Corps' "Mechanical Mule" as LtCmdr. Horace D. Mann, Commanding Officer of the USS DESOTO COUNTY stands to the right of the Pakistan Navy Cinc.

FMFLant Sees Dress Rehearsal Of Lakes Cruise

Great Lakes-bound members of the Navy-Marine Corps team aboard the USS DESOTO COUNTY were afforded several excellent "dress rehearsal" opportunities before sailing from Little Creek, Va., on June 8.

The tank landing ship is slated for 17 ports of call throughout the five Great Lakes and along the St. Lawrence seaway during the summer.

ViceAdm. John S. McCain, Jr., Commander Amphibious U. S. Atlantic Fleet, was aboard the LST three times during the final week of preparation. He was accompanied by LtGen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic for a pre-sailing inspection on June 6.

Open house for Norfolk area residents was held later in the day on June 6 for viewing embarked personnel, equipment and displays to be used in telling the amphibious Navy-Marine team story.

Earlier in the week, ViceAdm. Afzal Rahman Uhan, Commander in Chief of the Pakistan Navy was aboard. At the same time U. S. Marine Corps BrigGen. John C. Miller, Commanding General, Landing Force Training Unit, Little Creek, viewed the equipment and displays.

Rounding out the list of military leaders visiting the LST was RearAdm. G. F. Pittard, Commander Amphibious Group 4, to which the DESOTO COUNTY is attached.

The eight million residents of the Great Lakes cities to be visited will be treated to special demonstrations by a four-man Marine karate team and the Navy's 10-man Underwater Demolition Team.

B.T 1/8 Home From Ned Today

The 1st Battalion, 8th Marine Division, is slated to arrive at Camp Lejeune on Thursday, June 18. A reception center for the residents of the returning Marines will be set up in the unit's mess hall, building 424, at 10 a.m.

After spending almost six months in the Mediterranean area, the Lejeune based marines will be back at Morehead City in the morning of June 18. The battalion will return to their headquarters area sometime during the morning of the same day. The 1st Battalion was relieved by the Amphibious Landing Force of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean by the 2d Battalion, 6th Marines. The returning Battalion Landing Team engaged in various amphibious exercises and visited ports in Malta, Spain, France, Italy and Greece.

Residents are reminded that they are not allowed in the dock area at Morehead City.

Household Goods Office Hours

The Base Household Goods Office, Bldg. 1011, has established new hours of operation for the summer months. From June 15 through August 31 this office will be open in accordance with the following schedule, holidays excepted. Monday thru Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays, 8 a.m. - 12 noon.

GySgt. Promotion Board In Session

Marine Headquarters has convened a board to select candidates for promotion to gunnery sergeant (E7).

The board, headed by Col. Spencer H. Pratt, is authorized to select approximately 1,300 new gunnery sergeants from some 4,500 staff sergeants eligible for consideration. The board will be in session about eight weeks.

A NEW DENOMINATION

A NEW REASON TO BUY U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

A Navy Sargent Takes Spiritual Reins Of 2d Div. For 3d Tour With Marines

In Old England, a sergeant was an attendant of a soldier in war. Fitting the definition in name and deed is the new 2d Marine Division Chaplain here, Capt. Gerald H. Sargent, Chaplain Corps, USN, who has served Marines at Iwo Jima and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, before reporting here last month.

Although this is the first time Chaplain Sargent has been stationed at a Marine Corps Base, his prior service at the Guantanamo Navy Base as Base Chaplain and aboard the USS ROCKBRIDGE (APA 228) off the bloody beach of Iwo Jima during World War II, has made him an old hand at administering to a "soldier of war."

In becoming Division Chaplain, Captain Sargent stated, "I am really honored to have been assigned to the Marines at Camp Lejeune. This is the finest base that I have ever been privileged to see."

Chaplain Sargent attended Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., and was ordained from Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J., in Jan. 1948. He then became the Assistant Pastor of St. Luke's Methodist church, New York City. The Chaplain entered the Navy in June 1943.

Chaplain Sargent is married to the former Miss Edith Barnard of Merchantville, N. J. They have two daughters, Geraldine, who is a student at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va., and Frances, who will be a senior at Camp Lejeune High School next year. The Chaplain and his family live in Married Officers Quarters at Camp Lejeune.

'Medical Minimize'

This summer nearly half of the doctors at the Naval Hospital will be transferred or released to inactive duty. Most of their replacements arrive several weeks later. Therefore, several of the clinics will be accepting only urgent cases during July and August. This particularly applies to the clinics for surgery, medicine and pediatrics.

3d MarDiv Association Sets Reunion

Naval personnel serving with the Third Marine Division in war and in peace, will be honored at the Division Association's 10th annual reunion in Chicago July 23-26.

The program will highlight the deeds of the Navy officers and enlisted men who left the comfort of their ships to serve alongside Leathernecks in the jungles of the South Pacific during World War II, and those who have served with the Third Division since the end of WWII.

Receiving a lion's share of the accolades will be chaplains, medical and dental personnel including corpsmen and technicians, naval gunfire officers, and, of course, the indispensable SeaBees--those Naval Construction Battalion officers and men who accomplished the impossible too many times to record.

Association President T. O. Kelly, Annandale, Va., will eulogize the Navy contingents when he presides at the reunion dinner dance at the Hotel Sheraton-Chicago Saturday evening, July 25. The Association's 80-page souvenir reunion program will also carry an illustrated feature highlighting the great contribution naval personnel made to the Third in its conquests of Bougainville, Guam and Iwo Jima, as well as in the post war era.

Pilot's Right-Hand Man Indispensable In 'Copters

When the general public sees a helicopter flying overhead they visualize themselves at the controls, and the glamorous life of the pilot. Little boys envision themselves in the future, flying into outer-space, or captain of an airlines, but few people realize that there is a third person in that aircraft overhead. That he is a vital member of the crew and the pilots have to rely on his skill as well as their own. He is known as the crew chief.

The man who is serving as a crew chief in an aircraft might be considered as the pilot's right hand man. He is responsible for the safety and the comfort of all passengers and the security of the cargo flown. However, that is secondary to his job. His prime responsibility is the maintenance of the aircraft and he must have a complete knowledge of the components of the aircraft to which he is assigned.

LtCol. W. L. MacQuarrie, commanding officer of Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 263, located at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, lists the prerequisites that a man must meet before he can serve as a crew chief on board the squadron aircraft.

The man must present a good military bearing at all times and be in possession of definite leadership qualities.

Before being selected as a crew chief, he is required to pass the standard aviators flight physical examination, the first class swimmers test, and undergo extensive ground, and air training under the able supervision and administration of Master Sergeant Lavern E. Befort.

Although his duties have already been mentioned, one fact might be highly stressed. He is also the key man in all rescue operations. In many instances, crew chiefs have been called upon to perform such acts of bravery as to lower themselves from the hovering aircraft into rough seas to successfully effect the rescue of injured or unconscious pilots and personnel who have been forced down at sea.

So, the next time you see a helicopter flying overhead, look up and remember the third man. The man behind the pilot. The man who doesn't have a glamorous job, but nevertheless, a vital member of that aircraft.

He is the crew chief.

INSTRUCTIONS in the use of rescue equipment is explained by MSgt. Lavern E. Befort, left, to the crew chiefs of Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 263. The items of equipment in the foreground are a rescue seat and sling used by the UH-34D helicopter.

Transportation Office Operating Hours

Effective for the period June 1, 1964 through June 30, 1964 the Base Household Goods office, Bldg. 1011, Had not Point, will be open for normal business during the following hours:

Mon. - Fri. — 0800-2000
Saturdays — 0800-1200

Military personnel desiring information on their household goods or personal effects may call 7-5516 for shipping and 7-5834 for receiving.

Saddle Club

The Onslow County Saddle Club will hold a gymkhana on Sunday, June 21, at 2 p. m. at Capt. William Maughan's Stable on Gum Branch Road, five miles east from the highway 17 intersection.

On July 19 the club will stage its first annual horseshow under the coastal plains riding circuit. The horseshow will also be held at the Maughan's stable. The public is invited to attend. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Burk at 6-6358 or Mrs. Ridgely at 6-6213.

Department Of Defense Asks Annual Pay Study

Washington (AFPS)—Along with new military pay raise recommendations, the Department of Defense has established a two-pronged program to insure that, in the future, military compensation will keep pace with increases in salaries and wages in the civilian economy.

The DOD pay raise recommendations ask for an effective date of Oct. 1, 1964. The "insurance" program includes: (1) continuing adjustments based upon changes in productivity and price levels in the civilian sector of our economy, and (2) periodic reviews toward more significant changes in the military pay structure.

The proposed military pay increase seeks a raise of three per cent for officers and 2.4 per cent for enlisted personnel with more than two years service.

Officer increases would be based on the relationship of basic pay rates to salary trends of professionals, administrative and technical employees. Enlisted raises are based on salary trends of technical and clerical employees and Army-Air Force wage board pay scales.

Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower Norman S. Paul told three military service associations that to provide an insurance policy in military pay, DOD will conduct an annual review of military compensation.

This annual review is designed to provide that military compensation maintains a constant relationship to earnings in the civilian economy requiring similar skills, aptitudes and levels of education.

Major reviews of military compensation should take place approximately every five years, Secretary Paul said.

The last study of basic pay allowances, special and incentive pays, as well as needed changes in the structure of the pay system, was conducted two years ago.

Hq. Bn. Messhall Awarded As Best In Second Division

If the Napoleonic adage, "An army travels on its stomach" is true, the Marines of Headquarters Battalion, 2d Marine Division here should go far. For the third consecutive month the battalion mess hall has received the Division's Mess Hall Award.

A good portion of the credit for this outstanding achievement, according to Colonel F. C. Bacon, Headquarters Battalion Commander, must go to Gunnery Sergeant William A. Collins, battalion mess sergeant.

Gunny Collins feeds up to 1,350 troops each meal, making his mess hall the largest in the 2d Marine Division.

Gunny Collins, who has been selected for promotion to Master Sergeant, entered the Marine Corps in Jan. 1942 and went through recruit training at Parris Island, S. C. Upon completion of training he was sent to Camp Lejeune for advanced infantry instruction. The Gunnery next went to Amphibious Tractor School in Florida. He returned to Camp Lejeune before being sent to the Pacific area of operations where he served until Dec. 1944. In 1946 he was released from active duty but stayed in the Marine Corps Reserve. He was recalled to active duty in 1950 at the beginning of the Korean Conflict.

He has been Mess Sergeant for Headquarters Battalion since June 1963.

Sergeant Collins is married to the former Miss Ruth Marshall of Bradley Beach, N. J. The Gunnery and his wife live in Piney Green.

2d ANGLICO Jumpers Instruct Fla. Reservists

Things were jumping in Miami, Fla., last weekend when 2d Air and Naval Gunfire Liaison Co., Force Troops, traveled there to stage several parachute jumps with their Marine Corps Reserve counterparts, the 4th Air and Naval Gunfire Liaison Co.

The Camp Lejeune Marines instructed the Miami Reservists on several pieces of new radio equipment and acted as jumpmasters to parachute-qualify some of the Reservists.

The nine parachutists from 2d ANGLICO, commanded by LtCol. J. W. Tuma, departed New River Air Facility on Friday and touched down at Opa-Locka Field, just outside Miami.

After a short bus ride to the Reserve Training Center, the Force Troops jumpers were briefed on the next day's scheduled parachute jump and then were given the opportunity to see what makes Miami famous as a resort and liberty town.

Saturday and Sunday were devoted to holding instructions on the new radios and making several parachute jumps over a marshy field near Miami.

Career Advisor's Efforts Rewarded

Sgt. Fred Gypn, Jr., Career Advisory non-commissioned officer of the 3d Battalion, 2d Marines, 2d Marine Division, was presented the Commanding General's Career Advisory Display Trophy by MajGen. William J. Van Ryzin.

Four days prior to the presentation, a team of judges led by Col. R. W. Glickert, G-1, Marine Corps Base, viewed career advisory displays throughout the Division.

The displays were judged respectively on attention-getting features, neatness and attractiveness, effectiveness in depicting the Marine Corps as a career, effectiveness in location, and personnel information and educational value.

"It is highly interesting and I have learned many things pertaining to a Marine Corps Career that were completely unknown to me before," he stated. "Now that I have learned of them and understand others more fully, I feel it will be a definite advantage in helping other Marines to choose a good career."

No Axing Seen For Military Commissaries

In reply to some members of Congress, the Defense Department said it "supports the continuation of commissary stores and no action is being planned to dispose of military commissaries."

DOD's review of the General Accounting Office (GAO) report on commissaries has not been completed and comments will be forwarded to the Joint Economic Committee.

The commissary is of the greatest value to non-commissioned officers who are now and traditionally have been considered to be the hard core of military forces," Defense officials pointed out.

Other reasons for DOD supporting commissaries are:

Military personnel are subject to assignment in any part of the world and there is a requirement to insure they have access to reasonably available, adequate food.

The commissary privilege is a substantial one for married men with families.

The commissary store privilege would be difficult to match through pay increases or changes in other cash benefits.

The availability of commissary stores has been a factor influencing servicemen to stay on in a career status in the belief that such facilities would continue to be provided during their term of service and upon retirement.

The DOD letter points out, "Based on the average differential between commissary prices and supermarket prices and the average annual family food costs, the annual saving from using the commissary for a family of four would be approximately $400."

Officials explain, "To take away this saving, without at the same time offering servicemen an equivalent increase in their compensation, would have measurable adverse effect on retention of service people with skills that are equally sought after in civilian life."

2d Div. Selected To Test Data Processing System

"It's a lifesaver! We now have more flexibility and can do more and varied jobs than we could have ever thought of doing before."

This was how MGySgt. W. F. Rafferty, Platoon Chief, 2d Data Processing Platoon, Service Battalion, 2d Marine Division, here, felt about the new 1401 Card Computer System recently received by the Division.

The new $171,550 system replaces the electric accounting machine system which the Division used prior to the arrival of the 1401.

"The old system was very slow compared to the capabilities of the 1401," stated MGySgt. Rafferty.

The computer is mobile and can be mounted out with the Division. New type trailer vans to house the 1401 are expected to arrive here sometime in Aug. or Sept. The 2d Division has been selected as the experimental unit to test the new vans.

This computer system is composed of three interrelated units: the processing unit, which contains 4,000 positions of core storage memory and controls logic, arithmetic, and editing functions performed; the card read-punch which provides a system with simultaneous punched-card input (800 cards per minute) and output (250 cards per minute); the printer which is another output unit, can print up to 132 characters per line at 600 lines per minute. Additional positions of core storage as well as magnetic tape and disk drives can be utilized to further increase capacity of the system.

In operation, a deck of punched program cards containing instructions for the machine are placed in front of the Division Personnel Status File (a card for each member of the Division) and all cards are then fed into the computer. The personnel cards corresponding to the instructions contained in the program deck are then automatically listed and/or extracted as specified by the program instructions.

For instance, Division G-1 wants to know how many Division Staff Sergeants and above speak a certain foreign language. Each card in the Division Personnel Status File will be reviewed for this criteria by the 1401 and as each one is found the entire content of this card can be listed by the printer and/or punched out in duplicate by the card read-punch.

In addition to the above, the system will be used to prepare additional personnel reports such as embarkation rosters, casualty reports, listing by MOS, listing by name, and a statistical report such as T/O-manning level-actual strength comparisons. Supply processing will consist of the updating of stock balance records by issue and receipt transactions, preparation of shipping documents, automatic resupply of items that reach their recorder point (ROP), preparation of instruction cards to alert requesting activity that material has been back-ordered for them, and various statistical reports such as priority utilization by requisitioning units and requisitioning performance.

DIVISION RECEIVES NEW DPI UNIT—MajGen. W. J. Van Ryzin, (covered), Commanding General, 2d Marine Division, was on hand June 2 to view the new 1401 Unit which was recently received by the 2d Marine Division's 9th Data Processing Installation. The new machine has a 4,000 core storage memory unit to which others can be added if needed. CWO R. W. Groom, the installation's Officer in Charge, explained the intricacies of the new unit to Gen. Van Ryzin. The General then punched a button to start the machine's mechanism working on a pre-punched program card which had been fed into it. On another machine the General saw what his handiwork had done.

Passenger Corner

The following passenger tips are not an advertisement for the commercial carriers. They are published as information for the Marine or Civilian desiring economical travel. After travel was performed, it has come to our attention that the traveler did not know about the reduced fares.

Military personnel, in uniform, and traveling on authorized leave, a pass or Permanent Change of Station orders with authorized leave enroute may purchase airline stand-by tickets (no reservations) for approximately one-half of the regular airline fare.

Rail and Bus Carriers offer furlough fares to practically all points for use of military personnel in uniform. At times you may find it convenient to use mixed air, and surface travel. Suppose you are stranded in Chicago, for example, and you desire rail for return travel. The rail carriers will sell one-way furlough tickets for your return travel.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is on certain days, offering one-way (Red Circle Fares) with a deduction of 31% on rail and 25% in sleeping accommodations between Washington, D. C., and Pittsburgh, Pa., Chicago, Ill., St. Louis, Mo., etc. This service is offered to Military and Civilians.

If you are economy minded, you may like to know about the reduced round trip 30 day rail coach fares to many Florida points. These round-trip fares are less expensive than the furlough fares.

Contact the local carrier's agents well in advance for complete information. This is the busy travel season, conventions, etc. It is advisable to allow sufficient time for all your travel, there are instances that require reservations in order to be on time.

This summer nearly half of the doctors at the Naval Hospital will be transferred or released to inactive duty. Most of their replacements arrive several weeks later. Therefore, several of the clinics will be accepting only urgent cases during July and August. This particularly applies to the clinics for surgery, medicine and pediatrics.

Quantico Senior School Revamped For '64 - '65

By WO Dick Nicklin

When the Senior School academic year 1964-65 rolls around next August at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., the atmosphere will be more that of a college, stressing higher military education, rather than that of a pure Marine Force...."according to Colonel C. B. Drake, Senior School Director.

Colonel Drake was quick to emphasize that the Senior School is not attempting to reach the War College level nor is it felt the past courses have been far out of line with the times. He described it as being designed to provide professional education for the Marine Corps officers in the ranks of major and lieutenant colonel in order to better prepare them for command at the regiment, group level and for staff duty at the division, wing levels. It is also designed to prepare him for duties in the grade of lieutenant colonel and colonel with departmental, combines, joint and high level Service organizations.

The course has eliminated the previous concentration on fundamentals, knowledge of which the officer of this rank is assumed to have attained by the time he reaches Senior School.

A brief review of the fundamentals will be covered in the initial sub-course and again briefly in one other. An example of the de-emphasis on fundamentals can be seen in the elimination of some 80 hours of instruction of such subjects as the Maneuver Enemy, Review of Organization and Employment of Marine Ground Forces, Introductions to Introductions to Intelligence, Communications and Field Artillery, etc. Some 90 hours which formerly dealt with the fundamentals phase of Operational Logistics, NBC Warfare, Supply, Maintenance and Fiscal Management are dealt with on a higher level.

In the future, under the new concept, only those officers in the ranks of major and junior lieutenant colonel, who have completed an intermediate level (Junior School), will be assigned to the Senior School. If the officer does not attend the resident course, he must complete the Junior School correspondence course through the Marine Corps Extension School.

In the words of MajGen. R. C. Mangrum, Director of the Marine Corps Educational Center, "An Officer should aspire to attend the course and should, by prior study and professional interest, be ready for it."

Prospective student officers of the Senior School have been given a reading list along with the 'package' they receive prior to reporting for school. Believing that a professional reading program is one of the best means of augmenting educational and field experience, the students are expected to begin a reading program from the prepared list and complete a good portion, prior to reporting to Quantico.

The reading program is expected to assist the student officers when work begins during the course in the area of political-military theory, foreign policy, treaty obligations and mutual defense agreements as well as in many other fields.

The Marine Corps Schools educators emphasize the fact that the primary objective is to prepare officers to win the battle on the battle field; however, it is readily realized that in this nuclear age the military commander must be an educated man, well-versed in command and staff school designed to train Marine Corps field grade officers as staff technicians.

For one thing the student officers, majors with 12 or more years commissioned service, and junior lieutenant colonels, will have been assumed to have attained a more common level of knowledge and background than has here-to-fore been the case.

This assumed level is established with the introduction of a self-graded Inventory Examination. This exam gives the prospective student a self analysis of his own knowledge level and the school has provided him with aids to guide him through several months of self study in the areas in which he shows up weak. By this means he may attain the desired level at which schools officials plan to start work next year.

The revamping was undertaken to "establish the setting of a 'field grade officers workshop', thus creating an atmosphere which will serve as a stimulus to critical thinking--an atmosphere conducive to the serious contemplation and resolution of problems--problems of the type field grade officers can expect to encounter both in and out of the Fleet the Cine-Globe Cruiser Theatre. The screen and color films, the same as those attracting large audiences at the Navy-Marine Corps exhibit at the New York World's Fair, show the Navy-Marine Corps exhibit at the New York World's Fair, show the Navy-Marine team in action on a panoramic screen.

Additionally there is an impressive Four Ocean Challenge exhibit featuring slides and accompanying sound track narration by Admiral McCain.

The story of "Marine might" will be illustrated by: the tank-killing "Ontos", Greek word for "The Thing", which bristles with six 106mm recoilless rifles; and eight-inch howitzer capable of hurling a 200-pound payload over 10 miles; a 52-ton medium tank; an amphibious tracked landing vehicle (known as "Mobile Foxhole"); a "Mechanical Mule", weapons carrier mounting at 106mm recoilless rifle capable of hitting a target four to five miles away.

Other equipment and weapons of the individual Marine will be displayed.

The 2d Marine Division's Security Platoon has been organized into a 25-voice choral group under the direction of 1st Lt. Ben J. Borchelt for the entertainment of the residents enroute. A ten-piece band from the Amphibious Force Band at Little Creek will provide the instrumental music.

The DESOTO COUNTY will also carry a Navy helicopter, the Sikorsky H-19, used extensively in antisubmarine warfare. The UDT group will display an advanced underwater vehicle capable of moving four frogmen toward enemy beaches.

One hundred Marine personnel from the 2d Division and Force Troops, both based at Camp Lejeune, N. C., are aboard and commanded by Maj. John A. O'Brien.

LtCom. Horace D. Mann is commanding officer of the DESOTO COUNTY.

J. F. Kennedy Memorial

Since the tragic death of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22, 1963, many public facilities such as airports, schools and parks have been dedicated in his honor.

While all of these are fitting tributes, a fund-raising campaign is currently underway to provide a national memorial to President Kennedy which will stand above all others in helping to keep his memory alive.

The funds will be used to build the John F. Kennedy Library on the banks of the Charles River in Boston, Mass. — a site the President chose himself eight weeks before his death.

This library will be more than simply another building or monument bearing the President's name. Its planners envision it as a living and working memorial, expressing President Kennedy's concern for his country and the world.

The library will include a museum which will house many of the mementos associated with President Kennedy and his times. Those planning it hope to make the experiences of recent history as vivid as possible for visitors, especially students and young people.

There will also be an archive which will contain President Kennedy's personal papers, as well as copies of public records necessary for an understanding of the actions of his administration. The archive will be used primarily by scholars and researchers.

A third component of the Library will be an institute, with the central purpose of educating young people in the understanding and practice of democratic political life. It will offer scholarships, research material, lectures, seminars and public programs to help achieve these purposes.

The cost of the Kennedy Library will total $10 million — all of which will be obtained by voluntary contributions. When it is completed, it will be turned over to the government as a national institution and, as such, will belong to all Americans.

When the keyman for the campaign in your outfit gets around to you, give it some serious thought. There is no better way for men and women in uniform to pay a personal tribute to their late Commander-in-Chief.

Quad-Command personnel had contributed $3795.51 to the John F. Kennedy National Memorial Fund Drive as of June 12. An estimated 70% of the command has been contacted and presented an opportunity to contribute, though there have been no quotas or fair shares of any type prescribed for the drive.

Unit keymen have complete particulars on the drive and will accept contributions through June 22, scheduled date for the end of the drive. All contributions are strictly voluntary and no effort is being made to reach any specific dollar goal.

Command representatives are Capt. G. E. Sheckley, Marine Corps Base; 1stLt. W. G. Waldau, 2d Marine Division; Capt. J. R. Knight, Force Troops; and Capt. J. J. Oravits, MCAF. Col. C. H. Brush, Jr., Marine Corps Base, is overall Drive Chairman.

IF YOU ASK ME ?

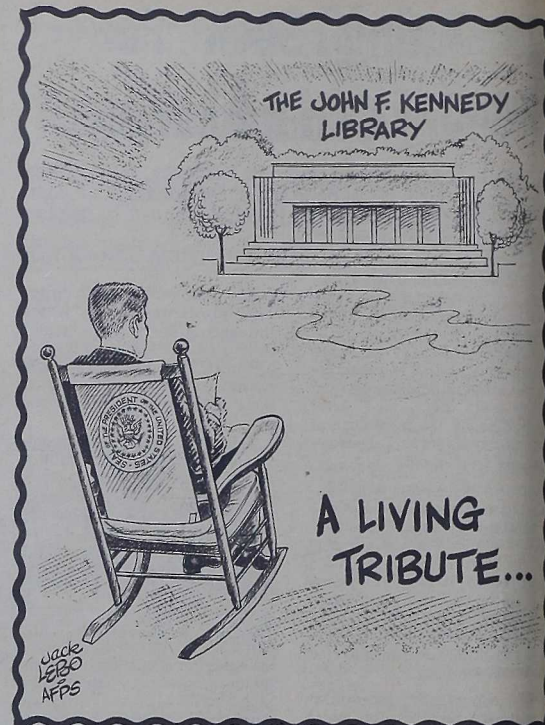

Cpl. Steve A. Treslani, Jr., Headquarters Co., H&S Bn. — "I like to ride horses and I can't seem to find any riding stables near the Camp Lejeune area. With all the open area we have here on base there should be some facilities for stables."

Corpswvave Ce Ce Anderson, Marine Corps Base Dispensary — "I think they should have an outdoor pool in a convenient location closer than the beach. If something like this was installed within easy walking distance then we girls would have something to do without having to worry about a way out and back to the beach and the time element involved."

LCpl. Margie A. Roth, Base Legal Assistant, WM Co., H&S Bn. — "I think in the way of entertainment we should have better club facilities such as better furnishings in the Central Area Club and more variety in the entertainment such as game night, bands and dances."

Chaplain's Corner

In the 18th and 19th chapters of I Kings one may find the details of the contest between the prophets of Baal, an evil tribal religion in which infant sacrifice was practiced, and Elijah, the only remaining prophet of the Lord. God gave Elijah the victory, and the 450 prophets of Baal were slain. As a result, Elijah fled for his life from the wrath of Ahab, said to be the wickedest king of Israel, and after forty days and nights of fasting brought himself "unto Horeb the mount of God."

It was here that Elijah, spiritually inspired, experienced a period of communion with God, wherein he realized that "the Lord was not in the wind", "the Lord was not in the earthquake", and "the Lord was not in the fire", but "after the fire a still small voice."

The wind, the earthquake, and the fire are symbolic of the uproar of modern living, in which the evidences and the pressures of materiality appear to overwhelm the less glamorous and less clamorous attractions of spirituality. How true it is that quiet listening is necessary in order that the things of the Spirit may enter into consciousness, bringing an awareness of the obligation to do right and be good! This is the action of conscience, and the dictates of conscience provide a reliable guide to righteous living, which in turn leads toward the kingdom of heaven right here on earth—made manifest in the blessings we receive. Let us, then, listen for the "still, small voice."

CLUB NEWS

NCO Club

Wow. It has been a blazer this week! Whether you have been in the field, working behind a desk, under a truck, or snapping in on the range it has been a hot week for you. Now you are looking forward to the weekend and a little rest and relaxation. Well, your NCO Clubs are ready to provide that R&R for you, and your families.

Tonight, in the air conditioned comfort of the Blue Room, relax with a cool drink and listen to the cool sounds of the Rhythm Kings.

Or, if you feel in the mood for a dip before dark, drop down to the NCO Beach Club. You won't have to hurry back for chow either, as the beach club is prepared, under the management of Harry Beaudoin, to serve you light snacks of your choice.

Our Chef is offering a twin bill of fare in the dining room tomorrow night: filet of flounder for $6.00 or golden fried shrimp for $12.50. Arrive early and take advantage of the reduced prices during Happy Hour. Stay a little late and listen to the sounds of the Sparks.

If you can't make the scene Friday you can't afford to miss the action Saturday night. In the dining room there will be huge, delicious sirloin steaks, over a pound-and-a-half for only $2.50. The Blue Room will be featuring Bob Jones and his band AND a floor show with Alex Houston and Elmer.

So you couldn't make it Friday, and you had the duty Saturday. Well, take a nap after church Sunday and then come on in and enjoy our Sunday Special. Ten ounces of tender T-Bone steak is yours for $12.50. Then four hours of professional entertainment at its best as the Ink Spots play for your pleasure in the Blue Room.

Tuesday night come in and play for those really big prizes, and while you are about it order your special "45 Burger" with French fries for $3.00.

The all-new Bob Bass Band will be on hand Wednesday night. If you haven't heard this new group, you are cheating yourself, they really swing.

thrown in for only $1.00. A special Kiddie Plate will also be offered at the nominal fee of 60c and a choosing of a small steak or a child's Fried Chicken Platter, with the works. NOTE: This is not the menu Child's Plate, more for your money.

Tuesday is good old Game Nite, everyone's fun nite, throw away your cares for the time being and visit Vic and the gang. Stay awhile and Drift awhile, with your favorite dancing partner to the tunes of The Drifters. Games start at 8 p.m. "Driftin'" starts about 10:15 p.m. Try the red hot Coney Islands for a snack between games.

Paradise Point Officers Club

Wednesday we will feature Ala Carte Menu and Thursday is family night with a choice of fried chicken dinner for $1.50 and 75c or baked ham for $1.75 and 90c. The dining room opens at 8 p.m.

Friday's dinner specials are sirloin steak dinner for $2.00 or fresh fried oysters for $2.25. Also dine and dance to the music of the T-Tones.

The 'O' Club Band will provide the music for Saturday. Enjoy a sirloin steak for $2.75 or sauerbraten of beef for $2.50.

Sunday is brunch time! The cafeteria is open for brunch from 7 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Top of the menu is broiled chicken livers in butter for 45c.

Montford Point Staff NCO Annex

Friday night we will feature flounder or spaghetti for 75c from 5:30 until 8 p.m. Happy Hour goes from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Saturday is dance night with Hosea Sepp and the swingsters at 8:30 and at 10:30 it's Alex and Elmer.

Sunday, June 21 is Father's Day so don't forget your dear old dad. Bring him in for roast ton turkey or roast sirloin dinner with salad bar for $1.25 for adults and 75c for kids.

Happy Hour Tuesday is from 4:30 until 5:30 with a feature of chicken dinner for 75c.

Game night Wednesday with a diner's special of meat loaf for 75c.

Hadnot Point Staff NCO Annex

Friday, Happy, Happy, Happy Hour from 4:30 'til 6:30 p.m. and for a real toothsome treat, Manager Ed Miller has imported Rainbow Trout from the Allegheny's. This you can't beat for only $1.00 a platter, with the trimmings. After an enjoyable dinner there will be dancing, starting at 9 p.m. with the Bob Bass Combo.

Saturday, again Chef Mac is featuring his famous 20 ounce Sirloin Steak, grilled or broiled with your choice of baked or french fried potatoes, vegetables of the day, tossed salad and three dressings to please you for $2.25 (tax sed). To complete an evening, the Squirrel and his Aces are making their return after a successful previous engagement, you'll like 'em.

Sunday, a dining room salute to Dear Old Dad. Since this is his day, we will spotlight a fabulous feast at a fabulous price. Either Veal Cutlets with tomato and cheese sauce or half of Roast Chicken with dressing. Two vegetables, salad

The movies this week are "Red Mountain" and "Guadalcanal". Hospitality Hour is sponsored by the North Wood Baptist church with free refreshments. Also free rides to the church of your choice on Sunday.

Movie Reviews

THE BRASS BOTTLE
 This light-hearted fantasy demonstrates that a three-thousand-year-old genie may not be the best of household pets. When struggling architect Tony Randall accidentally frees genie Burl Ives from an antique brass bottle, the portly spirit gratefully showers him with gifts and services fit for Solomon, but scarcely of a kind to impress his fiancée's already disapproving parents.

THE CARDINAL
 A superb, absorbing and entertaining screen document, tracing the life and works of a single man during the period between two World Wars. The man is a young priest, ordained in 1917, who rises to the eminence of Prince of the Church. The story is told via a series of moving, dramatic and emotional scenes which directly involve or affect the youth, and have their later repercussions on the maturing priest.

PSYCHE 59
 Starring Patricia Neal, Curt Jurgens, Samantha Eggar. Family relationships in the London home of industrialist Curt Jurgens are apparently close to ideal. Even the wife's blindness, which is psychosomatic, does not strain the semblance of household happiness, until her seductive young sister comes to live with them. It is soon evident that the wife cannot see because she is afraid of opening her eyes to the growing love between her husband and the young girl.

SHOCK TREATMENT
 Tells of an unsuccessful actor who is offered $10,000 to simulate insanity so he may obtain information about a self-confessed murderer and a possible cache of a million dollars.

THE AVENGER
 After many years of wandering, Aeneas, Steve Reeves, and about five hundred surviving Trojan warriors reach the banks of the Tiber. Divine signs indicate that they should now erect their new city. Messengers are sent to Latino, the king of the province for a conference with Aeneas to permit them to build. Soon as the messengers leave, a powerful and local chief arrives at the camp and demands that they move on.

4 FOR TEXAS
 Who's In It?—Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Anita Ekberg. What's It About?—A hand-bag account of a three-way fight over $100,000 loot from a stagecoach as Dean outwits Frank and the town banker tries to get the best of both of them. What's the Verdict?—A comedy Western you won't want to miss.

DARK PURPOSE
 Starring George Sanders, Shirley Jones and Rossano Brazzi is the story of an art authority and his assistant, an American girl, who have been commissioned by an Italian count to appraise the treasures in his elegant villa at Ravello. Besides his collection of paintings and sculpture, the villa houses a vicious dog and a beautiful girl, evidently suffering from amnesia, who is usually kept under sedatives by the count. Makes for an unusual story.

CORPSMEN

66TH

"Corpsman!" . . . Countless times this call for help has been heard on the battlefields of the world. It is a call that never goes unanswered. And the men who answer that call for aid are the hospital corpsmen of the U. S. Navy.

This small, proud corps observes its 66th anniversary June 17. The hospital corps came into existence as an organized unit of the Navy Medical Department under the provisions of an act of Congress, approved June 17, 1898.

An integral part of the 2d Marine Division, the 2d Medical Battalion is one of the original units to form with the division at Camp Elliot, Calif., during 1941.

Through World War II, the Lebanese operation (1958), and during tactical and non-tactical training, the battalion has rendered medical treatment to Leathernecks of the division.

The battalion is as unique as it is mobile, in that its members are mostly corpsmen and it is the only battalion-sized unit within the 2d Division commanded by a naval officer. Cmdr. G. E. Wire (MC), USN, is presently commanding the battalion.

Whether they are fighting or training, Marines know they can depend upon the corpsmen. There are eight corpsmen assigned to a Marine rifle company; one to the headquarters company, one to the weapons platoon, and two to each of the three rifle platoons. These men, commonly referred to by Marines as "Doc," train with the riflemen. Although often the subject of goodnatured ribbing by their Marine buddies, they are, nevertheless, highly respected members of the world's best fighting force.

They have earned this respect through their courageous devotion to duty under the most hazardous combat conditions. It is significant to note that during World War II, a total of 15 Navy enlisted men were awarded this nation's highest honor, the Congressional Medal of Honor. Of this number, seven were corpsmen.

More recently, in the Korean Conflict, they added a brilliant chapter to their history. They were at the forefront of all the fighting, performing on-the-spot emergency and first aid treatment, saving the lives of their comrades-in-arms. Again and again these highly trained technicians, without a thought for their own safety, answered the call for help.

OBSERVE YEAR

Their efforts did not go unrecognized. Five of the seven Congressional Medals of Honor were bestowed upon corpsmen.

These honors were not easily obtained. It is a matter of record that the percentage of casualties among Medical Department personnel in Korea, as in World War II, was greater than that of the Marines they supported. But, for the professionals that they are, it must be rewarding to know that during World War II, out of every 100 wounded Sailors and Marines, 97 recovered. A remarkable record.

Doc's peace-time role is equally creditable. For example, in 1954, approximately 190,000 Vietnam refugees were transported on Naval vessels without the appearance of an epidemic. In 1957, corpsmen distinguished themselves further in Mexico during the hurricane and floods at Tampico; in 1961, they aided the victims of Hurricane Carla in Texas and Louisiana.

Contrary to popular scuttlebutt corpsmen do not prescribe APC's for a broken leg. Their quiet professionalism has earned them the respect of all Marines. Their methods of medical management are constantly reviewed and revised to reflect the latest trends in treatment. In recent years, they have received special and intensive instruction in the management of mass casualties which might follow in the wake of a nuclear attack.

Their present day training and duties are a far cry from the days of ship-board life in the early part of the 19th century. Then referred to as "loblolly boys," it was their job to serve the surgeon and the surgeon's mate. It was, among many others, the duty of the loblolly boy to go fore and aft the gun and berth decks ringing a small bell to give notice to "those slightly indisposed and with ulcers" to attend the surgeon at the mainmast.

From the days of the cutlass to the days of the atomic bomb, Doc has served his country and his fellow man with dignity and pride.

So, there then is a brief look at corpsmen whose motto is, in layman's language, "to keep as many men at as many guns as many days as possible."

Next Home Game July 9

Lejeune Takes 9 Straight In ECI Conference Action

The Devil Dogs made it nine in a row in East Coast Interservice Conference baseball action, as they downed Ft. Lee twice, then copped a league game, 14-7, from McGuire Air Force Base Monday night.

In non-conference competition, the Leathernecks defeated Ft. McPherson twice in home games to set their season mark at 44 wins and 16 losses.

Chuck Cuppert extended his season's mound record to 11-4 in the first tilt against Lee, striking out nine hitters, walking three, and giving up five hits, to shut Ft. Lee out 4-0.

Meanwhile, the Lejeune offense was busily rapping out hits. Buddy Simpson went three for four, while Hal Norton, Tom O'Leary, and Lou Lepito each collected two hits in four times at bat.

In the second game against Lee, eight of the Lejeune nine racked up hits, setting up Dick Hall's eighth win of the year, 8-1.

Ron Burke, Hal Norton, Jim

Hall, and Buddy Simpson picked up two hits each. Tom O'Leary, Lou Lepito, Tom McHenry, and Dick Hall got a hit apiece. Norton homered in the seventh with the bases empty.

Lejeune vs McPherson

Harvey Oxendine had to go 11 innings for his win in the opening game against Ft. McPherson. He struck out nine, walked four, gave up eight hits, and one run (unearned).

Lejeune scored first, after Oxendine tripled and then came home on a base hit by Simpson in the seventh frame.

McPherson came back in the ninth to convert a pair of singles and an error into the tying run.

In the eleventh inning Chico Lugo batted in the winning run when he brought Simpson, who had led off in the inning, home with a single.

The second contest with McPherson was also a squeaker. The Marines won it, 8-7, behind O'Leary's run producing stickwork. O'Leary drove in six of the Lejeune runs with three hits in five efforts.

The 'Dogs were trailing 7-5 going into the last of the ninth, when Simpson singled to drive in a run, and O'Leary belted out a base hit to bring two runs across.

Lejeune vs McGuire

Monday night Lejeune copped the first of two conference games against McGuire Air Force Base.

Lejeune fell behind 5-2 in the early innings, but then the Marines came to life and had stacked up a 14-7 score at the end of the game.

"Cess" Poole was the winning hurler, picking up his initial victory of the season.

Norton and Lepito were high on the hit parade. Both men homered in the game. Burke, Lepito, and Simpson picked up three hits each, with Norton and Jim Hall each collecting two. The Marines got 15 hits in the contest.

GETTING READY — Lt. Col. "Stormy" Davis, and Sgt. Robert Harrison, gear manager, inspect football equipment, preparing for the '64 season.

Water Sports

By C. C. THOMAS

The Camp Lejeune sailors had another beautiful racing day, with bright sun and a 15 knot wind. Mike Ashley, with his wife, Marion, and Jack Glenn as crew, took top honors in this second race of the series.

Garth House and Norm Fertsch sailed third through most of the course, until rounding the last mark they had a lift that pointed them higher. This shorter tack brought them over the finish line 30 seconds ahead of Dick Simpson and his crewman, Chip Hennessey, who had been second until then.

FISHING

Right now the fishing outlook along the Carolina Coast appears to be great.

Large schools of medium sized bluefish around the inlets in this area have made trolling with spoons very profitable. Spanish mackerel are on the increase and can also be caught with the spoon.

Pompano and flounder are being landed by inshore bottom fishermen, with snapper groupers and triggerfish falling prey to the offshore anglers.

Trolling has been producing king mackerel, dolphin, albacore, and bonito, with amberjack showing up in ever increasing numbers.

When the pelicans appear, it's time to head for the cobia holes. Check the charts for the deep holes, and try small, live fish for bait.

Use a good sturdy boat rod when you're trying for these scrappers.

All-Mar. Judoists Beat Ariz. Teams

The All-Marine Judo team won first place in team competition in the Arizona State Invitational Judo Championships held in Phoenix May 2.

Representing the winning All Marine team was: Sgt. John Roseberry, El Toro, Sgt. E. H. Cates, SSgt. Jim Giles both of Camp Pendleton, and PFC Matt Van Leeuwen. Giles took the title in the individual black belt match.

The Marines defeated eight teams in the contest. Seven of the clubs were from Arizona cities and one was an Air Force team.

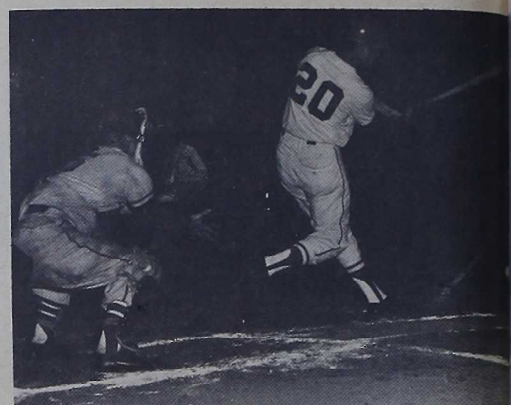

At present the All-Marine team is undergoing training at El Toro in preparation for the Olympic Trials in New York.

Sgt. Roseberry, who won the overall All-Marine Judo Championships at Quantico last April 15, presented the Biddle Trophy, one of the highest individual athletic awards in the Marine Corps, to BrigGen. John F. Dobbin, Commanding General MCAS El Toro here last week.

Sgt. Cates is a five-time All Marine Judo champion.

New Handball Facilities Now Ready For Action

Base Special Services recently opened the doors to two new double, 4 wall, lighted outdoor handball courts.

The courts are located between Liversedge Field (the football stadium) and the Intramural Field.

Anticipating a lot of use of the courts, special services has set a policy so that courts can be reserved. You can reserve a court by stopping in at the reservations office at Goettge Memorial Field House, or by calling extension 7-3762, the day before you want to play.

When a court is not reserved, it will be assigned on a first-come-first-served basis. If you make a reservation and do not appear within five minutes after your scheduled time, your reservation will be void.

The handball courts will be available every day, from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. Between hours of 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., 4 p. m. to 6 p. m., Monday through Friday, play will be limited to 40 minutes, on reservation basis only.

At all other times your reservation will be good for 15 minutes.

After 4:30 p. m. weekends and on weekends you can submit your ID card to the Special Services Duty NCO, and the keys to the handball courts.

Units can reserve the handball courts for intramural activity. To do this the unit must submit their request to Base Special Services Office at least 10 days before courts are needed.

Further details on the handball courts can be found in Base Order 1710.23, dated June 1964.

8th Comm. Takes Lead In Force Troops Softball

Pitching duels and slugfests highlighted last week's Force Troops intramural softball league play as three teams emerged undefeated.

Leading the way is 8th Communications Bn., with three wins and no losses, followed closely by Headquarters Co., with a 2-0 record and 2d Topo Co., with a 1-0 slate.

Headquarters took advantage of a ten run first inning to down hapless 2d Amtracs, 14-4.

The wild and woolly affair saw two home runs nullified as base runners failed to touch all the bases.

In the third inning Amtrac catcher Ponderson hit what appeared to be a three-run homer, but had it nullified as he missed first base.

Later, "Heavy" Miller connected for a home run for Headquarters Co., only to have it voided for missing third base.

In a later inning Miller no doubt as he rifled the past the outfield and made distinct effort to touch all bases.

Charles Clark had a homer for Headquarters Co. as they nipped losing pitcher Billy Proctor, for eight hits. Fastballing "A" "C" scattered four hits while going distance for Headquarters.

Engineers had only four hits but took advantage of fielding and walks to down Field Artillery Group, 11-3. White was winning pitcher, he scattered five FAG hits.

Comm Bn., took advantage of nine errors by Radio Co. slip-by them 5-4.

Radio Co., dropped another close one to 8th Motors, as all five runs were unearned.

Rex Springfield was the winning pitcher, scattering eight hits. Bob Walker was touched for three hits in losing effort.

In a real slugfest Comm blasted 2d Field Artillery Group, 17-9.

In other league action, Engineers slipped by 2d ANGLICO 3-2 and ANGLICO nudged Tanks, 8-6 in ten innings.

Local Marine 3rd All-Service Track

PFC John Green, a local Marine, placed third in the high jump of the Interservice Track Meet, held recently at Quantico, Va.

Green cleared 6'2" to place. He was the only Marine in the meet from Camp Lejeune.

In an earlier tournament here at Lejeune, Green cleared 6'6", and copped the Outstanding Award. By virtue of his performance. Green was sent to the Interservice Meet.

Leathernecks Eating Berths In Olympic Wrestling

Four U. S. Marine Corps wrestlers in training at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, will compete for the U. S. Olympic Wrestling Team.

The Marine grapplers are also under the supervision of 1st Lieutenant L. F. ... a 1960 collegiate wrestler and still active competitor.

In early June the grapplers will compete in the Interservice Wrestling Championship at West Point, N. Y. Immediately after the Interservice meet the United States Amateur Athletic Union (A.A.U.) will conduct its final trials at the World's Fair in New York. On the heels of the event will be the Olympic Trials, also scheduled for the World's Fair.

Capt. Lauchle reports that good showing during the next few months by any of the four could result in a round trip ticket to Tokyo, Japan in October.

The 19th Hole

By BOB SPENCER

The tip this week concerns YOUR LEFT HIP...One cause of slicing often overlooked by man who believes everything has been checked is the open left hip. It is not usually detected because of the innocent way it enters into the swing.

For example, let's take the golfer who is on the tee, ready to hit, when he suddenly decides he should avoid the trouble on the right side of the fairway. He moves his left hip out of the way, supposedly giving him a clear, full fairway to hit to, and at the same time eliminating what he feels is an obstruction. Now, they think they can swing for distance.

This is wrong because the hands have to be ahead of the clubface in a situation like this. And thus the invitation is extended for the big fade that either goes out of play, or spins to a stop not too far from the tee, as well as on the wrong side.

This seemingly small oversight can also cause faulty weight shift or body sway, thereby compounding the problem, and creating more slice.

If there is to be any movement of the left hip at address with the hope that the ball favors the left side of the fairway, there should be a corresponding change in the stance.

Capt. Rottsohl sank a hole-in-one earlier this month on the fourth hole of the number two course, using an eight iron.

Qualifying Tourney Begins Monday

Plans Set For ECIC Golf; 2 Lejeune Teams Entered

The East Coast Interservice Conference Golf Tournament is slated for July 27-29, at Fort Bragg, N. C. Camp Lejeune can enter two teams — one in the Open, and one in the Senior Division.

If you have a handicap of ten strokes or less, and are tournament inclined, here's your chance to get in on a big one. All you have to do is be available to go to Fort Bragg July 27-30—and turn in one of the four lowest scores in a 54 hole qualifying tournament which will be held soon at the Paradise Point Golf Course #1. The ten stroke handicap applies for Open golfers.

To get on the Senior Division team you must have a handicap of 15 or less, and be 45-years-old before July 27, and turn in one of the low four scores in the senior division of qualifying tourney.

The qualifying tournament will be held from June 22 to July 13. If you enter this event you must be able to go to Fort Bragg if you're chosen for the team.

Personnel from Marine Corps Base, 2d Marine Division, Force Troops, and Marine Corps Air Facility are eligible to compete. You must register three days before playing the first 18-hole round, at the Paradise Point Pro Shop.

If you win a spot on the team, you then present written permission to the Base Athletic Office (in Goettge Memorial Field House) by July 13, authorizing you to be away from your organization for the period of time involved.

The Base Recreation Fund will foot the bill for travel and meal expenses, and travel orders will be issued.

In the ECIC Tournament, the Open and Senior Team Championships will be the team with the lowest combined team score over 36 holes. If there is a tie there will be a sudden-death play-off, with all four members of the team competing.

The Medalist Championship will be over 36-holes also, and again, ties between individuals will be broken in a sudden-death play-off.

Additional details about the ECIC Tournament, and the qualifying tourney, are available in Base Bulletin 1710.

Marines Set

PRESSURE CHAMBER—Members of the Cherry Point Sport Parachute Club undergo pressure chamber training in preparation for their record-breaking parachute jump. The team shattered the world day parachute record. Two days later they broke the free-fall record. The jumps are not yet officially verified.

Jump Record

43,500 FEET—Members of the Marine Team exit their KC-130F jump aircraft 43,500 feet above the ground on June 4. Team members stepped out into the 65 degree below zero troposphere and free-fell to 1,800 feet before deploying their parachutes. The Marines unofficially matched the world day parachute record on June 4 and shattered the world night record.

Meritorious Masts

GUNNERY SERGEANT DOUGLAS F. DAVIES, 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, was awarded a meritorious mast by BrigGen. Donn J. Robertson, Commanding General, Force Troops, for "exceptional initiative and professional ability while serving as Motor Transport Chief, Operations Chief and Gunnery Sergeant of the 2d 155mm Gun Battery." The mast read in part:

"It is with extreme pleasure that official recognition is awarded you for your outstanding performance of duty while serving as Motor Transport Chief, Operations Chief and Gunnery Sergeant of the 2d 155mm Gun Battery. While discharging your duties in these capacities you have demonstrated an eagerness to assume responsibility, a vast technical knowledge, extreme versatility and a superior ability to organize and train personnel.

Your organization and supervision of the Battery Motor Transport Section in December 1962, following a prolonged deployment of much of its equipment and a change in most of the personnel, resulted in a state of readiness sufficient to pass the Inspector General's inspection in January 1963.

While serving as Battery Operations Chief, your organization and training of generally unqualified personnel produced a capable and efficient fire direction and survey section for the 1963 Vieques exercise.

Since your assignment as Battery Gunnery Sergeant in May 1963, you have continued to display your talents for organization, training and supervision and the rare ability to isolate and grasp the causes of complex problems.

Your leadership, proficiency, diligence and tireless devotion to duty are to be commended. Your consistently outstanding performance of duty with minimum supervision is indicative of the highest degree of professional knowledge and devotion to duty and reflects the highest credit upon yourself and the Marine Corps."

SERGEANT ABEL D. PIERSON, 2d Interrogator-Translator Team, Force Troops, was presented a meritorious mast by BrigGen. Donn J. Robertson, Commanding General, Force Troops, for "exceptional initiative and professional ability while serving as a member of the 2d Interrogator Translator Team." The mast read in part:

"It is with extreme pleasure that official recognition is awarded you for your outstanding performance of duty while serving as a member of the 2d Interrogator Translator Team. While discharging your duties in this capacity, you have demonstrated an eagerness to assume responsibility and have acted with initiative above that normally expected of a Marine of your rank. Your leadership, proficiency, diligence and tireless devotion to duty are to be commended.

Your outstanding performance of duty with minimum supervision is indicative of the highest degree of professional knowledge and devotion to duty and reflects the highest credit upon yourself and the Marine Corps."

CORPORAL LELAND E. WORLEY, Headquarters and Service Company, Battalion Landing Team 1/8, was meritoriously promoted to his present rank May 25 by his Company Commander, 1st Lt. F. L. Fish, during ceremonies aboard the attack transport USS Fremont at sea in the Mediterranean. Cpl. Worley was promoted for his outstanding performance of duty and display of personal initiative while assigned to the BLT Motor Transport Section during the unit's current five-month joint operational and "good will" tour of the Mediterranean area with the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

MAJOR G. A. MERRILL, CO., 8th Engineer Bn., presented Meritorious Masts to GySgt. James E. Preskitt, Sgt. Harold D. Marcotte, Sgt. Thomas Morgan, Cpl. William R. Joyce, Jr., and LCpl. Norbert Nissers for outstanding accomplishment in the recent CG's inspection.

Sgt. Robert L. Grumbine and Cpl. Joseph P. Sheehan of Marine Helicopter Squadron 262 were awarded Commanding Officer's Mast for a job well done by Maj. Edwin K. Kirby, Squadron Commander.

Sgt. Grumbine was selected as the "Crew-chief of the Month" for April and May and Cpl. Sheehan was selected as "First Mechanic of the Month" for April.

Their masts read in part, "for outstanding ability to maintain your aircraft in a state of readiness, your knowledge of the aircraft and your high degree of initiative."

Division Pay Days

Division Disbursing Office has announced the following schedule of pay days for Division units:

June 18--2d Service Bn., 2d Engineer Bn., 2d Motor Transport Bn., and 2d Recon. Bn.

June 30--Headquarters Bn., Anti-Tank Bn., 2d Marines, 10th Marines, and 2d Medical Bn., All Navy personnel.

July 1--6th Marines, 8th Marines

July 2--2d Service Bn., 2d Engineer Bn., 2d MT Bn., 2d Recon. Bn., and 2d Shore Party Bn.

Three Promoted At FMFLant HQ

Col. John B. Bristow, LtCol. David G. Jones and Maj. Melvin A. Soper were promoted to their present rank on June 5 during informal ceremonies held in the office of LtGen. J. P. Berkeley, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic.

Col. Bristow, a veteran of World War II and Korea, will assume command of Headquarters and Service Battalion, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, relieving Col. Francis X. Beamer who is on orders to Washington, D. C. Col. Bristow previously served as Assistant G-2 (Intelligence) Officer.

Col. Bristow, a 1942 graduate of Colgate University, has seen extensive travel during his 22-year Marine Corps career. The colonel participated in the World War II Tarawa, Saipan and Tinian campaigns and served with the 1st Marine Division during the Korean Conflict. He has twice spent tours of duty on Taiwan as the advisor to the Chinese Marine Corps.

LtCol. Jones, a veteran of 22 years active Marine Corps service, presently serving as the Headquarters and Service Battalion S-3 Officer, will be transferred shortly to the Force G-4 Section. A native of Newark, N. J., LtCol. Jones served as an enlisted Marine during the second World War and was commissioned a second lieutenant in October 1945.

An artillery officer, he recently was awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of Omaha.

Maj. Soper, enlisted in the Marine Corps in Jan. 1948, and was serving as a technical sergeant when he was commissioned a second lieutenant in March 1953. The major has attended numerous schools, including Electronics Technical Course, Radio Technical Course, Crypto Course and Communications Officer School.

He is presently serving as Assistant Communications Electronics Officer on the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic staff.

NOTICE

Boy Scout Troop 390 is looking for more boys, ages 11 to 16. The meetings are held every Wednesday from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Camp Knox Scout Hut. The Scout Hut is located on the road between Camp Knox Trailer Park and Montford Point. For further information during working hours call LCpl. Bosworth at 7-5102.

READY AND WILLING To sign a new enlistment contract giving him a total of 40 years of honorable Marine Corps Service, Marine Corps Base SgtMaj. Russell O. Baker, sitting, receives the pen from Base Commander MajGen. A. L. Bowser, during reenlistment ceremonies in the general's office Friday.

Carolina Travels

visitors to North Carolina make a new side trip into the state's colorful past, now in Frontier Land, U. S. A., opened on the Cherokee Reservation in the Great Smoky Mountains.

Developed by R. B. Coburn, the Ghost Town In-The-Mountain overlooking Maggie Valley is a major attraction ever since it was established four years ago. Frontier Land is a new-type park depicting life in the American frontier of the 1860's. There are three separate attractions in Frontier Land: Indian Territory with 20 dwellings of various tribes; Fort Cherokee, replica of a cavalry post on western plains; and Deadwood Gulch, a "cowtown" type of a century ago. Here the "son" serving soft drinks in a 40 foot, high velvet-lined walls and 60-foot bar, attracts 400 patrons.

Frontier Land covers some 100 acres leased from the Eastern Cherokee and the Cherokee Indian and is just off U. S. Highway 421, a half mile east of the town of Cherokee. Travel from the main parking lot to the center of Frontier Land takes only a few minutes via train powered by a vintage steam locomotive. The train passes through a 100-foot, high "light" tunnel.

Indian dances and music, "em ups" at the canteen, and on the streets of Deadwood Gulch, and music and dancing in the big saloon in Frontier Land.

Summer Term Classes At Lejeune

Summer term classes began Tuesday night, June 17, at the Camp Lejeune Center of the Carolina College with a schedule of 17 courses available.

Most of the courses had their first class meetings Wednesday evening at 6:30 p. m.; others begin tonight at 7 p. m. Most classes will be held at the Camp Lejeune High School. Typewriting is taught at Bowser School nearby.

Thursday, June 18, was the first regularly-scheduled day of registration, but arrangements can be made for late registration through Tuesday, June 23.

Most of the summer term classes will meet twice each for three-hour sessions. The term closes August 11. Courses that began Wednesday include art appreciation, introduction to business, introductory economics, English composition, American history, college math, introductory sociology and Spanish.

Beginning tonight are typewriting, English composition, and dictation, health, American history, college algebra, general psychology and Spanish.

Further information is available from Edmond Limer, Jr., director of the center, at his office on the base.

Boys Earn High Awards

Members of the Camp Lejeune Boy Scout Troop No. 1000, Jeff Polet and Bob White, earned God and Country awards last Sunday. They were presented these awards by Chaplain Earl E. Keele during the services held in the Terrace School Chapel. The award is not a scouting award but a religious award. In this honor, a scout must be a member of the church, have been in the First Class, give evidence of service, and learn his duties from his own

Recipe Of The Week

OREGON APPLE DAPPLE

Two words describe the way this torte tastes--extra-delicious.

1/4 c. butter or margarine
1 c. sugar
1 egg
1 c. sifted flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. vanilla
2 c. grated tart apples
1/2 c. chopped walnuts
Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in egg.

Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Stir into creamed mixture. Stir in vanilla, apples and nuts.

Bake in a greased (8" X 8" X 2") pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Serve warm with sauce or ice cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ELIN'S SAUCE: Heat 1/2 c. butter or margarine, 1/2 c. light cream and 1 c. sugar to boiling point and simmer, stirring occasionally, 20 minutes.

Bowling League

For those interested in bowling, a ladies' league is being formed for the fall season. The tentative day and time for league bowling is Thursdays at 6:30 p.m.

Staff NCO Wives Installation Held On June 13th

New officers of the Staff NCO Club were installed Saturday evening in an impressive candlelight service.

The installation dinner was held in the Blue Room of the Montford Point Staff NCO Club. Honor guests of the evening were Major General and Mrs. A. L. Bowser and Chaplain W. J. Milosek.

Club members, their husbands, and honor guests gathered at 6:30 for a social hour. Antiquated music scrolls of "Moonlight and Roses" decorated the walls, setting the mood of the evening. A silver basket of summer blossoms flanked with tall red tapers centered the hors-d'oeuvre table where punch was poured from twin crystal bowls.

Mrs. M. E. Howell, mistress of ceremonies, welcomed the guests; and Mrs. B. C. Jenkins, past president, presented gifts to the retiring officers. Special gifts of appreciation were received by Mrs. R. P. Shraake and Mrs. R. L. LeClair, chairman and co-chairman of the Thrift Shop.

Chaplain Milosek, installing officer, instructed the new officers in their duties as Mrs. Jenkins lighted the Club candle and passed the flame of continuity to retiring officers Mrs. S. J. Bock, Mrs. T. J. Moses and Mrs. J. H. Watts.

Chaplain Milosek congratulated the new officers as the light of fidelity was accepted by Mrs. Sims Pahnka, president; Mrs. J. W. Turner, vice-president; Mrs. A. D. Marzilli, recording secretary; Mrs. C. G. Eagan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. L. LeClair, treasurer; and Mrs. W. E. Crites, sgt-at-arms.

As each candle was lighted it was placed in a blue candelabra centered on lace covered blue damask. Soft candlelight reflecting on upraised hands, they took their oath of office, accepting their responsibilities to their club and community with dignity and reverence.

Mrs. Pahnka accepted the Club gavel from Mrs. Bock who extended congratulations and best wishes for a happy and rewarding term of office. Mrs. Bowser accepted a bouquet of red roses, presenting a single red rose to each of the new officers.

A delicious buffet featuring glazed ham and barbecued chicken was served at banquet tables where lacy fern and roses, interspersed with floating candles, cast feathery shadows on snowy covers.

Exercise Care, Knowledge For Safe Boating Season

With the boating season now in full swing, this is a good time to reflect on boating safety.

June 28 to July 4 has been declared National Safe Boating Week. During this period, boaters are urged to do their utmost to avoid accidents afloat. This is a fine idea—every week of the year.

During 1963 in North Carolina there were 68 boating accidents reported, and 26 fatalities. This reflects a decline in the number of boating accidents in the Tar Heel State during the past three years—but most of last year's accidents could have been easily avoided with the addition of two factors—care and knowledge.

There is no single reason that can be pointed out as the "major cause" of boating mishaps. Speed was not a large contributing factor in itself, although coupled with other factors, speed contributed to many accidents.

Here are a few of the incidents which indicate the almost infinite variety of boating accidents. A man knocked overboard by a low-hanging limb while he was standing up in his boat to refuel his engine—a novice water skier slammed into a bank after building up speed on a turn—a skipper steered a boat between two lights which he thought marked an opening under a bridge, during heavy fog. They were boat-house lights—anglers fishing near a large, well marked power dam were swamped when a turbine was turned on—a boat crashed into a bank while the operator was adjusting the carburetor on his motor—a water skier was waving at a crowd behind him, until he slammed into a pier—a motor was started in gear with the throttle advanced, and a man standing in the boat was thrown out.

Field Wire Course Has Honor Grads

The Field Wire Course, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Communications School, held graduation ceremonies May 28.

Maj. Genaro Huerta, Communication Co., Headquarters Bn., 2d Marine Division, guest speaker for the ceremonies, addressed the Marines prior to presenting their diplomas.

The Field Wire Course is five weeks in duration and instructs the students in field switchboard operations, laying of wire, poleclimbing and wire splicing. To graduate, each man must be a qualified poleclimber, proficient in field wire construction and operation and maintenance of field telephone equipment.

PFC Louis Lopez, Battery "K", 4th Bn., 10th Marines, took first place honors, edging out Cpl. Morris Williams, H&S Co., 3d Bn., 8th Marines, by a mere .50 points. Lopez finished with a 91.79% average and Williams with a 91.29%. Third place went to LCpl. Joe Osborne, H&S Co., 1st Bn., 2d Marines, who came up with a final average of 90.86%.

Could these accidents have been avoided by using care and knowledge?

If you own or operate a boat, it's up to you to learn how to do so safely, and competently. The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, the Federal Government, and various boating clubs, have mountains of free literature available on the subject.

In addition, the Base Libraries have books concerning small boat handling, and there are many inexpensive paperback books on the market that deal with boat operation.

If live classes appeal more to you, then check with the Jacksonville Power Squadron. They conduct school on the subject.

political-military relationships and geo-political affairs. He must also understand the utilization of emergency actions short of war.

In an effort to prepare the students for their future roles, much emphasis has been placed on executive leadership, including effective communications and conference techniques. Some 49 hours will be spent in effective writing and effective briefings. An additional 10 hours will be devoted to book discussions.

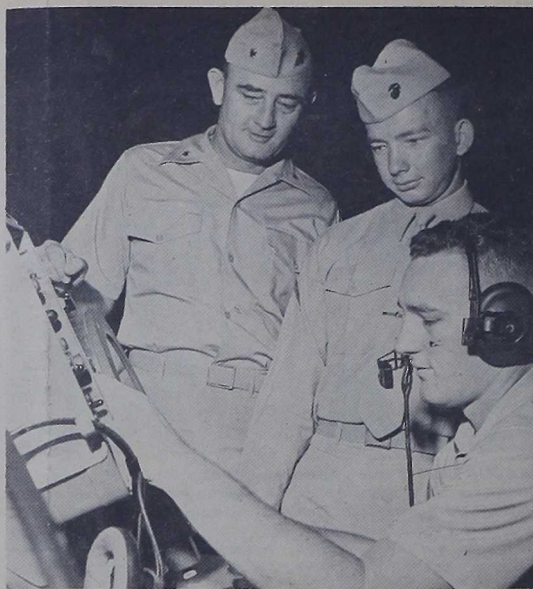

In the belief that the platform lecture is the least desirable means of instruction at this "high level" institution, the new course is designed to confront the student with situations, requiring him to solve problems by individual or group application in the workshop type atmosphere.

Guest lecturers will be presented from other Departments within the Defense Department and the Government as well as civilian agencies in an effort to broaden the student officer's scope of thinking and knowledge.

"Instruction in the tactical and logistical aspects of amphibious operations is, of course, the field of primary emphasis," says Gen. Mangrum. Added emphasis will, however, be placed on management procedures in the planning, programming and budgeting procedures at the Headquarters Marine Corps level and other large commands of the supporting establishment.

Modern techniques of personnel, supply and fiscal management with particular reference to the FMF will be covered as well as broad policies of the Department of the Navy.

A revamping of the current program of language study will take place with the new class. The 100 hours of language instruction in French or Spanish will be concentrated during a shorter period during the course to give the student the continuity required to absorb a conversational language.

ECC Extension Division Offers Teacher Courses

The second of three senior-graduate and graduate courses in education to be offered at Camp Lejeune this summer by the East Carolina College Extension Division will begin Monday night, June 22, at Brewster School.

Registration and the first class meeting of the course, "Introduction to Exceptional Children", will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Each of the summer courses will last two weeks. They are scheduled consecutively to permit students to enroll in either or all three. Each involves 10 three-hour meetings scheduled Monday through Friday and provides three quarter-hours' college credit upon successful completion.

"Introduction to Exceptional Children" is scheduled June

22-July 3. The third one, "Techniques of Teaching", will be offered July 6-17.

Tuition for each course is $27; textbook costs are additional.

Both remaining courses, according to Dr. David J. Middleton, director of the Extension Division, offer credit applicable to renewal of North Carolina A and G teaching certificates if previous credit is not duplicated and if the course fits the individual's teaching field.

To be eligible for credit in the upcoming course a student must have earned at least 144 quarter hours of undergraduate credit or a college degree. Those who enroll for credit in the final course must have at least a bachelor's degree. The final course can count toward a master's degree at East Carolina.

Base Housing Eligibility

A list of 2-bedroom eligible E-6 and E-7's will be maintained and, in the event no 3-bedroom eligible E-6 and E-7's are on the Capehart waiting list when quarters become available, 3-bedroom Capehart units will be assigned to the 2-bedroom eligible E-6 and E-7 waiting list. This will preclude any further assignments of E-4's over 4 and E-5's to the 3-bedroom Capehart units as long as there are E-6's and E-7's desiring these units.

Also, as long as there are E-4's and E-5's on the 2-bedroom Tarawa Terrace waiting list, E-6's and E-7's, who are eligible for but do not desire 3-bedroom Tarawa Terrace units will not have to accept Tarawa Terrace.

This change, in no way, authorizes relocation of E-6's and E-7's from 2-bedroom Tarawa Terrace units to Capehart.

NOTICE

Road Closed

The Base Provost Marshal has announced that a portion of Highway No. 172 will be closed to all but emergency traffic due to live firing exercises on June 16-18, and 22-24.
