Full Scale Exercise Set

6,000 Marines Poise For 'Grassroots - 64'

Some 6,000 East Coast Marines are preparing to move to Camp Pickett, Va., where units of the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic will conduct a full-scale counter-guerrilla/counterinsurgency exercise named Grassroots-64 beginning Sept. 1.

The 10-day exercise will be conducted at the Army camp located near Blackstone, Va., some 33 miles southwest of Petersburg.

MEAL WINNER—Major General B. A. Hochmuth, San Diego, Marine Corps Recruit Depot commanding general, pins the Navy and Marine Corps Medal on SSgt. George Feeney July 24 during a 2000-Marine parade and review at the Depot. Feeney, 34, won the medal for rescuing seven Marines from a crashed and burning helicopter Oct. 3, 1963 at Camp Lejeune.

Former Lejeune Marine Awarded Navy-MC Medal

Sergeant George Feeney, former Camp Lejeune Marine, received the Navy and Marine Corps Medal during an 18th man parade and review July 24 at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot. The medal is the highest decoration awarded by the Navy and Marine Corps for heroism in action not involving actual combat with an armed enemy. The action took place Oct. 3, 1963 at Camp Lejeune when Feeney helped another Marine, who pulled seven Marines from a crashed and burning helicopter. Feeney was in charge of a helicopter landing strip when it crashed. He said this plane go up about 100 feet, stall and then crash. He said he was about 200 yards away and immediately rushed to the downed helicopter. Feeney was lying on its left side and climbed up and starting the men free in said Feeney. Feeney was on the left side hanging by their safety and shoulder harnesses. He was able to free themselves. He was the Marines were in on the right side and under their equipment. Feeney was burned and despite warnings from the area that "the plane is going to blow" Feeney stayed until the passengers

Special Services 'Special'

Base Special Services has scheduled a "weekend in New York" for Quad-Command Marines Aug. 6-9.

Round-trip transportation will cost $20. Buses will leave the base at 6 p. m. Thursday for New York City and return Monday, Aug. 9.

For those desiring rooms at the Sloane House YMCA, Special Services will arrange reservations. The cost will be $2.40 per night for Friday and Saturday night. A 72 hour pass is a must to be eligible for the trip. Liberty will expire when you board the Bus in New York for the return trip.

The New York USO will have free tickets to TV shows and many other attractions that are yours for the asking. Also the USO has a booth at the World's Fair where tickets to some of the Fair's attractions will be available free to servicemen. The Yanks play the Baltimore Orioles that weekend and servicemen in uniform will be admitted free.

Reservations may be made at the Reservation's office, Goettge Memorial Field House. Deadline for reservations will be noon Wednesday, Aug. 5.

Participating will be ground units from the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops, and a Provisional Marine Air Group from the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing, based at Cherry Point. Exercise forces are elements of the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic commanded by LtGen. J. P. Berkeley.

Grassroots-64 is designed to give commanders, staff officers and troops practical experience in large-scale counter-guerrilla/counterinsurgency operations.

The major force in the exercise, the 4th Marine Expeditionary Brigade (4th MEB), will move by truck convoy and air to Camp Pickett, some 210 road miles from here. The 4th MEB is commanded by BrigGen. John G. Bouker, Assistant Commander, 2d Marine Division.

At Camp Pickett, specially trained Marines will act as civilian residents of the fictitious district of Mob. They will converse only in a foreign language. Thus, 4th MEB personnel will be forced to recruit and utilize interpreters from within their ranks to converse with the "civilian populace".

About 490 Marines from the 2d Division and Force Troops will make up a guerrilla force during the exercise. In addition to opposing friendly forces in mock armed combat, the guerrillas will attempt to infiltrate the civilian populace and conduct insurgent operations.

The exercise, which ends Sept. 10, will be directed by BrigGen. Donn J. Robertson, Commanding General of Force Troops at Camp Lejeune.

School Registration Dates Announced By Base CG

With the opening of the Camp Lejeune Dependents' Schools in 32 days, the registration dates for students have been established.

To be eligible to attend the dependents' schools, students must live in government quarters or in housing at Midway Park, Tarawa Terrace, Knox Traller Park, Marine Corps Air Facility, or Geiger Traller Park.

This requirement will be set aside if the Base Housing Officer certifies that placement in government quarters or Base Housing will be accomplished within 90 days after the opening of the school year.

Children who will be six years old before Jan. 1, 1965 will be eligible to enroll in the first grade providing they are registered by Sept. 1, or before the end of the first six week reporting period. A birth certificate is necessary.

Dependent children will be permitted to enroll in first grade after the six week reporting period providing they have attended first grade in another school system.

Colonel G. J. Haskins Succumbs

Lieutenant Colonel Gahan John Haskins, former Marine Corps Base Legal Assistance Officer, died July 20 in the U. S. Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Maryland. Death was unofficially attributed to cancer.

Colonel Haskins enlisted in the Marine Corps May 13, 1942 and served as an enlisted man until 1944.

During World War II, he reached the rank of sergeant and served on Guam with the occupation forces during mopping up operations. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve on March 21, 1944. The Colonel served as the executive officer of the 1st Radio Company in Korea.

He was promoted to his present rank in February 1962.

He is survived by his wife the former Miss Marge J. Mahoney of Berwyn, Ill. and four children.

VOTING ASSISTANCE—Captain Robert J. Esposito, Commanding Officer, Headquarters Company, Headquarters and Service Battalion, Marine Corps Base presents a Federal Post Card Application for Absentee Ballot to MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, to assist the general in voting procedure for the General Elections taking place this year.

Base Bakery

10,000 Pounds of

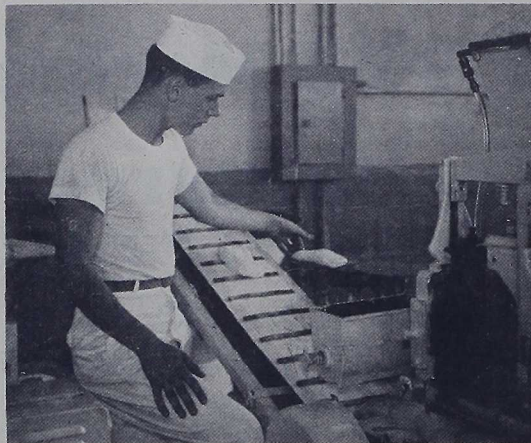

Bakery Goods a Day

Every cry of "pass the bread" in every mess hall on the base eventually goes back to WO Henry C. Kimmey, officer in charge, and MGySgt. William R. Morris, NCO in charge of the Base Bakery.

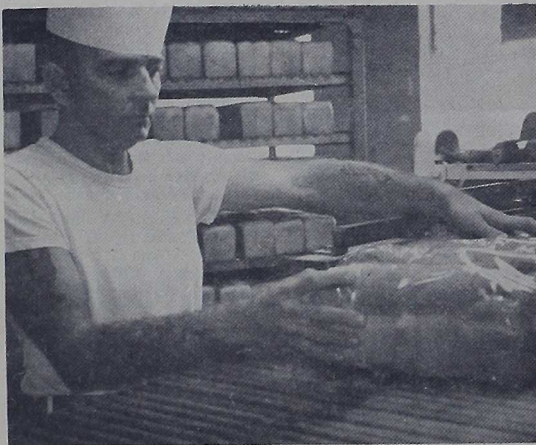

In a sanitary bakery in Hadnot Point's Industrial area, a Marine Warrant Officer and 31 enlisted men each day turn out over 7,000--1-1/2 lb. loaves of bread. The bakery is operated by the Base Food Service Division.

Warrant Officer Kimmey and his experienced staff supply the staff of life--more than 10,000 pounds of it each day--to all camp personnel, in addition to baking doughnuts for distribution to the mess halls.

This small group operates 18 hours a day, 5 days a week, baking fresh bread from the following ingredients: 7,000 lbs. of flour, 175 lbs. of yeast, 400 lbs. of granulated sugar, 400 lbs. of shortening, 300 lbs. of milk powder, 35 lbs. of Arkady, 160 lbs. of salt, 20 lbs. of malt, 8 lbs. of Dykon and 60 lbs. of DMC-77. These supplies are drawn from the Base Supply Department.

Then men bake all types of bread: white, rye, whole wheat and French. In addition to baking for all the Marines on the base, the bakery also supplies the Base Commissary and Cherry Point with fresh bread.

Housed in a plain-stucco building the size of a city block, the bakery is spotless. Its rooms are large and airy. In the storage rooms more than $15,000 worth of ingredients are kept on hand. The bakery receives a monthly shipment of 1,600-100 pound bags or two carloads of flour.

To be processed into a finished loaf of bread, flour is first sifted into a 10,000 pound capacity bin. It is sifted ten times, through a belting machine; 100 pounds of flour being sifted every two minutes.

Approximately 720 pounds of ingredients are then placed in a high speed mixer and mixed for 12 minutes. The mixture is dumped into huge troughs and rolled into the fermentation room. In the air-conditioned fermentation room, the dough risks and develops for a period of 3-1/2 hours.

1,349 loaves per hour

From here the mixture goes to a divider; a machine which divides the dough into 13-1/2 ounce pieces. Two of these 13-1/2 ounce pieces are twisted into a 27 ounce loaf, which when baked will make a full 24 ounce loaf.

Then, the dough goes into a proof box where the temperature is high enough to make the yeast active and also where the humidity is set to keep the loaf from crusting.

After that, the dough is ready for one of the bakery's two big ovens. Each $23,000 oven contains sixteen trays and can bake 448 loaves of bread every 40 minutes, or 1,349 loaves per hour. Here the bread is heated to 400 degrees every 25 minutes.

Next, the loaves are placed in a six-rack bread cooler for an hour. Then they go to the mechanical slicer which cuts and wraps the loaves at the rate of 1,500 per hour. The bread is then ready for distribution to the various mess halls.

Other bakery equipment includes a doughnut machine which can turn out 300 dozen doughnuts per hour with frying temperatures from 365-375 degrees Fahrenheit. This man section turns out plain doughnuts on Monday and cinnamon doughnuts on Thursday for mess hall consumption.

Master Gunnery Sergeant Morris, NCOIC of the Base Bakery, is a veteran of 23 years service with the Marine Corps.

With 20 years baking experience Sgt. Morris teaches others the fundamentals of baking for 5-1/2 years at Baker's School located at Montford, Point.

Money And Marines

By SSgt. L. E. WITCONIS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Third in a continuing series on the Marine and personal finances.)

Even a small cash loan is needed, the small loans department of your local bank should not be overlooked. One of the advantages of borrowing from a bank is the availability of a good credit rating. There are many banks, each with a different purpose and personality. They can be divided into two categories: Commercial, Industrial and Savings and Loan Associations.

There are two types of loans offered—secured and unsecured. A secured loan is one in which collateral such as savings, auto, property, furniture or furniture interest on secured loans are lower because the bank takes a lesser risk. A loan is one without collateral and is based on the creditworthiness of the borrower, on character and ability to pay the loan.

Commercial Banks

These are the ordinary banks that do business with individuals. Titles like the Eighth Street Bank, Rates for small loans average 6 to 18%, the finance companies, banks are normally higher. This means, if you borrow $100, you would have to pay $100. The reason for this is that the first three months interest is charged in advance. The 5% interest is not pure because interest is charged against the full amount of the loan ($100) and you only receive $98.75. So, this particular discount would more amount to 12% simple interest.

Under laws of North Carolina, commercial banks must have a revenue fee based on the amount of loan.

Industrial Banks

Industrial Banks, such as The Industrial Trust Company, have names which are misleading, giving the impression that they deal with industrialists only. Actually, industrial banks were originally founded to lend cash to low-income groups.

Industrial banks are commonly associated with the Morris Plan Banks, named after the founder, Arthur Morris, who started the system in 1910 at Norfolk, Va. Under this plan the borrower signed a dual contract in which he agreed to pay a flat rate of interest and at the same time agreed to begin payments on savings certificates issued by the bank. The idea was to have the borrower match the amount he borrowed in a systematic savings plan. Basically, industrial banks still use this system.

Rates of interest for small loans at industrial banks run approximately 20% over the entire period of the loan.

Savings And Loan Associations

Savings and loan associations and building and loan associations operate basically the same way as industrial banks, however, they are mainly in business to finance mortgages and home improvement loans.

Small loans are usually limited to 90% of the value of the shares the purchaser has in the association. Not all savings and loan associations have small loan departments. Rates of interest average 5-10% a year.

NEXT WEEK --Small loans from insurance companies, credit unions and pawnbrokers.

RIVER BARGE—Members of 2d Bridge Co., Force Troops, dismantle the raft they constructed to float their gear 15 miles down the South-west Creek to a bridge construction site. The pontoons will later be used to support the proposed bridge.

Force Troops' Second Bridge Company Duplicate Near Combat Conditions By Picking Tough Construction Site

T-I-M-B-E-R-R-R, a man shouts and with a splintering roar, a giant pine tree comes crashing down. Two Marines with an air-powered chain-saw rush forward and cut the pine into 20-ft lengths while axemen chop off the top branches.

As soon as each log is cut through, a team muscles the huge log onto their Shoulders and fight their way through the underbrush to add it to a corduroy road which is inching its way through the swamp.

This scene is now taking place at Southwest Creek, several miles from Verona where the 2d Bridge Co., Force Troops is carving-out a bridge construction site to be used for training purposes.

Major W. E. Snyder, company commander, chose this site because it had most of the conditions they could expect to find in combat, such as, inaccessibility, a heavily-wooded, swampy area and a wide, sluggish, deep stream.

Before any work could be done on the actual bridge-site, a road had to be built into the area. One platoon worked on the road construction while another built a raft at the company area at Camp Gelger.

The raft was built by lashing-together five 44-ft.-long pontoons.

While all this was going-on the 3d platoon was not idle. The men were busy chopping down large pines and sawing them into lengths to be used to make a corduroy road through the swampy area.

When the men are through, the bridge site will consist of a good road giving easy access to the area.

The objective of all this work, a 410-ft. long, class 60 bridge, will be capable of handling a division load. Infantry foot-bridges will be put in later.

The area will be a busy place this summer as hundreds of Marines from Reserve bridge companies will be using the site for their annual two-week active duty training.

California Income Tax Refund Law

The California Franchise Tax Board has ruled that "the personal income tax law provides that a person who leaves this State (California) for other than a temporary or transitory purpose becomes a non-resident on leaving. Therefore, a member of the military forces who is assigned permanently to a post of duty outside this State (California) will be considered to be a non-resident for state income tax purposes. If, however, the taxpayer is domiciled in California and his wife remains here (California) the wife will be required to file a return and pay tax on one half of the military pay earned by the husband outside the state, plus all income derived from California sources."

California Tax Law has a statute of limitations of four years so claims for refunds cannot be made for any year prior to 1960.

If you feel that you fall into this category of having paid California income tax on your military pay, possibly entitling you to a refund, write to the State of California Franchise Tax Board, 1025 P Street, Sacramento, California and ask for Form 543 which is the document utilized to file a claim.

Amateur Radio Operator

An urgent requirement exists for one amateur radio operator at Camp Garcia, Puerto Rico. Volunteers must be willing to serve in the Caribbean area for a period of six months. Volunteers must possess a current amateur radio operator's license that does not expire during the period of assignment.

For further information, contact Captain Elberts, Telephone 7-5792.

FOREIGN VISITORS—Members of the Windsor Regiment, Royal Canadian Student Militia, questioned Private First Class Borkowski about his tank-killing Ontos during a July 15 visit to the DE SOTO COUNTY. Forty-two members of the Canadian Militia visited the tank landing ship during her Detroit stay. Major John A. O'Brien, commanding officer of Marines on board, personally conducted the tour for the Canadian troops, commanded by Lieutenant T. D. Wearne. The De Soto County is on a three-month tour of the Great Lakes to present the Navy-Marine Corps team to the area residents.

Fire Fighting Chaplain Flees With Reserves

Fighting fire with fire is a daily occurrence in the life of Captain James J. Doyle, a Navy Reserve Catholic chaplain serving his summer training at Camp Lejeune. Her Doyle is the officially designated Fire Chaplain of the city of Paterson, New Jersey, a city of almost one-half million population. He reports to all second alarm fires, since these are the most dangerous type due to the possibility of their spreading rapidly.

Doyle was born March 1, 1901 in Passaic, N. J. He attended Passaic High School and graduated from Seaton Hall

College, S. Orange, N. J., in 1931 with an AB degree. He was ordained at the Immaculate Conception Seminary in 1935.

He was commissioned in the Navy Chaplain Corps on November 16, 1942 and was immediately sent to the Chaplain School, Norfolk, Va., his first duty station being the Naval Hospital, Long Beach, Calif. He was the first chaplain to be stationed at this newly built hospital.

Chaplain Doyle served with a mobile hospital unit during the mopping-up operations on Guadalcanal and after the completion of the operation, was ordered to duty with the USS Hancock, a carrier of the Essex Type. The USS Hancock took part in the Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Philippine Island and Formosa campaign. After the conclusion of World War II, Capt. Doyle remained in the Navy Chaplain Corps in a reserve status.

At present he is the Commanding Officer of a 3rd Naval District Chaplains Company of 23 chaplains.

Your Ideas Aid Defense Cost Reduction Program

Recently Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara sent President Johnson a report describing how the Defense Department had saved $2.5 billion during the past fiscal year through its cost reduction program. This figure is a cool billion-dollars above the goal set at the beginning of the year.

A lot of this money was saved by top-echelon action — base closings, procurement policy changes, etc. These were the sweeping changes that sent the savings figures spinning upward by millions of dollars at a time.

But another good portion of that $2.5 billion was saved by individual service men and women, down near the bottom of the heap in the DOD organizational structure.

They did it by becoming more cost-conscious as they went about their everyday jobs. They looked for ways they could eliminate wasted time, motion and material. They also offered suggestions to improve the way things were being done.

In fact, Secretary McNamara attributed much of the success of the program during FY 1964 to the fact that cost-consciousness "was beginning to permeate down." He said his office was "literally flooded" with suggestions.

The Secretary's report also forecast an annual savings of $4.6 billion by 1968. This is a realistic goal. All it takes is for more of us to jump on the cost-consciousness bandwagon.

Take a good look around. You might be able to spot some place in your activity where money can be saved.

While you're looking, it may help to keep this in mind: Every dollar you can save is a dollar "liberated" to go to work somewhere else in the Defense budget.

Chaplain's Corner

The desire to be like other people in our group has a powerful influence over us. In childhood we had to have our cowboy fit—just like all the other kids. In High School we wouldn't been caught dead wearing anything on our feet but white loafers and they had to be dirty! Then, just about the time we began outgrow this desire and started to be more independent, we slapped a uniform on us—just like all the others.

Conformity in some things is, of course, a good and necessary thing. A society cannot operate without rules to which must conform for the mutual benefit of all. It would be hazardous to say to yourself some morning, "I think I'll non-conformist today—I won't wear my uniform and I'll drive the left side of the street".

On the other hand conformity in some other things can be equally foolish and in still some others, down-right dangerous. An example of the danger of conformity is found in the heard slogan, "Well, at least I'm as good as the next guy".

A telephone operator in a small town a few years ago kept getting a call from a man about 11:45 every morning for the exact time. After a few months of this, her curiosity got the better of her and she asked the man who was and why he had to know the correct time every day. He replied, "I'm the man who blows the noon whistle at the factory across the street from you and I must know the exact time. Whereupon the telephone operator said, "Good Heavens, been setting our clock by your whistle—I wonder how far off both are by now!"

If we set up standards of religious practice and moral conduct based on the horizontal standard of "the next guy", we could slip badly—almost without knowing it.

This is why it is so important to keep in touch with through prayer and the Book that tells us about God. These turn our eyes to the stars and we find our standard of living, on the horizontal level, but in the perpendicular. God's righteousness becomes our standard of conduct. God's laws are our guide. And our lives and religious practices are led by God—rather by what others are doing or even by what mother would want us to do.

St. Paul says it well in the 12th Chapter of Romans: "Be conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God."

Operation "Copperhead" Calls Di

A recoilless rifle section stands-by

In the still and damp dawn of Tuesday, July 28, "Operation Copperhead" got underway when, at H-Hour, the amphibious and airborne forces of Marine Expeditionary Unit-7 applied their combined strength to aid the mythical island country known as "Conifer."

The MEU was the United States' answer to Conifers newly formed pro-western government's appeal for help to squelch the attempt being made by the old regime's troops to overthrow the new government.

Commanding the MEU, Col. R. A. Vanderhoof (Commanding Officer of the 3d Staff Group, Dayton, Ohio) and his staff evaluated intelligence reports arriving at his headquarters from intelligence personnel. Deciding that the best place to attack the "Copperhead" troops would be at an airfield located near New River, northwest of "Conifer." Plans were formulated and the operation begun at the designated H-Hour.

Helicopter borne landing teams formed from the 3d Bn., 25th Marines, the nucleus of the MEU. They were lifted to their first objective in the early morning hours and in short order had the airfield secured and established as their base of operations.

Troops, equipment and installations were quickly dispersed and camouflaged around the land-based headquarters. Artillery support was supplied by the guns of the 6th 105mm Howitzer Battery from Canton, Ohio while close air support came from Skyhawk jet aircraft of the 4th Marine Aircraft Wing. Reserve Communications were rapidly established between the landing teams and supporting units Voeltz (Commanding Officer, 3d Infantry Bn., St. Louis, Mo. Within three hours, the company had accomplished its assigned mission and set up a strong perimeter defense.

One hour after Company "K" began its airlift to the island's center, Company "I" was being transported by choppers to the northern part of the island to begin an attack on the enemy from the rear as Company "L", in AmTracs, succeeded in ing in the southern section. The three companies joined early this morning and quickly reorganized for their final drive to overpower the "Copperhead" forces still battling for survival.

By 0600 today, the last enemy position was overrun and the final objective secured by the Marines of MEU-7, ending the hostilities in "Conifer."

The preceding problem, only mythical in this case, could become an actuality at any place on any day. The reserve units of the two-year-old 4th Marine Division are training year in and year out to meet such a situation should it occur.

"Operation Copperhead" was the highlight of this summer's reserve training for some 2,000 Marines from throughout the Unit-

Corps, growing steadily in size since its birth in 1775, the Marine Corps Reserve has constantly increased in size since its formation in 1916. One year after it was established the Reserve consisted of three officers and 33 enlisted men.

This summer, more than 32,000 ground reservists are undergoing their two weeks of annual summer field training at Marine Corps posts and stations from the East Coast to the West Coast; in Hawaii and Puerto Rico. By August 29, more than 9,000 men from 46 Organized Reserve ground units will have passed through the gates of Camp Lejeune for their summer training.

Among the Reservists training in Lejeune's vast area are veterans of World War II and Korea. These men continuously play an important part in making the younger Marines combat ready.

To the Reserves, READINESS is their business — and they are READY.

Bohan Named As Director Of Lejeune Karate Team

Sergeant Donald F. Bohan was recently named as Director of the Camp Lejeune Karate Team.

Bohan began studying karate at Camp Lejeune in 1957, under the teaching of Don Nagle, who is currently the President of the Isshindo Karate Association. He began as a student of Judo, but Nagle spotted him during an exhibition and felt he would be good at karate.

Since that time, Bohan has Matches at Camp Lejeune; First Place Shias (tournament participant) on Okinawa; and three trophies for team demonstrations in the Orient.

In his new position as direc-

studied under the "Master" of Ishinryu Modes Karate, Tatsuo Shimabuku, on Okinawa, receiving a qualified instructor's certificate from him. Bohan has also participated in numerous demonstrations and matches both in the United States and in the Orient.

Sgt. Bohan was named to his post as director of the Camp Lejeune team by MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune. Bohan holds a 3d degree Black Belt and is the senior ranking known belt holder in the quad-command area.

His trophies and titles include: Grand Champion of the 2d Annual Camp Lejeune Karate Matches conducted in April 1964; First Place Free-Play Style at the 2d Annual tor of the Camp Lejeune team, Sgt. Bohan has charge of two schools of Karate. One, which is directly under his supervision and instruction, is the Isshindo Club. The other is the Shurinryu Club. The main differences between the two clubs is fighting techniques and "katas" (exercises).

Both clubs are now open for membership to male and female service personnel and dependents in the Camp Lejeune area. Aspiring students must be at least 18 years of age or have the consent of their parents or guardians.

The Isshindo Club holds classes Mondays through Wednesdays and Fridays in the Area #2 gymnasium from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. The Shurinryu Club has the same hours of operation in the Area #4 gymnasium.

The Isshindo Karate Association, which charts Bohan's club, has produced more karate champions than any other national karate association, and the sergeant plans on producing quite a few more. He is currently slated to head an eight-man team from the Camp Lejeune clubs to enter the World's Championship Karate Matches in Chicago September 8.

Rifle, Pistol Club Meeting

The Rifle and Pistol Club will hold their monthly meeting at the D-6 clubhouse at 7:30 p.m., August 3.

All members and prospective members are urged to attend the meeting.

Lejeune Still Alive In Roxboro Tourney

The Camp Lejeune baseball team stayed alive in the Roxboro Semi-Pro Tournament, beating White Cross 10-4 on the strength of a seven run final inning. Tonight the Devildogs will face Shady Oak in the tournament, and if the win this game they will play again Saturday.

In the battle against White Cross, Lejeune grabbed a two run lead in the opening inning as Jim Hall doubled to drive in Buddy Simpson and Hal Norton, but the lead held only until the fourth frame when White Cross pushed four runs across on a pair of triples, two singles and a walk.

Lejeune scored again in the fourth frame. In the seventh, the Marines converted six singles, a walk, a sacrifice and two errors into seven to ice the game.

Only seven innings are in the losers bracket tournament.

In other games last the 'Dogs won two and two. The two wins were Conference games over Guire Air Force Base.

In the first conference Oxendine and Poole handled mound work for Lejeune, Marines downed McGuire.

Hurler Harvey Oxendine handled a good portion of the stickwork. He rapped out doubles, and drove in runs. He also scored two runs, aided by the big Buddy Simpson, who also lectured three rbi's.

In the second McGuire Lejeune won 8-6, both pitching of ace right-hander Chuck Cuppett.

Lejeune scored once in the first inning, twice in the second, and exploded for five runs in the fifth frame.

Ron Burke and Chler singled, and then came a long single by Jim Hall fifth. Dick Garcia then Hall in with a base knock Lepto then walked, to stage for Cuppett's three homer over the left center wall.

The Stafford Braves edged Lejeune 6-4, despite runs by Hal Norton at Hall in another game last.

The East Coast Interconference leading Fort team squeezed by the M-10 in a real squeaker.

The game was scored into the ninth inning Baker, the Army's catcher, hit a single way, and a long hit by Saffin was bobbled to allow the run to score.

Prior to the ninth, neither had gotten past second on either team.

Frank Roth took the Lejeune, giving up one hit and two walks. He out four.

Lejeune was also held hits.

The current record Devildogs is 57-29 over 13-3 in the ECIC.

Football Top Sport Here According To Statistics

Last week an article appeared on the GLOBE sports pages citing baseball as the most popular sport according to a poll of sports editors.

A look at the attendance records of the four major sports conducted on a variety level here at Camp Lejeune points to football as by far the more popular spectator sport.

Four home games last year drew 23,100 spectators, for an average of 5,775 per game.

Boxing edged out baseball in popularity. In three home matches the boxing team drew 2,250, for an average of 750 per bout. The baseball team averaged 731 spectators per game, playing before 42,390 in 58 games.

Varsity basketball, dropped after last year, drew only 6,000 fans in 14 games for an average of 429 per game.

These figures do not reflect tournament attendance. Basketball figures would possibly be higher if the Christmas Tournament were included, and the Interservice Boxing Tourney statistics would shoot the fight figures way up.

Saffin Cops Div. Crown

Division Headquarters Bn., edged out Headquarters Btry., 10th Marines to capture the 2d Marine Division Team Championship during the Division Intramural Golf Tournament that ended here July 17.

Corporal John Saffin led the pack in open competition Friday with a 72-hole total of 315, to cop the Open Championship. Right behind him was Gunnery Sergeant Willie Miller with 320 and Master Sergeant Frank D'Errico with 326.

MCB, 2d Division Split Golf Honors

Marine Corps Base and the 2d Marine Division divided top honors in the All-Camp Lejeune Championship Golf Tournament last week.

Division #1 team beat out Marine Corps Base (a USNH team) in the finals of the open division.

In the novice class, the two base teams came together for the crown, with the ITR unit edging out H&S Bn., for honors.

H&S Bn., MCB Slates Handball Tournament

Headquarters and Service Bn., MCB, has scheduled a handball tournament to be held August 17-21, at the new courts, adjacent to Harry Agganis Field.

Each company within the battalion may enter two singles teams and one doubles team in the event. All matches will be played at 5 p. m.

The tournament winning team will be awarded a team trophy, and individual trophies will be given members of the top team. Points toward the Commanding Officer's Trophy will also be awarded to the winning organization.

JOHN SAFFIN

These three along with Sgt. Robert Hendrix and Lieutenant Colonel H. E. Danowitz will represent the Division at the FMFLANT Tournament at Cherry Point, August 4. Winners at Cherry Point will compete in the Atlantic Fleet Tournament, to be held at Newport, R. I., next month.

In senior competition, Lt. Col. H. E. Troy won easily with 244 for 54 holes. Col. R. C. McDonough was second with 252 and Gysgt. T. J. Buzek third, shooting 256. A three-man Senior Team will accompany the open contestants to Cherry Point.

H&S, MCB Paces Base In Tourney

At the close of the week's action in the Marine Corps Base Championship Golf Tournament, H&S Bn., MCB, looms as the team to beat.

The team, coached by Esposito, has gone undefeated in the tournament, and edged second place.

Base Material Bn., under in the double elimination affair last week, losing first game 11-4 to ITR then taking a 32-11 battle the hands of the H&S Bn. FSR team.

H&S Bn., MCB rolled ASD Bn. 19-7, then downed 13-3 to remain undefeated. In the only other tournament last week ASD Bn. beaten 22-10 by ESR Schools.

Monday's game, pitting Bn., 2d FSR, against ASD Bn., was postponed due to grounds.

Ramblin' With Rich

the baseball season draws to a close the four games against Fort Bragg look more and more important. In addition to these games, Lejeune has two conference games against Fort Dix, and two against Devens. The Dix and Devens units might have a very slight edge in these contests, as the Devilfishes will play them at the army's home stadium, but even so, Lejeune should win.

Lejeune does win the games against Dix and Devens. It will set their conference record at 17-3. Bragg has a couple more conference wins by then, but it is doubtful that they will have any more than the defeats they are carrying now. Right now Bragg is the way it's shaping up, the moment of truth will come at Fort Bragg. Lejeune will play there on the 10th and 11th, and then close out the season with a home stand against the Army nine.

A scrimmage last Friday this year's Devilfishes showed that although they aren't a particularly large team, they will have plenty of speed to compensate for their lack of size. They appear to have been in the head of the line when "fire" was being passed out. The majority of the players were scrambling for a chance to get in. Of course they are still scrambling for a chance to get in the team, but most of this aggressiveness came out in "bang."

This attitude is encouraged by the coaching staff, which appears to be doing an excellent job of whipping the team into shape.

This could be a good year for Lejeune

Although varsity basketball has been discontinued, fans that still are able to see Hazel Walker's "Texas Travellers" in action. This always popular team, made up entirely of women, will play the Camp Lejeune hardcourt champs, probably sometime in April

Marine Team Takes First Place In I. Tourney

Members of Fleet Marine Corps Atlantic, commands which took part in the I. Tourney, captured the championship berth during the annual I. Tourney last week.

Highlighting this was the victory in the Open Doubles play by the Garland Carlton, Marine Regiment, and the Carson of Division Reconnaissance Battalion. They won the final round 6-4, 11-9.

The living play of team tennis was the quarter and semi-finals of the Fleet Marines 4-tournament-point edge over the PhibLant to net the victory.

Lejeune Hurler With Senators

Bill Heywood, who pitched for Lejeune during '60 and '61, was recently signed by the Senators.

Heywood is now playing for the Raleigh Mount Senators, in the Carolina League. He has a 1-1 record and an earned run average of 2.45.

Earlier, while playing for the University of North Carolina, Heywood was selected to the team of the College All-American Team.

During his last year with the Senators, Heywood ran up an impressive string of nine straight wins in Atlantic Coast conference action, and finished the season with a 14-1 mark.

He has been termed "one of the greats" by University of North Carolina officials. In '63 ERA was .071.

Devilfish Coach All Wet - - Most Of The Time

Lance Corporal Jack Hayes is all wet . . . literally!!! He is in the water morning, noon and night; and has been since the age of nine. Not without reason though, because since that time he has accumulated more than 250 medals and over 25 trophies, attesting to his prowess in the chlorinated world.

An artillery surveyor with Headquarters Battery, 10th Marines, he is currently TAD to the Base Range Office and serving as lifeguard and water safety instructor at the area 5 swimming pool. He also doubles in brass as coach of the Camp Lejeune Devilfish, the military dependants swimming team garnering medals all over North Carolina.

Fishermen— Save $24

Two Camp Lejeune lieutenants recently paid $24 each to learn the following information about fishing in North Carolina.

Wildlife regulations in North Carolina permit a serviceman to fish in the county where he is stationed without buying a fishing license provided he has lived in the county more than six months and if he uses live bait only.

To use artificial lures, a license is required, regardless where you fish in fresh water. The safest bet is to go ahead and buy a license, as county borders are sometimes hard to distinguish.

In the case of the lieutenants, they thought they were still in Onslow County, but actually were in Jones County. They had a choice of paying on the spot, or having their car confiscated.

No license is required to fish in salt water.

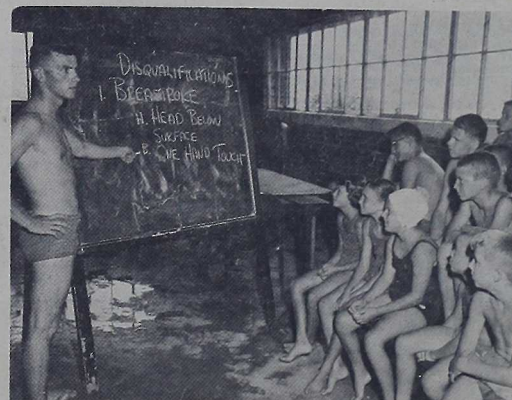

Jack Hayes took six awards at the FMFLant Swimming Championships earlier this month: 4 from individual 1st places and two as member of the winning relay team, out of 11 events. Impressive as this may appear it is a mere "drop in the pool" compared to his lifetime competitive record.

Jack a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., is 22-years-old, and has been swimming competitively since the age of 9. Always an apartment dweller, he began swimming when he discovered there were no baseballs of foot-

Medley Relay that competed in Jamestown, N. Y., under AAU auspices, demonstrating his ability to perform as well in a team effort as in individual competition.

Hayes attended Schenley High School in Pittsburgh 1957 to 1959 and was backstroke champion for those years. While in high school he was All-State every year, Runner-up Champion of Pennsylvania in 1959 and High School All-American for the 100 yd. backstroke 1958 and 1959.

After graduating Schenley he accepted a full - athletic scholarship to the University of Pittsburgh where he majored in English. As a freshman he was a member of the Freestyle Relay Team that competed in the Eastern Collegiate Association Swimming Tournament.

ball facilities as near his home as a pool.

He began swimming for the Young Men's Hebrew Association of Pittsburgh, where he remained until age 17. The YMHA competed against all teams in the Allegheny Mountain Association of the AAU. Swimming as an all-stroke individual he won 12 Junior Olympic Gold Medals and was top swimmer in the AMA for years.

In 1958 he was a member of the national record-breaking ment conducted in 1959 at New York University, and broke the record for that event.

In 1962 Hayes enlisted in the Marine Corps where he joined the ceremonial guard detachment at Eight and "I". He was too busy with duties to get back into the "swim of things" until joining the 2d Marine Division in 1963, where he competed in the Camp Lejeune and FMFLant Championships June and July of that year, finishing as high scorer in both meets.

Prior to entering competition in 1963 he was approached by LtCol. Noren, who was coaching the Devilfish, and requested to assume full-time coaching duties of the dependants team. The team had not been faring too well because of poor participation and transfer of key members.

After two months of Hayes tutelage, a thorough reorganization was accomplished and membership increased from 25 to 65 active swimmers. The revitalized team went undefeated in the Eastern North Carolina Swimming Association. This year they were defeated by only two teams (Fort Bragg and Norfolk) in winter competition. Outdoors they have yet to be beaten.

Officers Winter Bowling League

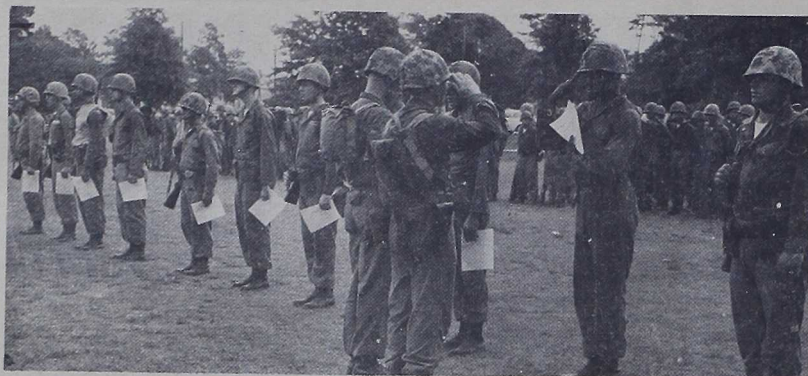

Any officer, either on active duty or retired, residing in the Camp Lejeune area, interested in entering a team in the officers winter bowling league may do so by contacting Major Tucker at extension 7-3130 or 6-6391.

Local Boaters Open Summer Sailing Season

The Camp Lejeune Sailing Association opened its summer sailing regatta Saturday under cloudy skies in varying wind conditions. Eight skippers, experienced from previous regattas, tackled repeatedly in the vicinity of the starting line for a close well-timed start.

Once over the starting line Jon Vining and his wife, Paula, took a safe windward position at the head of the fleet. Mike Askley and his wife, Marton, tried to break through to windward in an unsuccessful attempt to take the lead. After one challenge Vining was in the lead for the duration of the race.

Throughout the long chase-hunt to buoy thirty-six the margin between the boats widened and Vining, Askley, and Carol Zeh finished one, two, three, respectively.

REWARDING HIKE—Eleven 2d Shore Party Battalion Marines are promoted to the ranks of LCpl. and Cpl. during ceremonies conducted

MAJORS OF NORFOLK—In a scene reminiscent of flag raising ceremonies at Atlantic Treaty Organization Headquarters in Norfolk, Va., sailors and Marine tank landing ship USS DE SOTO COUNTY raise national and foreign "Avenue of Flags" in Bay City, Michigan's Wenona Park. Navy-Marine team members stand at Divisional parade on the LST. The combined color guard handled the city's color detail for each of the four days in Bay City. De Soto County is on a three-month cruise of the Great Lakes to bring to the people of the "Inland Seas" a new awareness of the mission and importance of the Navy-Marine Corps Team.

Recipe Of The Week

FLANK STEAK

- 3 lbs. flank steak
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 onions, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- juice of 1/2 lemon
- 2 tablespoons celery, minced
- 2 tablespoons carrot, minced
- 2 tablespoons green pepper, minced
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 cup tomato catsup
- 2 cups boiling water

A flank steak has long fibers, therefore cut with a sharp knife. Melt butter in an iron skillet and braise meat. Add lemon juice, then the chopped vegetables and seasonings. Put all ingredients on top of steak. Dredge with flour. Pour boiling water around steak and cook in a slow oven (200 degrees) for 2 1/2 hours. Its own rich gravy will be formed. This is a delicious way to fix a cheap cut of meat. Serves six.

Snake Myths Exploded

The average person has a dread fear, a misunderstanding, and little or no factual information regarding snakes. This condition coupled with the impression that the snake is a creature from the dark regions has led many people to believe the often repeated folklore or fallacies regarding snakes.

A snake is a cold blooded reptile; nothing less. The snake has a place in nature's system of balance, and does much toward keeping other reptiles, insects, and animals in check and under control.

FICTION--If you kill one snake, its mate will come to the scene.

FACT--Snakes do not mate for life, and would have no way of knowing a mate from another snake of similar sex and species.

FICTION--There is a poison dust inside the rattle of a rattlesnake that will cause a person to lose their eyesight.

FACT--There is nothing inside the rattle.

FICTION--A snake cannot strike unless it is in a coil.

FACT--Snakes can strike from almost any position and in any direction.

FICTION--Moccasins cannot climb trees.

FACT--Moccasins can and often do climb trees, although many of the non-poisonous water snakes are better climbers.

FICTION--The number of segments on a rattlesnake tail indicates its age.

FACT--New segments are formed each time the snake sheds its skin; rattles are often lost or broken, and it is unusual to see a perfect set.

FICTION--Snakes are slimy to the touch.

FACT--Snakes have dry skin.

FICTION--If you kill a snake it will not die until sundown.

FACT--Once a snake is dead, it's dead. The movement often noted is muscular reaction.

FICTION--Snakes hypnotize wildlife and people before striking.

FACT--A snake may fascinate wildlife and people, but not hypnotize them.

FICTION--A mother snake will swallow her young to protect them.

FACT--A new born snake, whether born alive or hatched from an egg, is on its own a few minutes after birth, and has no family ties.

FICTION -- Non - poisonous snakes do not bite.

FACT -- Non - poisonous snakes do bite; such bites should be treated by cleaning the wound and applying an antiseptic.

Navy WAVES Celebrate 22nd Anniversary Today

By PN2 J. D. LYNCH, JR.

WAVES throughout the country are celebrating their 22nd anniversary today. When the United States entered World War I, women all over the country felt the desire to serve their country and release men to fight for freedom. Today's WAVES are upholding that same tradition.

The Civil Service Commission made women eligible for enlistment in the reserves in 1917. The 11,000 women who enlisted and served proudly in the reserves were released from active duty by the end of 1919.

After the outbreak of World War II, women were once again given the opportunity to serve their country. On July 30, 1942, Congress authorized the establishment of the U.S. Naval Reserves for women. This law provided for the procurement of 1,000 officers and 10,000 enlisted women. At the end of World War II more than 86,000 women were on duty in the Continental United States and Hawaii.

The WAVES (Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service) became a permanent part of the Navy and the Naval Reserves in 1948 by the Women's Armed Forces Integration Act.

They receive the same privileges and benefits as enlisted men and share in the pride and tradition of their male counterparts. These women perform a number of tasks in administration, supply, medical, and numerous subordinate fields.

WAVES serve at every major post and station along the East Coast and in California. They also man stateside recruiting billets and perform overseas duty in Hawaii, London, Naples and Paris.

For the past 22 years, the WAVES have continued to grow and have become an important part of the Navy. Their selection and training provides the Navy with a growing and continuous nucleus of well-trained, professionally-minded women ready to meet mobilization needs.

Proof of immunization must be in writing and signed by a civilian or military physician, or a health department director. Military or state shot cards will be acceptable if up to date.

Physical exam schedules will appear in next week's GLOBE.

"It is my pleasure to extend birthday greetings to the WAVES on this, their 22nd anniversary. You continue to serve with the same devotion and dedication to duty as your predecessors. The fact that twice this year two WAVES have been selected as "Blue-jacket of the Month" and, from the many letters I have received praising your work, your loyalty and devotion to duty are fully demonstrated. Please accept from the Staff of the hospital and from me, hearty congratulations and well done."

The WAVES at the U. S. Naval Hospital will celebrate their anniversary with a formal cake-cutting ceremony today. Followed by a picnic at the hospital point picnic grounds.

As they celebrate their 22nd Anniversary, WAVES regular and reserves, continue to contribute to their own chapter of Naval history.

News From Headquarters

LDO, WO Changes

The Commandant of the Marine Corps has approved certain changes in the Fiscal Year 1965 Limited Duty and Warrant Officer Programs.

According to Headquarters Marine Corps officials, the most important change in the LDO and WO programs for this Fiscal Year is an extension on the deadline date for submission of applications. Marines now have until August 19, to seek nomination for the programs.

Another change is the addition of Category III MOS's to the list of occupational specialties in which Marines may be appointed warrant officers. These MOS's include: 0302, Infantry Officer; 0802, Artillery Officer; 1802, Tank Officer; 1803, Amphibian Tractor Officer; 2502, Communications Officer; and 4915, Range Officer.

Marines selected for appointment to these MOS's will carry the title "Marine Gunner" and will wear the distinctive "bursting bomb" insignia.

New Field Radios

Two field radios expressly designed and developed for the Marine Corps are now being phased into Fleet Marine Force units.

Headquarters officials say the radios, designated PRC-41 and AN/PRC-47, replacing the MAY radio and AN/GRC-9 respectively.

Acceptance of the new radios is expected to give the communications an extra boost.

The AN/PRC-41 is a ground-to-air radio. The "41" is a choice of 1750 channels compared to the four-channel set. It is also lighter than predecessor and has a longer range. The new model permits communication with aircraft as far as 100 miles away.

Infantry battalions, artillery units, division headquarters and reconnaissance units receiving the "41", it will be used primarily by forward control parties.

The AN/PRC-47 is a man packed radio which can be mounted in a quarter truck. It provides medium range communications at distances to 50 miles. The "47" is designed for battalion higher echelon use.

Both radios were tested at the Corps' Land Force Development Center, Quantico.
