62, finished 10-4 last year. Indications are that the Raiders should show more improvement. Kansas City, the AFL's puzzle club, has the horses and good rookies. Lowly Denver traded like mad in the off-season.

AFL (Eastern)

A toss-up, and that includes the New York Jets. Says Jet Coach Weeb Eubank, "We don't WARRANT OFFICER JAMES HILL—"Showed his heels" to the rest of the competition in the smallbore championships at Camp Perry. Gunner Hill, the '64 smallbore champion, scored a total of 4792.379, won five individual matches, and set two new records on his way to the crown.

DEDICATED SERVICE—Commissioned Warrant Officer-4 Charles W. Keeton, Officer-in-Charge, Base Cash Sales, receives his certificate of retirement, from Major General A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, upon completion of more than 30 years active duty. He also received a personal letter from the Commandant of the Marine Corps expressing General Greene's personal appreciation for the outstanding manner in which he carried out his assignments.

Meritorious Masts

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS MARTIN V. MERRITT, 8th Motor Transport Bn., Force Troops, has been awarded a meritorious mast by Maj. F. B. Okonsky, acting battalion commander. The mast read in part:

"In that you during the period of March 28 to June 30, 1964, performed your duties as a Motor Vehicle Operator in an exceptional manner. During this period you were part of a truck platoon supporting Battalion 1/6 on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico. Your outstanding ability to drive a five ton cargo truck through difficult terrain under difficult conditions brought comments of awe from virtually all who happened to witness. Many times you switched places with another driver who had become hopelessly stuck, and brought the vehicle out with apparent ease. Your great amount of cooperation and attention to duty brought noteworthy remarks from those officers and non-commissioned officers whose unit you were supporting. You are an operator of Motor Vehicles of the highest calibre."

GUNNERY SERGEANT ROBERT L. ALLEY, an instructor at ITR was awarded a letter of appreciation for his work with the Camp Lejeune Boy's League by MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base. GySgt. Alley has served in the capacity of coach, commissioner, vice president, and president of the Boy's League.

CORPORAL LOUIS E. WARD, 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, has been presented a meritorious mast by LtCol. W. E. Magon, Group Commander, for noteworthy performance of duty. The mast read in part:

"During the period April 27 to July 31, 1964, Corporal Ward was assigned duty under instruction at the Radio Telegraph Operators Course conducted at Communication School, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Camp Lejeune. He graduated in a class of 37 students with an academic average of 95.62% highest student average of 1964. The previous high average was 90.87%."

I wish to congratulate Corporal Ward for his outstanding achievement. It is recognized that such a superior record in this course can be accomplished only through studious application, diligence, and hard work. His efforts reflect credit upon both himself and his organization."

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS WALLACE P. HARRELL, 2d Tank Bn., Force Troops, has been awarded a meritorious mast by LtCol. Thomas M. Horne, Battalion Commander, for outstanding performance of duty while attending the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Defense School. The mast read in part:

"You are hereby commended for your performance of duty as a student at Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Defense School. You final standing of first in a class of 43 with an average grade of 90.3% in a class which averaged 77.7% can only be described as outstanding. This accomplishment is indicative of high motivation and laudable desire to excel. You are urged to continue the fine performance of duty that has merited you this commendation."

Lejeune Teachers Hold A Pre-School Workshop

In they came—some in groups and some alone. After all rosters were counted and seats taken, nearly 200 teachers, new and old, school principals and officials were gathered in the auditorium of Camp Lejeune's Junior-Senior High School for the 1964 Pre-School Workshop.

The "workshop", was designed to prepare the teachers for the coming year and to brief them on the teaching and handling of students attending the many schools within the Camp Lejeune School System. This pre-school gathering is only one of the reasons Camp Lejeune has such high quality schooling.

One of the biggest reasons for this high quality, however, is the varied abilities of the teachers themselves. There are approximately 50 new teachers at Camp Lejeune this year and they come from colleges and universities across the country. Some are fresh from receiving their own education while others are reporting here with years of experience behind them, and the experience these teachers bring with them is passed on to the students.

The anticipated dry and dull atmosphere around the "workshop" was lifted by a short session of entertainment and group singing led by the "D. G's", a local folk singing group.

Following the pre-workshop entertainment, Cmdr. P. C.

Morton, CHC, gave the Invocation, which was followed by a welcoming address by Mr. W. H. Tuck, Superintendent of the Camp School System.

Guest speaker for this opening session was MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Base Commanding General, who was introduced by Col. R. M. Port, Chairman of the Camp Lejeune School Board. Following a brief get-acquainted intermission over coffee and doughnuts, the second session of the morning began when Mr. Tuck introduced the visiting guest speaker, Mr. A. C. Dawson, Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Education Association.

Late Registration

Late registration will be held for fall art classes under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Griesse anytime within the next two weeks. The classes will be held every Wednesday until school closes at the Jacksonville High School from 3:30-5:30 p. m. Cost for the classes will be $12.50 for six weeks. Individuals progress at their own rate with the basics and fundamentals of art being taught to all beginners. Anyone 10 years or over with an interest in art is invited to join the classes. For further information call Mr. or Mrs. Elmer Griesse at Richlands 324-2611.

PMO Holds Bike Clinic

One hundred thirty boys and girls signed in for the Bicycle Safety Clinic at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center on Monday morning, Aug. 24. Military Police Cpl. Denton, representing the Base Provost Marshal's Office, was present in full MP uniform. Cpl. Denton explained the Base regulations concerning Bicycle riding, and told the children what to expect from the MP Patrols in enforcing these regulations. Girl Scout Leader Joan Bedell gave some examples of recent accidents in the Terrace, caused by improper bicycle riding. After a general question-answer period, the children were assigned in ten groups with an adult leader for individual training. Certificates were awarded to those boys and girls who successfully completed the training.

In order to insure that children and parents understand the same rules for bike riding, the important points of the training are listed below:

Base Regulations, Base P5569.2B, state that 1. "Bicycle riders shall observe the same traffic rules and regulations as are required of motorists in these regulations." This means, of course, that bicycle riders are to proceed with the traffic, not against the traffic as in walking. That 2. "Bicycle shall not be operated on sidewalks,—" This is interpreted to mean that BEGINNERS as well as good riders WILL NOT ride on the sidewalks on a two wheeler.

That 3. "—nor shall there be more than one rider unless the bicycle be provided with seats for more." This clearly means that the bicycle must be built with two seats, two sets of pedals, etc. You do NOT use the baggage or book carrier, which is on the back of most bikes, for an extra rider.

That 4.—"Bicycles shall not be operated after dark unless equipped with headlights and rear reflectors". There is no questions about what is expected here. It is highly recommended that children riding at dusk or dark wear light colored, preferably white, clothing.

Marines Are Victorious In The Eyes Of Children

(Editor's Note: The following article appeared in "THE OBSERVER POST.")

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Aug. 12 — Mrs. Martha Arnold, a secretary in the 11th Naval District Public Information Office, Los Angeles Branch, has offered her congratulations to the U. S. Marine Corps on its latest "victory."

Mrs. Arnold, who offered the praise with tongue-in-cheek, did so through the office of the Marine Corps Representative, 6087 Sunset Blvd., located across the hall from the Navy office.

Her husband, Bob, a Cub Scoutmaster gave a written examination to his Pack on the subject of American Heritage. The group of boys, ages 8-10, had been studying the subject since January. One of the questions asked was, "Who were considered the bravest men in the history of our Country?"

What Mr. Arnold felt was the appropriate answer was, "The Minutemen. They were farmers and businessmen, who, without training, many of them armed only with pitchforks, fought the British Empire for the freedom of our Country."

Nine of the thirteen answers received touched on patriotism but didn't refer to the Minutemen.

Here are the Cub's answers, ages...and spelling.

"The Marines, because they are first in war, first in place and first in the hearts of rub-bermen." (Age 10)

"The Marines. Because they don't play with girls." (Age 9)

"The Marines. Because the Navy plays in the ocean and the Army fights with its stomach and the Air Force just rides around in planes. The Marines fights everybody." (Age 8)

"The Marines. Because they are at Vet Dam fighting gooreas-lors in bear hands." (Age 9)

"The Marines. Because my daddy was a marine and he beat up on the jeps and won the war. My daddy doesn't want everybody to know this because it would hurt the feelings of the army." (Age 8)

"The Marines. The Marines went in berlin and the army let them put up a wall. The Marines were in Corear and only let them put up a line."

"The Marines. Because John Glen was a marine and was the first man to go to heaven and see God. And now he is sick in the head and is going to be our president." (Age 8)

"The Marines. Because they are in Vet Mam fighting with pitokes and shovills for our fredom." (Age 8)

"The Marines because the Navy gets the gravey and the Army get the beans." (Age 10)

USS SENNET—The submarine USS Sennet was used by 2d Recon Battalion during its "Mare" phase of training at Onslow Beach.

Recon Marines Complete Sub Training Off Onslow

"Up the hill, down the hill, around the hill, through the hill, all the way . . . Recon, Recon . . ."

This sing-song cadence of the 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, 2d Marine Division, is a familiar sound to thousands of Marines at Camp Lejeune. The words are part of the chant used by Recon Marines when undergoing a daily 3-mile run.

To by-standers, it rings as an endowment to romantic duty filled with travel, camouflaged utilities, swimming trunks, and adventure. In reality it speaks of hard work, long hours, and dangerous duty with little glory outside of that inner satisfaction received when one knows he is doing his best.

To qualify as a Recon Marine you must meet the daily physical training requirement of: 75 push-ups, 15 pull-ups, 30 squat thrusts, 75 side straddle hops, 30 lunges, 30 squat jumps, double time 3 miles, and take six hikes of at least 30-mile distance each 3-month period.

But don't let this scare you. The 2d Reconnaissance Battalion is no different than your organization or any other in the Corps as far as their goal is concerned...attaining maximum proficiency in order to insure success in combat.

The 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, formed Jan. 28, 1958, at Camp Lejeune, gathers information on terrain and enemy installations for the 2d Marine Division. In combat, most of their work takes place behind enemy lines. Their transportation includes helicopters, rubber boats, submarines, sea-planes, destroyers, and last, but not least...feet.

The Recon Battalion in keeping with its motto "Terra Mare Aeria" (meaning Land Sea and Air), has just completed the "Mare" (Sea) part of their training by conducting a week of training at Onslow Beach with the submarine USS Sennet commanded by LtCmdr. Charles L. Cotter.

During the week the Recon Marines practiced methods of embarking and debarking from the sub with rubber boats, night reconnaissance from the sub with the aid of infrared lights and electronic devices to guide them to the beach, and familiarization with submarines.

During their approach to and from the beach, the men of Recon Battalion fulfilled another part of their training, that of making a hydrographic survey of the beach. The purpose of a hydrographic survey is to provide information on beach conditions, underwater obstacles, and inland terrain.

Climaxing the week of training aboard the Sennet, the Recon Marines made two 70 ft. dives with the use of SCUBA gear.

Recon Marines rely primarily on stealth, cover and concealment, rapid reporting by extensive communication equipment and a high degree of mobility.

Their job, as the eyes of the 2d Marine Division, is filled with hard work, swimming trunks, long hours, danger...and never-ending training.

'Double Clutching' WM Enjoys 'Shift' In Duties

Woman Marine Private First Class Anna B. Inzerillo, stationed here enjoys her job of replacing a man behind the wheel of a Marine Corps vehicle.

She currently holds a license for operating 1/2-ton vehicles and is the only Woman Marine at Camp Lejeune permanently assigned as a motor vehicle operator with the Base Motor Transport Section.

"I joined the Marine Corps primarily for its educational benefits and the challenge of military life", she said, "but with my limited training and coming into the Corps from high school, I thought I would be more qualified in the Motor Transport field."

Her indoctrination training in driving for the Marine Corps started as a radio taxi driver. This familiarized her with the operation of a 1/2 ton truck and the location of the facilities on the base. As her proficiency increased she was given the special assignment of driving the Director of Woman Marines, Col. Barbara J. Bishop on her three day visit to the base.

"I've been driving since I was 15 years old," the 19 year old Woman Marine stated, "I have done some racing at the Niagara Falls, N. Y., track". "There isn't anything I would rather do than drive," she said, "I'm very happy the Marine Corps is giving me this chance to drive for them."

"I found out that the Motor Transport Section could always use another driver regardless of sex, she said, "so I applied for re-assignment was found qualified to fill a male billet as a motor vehicle operator and now I finally feel that I am doing something useful for the Marine Corps."
