Camp Lejeune Globe

October '64 Set As Target Date

VOLUME 20 CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 1964 NO. 3

Safe Homes Required In 'Feel Safe'

The U. S. Naval Hospital Emergency Clinic treated 226 children as poisoning cases last year.

Most of these accidents could have been prevented by simply keeping drugs and poisons out of their reach.

Operation "Feel-Safe" is suggested by the Commanding Officer of the Hospital to be conducted periodically in your home. It's this easy:

Step One: Check throughout your home for the presence of drugs, medicines or poisons which might get into the hands of children. As you do this, review the actual need for keeping items of potential danger.

Step Two: Assure that any drugs, medicines or poisons you need to keep are safely out of reach to children.

Step Three: Collect all partially-filled and empty bottles or drug containers not needed, and return them to the Hospital (Wards 1, 2 or the Pharmacy). These will be cleaned, sterilized and re-used at a saving to our Pharmacy and you will have participated in OPERATION "FEEL-SAFE."

State Plate Changes

All hands are reminded that upon placing new license plates on automobiles registered at Camp Lejeune, the Base registered owner, to whom permanent Base tags have been issued, shall immediately notify the Base Provost Marshal of the change.

Corps Begins New Year With High Level Changes

In addition to Gen. Greene's assumption of the Corps' command, Washington was the scene of several other top changes in the Corps this year.

Maj. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman, Jr., gained his third star and left his slot as Assistant Chief of Staff for Supply to fill the Marine Corps Chief of Staff vacancy left by Gen. Greene's move to Commandant.

Woman Marines are now under a new Director, Col. Barbara J. Bishop, who was promoted to her present rank and relieved former Director, Col. Margaret Henderson, Jan. 3.

Just below Washington, at Quantico, Va., the Marine Corps picked up another brigadier general, giving Col. Gordon D. Gayle his first star. Col. Gayle has been serving as chairman of the Long Range

A DIFFERENT COVER—Visiting Royal Australian officer, Maj. Ian H. Maclean of the Royal Australian Regiment explains the significance of his traditional slouch hat to Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, commanding general, MCB. Maj. Maclean has been visiting the various military bases since December 1962 and will be touring Camp Lejeune for approximately four weeks.

'Coffin Nails' Remain Popular Locally Despite Recent Governmental Report

The Surgeon General's report on smoking apparently has made little or no impact on Camp Lejeune's cigarette smokers.

Although it is far too early to judge accurately, the Central Exchange reports no marked increase in the sale of cigars and pipes and "business as usual" in cigarette sales.

However, it does now appear that the harmful effects of smoking, for years ignored by hundreds of thousands of smokers, have been brought out in the open, possibly to effect a very significant change in both the economy and health of the nation in years to come.

It is expected that the Department of Defense will make its feeling known shortly with the existing possibility that cigarettes sold at Military Exchanges may bear a warning label. Base Medical authorities had no comment on the report when questioned by the GLOBE.

Phone Tampering Bad For Privilege

The 66 public pay stations scattered throughout the Camp Lejeune complex are owned, operated and maintained by Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, and are, by permission of the commanding general, installed for the convenience of the public.

Misuse or abuse of any apparatus or equipment associated with these pay stations will tend to restrict or deprive many people of a desirable convenience.

Tampering with pay phones is considered an act of vandalism and therefore, a felony.

Hospital Holds Items Waiting For Owners

The Chief Master at Arms, U. S. Naval Hospital, has reported a number of articles found on Hospital property. The articles, listed below, may be reclaimed by the owners at his office during working hours Monday through Friday.

Articles found are:

Two black leather gloves, ladies', not a pair
One transistor radio
One set of dog tags
One cigarette lighter
Two rings
One earring
One pair of eyeglasses
Two religious medals
Several sets of car keys
Assorted items of clothing

Owners are requested to reclaim these articles as soon as possible.

Finishing touches are being put into the new, proposed pay scales, which the defense department will submit to Congress now in its second session. Enlisted men, other than retirees and those with less than two years service are up for a 2.4 percent hike and officers are in for a straight three percent boost.

Under the proposed plans, raises would range from $2.64 to $56.25 a month. If passed, the raise would become effective this October.

However, due to other items before Congress with higher priority, little or no action is expected on the new pay plans during the present session.

The charts now under consideration by Pentagon officials deviate from the old pay system of rounding out the base pay to the nearest dollar. In the majority of cases, taxes and social security usually left a man with an uneven pay just the same.

See Page 3 for new proposed pay scale.

End Approaching For Korean GI Bill

Qualified veterans of the Korean Conflict have one year left to take advantage of the educational program under the Korean GI Bill.

The deadline for the program is January 31, 1965.

Eligible war orphans have no deadline except their own age. They may begin school at any time as long as they are between 18 and 23-years-of-age. In certain circumstances it is possible to begin before 18 and continue after 23.

HQ Board Meets To Select WO's

A board authorized to select 82 enlisted men and one enlisted woman, for promotion to warrant officer grade has convened at Headquarters Marine Corps.

The board, headed by Col. Elbert S. Maloney, is expected to be in session approximately one month. About 2500 Marines with over 10 years active duty have applied for appointment to W-1.

Board members include: Lt. Col. Charles H. Sullivan and Gordon H. Keller, Jr.; Maj. Richard E. Olderswald, David I. Carter, Gordon S. Murphy, Larry E. Van Deusen and Constance Baker; Capt. Otis P. Holman, Jr., Alex E. Fazekas, and Stephen J. Veno.

First Lt. James L. Steele is recorder and Chief Warrant Officer Robert G. Work is his assistant.

Selected will be appointed permanent warrant officers in the regular Marine Corps. They will not be required to attend the warrant officer screening course or the warrant officers basic course.

NEW YEAR — NEW COMPANY—With the birth of the new year a new letter company was born in the 2d Recon Bn. At informal ceremonies Lt. Col. B. H. Curwen, left, presents 1st Lt. J. I. Simson, company commander of the newly formed Co. "D" with the unit's guidon. Co. "D" became the fourth letter company of Recon Bn. Looking on, left to right, are: Lt. H. C. Rose, commanding officer, Co. "B"; Lt. A. H. Phillips, commanding officer, Co. "A"; and Lt. R. J. Sasek, commanding officer, H&S Co.

Unit With A 'Booming' History

Cannoneers Take Pride In Past

Col. R. M. Reichner
Regimental Commander

The 10th Marines celebrated their 46th anniversary yesterday and although the temperature was hovering around the freezing mark, the men of the artillery arm of the 2d Division welcomed their anniversary with a gala open house.

The 10th Marine Regiment was organized in 1918 from a Marine artillery battalion which had served in the landings at Vera Cruz. Although formed to support the Marine regiments of the American Expeditionary Force in France, the 10th Marines soon found itself performing the same sort of tasks that the battalion had done so well in Vera Cruz.

During the period of demobilization following World War I, the regiment was reorganized several times; but the unit nevertheless was able to participate in several major exercises. During 1926, members of the 10th served as mail guards to end the wave of thefts and armed robberies which had overwhelmed the postal service. The following year, however, the unit was withdrawn and assigned a mission not unlike that performed by the Marines at Vera Cruz.

The Chinese revolution was raging unchecked. As the battle neared the city of Shanghai, the United States became alarmed for the safety of the many Americans living there and dispatched an expeditionary force to protect them. The 10th Marines, a part of this force, arrived at Shanghai in May, 1927, and remained on duty there until October of the following year. Upon returning to the United States, the regiment began an intensive training program.

Routine training in the United States and at Culbra in the Caribbean occupied the regiment from 1928 through 1940. During this period, in 1933, the 10th was designated as part of the Fleet Marine Force and a .50 caliber machine gun (anti-aircraft) battery was added.

The start of World War II found the 10th in the process of reorganizing with its headquarters at San Diego. The regiment never saw action as a unit but its separate battalions supported Marines throughout the Pacific. At Guadalcanal, the artillery arm supported the first American counter-blow against the Japanese. The regiment also fought at Tarawa, the first of a series of operations which would carry the American flag across the Central Pacific to within striking distance of Japan. Saipan, Tinian, and Okinawa were the other World War II operations in which the regiment or its elements took part.

From the end of World War I until July 1946, the 10th Marines, as a part of the 2d Marine Division, took part in the occupation of Japan. When the Division returned to the States, the regiment returned with them and took station at Camp Lejeune. From that time until the present the 10th has remained at Camp Lejeune.

As the artillery regiment for the 2d Division, the 10th Marines have been called upon to provide artillery elements serving in the Mediterranean with the Sixth Fleet and also supplying cannoners for the various training exercises staged by the division. These exercises have been held along the Atlantic coastline and in Puerto Rico and in addition, artillery maneuvers have been conducted at Fort Bragg, N. C.

During the Lebanon crisis, in the summer of 1958, the 10th Marines supplied artillery support for Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade's 2d Provisional Marine Force. The unit was

Tactical Solutions Found Through Table-Top Wars

Mock wars between simulated enemies who use pencil and paper rather than actual weapons are constantly fought at the War Games Division of the Marine Corps Landing

Force Development Center
Quantico, Va.

"War Gaming" as it is called, gives a field commander the opportunity to evaluate the equipment, tactics, techniques and logistics that are proposed for the Marine Corps of the future.

The War Games Division is broken up into four groups; the Control Group, which umpires the games; Analysis group, doing mathematical research and assisting in the data analysis, and the Red and Blue teams who "fight" the simulated wars.

The Blue team represents the Marine Corps and the Red team is the "bad guys".

When the battle starts, it is given all the planning and thought that would go into an actual combat plan.

Both teams are in separate rooms throughout the war to insure that there is no contact between opposing forces.

In these rooms, team members check their maps, move their forces, equipment, plan attacks, counter attacks, ambushes, and make the decisions that will insure the success of the combat mission.

When the problem has been completed, the evaluation is made into a formal report and forwarded to the Director, Landing Force Development Center, who appraises and forwards the results to interested activities.

Using data acquired in actual combat and tests such as these, War Gaming provides answers to problems that could occur anytime.

Carson-Reno-Vegas Vets Ready Quantico Reunion

Marine and Navy veterans of the tenacious defense of Carson-Reno-Vegas Outposts in Korea during Mar. 26-30, 1953, will gather at Quantico, Va., March 28, to observe the eleventh anniversary of that event.

During that period the Chinese Communists launched an all out assault on the perimeter held by the 1st Marine Division. Only after savage hand-to-hand fighting did the enemy retire to his original positions sustaining heavy casualties.

According to LtCol. Robert F. Young, Reunion Coordinator, all Marine and Navy veterans, active and inactive, of that active of the 5th Marine Regiment (Reinforced) are invited to attend.

"We have held these get-togethers every year since that memorable event," explained Col. Young, "to renew friendships and to rekindle the spirit of dedication and teamwork which marked the efforts of all who took part."

All veterans of the Carson-Reno-Vegas action of March 26-30, 1953, are urged to contact LtCol. Robert F. Young, Junior School, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., for full particulars concerning the Quantico reunion.

1,001st Leap Ends '63 For ANGLICO

LCpl. Thomas H. Carter, Jr., and GySgt. Lonzo M. Barnett, Jr., closed out the old year for 2d ANGLICO, Force Troops, by making, in succession, the 1000th and 1001st parachute jump conducted by the company during 1963.

This was the 20-year-old LCpl.'s first parachute jump with the company since graduating from the U. S. Army Basic Airborne Course at Ft. Benning, Ga., on December 4.

GySgt. Barnett followed Carter with jump number 1001, making this his 126th parachute jump.

The 35-year-old Coleman, Texas, sergeant has jumped previously while serving with 1st Force Recon Co., 1st Marine Division and 2d Force Recon. Co., Force Troops, FMFLant.

Area Sojourners' Election Results In 6 New Officers

A joint installation of newly elected officers of Sojourner Chapters from Cherry Point, New River Air Facility and Camp Lejeune will be held at the Air Facility January 25, 7 p. m. in the Officer's Club.

The Camp Lejeune president to be installed for 1964 is Maj. J. J. Thomas, 1st, 2nd and 3rd vice-presidents, respectively, will be LtCols. P. P. Yezierski and C. R. Mann and Cdr. R. M. Tennille; the newly elected secretary is LCdr. E. Miller and CWO O. W. Bailey will be installed as treasurer.

The president of the National Sojourners for 1964 is retired Marine Brig. Gen. George O. VanOrden.

Camp Lejeune's sojourners, Chapter 329, is made up of commissioned and warrant officers (past and present) who are Master Masons who have served in regular or reserve units of the Armed Forces in peace or war.

The sojourners are dedicated to developing true patriotism and Americanism across the nation, to the bringing together of representatives of the uniformed services of the United States in a united effort to further military needs of national defense, and to oppose any influence whatsoever, calculated to weaken the national security.

The Camp Lejeune chapter annually sponsors an Americanism Essay Contest in the Camp Lejeune Junior-Senior High School.

The chapter meets on the fourth Thursday of each month at the Paradise Point Officers' Club and all interested warrant officers and commissioned officers who are Master Masons, are cordially invited to attend this dinner meeting.

Camp Recreation Interests Bragg

Six Army delegates from Ft. Bragg, N. C., recently visited Camp Lejeune to acquaint themselves with the recreational facilities available to Marines and dependents of the area.

Accompanied on their tour by Base Special Services Officer, Col. A. M. Wilkinson, the visitors viewed the area's recreational facilities, including Onslow Beach operations and the activities of the Youth Community facilities.

Pay Scale To Be Considered

[illegible]

HERE ARE THE PENTAGON'S proposed basic pay increases. The new figures, though unofficial, reflect the flat three percent hike planned for all officers and the 2.4 percent boost sought for enlisteds with over two years service. Where blank space follows to the right of a line of rates, the figure farthest right applies. Grades followed by letter "E" cover officers with over four year's EM service.

Teamwork Benefits All

As we move into the early stage of the new year it is not too late for each of us to make one more New Year's resolution. To make and to live up to this resolution would be a benefit to all — even to the individual Marine making it.

All of us should resolve to better our country, our service and ourselves by living and working more as a team and not as individuals. Men learned early that they could reach far greater achievements as a team than had they been reaching singly for the same goal.

Our nation was founded by men who lived, worked and fought as a team toward one common goal. During the course of the country's history Americans have always teamed up with other Americans to defeat our enemies.

The preservation of our individual rights and the strength of America is in the hands of its Armed Forces. The more we work together, individuals and units, the stronger we will be. When everyone pulls together for any single accomplishment, from the simplest to the most complex operation, there can be no weak links. Don't let yourself be one.

Chaplain's Corner

There are prerequisites to a Christian lending a helping hand to the sinful and fallen brother. It is as if I am drowning and help comes at the last moment. I yield to the power of the rescuer and am saved. I become immediately thankful to him and praise him for his care for me in a helpless condition. I ask, "What do I owe you for your gracious act?" He will respond, "Your life and it used to help save others in such helpless conditions."

We must know our Redeemer and appreciate what He has done for us before we can be of any worthwhile service to Him. The Christian must be standing upon the Solid Rock, on the shore of safety, ere he can turn to lend a strong arm of witness to a lost brother.

It is imperative that Christians be Good Samaritans as told in the tenth chapter of Luke's account of the good news of Christ. To be less is anti to good. We read in the Scriptures that Jesus had very little trouble with those who confessed openly to be sinners, sinful and needing help. His actions were quick and compassionate toward them. On the other hand He was wroth and judgmental to those who professed a form of religion, but neglected the primary purpose.

We cannot be pretending in our Christian attitudes and expect Christ to accept our help in His glorious task with humanity. We must be Christian and must be willing to be spent for His cause. Decide to be useful, but do it without expectation of returns.

You Are Ambassadors

American military men and their families traveling and living outside the United States, either on pleasure or assignment, owe a debt to their homeland and to those who have given their lives to protect it.

Friendly Americans abroad are probably the foremost battle line against unfavorable propaganda about the United States.

It's only spreading the truth to tell folks about America's freedoms — our free press, our freedom to work where we wish, to change jobs and addresses as we please, about our freedom to move from state to state without papers, to attend church when and where we like.

Perhaps the best way to explain America and Americans to other people is to tell them about life in your own community — the everyday things, both successes and shortcomings, the problems we are trying to solve.

Tell them the facts. Emphasize that there is stability, strength, good-heartedness and culture — a powerful, growing culture — which is inherited from all the other cultures of the world. Tell them in your own words, and speak of things you know.

Your smile to the waiter, the cabby, the train conductor appoints you Ambassador of Goodwill to the people.

Such small sincere gestures often go deeper into the hearts of our neighbors than professional diplomats are able to reach.

Club News

MONTFORD POINT STAFF NCO CLUB

Tomorrow night Happy Hours will run for the usual hour, 4:30 until 5:30 p.m. The Friday special, for only 75 cents, will be your choice of fillet of flounder or cream turkey with, of course, our popular free salad bar. Then, at 7:30 p.m., Miss Sara Cargill will be at her organ for four hours to play your favorites.

Saturday night, the management is pleased to announce the appearance of Jose Sapp and his band. This talented group will be on hand at 8:30 p.m., playing the latest tunes as your dine and dance by candlelight in the club's Blue Room. Sunday's steak day at the club, with a rib-eye dinner, and all the salad you can eat from our salad bar, for $1.10.

On Wednesday night there will be a special surprise extra. Come on out and see for yourself what it consists of.

COURTHOUSE BAY STAFF NCO CLUB

Tomorrow night Happy Hours will run from 4 to 6 p.m., included will be free bar snacks.

The special for Sunday will be rib-eye steaks, with all the trimmings for $1.00. You can help yourself at our free salad bar. If you're planning any parties there are some open nights on the club calendar, contact the manager for additional information concerning our Party Package Plan.

PARADISE POINT OFFICERS' CLUB

Our Family Night Specials will be running this Thursday night. Featured for the evening will be Sizzling Chopped Beef Steak, adult plates for $1 and children's plates for $.60, and Veal Cutlets with Mushroom Sauce for $1.50. Our dining room opens at 6 p.m.

Happy Hours Friday will go from 4 to 6:30 p.m. with music by Mrs. Sullivan. Dine and Dance to the music of the "Swingsters" this evening and enjoy the Dinner Specials, Crab Cakes with French Fries, Cole Slaw, Tartar Sauce, Hush Puppies, Vegetables and Dessert for $1.65, plus our regular menu.

Dine and Dance Saturday to the music of the "G" Club Band. The evening's special will be a New York Strip Steak (12 oz.) for two complete dinners for just $7.50. Consult your club bulletin for Brunch, Smorgasbord and "Jam Session" schedules.

Ala Carte Menu Monday. Tuesday's Special will be Meat Loaf with Vegetable, Dessert (complete dinner) for just $1.

HADNOT POINT STAFF NCO CLUB

Start off the weekend at the club with our big "Happy Hour" right after work. Later on in the evening the "Williams Quintet" will appear to brighten up your evening with some good dance music. As an extra added attraction, the mysterious Novak will be on hand to astound you all with his magic and wizardry. Novak is an amazing escape artist, slight of hand expert, and in general, an all-around entertainment treat. Admission of course is free for all.

Saturday we bring back Andy Owens and his ever popular "Tremolos." Andy brings out the magic of his Hammond Organ from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Come early and stay late. As a further treat, this Sunday we are proud to present for the first time, Paul Peek and the "Peek-a-Boos." Paul and the gang will bring you some terrific music from 8 until midnight. Let's all come out to give the boys a good welcome. To help welcome them aboard, our dining room will feature Hot Roast Beef Dinners for only $1.00. Of course there will be a child's plate for 50c too.

Don't forget Friday, January 24, the "Trot Spots" will be at the club with an all new show and dance. Admission is free. Be on hand to listen and dance to the tunes you all remember and love.

JACKSONVILLE--The weekend movies for the Jacksonville USO will be "Blue Hawaii" and "They Were Expendable."

Elvis Presley stars in "Blue Hawaii", and, as usual, is up to his neck in finger-snapping song, surfboards and beautiful women. Elvis comes home to Hawaii from the Army, and turns down a cushy job with his father's pineapple factory to strike out on his own. Elvis becomes a surfer and a tourist guide and is in and out of trouble constantly with his beautiful customers.

"They Were Expendable" stars John Wayne, Ward Bond, Cameron Mitchell and Robert Montgomery. "Expendable" is a tribute to the Navy's PT Boat crewmen who confounded the Japanese Navy in the Pacific during World War II.

This Sunday at 4 p. m., we again invite you to attend our Hospitality Hour at the USO, sponsored this week by the Protestant Womens' Guild. We also offer free coffee and doughnuts each Sunday at 10 a. m.

Ask about our shower facilities and the new full-length lockers we now have available at the USO.

Starting time for the weekend movies are as follows: Friday at 6:30 p. m., Saturday, 1 p. m., and Sunday at 12:00 noon.

AT C.T.

We erroneously published last week that Jose Greco and his Spanish Dance Troupe would appear at the Goettge Memorial Field House Jan. 22, 8:30 p.m.

The time and date remain the same, but Greco will appear at the Camp Theater instead of the Field House.

Field Practice For Stewards

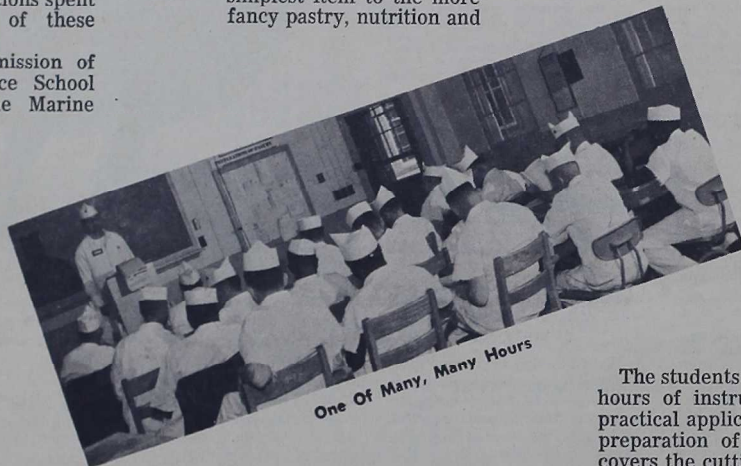

Beginning early in life, eating three meals a day becomes quite a habit throughout a man's life. Marines are known the world over for their hearty appetites but little do they realize the few minutes they spend eating their three meals a day are only a small fraction of the hours of classroom and practical instructions spent in preparation of these meals.

This is the mission of the Food Service School Company of the Marine mess operation in the Marine Corps, both in garrison and in the field.

Running 430 hours over a period of 13 weeks, the food service course includes basic mathematics, mess operations and administration; food preparation, processing and butchering of the various types of meats, baking from the simplest item to the more fancy pastry, nutrition and their duties under the consolidated mess system, personal hygiene and mess sanitation, causes and prevention of food poisoning, safety rules and precautions in mess operation, the Marine Corps recipe manual, and the proper procedures for increasing or decreasing recipes.

One Of Many, Many Hours

Corps Supply Schools located at Montford Point, Camp Lejeune, N. C. For a man to pass through the three courses (Food Service, Baker, Steward) of the Food Service School, he must apply himself to 1,326 hours of instructions in 39 weeks.

Food Service Course

The main course of the school is the Food Service Course. This is designed to cover the fundamentals and basic principles of menu planning; the various techniques of cookery and the operation of a field mess.

Instructions in the garrison mess operation phase give the students a comprehensive understanding of the organization of the food service program,

The students receive 245 hours of instructions and practical application in the preparation of food. This covers the cutting and caring for meats, menu construction and portion control, the baking phase to include yeast leavened products, quick breads and pastries.

The Bakers Course

Corps bakers fill billets in the bakeries of large garrisons (such as Camp Lejeune), in general messes as pastry bakers or in bakery platoons in support of Fleet Marine Force units in the field. Even the bakers may be found frequently roughing it along side their infantry comrades.

In the 12 weeks that it takes a bakery student to complete his 408 hours of instructions, he will learn the techniques and methods employed in the actual making of bread and pastry items. He will learn that the science of baking is very exacting.

During his course of instruction the bakery student must gain a thorough understanding of the functions of baking ingredients because identical ingredients used in the manufacture of bakery products do not possess the identical characteristics when procured from different sources. He will also learn to appreciate the variety of bakery items that can be made in an attempt to eliminate unnecessary repetition.

The longest phase of the baker's course is the instruction in bakery technology. This gives the student an understanding of the basic fundamentals of the baking field, organization and administration of a bakery and the practical application in baking bread and pastries and the conducting of experiments with various ingredients to learn their reactions.

One hundred and 67 hours of the course are devoted to teaching the operation and functioning of a field bakery. This adds a little "spice" to the students' learning as they begin using improvised baking equipment, and field ingredients.

When stock is taken at the end of a meal to count the number of cakes, cookies, pies or other pastry items left over, the bakers have less to count, thus telling them their time in school and on the job has not been in vain.

In addition to learning to perform these duties in quarters, 1 x 1 stewards course familiarizes the student with the operation of an officers' mess room.

Camp Perry Schedule Set; MI's Out For Marines

The schedule for the 1964 National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, has been announced recently. These matches, beginning July 31 and ending August 30, attract the top military and civilian marksmen in the United States.

One of the biggest changes from last year will be in the National Trophy Rifle Matches. All Regular Service, National Guard, and Reserve personnel competing in this match will be required to fire the M14 rifle. Prior to this year they have shot the M1. Civilian shooters competing in matches which require the service rifle may fire either the M1 or M14.

The schedule for the 1964 matches is:

July 31-Aug. 2--Small Arms Firing School (Pistol). Aug. 3--Pistol Preliminary Matches. Aug. 4-6--Pistol Individual Matches. Aug. 7--Pistol Team Matches. Aug. 8--National Trophy Pistol Matches. Aug. 9-14--NRA Instructor--Junior School. Aug. 9--Smallbore Rifle Practice. Aug. 10-13--Smallbore Rifle Individual Matches. Aug. 14--Smallbore Rifle Team Matches. Aug. 16-19--Small Arms Firing School (Rifle). Aug. 20--High Power Preliminary Matches. Aug. 21-25--High Power Rifle Individual Matches. Aug. 26-27--National Trophy Individual Rifle Match. Aug. 27-28--High Power Rifle NRA Team Matches. Aug. 29--National Trophy Rifle Team Match. Aug. 30--National Trophy Infantry Team Match.

Entries for the matches are as follows:

Pistol--July 15. Smallbore Rifle--July 25. High Power Rifle--Aug. 1.

Marine entrants in the National Matches are screened through Regional Division Matches (Eastern, Western, and Pacific).

The shooters who place in the Division Matches are eligible to compete in the Marine Corps Rifle and Pistol Matches. National Match competitors are chosen on the basis of their performance in the Marine Corps Matches.

Last year both the Eastern Division and Marine Corps Matches were held at Camp Lejeune.

1. What major league baseball player took part in the most regular-season games in one year?
2. Who holds the big league fielding record for shortstops?
3. Dick Groat, the St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, was also a great basketball player. Where did he play college and pro basketball?
4. In the early 1940s, the Detroit Tigers signed a college baseball star for over $50,000 making him the first of the big "bonus babies." Who is he?
5. Mickey Mantle is known best for his outfielding. What other positions has he played since he came to the major leagues?

(Answers to Quiz)

1. Maury Wills. He played 165 games in the 1962 season for the Dodgers, three more than regular season because of the playoff with the Giants.
2. Ernie Banks.
3. Duke, Ft. Wayne (now Detroit) Pistons.
4. Dick Wakefield.
5. Shortstop, second and third.

Our apologies to the Wake Forest followers and alumni for last week's mistake in the "Sport Quiz".

The quiz said Wake Forest was the only major college not to win a game in 1963. Actually Wake Forest beat South Carolina 20-19.

Thanks again to the many people who showed interest in the column by calling our attention to this error.

Local Boxers Win 4 Over Bolling AFB

The Camp Lejeune boxing team battled their way to four wins in seven matches against the champion laden Bolling Air Force Base fighters, although head. However he started too late, and Mercedes got the fight on a unanimous decision. Smith was All-Air Force champion in '59, '62, and '63, and Junior probably the smoothest and most ring wise fighter on Lejeune's team, soon began pulling ahead, and was hitting Harris like he owned him in the third round.

W. B. McMullen turned the tide for the Air Force when he defeated Camp Lejeune's Excel Calhoun on a technical knockout in two minutes and 13 seconds of the third round. McMullen used his extremely long reach to hold Calhoun back, scoring well with a 1-o-n-g left jab, and then in the final round McMullen opened up with a savage attack that completely belied his rather frail looking physique. McMullen is well over 6' tall and fights at 156 pounds. He was All-Air Force champion in '61 and '62.

Fred Burris, All-Air Force champ for the past two years beat Carlos Tapia unanimously in the 165 pound bout. Tapia held his own in the first round, but Burris got the edge in the middle round, and pulled way ahead in the third. Tapia fought back gamely and showed a lot of heart in the third round, when he absorbed a tremendous amount of punishment, but kept coming back.

Art Redden of Camp Lejeune fighting at 178 pounds, beat G. O. McCorkle, mostly on enthusiasm (and a strong left arm) when he used the formula for the night of coming out strong and pressing all the way. Mc-on paper the airmen should have dominated the bouts.

The Marines, with only one big thing going for them, were for the most part sadly lacking in experience compared to Bolling, a team with a generous sprinkling of Interservice, Air Force, AAU and Junior AAU champions. They had been working out since October, while Bolling had only been training for about a month.

Taking advantage of their superior physical condition, the locals came out strong with the opening bell and pressed as hard as possible throughout the fight.

Mighty "Mouse" Mercedes, Lejeune's 112 pound ring representative, took his third win in three fights when he beat Howard Smith on a decision.

Mercedes came out fast in the opening round and started piling up points with combinations which opened up Smith for hard right crosses and hooks. Smith recovered late in the round and got in a few good shots.

In the second round Mercedes connected a lot with a left jab to the head and ripping hooks to the body of Smith. Smith countered, getting in some left hooks, but nothing that did much damage.

Smith's experience began showing in the third round when he began landing heavy with jarring hooks to the midsection of Mercedes, along with a generous assortment of shots to the AAU champ in '62. Mercedes began fighting this year.

Bill Verdler, fighting at 139 pounds, belted his way to a split-decision victory over H. R. Braxton '62 All-Air Force, and AAU champion in a three-round slug-fest. Both men landed heavy in the bout, and some of the hottest exchanges of the evening occurred in this fight. John Davis made it three in a row for the Marines with his decision over hard-hitting Jody Harris. Harris looked like bad news early in the first round as he landed punches with devastating power, but Davis, Corkle, another All-Air Force and AAU champ was the better boxer, but Redden's explosive left hand punches kept him slowed down and wary, and the Airman didn't take command until the final round. This is the second win in two fights for Art Redden.

If you ever come across a short pudgy man with an Archie Moore type goatee, and if he says his name is Bob Pettigrew, be friends with him. He's the heavyweight fighter for Bethesda, and he's BAD.

His style of fighting consists of charging through the fighters defenses like a bowling ball through the pins, then lashing out with punches so strong and savage, you couldn't believe it without seeing it.

That's how he TKO'd young Charlie Dwyer of Camp Lejeune in 1:10 of the second round. Dwyer had been down twice before the referee stopped the fight.

Lejeune's Percy Price was originally slated to go against Pettigrew, but Price declined to fight, feeling that he wasn't in fighting shape yet.

Basketball Tonight; Lejeune Vs. Ft. Dix

The Camp Lejeune basketball team will play the Ft. Dix "Burros" at Goettge Memorial Field House tonight at 8 p. m. to finish the last half of the two game engagement here.

Due to cancellation of the game against the Ft. Devens "Hornets" this will be the last home game for the Marine quintet until January 28, when they go up against a red-hot Ft. Eustis team. The Devens game, scheduled for January 23, was called off because Ft. Devens dropped out of the East Coast Interservice Conference.

In last weeks action the Marines broke the century barrier for the first time this season when they annihilated the Ft. Meade "Generals" 103-55. In support of the cliché that "you can't win 'em all" the Marines dropped their next game, against Ft. Lee, 95-83.

Fort Meade

In the 103-55 win over Ft. Meade, the Marines had no trouble at all. They led 55-32 at half time, and the second team played nearly all of the second half.

Charlie Dennis paced the Marine attack with 17 points. Almost everyone broke into the scoring column. Scoring was as follows:

over Camp Lejeune, with 36 point. Lee proved deadly on a jump shot from 30-40 feet out. Strouth of Ft. Lee gathered 27 points, hitting with seven free throws in seven attempts.

High for the Marines was Joe Gallagher with 25 points, followed by Charlie Dennis with 24. Bill Jenkins was the only other Marines scoring in the double figures. He collected 14.

Skeet Team Wins Again

The Camp Lejeune Skeet Team went to another shooting match. As usual, they came back with a truck load of trophies.

At the Mid Winter Skeet Tournament held at Pinehurst, N. C., January 10-12 the Marines shooting as a team and as individuals brought back 11 first place trophies and four runner-up awards.

Major Ziegler emerged as overall champion in the shoot with a total 377x400, based on aggregate scores with the .410 bore, 28, 20, and 12 gauge shotguns.

Team championships taken by Marines include: Two Man Team, .410 bore; Two Man Team, 20 gauge; Five Man Team, 20 gauge; Two Man Team, 20 gauge; Two Man Team 12 Gauge; Two Man 12 Gauge, Class AA, Five Man Team, 12 Gauge. The two man 28 gauge team was runner-up.

In individual competition Maj. Ziegler took second in Class AA, 28 gauge and was champion in 20 gauge. The Class D 12 gauge and 20 gauge championships were taken by Lt. Cdr. Vrieze. MGySgt. Mull was runner up in the 12 gauge match, GySgt. Hicks won the Class AA, 12 Gauge championship, and SSgt. Roberts was second in the Class AA, 12 gauge event.

The skeet team has shot in several big matches since last fall, and has brought home more than their share of trophies in all of them.

The 19th Hole

By BOB SPENCER

The fact that so many average players have difficulty playing in the wind doesn't surprise me. Most of the players on the PGA tour have trouble on windy days too. The basic reason for this is that there is a tendency to swing a little harder and they try to fight the wind.

What you want to do is swing more easily than you normally would. You also want to keep the ball low enough to avoid the stronger winds that blow higher in the air.

To do this, I suggest the following when confronted by a strong headwind:

(1) Address the ball a little more toward the right foot than you normally would. This is done to assure striking the ball first on the downswing.

(2) You should take two more clubs than you normally would. If the shot calls for an eight-iron, use a six-iron.

(3) Choke up on the club about two inches and swing a little more easily than you would for a normal full shot. The object of choking up on the grip is to reduce the arc of the swing. This enables you to take a less lofted club and keep the ball lower against the wind.

(4) You should follow through with your shot to the point where the hands are just a few inches above the left hip.

These four points have helped me considerably in playing wind shots.

Div. Volleyball To Begin Jan. 21

Beginning April 8, an all-star team chosen from the 12 teams of the Intramural Tournament will play in the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Tournament at Cherry Point, N. C.

Tuesday, January 21, the top rated 1st Battalion, 6th Marines takes on 2d Antitank Battalion, in the 2d Marines Area Gym at 4:30 p. m. On the same slate an hour later, the 3d Battalion, 6th Marines will meet Headquarters Company 2d Marines. The third stanza begins at 6:30, when the 2d Engineer Battalion plays the 3d Battalion, 10th Marines.

Plenty of action is in store for all volleyball fans as the 2d Marine Division Intramural Volleyball Tournament gets underway.

Water Sports

By C. C. THOMAS

The Sea Urchins are starting bright and early to be ready for the diving season, which usually begins around April. Their immediate need is people who would like to be trained as Coxswains for their 32 foot boat the "Sea Urchin". Previous experience is not necessary, nor do you have to be a SCUBA diver. Interested personnel must contact Capt. Thomas by Tuesday, January 21. Phone 7-3208 or 6-6307.

Due to feast or famine winds, the Camp Lejeune sailors have not had a race in the Frobbite Series. Therefore, anyone interested in entering will be eligible for the series trophy. Boat drawing is every Saturday from 9:00 a. m. until race time at 1:30. Wallace Creek Boat House. For more information contact Mrs. Kraus at extension 6-6255.

Know Your Team

Bill Gross In Action

Bill Gross, a veteran of three years with the Camp Lejeune basketball team is a man who has been close to sports all his life.

He says that from the rear window of his home in Baltimore, Md., he could see a football field and baseball diamond. In his neighborhood everyone played at least one of the major sports, and most of the boys learned to figure batting averages long before they studied percentages in school.

Gross, 6' 2", and 22-years-old, played high school ball at Dunbar High, in Baltimore, where he lettered two years. He also lettered two years playing third base on the schools baseball team.

Coach Joe Walsh sizes Gross up as a man with "a lot of natural ability." He hustles and scraps particularly well, and gets a lot of rebounds. Bill is fast, in good shape, and has a lot of desire.

Several other coaches feel that Gross has a lot of ability. He has been offered scholarships by North Carolina College, Morgan State College (Baltimore) and Virginia University.

Gross likes to shoot a jump shot from the corner, but picks up many points under the boards, shooting after taking a rebound.

HIGH ORGANIZATIONAL TEAM—Maj. Gen. William J. ## Fish Permits End; Outdoor Admin. Problems Arise

With the new year well under way, and the holiday activity over, it's time to consider a couple of annual administrative details that confront the North Carolina outdoorsman.

For openers you should check your fishing license. If you have a state or county license you should get a new one before you do any fresh water fishing. The old ones expired December 31.

If you have a combination hunting and fishing license you're clear until July 31.

It's also time to think about renewing the registration on your boat if it's required under the specifications of the Motorboat Safety Act of 1961. Renewal notices have been sent out by the state to all persons registered in North Carolina in 1963.

Hunting season is now closed for deer, bear, wild boar, ducks, coots, snipe, woodcock and geese. Most other seasons extend to February 15th.

Local Swim Team Downs Parris Is.

The "Devilfish", the Camp Lejeune dependent's swimming team, coached by Jack Hayes, downed the Parris Island dependent team last Saturday.

Twenty Camp Lejeune dependents won first places in the meet.

Tryouts are still being held in the Area five pool each Saturday at 9 a. m. Coach Jack Hayes, a former Canadian amateur swimming star, is eager to teach competitive swimming to any youngster who is willing to work hard at the sport.

Col. Gets 2 Deer With One Shot;

Reno, Nev.--Col. Phillip Loofburrow of Stead AFB will debate anyone who says you can't kill two birds with one stone.

While hunting in Elko County the Colonel sighted four deer darting into the brush. He took aim from 400 yards away with his 3006 and fired one round. Two deer fled.

The Colonel rushed to the brush and found the other two dead--both hit in the head with a single bullet.

Double Role As Leader Earns Bandsman Mast

Marine Lance Cpl. William J. M. Arnold, Headquarters Company, Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Camp Lejeune, N. C., was recently presented a Meritorious Mast by 1st Lt. H. M. Vann, III, Company Executive Officer.

The Meritorious Mast, presented on behalf of Col. G. W. Killen, Commanding Officer, Marine Barracks, U. S. Naval Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, was awarded "for outstanding performance of duty in connection with the Marine Barracks Drum and Bugle Corps and other duties in support of the Marine Barracks mission."

The Meritorious Mast read in part: "Since July 1962, you have performed duties as field music for this Barracks. You have contributed valuable service to the small but effective Drum and Bugle Corps at this command. Many times during your tour of duty the Drum and Bugle Corps has lost most of its personnel due to transfer, and the responsibility rested with you to form and train a new Drum and Bugle Corps. You have managed to do this with a minimum of supervision and financial support. In addition to your duties with the Drum and Bugle Corps, you have trained yourself in the communication field and have performed a valuable service in support of the ground defense mission of this command."

"Your personal conduct has been excellent, your desire to accept responsibility and advance in the Marine Corps is worthy of note. It is my pleasure to commend you for your exceptional performance of duty."

FIELD RECOGNITION—Sgt. James E. Woodruff, Jr., Hq. Btry, 1st Bn., 10th Marines, is congratulated by Lt. Col. C. S. Kirchmann as he is presented a Meritorious Mast during ceremonies at Camp Lejeune Dec. 12.

MARINE CORPS BASE:

Sgt. James T. Handrinos completed MCI 30.5a, MC Stock List.

the career advisors of the 10th Marines.

During the past year these five, two staff sergeants and three sergeants, have gone all-out for their career advisory program. They have had the regimental area well saturated with billboards, charts, graphs and other types of literature on the career advisory program.

During the past year the 10th Marines has won the Commanding General's Career Advisory Trophy, three out of four times. The trophy is awarded quarterly to the regiment, or separate battalion, that has had an outstanding record in the career advisory program for that quarter.

They attribute their success largely to the fact that they seem high, but it is above that Headquarters Marine Corps desires for first-term reenlistments.

10th Marines Career Advisory NCO's not only handle reenlistments, they also handle the regiment's educational requirements, such as GED tests, USAFI, and MCI courses. By handling the educational requirements of the regiment, the Career Advisory NCO takes a heavy load off the junior officers within the regiment.

The regiment's enlisted CA's include: SSgt. Arthur I. Littlefield, at the regimental level; Sgt. Claude E. Heldreth, 1st Bn; Sgt. Manuel Frias, Jr., 2d Bn; Sgt. Daniel D. Barth, 3d Bn; and SSgt. Wallace D. Lloyd, 4th Bn.

Activities Calendar

Ladies' Golf

The Ladies Golf Association meets every Tuesday morning at 9 a. m. at the Paradise Point Golf Club. All ladies, "Duffers or Pros", are invited to join the group.

During the month of November a Low Net Tournament was played. The winners were: Edna Kinder, Juliette McDonough, Della Koylades, Beth Tucker, Martha Shifflett, Emalyn Eddy and Genie June. Beautiful prizes of pewter were presented to the winners.

Merchandise certificates at the Pro-Shop were given to Edna Kinder, Katie Roberts, Beth Tucker, Emalyn Eddy and V1 Johns for their skill on the fairway in the Ringer Tournament.

The next monthly meeting will be held February 4th at 9 a. m. at the Golf Club.

Group V, OWC

Group V of the OWC will hold a brunch at the Paradise Point Officers' Club, on Friday, January 17. The program will feature a Chinese auction. Consult the newsletter to make reservations.

Exercise Classes

New Exercise Classes...We will resume this very popular activity on Monday, January 20 at 1:30 p. m. We have a most qualified instructor for our physical fitness group.

After the exercise session we will play volleyball, safe-to-play hockey and many other games.

You will also find exercise mats available at the Auditorium.

Instructor Needed

Instructor Needed...We would like to start our speed-writing class which was delayed due to Mrs. Tolliver's departure.

We would like to find another instructor for this class; books and records are available to assist with these instructions. Please contact Mrs. Wells (0-1305).

Pinochle Group

Pinochle Group Forming...Some of our pinochle players would like to meet some new partners, so anyone interested in playing cards will find an anxious group waiting on Monday between the hours of 11:00 p. m. and 1:30 p. m.

Local ECC Teacher Wins Prizes On 'Concentration'

Christine Myers, shorthand instructor at the East Carolina College Resident Center at Camp Lejeune, was a big winner during a recent six-day reign as champion on a National Broadcasting Company quiz program.

Mrs. Myers, known around the base as the chic blonde instructor in Shorthand 114, on Tuesday and Thursday nights, brought home a total of 34 prizes from NBC's "Concentration," daily half-hour morning program whose quizmaster is Hugh Downs. She first appeared on the program on Wednesday, Dec. 18, and was declared the winner on consecutive shows through Friday, Dec. 27.

Mrs. Myers, a member of East Carolina's regular campus faculty in Greenville, is married to Bob L. Myers, also an EC faculty member. She is a native of Miller's Creek in Wilkes County (N. C.) and is a graduate of Appalachian State Teachers College (BS) and the University of Kentucky (MA).

Navy Relief Aux. Plans February Training Course

Camp Lejeune's Navy Relief Auxiliary has announced a proposed training course for the month of February to include a series of eight lectures by Field Representative, Miss Francina Stonesifer, from Navy Relief Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

The classes will be conducted in the Marston Pavilion from 9 to 12 a. m. each Tuesday and Thursday beginning Feb. 4. This course is designed to prepare volunteers for their useful and constructive work in the Camp Lejeune Auxiliary.

The scheduled lectures cover many aspects of the service way of life and will be of value to all service wives. Everyone is urged to attend the classes and all interested parties are requested to contact: Mrs. Enke 6-6632, Mrs. Humphries 6-6110, Mrs. Junger 6-6468, Mrs. Knapp 6-6227 or Mrs. Kunkle 6-6898.

Free sitting service for those attending the classes will be available at the Tarawa Terrace and Paradise Point nurseries.

Prior to her joining the staff of the Navy Relief Society in Feb. 1961, Miss Stonesifer served as an officer in the Navy. She shared her last service assignment, Enlisted Personnel Officer, Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Florida, with her Navy Relief duties as Treasurer of the local Navy Relief Auxiliary.

She is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, majoring in sociology and journalism and is continuing her military service as a member of the Naval Reserve.

Recipe Of The Week

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

1/2 lb. beef suet, grated
1 jar (4 oz.) candied citron
1 jar (4 oz.) candied orange peel
1 jar (4 oz.) candied lemon peel
2-1/2 cups pared, chopped apples (3 medium)
5 egg yolks, beaten
1-1/3 cups granulated sugar
1 cup light molasses

1/4 cup brandy
1/4 cup cinnamon
1 tablespoon ground cloves
1 tablespoon ground ginger
1 tablespoon salt
3/4 teaspoon baking soda
4 cups day-old fine bread crumbs*

2-1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1-1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1. Grease well two 1-1/2 quart molds, or one 3-quart mold, with tight fitting covers.
2. In large bowl, combine all ingredients except bread crumbs and flours; mix well.
3. Combine crumbs and flours; add to fruit mixture; blend thoroughly.
4. Turn batter into molds; cover.
5. Place each mold on a trivet in a large kettle. Pour in enough boiling water to come halfway up side of mold. Cover kettle.
6. Over low heat, steam puddings 3 or 4 hours (depending on size). Water in kettle should boil gently; add more water as needed.
7. Remove puddings to wire rack; lift off covers. Let cool 5 minutes. Run small spatula around edge of each mold; invert on serving plate; lift off mold.
8. Serve pudding with hard sauce or brandy sauce, as desired.

Makes 20 servings.
*To make crumbs: Place untrimmed bread in electric blender; blend to make fine crumbs. Or grate bread on hand grater.

History of Communism

Leninism Imbedded In The Russian Mind

(Tenth in a series of 20 articles entitled The History of Communism, by MSgt. Walter M. Stewart, USMC. Reprinted by AFPS from the San Diego Chevron, Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.)

Although the Communist Party had made tremendous gains (in membership) in most of Western Europe during WWII, they rapidly lost strength during the post-war era. This apparently was due to lack of support from Russia (Stalin's hands-off agreement and/or his dedication to consolidation of Eastern European gains), since the then existent chaos of rebuilding economics made it a ripe plum for ideological revolution.

Further, a post-war return to strict Leninism (as opposed to nationalism) within Russia turned the party line to international conflict with capitalism, thus destroying the party's wartime rapport with other factions.

Using the subterfuge of "free elections" Stalin set about firming up his gains. The return to Leninism (within Russia proper) was designed to get the party "back on course" after it had been sidetracked by war-necessitated expedients. The satellite nations experienced the collectivization of farms and the nationalization of industry, but only in small, steady doses.

For this period of new satellite transition, Russia maintained two Iron Curtains: one around its new possessions to keep them from comparing their lives with those of capitalistic pursuits, and another to keep Russians from seeing how much better was the lot of the satellites. The two-curtain system is still in effect, to some extent.

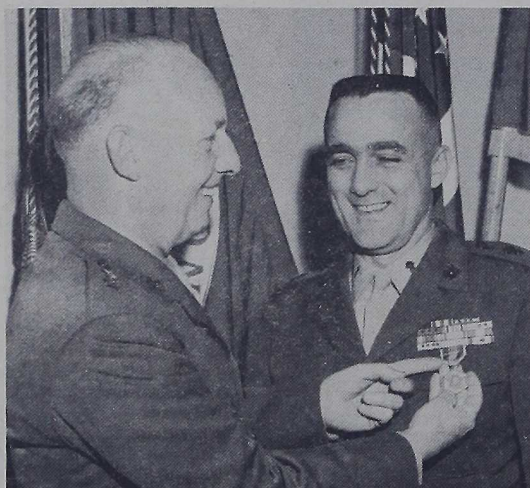

These Iron Curtains still exist. "Complete" sovietization has not yet been completed.

As long as there are people who remember pre-Communist China, there will be debate on what caused its loss to the Reds. There are, with infinite variations, three theses: Yalta concessions, subsequent U. S. Diplomatic error, and lack of support for Chiang Kai-shek. A fourth apology might be that the communists "didn't play fair" but that thesis would seem juvenile.

Not enough time has passed for history to have made a clear evaluation but, at this point, the answer would seem to be that all three factors were prime contributors (The history and growth of communism in China and other major nations of the world will be the subject of an upcoming installment). At any rate China, with its 600 million people, was lost to the Free World by 1949.

Next week: Khrushchev Emerges.

INTERSERVICE PRESENTATION—The Army Commendation Medal was awarded to CWO Lawrence V. Sheridan, from the Secretary of the Army by Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, Base commanding general. CWO Sheridan now a Base Brig Officer, was awarded the medal for his meritorious service to the U. S. Army while a Military Advisor to the Armed Forces of Haiti in the recent time of crisis.

Future Of Draft Law Under DOD Scrutiny

A thorough study of the present draft law is being conducted to determine how the draft can best meet the nation's military manpower requirements. The present law expires in 1967.

The study, which was stepped up in September, is under the direction of William Gorham, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Studies and Requirements.

Mr. Gorham said that voluntary enlistments alone cannot meet military manpower needs.

Mr. Gorham noted that some type of draft is necessary with some 2.7 million men in the Armed Forces and the need of

Civil Service Test

Open Until Jan. 20

The Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at MCB, has announced examinations for Stenographer, Typist, and Clerk, GS-3. The entrance salary is $3,880 per annum.

Full information and application forms may be obtained from the Executive Secretary of the above Board or any Post Office.

Application Card Form 5000-AB will be accepted until the close of business January 20, 1964.

A 'Jumping' Organization

Cpl. Joins Century Club With One-Hundreth Leap; Membership Stands At 24

Twenty-one year-old Force Recon Marine qualifies for exclusive Century Club.

Cpl. Russell V. Fugler of 2d Force Recon. Co., became a member of the Century Club after completing his 100th parachute jump last month.

The Century Club was started at Force Recon in 1960 and now has 24 members who have completed 100 jumps while with the company.

Since joining 2d Force Recon in May 1960, Fugler has successfully completed the four week U. S. Army Basic Airborne Course at Ft. Benning, Ga., four weeks scuba training at the U. S. Naval Underwater School at Key West, Fla., and two weeks of training with Recon Co. in the Mountain Leadership School at Bridgeport, Calif.

He has also studied hydrographic surveys, beach reconnaissance and rubber boat work at the Landing Force Training Unit, Little Creek, Va., and qualified as a Jumpmaster while with the company.

During his tour of duty with 2d Force Recon, Fugler has parachuted into Italy; St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; Spain; Africa; Brazil and Puerto Rico.

Maps Of Civil War

Offered Servicemen

Members of the Armed Forces who are Civil War buffs or serious students of military history can now obtain reproductions of many original field surveys and manuscript maps made by the Coast Survey from 1861 to 1865.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, the Coast Survey, later to become the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, was the only technical agency outside of the Armed Forces with an organized and effective field mapping force and map-making plant. The Coast Survey became virtually a technical arm of the Union forces.

A group of these maps, filed away for a century and seldom seen by the public, have been reproduced in black and white and are now on sale by the Government Printing Office for $5 per set of 20 maps and sketches.

Send check or money order to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402.

2d Force Recon Seeks Members

For those personnel interested in becoming members of Force Troop's 2d Force Recon Co., contact the company's first sergeant at 0-1293 or the executive officer at ext. 0-1261.

Credit Union Slates Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Marine Federal Credit Union's board members will be held next Thursday, Jan. 23 at 11 a.m. in the Conference Room of Bldg. 1.

Movie Tells Story Of Medal Of Honor

The story of the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for gallantry in action, is told in "Beyond the Call," a new 20-minute Department of Defense film released to service audiences.

The film is dedicated to the 3,156 officers and men of the Armed Forces who have won the Medal of Honor since it was instituted more than one hundred years ago.

It tells the stories of some of the people who have won the coveted award.

The film was produced by the Directorate for Armed Forces Information and Education, Department of Defense.
