6th Marines Get New CO

Colonel W. E. Daughtry Leads Famed Regiment

By SSgt. Jack Childs

Colonel George W. E. Daughtry assumed command of the 6th Marine Regiment, 2d Marine Division at a formal change of command ceremony July 14. He relieved Col. Glenn R. Long who has commanded the infantry regiment since August 1963.

For nearly half a century the crack Marine regiment has girdled the globe in time of war and peace, acting as a vanguard in their nation's interest.

From Iceland to Cuba, France to China, the 6th Regiment has rushed to trouble spots to squelch hot and cold war incidents.

47th Anniversary

This month the battle-seasoned regiment celebrates its 47th anniversary.

Here at Camp Lejeune the anniversary was marked with festivities befitting the occasion. At the 6th Marines' headquarters there was an "open house" for Division officers and Invited guests on July 10, Colonel Glenn R. Long, greeted the guests and took them on a tour of perhaps the most impressive regimental headquarters building at this Marine base.

Directly inside the door the guests saw a huge bronze boot, a replica of which is awarded annually to the most outstanding rifle company in the regiment.

HLZ BOARD—First Lieutenant E. B. Seay (in utilities), Commanding Officer, Company "B", 2d Recon Battalion, points out the different night light landing patterns for helicopters used by the battalion in their night operations to Maj. Haim Naveh, center, commander of an Israeli Helicopter Squadron. Looking on are Maj. Josef Opher, right, Commanding Officer, Transport Squadron, Israeli Air Force, LtCol. Abraham Erlich, 2nd from right, Commanding Officer, Israeli Defense Forces Parachute School and 1stLt. Henry W. Austin, 3rd from right, Battalion Adjutant. The Israeli Officers were with the battalion for a one-day orientation briefing and tour July 8.

Second Recon Battalion Hosts Israeli Officers

Three members of the Israeli Armed Forces were guests of LtCol. B. H. Curwen, Commanding Officer, 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, 2d Marine Division, and his Battalion at Montford Point July 8.

The officers, LtCol. Abraham Erlich, Maj. Josef Opher and Maj. Haim Naveh were with the battalion to be briefed on the structure, mission, equipment and tactical deployment of the Division's Recon Battalion. Special emphasis was placed on helicopter and night operations.

Colonel Erlich is the Commanding Officer of the Israeli Armed Forces Parachute School. Maj. Opher is Commanding Officer, Transport Squadron and Maj. Naveh commands a Helicopter Squadron of the Israeli Air Force.

Highlighting the afternoon was a trip out to the New River channel aboard an Air Facility crash boat where the officers watched seven members of Recon jump 20 feet into the river from a helicopter.

Before their trip on the crash boat they viewed a display of recon's rubber raft and SCUBA gear, a night helicopter landing light board (HLZ board), and a PRC 47 and PRC 10 radio used by the battalion. During the showing of the equipment 1stLt. E. B. Seay, Commanding Officer, Company B, explained to the officers how each piece of equipment was used and answered the Israeli Officers' questions.

There was also a rappelling demonstration from a height of 90 feet by four members of the battalion.

The Israeli Officers spent the day with Recon before moving on to the Air Facility.

'Medical Minimize'

This summer nearly half of the doctors at the Naval Hospital will be transferred or released to inactive duty. Most of their replacements arrive several weeks later. Therefore, several of the clinics will be accepting only urgent cases during July and August. This particularly applies to the clinics for surgery, medicine and pediatrics.

Announces Promotions

Quarters Marine Corps announced that 62 staff noncommissioned officers previously selected for promotion will be promoted this month with a date of July 1. Promotion breakdown is as follows: 1st sergeants to sergeant major, cutoff precedence number is six; 2nd sergeants to 1st sergeant, cutoff precedence number is eight; 3rd sergeants to 2nd sergeant, cutoff precedence number is four; 4th sergeants to 3rd sergeant, cutoff precedence number is four.

Promotions for Marines already selected will continue to be made as openings occur. Selection board for gunnery sergeant is still in session. Headquarters Marine Battalion with the selection board for promotion to staff sergeant is scheduled to convene in August.

COMMAND TELEVIEWERS are now able to see more Camp Lejeune personalities and news than ever before as the GLOBE joins in two weekly television news shows. GLOBE, and ANCHOR appears on Channel 12 at 10:00 every Sunday with fifteen minutes of news of the camp and their dependents in Eastern North Carolina. SSgt. Ben McDonald, of Base ISO acts as news commentator. McDonald's news report each Monday evening at 10:00 five minutes of CAMP LEJEUNE REPORT on Channel 12 in addition to the Sunday show. Pictured above, Ben McDonald and SSgt. McChesney deliver their news reports. (Continued on Page 3)

BLT 2/2, in the Caribbean, Delayed—The Caribbean island of Vieques, Puerto Rico was the site of an amphibious training exercise conducted by the Marines of BLT 2/2 July 2. The objective of the BLT, commanded by LtCol. J. F. McHaber, was to evacuate, from a country in the throes of a political revolution, all American Nationals. A simultaneous amphibious and helicopter assault was launched. Once on the beach, armored columns of tanks, antitanks, and other moved inland to set up collection points for the evacuees. The steady exercise was termed successful and the BLT resumed their tour of the Caribbean area.

Improper Handling Of Personal Income Can Ruin A Good Marine Corps Career

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles on problems involving credit, loans and mortgages designed to give the Marine a better understanding of money lending operations and installment buying.)

By SSgt. L. E. Witonis

Death and taxes are two things all Marines can be certain of, whether they be generals or privates. Modern day living has added one more category — buying on time. Almost everyone, everywhere, does it at one time or another.

Unfortunately, for the military man, improper handling of matters concerning personal debts can lead to the ruination of his career. Letters of indebtedness which reached the hands of the commanding officer have almost as much power to halt promotions as do breaches of military law.

An understanding of what "buying on time" means might easily divert the prospective Marine borrower from financial disaster—or it might at least help him use the system wisely.

There may be some consolation in the fact that even the U. S. Government is shackled by the laws of interest buying. According to the 1963 Annual Report of the Joint Economic Committee, Congress of the U. S., almost 10 billion dollars was spent on financing the national debt. Private citizens, (Marines and dependents included) are paying twice this amount, over 20 billion dollars, to finance their own debts.

Less than half this sum represents money spent to finance home mortgages where interest and carrying charges are known to the debtor.

In January 1960, Senator Paul A. Douglas introduced a "Truth in Lending Bill" to Congress which would require that short term lenders (finance companies, banks, etc.) state the carrying charges on a loan in true annual interest terms. To date the bill has not been passed. Although the proposed legislation would not impose a limitation on the amount of interest charged, it would, nevertheless, let the borrower know the exact amount of interest he is paying on a loan in dollars and cents.

Interest charges are currently stated in percentages.

For example, Marine John A. Borrower goes to the Quick-Way Loan Company to finance a $100 personal loan over a period of one year. He is told that the loan service charge is 4 percent per year. In this Marine's mind, he is paying back $104—or a true 4 percent interest charge. Actually, he will be paying back closer to 8 percent interest or $107.30. Roughly speaking, the true interest on the loan is double the stated annual carrying charge. The Consumer Counsel of California has issued the following guide for use in calculating true-interest charges when the debt is paid in one year and the interest is added to the purchase price:

When THEY Say	YOU Pay
4% per year	7.3%
6% per year	10.9%
8% per year	14.5%
10% per year	18.0%
1% per month	21.5%

However, when the lender says the interest will be paid "only on the unpaid balance", the figures look like this:

When THEY Say	YOU Pay
¾ of 1% per month	9%
1% per month	10%
1½% per month	18%
2½% per month	30%

The figures above, as stated, are based on loans made which will be repaid in one year. On loans taken out for longer periods of time, the interest rates can become almost unbelievable.

Credit is costly no matter what angle it is viewed from. The choice of where to borrow is up to you and how much you can afford to spend for your credit. Whether you borrow from a loan company, bank, credit union, or insurance company, unless you reduce the stated carrying charge or interest charge to true-annual-interest terms, you are not shopping for your dollars worth. Be certain you know in dollars and cents, exactly how much you are paying for the dollars and cents you have borrowed.

Woman Marine Corporal Realizes Life Ambition, Elects Paris For Duty

When Woman Marine Corporal Elizabeth B. Worchal enlisted in the Marine Corps July 27, 1962, at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Hartford, Conn., little did she realize that two years later she would go to Paris, France for duty.

Corporal Worchal, a native of Berlin, Conn., reenlisted in the Marine Corps for four years and elected European duty as her reenlistment option. After completion of a 25 day leave, she will be on her way to just such a duty station, the J3 Operations Branch, Headquarters, U. S. European Command, 14 miles west of Paris.

"One of the reasons I joined the Marine Corps was to travel", she remarked. "I wanted a chance to be on my own and learn about life and people, the Marine Corps has helped me realize both of these ambitions with my transfer to Europe."

Upon her graduation from Berlin High School, Berlin, Conn., Cpl. Worchal enlisted in a Marine Corps Reserve program. She later requested two years of active duty and attended 8 weeks of basic training at Parris Island.

"The reason I chose the Reserve program with two years active duty" she blushing remarked, "was that I did not know if I could adjust to military life and if I would like it, but as I look back on it now I can truthfully say I have never regretted my decision."

After completing her basic training she was transferred to Camp Lejeune, where she was assigned duties as a Battalion Legal Clerk.

During the period Dec. 14, 1962 to Jan. 16, 1964, she was promoted from Private First Class through Corporal. She received her present rank meritoriously for the outstanding proficiency, loyalty and devotion to duty she displayed in the performance of her duties.

Her deep sense of responsibility and enthusiasm for the Marine Corps and her work can best be expressed by her own answer to the question of how she felt about her job. She said, "I have pride in anything I do, especially my work. Most Woman Marines have the same pride in their service and work. I believe that military service broadens a girl's outlook on life and how she spends her time in the service reflects in later life."

The 20-year-old, blue eyed, blond, Woman Marine will live in a joint Woman's Enlisted Barracks, which at the present time billets 15 service women located at Camp des Loges, near St. Germain-en-Laye, a suburb of Paris.

She will be working for the United States European Command Headquarters which is the senior military headquarters in Europe.

On one of the walls is pinned a map of the world studded with tags denoting campaigns the Sixth has participated in. Another wall is covered with pictures of the regiment's former commanding officers, one of which, General Thomas Holcomb, became the 17th Commandant of the Marine Corps (December, 1936-December 1943). Lieutenant General James P. Berkely, now Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force Atlantic, with headquarters at Norfolk, Va., at one time also commanded the Sixth.

Along side of these are pictures of six former members of the Sixth who were awarded the Medal of Honor during World War I and II.

Also prominently displayed is a sign saying that the primary mission of the regiment is "to locate, close with, and destroy the enemy by fire and maneuver or to repel his assault by fire and close combat."

During the open house, the coveted bronze boot award was made to Capt. Robert D. Kelley, Commanding Officer, Company A, 1st Battalion.

Colonel Daughtry has assumed command of a regiment which has a history hard to match. Formed on July 17, 1917, at Quantico, Va., the Sixth saw action a short seven months later on the front lines of France. Within three months it was driving the Germans from Belleau Wood. Following this battle the regiment fought at Soissons and St. Mihiel, and in Oct. 1918, joined the Meuse-Argonne drive.

For its exceptional combat record, the Sixth received four decorations from the French Government, one of which--the Fourragere--members of the regiment still wear. Following the Armistice the regiment marched across the Rhine to serve a short time as garrison troops in the occupation of Germany.

In 1919, shortly after its return from Europe, the Sixth was disbanded, only to be reactivated the following year. Although some elements of the regiment served temporarily at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba protecting American interests, for the most part the Sixth participated in peace time training and maneuvers.

Temporarily deactivated in 1925, the regiment was hurriedly reassembled in 1927, and rushed to Shanghai, China to defend the International Settlement.

Security patrols and guard assignments kept the Sixth occupied for two years in China, then they returned to San Diego to be disbanded again.

When the Fleet Marine Force was formed in 1933, the Sixth was reactivated at Quantico, Va. After maneuvers in the Pacific the regiment returned to San Diego. In 1937, the regiment was once again sent to China to protect American Nationals during the Sino-Japanese War. In April, 1938, the unit returned to San Diego and assumed an inactive status.

Reassigned as an active unit in March, 1949, the Sixth became the principal infantry unit of the 2d Marine Brigade, which was later to become the 2d Marine Division.

Six months before Pearl Harbor the Sixth was shipped to Iceland to help England defend its sea approaches against the Germans. Needed in the Pacific, the regiment rejoined the 2d Division in time for the assault on Guadalcanal.

Subsequently, Tarawa, Saipan, Tinian and Okinawa became stepping stones northward. The trail ended with Japan's surrender and the regiment's occupation of the Japanese homeland.

After nine months of occupation duty the Sixth Marines returned to Camp Lejeune, and in July, 1947, were sent to Camp Pendleton, Calif., where the regiment became part of the 1st Marine Division. About two years later the regiment rejoined the 2d Division at Camp Lejeune.

During the crisis in Lebanon in 1958, the 3d Battalion of the Sixth landed on July 16. A Sixth Marines Regimental Landing Team headquarters stayed on in the Mediterranean after American Forces were withdrawn from Lebanon. This team returned to Lejeune early in 1959.

Later that year the 2d Battalion, 6th Marines demonstrated the Marine Corps amphibious landing technique during Operation Inland Sea as a part of the formal dedication ceremonies of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

More recently Company I, 3d Battalion, 6th Marines participated in a 20-day combined NATO exercise in the wilds of northern Norway.

Today the Sixth continues to play its important role as a member of the nation's force in readiness--the 2d Marine Division.

OSO Team Due Here Wednesday

The Officer Selection Team from the Officer Selection Office, Raleigh, will visit Camp Lejeune July 22 for the purpose of providing dependent high school graduates and college students information relative to all programs leading to a commission in the Marine Corps. Additionally the Team will test and process the application of any eligible dependent interested in the Platoon Leaders Class or the Officers Candidate Course, with or without aviation option.

Those desiring to be processed and tested should arrive early in the day inasmuch as the testing and processing time may amount to as much as six hours in the case of an aviation application.

The team will be available for interviews, testing and processing at the Hadnot Point Annex of the Staff Noncommissioned Officers' Club from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

'Mr. Pistol' To Defend His 1960 Olympic Title

Quantico's Captain William McMillan Jr., who has won just about every pistol title known, will be Olympic bound for the second time in his career as a Marine officer.

McMillan, who is recognized as one of the all-time pistol greats, won his Olympic berth after bettering Armed Forces shooters in the U. S. Rapid Fire Pistol Match held at Ft. Benning Ga., Monday, July 6.

His blistering score of 1766 out of 1800, besides insuring him a trip to Japan this fall, will also give him a chance to defend the title he won during the 1960 Olympics held in Rome, Italy.

McMillan won his rapid fire gold medal during the '60 World Games in a special shoot off after he and two others had tied scores of 587 out of 600 over the regular course. The captain supplied the knot breaker with an astounding 147 out of 150.

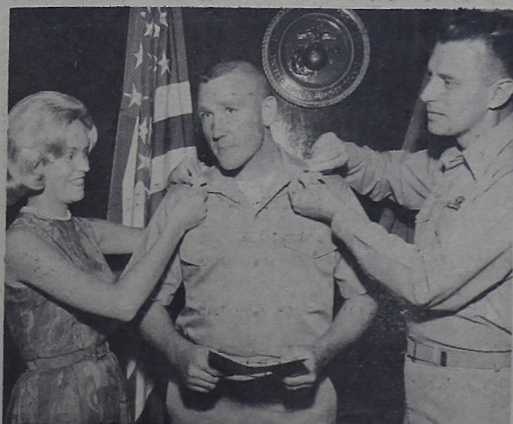

During his pistol shooting career, McMillan's travels have taken him to Egypt where he participated in the World Championship Matches; Brazil, where he faced international shooters in the Pan American Games; and in 1958, McMillan garnered the World Championship Pistol Match in Moscow, Russia.

A pistol isn't the captain's only specialty. Like all Marines, McMillan has shown proficiency with a rifle. In 1961, he fired with the Marine team that won the famed Edson Trophy and then joined forces with the Elliott Trophy winners. During May of the same year, at the Marine Corps matches, McMillan fired a pistol aggregate of 581X600 and a rifle aggregate of 586X600 to win the Individual Championship. He was also awarded the Launchelmer Trophy for the third consecutive time.

His Distinguished badges include Pistol (USMC), Rifle (USMC) and Pistol (International).

Some of McMillan's other accomplishments include: The National Pistol Trophy (1963); Mid-Atlantic Pistol Tourney (1963); and a commendation by the former Commandant of the Marine Corps, General David M. Shoup.

IN WITH THE SIXTH—Lieutenant Colonel R. J. Vroegindewey, left, shows Col. Glenn R. Long, the date on which he joined the 6th Marines. Col. Vroegindewey, now the 2d Marine on Inspector and Adjutant, joined the regiment as a First Class in 1938 and served with the Sixth until rising to the rank of First Lieutenant.

BOOTS AWARDS—Captain Robert D. Kelley, left, Commanding Officer, Company "A," 1st Battalion, 6th Marines, shows his First Sergeant, Ondress E. Kinne, the Bronze Boot, a replica of which was awarded Company "A." The Bronze Boot award is presented annually to the company in the 6th Marine Regiment which shows "Overall military excellence." The award was presented to Capt. Kelley at a regimental "open house" July 10.

EDITORIAL:

Would You Bet Your Life On Value Of Seat Belts?

Last Sunday in an accident a Camp Lejeune Marine was thrown against the windshield of his car, knocked it out, and was pronounced DOA by a doctor at the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Police estimate that the car rolled over three times before it came to a stop in an upright position.

Two passengers in the car, also thrown against the windshield, were treated for minor injuries.

THE SEAT BELTS INSTALLED IN THE CAR WERE NOT IN USE AT THE TIME OF THE ACCIDENT.

There has been a lot of talk about the pro's and con's of seat belts. Some people say that the only use they serve during an accident is to keep you in the car in the event the doors fly open; others say that seat belts might hamper your exit should you want to get out if the car were on fire, heading over a cliff or into deep water.

There is also the opinion that "defensive driving," always expecting the unexpected, is the answer, and that safe driving habits will keep you from having an accident. But what about the other driver, the one who believes that the highway was put there specifically for his use. You never know when you'll be singled out as his next victim.

There are valid arguments against the use of seat belts, and in some cases people have died because they had seat belts in the car and were using them; but many more lives have been saved than lost by the use of seat belts.

After many years of study, the National Safety Council made a recommendation that all automobiles be equipped with seat belts. The recommendation, though soundly backed by the facts they had accumulated over the years, would have been hard to enforce.

The fact that Headquarters Marine Corps believes that seat belts save lives is attested to by a bulletin that vehicles purchased in the future would have seat belts.

As part of that same bulletin HQMC directed that seat belts be installed in as many vehicles already in use throughout the Corps as possible. There is also a base regulation that states that the driver and passengers will use seat belts whenever the vehicle is moving.

There is no guarantee that wearing a seat belt will save your life, but the odds are with you. The fact that you are not a fast driver and you are always careful is no guarantee either.

Everyone takes a chance at some time in their life. Think back to the last time you took a chance when you were behind the wheel of a car. Where would you be now if . . . ?

The 1963 national accident statistics indicate that the majority of Camp Lejeune's personnel are prime targets for accidental death or injury.

In 1963: There were more than 1,237,000 casualties from speeding, the most flagrant traffic violation aboard the base; more than 37 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were under 25 years of age; more than 40 per cent of the total deaths occurred on weekends; and almost 29 per cent of the casualties occurred between 4 and 8 p.m., the hours when traffic is heaviest.

To tip the scales a little more in your favor, wear your seat belts if you have them; and if you don't have them, get them!

In cooperation with the National Safety Council's recommendation and the Safety Program established aboard the base, the Marine Corps Exchange will install, at no charge, seat belts purchased at the exchange. This service will continue on a permanent basis.

A most remarkable electronic brain was recently on exhibit at the booksellers' convention in New York City. Known as Univac it had committed the entire Bible to "memory", and then carefully spewed it out. Within ninety days the job of making a Bible concordance, a locator for every word in the Bible was done. While this reporter watched, this machine without any hesitation located uses of the word "Abandon" and seven of the word "Abandoned" chapter and verse.

Back in 1894 Dr. James Strong published just such a Concordance of the Bible after 30 years of hard work! Univac did the job in 90 days, quietly clicking away on its typewriter, locating with error references and cross-references to words in the Old and New Testaments. And of course, once started, it needed no coffee break, no sleep or rest, its 19,000 tubes glowing and working tirelessly down to the last word of the last book in the Bible "Amen".

The human brain is a wonderful affair too. By comparison science tells us that the thinking capacity of Univac is about the level of the flatworm. It does not really "think" at all. It can locate the word "Cross" or "Love" in the Bible, but only the human brain and spirit can give full meaning to such words. And that brain and spirit which have not weighed these words seriously, meaning of Calvary, or the meaning of God's Love, is not taking into account either history or religion.

There are plenty of machines, dictionaries and concordances to accomplish, define and locate all kinds of things. But only your brain, your spirit can bring your life into accord with Him; this still the greatest miracle of our very incredible age.

Base Maintenance — House

When it comes to the maintenance of a 170 square mile tract of South-Eastern North Carolina real estate and the thousands of structures within that area, Base Maintenance has a sizeable responsibility — all $164,000,000 worth of Camp Lejeune.

With round-the-clock responsibility, Base Maintenance, at an average rate of $9,500,000 per year, is one continuous operation. Caring for the grounds, forest and wildlife is one thing, but added to this is the responsibility for each building or other structure — all combined into a massive job.

Camp Lejeune consists of 75,000 acres of land, 7,780 acres of swamps and 26,000 acres of water. One hundred and eighty-seven miles of hard surfaced roads stretch and weave their way through Camp Lejeune. There are 236 miles of secondary roads, many of which may be familiar to members of the 2d Marine Division. A Marine walking from his barracks to Cash Sales or to any Post Exchange facility covers only a small segment of Lejeune's 3,476,800 square feet of sidewalks.

Can't find a parking space? Look around again. There are 79,546,000 square feet of Camp Lejeune landscape set aside for parking and storage lots.

Going to Onslow Beach? That 100-ton capacity drawbridge over the Intracoastal Waterway is also a responsibility of Base Maintenance, and Onslow Beach itself is only a small portion of Camp Lejeune's 14 miles of ocean frontage. As New River runs its meandering way through Camp Lejeune, approximately 50 miles of river front property is gained.

While a Company Police Sergeant may have only one building to fret about, Base Maintenance bears the burden of 5,235 buildings and 648 various other structures within the confines of Camp Lejeune.

Base Maintenance operates and maintains seven water treatment plants to supply water to the active, thirsty Marines and more than 2,150,000 gallons of oil.

Another service under the control of Base Maintenance, and one which is becoming increasingly more essential to the everyday life of modern man, is telephone communications. The Base Telephone System consists of six automatic telephone exchanges and more than 280 miles of cable and open wire connecting approximately 4,025 main station telephones.

Base Maintenance personnel, 934 civilian employees and 76 Marines, handle approximately 94,000 work tickets and 5,800 minor and specific work orders annually for the Hadnot Point area alone. These work orders may cover any of the numerous categories of maintenance or repair for which Base Maintenance is responsible. The numerous items for which Base Maintenance is responsible are divided into five divisions which are further divided into branches or sections. These divisions are: Administrative; Maintenance and Repair; Operations; Telephone; and Utilities.

The funds required for all Base Maintenance functions, includes those necessary to the up-keep of family housing and government-owned trailer parks at Camps Knox and Geiger. Camp Lejeune's electric bill alone exceeds the one million dollar mark and not all of this is necessary.

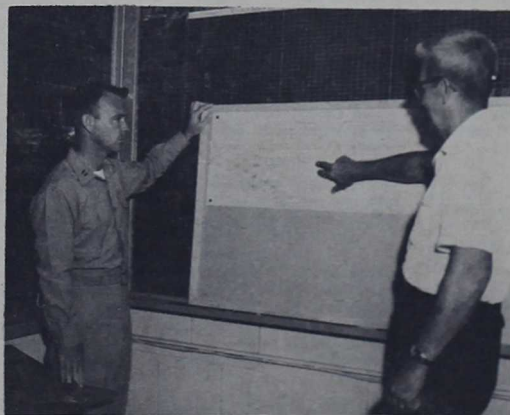

With a multi-million dollar "home," the world's largest and most complete amphibious training center, Base Maintenance has one enormous job on its hands. It is a job for everyone to take part in.

dependents at Camp Lejeune. These plants pump and treat nearly 3,000,000 gallons of water annually, taken from 70 wells averaging a depth of 140 feet with a capacity of 9,200 gallons per minute.

Heating Camp Lejeune and supplying the steam necessary in many functions around the Quad-Command also adds to Maintenance's burden. Ten central steam plants supply steam at an average of 166,500 pounds per hour. These plants consume an annual average of 55,000 tons of coal and

Semi-Pro Tourney Action Underway

The devildogs played the first game of the 30th Annual North Carolina Semi-Pro Tournament last night, going against King, N. C., for the opening battle of the double elimination tourney.

Game results are not available at press time. If the Lejeune nine won last night's game they will see their next tourney action July 25.

If Lejeune can win this tournament they will be eligible to play in the National Semi-Pro Tournament at Wichita, Kansas.

After a rough road trip, the Devildogs got back on the winning trail, getting victories in all three of the games played here.

a base on balls, Ron Burke doubled, sending Simpson to third, where he later scored on a wild pitch, and Burke tallied on a sacrifice fly by Jim Hall.

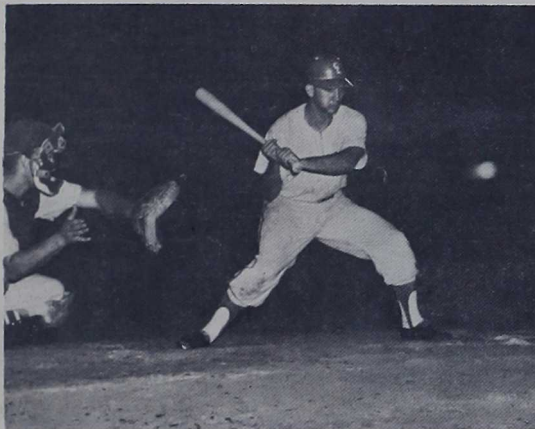

Burke added an insurance run in the fifth frame when he got on first on an error by the short-ed on a single by Simpson, then George Borders gave the ball a 330 foot ride to clear the leftfield fence and rack up three runs.

In the sixth frame Borders walked, advanced on a wild pitch, then scored the final Lejeune run on a base hit by Norton.

Lee brought the game within reach in the last inning after converting five walks and two singles into four runs.

Sunday Lejeune defeated Leone's Boys Club 6-1.

Thursday's game against Fort Lee was rained out, so the following night they played a double-header. Lejeune defeated the Leemen 3-1 and 7-4 in the seven inning bouts.

In the first game Lejeune scored enough to win in the initial inning, bringing two runs across.

Buddy Simpson led off, taking stop, took second on a passed ball, and scored on a base hit by Norton.

Lee scored their lone run in the seventh, on an error and a double.

Ralph McIntyre was the winning pitcher, giving up three hits, one run (unearned), striking out six, and walking three.

A six run fourth inning provided the winning margin in the second game.

Chico Lugo and Ron Burke hit back-to-back singles, Lugo came in on a sacrifice fly by Garcia, Burke scored on a balk, McHenry walked and later scored.

Ramblin' With Rich

During a conversation with John Holt, coach of the baseball team, Holt expressed his opinion of Lejeune's chances for the ECIC championship after three conference games on their recent road trip.

"We're in a tough position right now," Holt said. "We have our backs to the wall. The championship going to depend on the four game series with Fort B in August. Of course, we can't drop any other conference games."

According to Holt, their problems on the road centered around home plate.

"Our hitting fell down. Our pitching was good real good. We just couldn't get the hits," Holt continued.

"We started hitting the ball pretty good at Benning. I think we're on the right track again."

The Devildogs ran up 10 straight wins in conference play before losing their first game, to Fort Eustis.

The Devilfish, Lejeune's dependent swim team, in a swim meet Saturday against Cherry Point. The Fish, extremely strong team, competed against a Wilson, N. group and won everything except one event.

The meet will start at 9 a.m. at the area 5 pool. Pam Dennis will present awards to the winners.

Edgewood Arsenal dropped out of the East Coast Interservice Conference baseball competition, and what would probably have been four Lejeune victories to add to their conference record.

Teams that have already played Edgewood Arsenal will keep the resulting wins or losses. Lejeune is slated to play Edgewood Arsenal July 16-17, and August 13-14.

The Camp Lejeune Volleyball Team returned to Cherry Point beaten but unbowed, after taking 0-2 place in the East Coast Area Volleyball Championships. The other two entries in the tournament were Quantico and Cherry Point. Quantico captured tourney honors.

In an article last week about tryouts, I called Charlie Heard, Jim Heard by mistake. I went to school with a boy named Jim Heard, and the name association got me in the article. Sorry about that, Charlie.

2d Div. Dominates FMFLant Tennis Meet

By SSgt. ED BREY

The 2d Marine Division retained the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Tennis Crown here today by sweeping the open matches 16-0 in the final round of the 1964 games.

The tournament play pitted teams and single players from the 2d Marine Division, Force Troops, of Camp Lejeune, Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, and Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort.

The red-hot Division racket men copped first and second place in both the Open Singles and Doubles to retain the crown. The tournament has been captured by Division netmen in four of the past six years. They previously won in 1959, 1960 and 1963.

Singles play saw Garland Carlton of Headquarters Company, 2d Battalion, 10th Marines, take three straight to down FMFLant defending champ Larry D. Burke, Military Police Company, Division Headquarters Battalion, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-3.

Carlton again moved into the winning column when he teamed with fellow Division player Lieutenant James O. Pearson, 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, to cop three straight in the Open Doubles 6-1, 6-2, and 7-5. The Doubles champions scuttled Singles loser Burke and Bruce D. Williams, Headquarters Company, 8th Marines, during a searing pressing attack that kept their opponents off balance throughout the first two games. Fighting to stave off the third game loss in the best three of five play, Burke and Williams staged a short lived flurry to take a one-point lead before being downed 7-5 in the final game of the tournament.

In play Friday, Lieutenant Colonel Jim Tuma and Major Bill Cummings of Force Troops teamed up to walk away with the Senior Doubles, 4-6, 6-2 and 6-2.

Garland Carlton makes a fiery return in the final of the FMFLant Open Singles Championship Tennis Tournament.

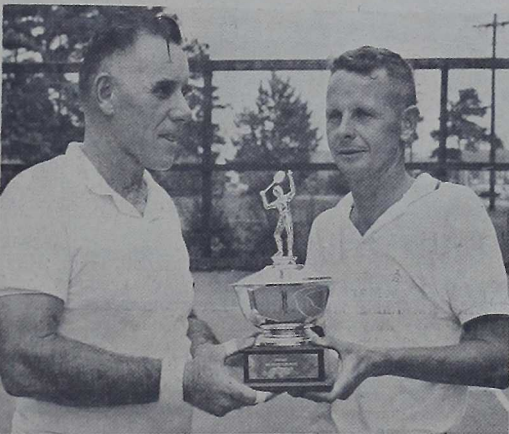

Team Selected For Golf Tourney

Camp Lejeune golfers have been chosen to represent the 2d Marine Division in the East Coast Inter-Service Conference Championship Golf Tournament.

One division golfers selected to the team are James Kinder, Harold Bainbridge, Thomas Rego, and Ron Marrs.

Kinder led the way over the 4-hole qualifying tournament with a 5-over-par 221.

The senior division team will be composed of Duane Shiffert, Arthurucci, Stephen Myorski, "Bust" Keeton, and Henry SENIOR CHAMP—Chief Warrant Officer Arthur C. (Art) Farrington of Cherry Point, accepts the 1964 Fleet Marine Force Atlantic Senior Singles Championship Trophy from Colonel R. C. McDonough, Chief of Staff, 2d Marine Division following play at Camp Lejeune Friday. Farrington, a member of MAG-14, won the Singles by downing Lieutenant Colonel Jim Tuma of Force Troops 6-1 and 8-6. Colonel McDonough was a runner-up in the Senior Doubles.

U. S. Olympic Teams Need Contributions

Members of the Armed Forces are familiar with this two-way street: "An army is only as good as its leaders and the leaders only as good as their support." This adage is applicable to the United States Olympic team, which will carry the American banner to a world focal point. And as the eyes of the world turn to the international competition in Tokyo, it remains for the United States to put its best foot forward. To be successful, the team must have top levelers and athletes and solid support.

For all, our amateur athletes can excel in the 1964 Olympic Games only if they are there. To develop, train, equip, house and transport them will require more than $2 million. The Olympic team needs, therefore, the financial support of the country. The U. S. Government does not subsidize the team. Personal contributions are solicited by the U. S. Olympic Committee.

The athletes — many of who will also be representing the Armed Forces — will, of course, give it everything they have to bring back as many gold medals as they can. But as the athletes themselves admit, the more support they have, the better they are apt to perform.

An Olympic official put it, "We can send no better team to represent the United States at the Olympics than the American people will support."

Contributions, the Olympic Committee points out, will be appreciated in any amount. Small donations are just as important as large ones. Any American athlete presented a gold medal will know he shares the honor with the guy back home who parted with a buck or two.

Contributions can be made through local commands or mailed to the U. S. Committee for the 1964 Olympic Games, Olympic House, 7 Park Ave., New York, N. Y. 10016.

'A. C.' Pitches No-Hitter In Force Troops Softball

By Dave DeBolt

Headquarters Co., tightened their strangle hold on first place in the Force Troops intramural softball league last week by shutting out 2d Bridge Co., team, 11-0, behind the no-hit pitching of "A. C." Cook.

The win, seventh in a row, coupled with 2d ANGLICO's, 15-6, upset of 8th Motor Transport Bn., gave Headquarters a two game bulge over the second and third place teams.

Cook was superb in running his victory skinn to seven straight. In the abbreviated five inning affair, called under the 10 run rule, "A. C." faced only 17 batters, retiring 12 by strikeouts.

Only Bridge Co., batters to reach first base were John Sparks who was hit by a pitch in the fourth inning and John Feaster who walked in the fifth.

Headquarters jumped off to a 7-0 lead in a wild and woolly first inning which saw tempers flare and a Bridge Co. player ejected from the game.

After close calls by plate umpire R. S. Tomanek and base mediator C. W. Hennis, the temper gauge of Bridge Company's pitcher, Alvin Shipp, began to move toward the boiling point.

As Headquarters' O'Brien was called safe at third base on a close play, Shipp exploded and launched a flaming attack on umpire Hennis.

Shipp's fiery oratory was rewarded with a hasty trip to the bench as the man in blue had the final say.

Don O'Shell came in to toll for the bridge builders and held Headquarters to four runs the rest of the way.

Leading Headquarters' eight hit attack was Bill DeSantis who had three doubles and a single in four trips to the plate.

Headquarters' three remaining games are against second place 8th Motor Transport; third place 2d Radio Co.; and 2d Topo Co.

One more win for Headquarters will clinch at least a tie for the league championship and a crack at the Quad-Command title and FMFLant championship.

In other league play, Motors broke even for the week after losing to ANGLICO by winning a 7-0 forfeit over 8th Engineers.

Second Field Artillery split a pair of games, losing to Bridge Co., 15-9 and outlasting 2d Tank Bn., 15-11.

Radio Co. won a 7-0 forfeit over 2d AmTracs, who have forfeited the remainder of their games due to military commitments.

Standings as of July 9:

Safety Tips Offered

New York (AFPS)—For the thousands of military and civilian personnel who will take to the water this summer, the American Red Cross strongly recommends the following tips to prevent drowning:

- Learn to swim or at least to float.
- Avoid swimming in unauthorized and unguarded areas.
- Always swim with a buddy.
- Do not dive into water of unknown depth.
- Know how to apply mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.
- Know the location and telephone number of the nearest water rescue or resuscitation agency. This may be obtained by calling a local fire department or police station.

What Is GHOST TOWN?

It's many things--It's three different and spectacular rides from the valley to the almost mile high Ghost Town. Take your choice--the double incline railway, the double chairlift, or the "trolley" Buses.

It's the days of the old west a century ago, with its infamous outlaws and gunman, its marshals and deputies. It's bank hold-up or sudden shoot-out between cold-blooded cowpokes and the lawmen of Ghost Town.

It's a visit to the Mining Town and a trip thru the old mining shaft. It's drifting back through memory lane as you listen to the haunting strains of the old musical instruments in the Antique Musical Museum. It's a stroll thru the old Mountain Town where you may marvel at the Mystery Shack or enjoy the square dances and variety shows at the Red Barn.

It's watching the authentic war dances at the Indian Village staged by championship Indian Dancers, and seeing live buffalo.

It's following beautiful mountain trails on horseback or walking down to "Fire Rock" with its legend of Indian lore and the most beautiful scenery in the Smoky Mountains.

It's shopping as your grandparents did in the old days--everything from gifts, clothing, boots for yourself, or shoes for your horse at the blacksmith shop.

It's eating a hot dog or hamburger at the snack bar to a full course dinner at the restaurant. It's a cool drink on a hot day at the Silver Dollar or Red Dog Saloon while you watch the beautiful and exciting can-can girls. It's reading your name in the headlines of the Ghost Town Gazette, while you ride in the old Ghost Town Stage Coach.

So what is Ghost Mountain Park? It's a day of suspense, thrills, and enjoyment--a day that will be the highlight of your vacation in the Smokies!

Ghost Town at Ghost Mountain Park is on US19 between Cherokee and Asheville, N. C.

Staff Wives' Club News

Once a month, the Staff NCO Wives Club chairman Mrs. Richard Hatfield and her committee of eight visit the Naval Hospital. The purpose of this is to enable the patients to forget their troubles and ailments for a short period. A chat and a few laughs makes any patient feel a little better.

Hospital visitation night is composed of Navy and Marine Corps wives who voluntarily bake cakes and cookies and make sandwiches for the patients. Patients on special diets don't get neglected as sandwiches and black coffee are made especially for them.

In the past six months efforts have been made to visit various wards where games are played and the patients can select a gift whether it be something they need such as shoe polish, to something to pass the time as model ships, planes, cars or a sports magazine. The money to purchase items for this project comes from the profits of the Thrift Shop.

Mrs. Hatfield would like to thank the Hospital and the Red Cross Ladies for their cooperation in making this a worthwhile function.

Your America BY CLARK KINNAIR

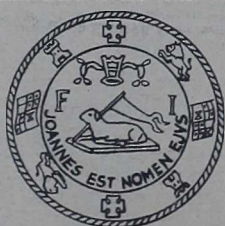

PUERTO RICO is the sixth commonwealth under the United States flag. The earlier ones were Virginia, Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Kentucky — so described by their charters. Puerto Rico was settled before any of the others, of course. It was discovered by Christopher Columbus 470 years ago during his second voyage to the hemisphere.

The Encyclopedia Britannica says, "This landing was the first and only time the feet of Columbus ever trod the soil of what is now U. S. territory." A reader of this column, K. C. Hollesen, says that statement is wrong. "You are assured that the first place now flying the American flag upon which Columbus landed, and even traded with the indigenous population, was St. Croix, the largest of the U. S. Virgin Islands, from where he proceeded to touch Puerto Rico."

Anyway, Columbus found natives of the new island (which natives called Borinquen) gentler and more cultured than the fierce Caribs previously encountered in his explorations. Still, these early Puerto Ricans were disappointing to the Spanish visitors. They were not the Asiatics Columbus wanted to see. Hence Columbus made his stay brief, and Puerto Rico was neglected by settlers until 1509. Ponce de Leon established the first town, Caparra, near the present San Juan.

Columbus' name for the island, given in honor of Saint John the Baptist, survived as the name of the capital.

Under the Spanish, who held it until 1898, the population never exceeded 1,000,000. Advances in sanitation, child care and health under the American flag more than doubled the total within four decades, to make tropical Puerto Rico into one of the most densely populated islands on earth before it was granted the status of a free commonwealth in 1952. The area, 3,425 square miles, is about 25 per cent less than Connecticut's. The population remains close to the latter's.

Right: Official seal of Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Its Commonwealth flag has three red and two white horizontal stripes, with single star in blue triangle at the mast.

Base Education Office Serves Knowledge Needs

Thirty-four percent of the enlisted Marines at Camp Lejeune do not have a high school diploma or its equivalency, according to past figures.

Whether this is the result of disinterest, or lack of information on how to go about obtaining it, is difficult to say. If disinterest is the answer, the Base Education Office is just one office among many aboard the base but, for those Marines who are interested in furthering their education it's the office that has the answer to their educational problem.

Formal Classes

For the Marine who has the time to attend classes in the evening there is the Onslow-Camp Lejeune Adult High School. This is a program where by a student may work towards a high school diploma by attending formal classes two or four nights a week.

High School GED

For those who haven't been out of school too long, or can't seem to find the time to attend formal classes, there is the USAFI General Education Development (GED) Test.

The GED test is given on a continual basis on Monday through Friday throughout the year at the education office above the Camp Theatre. So far this year, 1,123 of Camp Lejeune's personnel have taken the GED test for a high school equivalency certificate.

The GED certificate is certified by the North Carolina Department of Education and as far as the Marine Corps is concerned it is as good as a high school diploma.

The GED test is not an easy test and the education office recommends that some time, be spent in preparation. If an individual knows he is weak in one or two subjects covered by the test, the office is prepared to lend him books so he can brush-up before taking the test.

The test comes in five parts and takes an average of two hours to complete each part. The complete test is given over a week's period.

The five parts to the test are: Correctness and Effectiveness of Expression; Interpretation of Reading Materials in the Social Studies; Interpretation of Reading Materials in the Natural Sciences; Interpretation of Literary Materials; and General Mathematical Ability.

College GED

A college level GED test is also administered by the Base Education Office, Tuesday through Friday. The results of this test aid colleges in determining the amount of credits given in the areas covered by the test.

The four parts to the college level GED test are: Correctness and Effectiveness of Expression; Interpretation of Reading Materials in the Social Studies; Interpretation of Reading Materials in the Natural Sciences; and Interpretation of Literary Materials.

Appointments for either the high school level or college level GED test may be scheduled through unit education officers.
