rd Course Oral Polio Vaccine Set for Monday

The last administration of the recent series of oral polio vaccine will be given to military dependents in the Camp Lejeune area Monday, May 18. The polio vaccine is administered on a voluntary basis to dependents who have not previously received oral type vaccine and those who have received partial or completed series of injection type vaccine. These individuals who have already received the full series of oral type vaccine need not be immunized. The administration of vaccine will be from 3 to 5 p. m. on May 18. Marston Pavilion, Lawa Terrace Community Center, Knox Trailer Park Recreation Center, Midway Community Center, and Camp Geiger Community Center. Polio Vaccine, Page 2

Trance Activities Plan Expansion

Lawa Terrace, Camp Lejeune's largest housing development, has outgrown its Community Activities building as plans are underway to expand to a second building. Present plans are to move a portion of the Community Activities functions to the building occupied by Rose's variety store upon the expiration of its current lease on July 15. Exact details as to which activities will be centered in the new building are now being worked out. A headquarters for the League, sports equipment storage and summer youth program facilities are some of the uses now being considered. There is also a possibility that some of the religious services being held in the Community Activities building may move to the second building.

POWER FOR PEACE

President's Message

Today, Americans everywhere can view with pride the performance and preparedness of their Armed Forces.

It is fitting that we set aside this day — Armed Forces Day — to honor the men and women who serve our country in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. Their contribution to our freedom and safety is measureless. Our national security depends on the maintenance of alert military forces as a deterrent to any possible aggressor.

I invite all citizens to view and learn more of our Armed Forces and their preparedness to meet this challenge. And as Commander-in-Chief, I urge all of my countrymen to join me in honoring our servicemen and women on Armed Forces Day, 1964.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

CMC's Message

All Americans can be proud of the men and women of their Armed Forces who are manning the ramparts of freedom around the world. Within the Nation's defense organization, the United States Marine Corps fulfills the role of an amphibious force-in-readiness — a highly trained striking force of ground and aviation units prepared for rapid action in any crisis.

We Marines are proud of our contribution to the country's power for peace, and invite our fellow citizens to visit our installations during Armed Forces Week.

General Wallace M. Greene, Jr., USMC

Two-Days' Activities Due For Visitors

The gates of Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, will swing open May 15-16 to the general public in observance of the 11th Annual Armed Forces Day celebration.

Starting point for the festivities will be Range K-305, in the Verona Loop, where on Friday, May 15, members of the 1st Infantry Training Regiment will play host. Beginning at 5 p. m. there will be a weapons and equipment static display, followed by a concert at 5:30 p. m. by the 2d Marine Air Wing Band. At approximately 6 p. m., crackling rifle and machine gun fire, bursting rockets, will usher in the first act of the live night-firing weapons demonstration. As the last round of ammunition is fired at 7:10 p. m. the Second Marine Air Wing Band will conduct another concert which will be followed by a spectacular display of color and noise as dozens of Marine infantry weapons fire simultaneously.

Military personnel and their dependents are invited to attend a dress rehearsal of the night firing demon-

Navy Relief Drive Going Great Guns As Records Crack

1stLt. M. L. Hollingshead, Commander, Company "F", 2/6, received a pat on the back and a cigar from his battalion commander, LtCol. C. B. Redman for his outstanding salesmanship of Navy Relief Drive tickets after he sold 1000 membership tickets to 150 members of his company in less than three hours. According to "super salesman" Hollingshead, the tickets almost sold themselves.

3RD AWARD

Korean MC Commandant Welcomed By Lejeune

With the second sounding of a 19-gun salute during arrival honors in as many days, LtGen. Kim Du Chan, Commandant of the Republic of Korea Marine Corps, was officially welcomed to Camp Lejeune last Friday for a five-day visit.

After a weekend of enjoying Camp Lejeune's recreational facilities, General Kim opened his tour of local training facilities Monday morning by viewing infantry trainees being put through their paces at the 1st Infantry Training Regiment. The general saw demonstrations in the use of the flame thrower, the infiltration course in operation, the capabilities of weapons organic to an Infantry unit and ITR trainees applying their knowledge on the transition firing range.

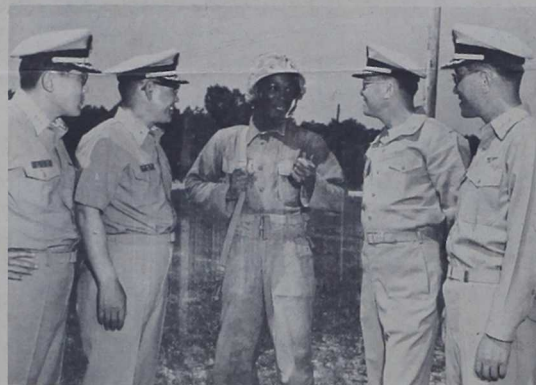

Following the range-hopping morning, General Kim was given a briefing and tour of Marine Corps Supply Schools and Food Service School at Montford Point. In mid-afternoon the general was flown to Courthouse Bay for further demonstrations by Marine Corps Engineer Schools.

There the general was briefed in the role of the Marine Corps engineer and the equipment he uses and viewed heavy combat engineer vehicles. As a climax to his tour of Engineer Schools, General Kim witnessed the new LVTE-1 in action as it demonstrated its beach clearing capabilities.

Hosted by the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops for demonstrations throughout Tuesday morning, General Kim viewed members of 2d Recon Bn. going through their paces and a squad of 3d Bn., 6th Marines displaying its efficiency in the attack. Following this, the visiting Commandant witnessed a demonstration of a para-drop by members of 2d ANGLICO, which in turn was followed by a close air support and simulated naval gunfire demonstration.

General Kim departed Tuesday afternoon for a brief official visit to the Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

Navy Cross Awarded Slain Viet Nam Hero

The Navy Cross, posthumously awarded to Marine Maj. Donald E. Koelper, was presented to his widow during ceremonies at the Marine Corps Air Facility, Santa Ana, Calif. The Major was cited for his heroic action in Saigon, Viet Nam, on February 16, when a theater was bombed by terrorists.

The award was delivered to Mrs. Koelper by MajGen. Frederick E. Leek, Commanding General of the Third Marine Aircraft Wing, during a formal parade ceremony. The Navy Cross is the second highest decoration a Marine can receive for bravery.

"Maj. Koelper," his citation states, "unhesitatingly entered the main area of the theater and shouted to the occupants, United States servicemen and their dependents, to take cover. This warning provided the time for numerous unsuspecting individuals to obtain cover by lying between rows of seats. Seconds later, the bomb exploded fatally wounding Maj. Koelper and another person and injuring approximately five others. Through his prompt and courageous actions in warning the patrons of the imminent explosion, Maj. Koelper undoubtedly saved many from serious injury or possible death."

Mrs. Koelper and her two sons live at 1885 East Mountain Street, Pasadena, Calif. The family were honored guests at the parade conducted by Marine Aircraft Group 36.

NOTICE

Storm drainage pipes will be installed along Tarawa Boulevard during the next six months (May 1 through September 18) to correct the flooding conditions that occur during heavy rains. Various portions of Tarawa Boulevard will be closed to traffic as the work progresses.

Use of heavy equipment and extensive excavations will require occupants to keep children away from the areas in which work is in progress, and away from all construction equipment. Reasonable protective measures will be provided by the contractor. Unauthorized persons will not be permitted in any barricaded or roped-off areas. Extreme caution should be exercised in driving through Tarawa Boulevard and intersecting streets.

Top Marine Marksmen Sharpen Sights Here

More than 350 of the top Marine marksmen stationed east of the Mississippi River are now practicing at the Camp Lejeune Rifle Range, preparing for competition in the week long Eastern Division Rifle and Pistol Matches which begin May 25.

After a week of instruction by the Marksmanship Training Unit, from Quantico on subjects such as weather conditions and how they affect shooting, use and care of match equipment, shooting positions, range regulations and safety precautions, the shooters began practice shooting.

Proven shooters of the highest caliber make up the marksmanship training staff. Among the instructors is Captain Bill McMillan, 1960 Olympic Medal winner in rapid fire pistol shooting. McMillan teaches pistol positions and trigger technique.

Top shooters in the Eastern Division matches will be here to compete in the Rifle Corps Rifle and Pistol Matches, which are also held at Camp Lejeune, June 13.

The best marksmen from three other divisional matches will also be here for the Rifle Corps Matches.

Based on performance in the Rifle Corps Matches, the Rifle Corps will be selected to represent the Corps in the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

New WO, LDO Deadline Stated

Nominations for the fiscal year 1965 Limited Duty Officer and Warrant Officer programs must reach Headquarters Marine Corps by July 10, 1964, according to Marine Corps Order 1040.23A. Quad Command Marines should consult their local commands for application deadline dates.

The recently published order gives administrative instructions for the programs which provide enlisted Marines with an opportunity of gaining officer status.

Warrant Officer applicants will be administered the required aptitude-area tests during May and June.

All Marines who meet the basic qualifications for the program (as outlined in Marine Corps Order 1040.14A) may make application to their commanding officers. However, commanding officers were directed to nominate only those applicants whom they consider preeminently qualified for appointment.

Navy Relief . . .

"I called the company together and explained what Navy Relief was and what it did, and asked each of them to contribute what they could. Their response was outstanding." Base PMO and 4th I Company were other units participating in the 100% mark on the day of the drive.

WANTED

The St. Croix Country in the Virgin Islands is looking for a retired or about to retire, married Staff NCO, year around work. A two-bedroom home overlooking the beach goes along with the job. For full particulars contact Mr. Joe Price, Veterans Employment Representative, at the Base Education Office, Camp Lejeune.

NEW CITIZEN—LtCpl. Steve Montanaro, right, receives long awaited U. S. Citizenship papers, along with congratulations, from his Executive Officer, Maj. John H. Canale. Montanaro, a native of Naples, Italy, came to the U. S. in September 1958, and enlisted in the Marine Corps in August 1962.

New TV Series On Marine Life

"GOMER PYLE—USMC", a new 30-minute television series will make its debut on the CBS Television Network next fall. Headquarters Marine Corps has announced.

A preview of the "Gomer Pyle" series will be telecast May 18 as a segment of the "Andy Griffith Show" on CBS. Jim Nabors, who plays the role of service station attendant on the "Griffith" show, will have the leading role in the new comedy series about the sometimes hectic life of a young Marine.

Col. Bishop . . .

Upon recall, she was assigned to Headquarters Marine Corps as officer-in-charge, Division of Plans and Policies.

Following a tour of duty at Headquarters, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific in Hawaii, she served as commanding officer of the Woman Marine Corps Camp Lejeune.

She served as Military Secretary to the Commanding General, Allied Forces, Southern Europe at Naples, Italy, from March, 1962 until she was appointed Director of the first year.

AF Day . . .

stration scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. tonight.

The major portion of the activities are slated for Saturday, May 16, which is Armed Forces Day. Open House hours will be from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Static displays of equipment will be open to the public on the Hadnot Point Parade Ground and in the Goettge Memorial Field House. Displays and exhibits will be provided by the following units and activities: Second Marine Division; Force Troops; Marine Corps Air Facility, New River; Marine Air Group 26; 2nd Force Service Regiment; Marine Corps Engineer Schools; Marine Corps Supply Schools; Rifle Range Detachment; Field Medical Service School; Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory; Base Chaplain, USO, American Red Cross and Base Library and Education office.

The U. S. Naval Hospital will be open to the public from 9:30 a. m. until noon.

At 3 p. m. a flyover of nine A-4 and four F-4B aircraft from the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing will be held.

The Base Protestant Chapel, adjacent to the Hadnot Point Parade Ground, will be open for public visiting from 9:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m.

Polio Vaccine . . .

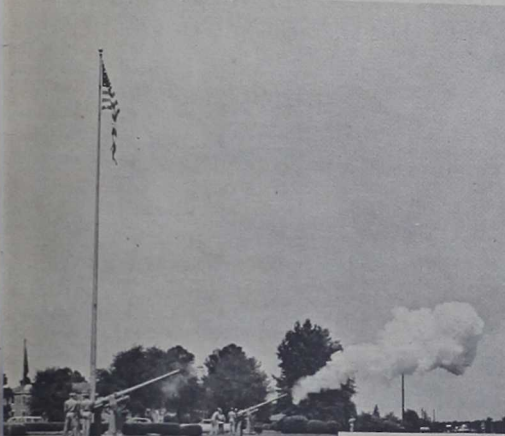

ter are the locations for the immunizations.

Children 12 years of age and under must be accompanied by their parents or have written permission to receive the vaccine.

Evidence in writing will be given the individual that the vaccine was received.

All dependent personnel, especially children, are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to be immunized against poliomyelitis as it is required by the North Carolina State School System for entry into local schools.

A Time Of Rededication

"POWER FOR PEACE." Simple though these three words may sound, they convey to the entire world the intention of all Americans to pursue our way of life and to insure that all of the freedom-loving people with whom we are allied may pursue theirs.

Eleven years ago "Power for Peace" was selected as the slogan for Armed Forces Week, the time when thousands of men and women serving beneath the Stars and Stripes become hosts to millions at home and overseas. It is a week when we graphically demonstrate the friendliness of the United States and indicate the high degree of military preparedness we maintain to defend our independence.

Armed Forces Day this year falls on May 16, but the observance actually covers the period May 9-17, thus assuring that millions of people everywhere will have the opportunity to visit the five branches of our uniformed services.

The major participation in Armed Forces Day observances is by all of the services which compose our defense team — Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Coast Guard, their reserve arms, the National Guard and the Air National Guard. Also, many of the organizations and programs related to the defense effort take part in this annual celebration.

That the public has accepted this annual opportunity to see their defense team in operation has been shown by the annual increases in Armed Forces Day participation. In 1963, more than 20 million people attended or participated in "open house" and community programs in the United States and abroad, while millions of others learned more about their country's military power through newspapers and magazine stories, radio and television programs and motion pictures.

We of the Armed Forces can well use this time to rededicate ourselves to the mission for which we have been chosen — use our power for peace and maintain that freedom which was established by our forefathers.

On the plains of West Point, in May 1962, a great American soldier stood before the young cadets and spoke to them about the meaning of "Duty, Honor, Country." With eloquence of expression, and brilliant poetic imagination he set before these young men the binding forces that form the foundations of the American military man, and of the United States. "The soldier, above all men, is required to practice the greatest act of religious training — sacrifice. In battle and in the face of danger and death, he discloses those Divine attributes which his Maker gave when He created man in His own image."

This week marks time set aside to honor the Armed Forces of the United States. Millions of our countrymen will have memories of days gone by, some good and some bad. The mud and cold of World War I, and the long lines leading to trenches, will once again seem very real as these men wander down memory lane. For many more Americans the lonely Pacific islands and the great urban centers of Europe will once more become very vivid as memory moves action upon the stage of life. For thousands upon many other thousands the biting cold and rugged mountains of Korea will seem all too real, and all too soon. Whatever the memory, whoever the man, he has been and always will be a part of the Armed Forces. The wistful sound of taps at the camp fire will follow him down memory lane.

Throughout the history of this nation no group has given as much to the freedom of this nation as the young people who served in the Armed Forces. Without exception their service was one of sacrifice. On lonely beaches, on the great oceans, in the skies overhead, on the farms and in the cities young men gave their lives so that the fact of freedom and the dignity of the individual might be sustained. There is no greater gift to offer, and all of us are their debtors.

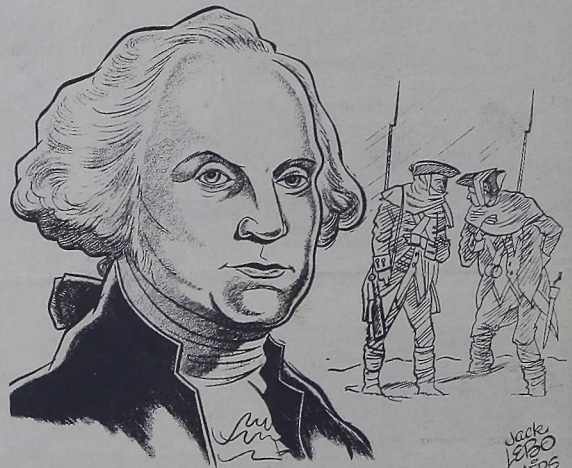

In all the destruction of the last two great wars the American service man has been something quite different from what people in the world expected. Before the sound and smoke of battle cleared away one could find him helping other people overcome the hardship of battle. He never considered his own comfort to the exclusion of the less fortunate around him. So universal has this conduct been that one can say without reservation — that people who once fought him never feared him — once the battle was over. He turned with willingness and personal sacrifice and gave what he had to help the people of conquered lands. This is indeed, a military service we can be proud of, and one we can be proud to serve. The very essence of religion is to be found in sacrifice, and service to others. We serve a great country, and we walk the paths of proud traditions.

Game night Wednesday, featuring Southern fried chicken dinner for 75c.

In the Blue Room May 21 we will feature Ladies' Night with free refreshments and snacks from 7 p.m. on.

NCO CLUB

Dear Folks: Arrived here safely Friday, enjoyed the leave but it's good to be back. As I suspected my corporal's warrant was waiting for me.

The extra money will come in handy, and am looking forward to the privileges that go with the rank. There's an NCO club here, for corporals and sergeants only, with a weekly schedule that could match most night clubs back home.

Tomorrow night, for instance, there's a Happy Hour when all drinks are sold at a reduced price. In the dining room they have a shrimp platter special for only $1.00. Then, at 8:30 p.m. there's a band playing the Country Out-Up.

The name alone sounds interesting, huh?

Saturday the special in the dining room is rib eye steaks, and get this price, $1.10. At those prices I'll be a steady customer. There's a Mystery Band playing here that night. Understand from the club's manager, Ken Landis, that this is generally a well-known band from the local area.

Sunday night there's a group called the Avalons playing in the club's spacious, air conditioned Blue Room. Some of my buddies tell me this band really swings.

I have duty Monday night, Corporal of the Guard, but you can bet I'll hit the club again Tuesday for Game Night. Same type of game we play at home at the VFW on Wednesday nights. The special on the menu that night is "45 Burgers." Don't know what they are yet, but you can't go wrong on the price: 30 cents.

Wednesday night wraps up the week's activities. They have a band that night, too. Some real good local talent, from all reports, called Big Bob Bass and his Band.

How's that for a weekly schedule? No less than four bands and I understand that's every week, with other specials thrown in.

Well, there goes Tokyo, that means only five minutes 'til Taps and lights out. Say hi to everybody for me.

Love,
 Jack

Lejeune Downs Dix; Norton Raps Homer

The Camp Lejeune nine opened their East Coast Interservice Conference last Monday evening by dropping the Fort Dix "Burros" 4-1 behind the six hit pitching of Dick Hall.

Hal Norton started the fireworks in the first inning when he slammed a 365 foot home run, his fourth of the season, over the left field wall also scoring Tom McHenry who singled early in that inning.

John Lepito started the second inning for Lejeune by blasting a single to deep center field. He then advanced to second on a balk and went to third on a wild pitch. Dick Hall sent a sizzling line drive through second base scoring Lepito from third.

Buddy Simpson received two bases in the eighth inning on two Fort Dix errors. He hit to the pitcher, the liner was too hot to handle and when he did get the ball the pitcher overthrew first base. He then went to third on a wild pitch. Tom McHenry, with his hands still

The Ft. Dix Shortstop, Clyde Shambaugh singled to center field. Keum Wong, the "Burros" second baseman, hit a blazing double into right field scoring Shambaugh for the only run Ft. Dix could muster in nine innings.

Warren Bailey, the Fort Dix pitcher pitched six-hit ball with 11 strikeouts to his credit and issued one walk. Dick Hall for the local nine had six hits, 11 strikeouts and 3 walks for the win. Both teams left four men stranded on base.

The 19th Hole

By BOB SPENCER

The tip of the week concerns the difference between the Pitch and Cut Shot and the Lob Shot.

The Pitch or Cut Shot

When I must get a wedge to sit down quickly, as in the case when I'm pitching over a trap, I weaken my left hand grip, this permits the face of the club to open more at impact and enables me to get more backspin.

The harder the swing on this type shot, the higher the ball will go. What do I mean by a weakened left hand grip? Well, let us assume that in a normal grip the "V" points toward your nose.

In changing the position of the left hand, make certain the club-head does not also turn to the left. You can check this by placing the club, with its face slightly open, behind the ball, then shift your left hand over as described.

This weakened left-hand grip plus the natural loft of the wedge will have a decided effect in making the pitch shot hit and sit.

The Lob, because of its high degree of difficulty should be used only when it is absolutely necessary. If you should miss this shot by so much as a fraction of an inch chances are you'll either skull the ball over the green or drop it short. The lob shot like the cut shot, has a high trajectory. But the two shots differ, not only in execution but in circumstances under which they are used.

The cut shot, with its bite, is best for tight situations when a minimum amount of ball roll is wanted.

The lob shot is ideal when the shot calls for a lofted pitch over obstacles such as bunkers or rough surfaces with a slight amount of roll to follow.

To play this shot I open my stance slightly and address the ball off my left heel. I choke down on the club, usually the wedge or my #11 iron, and keep the club face open.

The difficult part of the shot comes from the fact that the ball must be hit with plenty of wrist action. This requires a lot of right hand and an extremely delicate touch.

The swing should be as smooth as possible from inside-out which in effect is the basic difference between the Lob and Cut Shot.

A hole-in-one was made by SSgt. T. W. Brewer, "F" Battery, 2d Bn., 10th Marines using a No. 7 iron on the 2nd hole playing the No. 2 course. Firing a blazing 77 for this course, SSgt. Brewer had his first hole-in-one last January in Hawaii.

'Ham' Radio Tests On For May

WASHINGTON (AFPS)—The Pentagon has announced that the 15th Annual Armed Forces Amateur Radio Operators' Test will be held May 15-16 at the Military Affiliate System (MARS).

"Hams" everywhere are invited to take part in demonstrations of their skill and amateur radio operator proficiency. The day event will be the opening of the year amateurs' league. They will be permitted to work stations with designated stations.

For those who "ham" best, radio achievement will be officially noted. Certificates will be awarded for a copy of the continuous (CW) and/or radio-telephony (RATT) message. Secretary of Defense S. McNamara.

QSL cards--recognizing correct message received--will be awarded only to "hams" who establish a way contact with a station. One may copy the Secretary's message and receive a certificate for either CW or broadcasts.

The CW transmission will be conducted in Morse code at the rate of words per minute. RAT transmissions will be at a 60-per-minute rate.

The message will be only once over all simultaneously.

Contestants are cautioned to include their name, from time and call sign stations on the paper of the message's text. The message should be received. Entries should be mailed to Armed Forces Contest, Room 5B960, Pentagon, Washington, D. C. marked not later than

Then in the second round Redden stormed out of his corner at the bell and began a savage attack with both hands to the mid-section of Rosette. The tide of battle changed at that point, and Rosette went down from a sweeping left hook to the head.

Redden went on to win the light-heavyweight title after taking a bruising three round battle from Harley Cooper of the Air Force. The light-middleweight finals featured a pair of the most determined battlers of the tournament--Ray Owens and Fred Burris. As the first round opened Burris began circling Owens and trying to press in. However, every time Burris got in range Owens, an extremely hard puncher, would open up, scoring with both hands. At one point in the second round Burris appeared to be in serious trouble. He was dropped by a jolting left hook, got up, and caught two more hooks. Burris managed to hang on, and in the closing moments of the round came roaring back to land a series of hard rights to the head of Owens.

Burris began scoring heavily in the final round, leading with a right hook, but meantime Owens was beating Burris to a lot of the punches with his left hand. The spectators gave both fighters a the initiative in the opening rounds, circling Johnson and popping with left jabs. Johnson, a slow, deliberate hard hitter, was content to counter punch when he got an opening. The powerful punches of Johnson began taking their toll in the final round, when Johnson began pressing, and scoring with terrific hooks from either hand.

The Navy team had two fine boxers in the finals although they didn't take any championships.

Robert Valdez lost a close, hard fight in the lightweight division to Jimmy Wright, and heavyweight Dick Pettigrew lost a decision to Al Wilson, after beating Tyrone Collins in the semi-finals.

Winners in the Interservice competition will remain here to train for the Olympic Trials being held at the World's Fairgrounds in New York City, May 18-20.

MSgt. Lenn Olympic Boxing Coach

MSgt. Freddie Lenn, a Camp Pendleton based Marine, has been appointed as head coach of the U. S. Olympic Boxing Squad. Very few people in the amateur boxing are surprised at the decision.

Lenn, the most prominent figure in Marine Corps boxing today, recently guided the All-Marine Corps Boxing Team to its first championship since 1957 in the Interservice Boxing Championship Tournament held here.

Speaking of his appointment as Olympic coach Lenn said, "I think it is a great honor. It's easier to be a millionaire than an olympic coach".

Lenn began coaching in the Pacific Islands during World War II. During lulls in the action he organized "smokers" for troop entertainment.

Since that time he has coached in AAU, Golden Gloves, All-Navy, All-Marine, Interservice, and been on the coaching staff in the Pan-American games and the Olympic Trials.

Practically every leading Marine Corps boxer within the past 15 years has worked under Lenn's leadership.

In addition to the Pan-Am's, the 50 year old native of Pittsburgh, Pa., has gained international experience with the U. S. Armed Forces Teams, in the International Military Sports Games. This competition is composed of 28 countries, which enter teams made up of men from their military organizations. These games are often referred to as the military olympics.

Lenn has coached many

Olympic fighters including Hank Herring, Ed Sanders, Bill Bosio, Norval Lee, Luis Molina and Wilbert "Skeeter" McClure.

Before he began coaching and training, Lenn compiled a ring record of 170 wins, 6 losses and 2 draws fighting both amateur and professional.

As a pro he won 17 straight battles before dropping a decision to Billy Soose who went on to win the middle-weight title in his next bout.

Lenn's last pro fight was in 1940, against top rated light heavyweight contender Tommy Yaroz. Lenn lost on a close decision and was offered a rematch. However, the Second World War broke out to put an end to Lenn's fight career.

Lenn enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1933.

Morton Cited By Base Commander

SSgt. Merrill T. Morton, displaying exceptional initiative and humanitarianism by taking proper action in rendering aid to an accident victim, received a letter of commendation from MajGen. A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base.

Morton observed a wrecked automobile off the road and upon investigating the wreck he found a seriously injured woman who had obviously been lying there for several hours.

He immediately took action in rendering aid and in summoning medical personnel to the scene.

His prompt and efficient action materially contributed to saving the life of the woman.

General Bowser commended him on his initiative and resourcefulness. In the letter of commendation he stated "your actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps."

Nearby Elementary Class adopts Japanese Orphan

Forty-six grade school students from nearby West Haven, Conn., Elementary School actively engaged in a "One-to-One People Program" during some 10,000 miles North Carolina to Japan, Mrs. Sarah Berthelson, her husband, Lt. J. B. Berthelson, and a sixth grade class have adopted a five-year old Japanese girl, Sachiko Kando, a kindergarten student in Choshi, Japan.

Idea of adopting the orphan was born in Nov. 1963 when a 16-year old Japanese girl, Mariko Anderson, dependent daughter of SSgt. and Mrs. Horace P. Anderson, was placed in Mrs. Berthelson's class to learn English. As Mariko progressed with English, members of her class progressed with knowledge of Japan.

Upon learning of the pitiful condition of little orphan children in Japan, the class decided to do something about it, no matter how small it might seem. They got together and adopted young Sachiko.

All the youngsters partake in the project through personal donations. The collection point is a cookie jar, adorned with a photograph of the adopted Japanese girl. If the quota of $10 a month is not reached by the school children, Lt. Berthelson contributes the remainder of the sum.

The monthly contribution is sent to the Christian Children's Fund in Richmond, Va., headquarters for the overseas foster parents plan, and from there all donations for the orphanage are forwarded to Japan.

The money collected provides Sachiko with clothes, food, and other items needed to provide a comfortable way of life. In addition, Mrs. Berthelson and her husband send the child gifts periodically.

The director of the overseas orphanage sends a letter to the class each month to inform them of Sachiko's receipt of the gifts. A thank you for Mrs. Berthelson and her students is always included.

Recipe Of The Week

SPRING CURRY CUP

1/2 cup diced cooked lamb
1/4 cup chopped apple
1/4 cup sliced celery
1/2 teaspoons curry powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10-12 ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
Toasted coconut

In saucepan, cook lamb, apple, celery, onion, and curry powder in butter until vegetables are just tender. Add soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish each serving with coconut. Makes 2 to 3 servings. Complement the soup perfectly with fresh fruit salads served in peppy orange cups. Miniature cream puffs and hot tea complete the menu.

Art Gallery Slates Concert Readings

The St. John's Art Gallery in Wilmington has scheduled Dora Cameron and Richard DeFaut to complete their concert readings for the season Sunday, May 24, at 4 p. m. Highlights will be taken from Shakespeare, Shaw, Rostand, and North Carolina's resident playwright, Betty Smith.

Miss Cameron, former director of the Thallans and graduate of the Yale School of Drama, directed three off-Broadway shows in New York City before returning to Wilmington. The shows were "The Boy Friend", "Carousel", and a children's musical, "Does Poppy Live Here."

Mr. DeFaut was the lead in Betty Smith's recent television play, "Durham Station", which was filmed at WTVD in Durham. He was named Raleigh's best actor of the year for 1963.

Donations Made By CL Wives Club

The Staff NCO Wives' Club of Camp Lejeune presented the Retarded Children's Association a contribution to their classroom Fund at their last club meeting May 7.

Mrs. A. O. Brault, secretary of the Onslow-Camp Lejeune Retarded Children's Assoc., accepted the contribution on behalf of the association. There are 16 school-aged children enrolled in the special classes in social and developmental skills. Mrs. Brault emphasized the importance of such classes and invited the staff wives to visit the school held at Clyde Erwin Elementary School. She also told of the need for an expanded program which could include the pre-school ages and the adult group.

Announcement of an election of new club officers was made. Mrs. J. G. Freeman was elected chairman of a five-member nominating committee. Candidates will be announced at the May 21 meeting at Tarawa Terrace Community Center at 8 p. m.

Navy Nurses And Naval Hospital Celebrate Joint Anniversaries

The U. S. Naval Hospital of Camp Lejeune and local members of the Navy Nurse Corps share the month of May in marking their anniversaries in proud service to Camp Lejeune personnel and to the men of the Navy and Marine Corps around the world.

Lejeune's Naval Hospital, classed as one of the largest naval hospitals in the South, marks its 21st year of service this month. It was completed at a cost of $7,500,000 and contained the basic medical facilities required.

Since the time of its first patients, the hospital has progressively increased its medical capabilities to include General Medicine, General Surgery, Orthopedic Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Pediatrics, Ophthalmology, Urology, Radiology, Pathology, Pharmacy, Physiotherapy, Otorhinolaryngology, Dentistry and Neuropsychiatry.

The hospital has an expanded bed capacity of 1,173. In addition to its regular in-patient treatment, the Naval Hospital also maintains out-patient clinics for military and dependent personnel. These clinics have a monthly patient load ranging between 13,000 and 16,000.

Although it is not a teaching hospital, it maintains a continuous training program for its staff and is fully accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Although May 13, 1908, has been established by an act of Congress as the official founding date of the Navy Nurse Corps, records show that nurses have performed their duties for the Navy since 1811, nine years before Florence Nightingale was even born.

Fore-runners of today's Navy Nurse Corps were found participating in the Civil War and again in the Spanish-American War. These were volunteers or nurses employed on a contract basis to meet the needs of certain naval facilities and hospital ships.

By Oct. 1908, the first 20 nurses, who were later known as the "Sacred Twenty" had reported to the U. S. Naval Hospital, Washington, D. C., for orientation and duty.

During WWI, some of the first Americans to serve in France were Navy Nurses attached to the American Red Cross assisting "over there". Later, when the U. S. officially entered the war, nurses were sent to Navy hospitals in England, Ireland, Scotland and France. Some were even serving with Army field units in France.

At the outbreak of WW II, 16 Navy nurses were captured by the Japanese. Five of these were included in a prisoner exchange in August 1942. The remaining 11 survived 37 months of captivity until their liberation in 1945. During the war, the Navy Nurse Corps expanded to 11,086. Besides serving in stateside assignments, Navy nurses followed U. S. forces, island by island, in the fight across the Pacific.

The Navy's nurses were not left out of the Korean hostilities either. They served aboard the hospital ships, USS CONAO-LATION, REPOSE and HAVEN, which were rotating as station hospitals in Korean waters.

The Navy Nurse Corps is constantly living up to, and often beyond, the standards required by Navy surgeon William P. C. Barton, in 1811. He wrote, ".....should be women of humane disposition and tender manners;.....and are to attend with fidelity and care upon all the sick committed to their charge....."
