Key Men Ready For Onslaught

Tomorrow May 1, will begin the 1964 Navy Relief Fund Drive at Navy and Marine Corps bases throughout the world. At Camp Lejeune and the Air Facility, membership cards at .50¢ apiece will be available from "Key Men" in just about every office and section until the end of the drive, June 20.

The Navy Relief Society is, and has been, since its beginning in 1904, dedicated to the welfare of Navy and Marine Corps personnel and their dependents. Through donations from men and women on active duty, retired personnel and friends of the Naval Service, the Society has been able to offer financial assistance to thousands in time of need.

The Society is a private organization, whose policies are determined by high ranking Navy and Marine Corps officers. Its sole purpose is to aid members of the Naval Service and their dependents during an emergency. Because it is a Navy organization for Naval personnel, the Society holds a separate financial campaign each year instead of joining a joint fund-raising campaign.

Navy Relief receives no money from the government. Its only resources are returns from investments and the money donated during their annual fund raising campaign.

At Camp Lejeune there is an auxiliary of the Navy Relief Society located in Bldg. 41, and a branch office in Bldg. 204 at the Air Facility.

In the 1960 Olympic Games held in Rome, Italy the United States Boxing team won three Gold Medals and one Bronze.

Three of the four medal winners in 1960 were Armed Forces representatives. Middleweight Eddie Crook and lightweight Willie McClure of the Army both won Gold Medals and Light welterweight Quincy Daniels of the Air Force took the Bronze Medal.

New Winter Service Uniform To Go On Sale By July 1, 1964

Marines will be able to buy the new serge winter service uniform at any sales outlet by July 1, although enlisted personnel will have until mid-1968 to replace their present kersey outfits with the new serge type, Marine Corps Headquarters has announced.

The new greens, tailored from 15-ounce wool serge material, retain the color and style of the present kerseys worn by enlisted personnel.

Officers may use the new greens as one of two winter service uniforms they are required to possess, but they must have the coat modified for a sword slit and replace the sewn-down pockets.

Caps, cap covers, trousers, coats, coat belts and overcoats will be available in the serge material. The jacket will not be carried by sales outlets after July 1 of this year and will not be authorized for wear after July 1, 1968.

Meanwhile, green kersey will be sold as a replacement item, although not available in coats, jackets and overcoats after July 1. Sales and initial issue of the wool serge during the interim period will be made only after kersey uniform items have been exhausted.

THE STONE STREET RECREATION AREA—Three boys league baseball fields, a girl's softball field and a football field, constructed by Marines of Marine Corps Engineer Schools and Six-Month Marine Corps Reservists, will be dedicated May 2, at 2 p.m.

Reserve Marines Dig-In With Regulars To Build Youth Athletic Field Complex

Last December, a project got underway to build an athletic field complex for use by youth activity groups at Camp Lejeune, under the supervision of MSgt. Howard Daniels.

The fields were constructed by members of Marine Corps Engineers School and six-month Marine Corps Reservists. The project serves a two fold purpose: It has taught the reservists and regular Marines skills they need to carry out their missions as Marines and it furnishes thousands of youngsters with a recreational area.

Building the athletic fields, which are located adjacent to the Stone Street Elementary School, posed two major problems for MSgt. Daniels and his crew. First, the entire working force was composed of untrained personnel. Second, money and materials for the project were nonexistent.

Nevertheless, Daniels started work to build a football field, a girl's softball field, and three boys league baseball fields, complete with dugouts and fences.

The reservists who aided in constructing the field were completing six weeks of on the job training. The first three weeks of schooling consisted of theory, lectures and demonstrations. The final three weeks were devoted to actual work on the project, part of which was spent at the athletic field.

Maj. James MacKenzie, the project officer, rates the job as "a very useful training project." Basic house construction was used in building the dugouts and construction theory was put to a test.

Shortage of materials was a constant problem. For example, lumber was obtained by cutting down trees into proper board sizes.

The work is complete now. The grounds are being leveled and grass has been planted. Dedication ceremonies will be held May 2, at 10 a. m.

Maj. MacKenzie summed up the feelings of those who worked on the project: "Those of us involved feel a real sense of pride. When the grass is grown and the diamonds are set up, I think it will be one of the nicest little league fields I've seen."

The new recreation area will permit expansion of the Camp Lejeune Boy's League program. More than 600 boys are now signed up for Little League and more are expected.

NAVY RELIEF DRIVE

Camp Lejeune's goal for this year's drive has been set at $50,000. The high regard felt for the Society by the Quad-Command's personnel is attested to by the fact that last year's goal was exceeded by $10,000.

All military personnel, active and retired, dependents, and civilian employees of Camp Lejeune and the Air Facility are eligible to purchase membership cards. At the completion of the drive, the holder of certain membership cards will be eligible to receive awards to be presented the week of June 21-27.

The awards, trailer-mounted and on display throughout Camp Lejeune and the Air Facility, are: 1st, 1964 Cadillac; 2nd, 1964 Valiant; 3rd, 1964 MGB; 4th, 1964 Falcon; 5th, 1964 Volkswagen; 6th boat, motor, and trailer; and 7th, camper trailer. Membership cards will also be available from "Key Men" wherever the awards are displayed.

The funds received by the Navy Relief Society during the fund drive are returned directly to the servicemen in the form of no-interest loans; gratuities; financial counseling; and other services designed to relieve financial burdens.

The society's purpose is to accept donations and distribute them to members of the Naval Service, active or retired, or their dependents during an emergency.

Administrative costs of the Society are paid by interest and dividends paid on a fund set up for this purpose during WW II. This money is also used when necessary to provide aid when contributions fall below the needed level.

Last year the income of the Society, through contributions and repaid loans, totaled $4,531,915. The financial assistance given and the cost of other services rendered by the Society created an expenditure of $4,578,744. This difference was made up by the fund set aside for administrative costs.

Last year $75,164.45 in financial aid was given to personnel of the Quad-Command. Of this figure $15,885.77 was gratuitously given. This is often the case when repayment of a loan would create undue hardship.

The Navy Relief was created for you, in the event you need it. It's managed by men and women who understand the problems of a man in service, and are dedicated to your welfare. Support your Navy Relief.

New Howitzer Joins 2d Division

The artillery arm of the 2d Marine Division is getting acquainted with a relatively new combat support weapon.

It's the "M109", a 155-mm. howitzer that is self-propelled, full tracked, armored and a highly mobile artillery weapon. It is also air transportable and, when equipped with a floatation kit, amphibious. (A 10th Marine spokesman says that even without the kit, the M109 is capable of fording limited depths).

Mounted on a newly designed self-propelled armored carriage, it possesses a much greater mobility and flexibility than previous self-propelled weapons. It is 21.7 feet long and 10 feet high with a width of 10.6 feet. The M109 weighs 26 tons and with its greatly increased range, can hurl all regular artillery shells—including high explosive, white phosphorus and illuminating—to ranges of 18,000 meters.

Naval Research To Conduct Tests

The Naval Medical Research Laboratory aboard Camp Lejeune will conduct a combined study on heat and physical stress in hot and humid areas. The tests scheduled to begin in July, will determine how much water a Marine requires to carry out his duties in a tropical climate.

Two groups, each with approximately 200 Marines, will be used in comparative tests during which the effects of water rationing versus uncontrolled water consumption will be observed. One group will undergo training in the natural heat and humidity of Camp Lejeune, while the other group will be subjected to artificial tropical conditions. The purpose of this study will be to determine whether Marines in hot, humid areas should be permitted to consume all the water they desire, which is the Marine Corps' present policy, or whether they should be placed on water rationing to be acclimated to performing normal duties on a minimum amount of water should a shortage of water occur.

In another study in the same area, Marines who have been acclimated to hot weather will be placed in air-conditioned quarters, such as those now found on troop transports. The effects of suddenly re-introducing them to heat and humidity will be reviewed.

Results of these studies will be used to re-evaluate existing Marine Corps directives pertaining to prevention of heat casualties.

(VERY) "WELL DONE"—MajGen. William J. Van Ryzin, CO 2d Division, congratulates Sgt. Dennis D. Dooley before presenting the 2d Division Association's "Tarawa Award." Sgt. Dooley's squad placed second in the 1963 Marine Corps Annual Combat Marksmanship Competition to earn him the engraved watch award.

Change Of Command And Award Hi-Light 3/2 Parade And Review

A change of command and presentation of awards for Marine Corps-wide squad competition highlighted a 3d Bn 2d Marine Regt. parade on Apr. 22.

LtCol. J. A. Weizenegger assumed command of the battalion relieving LtCol. H. E. Spielman.

LtCol. Spielman has been reassigned to the 2d Marine Division Headquarters as a member of the G-4 staff. The new 3/2 commander, LtCol. Weizenegger, previously was also at Division Headquarters, as a member of the G-3 staff.

The battalion's Second Squad of the Second Platoon, Company I was honored for placing second in the 1963 Marine Corps-wide Annual Unit Combat Marksmanship Competition held during September at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

The squad leader, Sgt. Dennis D. Dooley, received "Tarawa Award" from the Marine Division Association.

MajGen. W. J. Van Ryzin, CG, 2d Marine Div., presented the award (an engraved watch on behalf of the Association president Mitchell A. Thompson) to the squad members who awarded framed certificates at the ceremony. The remaining squad members have been transferred.

Fire team leaders honored were Cpls. Robert E. Arnold, Jesse M. Cotto and Thomas Martin.

GUIDED TOUR—Allied Officers attending Marine Corps' Senior, Junior and Basic Schools at Quantico, Va., pause during their visit to the New River Air Facility to "look over" troop and cargo-carrying Marine helicopters. Student stop over part of a four-day tour of East coast Marine facilities.

Five Hundred See MCAF Marines Demonstrate Tactical Operation

The Landing Zone Control Center placed his multi-colored panels in place and the maroon-nosed, troop-carrying helicopters from New River landed twenty-four combat Marines on the football field at Pamlico County High School, Bayboro, N. C. Five hundred students, faculty members and visitors look on as the troops, students at the Aircraft Group 26's, General Military Subjects School, set up a hasty defense, loading their basic infantry weapons, hand grenades, M-

14 rifles and M-60 machine guns.

Next the 'choppers' took off, disappeared from sight and returned low over a wooded area to the field and reembarbed the troops after they had secured a theoretical enemy position.

After this tactical operation one of the Marine Medium Helicopters from Squadron-265 demonstrated how a man is picked up by a hoist and cable in a simulated water rescue.

The viewers then saw the hovering helicopter hoist cargo loads off the ground and disappear in a practice combat cargo supply maneuver.

Finally, the 'choppers' landed and the students examined the aircraft discussing the weapons, aircraft and tactics with pilots, crew and troops from Marine Aircraft Group-26.

Bloodmobile Here May 5-6

The Red Cross Blood-Mobile will be visiting Camp Lejeune on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 5 and 6, to receive blood donations. All personnel aboard the base that are eligible to donate are encouraged to help the Blood-Mobile reach their quota.

The following information will be used in determining the eligibility of individuals to donate blood: sex and race; no restrictions; age: must have passed their 18th birthday; weight: 110 pounds or over; donation intervals: eight weeks minimum; 10 weeks normal; not more than five times in one year.

Donors are to report to Marston Pavilion between 8 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on May 5 and 6.

Notice

Many veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict have recently been requesting confirmation from Headquarters Marine Corps on their GI Loan deadline date. The terminal date for the GI Loan Program for World War II veterans is July 25, 1967. Korean Conflict veterans should add ten years to the date of their first discharge from active wartime service and then add one year for each three months of such service. The date reached by this formula is your personal deadline for a GI Loan. However, it cannot be later than January 31, 1975, which is the final date for all Korean Conflict eligibles. World War II veterans have a similar formula but their terminal date, as previously stated, is July 25, 1967.

ON LIMITS

Spicer's Grocery, sometimes incorrectly referred to as the Dew Drop Grocery, is not related to Charley Redding's Garage and Dew Drop Inn and is not included in the off limits restriction previously announced in the GLOBE.

Special Fares Extended For Service Personnel

The railroads have extended for another six months their special low rates to servicemen traveling on leave in uniform.

The low rates, which were to expire December 31, 1963 now apply until June 30, 1964. The special fares apply to both one way and roundtrip tickets and also allow, if the passenger desires, one route going and another route returning.

Special fares for servicemen traveling by bus were due to expire Jan. 31, 1964, but it is expected they will be extended until July 31, 1964. These fares are good only on round-trip tickets. Defense travel officials point out that service people should check the bus line they're going to use before counting on special rates, since some local carriers are not taking part in the plan.

Caution Should Be By-Word While Enjoying Summer Sun

BY SGT. DON WILLIS

Summer is officially here, and with the coming of the warm weather more and more military personnel and their dependents will be spending a large part of their time outdoors relaxing and enjoying the sun.

As the warm days approach more snakes will appear in and around the Camp Lejeune area than any other time of the year, due to the end of their hibernation season. They will be seeking shelter from the hot sun around marshes, rivers, creeks, logs, rocks and just about any built up or shady areas.

There are four poisonous snakes that inhabit the United States and three of them are natives of the local area. They are the RATTLESNAKE, WATER MOCCASIN, and the COPPERHEAD snake.

The Eastern Diamond-backed rattlesnake is probably the most deadly of the three that inhabit this area. It reaches a length of eight feet and its fangs are proportionately longer than any of the other 22 species of rattlesnakes that are found in the United States. Anyone who should encounter this diamond backed character will have no trouble identifying him for he has been equipped with rattles on his tail and will immediately shake them when disturbed. This snake should be rated as among the most deadly serpents of the world.

The rattlesnake has a small cousin that can be found in this area also, the Pygmy Rattlesnake or Ground Rattler. This little fellow is seldom more than 16 inches long. It has a rattle so minute it can be unnoticed outside a distance of about eight feet. Drop for drop its poison has been found to be of higher toxicity than that of the Diamond-back.

The Copperhead snake or highland moccasin can be found near shady spots around logs and rocks in dry upland areas. The body hue is pale brown, pinkish, or light reddish brown with a series of large blotches on the sides that resemble inverted Y's. The top of its head is usually without markings and is often paler than the body. It will appear to most people as being a copper color. The average size of this dangerous critter is three feet long.

The Water Moccasin or Cotton mouth gets its first name from its aquatic habits and its second from the habit of opening its mouth (which looks as if it is filled with a ball of cotton) in a threatening fashion. The water moccasin attains a length of six feet, although the average length is three feet. Its colors are dull brown or olive crossed with darker bands.

The last of these dangerous characters is the Coral snake which is rarely found in these parts. There are several small harmless snakes that resemble the brilliant yellow, red, and black markings of this little varmint, although it would take a very close inspection to tell the difference. The Coral snake reaches a length of three feet. It will not strike like most snakes, but would not fail to bite if picked up, touched or stepped on.

If bitten by one of these snakes, the victim should be taken at once to the nearest medical facility where antivenom is available. If this is impossible, the standard incision and suction method should be used.

Personnel are cautioned to be especially careful during the coming summer months when outdoors. These snakes, when provoked, will strike or bite at anything or anyone.

MOVE OUT—Marine HELITEAM moves out to form a hasty defense for high school demonstration. Landing and unloading of an eight man team took twelve (12) seconds.

TY DEFENSE—Marine HELITEAMS "hit the deck" after working from helicopters on the high school field.

ABOARD—Marine "combat" troops reboard helicopter securing simulated enemy position on Pamlico County's School football field.

SCHOOL'S OUT—But Pamlico County High School students in at their football field to ask questions about the helicopters and examine the aircraft of MAG-26.

"SHARE A PROUD TRADITION!"—This is what most Woman Marine recruiting posters say — but they never mentioned anything about beauty contest. For Cpl. Veronica H. McDonough it is a reality. She is this year's Marine Corps representative in the Miss Armed Forces Contest for the greater Philadelphia area.

Editorials

Right To Choose Employment Is Hallmark Of Free Economy

(Seventh in a series of ten award-winning editorials from the San Diego, Calif., Evening Tribune. Reprinted with permission.)

A man's job — or a woman's — is a lot more important than the money it brings in.

This may be the first reason we give as to why we work: To pay for food, a place to live, clothing, education . . . all the expenses of living a decent American way of life.

But deep inside all of us, if we will but take a moment for contemplation, is the feeling that it is the job itself . . . the accomplishment . . . that rewards us beyond wages.

Work is the way man proclaims his worth.

Work is the way man justifies the living room he takes up on the planet.

Work, the small voice, reminds, is the expression of thanks for the talents you have and for the opportunity to use them to make this a better life.

It matters little whether the calling is considered high or low. The sense of usefulness can be the same if one examines closely how his or her job fits into the grand design of the American way of life.

What matters much, however, is the right to work in callings and localities of our choice.

This is one of the basic rights of free Americans, stemming from the Founding Fathers' fundamenal concern for the dignity and freedom of the individual.

The right to change jobs, to go somewhere else to look for work if one so chooses, is so basic that many Americans probably take it for granted as too many take other aspects of our heritage of freedom for granted.

But millions of human beings don't have this simple freedom. Can you imagine a toiler in a Communist Chinese commune, or even in a Soviet or satellite state-owned factory, going up to the boss and saying, "I'm chucking this job for a better one?"

In America, the relationship between employee and employer suggest another right with which we have embellished the older right to work in callings and localities of our choice.

This is the right to bargain with our employers and employees.

Laws establishing the rights of labor and management are the outgrowth of our dynamic economy. But even they, in their modern dress, still stem from the basic American concern for the dignity and freedom of the individual.

Often our laws are not perfect. Sometimes it is necessary to change them in order to redress a balance of freedoms.

A quarter of a century ago a whole body of new laws emerged from our democratic processes which greatly added to the stature and power of union labor.

The 86th Congress passed a law aimed at restraining some abuses by a segment of labor.

This legislation is based on the old and revered American concept that a man's—or a woman's—job is important, and that the freedom of choice surrounding it must be protected from those who would exploit workers, voiceless and en masse.

Be Careful Of Transit Salesmen With Pay Now, Get It Later

County residents have been warned by Sheriff Tom Marshall that care should be exercised in placing orders with transit sales personnel on a "pay now, get it later" basis.

The sheriff said this is the time of year when many unscrupulous "salesmen" operating on a door-to-door basis fleece unwary residents with "good deals" that require a token payment for items that are never delivered.

In past years, Marshall said, residents have made downpayments, or payment in full, for periodicals, kitchen utensils or Bibles which never arrived.

"Before you make any payment to transit salesmen," the sheriff warned, "be sure that he is what he says he is. If there is the slightest doubt in your mind, please telephone my office." Residents of government quarters, call PMO.

The sheriff said in such cases, whenever possible, residents should copy the license number of the salesman's car. The number will enable the sheriff's department to verify the status of the salesman.

Chaplain's Corner

The "Pro's" in golf teach that a good coordinated swing is what distinguishes the good golfer from the "Hacker." Many of us would like to be considered in the former category rather than the latter. It seems that the best golfers practice regularly on developing "A sweet swing."

The Spirit of God is the thing in religion. Here the "Pro's" and the good amateurs keep concentrating on the spiritual lessons of life. They are interested in winning rather than losing in the game of life.

If you want to remain in the "Hacker" class of life, read no more. If you are interested in winning in the game of life, take a look at this spiritual lesson suggested by Thomas Jefferson in "The Declaration of Independence":

ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL . . .

Here's a simple application of this great lesson in spiritual living: What we think and say and do indicates what we think of other people, and, ourselves. By applying this great lesson as the Master taught us we can become the best kind of persons possible for us to become. Loving our neighbor as ourselves is something we can learn more about at church, practice at home, and apply readily to our work and recreation. Take a good swing at it. Don't remain a "Hacker" all your life. We'll be looking for you on the best "Tee" next Sunday at pulpit time.

The soft hum of an electric motor, a sharp clang of metal hitting metal, a voice over a telephone shouting FIRE — and a 200 pound projectile is sent screaming 10 miles to explode with devastating fury over the Riffists guerrilla forces.

These sounds were often repeated in the 2d Field Artillery Group gun batteries on Vieques Island, P. R., early this Spring when the Force Troops cannoneers went to the aid of the make-believe Republic of Vieques.

In a simulated situation, the government of the Republic of Vieques requested U. S. military assistance to help defeat local guerrillas. On Feb. 18, as part of the Second Marine Expeditionary Force, Marines of the 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, steamed toward the tropical island.

After a storm-lashed, four-day voyage, the group landed on D-Day over Blue Beach on Vieques Island to support an attack by the 2d MEF against Riffist guerrilla forces who had supposedly been pushed into the eastern half of the island.

During the simulated fighting, which lasted from Feb. 22 to March 2, the artillerymen fired 2281 rounds against the guerrilla forces.

The cannoneers also teamed up with the Marines from the 10th Marine Regiment in a combined-arms naval gunfire and close air support field firing exercise (FPEX-64).

This portion of the exercise was controlled by the Commanding Officer, 10th Marines.

The heavy missile cruiser USS BOSTON and the destroyers USS LAWE and USS ZELLARS supplied the naval gunfire support. Close air support was provided by Marine and Navy aircraft from the carrier, USS FORRESTAL, operating in conjunction with other aircraft based at the Naval Air Station, Roosevelt Roads, P. R.

Col. F. R. Schlesinger, who was then commanding officer of 2d FAG, said "The exercise went extremely well and greatly improved the group's combat readiness."

The colonel also said that the Camp Garcia detachment did an outstanding job in giving assistance to the Marines from the 2d FAG.

After a job well done, the artillerymen took time out for a military field meet and steak-fry.

Headquarters Battery won the lion's share of points during the field meet and walked off with first place. Three Headquarters communicators led the way in the first event by racing 100 yards, erecting a radio antenna and checking-in on an AN/PRC-9 radio over an assigned frequency in four minutes and 40 seconds.

On March 3, the group "saddled-up" and departed from Vieques Island for the return trip to Camp Lejeune, which included a two-day liberty stop in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

ECC Trips Lejeune Varsity On Road

The Pirates of East Carolina College shut out Camp Lejeune last Saturday night 1-0 in a thrilling pitcher's duel between Chuck Cupitt and Jimmy Raynor.

Right handed Jimmy Raynor of ECC went nine innings scattering six hits and striking out 9 of the Lejeune batters. In the top half of the ninth inning Raynor doubled left field. He then stole third base and scored the only run in the game when ECC's third baseman Bob Kaylor singled bringing him home.

Chuck Cupitt went nine innings for Lejeune pitching 4 hit ball with thirteen strike outs and giving up only 1 walk. Lejeune left six men stranded the bases which accounts for the support Cupitt did not get to bring in the runs. ECC left four men stranded on the bases.

In Friday night's game against ECC, Harvey Oxendine was credited with the win as Lejeune won 4-2 against the pirates.

East Carolina College opened the scoring in the first inning when Bob Kaylor singled to center field. Bob Bovender, playing second base for ECC, slammed a home run over the 315 foot marker in left field to put the pirates ahead 2-0.

Lejeune came back in the second inning to score one run as Ron Burke got on base with an infield single. John Lepito hit a sacrifice bunt moving Burke to second base. Tom McHenry went to first base on an error and Burke scored on an error by the ECC catcher during the play to put him out at home. After two innings of play the score was ECC 2-Camp Lejeune 1.

After four scoreless innings Lejeune broke into the scoring column with one run when Buddy Simpson doubled into left field. Following him, Dick Garcia tripled into center field scoring Simpson.

Lejeune picked up two more runs in the eighth inning when Tom O'Leary reached first on an error by the second baseman. Ron Burke singled into center field. John Lepito singled into center field scoring O'Leary. Tom McHenry collected a single into left field scoring Burke for the two final runs of the game. Lejeune came out ahead 4-2 against the ECC pirates.

The local nine won one 7-3 and dropped one 6-4 against Louisburg College last Thursday in a double-header played at Louisburg.

Right hander Ralph McIntyre notched his fifth win of the year for Lejeune in his 7-3 victory over Louisburg. Norton lashed three big blows to score 4 runners in the first game.

Gene McCaffrey was the losing pitcher in the second game as he got shelled for three runs in the fourth inning to sew it up for the winners.

Monday, May 27, the Lejeune Marines departed for a 10-game road trip which will take them into Virginia and the New England States.

The Camp Lejeune Baseball team will open their East Coast Interservice play against Fort Dix at Harry Agganis Field on May 11 at 7:30 p. m.

FT I-M Soft League To Open

The 1964 Force Troop Intramural Softball League is swinging into action about May 1 with entries expected from Force Troops units.

The single round robin competition will be open to all Force Troops units, with a limit of fifteen players per team.

Winner of the league will receive 100 points toward Commanding General's Sporting Trophy, with second taking 60 points and third garnering 40 points.

Bonus points will be awarded for each game the winner participate in. Units who penalized 15 points for a game they forfeit.

Soccer Club Being Formed

A Soccer Club is now being formed for military and civilian personnel of Camp Lejeune. Experience in soccer is an asset but is not essential since the club's main purpose is to train the members functioning as teams.

Soccer is rated as the most popular sport in Europe, Asia, South America. The same we rate baseball here, is a sport of skill, endurance, teamwork. It will also build those muscles you forgot had.

After the club is formed teams and is considered for competitive play, upon approval of the Commanding General, matches will be against other military installations in the area.

The success in forming a club, as in any club function, depends largely upon the leadership shown by personnel of Lejeune. If you are interested in playing soccer for the fun or just for the exercise, contact L. Cpl. D. J. McCullagh 7-5288.

Track And Field Meets

Two invitational track and field meets will take place on May 9 and 23 starting at 8:00 a. m. on Liversedge Field.

All persons interested are invited to participate. Events will consist of 100 and 220 yard dashes, 440 and 880 yard dashes, 1 and 3 mile run, 120 and 400 yard hurdles, pole vault, high jump, javelin, discus, broad jump, shot put.

Winners of the first three places at the May 23 meet will receive an appropriate trophy. There will also be a trophy for the Most Valuable Performer.

Pre-registration for the 220 yd dashes and 120-220 yd hurdles must be accomplished by May 8 and May 22 respectively. Sign up for these events at Goettge Fieldhouse or with Loughton HMM-265, MC 06-147.

Barnette wins again! Last Saturday's sailing race made a row for Wayne and crewman, Dick Dell'Acqua. Winning pushed a very close and the entire race and all had first place at the finish line when Barnette had to make his sails to avoid hitting committee boat Stacy Rob and his crew, Sterling, after making two starts, the last around the first but gained points passing the six boats to come in first. Well done for his sec- race with the Camp Lejeune Sailors.

Sailing instructions will be given everyday next week from 4:30 p. m. by Capt. Roy Patterson, who is a Red Cross sailing instructor.

during the regular season with 34 wins and 22 losses.

PFC. Peter F. Calvano, Hq. Bn., turned in a 259 high single game for the season and SSGT. Delmas Tupin, 2/2, recorded the top series with 618.

MCES Takes Base Volleyball Crown

Members of the Marine Corps Engineers School were crowned Marine Corps Base Intramural Volleyball Champions Thursday, April 23 when they walloped an aggressive Infantry Training Regiment team two out of three games at the Goettge Memorial Field House.

ITR drew first blood in the opening game of a see-saw battle, holding the Engineers in a close one, and coming through with a 15-13 victory.

Midway in the second game the Engineers overcame a seven point deficit to keep their championship hopes alive, winning 16-14.

The tie-breaking third game was a tensed up, savagely fought game where either team gave no quota. The Engineers spiked their way to a 15-10 victory and championship honors.

The Engineers' championship victory was a fine example of coordinated teamwork. The sledge-hammer right arm of Larry Botts contributed largely to confusing the ITR defense and contributed many points to the Engineers in the third game. Once the Engineers put on the pressure they never let up until they had won the championship. Tension ran high as the game came to a close but there was never a trace of unsportsmanlike conduct in any of the matches.

The officials, members of the New River Officials Association, officiated the matches in a commendable manner.

The third place winners of the tournament, Marine Corps Supply Schools, took a two game set from Material Supply and Maintenance Battalion, 15-2, 15-10. The first game was a run-away for the Supplymen and by the time the MS&M Battalion men got warmed up in the second game it was too late to do anything about it.

Individual trophies were awarded to members of the first and second place team by Major J. W. Robinson, Athletic Officer, Base Special Services at the conclusion of the tournament.

The "MONTEZUMA", the 63 foot special services fishing boat has begun operating for the summer season.

Skipped by Joe Latham, the Montezuma will sail out every day during the summer--weather permitting.

So that everyone may get a fair chance to go deep sea fishing on the Montezuma, and for maximum safety, Base Order 1710.16B outlines policies for booking and conduct on the boat.

Just as on any other vessel, the Captain of the Montezuma is the boss. The safety of the boat, and everyone on it is the captain's responsibility, and his orders MUST be carried out.

Organized unit parties wishing to use the Montezuma must have at least 25 fishermen, and must be limited to no more than 40. However, prior arrangements can be made through the reservations office to combine and schedule separate units on the same trip in order to fill this requirement.

During the week no dependents are allowed to go out on the boat. On weekends the Montezuma is available to private parties for charter. These parties may include dependents and guests.

There is no arrangement aboard for chow, or fishing tackle. It is up to the individual ual to furnish these items.

No uniform is designated for wear on the Montezuma, however, shoes with leather, or black rubber sole may not be worn aboard, as this type shoe leaves marks on the deck, and the leather soles would cause slippery footing.

Applications for reservations can be made either in person at the reservation office at Goettge Memorial Field House, or by calling extension 7-3762 during working hours. Applications for unit reservations must be made from company level or above. Each unit must have an officer and a Staff NCO in the party.

The Montezuma is docked at Casper's Marina, 10 Broad Street, at Swansboro, N. C. Check Base Order 1710.16B for additional details.

2d MAW Plans Military Display

The Cherry Point Marine Corps Air Station and the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing will display its military might May 16 during the 15th Annual Armed Forces Day Open House.

An invitation is being extended to Cherry Point's North Carolina neighbors to come aboard and watch the Open House show.

An action packed addition this year will be an assault on a fortified position by Marines from the Air Station's Non-Commissioned Officers Leadership School. Jet aircraft from the 2d Wing will provide close air support for the assault.

Other features of the Open House will be free-fall jumps by the Marine Sport Parachute Team; inflight refueling utilizing the 2d Wing's giant KC-130F "Hercules"; high speed runs by the 1600-plus mph F4B "Phantom" jet; a helicopter rescue; and a crash fire fighting demonstration.

Static displays of jets, propeller-driven aircraft and helicopters, flight equipment, fire-fighting equipment, and missiles from the 3d Light Anti-Aircraft Missile Bn., will also be set up for visitors.

The 2d Wing Band will be on hand to entertain Open House with music ranging from military marches to current hit tunes.

Guided tours of the Spitz Planetarium and the multi-million dollar Overhaul and Repair Department are also scheduled.

Guides will be available to explain the various exhibits at the Open House and information booths will be located in the major areas of activity. Brochures containing a map and schedule of events will be given to each guest at these booths. Ample parking spaces have been arranged and cameras, normally barred from the Air Station, will be allowed except in restricted areas.

SKYDIVING SNEAK PREVIEW—A member of the Marine Sport Parachute Team has just pulled his ripcord after delayed fall and is "waiting out" the chute's opening. The Marine Skydivers will be one of the featured attractions during the Armed Forces Day open house celebration to be held at the Air Facility May 16. Their program includes delayed free fall parachute jumps with baton passes and aerial acrobats, culminating in accuracy landings.
