CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1964

NO. 5

LET'S HAVE SOME CAKE—A cake commemorating the 11,000th landing aboard the USS OKINAWA, LPH-3, was presented to WO-1 Joseph A. Rike by the ship's baker as squadron pilots look on. WO Rike made the 11,000th landing during carrier qualifications off the coast of N. C. on Jan. 16. The cake was flown ashore in a UH34D helicopter by HMM-263's executive officer, Maj. A. R. Bousquet, cockpit of helicopter. (Photo by LCpl. W. C. Barker.)

HQMC Announces Drive To Retrain 'Over' MOSs

Headquarters Marine Corps has issued a new listing of MOSs which are overstaffed and understaffed and has ordered a new campaign to retrain men from overstrength skills.

To fill up the "short" specialties, the new bulletin says Marines in three categories should be retrained: Those who are in over-populated MOSs in the same occupational field.

Infantry Marines (OF 03) who are completing a 24 or 30 month cycle with controlled input or unit transplacement battalions. Those who pick training or retraining as reenlistment options.

The new directive lists 91 short skills, 37 of which are below strength at the E-5 to E-9 level and 54 at the E-1 to E-4 level.

In addition, the order lists 10 "untouchable" MOSs. Men holding them are not to be retrained into any other specialty without specific approval of Headquarters.

These MOSs are 2211, 2212, 2213, 2219, 2741, 2761, 2763, 2771, 2773, and 2791.

Here are the new "over" and "short" MOSs:

Children's Dental Health Observed February 2-8

Camp Lejeune public schools will observe National Children's Dental Health Week February 2-8. This is the fourth year the Base Dental Dept. has actively participated in the program.

Sponsored by the American Dental Association, NCDH Week is an annual effort to focus the country's attention on the importance of personal oral hygiene and dental health.

2d Mar. Division Celebrates Its 23rd Birthday Tomorrow With Ceremonies

The 2d Marine Division celebrates its 23rd anniversary tomorrow with a parade and review scheduled to start on the Base Parade Ground at 10:30 a. m.

On its 23rd birthday the 2d Marine Division finds itself constantly training for combat, while striving for peace. This training is being carried on by other members of the Division even while their comrades pause here to commemorate their founding. From the snow-swept slopes of upstate New York, to the sunny tropic skies of Vieques and onto the foreign shores of the Mediterranean, Marines of the Division keep in constant combat condition.

The anniversary ceremonies on the parade field will be highlighted by the presentation of Unit Requalification Awards for Calendar Year 1963. The 10th Marines will receive the Regimental Trophy; 2d Bn., 10th Marines will be presented the Subordinate Battalion Trophy; Hq. Bn. will be awarded the Separate Battalion Trophy and H&S Co., 2d Recon. Bn., will be awarded the Subordinate Company/Battery Trophy.

Vice Admiral John S. McCain, Jr., USN, Commander Amphibious Forces Atlantic Fleet with headquarters at Norfolk, Va., will be the reviewing officer.

Tomorrow, following the colorful parade and review,

The center section of today's GLOBE is a special supplement paying tribute to the officers and men of the 2d Marine Division on the occasion of the Division's 23d anniversary.

there will be a special holiday dinner at all Division mess-halls. Families and guests of Marines have been invited and will be charged the standard fee in accordance with existing regulations.

The citizens of Jacksonville and the surrounding area are cordially invited to witness the ceremonies on the Camp Lejeune Parade Ground. Vehicle passes will not be required.

Spectators are urged to park their cars in either the Base Exchange parking area or at the Goettge Memorial Field House.

High State Of Readiness To Be Maintained; CMC

"My principal target is to maintain the high state of readiness in which the Marine Corps finds itself today."

With this statement in the opening moments of radio interview in Japan, Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Corps Commandant, basically described the goal he has set for every Marine and for himself, as the 23rd Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Beginning his tenure as Commandant, Gen. Greene, started off on an 11-day whirlwind tour of Marine Corps units and installations in the Pacific area. From Hawaii, the General moved on to Japan where, Capt. H. C. Stackpole (former MCB ISO and now with the Far East Network in Iwakuni) arranged an interview with the Commandant.

In keeping the Corps' weapons up to date, Gen. Greene explained that developments within other services and in the commercial field are constantly being monitored. The General went on to say that even now a new rifle is being tested in conjunction with the Army and hydrofoil landing craft are being tested in cooperation with the Navy.

Gen. Greene does not favor the pro-pay program in that it is too difficult to administer fairly and squarely for all who may deserve it. He does feel however, that the recent pay increase is one step closer to adequate pay for servicemen. The Commandant believes that if the Marine Corps is to keep its highly qualified men, their pay will have to be fairly close to that which they could expect in civilian life.

"...we know what our goal is now, we know what our guidelines are..."

Gen. Greene made this statement in reference to his decision to discontinue the annual State of the Corps message. He based his decision on the fact that although the message served a useful purpose during the past several years he believes it is now no longer necessary.

2d Marine Aircraft Wing Personnel Host 2d Division Senior Officers

The 2d Marine Aircraft Wing hosted 75 senior command and staff officers of the 2d Marine Division January 21, at the second of three presentations on the capabilities of aircraft used by the Wing.

Maj. Gen. William J. Van Ryzin, Commanding General, 2d Marine Division, and division staff and command officers were greeted upon arrival here by Brig. Gen. Paul J. Fontana, Commanding General, 2d Marine Aircraft Wing; Brig. Gen. Norman J. Anderson, Asst. Wing Commander, and Brig. Gen. John P. Coursey, Commanding General, Marine Corps Air Station.

Early in the afternoon, 2d Division officers heard presentations by a group of 2d Wing officers who explained the mission and capabilities of fixed wing aircraft and supporting arms.

Speakers and their topics were: Col. George L. Hollowell, advantages and capabilities of the KC-130F "Hercules"; Col. Jay E. McDonald, advantages of offensive air warfare; Col. H. D. Raymond, capabilities and maneuverability of the A-4C Skyhawk and F-4B Phantom jet fighters; Capt. Edgar J. Love and WO Charles R. Barton, capabilities in aerial photography and reconnaissance.

After the presentations General Fontana monitored a short question and answer period. Afterwards the division officers inspected a static display of ordnance, flight safety equipment, and aircraft utilized by the 2d Wing.

Helicopter support will be discussed in the third presentation of the series to be held at MCAF, New River on February 4. The first presentation, Marine Air Control, was held at Camp Lejeune on January 7.

Air Facility Marines Entertained With Vaudeville And Minstrel Show

On Saturday night January 4, the men stationed aboard New River Air Facility were entertained with an old-time vaudeville and minstrel show staged by the Central Prison Variety Troupe. Later in the evening, Bobby Fontaine, son of the famed comedian Frank Fontaine, and his band entertained the troops.

The day's entertainment started at 2 p. m., when Col. K. L. Reusser, commanding officer of Marine Aircraft Group-26, introduced the twenty-five-man troupe from Central Prison, Raleigh, N. C. The troupe, which sang and played everything from hill-billy to rhythm and blues, had their audience applauding consistently. The skits put on by the minstrel segment of their show had everyone holding their sides from laughter. Mr. J. R. Thompson, recreation counselor at Central Prison, was in charge of the group.

From 4:30-6 p. m., "chow" was served from six open-air grills. Cakes and other assorted pastries were donated by the wives of both officers and enlisted. The day's activities were planned solely for the enjoyment of the men who were unable to get home for the holidays.

Lt. Col. V. R. Martin, Pioneer Aviator Retires Tomorrow At Cherry Point

Retirement ceremonies for Lt. Col. V. R. Martin, pioneer Marine Aviator, are scheduled to take place tomorrow at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C.

MCAF Gets New Cockpit Simulator

Captain Carl O. Holmquist, USN, commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Training Device Center, Port Washington, N. Y., will be on hand today to present Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, N. C., with a cockpit simulator for the CH46A helicopter.

The simulator is the first tandem-rotor simulator ever to be put into operation. It was developed at the Device Center, where all training devices and simulators used for training by the Navy, Army, Marine Corps and other armed forces and government agencies are designed.

Capt. C. O. Holmquist, USN

The purpose of this complex, electronic trainer, which is housed in a 40' x 10' van, is to teach pilots, on the ground, the procedures and technicalities of handling an aircraft they will soon be flying.

The CH46A helicopter, which will soon be seen throughout the Marine Corps is replacing the UH34D, Sikorsky built utility helicopter. HMM-265 of MAG-26 is slated to be the first Marine unit to get the new "chopper".

Capt. Holmquist, a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, is a holder of a Letter of Commendation with ribbon and Combat "V" for outstanding service during the Battle of Vella Gulf. He received his PhD from California Institute of Technology.

Lt. Col. Clarke Takes Control Of HMM-461

Lt. Col. Truman Clarke, who has received the Silver Star Medal and Air Medal (with three stars) has assumed command of HMM-461 at New River Air Facility, according to the MAG-26 Information Service Office.

Clarke succeeds Lt. Col. D. Riley, who has been appointed Personnel (S-1) Officer for the MAG-26 command. Clarke had previously served as executive officer.

Witnessing the ceremonies were some 200 spectators, including Brig. Gen. Norman J. Anderson, Deputy Commander 2d Air Wing; Col. Kenneth L. Reusser, MAG-26 commander; and Col. Ernest C. Fusan, Air Facility commander. Music was provided by the 2d Air Wing Band.

Enlisting in the Marine Corps as a Pvt. in 1933, he underwent recruit training at Parris Island, S. C., and then joined the Fleet Marine Force when it was first organized at Quantico, Va.

Following tours of duty in Cuba, Haiti and Panama, he was ordered to Brown Field, Quantico where he first served in aviation with the overhaul section, a forerunner of the Overhaul and Repair Department, and then with the crash crew.

"At that time," said Lt. Col. Martin, "there were two Marines in the crash crew. Myself and a PFC, who was in charge."

Promoted To Corporal

Lt. Col. Martin, as a PFC, went to flight training at Pensacola, Fla., and upon graduation was designated a naval aviation pilot and promoted to corporal.

He served as a carrier pilot aboard the old USS Lexington, Saratoga, Yorktown and Ranger.

The Colonel was appointed a Marine gunner early in the war and commissioned a second lieutenant in July, 1942.

"I probably set some type of record at the end of the war for holding ranks. I entered the Marine Corps as a Pvt. and worked up to master sergeant before becoming a Gunner. Then was temporarily commissioned a second lieutenant and rose to temporary captain. When the cuts were made at the end of the war, I reverted back to first lieutenant.

"When the limited duty officer program began, I was again a captain but to be appointed an LDO, I had to revert again to first lieutenant. I made captain again but this time I was promoted to major."

The Colonel and his wife, Marguerite, and son, V. R., Jr., plan to travel following his retirement. The Martins have a second son, Kenneth E., presently attending Purdue University where he is enrolled in the NROTC program.

84 New WO Selectees Announced By HQMC

The Commandant of the Marine Corps approved the recommendations of a board which selected 82 male and two Women Marine noncommissioned officers for appointment to warrant officer grade.

Selectees will be tendered their appointments about July 1, 1964. All appointments will be to W-1 grade.

The board, which convened

SGT. GEORGE ELSWICK, MP and Gd. Co., receives his meritorious promotion to his present rank from Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base. Placed on the temporary retired list in 1959 because of complications resulting from frostbite incurred while in Korea, Sgt. Elswick chose to return to the Corps because, as he put it, "I feel that I can better serve my country as a Marine."

Educational Help Stops When Individual Stops

AFPS SPECIAL

At least in theory, it is now possible for a semi-illiterate to enter the military service and come out a college graduate, with the Pentagon paying 75 percent of the tab. To apply its fabulous technology, the U. S. military has become an extra-ordinary teacher of everything from astronautics to electronics to nucleonics to teaching itself.

Now the Defense Department even has a Deputy Assistant Secretary for Education. He is Edward L. Katzenbach Jr., a driving man of 44 who runs a $350 million-a-year empire that spurs learning throughout the armed forces, although it does not control such elite professional schools as West Point and the Naval War College.

The U. S. serviceman now spends 50 percent to 80 percent of his time in schools, says a report issued by Columbia University's Teachers College. The military has 300,000 students in schools all over the world, from Arctic huts to the National War College. In the U. S. alone there are 300 military schools teaching 4,000 courses, from the three-R level to the Ph.D. Even the raw recruit now spends a third of his time in a classroom; the general gets the equivalent of two or three years of graduate study. To keep everyone learning off-duty as well, 33 correspondence schools provide 2,500 mail-order courses to 1,000,000 servicemen and service-women around the globe.

Welter Of Waste

Military learning also helps lessen the unemployment problem at least 60 percent of what the services teach is directly applicable to civilian jobs. Hundreds of thousands of servicemen go back to become everything from auto mechanic to bacteriologist to weatherman. Almost 100,000 men now in the services have been raised to the equivalent of a high school education since they entered — a figure equal to about a tenth of the nation's annual school dropout rate.

Until recently, military education was a welter of waste, duplication and congressional bewilderment. In 1961, Katzenbach was brought in to organize military learning, coordinate it with civilian education. Katzenbach, whose younger brother Nicholas is U. S. Deputy Attorney General, had the right pedigree for both sides. He earned his Legion of Merit as a Marine officer at Eniwetok, his Ph.D. at Princeton. He taught history at Columbia, directed defense studies at Harvard and academic development at Brandeis.

Katzenbach's happiest operation is the 22-year-old U. S. Armed Forces Institute, a mail-order education factory in Madison, Wis. Proud product of World War II, it has now enrolled more than 5,000,000 students, distributed more than 44 million textbooks. For $5, the shopper can pick any of 6,400 courses, from elementary through college level; if he completes the first course, the rest are free. College-level courses (now the majority) are provided directly from cooperating colleges.

To help streamline the military, Katzenbach has worked up a new systems management school, helped the Navy start a computer institute to teach the art to all ranks. To educate the military about its impact on society, he has designed new USAFI courses that relate military and civilian technology back to 1750. To teach servicemen "what society thinks of them," he set up another course on 19 war novels, from Stendhal's "The Red and the Black" to Jules Romains' "Verdun."

Results Count

The military has an equal chance to educate civilian education itself. Service schools have pioneered in everything from training films to programmed instruction. At Long Island's Naval Training Device Center, 600 experts spend $60 million a year to produce a fantastic array of teaching aids, from mock submarines to simulated human flesh that bleeds on order. The Pentagon is now teaching foreign languages to more than 200,000 students, biggest such babel in the U. S. In Washington, D. C., and Monterey, Calif., it runs two of the world's most effective language schools — founts of the speak-first, grammar-later method.

Every service now has exemplary teacher-training programs. Civilian schools could well emulate the clear, logical, incisive teaching that results. In military teaching, results count, and the motto is unforgiving: "If the student has failed to learn, you have failed to teach."

EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS

Quote of the Week

"... In quite a long experience now, I have often found that a man who trusts nobody is apt to be the kind of man that nobody trusts." — Harold MacMillan.

Chaplain's Corner

For 12 minutes and 6 seconds on April 18, 1906 the city of San Francisco had the teeth shaken out of her by the roughest earthquake ever recorded in the U.S. A $400,000,000 fire followed and the flames wiped out the Barbary Coast. In ancient times when nature went wild people considered such a visitation to be God's judgement on a sinful society. In more modern times most of us are not so sure. In any case, we doubt if San Francisco learned her lesson — if any — inasmuch as the smoke had hardly cleared before there was a stampede to see which "joint" could open first.

What should be our reaction to rough times? To some the earthquake carried a moral lesson with it, to others it was a test of faith in adversity, for some, perhaps, it was a blessing in disguise.

Rough times come to groups of people and they come to individuals like the seminary professor who was lecturing to his students one morning on Romans 8:28: "All things work together for good to them that love God." That afternoon a truck crashed into his car. When he came to in a hospital bed, his friend told him that his wife had been killed and that he would spend the rest of his life in bed. The professor paused for a moment and then said, "Jim, I want you to go back to my students and tell them that Romans 8:28 still stands!"

Such trust and belief in God is either utter foolishness or one of the greatest things that a man can have. The difference is in that conditional phrase, "... to them that love God," because God is the supreme Expert in turning rough times into victory, waste into value, stumbling-blocks into stepping-stones.

In this life we may never know how God will have worked the earthquake into good for some people, nor how He will have worked the accident into good for the professor, but just as surely as the professor loved God, and some of the people in San Francisco loved God, He will work those rough times into good for them for that is His promise. Who but God could turn the criminal's death of His Son, Jesus Christ, into a new life and glory — a Good Friday into Easter?

"Those who love God" are not immune to the rough times of life — accident, sickness, sorrow, disappointment, pain. But "to them that love God" even these storms in life can become the very things which lead to greater life and deeper calm. This is why some lives are an inspiration to all who come in contact with them — they know that the "Eternal God is their refuge and underneath are the Everlasting Arms."

Not only the good times, but also the rough times — perhaps especially the rough times — can bring us closer and closer to God. And what is this life of our all for if it is not to be used to become closer to God as preparation for the life to come which will be infinitely greater?

A Government Of Law

By a narrow margin, the Supreme Court has upheld one of the long standing principles of American Constitutional law.

The Court ruled that a man who leaves the country in wartime to avoid military service can not be deprived of his citizenship without due process of law.

In actuality the decision protects the Constitutional right that a man is innocent until proven guilty. Under the Federal law the Court nullified, a person leaving the country would be deprived of citizenship if he left to avoid military service.

As the Court said, one who leaves the country to avoid serving in time of war commits a terrible crime. But even a greater crime is committed by taking away human rights without the process of law, one of the firm bastions of all civil liberty.

If this country is to survive in an era when threats come rapidly from within and without, we must never knuckle under to expediency in the operation of our legal system.

The United States of America has survived for 187 years. It has survived because we have been a country of laws as well as men. It will continue to survive as long as we hold these laws sacred and protect the rights of man.

Carolina AAU Champions

BILL MERCEDES
112 lb. Champ

JOHN C. DAVIS
147 lb. Champ

EXCEL CALHOUN
156 lb. Champ

Three Camp Lejeune Marines won titles in the Carolinas Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) Boxing Tournament, at High Point, N. C., last week. The Marines brought back the tournament team trophy, four Marines won runner-up trophies, and coach Chuck Lawler was awarded the trophy for the "Most Popular Coach".

ON THE DECK—is Pyree Grubb, after taking a hard right hook from Excel "Tippy" Calhoun in the semi-finals.

The Marines, making their first appearance in High Point in several years, were very impressive in the ring. The most noticeable traits of the Leathernecks were their superior physical condition, and their thorough knowledge of the fundamentals of boxing. It was obvious that as a team they had trained harder, and had more coaching than any other team in the tourney.

The opening round of the three day tournament was marked by a couple of surprising showings by Marines, a 46 second knockout, and a highly controversial Marine loss.

Billy Hunter, who recently joined the boxing team provided a fine fight, beating Claude Breauz, last year's Louisiana Golden Gloves champion in the 119 lb. division. Hunter, in the ring for his first fight, handled himself like a veteran.

Bill Verdier, Lejeune's 139 lb. ring representative, lost his opening fight after his opponent had been counted out. Verdier, after pressing his man for the first minute of the fight, forced Danny Atkins of Mt. Holly in a corner, and was attacking with both hands. The referee, standing across the ring yelled for a "break". Verdier evidently didn't hear the command, and kept pressing his attack. Atkins went down, the referee crossed the ring, counted Atkins out, and after some hesitation, disqualified Verdier for hitting on the break.

This turned out to be one of the most controversial decisions of the tournament. Many people felt that Verdier might have been unable to hear the referee due to the noise of the capacity crowd, and that the referee should have gone over to get the attention of the fighters. Another view was that the official should not have called for a break under the circumstances, because the fighters weren't tied up.

The attention of the referee was called to the fact that Verdier was swinging with both hands and that he couldn't have been tied up, or have the other fighter clinched. The referee replied that he called the break because Atkins wasn't swinging back. Usually a referee will stop a fight when a man can no longer defend himself.

John David, a 147 pounder from Camp Lejeune, had to work out after his battle against Ken Gibson of the North Charleston Boys Club. Davis only got to fight 46 seconds.

Gibson came raging out of his corner at the opening bell and began flailing Davis in the upper arms and elbows. Davis gave ground, bobbing and weaving, and then unleashed a straight right hand shot to deck Gibson. Gibson regained his feet at the count of eight. Davis hesitated for an instant, then took another shot. Seeing that Gibson was tremendously overwhelmed, and already in bad shape, the referee stopped the fight.

Art Redden was eliminated in his first bout. Danny Hogg, from Charleston, stopped Redden in the first round.

In the 178 lb. division Bob Glaister decided Ronnie Lineberger of Gastonia, N. C.

In the semi-finals Adron Carroll, a local Marine, bombed a Cherry Point leatherneck, Bill Apostoles, out of the running in one minute and fifty three seconds of the third round. Apostoles had been on the canvas once in the first and twice in the third.

Excel "Tippy" Calhoun knocked out Pyree Grubb of High Point in 1:12 of round three. Grubb, a streetfighter type, came out in the first round to land a few solid punches, but Calhoun's superior skill soon became apparent. Tippy downed Grubb in the second stanza and had complete control from there on.

decision Fort Bragg's Bill Cunningham.

Charlie Dwyer beat Duncan Anderson by a decision to qualify for the finals in the heavyweight division.

Bob Lazada of Camp Lejeune was decided by Henry Neilson, in the 132 lb. division, after a hard fight; Charlie Hall was eliminated by Fort Bragg's Purcell Johnson, and Charlie Davis was decided by Sherrie Morgan of Fort Bragg.

Bill "Mouse" Mercedes won the first championship for the Marines, in the 112 lb. division, with his win over Terry Simms of Charlotte, N. C. Mercedes followed the fight plan that has been successful all year. He came out strong with both hands, and kept pressing his opponent. In the second round Simms gave way and went into the "shell" to protect himself. The referee stopped the fight after Simms held his passive defensive position for more than 20 seconds under the flailing fists of Mercedes.

Mercedes began fighting this year, and has won all four of his bouts.

John C. Davis, fighting in the 147 lb. division gave a three round boxing lesson to Walter Wallace of Fort Bragg, N. C. Wallace put up a good, game fight, but was no match for Davis, a veteran of 110 ring skirmishes.

Excel "Tippy" Calhoun fought his way to the third champions trophy for the Marines, in the 156 lb. class, beating Tommy Garrick, member of the North Charleston Boy's Club. Garrick, primarily a slugger, got in some good shots, but Tippy weathered them with no apparent effect, and mixed up a large assortment of hook, jabs, and combinations to outpoint Garrick.

FAIR EXCHANGE—Billy Hunter and Sherrie Morgan exchange rights during the finals. Morgan decided Hunter for the 119 lb. title.

Runners-up for Lejeune in the Tournament were Adron Carroll in the 139 lb. division, Billy Hunter, fighting at 119 lbs., Bob Glaister, a 178 pounder, and heavyweight Charles Dwyer.

Winners of the Carolina AAU will be fighting in the Nationals at Las Vegas, Nevada, in April.

ON THE ROPES—Adron Carroll forces Cherry Point's Bill Apostoles into the ropes in the semi-finals. Carroll scored a KO in the third round.

Jim McGee In Action

Know Your Team

Twelve is his number and Jim McGee is his name. Basketball fans at Camp Lejeune have seen a lot of number 12 and Jim McGee because he is a play-maker deluxe. Coach Joe Walsh said that the 5' 9", 23 year old court ace "is one of the most versatile players I have ever coached. He thinks fast, moves fast and is cool in the clutch". When asked what he felt was McGee's strongest shot Coach Walsh replied "Jim is fast on offense and defense and his jump shot can be depended upon when points are needed".

McGee is in his second season with the Camp Lejeune team. His basketball experience goes back to high school basketball when he played with Carmon High School in Nashville, Tenn. During that period he was voted Most Valuable Player when his team reached All Tournament play. He made All State during his senior year of high school. He attended Fisk University in Nashville, Tenn., and was the first freshman in the school's history to play on the varsity team. Jim McGee is a member of Hq. Co., 8th Marines.

FAG Cops 16 Straight In FT Intramural Action

Powerful, league-leading 2d FAG, with a 16-0 record, is fast eliminating all other contenders for the Force Troops intramural basketball crown. 77 seems to be the magic number for 2d FAG this past week as they handed a highly touted 8th Comm Bn., team a pair of defeats, 77-55 and 77-61. Karl Gardner was top scorer for 2d FAG in both games, tallying 26 points in each contest. Dave Lorah led 8th Comm Bn., again with 18 points in the first game and 17 points in the second. Ken McGill poured in 23 points for 2d AmTrac Bn., as they routed Hq. Co., Force Troops 59-38. Other Force Troops winners this week were 8th MT Bn., who topped 2d Bridge Co., 59-51; and 2d Radio Co., who downed 2d Topographic Co., 82-59.

The 19th Hole

By BOB SPENCER

The tip this week concerns the power check points.

1. To hit the long ball, the first thing to remember is to take the club back slowly and straight from the ball-and-in-one piece.

2. The proper grip keeps us from going back too far and also keeps the clubface square.

3. The left hand guides this action and controls how the clubface meets the ball. It should stay firmly in place throughout the swing.

4. On the downswing the hands are leading the club. Just before impact snap through with the wrists.

5. It is clubhead speed which gives the desired distance.

6. The power that gives clubhead speed begins to develop when the hands get below the waist on the downswing.

7. The entire body gets into the shot; with hands at impact as they were at address, and with the swing uninterrupted until the club has gone through the ball, the ball has got to go long and straight.

So check these points carefully and let'er fly.

Meet Scheduled For Boys' League

The Camp Lejeune Boys League will hold its annual general meeting at the Midway Park Community House at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, February 6th. All military personnel who are interested in the functions of the Camp Lejeune Boys League, are eligible to attend and vote at this meeting. The main topics of the evening will be the election of three new members to the Advisory Group, changes to the Constitution and information about the 1964 baseball season.

One proposal to be voted on by the personnel attending the meeting will be "The increasing of the Advisory Group size".

USGA Rule Changes In Effect For The '64 Golfer

Rule Changes for 1964. Here are the most noteworthy revisions in the rules affecting every amateur and professional now playing under USGA jurisdiction.

Twenty-one of the forty-one rules and two of the 20 definitions are affected by the changes adopted for 1964. Most are minor in nature, but some are influencing every round being played under USGA jurisdiction. (Tapping down repair mark with foot now ok.)

Rule 35-1c: Repair of Ball Marks (Putting Green) No longer is there any prohibition against stepping on any area of the green damaged and/or repaired. (Additional note: in stroke play, if a fellow-competitor considers that his ball on the green may assist the competitor, he may lift or play.

Rule 35-3c: In stroke play: Ball striking fellow-competitor's ball. A two-stroke penalty applies when the ball is played from a hazard within 20 yards of the hole, as well as from anywhere else within 20 yards or from the putting green, regardless of distance.

Rule 30: Provisional Ball, may not be played for a ball which may be unplayable or in a water hazard. Thus, a provisional ball is limited to a ball which may be lost or out of bounds.

(Can you play a provisional ball?)

Yes: If ball is thought unplayable.

Yes: If ball is thought in water hazard.

No: If the ball may be lost.

No: If the ball may be out of bounds.

Rule 34-4: The Flagstick. A ball striking an unattended flagstick when played from the putting green or within 20 yards of the hole entails a penalty loss of hole in match play and two strokes in stroke play, and the ball shall be played as it lies.

Rule 22-2c: Lifting, dropping or placing: If a dropped ball rolls out of bounds, into a hazard or more than two club lengths from the point of dropping, it must be re-dropped. If the configuration of the ground makes it impossible to prevent the ball from so rolling, it may be placed at the point of dropping, by player, his partner or either of their caddies.

Rule 29-2: Unplayable Ball. Option permits ball to be dropped under penalty of one stroke, not two as formerly, either within two club-lengths of point where ball lay (a new provision) no nearer the hole, or as far back behind the point where the ball lay as you wish, keeping the point from which the ball was lifted between yourself and the hole.

Rule 3: Maximum of 14 clubs. Penalties per round now limited to loss of two holes in match play and four strokes in stroke play for each excess club. Formerly, there was no limit to penalty of loss of hole in match play and two strokes in stroke play for each hole where a violation occurred.

Rule 35-1H: Ball overhanging hole. When any part of the ball overhangs edge of hole, owner is not allowed more than few seconds (as compared to a "momentary delay") to determine whether it is at rest. If by then the ball has not fallen into the hole, it is deemed to be at rest.

However, you are urged to obtain your own book of rules, study them carefully and always have a copy with you while on the course. You'll enjoy better golf when you become fully aware of your rights and the rights of others.

Globe Sets Policy On Intramurals

The GLOBE is interested in giving better coverage of intramural sports action of the 2d Marine Division and Force Troops.

The GLOBE sports staff consists of only one man, and therefore it is impossible for him to cover all intramural sports himself. To provide adequate coverage it is policy that the Informational Services Office of each command prepare the copy concerning activities within their own command, and forward it to the GLOBE.

The GLOBE is very much interested in reporting any activity within the quad command if copy is contributed in time for the weekly deadline, if copy is timely and meets accepted standards of sports copy.

It is suggested that anyone with questions or information concerning intramurals contact their command ISO. Division ISO may be called at 7-5680, and Force Troops at 7-3498. GLOBE sports number, for matters pertaining to Marine Corps Base is 7-5821.

Karate Tourney Slated For Feb. 1

The Southeastern Karate Championships will be held at the YMCA in Knoxville, Tenn., at 1 p. m. on February 1st, in which 15 to 20 karate clubs from the east coast will be participating.

Competition will be held in both form and free play and awards will be given in black, brown and white belt divisions. The event will be open to the public.

NCO Club

It's the end of the month once again and at Happy Hour this Friday we are proud to feature Boss Night and Ole Mother Hubbard is going to clean out the cupboard and put out a tempting and tasty snack table. Yes, the goodies will be free and of course we will feature those unbeatable prices on all our other "cheer beverages." Happy Hour starts at 4:30 and goes until 6:30 p.m. Later on in the evening we present the music of the Melodettes from 8 p.m. until closing.
Saturday night the Three Blind Mice plus one will appear on the scene to hit off the evening with tunes the way you like 'em. Again the sounds start at 8 p.m. and go until the neighbors start complaining about the noise.
Our newly instituted Sunday night dances are going over so well that we take pride in announcing that Sam Bass and his Merry-men will do the entertaining chores this Sunday night from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Of course there will be many delicious and tantalizing dinners available from our menu so while you are thinking about it, call up the wife and make a date to bring her and the family out to the club for dinner this weekend. There's something for everyone on our menu and we know you will enjoy yourself.
In case you haven't heard, it's really getting up there on the Tuesday night activity. For an evening of fun and profit, don't forget to be on hand this Tuesday night. We start at 8 p.m. sharp and the crowd will be large so come early and get a good seat.

Jacksonville USO Commemorates Its 22nd Anniversary With Celebration

On Sunday, Feb. 2nd, the Jacksonville USO will hold an informal reception commemorating the 22nd anniversary of USO and the 22nd anniversary of the Jacksonville-Camp Lejeune USO.

The Anniversary will be celebrated in both the Jacksonville and Wilmington clubs with a cake cutting.

In Jacksonville, the reception will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. With the Tarheel Cloggers and the Carolina Kloggers on hand to entertain.

With a history of 22 years service to Camp Lejeune Marines, USO officials look back with pride on their accomplishments. In the past years, they have served countless thousands of men and women.

The land that the USO stands on now was purchased by the government in October 1941 and the building was erected at the cost of $80,000 by the government.

Construction began Nov. 20, 1941 and was completed March 15, 1942. An informal opening was held Feb. 6, 1942.

The club is financed by the community and the United Fund. It is not government financed although the building is leased from the government.

The USO is comprised of six agencies. They are; Young Men's Christian Associations, National Catholic Community Service, National Jewish Welfare Board, Young Women's Christian Association, The Salvation Army and National Travelers Aid Association.

The National Catholic Community Service has been the USO Agency responsible for the Jacksonville branch.

There is hardly a U. S. military installation that can claim as much USO support as the Marines of Camp Lejeune.

If a Marine goes to Jacksonville or New Bern, Goldsboro or Fayetteville there are USO clubs to greet him.

If he goes to Vieques, he'll find a club at Isabella Segunda, Santurce and Aqua Dilla. Should he make a Mediterranean Cruise, waiting to serve him are USO's at Nice, France; Naples and Rome, Italy and numerous other foreign ports.

The local USO guides four Wives Clubs and is forming another. It is open every day of the year from early in the morning until late at night and many volunteers from civic organizations cooperate in making it a "home away from home."

Last year, the Jacksonville branch served 208,493 servicemen holding true to its slogan

A full schedule is on tap for this weekend including the films "Rock a Bye Baby" and "Heaven Knows Mr. Allison" which will be shown starting at 6:30 p.m. Friday, 1 p.m. Saturday and 12 noon on Sunday.

All servicemen are welcome and encouraged to accept the hospitality and recreational facilities available at our own Jacksonville USO.

'Grecian Splendor' Theme Reigns At Sweetheart Ball

"Grecian Splendor" is this year's theme for the Sweetheart Ball given by the Officers' Wives' Club of Camp Lejeune annually in February, the month of valentines and sweethearts. This year it will be held on Saturday, February 15th from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at the Goettege Memorial Field House, Group I is the sponsoring group and elaborate plans are in the making according to Mrs. H. E. L. Zastrow, chairman of the ball and her committee composed of the following: Mrs. C. A. Austin and Mrs. J. F. Conlon, table decorations; Mrs. E. B. Robertson, sewing; Mrs. M. R. Arnold, Mrs. G. R. Martz and Mrs. V. J. Gentile, posters; Mrs. W. Scullion and Mrs. E. E. Keele publicity; Mrs. F. P. Dayton, reservations; Mrs. J. G. Rogers, decoration artist; Mrs. F. T. Norris, favors; Mrs. R. R. Miller and Mrs. H. P. Williamson, overhead decorations.

A huge working area has been set up where Mrs. C. H. Pritchett, chairman of the decorations is keeping a working group busy almost daily and with the help of the above committee and volunteers from all eight groups, the white and gold "Grecian Splendor" theme is being created.

This is one of OWC's biggest affairs of the year and Group I after many pros and cons and guidance from reports of past balls had decided that the most pressing problem is space and so the OWC is most fortunate this year in being allowed to use the Field House which will give all who attend an opportunity to enjoy themselves in spacious surroundings. A working area, large enough to hold all the many decorations necessary for such a large space has been provided by the Navy group of Group I.

Here it is possible to cut, paint and create decorations one day and leave everything as is to come back another day to continue. The plan and formation of the "Grecian Splendor" theme is firm and only waits the help of many hands to complete. So if you have not been contacted and would like to help please call Mrs. Zastrow, 6-6439 or Mrs. Pritchett, 6-6149 for information. The working schedule is as follows:

FUN EXERCISE—Dependent ladies in the Camp Lejeune area are invited to join in on Tuesdays and Thursdays to accomplish what we all try to do at home. Besides the exercises, the ladies team up for games of volleyball and badminton.

Recipe Of The Week

Broiled Ham Steak with Champagne Sauce

1 can (6 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/2 cup dry sherry
1 can (10-3/4 oz.) beef gravy
1 bottle 4/5 pint champagne (1-1/2 cups)
1 fully cooked ham steak, 1 inch thick (1-3/4 to 2 lb.)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Parsley sprigs

In medium saucepan, combine the mushrooms and sherry; bring to boiling; reduce heat, and simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes, or until sherry is reduced by half.

Add beef gravy; simmer 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally.

Stir in champagne; bring back to boiling; reduce heat, and simmer, stirring occasionally, 45 minutes, or until sauce is reduced by half and is thickened.

About 10 minutes before sauce is ready, place ham steak on rack in broiler pan. Brush top with 1 tablespoon butter.

Broil, 6 inches from heat, 4 to 5 minutes, or until nicely browned.

Turn steak; brush top with remaining butter; broil 4 to 5 minutes.

Serve with sauce poured over. Garnish with parsley. Makes four servings.

Tarawa Terrace

Any women of the Camp Lejeune area who enjoy singing, are invited to meet at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center at 9 p. m. Thursday, February 6. This singing group will meet each Thursday morning and will be lead by Mrs. Weir and Mrs. O'Connor of the Terrace. The aim of the group is to afford enjoyment in singing together and to start a three-part woman chorus. Previous experience in a chorus or in part-singing is NOT necessary.

The only expense may be a few cents occasionally for music. Though this will be an informal group, we ask you not to bring children.

Also at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center, we have lessons in Hula Dancing in the planning stage; we have two excellent instructors; space available; plan separate classes for women and girls (all ages). What we need to start is YOUR INTEREST. Call Mrs. Cummings at 347-2407 or stop by the Community Center if you are interested in these classes.

Protestant Women's Guild

Protestant Women's Guild meets every last Monday of each month. The meeting is a combination of business and social.

Chaplain David Windell will be the guest speaker at the next meeting and will discuss "Operation Deep Freeze".

Brewster Street School

Brewster School PTA announces that their next scheduled meeting will be held at the Stone Street School due to construction work at the Brewster School. The date of February 4 and the time of 7:30 p. m. remain the same.

Mr. John Reuling, Superintendent of the Babcock and Wilcox Company of Wilmington is scheduled to be the feature speaker at the Brewster School PTA meeting on the evening of February 4.

Mr. Reuling will speak on, "What industry is looking for in employees and what can parents of elementary school students do to prepare their children for futures in industry?"

Group III, OWC

Mrs. R. C. McDonough and wives of the Second Marine Division, Headquarters Camp Lejeune will hostess a luncheon at Horne's Restaurant on February 5th for all Group III members. Lunch will be served at 12:30 p. m. preceded by a social hour at 11:30 a. m.

The Reservation Committee will contact you by phone for your reservation the week preceding the luncheon. Reservations must be made by noon on Monday, February 3. Plan now to attend so you will have your answer ready when called.

Group VIII, OWC

The February luncheon of Group VIII Officers' Wives will be held on February 6th at the Paradise Point Club. The social hour will begin at 11:30 a. m. with a taste tempting luncheon to be served at 12:00 noon.

All Group VIII wives planning to attend the luncheon must make their reservations by chit or check to Mrs. Merrill by Thursday, January 30th. Cancellations will not be accepted after Tuesday, February 4th. Please make all checks payable to Group VIII, OWC. All reservations for Sifter Service must be made 24 hours in advance by calling base extension 6-6723.

SETS RECORD—Cpl. Roger A. Smith, right, of H&S Co., 2d Tank Bn., Force Troops is congratulated and presented with a meritorious mast by Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. J. Glenn. Smith completed the AN/TRC-75 Repair Course with a 95.4 average, setting a new record for the three week course.

Cpl. R. A. Smith, 2d Tank Bn. Sets Record At Repair School

Cpl. Roger A. Smith, of H&S Co., 2d Tk. Bn., Force Troops was congratulated and presented with a Meritorious Mast by Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. J. Glenn, on January 9. The Meritorious Mast awarded for "noteworthy performance as a student in the AN/TRC-75 Repair Course," read in part:

"You are hereby commended for your recent noteworthy performance as a student in the AN/TRC-75 repair course held at Montford Point Schools, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

"You graduated from the AN/TRC-75 repair course with a standing of first in a class of twenty-two, attaining an average of 95.4 percent surpassing the school record of 94.0 percent which was set on March 22, 1963. To attain such a high grade required diligent attention, hard work, and extra effort on your part throughout the three week course. The results attained reflect the "can do" attitude and "Esprit de Corps" expected of all Marines.

"I urge you to continue your efforts for self improvement and I congratulate you on your record of outstanding achievement".

Division Coffee Bars Help Marines 'Home'

A standing operating procedure has been established for the operation of Coffee Bars by the 2d Marine Division when an extended regular liberty period of a minimum of 72 hours is authorized.

Free coffee and doughnuts or cookies will be given to all motorists stopping at any of the three sites shown on the page one diagram.

The purpose of the coffee bars is to allow traveling Marines an opportunity to stretch and relax with a cup of coffee before tackling the last 50 miles to the Base.

It was found through investigation that a large percentage of auto accidents involving Marines occurred within a 50 mile radius of the Camp Lejeune complex.

During calendar year 1963, 688 accidents involving Marines in their private vehicles were investigated by the Provost Marshal Office.

Of the 688 investigated, 354 occurred within a 50 mile radius of Camp Lejeune. While 75 accidents occurred beyond the 50 mile radius.

In addition to lives lost, over a quarter of a million dollars in property damage was reported.

In the five years the Division has operated the coffee bars, not a single fatality has occurred within the 50 mile radius during the hours of operation.

Staff Boards Firmed Up

Selection boards to pick Marine noncommissioned officers for promotion will meet in April, June and August 1964, Headquarters Marine Corps announced.

A board to select Marines for promotion to Sergeant Major, Master Gunnery Sergeant, First Sergeant and Master Sergeant will convene at Headquarters April 6. On June 15, a board will meet to pick new Gunnery Sergeants and on August 17, a board will meet to name Marines for promotion to Staff Sergeant.

PRINTER'S CHOICE — No matter how many errors they might otherwise make, printers were letter perfect when they selected Joyce Bryan as queen of their convention in Miami Beach.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev

History of Communism

The Basic Philosophy Of A Russian Premier

(Twelfth of a series of 20 articles entitled The History of Communism, by MSgt. Walter M. Stewart, USMC.

After Bulganin fell from the Soviet heavens, Khrushchev sent First Deputy Premier A. I. Kozlov to a 1959 Soviet exhibition in New York, for the purpose of welcoming President Eisenhower; escorted Vice-President Nixon on a tour of Russia; and made a precedent-breaking tour of the United States.

Khrushchev believes his nation must have nuclear and missile superiority over the West as a requisite for a successful foreign policy and he embraces the Marx-Lenin-Stalin goal of Communist rule over all the world. He differs from his predecessors in that he believes the goal is possible without a major war.

He believes the spread of Communism is inexorable. Author Elliot R. Goodman sums up the opinion in this way:

"Russia has been entrusted by history with 'civilizing' the world, and this can only be brought to a conclusion when all other nations are joined to Russia in a Soviet World State so that they may partake of Russia's felicitous tutelage". Like Stalin and Lenin — but in diametric opposition to Marx — Khrushchev is a devotee of the expedient. He takes any view, follows any policy, which furthers the Communist goal. He will invoke the blessing of God and, at the same time, profess his belief in his party's official, atheistic philosophy: "dialectical materialism."

(The writer knows no way to explain the complicated philosophy of dialectical materialism in simple terms and with brevity. The following, however, is an attempt at abbreviating the explanation by Crane Brinton, as it appears in his book, "Ideas and Men".

(Everything is "matter" and man, himself, is nothing more than matter in motion. The opposing forces of nature constantly bring about changes—evolution, one might say—in matter and even in social conditions. Capitalism progresses from the simple bartering stage through mass production and other ultra-refinements as new methods of production are developed.)

The capitalistic system causes the big firms to take over the little ones, the result of which is fewer capitalists, more workers. The rich get richer and the poor get poorer until, finally, the workers revolt. The workers, by overwhelming numerical superiority, must win. The workers—or proletariat—then take over the means of production and liquidate the capitalists.

Then there becomes only one class, a classless society. And since the state is necessary only to control the conflicts between classes, the state, too, will wither away. There will be no police, no taxes....just the proletariat in Utopia. The philosophy virtually constitutes a religion: There is no God; Dialectical Materialism is omnipotent!

Two Days Remain For HS Enrollment

With 321 students enrolled in Camp Lejeune's Off-Duty High School Education Program as of January 27, this term might equal the total enrollment over the past two terms.

Captain Gordon E. Shockley, Base Education Officer, states that through the High School Off-Duty Program, Marines who are not high school graduates can earn a diploma directly from the State Department of Education.

Notice

Last night, the home of LCpl. Frank Brown Co. "A", 2d AmTrac Bn., was completely destroyed by fire in which all clothing and personal belongings were lost. Chaplain C. E. McFarland, Base ext. 5-7308, has announced that he will accept any type of contributions that would assist LCpl. Brown, his wife or four-month-old daughter.
