Tarawa Reunion

To commemorate the 2d Marine Division landing in the Gilbert Islands and the battle of Tarawa a reunion of officer participants in the battle is being planned. Time and place will be announced later.

An estimate of officers interested in a reunion is needed. Any Marine or Navy officer who participated in the landing and is interested in a reunion is asked to contact Lt. Col. Vroegindewey at extension 7-5670 or 7-3338.

officers' second year of service.

Previously, assigned quotas for each year group caused some officers to be passed over in their bids for a regular commission early in their service, which in turn caused the loss of some potential career officers.

Headquarters Marine Corps has said no quotas will be placed on second year reservists and they will see how many applications reach headquarters prior to the annual meeting of the augmentation board. The number of applications will then determine the various formulas aimed at providing the right number of officers.

Marine Corps Order 1040, 5C of October 10 covers the "new deal" for Reservists and another instruction, set for the near future, will establish the eligibility requirements for applications to the 1964 board.

NAVY-MARINE CORPS HONOR KORTH—Outgoing Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth receives a ship's clock mounted in a ship's wheel from Adm. D. L. McDonald, CNO and Gen. D. M. Shoup, CMC. The 24-hour clock was presented "on behalf of the officers and men of the Navy and Marine Corps" Tuesday evening, October 29 at a reception honoring Secretary and Mrs. Korth and incoming Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Paul Nitze.

Three-Five Percent Pay Boost Possible

Defense department officials are considering placing a $250 million military pay raise before Congress for next October. The considered boost would range from three to five percent for two and a half million service personnel.

Although the final "go-ahead" decision has not yet been made, the discussed proposal would be along the lines of a cost-of-living increase. The percentage of hikes would vary between officer and enlisted as did the last pay boost this year.

If the word is given to go ahead with the proposal, the dental care bill and the subsistence increase may be set aside. Should the subject base pay increase push through, it could be an American military history-maker in that it may possibly be the first time that a raise will not be given to retired service personnel at the same time.

Pvt. Commended For Life Saving

Pvt. Daryl K. Baker, presently of ASD Bn., 2d FSR, MCB, arriving at the scene of an air plane crash into an Okinawan village in the vicinity of Kadena Air Force Base on Dec. 20, 1962 entered a flaming house to save the life of an injured Okinawan resulting in the presentation of a Navy Commendation Medal.

The aircraft, a military tanker, after clearing the end of the runway crashed into an Okinawan village and burst into flames.

Seeing the crash and considering there could be survivors inside a flaming house, Baker ignored the terrific heat flames fed by high octane aviation fuel, and the possibilities of further explosions, entered the flaming house and moved an injured Okinawan native to safety.

Last week Pvt. Baker was rewarded for his bravery in saving the life of the injured civilian when Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser presented him the Navy Commendation Medal.

SAVES LIFE—Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, commanding general, MCB, pins the Navy Commendation Medal on Pvt. Daryl K. Baker, of Bulk Fuel Co., ASD Bn., 2d FSR, as his commanding officer, Maj. J. A. Sherman, Jr., looks on. Pvt. Baker earned the medal for saving an injured Okinawans life while stationed on Okinawa.

Staff Ranks Shift As 187 Add Stripes

The Corps' Staff NCO ranks shift this month as 187 sergeants move into the staff sergeant bracket, 20 new gunnery sergeants will sew on larger chevrons, 50 move into the E-8 pay grade and six men sew on the top enlisted chevrons of sergeant major.

The junior man upped to staff sergeant was Sgt. Omer J. Cote, number 1808 on the selection list. Of the 20 men promoted to gunnery sergeant, SSgt. Henry F. Killingsworth was the lowest man, being 981 on the roster.

Moving to 1st sergeant and master sergeant respectively, as low men, were Gysgts. John W. Thompson and James P. O'Connor. Thompson was number 180 and O'Connor was 149 on the selection lists. Number 35 on the sergeant major list was 1st Sgt. Joseph M. Bock and junior man of those advancing to master gunnery sergeant is MSgt. Wilfred P. Zeimet.

Sojourners Meet

Camp Lejeune's Sojourners, Chapter 329 of the National Sojourners, Inc., will meet in the Paradise Room of the Commissioned Officers Mess at 6:30 p.m., next Thursday, November 21.

Promotion, Reassignment Affects 5 Corps Generals

Major Generals Leonard F. Chapman and Victor H. Krulak have been nominated by the President for promotion to lieutenant general. General Chapman will become Chief of Staff, Headquarters Marine Corps, on January 1, replacing Lieutenant General Wallace M. Greene, Jr., who becomes Commandant of the Marine Corps on that date.

General Krulak, now Special Assistant for Counterinsurgency and Special Activities, on the staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will replace Lieutenant General Carson A. Roberts, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific in Hawaii, who plans to retire early in 1964.

Replacements for General Chapman and General Krulak have not been named.

Maj. Gen. Paul R. Tyler, now Inspector General, Defense Supply Agency, Washington, will become commanding general, Marine Corps Supply Center, Albany, Ga., on December 20, replacing Brig. Gen. Joseph O. Butcher.

Gen. Butcher will succeed Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Reynaud as commanding general, Marine Corps Supply Activity, Philadelphia, Pa., on January 6. On January 20, Gen. Reynaud will report to the Defense Supply Agency for duty.

History Of Communism

Make-Believe Life Of Russia In 1800

(First of a series of 20 articles entitled The History of Communism, by MSgt. Walter Stewart, USMC. Rep. by AFPS from the San Diego Chevron, Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.)

Aristocrats of 19th Century Russia lived a life almost exactly as we would imagine it to have been. It was an operetta life of grand dukes and czars and splendid uniforms, of countless lackeys and ermine robes and rivers of wine and vodka. Naturally, the social whirl centered on the czar and his czarina. And the Russian Empire was superbly equipped for the social niceties. For example, in the capital city, St. Petersburg (changed at the onset of WWI to the less Germanic name of Petrograd and, later, to Leningrad), the winter palace—only one of several in the city—sprawled over four and one-half acres of ground.

Indeed, the succession of czars operated the empire as though it existed solely for the use of the Romanov royal family. The czar did occasionally parcel out feudal estates to family members, but these estates existed only by his whim.

over 100 million, were less than enthusiastic about their economic security, they were resigned to their fate. Personal freedoms and human dignity, on their level, were completely unknown to them.

Even so, there were periodic uprisings, almost always born of famine. However, the insurgents were quickly brought to justice and the matter promptly forgotten.

The concept of rebellion grew in the last quarter of the century. His Imperial Majesty Alexander II was assassinated in 1881 when a discontented peasant threw a bomb between his feet.

His son, Alexander III, succeeded to the throne—temporarily. In 1894, after wearing the crown a scant 13 years, he died of injuries sustained six years earlier when the train was derailed by terrorists.

Nicholas, eldest son of Alexander III, then became the czar. Nicholas, who ruled the empire in much the same manner as had his ancestors, the divine right of kings—stood blissfully unaware of the growing unrest. In all probability, he never even heard of Georgi Valentinovich Plekhanov—founder of the Marxist movement in Russia—or of Karl Marx himself.

The czar was not entirely to blame for his aloofness. He had been trained to consider his peasants (and they were his, in the manner of gods) as nothing more or less than his other animals and, consequently, unworthy of royal attention.

CONTINUING EDUCATION—Marines and their dependents stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C. are afforded the opportunity to continue their education through the Camp's East Carolina College Center. The registration scene with Sgt. Leslie Blades, Base Education NCOIC (left) and Mrs. Roella Hobbs, college secretary, hanging an eye-catching poster will be familiar to many who return to register for the second term of classes on Nov. 13. Getting ahead of the rush is PFC Leontine Leader (3rd from left), as she signs up for a course of instruction while Mr. Edmond Limer, Jr. (right), college director, explains the college government tuition assistance to Pvt. Bridget Gagliano. The registration deadline is noon, Nov. 16.

WINING AND DINING—The Palace of the Nobles (right), along the Foutauka Canal was one of the places frequented by Russian nobility in St. Petersburg during the late 19th Century.

Caribbean Cruise Includes Vieques 'Assault' For 1/2

Beneath the tropic sun, bounded by the turquoise Caribbean, sits the imaginary isle of Vieques; its beauty concealing the cancerous political chaos permeating the island. Since early 1962 the country has been subject to unceasing agitation and terrorism. In late September of this year the situation was so bad that the local government was obliged to notify Washington and request the evacuation of all American Nationals living on the island.

Battalion Landing Team 1/2, deployed to the Caribbean, was immediately directed by the government to collect and evacuate all American Nationals.

Within hours plans were laid for OPERATION 2-63. Directed by Lt. Col. James A. Gallo, Jr., commanding officer, BLT 1/2 decided to use the time-tested amphibious landing. Hour was to be at 2 p. m.,

October 4. The Battalion would sweep across the beach, establish a defensive perimeter and withdraw all Nationals (presently being collected and centralized within the American Embassy).

The 2,000 combat ready Marines, supported by tanks, antiaircraft and amphibious tractors had secured a 180 degree arc, with all approaches forwarded of the landing beach defended; Blue beach to the right occupied and the approaches to the left under the surveillance of the Recon unit. Within this perimeter was Garcia airstrip secured from the enemy and available to members of the 2d Marine Air Wing, providing reconnaissance and air support upon request.

The Battalion Landing Team is expected to return to Camp Lejeune, during the early part of December.

Household Goods Storage Frequent Waste Of Dollars

The proper storage of household goods by military personnel could save the government a good deal of money.

Officials say short term storage runs into more money than the service member may realize. Goods put in storage for even one day mean a charge for one month.

Sometimes the serviceman doesn't tell the transportation officer when he arrives at the new station, or doesn't tell him when he has found new quarters.

Transferring military personnel with household goods are urged to notify transportation officers at both ends of the trip of all possible information about plans and time of arrival. Included in this information should be the leave address and/or phone number where he may be reached should the transportation officers require more information.

Goods to be stored at the shipping end should not be scheduled to arrive at the man's destination prior to his arrival day. For the serviceman's concern, goods stored enroute mean double handling, which doubles the dangers of loss or damage.

Right To Vote Ours Also

America is a democracy and Americans are democratic people. We, the members of the Armed Forces of a democratic nation, are limited or restricted in some, but not all of the liberties enjoyed by our civilian fellow-Americans.

These limitations and restrictions are necessary to the military way of life and they must be faced and lived up to. However, there is one liberty, we, as American citizens, are entitled to use fully. This is our right to vote.

It may be in the voting booth or it may be through an absentee ballot. Whatever form of vote, it is the vote that counts.

When we, put on the uniform of our service, we are accepting the responsibility of defending the rights and liberties of our nation and this includes the right to vote. As members of the Armed Forces we have just as much, or more at stake in an election as our civilian counterparts.

REMEMBER

Years ago . . . this week

- 11 Nov. 1942 — Elements of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing were heavily involved in the air battle of Guadalcanal.
- 12 Nov. 1824 — A detachment of Marines landed at Fajardo, Puerto Rico, to protect American interests.
- 12 Nov. 1929 — Maj. Gen. Commandant John A. Lejeune retired from the Marine Corps and became superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute.
- 13 Nov. 1868 — The Marine Corps emblem — the eagle, globe and anchor — was first recommended as the Marine Corps device.
- 14 Nov. 1943 — Elements of the 3d Marine Division fought the Battle of Coconut Grove, Bougainville.
- 15 Nov. 1950 — Elements of the 1st Marine Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Smith, reached the Chosin Reservoir in Korea.

The GLOBE is distributed free to service personnel of this camp every Thursday. No advertising accepted. Yearly subscription, $2.50.
The GLOBE receives Armed Forces Press Service (AFPS) material. All photos official USMC unless otherwise indicated.

Every available means is being used to inform service personnel of the voting procedures they should use and all of those who are eligible should use these recommended steps. It is up to us of the service to defend the voting right, so let us exercise this right ourselves.

Chaplain's Corner

How many times I have heard these words! "Chaplain, I try and try to do what's right. I know what you say is true but I just can't seem to be able to stand on my own two feet when temptations come. I usually end up doing what I know is wrong."

Frankly, I would be worried about the man or woman who doesn't have real temptations. As Paul said: "No temptation has come to you which is not common to man." Men and women do face real temptations from day to day, and, hourly. To deny it is to deny your existence. Although we learn the very best lessons of life and are aware and appreciative of God's creation and the breath of life, we still need help in overcoming temptations, all manner of sin and evil, and death itself. This kind of help we need can come only from God. The Psalmist expressed well in his prayer what the common prayer and supplication of each one of us should be.

"But who can discern his errors? Clear thou me from hidden faults. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me! . . . Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my rock and my redeemer." (Psalms 19:12-14).

Preserve Your Heritage

What is our American Heritage? It is many tangible things — like hotdogs, popcorn and hoe-downs — that come to us through our history. Our heritage is also made up of intangible things handed down to us to keep and cherish as sacredly American.

Without doubt the most precious part of our heritage is freedom. If we had not rallied to freedom's cause — in 1776, 1812, 1917, 1941 and 1950 — that part of our heritage might well have vanished. If it had vanished it might well have destroyed the rest of our heritage.

Men and women in uniform, above all others, should never become complacent, for freedom is a perishable condition to be zealously guarded. Servicemen stand in the forward line of guardians of freedom across the globe.

Throughout our history the task of guarding and perpetuating the four basic freedoms had been the most important responsibility of those in the service. These four freedoms — freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom of movement and freedom from fear — head the list of gifts that are our heritage as Americans.

How many of these freedoms do the people of the Communist world enjoy? Few indeed.

But to Americans these freedoms form the basic, vital core of our heritage and are the foundation of our way of life. Without them we would have no heritage. Without them there would be no America. Let us guard them well.

MOVIE REVIEWS

SATAN NEVER SLEEPS

This is one of those pictures that is going to get its share of knocks, especially from the wiseguys with the button-down collars and minds to match, but its load of just-for-fun bellylaughs will surely drown out any critical clanging.

The film gets a head start with a uniquely sophisticated, yet seemingly naive, approach to a gingery subplot. A Chinese wait (Francis Yu) pursues a Catholic missionary priest (William Holden) with a simple, almost poetic ardor.

Holden resists her temptations in one hilarious situation after another against the grim and ruthless background of the occupation of China by the Chinese Reds.

THE THRILL OF IT ALL

Doris Day in another light-hearted comedy smash, is teamed in this movie with James Garner, a gynecologist and obstetrician and the loving husband of Miss Day, watches in bewilderment as a chance dinner outing results in her being placed in soap commercials.

As a new discovery in the advertising world, she rises in the dizzy circle of product publicity, and her sponsors slowly invade her private life.

Garner rebels, and the fun is on. One of the more hilarious moments occur when Garner, having thrown boxes of the sponsors' soap in an unwanted swimming pool, forgets its location and sinks the family car. Good fun and excellent family entertainment.

IT STARTED WITH A KISS

A brassy chorus girl (Debbie Reynolds) on the make for a rich husband, is seduced into marriage with a fast-talking Air Force supply sergeant (Glenn Ford). The arrival of the pert opportunist at the Spanish air base where her new husband is stationed sets off a stream of complications.

She has brought with her the fabulous custom-built car he had won in a raffle, and its possession subjects him to a tremendous income tax, as well as the active disapproval of his commanding officer and some visiting Congressmen. He must contend with Debbie's open contempt for regulations applying to Air Force wives, with a treading who covets both his wife and his car, and finally with her declaration that there will be a month's suspension of the marriage to determine if their marriage is based solely on physical attraction.

The cast is gay, the gowns and jewels gorgeous and the extravagant, colorful views of Spain — which include a bullfight and a wedding — couldn't be lovelier.

Prominent reviewers blasted the film for "a constant play of risqué dialogue and situations, and an unrelenting concentration on become heavy-handed, repetitive and tasteless." As the film has not been seen by the GLOBE staff, we suggest you make their word for it and leave the children at home.

THE GUN HAWK

Rory Calhoun wipes out the two killers of his drunken father by shooting them from ambush in the darkness, and is wounded by the sheriff. The wounded arm becomes the determining factor in his life as he fights, and in his ultimate decision to rise from a sick bed and command his closest friend into a gun duel.

Rated "good" by reviewers, the more selective moviegoer may find this western to be in the same pattern set by dozens before it.

THE MOUNTAIN

"The Mountain" is a mountain-climbing drama starring Spencer Tracy, Robert Wagner, Claire Trevor and other prominent actors.

Spencer Tracy is an aging mountain climber whose younger brother, Wagner, decides to climb a dangerous mountain after a plane crash near the summit.

Tracy, interested in the climb as a mercy mission, learns that Wagner wants to reach the top to rob the dead passengers of the plane crash.

The mountain-climbing scenes in this movie, coupled with a forceful plot and creditable performances, make this an "on the edge of your seat" type of film. Rated "very good."

FOR LOVE OR MONEY

Kirk Douglas, Mitzl Gaynor, Gig Young, Thelma Ritter and William Bendix are cast in this new, bright comedy.

Douglas, as Thelma's lawyer, is given the monumental job of matching three of her daughters with the husbands she has chosen for them.

One daughter is a beatnik, another a body-building nut and a third a determined career girl. Two have temporary crushes on Douglas, but finally are steered into the chosen husbands by the scheming lawyer.

The third (Miss Gaynor) falls head-over heels for Douglas, and he sees his $100,000 fee going down the drain.

In the midst of it all, is the casual interference of comedian Gig Young, and misadventure after misadventure aboard a bachelor's yacht jointly owned by Douglas and himself.

This is a good, entertaining comedy, but may be a little sophisticated for the younger set.

THE LIEUTENANT WORE SKIRTS

This comedy stars Tom Ewell, Sheree North and Rita Moreno. When a TV writer is recalled to active Air Force duty, his young wife enlists in the WAFs to be with him.

As she is inducted, he is rejected on medical grounds, so he joins the servicemen's wives at the Hawaii air base where his mate is stationed.

Young Curiosity May

(Editor's Note: The brand names of the products shown in the following feature have nothing to do with the poisonous nature of these and other household products. Their poisonous nature is in the products themselves if improperly used or taken internally.)

The curiosity of a small child can often bring grief to those who care the most.

Searching minds of small children lead them to venture into places and things that could cause a severe injury, even death according to the gravity of their query.

No one wishes to see a small child suffer pain and discomfort because some adult has been negligent. Leaving in the reach of small children dangerous chemicals and medical preparations endangers the life of a child.

A child does not distinguish between candy, juice, and harmful preparations before he eats or drinks them. Such material is just another handy thing to put into his mouth. It is the responsibility of adults to see to it that their small children are safe from anything that may be harmful.

Today on the market are products with many attractive and bright colors designed to attract the attention of shoppers. When a parent purchases these articles, whether they be furniture polish in a bright red can, disinfectant with a nice smell or aspirins with a candy taste, all of which are necessary in daily life and are good when properly used, he must remember they can be detrimental in the hands of a child.

The Naval hospital here reports 164 cases of poisonings in children since January 1, 1963. On a National level, more than 500,000 cases of poisoning in children have been reported since January 1, 1963. Last year there were 337 reported cases of child poisonings at Camp Lejeune. Thus far here this year there have been no fatal cases.

CHILD POISON

On a national level the more than 500,000 accidental poisonings happened to children five years old and younger. Proper safeguards by parents could have prevented most of these accidents, of which 500 were fatal.

Statistics at Lejeune's Naval Hospital show that the two most common agents of child poisoning are children's aspirins and household cleaning products.

Hydrocarbons such as kerosene, gasoline, lighter fluids, polishes, and oils, attract a child because of their color, smell, taste, and soft drink-like bottles.

The "candy" crystals; lye, drano, sani-flush and others are not candy for the kiddies. Keep them far out of their reach.

Prevention and emergency care of poison victims is taught in all Red Cross First Aid courses. At this time, there are some 25,000 classes in progress around the country.

The following recommendations to prevent small

children from swallowing household items which are poisonous are listed:

1. Lock up drugs, insecticides, detergents, and cleaning materials, or store them well beyond children's reach. Remember that children learn to climb at an early age — before they can tell the difference between harmless and harmful substances.

2. Return the dangerous items to safe storage places immediately after using.

3. Keep harmful house-eyes; flush the area with plenty of tap water and consult a physician.

2. If taken internally, and the substance taken is not oil, or lye compounds, the victim should be given warm soapy water with a raw egg to produce vomiting. A finger placed in the back of the throat will also produce the same effect.

3. If oils or lye compounds have been taken internally do not induce vomiting because it could cause more internal damages. Instead, rush the victim to the nearest physician.

4. Warm salt water is not advised for use on small children because if too much salt is used and the salt is not returned it could cause harmful effects on a small child.

5. Keep in the medicine chest, a preparation called "Syrup of Ipecac." A tablespoonful usually causes the victim to vomit. Use only the Syrup of Ipecac because other forms of this preparation could be dangerous.

6. After giving first aid, have the person examined by a physician immediately.

If the seven preventions are followed it will reduce the times that the treatments are administered and less lives will be endangered.

Give your children a chance for survival. Don't be their executioners.

hold items in their original containers. Do not transfer them to mason jars, milk or soft drink bottles.

4. Children are imitative — do not take medicines in their presence, because even nonpoisonous medicine such as vitamin tablets can be dangerous if taken in large quantities by a small child.

5. In administering medicines to children, refer to them as "medicine," not as "candy." Always take or give medicine in well lighted rooms and always read the label first.

6. When the illness for which a medicine was prescribed is over, dispose of the remaining medicine by flushing it down the drain.

7. Rinse all containers thoroughly before discarding.

In case the preventions are neglected or simply didn't fit the case, and your child or your neighbor's child is a poison victim take these First Aid Steps:

1. If the harmful compounds are on the outer surface of the skin or in the

Devildogs Merit Support

This Saturday at 10 a.m. the varsity football team will face the highly vaunted Fort Bragg "Dragons." This figures to be one of the toughest teams we'll face all year in the East Coast Interservice Conference.

At the same time it is one of the most important games of the year. If we win this one we have a good chance to end the season tied for first place in the conference. If we lose, there is almost no chance at all.

Make no mistake about it, our team can beat the Dragons; furthermore, we can help them do it.

To help our team, the first thing we must do is be there for the game. Liversedge Field will hold 8,998 spectators. It hasn't been full yet.

The next thing we must do is let our team know we're there. Do this by cheering for them. At the same time this lets them know we're on their side.

In the three home games played so far this season, the spectators have been 100 percent behind our team only one time. Our team deserves better than that.

One thing can be depended on in the Fort Bragg game. The Devildogs will be in there fighting every minute of the game, win, lose, or draw.

Can they depend on us being in the stands supporting them every minute of the game?

Manners At Golf Course

There seems to be a recurring problem on the golf course lately, pertaining to proper dress.

A person will go out dressed in utilities or dungarees (blue jeans, levis, etc.), be informed by the starter that he can't play until he conforms with Base Order 1710.19, para. 5, and then this person will proceed to berate, argue with, attempt to pull rank on, or otherwise give the starter, who is doing the job he is paid for, a hard time.

If you do this, no matter what your rank or status, you are wrong; morally wrong and wrong by the orders for the golf course. The starter has every right to put your name before the Camp Golf Committee for action.

The rules for the mode of dress on the golf course shouldn't place a burden on anybody. They specify that "the upper part of the body will be covered at all times." That isn't bad. We doubt that anyone cares much about playing golf without a shirt. Along this line, you can't wear an undershirt as an outer garment on the course.

The order further specifies that dungarees or utilities will not be worn. That applies to everyone, including dependent children.

Shoes will conform to the normal pattern of golf shoes as regards to spikes or cleats. Smooth soled shoes or field shoes may be worn. You can't wear football, track, baseball or soccer shoes, or any other form of spiked shoe.

These rules are not hard or expensive to comply with, they are made for a reason, and if not obeyed the starter is completely justified in prohibiting you, or any member of your party from playing golf.

If you are one of the persons who has given the starter a hard time, do one thing. Put yourself in his place, and see how you would feel about a person who conducted himself as you did.

2d MAF Takes Honors In FMFLant Grid Meet

The 2d Marine Air Wing touch football team didn't play the part of the gracious host last week as they walked off with the 1963 Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, touch football championship by beating three of the four visiting teams from the Quad Command.

The Wing team won the right to represent the FMF in the Atlantic Fleet Tournament at Norfolk, November 18-22 by beating Base Materiel Bn., 2d FSR, 36-13, in the tourney final.

In the opening round Force Troops, Atlantic, evened the score with Base Materiel by reversing the earlier decision, 19-13. Base Materiel beat Force Troops in the All-Camp Lejeune touch football championship earlier in October.

In other first round action the 2d Marine Division team bowed to MAG-26, 27-26. The 2d Wing team walloped MAG-26, 37-12 in the third game.

In the loser's bracket Base Materiel eliminated 2d Marine Division with an easy 33-13 victory. The Wing team moved closer to the championship by downing Force Troops, 12-6.

In the semi-final round, Force Troops and Base Materiel met in the "rubber" game with Base Materiel advancing to the finals by dumping the pesky Force Troops team, 36-21.

The 2d Wing team left no doubt as to their intentions of going to Norfolk as they jumped on Base Materiel early and coasted to a 36-13 victory the FMFLant tourney and a berth in the Atlantic Fleet tourney.

Local Diving Club Moves For Winter

Cold weather and rough seas have driven most of the Sea Urchins indoors. That is, to the indoor pool. Classes are still being held every Tuesday night, 7 p. m. at the area Five pool. Besides giving instructions on SCUBA, these inventive souls have a new game called Underwater POLO. In due time and with much practice, they expect to compete with other clubs.

Devildogs Battle Dragons Saturday at 10 a.m.

Lejeune Downs Dix In Gridiron Battle

The Devildogs remained in contention for top slot in the East Coast Interservice Conference by clobbering the Fort Dix Burros 36-24 last Sunday.

Lejeune jumped into the lead in the second quarter on a 20 yard run by Charlie Heard. Lejeune's place kicker, Clark Blake missed his first point after touchdown of the season on the resulting conversion attempt. He had kicked 12 straight before this effort.

Dix then took advantage of a

Marine miscue to tie the game. A bad snap from center through the backfield at the end zone, where an player downed the ball for a touchdown.

Later in the game Frankling and Tony Harris each added up scores, both on a drive, with the players over from the five yard line.

Paul Terhes and Mike teamed up to collect a score. Terhes faded back and threw 12 yards to Dur who took the pass in the end zone.

62 YARD RUN

Charlie Heard made the most and most spectacular of the day when he blasted through the line, eluded the secondary defense and galloped 62 yards to paydirt.

Burro quarterback Aldrich made a concerted effort at the Marine line in the second half. He hurled two touchdown passes and a TD across from his forward line.

Charlie Heard was named as the offensive player of the week by the coaching staff. He ran the ball nine times to pick up 101 yards. Two of the runs were called back by penalties. One was a 18 yards and the other was a 20 yards. He also scored two touchdowns, and ran almost all the back for good yardage.

Don Kunkel was named as most outstanding defensive player. He blocked a punt attempt, recovered a fumble, shared honors for the most tackles with Charlie Giland played hard, aggressive all the time.

EXTRA YARDS—A Devildog picks up three extra yards before being dragged down, after shaking off the Ft. Dix tackler on the ground.

Quantico Marines Upset

The almost invincible Quantico Marines furnished proof to the old football maxim that "any team can beat any other team" when they were rolled under 13-0 by the Fort Eustis Wheels last Saturday.

Besides spoiling Quantico's unbeaten season record of eight wins and no losses, the Wheel's victory throws open the doors to top spot in the East Coast Interservice Conference.

Capitalizing on two Marine errors the Wheels were able to push a pair of touchdowns across, while the Army defense performed the nearly impossible, holding Quantico scoreless.

The first score came after the Marines fumbled on their own 21 yard line, with only 58 seconds left in the first half. After moving the ball to the Marines 6 yard mark Ben Charles passed to Tom Boris for the TD. George Burdette kicked the point after touchdown to set the score at 7-0.

In the third period Tom Boris intercepted a Marine pass at the same spot where the earlier Marine fumble occurred. Getting down to the one yard line with the aid of a 15 yard penalty against the Marines, Ben Charles smashed through the line on a quarterback keeper to set the game score at 13-0.

The strongest Marine threat came early in the game. After driving 50 yards to the Eustis four yard line the Quantico eleven couldn't get to paydirt.

2d FAG, 8th Engineer Bn. Undefeated In Basketball

As the Force Troops intramural basketball season moves into its third week of action, three teams have established themselves as possible contenders for the league title.

Headquarters Company, 2d Field Artillery Group and 8th

Engineer Bn., are all undefeated and have all shown possibilities of being the "over team" of the league.

Headquarters Company, short on practice time (to the FMFLant football playoffs), has racked up convincing wins over 2d ANGLICO and 2d AmTracBn, while Engineers adds victories over 2d Radio Co. for a forfeit win over 2d AmTracBn.

Second FAG, the only undefeated team, holds a win over 8th Motor Transport Bn.

Defending league champion, 8th Communication Bn., won't open defense of its crown until November 18 when it faces 2d ANGLICO. The only other team late in getting started is Bridge Company who opens season last Tuesday.

WINNING STYLE — Della Koyiades, winner of the Del Kenney Ladies Golf Assn. Trophy Match, tees off during a practice round.

Deer Hunting Tips Given By State Game Biologist

Each year many sportsmen go deer hunting in unfamiliar territory and with little or no knowledge of the habits of deer or of hunting techniques. Usually these endeavors end with exhausted or lost hunters, reports of glimpses of fleeting deer or no deer seen, and vows to never go deer hunting again.

Deer hunting can be a most enjoyable and rewarding sport if the hunter takes time to properly plan his hunt and apply a few proven techniques based on the habits of the animals.

Prior to the hunt the hunter should scout the area armed with a map, compass and someone who has been there before. Careful attention should be given to land marks such as trails, roads, rock formations and streams. Locate these landmarks on the map and keep them in mind.

DEER HABITS

Look for fresh sign, such as tracks, trails, beds, crossings, pawing and rubs. Take note of these signs and keep them in mind when choosing a stand.

The deer begins his day in late afternoon. At this time they leave the bed and begin to feed. They feed, frolic and play until about midnight and then start feeding again just before dawn. Poor mast crops or storm fronts may cause the deer to feed later in the morning and earlier in the afternoon.

The bed site is usually located on a ridge, knoll or other natural elevation in relatively dense cover, or in sunlit openings, depending on the weather and terrain.

During the rut, the buck does not adhere to the feeding and bedding pattern as closely as the doe. He spends much less time feeding and bedding and and others when a hot trail is picked up.

The stander is alerted by the dogs when a deer is approaching. The stander should watch carefully well ahead of the dogs, as the deer will be some distance in advance.

ORGANIZED DRIVE

In suitable terrain a third type of hunting known as the "organized drive" can be an effective method. The drive can be conducted by either the single line or the enclosed method.

In the single line method several hunters orient themselves several yards apart in a single, straight line and move at a uniform silent, slow pace into the wind. Some times the hunter who jumps the deer gets a shot but more often it is one of his companions further down the line.

Occasionally a deer will double back through the drive line. A shot should never be attempted at these deer until they are well past the line and in back of the hunters.

The enclosure drive can be successfully effected by locating standers on three sides of the area and establishing a drive line on the fourth side. The drive line then moves at a uniform walk to the opposite

Pendleton Boxers Eye Olympic Trials

CAMP PENDLETON--With a record of 10 wins and 1 loss in the CISM boxing competition still fresh in his mind, Camp Pendleton's boxing coach, Freddie Lenn, has in preparation for the coming season.

After tryouts in August, the top Pendleton fighters began their season last month. They continue fighting until the Olympic trials which will be held during May.

Lenn pointed out that his fighters this year will have a chance to qualify for the Olympic trials. They may win a medal by: (1) becoming an All-Marine Champ (2) being a winner or runner-up in the National AAU's (3) becoming a winner in the Western Regional competition (4) winning an interservice championship, or (5) by winning a slot on the CISM boxing team.

Coach Lenn has made sure there are plenty of bouts scheduled for his fighters before the big tournaments, so they can get experience.

Returning from last year's All-Marine championship team are: Lawrence Armendariz, Ramon Rosales, Tony Alvarado, Charlie Brown, Roosevelt Sanders, Alton Lane, Chester Winters, Mike Frazier, Raymond Russell, and Al Wilson.

Last year the Camp Pendleton team went undefeated, and won their third consecutive All-Marine title.

Little League Football

After sweeping over a scrappy Smithfield team, 45 to 0, with a modified squad Saturday, the Boys League Bears wound up their season with a 27-6 decision over the Redskins on the following Monday. Earlier in the day the Eagles took a one-year lease on second place by hobbling the Colts, 18-6.

In Tiny Tot action, also on Monday, the race for the title still goes on as the Browns lost their chance to wrap up first place when the Rams dropped them from the unbeaten, unscored upon ranks, 6 to 0. Not to be outdone in the upset department the winless Vikings hit their stride and romped over the Lions, 19-0.

The 19th Hole By BOB SPENCER

Chipping and putting problems encountered on frozen ground are often exaggerated by inexperienced golfers.

Except for the temperature, the green in winter is not unlike hardpacked ground in the summer. An allowance must be made for a hard bounce off the firmer ground.

Many golfers make the mistake of trying to minimize the bounce by trying to loft the ball gently into the air instead of hitting through it. As a result, the ball usually pulls up short of the target.

It is very important to hit the ball with a descending stroke and let the club head supply the loft.

For short chips up to 25 yards, I address the ball with a slightly open stance, heels about 5-6 inches apart so that I am comfortable and play the ball off my right heel.

You should put more weight on your left foot to promote a descending stroke. For longer chips I widen my stance and play the ball about two inches inside the right heel.

Since the ball will bounce farther on hard ground, aim shorter than if the ground were soft.

Rod & Gun Club Holds Meeting

The Camp Lejeune Rod and Gun Club will hold its monthly meeting November 14, at 7 p.m. at the French Creek Club House.

All members, or persons interested in becoming members are urged to attend the meeting.

You may want to try both the "stand" of still hunting or the careful stalk of pursuit. Don't simply "walk through the woods."

more time searching for the doe. A buck will often follow a doe for quite a while before she becomes receptive of his attention. The hunter should pay special attention after a doe has passed his stand.

The still hunter has the choice of choosing a stand and waiting for a deer to come within shooting range or walking slowly and cautiously along a trail or road until a deer is sighted. Silence and slow movement are essential for the walking hunter. In still hunting, one must remember that any sudden movement or the slightest scent of man will alarm a deer. Therefore the hunter must make all moves accordingly and always hunt into the wind.

USING DOGS

Due to dense cover and swamps in some areas dogs are used to flush the deer. When this type of hunting is employed, the person in charge of the hunt places hunters on stands along two or more sides of the area to be hunted. Stands are located at crossings, along trails, roads and natural openings. When the standers are in place, one or more dog handlers enter the area from the opposite side with a pack of dogs. Some of the dogs are usually released when they enter the area side. As the line passes each stander, he joins the drive line and becomes a driver.

For information concerning organized deer hunts, personnel interested can contact WO Thomason at ext. 7-3405 or general base hunting information can be obtained from BO 1710.20.

Season Opens For Rabbit And Quail

All hunters of rabbit and quail who have not taken out the old scatter gun, oiled it up, snap shot, worked out the precision swing, tried on boots and hunting clothes, dreamed of running beagles or staunchly pointing bird dogs, or done hundreds of other things nimrods usually do in preparation for the hunting season, had better get busy.

The season opens November 23, almost a week ahead of the traditional Thanksgiving Day opening.

Bag limits for rabbits are five daily, 10 in possession, with the quail limit being set at eight daily and 16 in possession.

The season closes February 15.

Varsity Basketball Team Shapes Up For Opener

As the season's opening basketball game against Quantico nears, coach Joe Walsh is naming up his team for the contest. Twelve men have survived the personnel cuts since retraining began October 7. Returnees from last year's team are: Sonny Smith, who is 10' tall, Jim McGee, 5' 9", Charles Turner, 6' 2", and Bill Gross, 6' 2".

Three players have service basketball experience. They are: Joe Gallagher, 6' 5", who played two years with the Hawaii Marines, Ernie Boyden, 6' 3", who played with the 14th District team in Hawaii, and Al Mahoney, 5' 11", who played with the Naval Air Station team at Atsugi, Japan.

Patrick Mahoney and Charles Dennis are two newcomers to the team with college experience. Mahoney played two years at Villanova, while Dennis got his experience at J. C. Smith University.

Other newcomers to the team are Bill Owens, 6', Jack Benson, 6' 3", and Bill Jenkins, 6' tall.

Right now the team is concentrating mostly on drills, in order to get in top shape, with some scrimmaging worked in.

Coach Walsh has no set plans for his offense and defense. He says his team will set up their defense according to the unit they're playing against.

Coach Walsh is pretty well satisfied with the progress of the team. He feels that they are improving with every practice, and that although there are no players who are apt to set any league scoring records, the men are good, solid ball players, and working together as a team they should take their share of victories this year.

LCpl. Interpreter In Med Given Friendship Token

Marine Lance Corporal Wasyli "Bill" Pohyba, Headquarters and Service Company, Battalion Landing Team 3/2, received a Token-medal of Friendship and Appreciation from Colonel Enrico Manzi, Chief of Staff, Military Command Sardinia, Italian Army, for acting as interpreter for the colonel and his staff when they observed the recent landing and field problem by BLT 3/2 at Aranci Bay, Sardinia.

The token is round, silver-colored with a mounted rider on horseback carrying the Sardinian Military Command's guidon—a red cross on a white field. In the background is the village of Calla. On the reverse side is the name of the command, LCpl. Pohyba's name and the date.

Pohyba, a member of the 2d Interrogator/Translator Team, Headquarters Company, Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force Atlantic, is attached to the BLT as an interpreter.

No stranger to foreign languages, he speaks French, Russian, Ukrainian and a little Polish. Born in the Ukraine on Christmas, 1937, Pohyba later moved to the south of Belgium where he learned French and living near many Russians and Poles was able to learn their languages as well.

In addition to the token, LCpl. Pohyba received a hand tooled leather cigarette case and match case.

FT SSgt. Lauded For Maint. Ability

SSgt. Jessie J. Singleton, of 2D Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, was congratulated by Group Commander, Col. F. R. Schlesinger, and presented with a meritorious mast for "noteworthy performance of duty." The Meritorious Mast read in part:

"Since joining the 2d Field Artillery Group on June 27, 1962, SSgt. Singleton has performed the duties of Hq. Battery Motor Transport Non-Commissioned Officer and Group Maintenance Chief in an exemplary manner. His conscientious efforts and superior technical knowledge of motor transport maintenance resulted in a consistently low number of combat vehicles being deadlined prior to the commanding general's inspection of Battery vehicles for the inspection. As a direct result of his tireless application and superior technical knowledge the Battery received a 95 percent rating in motor transport, the highest rating ever achieved by a unit of the 2d Field Artillery Group. In addition, Staff Sergeant Singleton has always displayed the highest degree of military leadership and by his personal example has been an inspiration to his subordinates."

New Courses Here Prepared By MCI

The Marine Corps Institute has announced the opening of two new courses, one on the towed 107 mm mortar (Howtar) and "Operations Against Guerrilla Forces."

The Howtar course includes instruction on nomenclature and characteristics of the towed 107-mm mortar, duties of the cannoneers; boresighting; safety precautions; preventive maintenance; care and handling of ammunition, and destruction of equipment to prevent enemy use.

"Operations Against Guerrilla Forces," prepared for sergeants and below in all occupational fields, will help students to understand counter-guerrilla operations as they apply to the individual Marine and the small unit.

The subject matter of the course includes the history and evolution of guerrilla forces; the organization and combat support of counter-guerrilla operations; patrolling; immediate action drills; ambushes; attacks on guerrilla camps and villages; and security and population control.

Activities Calendar

Group II, OWC

Members of Group II of the Officers' Wives' Club will turn their thoughts towards Christmas decorations when they meet at the Paradise Point Officers Club, Thursday, November 21, for a luncheon in the Lejeune Room.

Mrs. O. J. Morell and wives of officers of Automatic Supply and Distribution Battalion will be hostesses and the event will begin with a social hour at 11 a. m. with lunch being served at 12 noon.

Invitations have been extended to Mrs. A. L. Bowser, Mrs. W. J. VanRyzin, Mrs. R. McC. Tompkins, Mrs. D. J. Robertson and Mrs. James Taul, president of the Officers' Wives' Club.

Mrs. Bea Black, hostess and decorator of the Paradise Point Officers' Club will be guest speaker. Mrs. Black will give suggestions for decorating your door at Christmas. The secret of well coordinated decorations is in planning and the thought that goes before the work begins. Many interesting thoughts will be shared by the speaker on the use of various materials.

Group IV, OWC

The wives of 2nd Service Battalion of Camp Lejeune will host the November meeting of Group IV of the Officers' Wives' Club on Wednesday, November 20. Instead of a regular luncheon, the group will attend a tour of the Montford Point Steward School.

The tour will begin at 10 a. m. promptly, and there will be a small charge. Reservations will be limited to paid members and those arriving Camp Lejeune after October 16. No reservations will be accepted before Wednesday, November 13, or

RED CROSS CAPPING CEREMONIES

The Red Cross will hold capping ceremonies for Gray Ladies and Staff Aides who completed a session of Training Classes.

The ceremonies will be held November 18, at 10 a. m. at the USNH. All volunteers are invited.

CERAMICS CLASS—A beginners class in ceramic fundamentals was opened Tuesday, Nov. 5, at Bldg. 1107. Maj. E. S. Lambert, Assistant Special Services Officer, opened the classes with a short talk. The classes are every Tuesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. for a period of six weeks. The instructor, Mrs. Peggy Jackson, demonstrates to Mr. Orrcott, Youth Community Activities Director, Maj. E. S. Lambert and two students one of the basic procedures in ceramics.

Staff Wives' Club Adopts Indian Boy

Have you ever wanted to do something for the under privileged children of the world?

The Staff Wives have adopted an American Indian child, Kenneth Webb. He is the adopted child's name and he was born in Arizona of Hualapai-Yuma parentage. His father has been dead for some years and the mother has managed as best she could under their continuing adverse circumstances.

Kenneth Webb

Both Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune wives send Kenneth gifts on holidays and provides clothing and other necessities. They are giving this Indian child a chance at life and a little happiness as he grows up.

BOY SCOUTS

The Onslow District Court of Honor will be held on Tuesday night, Nov. 19th, at 7:30 p. m. at the Stone Street Elementary School. Host troop for this event will be troop 590 of Berkeley Manor. Maximum attendance by Base Scout Troops is requested.

Officers' Wives Combine; Ready Christmas Bazaar

The Officers' Wives' Club of Camp Lejeune will hold their annual Christmas Bazaar, Monday, December 2, from 4 to 6 p. m. at the Paradise Point Officers' Club.

The Bazaar is for the purpose of furthering the scholarship fund and all proceeds will go towards that goal. In past years it has been the custom of the Officers' Wives' Club to hold their socials not only short lived socials but for long term human-an gains and so each year the Officers' Wives' Club privilege to present scholarships to deserving graduates of Camp Lejeune High School.

All eight groups of the Officers' Wives' Club have been working for many weeks now gathering materials, exchanging ideas and setting up workshops. As there is no competition among groups this year anyone can contribute to any booth depending on her talents or desires.

From now until December 2, there will be workshops and committee meetings covering the following projects. Group I, Christmas Decorations; Group II, White Elephant; Group III, Toys and Doll Clothes; Group IV, Kitchen Kubbard; Group V, Boutique; Group VI, Pantry Shelf; Group VII, Kiddie Corner and Group VIII, Parcel Post and Plants.

For information on the times and places of specific workshops contact the Christmas Bazaar Chairman, Mrs. J. A. Horn or the co-chairman, Mrs. J. W. Wagensell.

GIRL SCOUTS

Two more training courses for adults now affiliated with the phase of Girl Scouting or anyone wanting to learn about the Girl Scout program have been scheduled for November and December at the Montford Point Nursery. A pack should be provided for children left there.

Job training (group leadership) will be held Nov. 13, 14, 15, 18, 19 from 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. Makeup sessions will be held for leaders who did not complete the first course and would like to receive extra instruction.

Instruction in songs and games will be Dec. 9 and 10 from 9:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m.

Recipe Of The Week

Swedish Meat Balls in Caper Sauce

- 1 lb. lean beef, ground
- 3/4 cup wheat germ flakes
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 1 egg
- 1-1/2 tsp. salt, divided
- 1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
- 1-1/4 cups milk, divided
- 2 tbs. vegetable oil
- 1 tbs. flour
- 1 cup half and half (milk and cream)
- 2 tbs. drained capers
- Dash pepper

Combine beef, wheat germ, onion, egg, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and 3/4 cup milk; mix well. Shape into 36 small balls (1 rounded tablespoon for each ball). Brown meat balls in hot oil, turning to brown all sides; remove from pan. Stir flour into pan drippings. Add remaining milk and salt, half-and-half and capers. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thickened. Return meat balls to sauce. Cover; simmer about 10 minutes. Makes four to six servings. To round out the meal, serve mashed potatoes, carrot circles and crisp tossed green salad.

A HOT ONE—LCpl. Tommy J. Halstead, H&S Co., Base Materiel Bn., points out some of the technical aspects of the space heaters that Chaplain G. M. Leonard, Asst. Base Chaplain thought he might have to use for his services according to the GLOBE article.

Ship Named For Marine

The escort ship GARCIA (DE-1040) was launched at the Bethlehem Steel Company, San Francisco, California, October 31, 1963.

The GARCIA is named in honor of PFC Fernando Luis Garcia, USMC, who was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor for sacrificing himself to save the life of another Marine during action in Korea on September 5, 1952. Garcia was the first native of Puerto Rico to be awarded the Medal of Honor.

Mrs. Daisy Garcia de Alvarez, sister of Garcia, sponsored the ship.

Principal speaker at the launching ceremony was Major General S. S. Wade, commanding general, Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California.

The GARCIA will have the integral bow-mounted long range sonar, variable depth sonar and will carry the drone antisubmarine helicopter (DASH), as well as an antisubmarine rocket launcher (ASROC) and antisubmarine torpedo launchers. She will have a single five-inch 54 caliber mount for limited self defense. GARCIA is 414 feet, six inches long, has a beam of one inch and displaces 3,403 tons.

Courage is, on all hands, considered as an essential of high character.—James Anthony Froude

Natl. Education Week In Progress

President John F. Kennedy has proclaimed Nov. 10-16 as American Education Week.

"Our future progress in promoting peace and good will in the outside world," the President said, "depends upon the fullest possible educational opportunity for all citizens."

Theme of American Education Week will be "Education Strengthens the Nation." The observance will be jointly sponsored by the National Education Association (NEA), the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the American Legion and the United States Office of Education.

"The urgency and magnitude of the educational task before us make it imperative that every citizen actively support, and participate in, the accomplishment of that task," the Chief Executive said in his proclamation.

He cited a need to widen the frontiers of medicine, sciences, the social sciences, industry and the arts.

A handbook produced by the NEA in observance of American Education Week states that "it is not just coincidence that American Education week occurs at the same time set aside to honor those who fought in America's wars."

"In a very real way, our schools have helped keep us free, winning our freedoms not only on the battlefield but also in our everyday affairs."

MCX Cafeteria Will Be Closed

Nov. 25-Dec. 2

The Marine Corps Exchange Cafeteria-Restaurant, building 1006, will close for renovations effective Nov. 25, through Dec. 2, and will re-open on the following dates:

The Chinese Room and Steak House on Dec. 3.

The Restaurant portion approximately Jan. 6, 1963.

Officers and civilians employed aboard this base are authorized to eat noon meals during this period, Nov. 25 through Dec. 2 in Mess Hall 1209.

Meals will be served cafeteria style and eaten in that section set aside for Officers and civilians. The charge for the meal will be $.65 and will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. daily in the Northwest wing.

Leatherneck Salutes

Free World Corps

"A salute to the Marine Corps of the Free World" will be the theme of the anniversary issue of LEATHERNECK MAGAZINE, which will appear on the newstands early in November.

The training, mission, history and organization of Marine units of 19 countries are featured.

"This is one of the biggest projects we've ever undertaken for a November issue," reports GYSgt. Mel Jones, the magazine's chief writer. "We began working on the November issue last spring, and considering the amount of research we had to do, we should have started even earlier."

While collecting material for the articles, staff writers visited the embassy of each country concerned, in addition to writing U. S. Marine Detachments, Military Assistance Advisory Groups and Regional Marine Officers around the world. Whenever possible, the writers interviewed officers from each country, in order to get personal points of view concerning the nation's Marine unit. As a result, the November issue of LEATHERNECK is expected to become a collector's item.

Liberty and Communism

Rights of Political Minorities

One of the earmarks of modern democracy is the right of individuals to oppose the government. This is based on the fundamental rights of freedom of speech and press. Another corollary right is the liberty of citizens to form political parties that oppose the government.

Modern democracy implies rule by the majority of the people under a constitutional system which, among other things, protects the rights of the minority. Under a two-party system, the party out of power is usually a minority party.

Notable recent exceptions to this rule have been the election of a Republican President and a Democratic Congress in the United States, and the election of a Conservative majority to the British House of Commons in 1951 when the Labour Party polled a larger number of the popular votes.

A racial or national group may be a minority, but it is not a political minority unless organized into a separate political party.

All totalitarian regimes, including communism, forbid opposition to the government and outlaw all opposition political parties. The dictatorship is controlled by a single elite party. In the Soviet Union, this party is the Communist Party. In turn, the Communist Party is under rigid discipline, controlled at the top by the Party Presidium.

SPEAKING OF FREEDOM...

"TILL MEN HAVE BEEN SOME TIME FREE, THEY KNOW NOT HOW TO USE THEIR FREEDOM."

...MACAULAY

While the United States has followed the two-party system throughout almost all of its political history, there has appeared a long succession of minor or third parties. The existence of these parties is protected by law.

In democracies, the minority party has an important function, in many respects as important as that of the party in power. This function is to examine and criticize the policies of the party in office. Its criticism must be responsible criticism; for, in case it causes the resignation of the party in office, it must be prepared to carry on the process of governing.

In 1903, when Lenin led the Bolshevik faction in the Russian Social Democratic Party, and when he was laying the foundations for the Communist state, he demanded political liberty, the right to form political parties and to elect members of a national legislature. Lenin declared that political liberty included: (1) free election of a national legislature; (2) freedom of speech and press; (3) freedom of the people to call meetings to discuss state affairs, commonly called the right of assembly; and (4) freedom to form associati political parties.

As soon as Lenin had made his conquest of power the Bolshevik Revolution he destroyed all of the political liberties and us notorious Cheka to shoot, or sentence to tration camps all active members of non-Communist Stalin and Khrushchev ed Lenin in advocating t party system.

As a result, there articulate political m in the Soviet Union. A political parties and grou side the Communist Pa have been crushed.

Marine Veteran Chosen Vice-President of MBA

Sgt. Maj. Quinton T. Barlow has been selected vice-president of the nation's oldest benefit association serving enlisted personnel.

The combat veteran owed up to that position last week during the Military Benefit Association's annual Board meeting held at the Association's office in Washington, D. C. Outgoing president Lamed Umfleet, a Marine Staff Sergeant, was succeeded by Army Sergeant Major Mel J. Greenagel.

Barlow became a director of the Military Benefit Association this year after transfer to Washington from Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

He will serve without pay, as do all Board members who are enlisted personnel from the Armed Forces.

MBA was founded in 1956 to provide enlisted personnel with benefits, such as life insurance, which were previously available only of ficers.

Television Special

WASHINGTON, D. C. The National Broadcasting Company's Television Network will present a 90-minute special entitled "That War In Korea" on November 20, 1963 at 7:30 p. m. EST.

The presentation is made up entirely of authentic news film. Pictorially, musically, and in the narration, the program will try to leave the audience with the feeling that the war in Korea was indeed the "strange war fought by man".

The program will mark the tenth anniversary of the agreement (July 27, 1953) that brought a cease fire to the three-year "Korean War" resulting in 43,629 American dead and 43,284 American wounded.

The United States Marines figure prominently in two sections of the program: the title for Seoul and Inchon; and the march to the sea from Chinhaungnam.
