CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1964

NO. 2

General Wallace M. Greene, Jr.

Gen. Greene New CMC As Gen. Shoup Retires

General David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps for the last four years, said farewell on January 1, 1964, in retirement ceremonies ending his military career.

Gen. Shoup turned the command over to Lt. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Jr., who was sworn in at the same time.

CMC Message

The hard work and loyal response of Marines everywhere to the farsighted leadership of General David M. Shoup have brought the Marine Corps to new heights in combat power and readiness. My main objective today as I assume the honored office of Commandant is to assure you of my support and to ask for yours so that together we can keep our Corps on the move.—Wallace M. Greene, Jr., General, U. S. Marine Corps.

The retiring Commandant said he was leaving much undone but said "the plow is scouring well now," apparently meaning the Corps is operating efficiently.

Gen. Greene, a native of Burlington, Vt., and a 1930 graduate of Annapolis will serve as Marine Corps Commandant for a four year term.

One of Gen. Greene's first actions as Commandant is an 11 day tour of Marine units in the Pacific.

According to a Marine Headquarters spokesman, the purpose of the trip is to visit

Marine units and installations in Hawaii, Japan, Okinawa, and Vietnam, and to obtain on-site knowledge of the military situation in Vietnam.

Also included in General Greene's itinerary are stops at Wake Island and the Philippines.

He will stop over in Hawaii January 13 and 14 on his return to Washington, D. C.

Leader Use Of Sep. Pay Gaining Top Level Support

Valuable sources from Washington indicate that a consideration of the new separation allowances for servicemen on short over-tours may have gained a top level support from press.

A service-wide query has been placed with the Comptroller General asking if it is proper to pay the allowance to members who voluntarily leave their families home and take short tours unaccompanied. The question is still awaiting answer with thousands of servicemen standing to benefit if decision is affirmative.

While the services are waiting the Honorable Rep. L. Daniel Rivers, (Dem., S. C.), reportedly given his support to the broader policy on payment of the allowance. In a letter to a member who had chosen a short tour without the allowance, Rivers wrote, "congressional intent was crystal clear" that the allowances should be paid in such cases. A copy of the letter has been sent to the Comptroller General.

Rivers' letter could indicate a definite forward move on the part of legislation in the matter. The Comptroller General's main job is such cases is to decide what Congress intended when it wrote a law.

An even stronger indication is that Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Subcommittee which played a major role in passing the bill, is probably one of the best qualified to say what Congress intended in this case.

An issue in legislative debate is the "why" of family separation.

The law says the allowance is payable when government transportation for dependents is not authorized. In the case of servicemen who choose from the time they are picked for overseas duty to serve without their families, the question is whether (1) travel is not authorized or (2) it would be authorized if they asked for it. In early rules on the pay law, the services have taken the view that an unaccompanied member leaves his family home for "personal reasons" so the allowance is not payable.

One reason for the conservative approach of the services is that they are anxious to avoid paying eligible members and risking the possibility of reclaiming the money later. They would rather delay payment until sure it would be without question.

The services apparently hope the Comptroller will agree that Rivers' view is that of the Congress.

United Fund Drive Ends With Lejeune Out Ahead

The Camp Lejeune, Jacksonville-Onslow County United Fund Drive ended last week with the Camp Lejeune donation equalling almost as much as the entire amount given last year and the Jacksonville-Onslow County total at almost 10 per cent higher than last years.

A $91,507.84 check was presented to C. A. Benson, United Fund Drive Chairman and Charles E. Woodul, Jacksonville-Onslow County United Fund president by Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, commanding general, MCB last week.

Although the Camp Lejeune Quad-Command Marines did not reach the goal of $96,000 which had been set earlier Col. H. E. L. Zastrow, Camp Lejeune United Fund Drive Chairman said that "Although the Marines did not reach the exceptionally high goal we can be satisfied and proud of the amount we did raise."

Out of necessity Col. Zastrow had to extend his campaign due to the fact that units of Force Troops, 2d Marine Division and MAG-26 were at distant duty stations in the Caribbean and Mediterranean during the annual drive. However, the contacts were made by Col. Zastrow which enabled the Marines to contribute their fair share of the funds necessary to maintain the 28 member organizations of United Fund.

Benson, the Drive chairman pointed out that the Marines set a "hot pace" for the civilians to follow. He also stated that he was very well pleased with the final results. "In view of the high goal we had set for the campaign I am not at all disappointed that we missed the target we were shooting for," he said.

Benson also reported that the Jacksonville-Onslow County citizens contributed $18,625.72, with a $1,625 raise over last years amount.

The Camp Lejeune-Onslow County board of directors of United Fund will convene Jan. 14 in order to get the 1964-65 drive off to a running start.

All Treasures Recovered By Pirates

Now that the news is out, we can expect large crowds of Onslow Beach—despite the dry winds of January.

1st Sergeant Vernon E. Hall, NCOIC, 2d Marine Division, Personnel Administration School, spent New Year's raking the sands of Onslow treasure. Well, one coin to another, and, within an hour, 1st Sgt. Loveall had dug 28 in old coins. In addition to the coins, the Top found a band and an engagement ring; you just can't trust summer romance!

After such booty, Marines of the 2d Division will probably make "hitting" for "commodore" Onslow Beach, thus ending Winter Sports to North Carolina.

2d Bridge Co. Undergoes Organic Weapons Training

Second Bridge Co., Force Troops conducted live familiarization firing of their organic weapons at K-305 range last month.

The bridge builders fired the M-60 machine gun, 50 cal. machine gun and the 3.5 rocket launcher.

The live firing exercise winds up the final phase of their training after several weeks of classroom study.

A new training cycle begins every three months during which the combat engineers also learn construction of various types of floating and fixed bridges. In addition, the men learn to build bridges using natural material available at the bridge sites.

The Bridgers are tested after each individual phase of their training to determine if they are weak on any particular subject. If so, more emphasis is put on this subject.

Every combat engineer in 2d Bridge Co., also goes through two weeks of training at the Mine Warfare School and Demolition Course conducted by 2d Engineer Bn., 2d Marine Division at the G-4 Demolition Range.

Notice

All scheduled classes for Marine Corps Base 1st Lts. and Capts. preparing for Administrative Exams will be held in Battalion Classroom Bldg. 54 instead of Bldg. 1 Conference room.

The award is being presented to the pilot on December 26 for his rescue of a life while flying the Sikorsky Corporation UH34D utility helicopter. The rescue occurred overseas, where Lt. Lyman was serving.

Fifteen Naval and Marine photographers have been selected by the Navy to enroll in Syracuse University's School of Journalism for a one-year-long program of advanced study in photojournalism. The men selected were chosen as a top group with ten years experience in the service.

At the completion of program they will be available to travel to any part of the world to cover events for the Marine Corps.

GySgt. R. E. Arnold, SSgt. R. E. Duncan are Marine Corps representatives in the course.

Base School Bus Schedules

- Be sure students are at the stops at least five minutes early. Be sure your child knows his Bus Number. He will ride home on the same numbered bus; excepting High School Students from Camp Knox, Tarawa Terrace and Midway Park. These exceptions are shown specifically under the Camp High School columns of the Housing Areas effected.
- Children missing a bus become the parent's responsibility. Additional transportation cannot be provided. Conduct of the children; parent's, teacher's, and bus operator's responsibilities are outlined in Base Order 4600.1.

- Examine the stops carefully. Do not rely on last years routes and schedules. Changes have been made.
- Buses will display "School Bus" signs and the specific bus number.
- Buses will stop only at designated stops.
- Schedules for Delalio School will be published in separate bulletin from the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River. Copies of the bulletin may be obtained from the Camp Geiger Community Center.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS—Sailors, Marines and teachers of Golfo Aranci Elementary School give toys to the children. (Photo by pl. F. R. Woolcott).

People To People Program Observed On Med. Cruise

BLT 3/2 arrived at Aranci, Sardinia, December 13, for the second time during its current Mediterranean deployment, to make an amphibious landing and engage in a day counter-guerrilla exercise. Battalion landing teams assigned as the landing force of the Sixth Fleet frequently use a training area located three miles from this fishing village of Golfo Aranci.

During the first visit of the BLT in October to Aranci Bay, members of the battalion found residents of the area friendly and helpful. Plans were made to develop an integrated Marine/Navy people to people program when the force returned in December.

The battalion joined with Ambrosio Squadron 6, USS Tidester (AD-31) and USS Robert Weeks (DD-701) to make a memorable party for over 100 children from the Golfo Aranci Elementary School and the Materna orphanage, December 18, 1963.

The party commenced with Marines and Sailors handing out frozen fruit juice push bars, and Polaroid cameras as the children clamored to have their pictures taken.

The children were escorted to the school by Marines and Sailors in small groups to participate in the candy, cookies and drinks. Cartoon movies were shown and then they were entertained by a vocal group and a pianist from the USS Oglesthorpe. "Jingle Belis" and "Silent Night" are not new songs and the Marine/Sailor chorus was soon joined by many small voices singing them in Italian.

Gifts were given to the children—including dolls, surfboards, model airplanes, ships and cars and small T-shirts with a Marine Corps emblem. Outside the school a three piece combo—drums and two electric guitars from the USS Shadwell entertained many children accompanied by their parents with Rock and Roll and Twist numbers.

The party was arranged through Mr. Enzo Zannini, co-ordinator for Golfo Aranci Schools, Miss Margherita Bozzi, Directress, Golfo Aranci Elementary School, chaplains—Lt. William J. Milosek, BLT 3/2 and Lt. Richard A. Plishker, USS Ogleshorpe; and Lt. J. G. Earl J. Michel, USS Cambria.

Two days before the party, December 16, members of the Third Platoon, Company "A", 2d Engineers, started work to help repair St. Joseph's church, guided by its pastor, the Reverend Joseph Sanna.

They repainted the front door of the church, replaced the front iron gate and painted window frames. Minor work was done on the roof and several gates and walls were repaired.

"A FRIENDLY SEA MAKES NEIGHBORS OF WIDELY SEPARATED NATIONS."
Adm. ROBT. CARNEY, U.S.N.

Aboard the USS Tidewater, Sailors constructed bookcases, swings, seesaws, and poles for the school's volleyball net. These were permanently installed by the Engineers of Company "A".

During the construction and installation of the playground equipment, dentists from the BLT and USS Sandoval—Lt. John G. Connell, DC, USNR and Lt. Terry C. Williams, DC, USNR assisted by two dental technicians and a corpsman gave oral hygiene lectures, distributed a tooth brush to each child and cleaned their teeth.

Assisting as interpreters throughout the entire program were YN3 J. B. Santos and SH2 Joseph Valenti, USS Cambria and several other Italian speaking Marines and Sailors.

Through these efforts members of the U. S. Sixth Fleet amphibious striking force demonstrated their friendship for the people of this area visited by so many BLT's. And for all concerned it produced a happier Christmas.

Good-Will Bridge By 2d Bridge Co.

Combat engineers built a bridge of good will during the Holiday Season.

Members of 2d Bridge Co., Force Troops pitched in last week and came to the aid of local fire victims and gave their support to the Swansboro Blood Bank Drive.

Cpl. H. M. Harrod on hearing that a local civilian family had lost everything in a fire, relayed the information to his fellow Marines of 2d Bridge Co. The bridge builders enthusiastically responded with contributions of food, clothing, money and toys.

Also 30 members of the company kept up the "spirit of giving" by answering a request for blood donors by the Swansboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees sponsored the drive to build up the Red Cross Blood Bank in Swansboro.

This response was accomplished through the efforts of SSgt. C. E. Roop, platoon sergeant, 1st pl. and Sgt. E. R. Hanson, asst. platoon sergeant, 3rd pl. Both men learned of the drive through their active interest in local civic affairs.

Base Adult High School Winter Term To Begin

The Winter Term will begin January 27, and continue for a period of eight weeks, ending March 18-19, 1964. The classes meet two evenings each week either Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday beginning at 1830 and ending at 2130.

Personnel who have previously taken either the GED or Achievement Test may register January 20 through 24, during the hours 1000-1500 at the Base Education Office, Building No. 19, Camp Theater. Enrollment procedures at this time will be (1) individuals counseling; (2) complete, MCBCL Form 590, (Tuition Assistance Off-Duty Education Program); (3) completion of registration cards; (4) sending for high school transcript; and (5) payment of tuition fee ($6.00 per course).

Full cost of tuition is $24 per course. The Marine Corps will pay three quarters of the tuition fee for eligible military personnel who request tuition assistance (MCBCL-590). Therefore, the cost to the student is $6. per course. Textbooks and study guides are issued during the first night of class. These books and materials are loaned to students for the duration of instruction and must be returned in good condition during the last class meeting.

The following courses are offered for registration on January 30, 1964:

MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY—Ninth Grade English; Tenth Grade English; Eleventh Grade English; Twelfth Grade English; Biology; Review Mathematics; and English Reading.

TUESDAY AND THURSDAY—Business Law; Business Mathematics; Geometry; General Mathematics; Algebra; and American History.

Students desiring to withdraw from a course must comply with the procedures for withdrawal contained in Base Order 1560.8B.

Military bus service is available to students desiring transportation. The bus will depart from the Hadnot Point Bus Depot, Track 6, at 1800 for Brewster Elementary School, and return to the depot leaving the school at 2130.

Prospective students who have not taken the GED or The Achievement Test must take the Achievement Test which will be administered at the Base Education Office, Building 19, Camp Theater on the dates listed below for enrollment in the Winter Term.

2d Marine Division—January 6, 7, 13 or 14, 1964, either 0800 or 1300.

Force Troops, U. S. Naval Hospital—January 8 or 15, 1964, either 0800 or 1300.

Marine Corps Base, Marine Corps Air Facility—January 9 or 16, 1964, either 0800 or 1300.

2d Force Reconnaissance Now Accepting Volunteers

WANTED "ALL THE WAY" MARINES—Second Force Reconnaissance Co., Force Troops is accepting sergeants and below as volunteers for challenging duty involving parachuting, scuba diving and becoming skilled in the practice of escape and evasion mountain climbing and jungle warfare.

Marines principally in MOS 03, 2533 and having a foreign language capability are desired. Volunteers should be second class swimmers and capable of passing the requisites for the Airborne Course as outlined in MCO PI500.12B. In addition, volunteers must have two years remaining on this enlistment or agree to extend.

Division personnel refer to Division Order 1306.2 on reassignment of personnel to Force Troops for duty with 2d Force Recon Co.

If you are interested in a different type of duty contact your unit first sergeant or for further information call the executive officer, 2d Force Recon Co., at 91261 or the first sergeant at 91293.

You Shouldn't Choose Twixt Lemon And Grape

When Aesop's frustrated fox fell short in the grape grabbing derby, the fable reports that he convinced himself that he didn't want them anyway because they were sure to be sour. Thus the words "Sour Grapes" became the expression of an attitude widely recognized in human nature. Psychologists define it as the rationalizing process in which you disparage the goal you missed to soothe an injured ego.

In the military world this type of rationalization is well illustrated by the oft heard, little heeded—"I didn't want OCS anyhow," or "Who cares about going to Japan," or "The devil with that language school. I didn't want to go in the first place." These are concrete, though negative statements and indicate a case of malignant "Sour Grapes."

On the other hand there is another group which take a more positive position than the "Sour Grapes" philosophy. Military and civilian alike share, in a less publicized manner this ego saving maneuver.

This is the cheerful submission to a fate that you would really like to, but can't, change. For instance to compensate for the new car you can't afford, one reasons it is healthier to walk; saying with a smile that a sparse wardrobe is easier to care for than a lavish one.

Thus by emphasizing the advantages in doing without what you were striving for you imply that you never wanted to change things anyway. An apt name for this attitude is "Sweet Lemon." It is plain that only the positive nature of the explanatory statement shifts this type of ego protection from the "Sour Grapes," classification to the one of "Sweet Lemon."

Perhaps one is better off living in a "Sweet Lemon" world than in the "Sour Grapes" environment BUT neither of these defeatist attitudes, negative and positive, should be in a military man's philosophy. He should be constantly striving to better himself, his family and his country. If he stops by the wayside to taste either some "Sour Grapes," or "Sweet Lemons," he'll miss the satisfaction of moving ahead.

THE SCHOOL OF LIFE

After Eddie Rickenbacker drifted around the Pacific on a life-raft for twenty-one days during World War II, a friend asked him what lesson he had gained from the experience. "The biggest lesson I learned from that experience," he said, "Was that if you have all the fresh water you want to drink and all the food you want to eat, you should never complain about anything." Can any of us question the wisdom of Mr. Rickenbacker's philosophy of life? In this great country of ours it is not easy to maintain such a healthy attitude toward life. Visitors from other nations have noticed that all of us over here seem to be in a big hurry. Someone characterized this motion of ours as, "gulp, gab, and go."

Mahatma Gandhi was one of the great men of our time. It is said that he begin each day with the following resolution:

I shall fear no one on earth.
I shall fear only God.
I shall hold ill will against no one.
I shall not submit to injustice, from wherever it may come.
I shall triumph over error by faith.
In resisting evil I shall never shun suffering.
Isn't it refreshing to find someone who will dare to live by such noble convictions?

'Warming Seasons' Can Bring Deadly Dangers

The "warming season" is now with us in northern parts of the world, and so are its dangers.

Those of us in the Armed Forces who are exposed to heating devices are also exposed, if we're not careful, to death by explosion, gas poisoning and suffocation.

Every time you burn coal, coke, oil, kerosene, gasoline, wood, charcoal, natural or manufactured gas in any heating device and there is insufficient ventilation, a definite threat exists.

Rooms where such heaters are employed must have ventilation, either natural or mechanical, so that toxic gases produced by the heater can escape.

Fires can also result from improper handling of combustible materials, such as paint, old rags, etc.

If you can't get a qualified person to check your heating equipment, take care yourself to that flues and stove pipes are tightly connected, that chimneys are not clogged, and that all electrical heating equipment has proper ventilation.

Rules governing heating conditions in U. S. Government controlled buildings make it certain that all precautions should be taken to insure the safety and comfort of Armed Forces personnel and their dependents.

Observe these rules and save tips. They'll keep you warm, not deathly cold.

Motor Transport To Keep Corps

Training with practical application fills the hours spent by Marines undergoing a course of study in motor transport maintenance and administration at the Marine Corps Supply Schools, Montford Point.

The school here enjoys the distinction of being the only formal motor transport school in the Marine Corps. The school was organized in 1929 as part of the Philadelphia Depot of Supplies. During World War II the Motor Transport School in Philadelphia was deactivated with the establishment of a similar school in Quantico, Va. Later, in 1942, the school was moved from Quantico to Camp Lejeune, where it became a subordinate of the Quartermaster School in 1945. In 1954 the Quartermaster School was changed in name to "Marine Corps Supply Schools," with additional courses added.

In the Motor Transport School, officers and enlisted men are trained in the occupational field 3500. The school is staffed and equipped to present a complete program of instruction on motor transport subjects ranging in scope from detailed instructions on the operation of maintenance facilities enabling the transport equipment. officers and staff existing basic courses in motor transport maintenance and administration for first term.

The staff of the school is short of the Corps facilities enabling the school to instruct and assist five officer and staff NCO class enlisted classes.

In addition to the formal classes, the school is also open for regular instruction for hosting and average of 1,000.

More Than 3000 Turn Out For Hazel Walker Game

More than 3,000 spectators, the largest turnout since the football season, were on hand at Goettge Memorial Field House last Friday night to take in the exhibition basketball game between Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travellers and the Camp Lejeune quintet.

As an added bonus, during half-time the "Sweethearts", a group of 5th and 6th grade girls who learned twirling through the local youth activities program entertained with a baton twirling exhibition, and the Shorin-Ryu Karate Club of Camp Lejeune gave a demonstration of the "empty hand way".

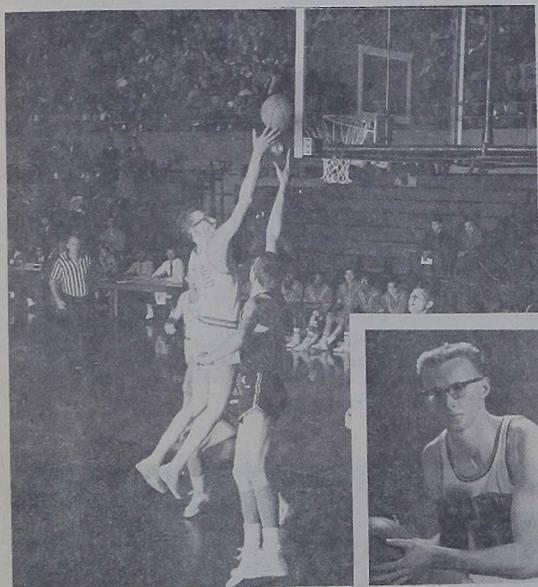

The Marines, possibly a little embarrassed by trailing 53-49 with 14 minutes left in the game, pulled ahead to win 76-68, although this wasn't a game where winning or losing was too important. The contest, as it was meant to be, turned out to be more an entertainment affair than a duel on the hardwood.

It featured a football type play, an off-sides penalty against the Marines, a crooked ball, etc., and some almost unbelievable playing by the women.

Displaying a finesse that would make many college coaches eat their hearts out, the Travellers executed several plays to spring Little (5' 7") Gina Wood loose under the basket for an easy lay-up. "Goose" Garrouste, a veteran of 13 years with Hazel Walker, after a lack-luster first quarter, drew a bead on the bucket, and hit with eight field goals from 35-40 feet in the second quarter, then toward the end of the game Hazel, a very active grandmother, got in the game and netted three goals from way out.

Commenting to the crowd half-time Maj. Robinson, Base Athletic Officer said, "I would be very happy if only one fourth of you came out for our ball games on the 7th and 8th."

The next home action for Camp Lejeune Quintet will be January 15-16 when the Marines play the Fort Dix "Burros". Game time is 7:15 p. m.

Local Leatherneck Duels With French Karate Champion

WITH THE U. S. SIXTH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN--Marine Lance Corporal Richard E. Delling, a tank mechanic with BLT 3/2 and a second degree black belt holder in Karate, beat the French National Karate Champion Mr. Guy Chassany, an eighth degree black belt in an informal match at the Karate Club of Cannes, France, during the recent port visit of the BLT.

Lance Corporal Delling started to learn Karate in the Marine Corps while stationed on Okinawa with the 3d Tank Battalion, during March 1961.

His teacher, the Fourth Master of the World in karate was Mr. Elzo Shumabuki.

While on Okinawa, LCpl. Delling attained the rank of third Highest Black Belt in Fighting with 147 fights, 147 wins and no losses.

Transferred to Camp Lejeune, June 1963, he participated in the East Coast Championship Karate Matches, Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C., and won the East Coast Championship over 18 other black belts.

1. What was the only major college football team that failed to win a game in 1963?
2. What football coach "invented" the two-platoon system of football?
3. Who was the youngest man to ever play major league baseball? How old was he?
4. Who was the last man to steal home twice in a major league game?
5. What golf tournament offers the largest purse?

Know Your Team

Joe Gallagher, starting center for the Camp Lejeune basketball team, is a man with an unusual background. He didn't play high school basketball. In fact he says he didn't really learn the game until he came in the Marine Corps.

Gallagher credits Dave Smalley, who is now an assistant coach at the Naval Academy, as being the biggest factor in Gallagher's development as a basketball player.

"He encouraged me to start working out before basketball tryouts, and to come out for the team. After tryouts began Mr. Smalley worked with me a lot", stated Gallagher' talking about his first year with the Hawaiian Marines team.

Coach Smalley's interest paid off. Gallagher played that year and the next with the Hawaiian team.

The 23-year-old native of Philadelphia, Pa., has come a long way since coach Smalley got him interested in basketball. He has been a standout player this year with Camp Lejeune, and has been offered several scholarships from colleges.

Coach Joe Walsh evaluates Gallagher as "a real good player. He has good moves, is quick for his size, and is a fine hustler."

Judo Club Slates Election Jan. 15

The Camp Lejeune Judo Club will hold annual elections at their meeting scheduled for January 15, at 7 p. m. The elections will be held at the club house.

All members of the club are urged to attend the meeting. Regular judo workouts will be held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 7:30-9:30 p. m. every week.

One of Gallagher's big problems this season has been the number of personal fouls he makes during a game.

According to the coach the reason for this is that on defense Gallagher not only guards his own man, but often picks up another opponent that shakes loose. He's doing a two-man job then, and the chance for a foul increases accordingly.

When asked what he felt was Gallagher's strongest skill, Coach Walsh said "He does everything well. On offense he shoots a jump shot, and can hook with either hand, and on defense his man is always guarded. He is one of the fastest men on the team up and down court."

Before he got on the basketball team Gallagher was a member of MP and Guard Company. He was on the main gate for a while, and worked in the building where visitors register for entrance on the base.

Baseball Tryouts

Tryouts for the varsity baseball team will commence on January 27. Personnel interested in trying out for the team should report to Goettge Memorial Field House at 1 p. m. to fill out athletic questionnaires.

Pitchers and catchers will start working out January 27, while infielders and outfielders will begin work on February 10.

If you can play baseball here's your chance to get on a fine team. They compiled an excellent record last year, and walked away with the East Coast Interservice Conference title.

Baseball, Softball Officials Needed

The New River Officiaries Assn. is on the look-out for experienced men to officiate all non-conference varsity baseball home games during coming season.

They also need qualified softball officials to work intramural games.

Anyone interested can get more information by calling Gysgt. Gates at extension 5763.

Rod and Gun Meeting

The Camp Lejeune Rod and Gun Club will hold regular monthly meeting on January 15 at 7 p. m. at the Creek Club House.

All members or persons interested in becoming members of the club are urged to attend this meeting.

Lejeune Edged 71-70 By Sublant

The Camp Lejeune basketball team was squeezed out 71-70 Tuesday night by the Sublant "Seairiders."

The Marines were trailing 41-34 at halftime, and were down 54-42 with 13 minutes left in the game before they staged a comeback. Charlie Dennis and Bill Jenkins began hitting in the last part of the game and brought Lejeune within one point (65-64) with 4½ minutes left but the locals couldn't gain the lead.

The final score was set when Jenkins sank a lay-up as the final buzzer sounded. Dennis was high for the Marines with 28 points.

2d Div. Bowling To Begin Soon

Ten pins will crash when the 2d Marine Division Intramural Bowling Tournament begins about January 14. Each battalion and regimental headquarters company or battery can enter a team of seven members. The games will be played in the Division Area Service Clubs after working hours. Try bowling--see your bulletin board for additional information.

Fighters To Host Bolling Tomorrow

The Camp Lejeune fighters will face a rugged test tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m. when they host the batllers from Bolling Air Force Base.

Last year the Bolling fighters came in second in the interservice bouts, with only Ft. Campbell claiming more championships.

Camp Lejeune's boxers staged a raid on Charleston AFB earlier, and came back with four out of five bouts, including two knockouts.

Bill Verdier, fighting at 141 lbs. was the only Marine to lose in the matches. According to reports of the fight Verdier came out strong in the opening round, and in fact knocked his opponent, Curtis Foote, down once in the round. Foote had his strongest round in the second, when he managed to score on Verdier to some extent. In the third round Verdier took over again and it looked like his round all the way, however the judges called a unanimous decision for Foote.

Clifford Harris, fighting for the first time, took a unanimous decision over his Air Force opponent, Ray Porter. Harris had Porter going up and down like a yo-yo in the three round bout. He downed his man with jabs, hooks and crosses with both hands, knocking Porter down nine times.

Lejeune's John Davis, the most experienced fighter on the squad, downed his opponent for keeps in two minutes and ten seconds of the second round. Davis, fighting at 160 lbs., put Ken O'Neal of Charleston down once in the first round with a right cross, then got to him in the second with a left hook, and finally downed him for the count with another right cross.

Art Redden, a well known sports figure to Camp Lejeune football followers, made his debut with the boxing team in the Charleston bouts. Redden KO'd Raynold Bush in two minutes and five seconds in the second round. Redden, bombing with his right, put Bush on the canvas twice in the first round, and two more times in the second before he unleashed the knockout shot. Redden is fighting at 170 lbs.

Bob Glaister, also fighting at 170, capped the nights action with a unanimous decision over Danny Hogg. Glaister had his man staggered in all three rounds.

Bill "Mouse" Mercedos, a novice flyweight, again proved his skill as an eagle hunter when he beat Guadalupe Rodriguez, the 3d Army Champion who fights with the "Screaming Eagles" boxing team at Ft. Campbell.

The Marines have met Ft. Campbell twice, and Mercedos is the only member of the Lejeune team to win against the perennially powerful Army scrappers. In a previous bout Mercedos beat Don Rudd of Campbell.

Darrell Smith, fighting at 132 lbs., was knocked out by Charles Taylor, a '62 Interservice champion, in the third round. Smith had a good fight going until Taylor caught him in the final round.

In other action Bill Verdier was decisloned by Henry Aaron, who beat Verdier earlier this year. Excel Calhoun lost a decision to Ray Owens. Hollis Tapla was defeated by Ernest Miller, and Bob Glaister dropped a decision to Teddy Haggard.

John Davis of Camp Lejeune fought what coach Lawler said was his best fight of the season against Corbett Anderson, at 147 lbs., but lost on a decision. There is some doubt felt by members of Lejeune's team as to the soundness of the decision.

Marine Melvin Johnson lost on a TKO when his shoulder jumped out of joint in the first round against Joe Lenhan.

In the final bout of the evening Charles Dwyer, a new man on Camp Lejeune's team lost to Charles Slack on a split decision. Dwyer had been training for less than a week for the fight, and looked very impressive.

New fighters have been joining the team during the season and it's not too late to get in the action if you're interested in trying out for the team. Coach Lawler has stated that he can place a fighter in every division except heavyweight, and would like to fill the team out before the All-Marine Matches. If you're interested in trying out you can get more details by talking to either Lt. Lawler or Sgt. Dawson at extension 7-5763.

New Fishing Regs. Available Now

When you buy your 1964 fishing license make sure you get a copy of the new booklet on fishing laws put out by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission.

Although the format is the same as last year's book, there is quite a bit more information contained in the new booklet, including some new laws, and detailed explanation of some of the old ones.

In fact, even if you are strictly a salt-water angler and don't buy a fishing license you would do well to get a copy of the pamphlet. There are some regulations that pertain to salt and brackish water angling.

Boost Intramurals

A lot of emphasis is placed on varsity sports, which is good. However, only a few can play on the varsity team, and a lot of men that would like to play ball aren't good enough to make the team, or don't get the opportunity to try.

That is the reason for intramural sports. Force Troops and 2d Division intramurals have been going pretty good. Both commands have a healthy interest and participation in their programs. Both commands have organized leagues in order to have more continuous and orderly scheduling of games.

Marine Corps Base participation hasn't been so good. It's been there, but nobody has really gotten fired up about it.

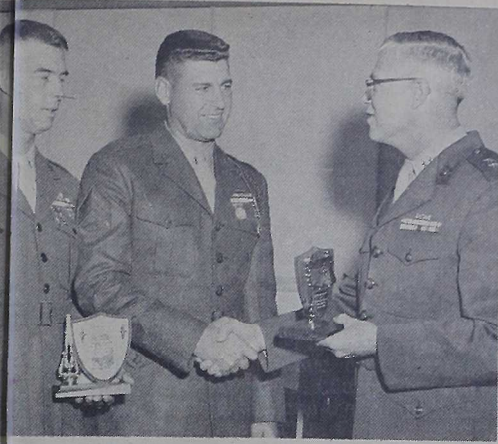

Someone is trying to do something about it now. Maj. Robinson, the base athletic officer, in a conversation last week, seemed determined to get some life into the project, and is willing to go all-out to get an interesting, workable program under way for the Marines attached to MCB.

However, he can't do it alone. He needs the help of the small units in order to get anything done. The initial steps will be taken at a meeting of the special services officers next Monday at the Field House. Various ways of improving the intramural programs will be discussed at the meeting.

We feel that all special services officers of Marine Corps Base units should be there. At the last meeting only one man showed up.

By having representation at this meeting by the special services officer, the participants will gain some benefit when the program is set up. By the use of constructive suggestions the participants can gain even more benefit.

Between now and Monday morning anyone with ideas that might bolster the intramural program for MCB should express it to their unit special services. That way the special services officer will have more to say at the meeting and maybe we can get something going.

Meeting Slated For MCB Special Services Officers

Maj. Robinson, the Marine Corps Base Athletic Officer, has scheduled a meeting for the special services officers of all MCB units, to discuss the 1964-65 intramural programs.

The meeting is slated for 9 a.m. January 13 at the athletic office of Goettge Memorial Field House.

The 19th Hole

By BOB SPENCER

Because of its high degree of difficulty the lob shot should be used only when it is absolutely necessary. If you should miss this shot by so much as a fraction of an inch chances are you'll either skull the ball over the green or drop it short. The lob shot, like the cut shot, has a high trajectory. But the two shots differ, not only in execution, but in circumstances under which they are used.

The cut shot, with its bite, is best for tight situations when a minimum amount of ball roll is wanted.

The lob is ideal when the shot calls for a lofted pitch over obstacles such as bunkers or rough surfaces with a slight amount of roll to follow.

To play this shot I open my stance slightly and address the ball off my left heel. I choke down on the club, usually the wedge, and keep the club face open.

The difficult part of the shot comes from the fact that the ball must be hit with plenty of wrist action. This requires a lot of right hand and an extremely delicate touch.

The swing should be as smooth as possible from inside-out which in effect is the basic difference between the lob and cut shot.

HIGH GRADS—2d Lt. William J. Tragakis and 1st Lt. Joseph E. Walker congratulate each other upon their selection Dec. 13 as "outstanding" graduates of the LFTU Staff Embarkation and the Attack Transport & Cargo Ship Embarkation course respectively. Lt. Tragakis, 4thPit Leader, "A" Co., 2d AmTrac Bn., Force Troops, achieved a perfect score of 100 percent for the two-week course. Lt. Walker, a platoon leader in the 2d Bn., 2d Marines, topped his class with a 94.9 mark for the three-week course. (Photo by SSgt. Frank Saldaña)

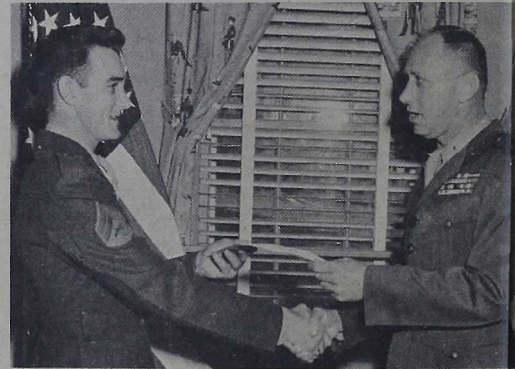

TOP CREW CHIEF—Lt. Col. "Don" Derryberry, command officer of Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron-262, MAG-16, MCAF New River, congratulates Sgt. Kenneth A. Herring on being named top crew chief of the month in HMM-262 for November. Cpl. Thomas P. Marsh, left, who works helicopter No. 26 with Sgt. Herrington, was named top mechanic. Both men received 96 hour passes for their outstanding work.

Cpl. 'Chiefs' 8" Howitzer 'Know-How' Earns Merit

Cpl. William C. Bruce, of 8 inch Howitzer Battery, 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, FMFLant, Camp Lejeune, was awarded a Meritorious Mast by Lt. Col. W. R. Magon, executive officer, 2d Field Artillery Group on December 9. The Meritorious Mast awarded for type is normally performed by a chief of section and section cannoneers. Cpl. Bruce has accomplished his assignment in an exemplary manner. Both howitzer and the section element in his charge were constantly kept in an exceptional state of combat readiness.

CANNONEER COMMENDED—Marine Cpl. William C. Bruce, left, of 8" Howitzer Battery, 2d FAG, Force Troops, is congratulated and presented with a Meritorious Mast by Executive Officer, Lt. Col. W. R. Magon, on Dec. 9.

"noteworthy performance of duty," read in part: "During the seven month period from May through November of 1963, critical personnel shortages made it necessary to assign to Cpl. Bruce, the responsibility of single-handedly maintaining a Self-Propelled 8inch howitzer. Crew maintenance of vehicles of this high degree of technical knowledge, initiative and devotion to duty which Cpl. Bruce has played serves as an outstanding example and an inspiration to all members of the command. "It is with extreme pleasure that I commend Cpl. Bruce for his outstanding performance of duty during this period."

Presentation of the 1963 Nobel Peace Prize to the International Red Cross has been "a tribute to the millions of volunteers around the world. These dedicated people, through their work with their own Red Cross Societies exemplify the best side of man—his concern for his suffering fellows," according to Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther (USA Ret.), President of the American Red Cross.

General Gruenther also said that it is significant that in the months before the presentation of the award, the Red Cross was at work in Asia, Africa, South America and Europe assisting the victims of disaster and conflict.

He pointed out the continuing aid for earthquake victims in Yugoslavia; sufferers from Hurricane Flora in the Caribbean and the cholera epidemic in Korea; refugees in the Congo, Tanganyika, and Algeria; the victims of cyclones and floods in Pakistan and the civilian and military victims of the rebellion in Yemen.

This was the fourth time that the Nobel Prize was given to the Red Cross in recognition of its humanitarian service.

Staff Wives' Club Give Membership

The Staff NCO Wives' Club of Camp Lejeune held their monthly meeting Thursday, January 2, at the Hadnot Point Staff Club. After the business meeting Mrs. Steve Bock, president of the wives club, presented Mrs. Celia Griffiths with an honorary membership to the club.

Mrs. Griffiths is the mother of Mrs. Lillian Curran, who is a member of the Staff Wives'. This is Mrs. Griffiths third visit to America from England. Two of her visits were here at Camp Lejeune. During the period of time spent here she has worked on many of the staff wives' projects. She has given over 600 hours of her time knitting sweater sets, and helping the committee at the hospital.

The members presented Mrs. Griffiths with honorary membership so she could participate in more of their activities.

FRANK JUNGER — Chairman of Clerical Work for the Navy Relief Society of Camp Lejeune, fulfills many duties. Among her duties is the supervision of clerical workers, training of volunteers, and supervision of files.

Recipe Of The Week

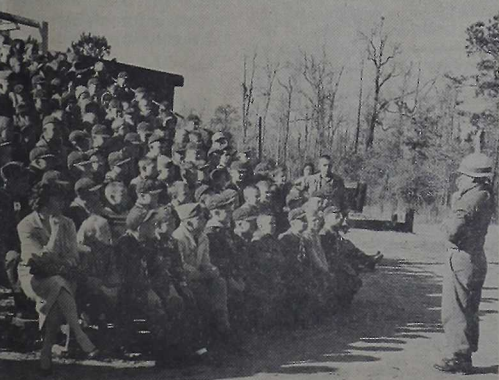

Swedish Meat Balls in Caper Sauce

1 lb. lean beef, ground
1 cup wheat germ flakes
1 cup minced onion
EGG
1/2 tsp. salt, divided
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cups milk, divided
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup half and half (milk and cream)
1/2 cup drained capers
1/2 cup sh. pepper

Combine beef, wheat germ, egg, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 cup milk; mix well. Roll into 36 small balls (1 level tablespoon for each). Brown meat balls in hot oil, turning to brown all sides; remove from pan. Stir flour pan drippings. Add remaining milk and salt, half-and-half and capers. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thickened. Return meat balls to pan. Cover; simmer about 10 minutes. Makes four to six servings. To round out the meal, serve with mashed potatoes, carrots and crisp tossed green salad.

Installation

4, E-5 NCO Wives Club Tarawa Terrace will have installation of officers Monday, January 13, at 7 p.m. at the NCO Club.

OTHERS-LINE—Sixty-five Cub Scouts invaded the NBC School Camp Geiger for a talk and demonstration last week. Cub Scouts 190 from Tarawa Terrace and 490 from Berkeley Manor.

were fascinated by GvSgt. Crites as he explained the difference between rope and fuse. Later he explained about signal fuses.

NATIONAL TROPHY AWARDS—Camp Lejeune's high shooters in the National Trophy Individual Rifle Matches receive their medals, (right to left), SSgt. Ezell Walker and 1st Lt. Frank E. Deal as their commanding officer, (far right), Lt. Col. R. M. Calland, looks on. Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, Base Commanding General congratulates the Marines on their accomplishments during informal ceremonies in the General's office. Both Lt. Deal and SSgt. Walker are attached to the Marine Corps Rifle Range Detachment here. In a contest of more than 3,000 shooters, military and civilian, SSgt. Walker, who is already a distinguished rifle marksman, won his second award in addition to the distinguished marksmanship badge. In the same match Lt. Deal, who is pulling for the distinguished badge received his third award towards becoming a top rifleman. The matches were held at Camp Perry, Ohio in August.

Information On Insurance For '64 N.C. License Tags

Assistance in obtaining the insurance information necessary for receiving a 1964 license tag was offered North Carolina motorists by the North Carolina Association of Insurance Agents.

The state's approximately 2 million motor vehicle owners will be buying the new tags in the next 45 days but will need additional insurance information this year.

Charles Harris, Jr., President of the professional insurance agents association, said the agents are ready to help wherever possible.

"Vehicle owners will have to give the name of the insurance company with which they are insured, the policy number and the date insurance began. If you do not have this readily at hand, call your independent insurance agent and obtain this information," urged the president of the professional agents association.

He pointed out that unless the insurance information is included on the license application (the FR2 form sent out by the Motor Vehicle Department) the tag cannot be issued.

"The needed information is not difficult to obtain. The name of the company, the number and effective date is on your automobile liability insurance policy. However, if there is the slightest doubt in your mind, we urge you to call your independent agent and seek his help," he said.

"We would like to stress that the name of the insurance company handling the coverage is the one needed on your license application and not the name of the independent agent or agency with whom you do business," Harris said.

The amendments to the compulsory insurance law, passed by the 1963 General Assembly, requires that to obtain or transfer a North Carolina license plate the owner of the vehicle, unless he has qualified as a self-insurer or filed a bond, must have and certify that he has liability insurance with a company licensed to do business in North Carolina.

ISO Gets New Chief

GySgt. Carroll H. Clark, Jr., has taken over the desk of Informational Services Chief for Marine Corps Base, relieving MGySgt. A. A. Sydow. Sgt. Sydow retired on December 30, 1963.

A veteran of both World War II and the Korean conflict, Sgt. Clark reported to Camp Lejeune on December 30, from the Recruiting Station in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he served as Procurement Aids NCO.

Since entering the Marine Corps in February 1943 he has had various types of duties, from aviation ordnance to his present duty in ISO. Sgt. Clark has served with ISO staffs at Cherry Point, Camp Pendleton, and 1st Marine Air Wing.

GySgt. C. H. Clark

Sgt. Clark, son of Lt. Col. C. H. Clark, USA Ret., is married to the former Miss Gloria J. Leake of Monroe City, Missouri, and they have two daughters, Leslie age 11 and Stephanie age 2.

AT YALTA, the "Big Three" agreed to a formula for the Balkans under which the peoples would freely choose their governments. A few weeks after the conference the King of Rumania was forced to appoint a red dominated government. Seen here at Yalta are, from left: Winston Churchill, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Josef Stalin.

Communism Flourished During The Bloody '40s

(Ninth of a series of 20 articles entitled The History of Communism, by MSgt. Walter M. Stewart, USMC. Reprinted by AFPS from the San Diego Chevron, Marine Corps Recruiting Depot, San Diego, Calif.)

Using Soviet Russia as the point of focus in this series on Communism, the period 1940-50 was the most salient decade in the century-old existence of Marxism-Communism, with perhaps the fragmentary exception of the Red revolution of October 1917.

Those 10 years included: WW II, the creation of the United Nations, the expansion of Communism throughout Eastern Europe, and Communism's conquest of China.

To synopsize so important a decade in these few lines is difficult enough, without attempting to include even the most important details of the war. With the writer's apologies, WWII is reduced to the essentials that Germany attacked Russia in 1941 and Russia, suffering more than seven million dead soldiers, overcame the German attack and linked with Allied Forces in victory on German soil in May, 1945.

Of over-riding importance are three meetings held by the "Big Three" (USA, Britain, and USSR). The Tehran Conference in December 1943 was, at least superficially, of a tactical nature. Churchill's proposal of an Anglo-American invasion of the Balkans met a chilly reception from Stalin, who insisted on an invasion of France.

Whether Stalin spoke solely from tactical conviction or more from a desire to keep Western influence out of post-war European Europe is subject to debate. However, Stalin's will prevailed and such potential influence was aborted.

Western powers also agreed at Tehran to a realignment of Polish frontiers in favor of Russia and—of no appreciable importance at the time but of the utmost later—to a stipulation that, in setting up democratic governments in those post-war nations now viewed as satellites, Russia could insist that such governments not be of an unfriendly character.

The Yalta Conference in Feb., 1945 was largely given over to the matter of dividing control over soon-to-be vanquished Germany and early outline discussions for a United Nations organization. The "zones of influence" decision was made, with each power agreeing to a hands-off policy in the other powers administration of their areas.

In United Nations discussions, Russia insisted on—and was given (within the limits of Roosevelt's and Churchill's authority)—the right to veto, with the understanding it would be used niggardly.

The Potsdam Conference was, for the most part, a firming of decisions made at Yalta. Also at Potsdam, President Truman (Roosevelt having died in April, 1945) announced to Stalin that the U. S. had successfully tested an atomic bomb. (Those present were surprised at Stalin's marked disinterest, not knowing that Russia already had stolen many of the A-bomb secrets.)

Formation of the United Nations organization is, again, too complex for a deserving description here. Apropos, however, is one sidelight of that historic San Francisco meeting which is exemplary of communist tactics. Molotov agreed to an article in the U.N. charter which provides for the "sovereign quality of all its members" and then insisted on the right—through veto power—to nullify majority decisions. A corollary as is found in the Russian Constitution which calls for free elections and subsequently outlaws all but the Communist Party.

Teamwork Gets 'Copter' From 'Cool' 12 Ft. Waters

A combined effort by a Marine Aircraft Group-26 (MAG-26) helicopter crew and the MCAS Beaufort Search and Rescue (SAR) team retrieved a crashed helicopter from 48 degree waters late last week.

The "chopper", attached to Beaufort S. A. R., was submerged about 12 feet in the icy waters. Cpl. D. A. Matthews from HMH-461 and SSgt. Ralph O. Williams of the SAR unit, wearing exposure suits, worked in the water for about 45 minutes in an effort to drag the helicopter nearer to shore.

When it was moved about 25 feet closer to shore the twin engine CH37C helicopter from MAG-26, piloted by WO-1, Robert B. Mason and 1st Lt. William C. Cowperwait lifted the downed HRS-3. Once the downed bird was deposited on the beach it was hauled back to the air station on a flat-bed trailer.
