UF Drive Reports Indicate Progress

United Fund Drive progress reports beginning to roll in to the office of Col. H. E. L. Zastrow, Camp Lejeune UF chairman, indicate that Quad-Command units are well on the way toward their respective goals in the campaign.

Col. Zastrow reported to the GLOBE that returns from the units are not complete enough yet to indicate relative standings among units. "By next week each command will have had its first regular payday since the beginning of the campaign," he said, "and we expect that by then we will be able to show comparative progress of the units within the Quad-Command complex. The reports that we have already received are encouraging and I am confident that we can reach our goal."

November 15 has been set as the end of the period of solicitation aboard the base. Co-Chairmen working with Col. Zastrow are Lt. Col. D. J. Wright, Marine Corps Base; Maj. J. W. Hammond, 2d Marine Division; Maj. K. W. Henry, Force Troops; Lt. Col. E. L. Barker, MCAF and Mr. R. H. Piper, Civilian Employees.

Target goals for the four commands are: Marine Corps Base, $21,935; 2d MarDiv, $46,594; Force Troops, $18,778; and MCAF, $8,693. No individual monetary quotas have been set, according to Base Bulletin 5340, although a suggested Guide to Giving in the bulletin shows a scale ranging from $2 for sergeants and below up to $12 for senior officers and senior civilian employees.

Corps Revises Warrant, LDO Structures In MOS

Results of a recent review of the Marine Corps' limited duty officer and warrant officer structures were announced by Headquarters Marine Corps.

The announcement revealed that as a result of the study, certain military occupational specialties will be added to those authorized for both WO's and LDO's. Other MOSs will be phased out in each category.

Headquarters reported that the purpose of the changes is to bring the limited duty officer and warrant officer structures into conformity with the criteria for the employment of these specialist officers and to meet current and future requirements of the Marine Corps.

Two MOSs were added to those which are authorized for LDOs. They are: aviation supply officer, 3080; and warehousing officer, 3095. Six MOSs will be phased out of the LDO category. These include: utilities officer, 1320; radar officer, 2710; radio officer, 2715; traffic management officer, 3102; financial management officer, 3406 and informational services officer, 4302.

In cases where an LDO MC is to be phased out, the number of warrant officers authorized for that field has been increased a like number.

Additions to the warrant officer structure include: intelligence analyst, 0220; intelligence language interrogation officer, 0250 and cryptologic/electronics warfare officer, 2515.

Five MOSs in the supply field (3015, 3020, 3025, 3030 and 3035) were consolidated under one MOS, 3010-unit supply officer. Warrant officers holding these specialties will be reclassified and given MOS 3010.

MOSs to be phased out of the warrant officer structure are: contracting officer, 3090; air support officer, 6708; air defense control officer, 6709 and ground control approach officer, 6720.

Officials at Headquarters said that in cases where MOSs are to be phased out of LDO and WO structures, the removal will not be completed until all officers in these categories are no longer in the Marine Corps as a result of retirement or other normal attrition.

It was pointed out that this change will have no adverse effect on the career of LDOs and WO's serving in MOSs to be phased out.

Military Housing Needs Outlined By Defense Sec.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told members of the Senate Armed Services Committee that decent housing for the wives and children of military men is a major concern. Testifying on the Fiscal Year 1964 Military Family Housing Program, Secretary McNamara stated that, "Chronic (housing) shortages still exist in many localities, both in the United States and overseas near military bases which are of critical importance to our military missions."

Married men constitute the bulk of our career personnel, Mr. McNamara declared, and these are the men who occupy the key positions and who possess the essential professional, leadership, and technical skills.

The Secretary presented a projected five-year military family housing requirement.

He requested funds to build 12,100 units this fiscal year and 12,500 during each of the next four years.

There are also plans for construction of 2,000 more trailer spaces. Also proposed is construction of 1,300 trailer spaces for military families who are not otherwise eligible for Government housing.

"Even today, all around the world, American servicemen are risking, and all too often losing their lives in the service of their country," the Defense Secretary told senators.

"For this unique hazard of the military profession we cannot compensate them. But we can and we should see to it that they at least share with the civilian population the rising American standard of living."

Base, FT Host To 100 Visitors

Approximately 100 explorer Scouts representing the Oconeechee Council, Boy Scouts of America, from Raleigh, N. C., visited Camp Lejeune, October 11 to 13.

The Scouts arrived last Friday evening and were escorted to the Engineer Schools, their hosts, where they had their evening meal and were briefed on the Base scouting program.

Saturday, they visited the 2d AmTrac Bn., Force Troops. A briefing on the characteristics of the amphibious tractor was given by 1st Lt. J. F. Carney, officer in charge of the amphibious tractor school.

Next on the agenda was a fifteen minute film which pointed out the different types of AmTrac's in the "AmTrac Family".

The scouts also observed a demonstration of the amphibious tractor being put through its paces in the water.

The finale of the AmTrac, was a thrilling ride through the "boondocks" in five of the amphibious vehicles.

After touring other Engineer Schools, the scouts observed a Karate demonstration, ate their evening meal and took a trip to the Courthouse Bay Theater for a movie.

Sunday morning they had the opportunity to attend the church of their choice then departed for home about noon.

The Continental Grenadier

By CPL. T. D. SMITH

On September 23, 1779, less than a year before the close of the American Revolutionary War, the old Bonhomme Richard, India Merchantman turned warship, rolled clumsily in the Irish sea. A month out of France, she had set sail for the British Isles with a squadron of French Privateers.

Captain John Paul Jones paced the decks of the Richard visibly agitated. He had intended to make a bold strike at the Scottish seaport of Leith, near Edinburgh, but a violent gale had strained his Indianman's aging canvas, separating her from the squadron and swept her far out to sea.

On the morning of the 28th, an English convoy, escorted by his Majesty's ships Serapis and the Countess of Scarborough, was sighted from the mainmast of the Richard and the Americans frantically threw on extra sail to close for an attack.

As the Richard closed to attempt a broadside, 175 Marine marksmen scrambled with grenades and muskets, high into the Richard's rigging. Grenades were primed and ramrods glinted in the morning sun as muskets were hurriedly loaded.

As the Richard delivered her first broadside, two cannon misfired, sending hot slivers of steel flying about the decks, killing or wounding the attendant crews. Panicked survivors refused to man the cannon left on the starboard rail. This left only the battery topside to carry on the fight.

The British crew cheered, anticipating an early victory, when Marine Lt. Edward Stack bellowed a command to his shooters in the Richard's rigging. The Marines responded by sending down a deadly hail of musket fire on the exposed decks of the Serapis.

Another British broadside struck the American's colors from her stern. The British captain called upon Jones to surrender the Richard, and it was here that "He made the immortal replay, 'Be damned to you sir, we have just begun to fight!'"

As if to punctuate Jones's bold reply, the Marines increased their deadly fire. The slaughter of British gun crews had begun in earnest. A few minutes later, they abandoned their cannon, leaving dead and wounded above.

The Marines in the rigging, enraged at losing 67 of their number without having a chance to board the Britisher, quickly directed their fire into the British gunports below decks to minimize the enemy fire, pouring now into the Richard's battered hull.

Meanwhile, high on the mainmast, a Marine private was engaged in the acrobatic feat of simultaneously hanging on for life to a shroud line, keeping his musket from plunging to the decks, and attempting to toss a grenade on the Serapis' exposed upper quarterdeck.

Noticing an open hatch, he mentally measured the distance to the rolling deck, took a final look at the enemy ship, then sent the grenade on its way with a high, arching toss.

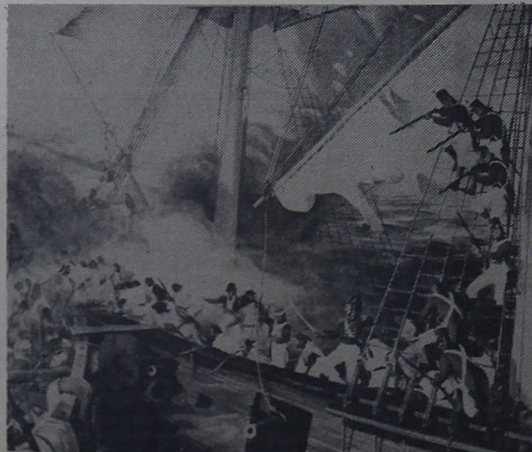

A British gunner screamed in horror and dived for the grenade, narrowly missing it as it bumped down an enclosed ladderway, coming to rest amidst several kegs of black powder.

The Marine's toss was rewarded with a bright flash and a thundering roar as the Serapis' magazine exploded.

After a final broadside from the Richard, Jones led his men over the stricken man-of-war's railing. Stack and his sharpshooting Leathernecks slid down the rigging and fixed bayonets. Resistance on the Serapis' decks was halted brutally with cutlass and bayonet.

The feats and exploits of Captain John Paul Jones are known to every American schoolchild. Perhaps someday, next to the bronze memorials to Jones, someone may erect a statue to the nameless Leatherneck, who, high in the rigging of a doomed ship, dropped his life hold on a shroud to strike defiantly at a powerful enemy.

His was the honor of helping to make possible the founding of a great American legend.

Navy, Marines an old team

Salvation Army's History Evidence Of Assistance

Founded in 1865 by William Booth, today's Salvation Army still accomplishing its mission of rendering aid to those in need. However, this cannot be done without financial support, which is gained only through donations to the United States.

Examples of how the Salvation Army has been of assistance to Camp Lejeune Marines in the past only go to show that all of them someday be benefited by their own U.F. donations.

A young Marine had been in service only a few months before he was medically discharged. His brother was stationed at Camp Lejeune and decided the discharged Marine to live and work in the slow area. However, a fun-infection flared up again his feet and his money was spent. He had to go home had no financial backing.

When the Salvation Army came where he was given a hot lodging, a meal and the go home.

Last winter, two Marines and themselves stranded in New Bern area while returning to Lejeune. It was late night when they went to the Salvation Army for assistance. There they spent the night, had breakfast and were again on their way to base in the morning.

A family of six was traveling through Jacksonville, their gas and funds nearly exhausted. Their destination was Virginia where they hoped to find work. Making contact with one of the assistance agencies in Jacksonville, they were referred to the Salvation Army. The family was given milk for their baby and meals for the rest.

MC Cold Weather School Renamed

The Marine Corps' Cold Weather Training Center at Bridgeport, Calif., has been redesignated as the Mountain Warfare Training Center.

The Center was established in 1950, to indoctrinate Marines ordered to Korea in the rigors of living in extreme cold, deep snow and mountainous terrain. The Corps' Escape, Evasion and Survival Course, also conducted at Bridgeport, will be redesignated as the Survival, Evasion, Resistance to Interrogation and Escape Course (SERIE).

Good Now Studys Common Pay Day

Consideration is being given by defense officials to setting up a common pay day for all branches of service.

The Defense Department comptroller is conducting a study on the feasibility of having all U. S. servicemen paid on the same day. As it stands now the Army pays monthly, the Navy pays some men semi-monthly and others bi-weekly, while the Air Force pays enlisted men semi-monthly and gives officers a choice of monthly pay.

The comptroller is also looking into the desirability of uniformity in record forms and documents for both pay and personnel records.

Although the incident above, concerning the transient family, was not specifically connected with Lejeune Marines, it could very well be someday.

A person never knows if or when he may be in need of assistance. The Salvation Army is standing ready to help. Donations to the United Fund are not wasted, but instead go to work for all. Give to the U.F. now!

1963 Pay Act Increases More Than Base Pay

The "Uniformed Services Pay Act of 1963," which gives basic pay raises to personnel with more than two years' service, also lists separate features giving additional monthly pay boosts.

The new act, which was effective October 1, offers these entitlements:

Under certain conditions of family separation of more than 30 days, members in pay grades E-4 (with over four year's service) and above, will receive $30 a month plus other allowances or per diem that they are entitled to receive.

A special pay of $55 a month for any member of the uniformed services during any month in which he is subject to "hostile fire." Regulations of this provision will be prescribed by the Secretary of Defense.

A minimum increase of 5% in the retired pay of members retired prior to April 1, 1963. Members retired prior to June 1, 1958, are authorized to recompute their retired pay on the 1958 rates or to receive the 5% increase, whichever is greater.

Members retired between April 1 and Oct. 1, 1963, are entitled to recompute their retired pay on the new rates or receive the 5 percent increase, whichever is greater.

Retired pay will be automatically increased whenever the Consumer Price Index has increased 3% or more since the last adjustment of retired pay.

First 7 Astronauts To Receive Trophy

The annual Robert J. Collier Trophy for achievement in aeronautics and astronautics goes this year to the original seven-man team of U. S. astronauts.

The winners as a group were M. Scott Carpenter, L. Gordon Cooper, John H. Glenn, Jr., Virgil Grissom, Walter M. Schirra, Jr., Alan B. Shepard, Jr., and Donald K. Slayton, all members of the original Project Mercury pilot team.

The 1963 trophy is scheduled for presentation to the group by President Kennedy at the White House.

The astronauts who won the 1963 award as a team will receive individual miniature replicas of the big trophy as well as a special certificate attesting to their award.

Certain Proof Suggested By Social Security Office

Planning to retire soon? One service often overlooked is the help your social security office can give you, even before that last day of work comes. Knowing when and how to file an application for social security benefits and just what proofs will be needed can save unnecessary trips to the social security office and speed the delivery of your first check.

One item that you are sure to need is your social security number. Take your social security card with you when you visit the social security office; your number is different from any other, and it identifies the earnings record upon which your benefits will be based. Also take some proof of your age with you. A birth certificate is preferable, but other evidence can be used too; the social security office will be glad to furnish you with a list of acceptable proofs.

There are other proofs that may be required in your particular claim for benefits. It may be a copy of last year's federal tax return if you are self-employed, proof of your wife's age, your child's birth certificate, or some proof of your marriage. The number and types of proofs required will differ with each case, so it's best to find out ahead of time just what will be needed. To be sure of prompt service, inquire before you retire.

Litterbug — A Nuisance

Littering is a nuisance to every community and Camp Lejeune is no exception. Once again small reflected rays of light are shining from the shoulders of Lejeune's roads. It is the same problem faced across the nation — beer cans thrown from passing vehicles.

Perhaps many recall the temporary suspension of canned beer sales aboard the base during the past summer. The result of senseless and careless discarding of trash.

Outside police details realize what littering involves for them. It means they have to get out and pick up the trash carelessly discarded by others and often themselves. It was discarded by persons not having habits of cleanliness and by those who don't care about the appearance of the place where they work and live.

Chaplain's Corner

A commission of doctors from Europe was sent to investigate an epidemic in India. They analyzed a drop of water from the Ganges River and found it contained countless germs. They sought to enlist the help of one of the leading Hindus to influence the people to cease drinking the river water. In seeking to convince him, they put a drop of water under a microscope and asked him to look. The Brahman replied with dignity, "I will show you how to get rid of the germs!" And he smashed the microscope on the rocks.

We say this is ridiculous action on his part. But often times ours is no less so. We refuse to take a look at ourselves and face our problem. We smash the image of our inadequacies on the rock of activity, indifference, or just plain self-deception. We cannot run from ourselves and thus evade our problems. The solution lies within. Shakespeare said in Hamlet through Polonius to his son Laertes, "Know thyself, and to thyself, first of all be true." Jesus also knew what was in the heart of man. He saw problems — but He also saw more, for He said, "The Kingdom of God is within you!"

We can try to run from our problems only to find they are still present, or we can listen to Divine Counsel and find a Kingdom within.

—LEONARD W. DODSON, JR.

DON'T BE A...

Actions Earned Pay Increase

Now that an increase in military pay is a fact, perhaps the time has come to remind ourselves that the additional income was voted to us by the Government because it thought we'd earned it.

And how did we earn it?

Perhaps through the countless hours in a cold dank foxhole in Italy.

The many soggy weary steps up and down the peninsula that is Korea.

The seven day round the clock watch in the many shore stations during the days of crisis.

The grim aftermath of Pacific Island hopping where we bade farewell to comrades that never came home.

The men still encountering the enemy of freedom in the Republic of Vietnam.

And now, for some of us know only of how this raise was earned through stories told on a father's knee... or by of-told tales from the lips of old soldiers, it is paramount that we use this gain with wisdom.

Perhaps that small U. S. Savings bond paid for through the payroll savings plan can be stretched into a larger one.

The extra pay could be married for higher learning; either night school or a college in the future.

We have our pay raise and now it is for us in the services to provide the deeds and the doing that will make the Congress of the future look on Uncle Sam's military with pride.

IF YOU ASK ME

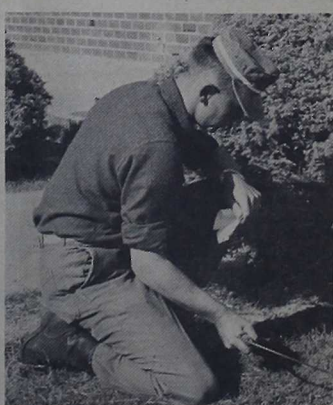

What is your opinion of a Litterbug?

CPL. C. A. MELVIN, JR., 8th MTBn., FMF—"My opinion is that litterbugs ruin the looks of nice green places where we live and work. When the appearance of a place is poor it lowers the morale of those who care about their living area and how it looks. People who litter should be punished."

SSGT. M. G. SULLIVAN, H&S Co., 3d Bn., 6th Marines—"I believe that if all Marines on this Base would stop and think before throwing trash, bottles, cans and etc., they would realize that the Marines used to police up their mess could be better employed in well needed training."

PFC C. S. PERROT, HqCo., 2d Marine Division—"People who litter the area are inconsiderate. The only thing they do is mess up the area and cause extra work for other people. That goes not only for the Base but for the whole surrounding countryside."

GYSGT. K. M. FINNEY, WMCB H&S Bn., MCB—"Litterbugs show a lack of courtesy and respect both for themselves and to other people. A lot of time goes into keeping this Base as it should be kept, and discarded beer cans and papers do not add a thing to the natural beauty of Camp Lejeune."

MOVIE REVIEWS

BEACH PARTY

A teen age romp on the beach somewhere in Southern California, complete with song and dance, color and wide screen, names that look well on the marquee and a lively yarn of no consequence but reasonable amusement make up the ingredients of American International's first big musical.

On arrival at the beach cottage where he's planned a vacation alone with pretty marriage-minded Annette Funicello, young Frankie Avalon finds that she has invited a dozen or so teenagers to join them.

NEW TARZAN—Jock Mahoney, formerly "Yancy Derringer" on the TV serial circuits portrays the screen's newest Tarzan in "Tarzan the Magnificent," now playing at Camp Lejeune Theaters.

CAPTAIN SINDBAD

Fantasy and derring-do are meat and wine to the legendary Captain Sindbad, who swashbuckles his way through this adventure-fairy tale film. Guy Williams, as Sindbad, returns from a long voyage to find his country in the hands of a cruel usurper, who has the old king, the beautiful princess and even the court magician in his power.

Sindbad, with the ample aid of trick photography and excellent special effects, battles a legion of monsters to win back the kingdom, and the princess.

THE STRIPPER

Grade "B" all the way! This stink ovich little melodrama floundered around the East Carolina coast late this summer without much success, as befits the quality of the film. Playing up sex and sensationalism (which fail to save this tawdry, laboring soap opera), the film drags along, failing to deliver much, if anything promised by the extensive promotion campaign seen in nearby cities in recent months.

THE TRAITORS

A British spy melodrama crowds a good deal into its short running time. Vital information on a top secret military project is getting to the Reds, and a British Intelligence officer with an American major in NATO security are assigned to uncover the spy cell. Bits of romance and comedy, coupled with a fine, fast-moving plot, make the film passable entertainment.

KING KONG VS GODZILLA

As you probably guessed from the title, the Academy Award value in this one is doubtful, but the picture is produced by Japan's Toho Limited, a company noted for its special effects in Science Fiction and Horror pictures. In this movie, RKO's old King Kong, that monster gorilla with which mothers frightened their children into eating their cereal years ago, is pitted against Japan's more recent, but no less scary Godzilla, a reptile-like monster from the prehistoric past, in a battle of the giants. In the course of the film, submarines are crushed, most of Japan is eventually slamscragled, and just about half of the cast is either eaten or stomped into the mud as the two monsters go at it across the Japanese Islands. Very good of its kind.

THE YOUNG PHILADELPHIAN

This family saga stars Paul Newman, an immediate point of interest to most movie patrons, and is from the novel by Richard Powell.

Newman's career as a struggling young lawyer is set against the opulent backgrounds of Philadelphia homes of wealth and law offices of distinction.

Rated excellent by reviewers.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT

Filmed in Africa, this action drama relates Tarzan's efforts to return the murderer of his friend to justice. The father and brothers of his prisoner attempt to stop him by dynamiting a river boat. Accompanied by five survivors, he attempts to make the long and dangerous trip by foot.

SUMMER MAGIC

"Little Miss Box Office," Hayley Mills, is back again, as lovable and charming as ever in another of Walt Disney's highly interesting and wholesomely entertaining family films.

A widow, left without money by her husband's sudden death, takes her three children from their comfortable Boston home to a less expensive living in a Maine village. The soft-hearted local postmaster (Burl Ives) lets them live rent-free in a pleasant house for which he is caretaker. What might be called complications come through the visit of a spoiled, haughty cousin, a handsome teacher, and the unexpected return of the young owner of the home which the Careys have innocently appropriated.

Hayley Mills, playing the oldest daughter, is as arresting as ever, and Burl Ives heads a good cast of character actors with nary a neurosis among them. A number of songs and the re-appearance of a shaggy dog brighten matters even further.

NOTICE

Patrons of outdoor theatres aboard Camp Lejeune are reminded that starting time for these theatres is 7 p.m. beginning Sunday.

Also, the Area 5 outdoor movie will not operate on October 19 or 20, due to the Polack Brothers Circus.

'Devilpups' Suffer Loss 22-7 At Southern Durham

The Camp Lejeune "Devilpups" suffered a 22-7 loss Friday night to the Durham "Rebels". The Lejeune squad has suffered a list of injuries in the past two weeks and this could have accounted for their loss.

The "Rebels" showed no mercy however by using fullback James Collins and halfback Ronnie Davis to the best of their advantage in the first quarter. Both Collins and Davis carried the ball between the Lejeune goal posts with Collins turning in both extra points on short off-tackle ventures.

In the second quarter the Lejeune eleven took over. In this frame Dave Brewster scored once for the "Devilpups" with Bill Turville adding the extra point.

The Durham squad was held to no gain by Ted Dominique who led the tough Lejeune line. Dominique continued his aggressive play until midway through the fourth quarter when he was led off the field with an injured ankle.

The third period started off hopefully for the Lejeune Pups kicking and forcing the "Rebels" to punt after just one series of downs. The punt went high allowing the Durham team to get well downfield by the time Bob McDonough received for Lejeune. On the run McDonough dropped the ball and before he could recover it Chippy Gill of the Durham squad smothered it.

Lejeune's line went into action once again to hold for three downs but on the fourth, the Rebel quarterback Jerry Hamm, rolled back a couple of steps and hit Collins for a short pass in the left flat and he stumbled over, for the "Rebels" once more.

The extra point was smothered by the Lejeune squad.

In the fourth quarter the Southerners took over and were going down field to what looked like another TD, but the drive was stopped when the "Rebels" fumbled with the Lejeune "Devilpups" recovering.

On the first play after the recovery Dave Drewster was caught in the end zone for a safety and two more points for the "Rebels." This set the final score at 22-7, "Rebels" favor.

Base Materiel Battalion Victors In Base Touch Football Tournament

The Base Materiel Battalion touch football team, undefeated in league and tournament play thus far, has relied upon a diversified offense and aggressive defense to rack up 140 points against 26 for their opponents.

In FSR league play, Base Mat. defeated ASD, MS&M, and H&S Battalions to win a place in the FMFLant tournament held at Cherry Point, the end of this month.

Base Mat. won the base tournament by beating three tough foes. In the first round ASD once again went down to defeat 27-7. The semifinalists saw ITR drop a close decision 7-0. Base Mat. scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter on a pass play covering 15 yards.

The Base Mat. Team continued its winning streak in the tournament finals. A stony Engineer Schools tried in vain to curtail their opponents passing offense. In the first quarter, Base Mat. scored on a short pass and a five yard run behind key blocks. Engineer schools retaliated with a score but this was the last time the schools were able to hit pay dirt. Base Mat moved a touchdown in the second quarter and went on to add two more in the final.

WINNERS—Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, presents Maj. M. F. Mehlinger, commanding officer, Base Materiel Battalion with the Base touch football trophy. The Base Mat. team won the tournament by beating three tough foes, giving them a place in the FMFLant tourney, which will be played later this month.

Devildogs Drop Devens For Second ECIC Victory

The Devildogs clobbered the Fort Devens Hornets 35-8 in last Sunday's football game to set their East Coast Inter-service record at two wins and no losses for the season.

Behind the hard running of halfback Art Redden and the pin-point passing of quarterback Tony Harris, the Marines jumped to an early lead which was never threatened.

Art Redden carried the first touchdown of the game over the goal line early in the first period, to climax an 80 yard drive by the leathernecks. Starting at the 20 yard line, the Marines scored in 12 plays.

Fullback Francis Harding carried the brunt of the attack carrying six times, to blast out 21 hard yards through the line. Redden picked up 21 yards in two attempts before the scoring play. To score, he tore through right tackle from the 30 yard line, found some running room, and streaked for paydirt.

In the second quarter Redden took a Hornet punt and returned it 48 yards, capitalizing on tremendous blocking by the Marines, for his second TD.

Three plays after the opening kick-off in the second half, the Marines scored again.

Gary Barnes took the Hornet Kick on the 25 yard line and returned it to the Camp Lejeune 36. On the next play John Level took a pass from Harris and got the Devens 36 before being dragged down. Charlie Heard then grabbed the ball from the quarterback and sped across the goal line.

The fourth touchdown came when Eddie Hatchett took a pass thrown from the 10 yard line.

Four plays later Paul I intercepted an Army pass scampered 48 yards for final Marine TD.

Clark Blake, who hasn't scored a try for the extra point this year, kicked all the points after touchdowns.

Eddie Hatchett made the best run of the game. He slipped from the Camp Lejeune and fought his way 59 yards the Devens 27 before he hauled down from behind.

The lone Army score came with two minutes left in game, on a 30 yard TD pass. The Hornets then passed for points to set the game score 35-8.

 Players Of The Week *****

Francis Harding and Roger Duprel got the nod from the coaching staff as offensive and defensive players of the week for their performance in the 35-8 win over Ft. Devens last Sunday.

Harding, a 6' 2", 205lb. fullback from Jerplanck, N. Y.,

Francis Harding

was chosen because of his powerful plunges through the line that consistently picked up needed yardage. He also turned in his best job of blocking for the year in the Devens game. One time he took out two Army men to spring Art Redden loose for a touchdown run.

Roger Duprel plays as offensive right guard and defensive center guard. He has been a hard, consistent worker throughout the season, turning in four fine games.

Duprel weighs 220 lbs, is 5' 11" and hails from Auburn, Washington.

Dawson Trains Fighters From Own Experience

Sweat + Sacrifice = Success is the motto of the fighters trying out for the Camp Lejeune boxing team. Sweat they do, as they train in a small, closed room, with the windows shut, wearing sweat shirts and pants, with boxing coach Charles Lawler and trainer Ernest Dawson around to keep the men working.

Dawson, in his second season as trainer here, will play a large part in the success, or lack of success, of this year's team. Calling on 18 years of ring experience, he is charged with teaching novices the tricks of the trade, and pointing out the mistakes made by the more experienced boxers.

Dawson began boxing in 1945, when he was in the Army. through the influence of the "Joe Palooka" comic strip, and the initial coaching of ex-pro, Johnny Gonsalves, the then 18-year-old boy began a serious boxing career with many lights.

In 1946, one year after started boxing, Dawson won Far East Lightweight Championship. In '54 he was run up to the All-Marine II welterweight champ, and a member of the 1954 In service Team.

In '58 he coached the Marine Team, as well as Camp Lejeune Team. In he battled his way to the II weight title in Okinawa, in '61 he won the Atlantic F Championship in the II weight division.

One thing is certain, Dawson will be doing his best to mold a winning team, and ring knowledge and experience can be used as a measure stick, he could contribute greatly towards a good boxing season.

Headquarters Co. Captures Top Sp Intramural Football Championship

Headquarters Co. copped their third straight Force Troops Intramural football league championship last Friday by downing their old tormentor, 2d Tank Bn., 19-6.

The high flying "Devil-clerks" extended their winning streak to 27 straight as they downed the frustrated Tankers for the third straight year.

The passing of John Murray and Bill Jenkins accounted for all of Headquarters scoring as they drew first blood in the opening quarter on a Murray to Jenkins combination.

Early in the second half Murray teamed with Jenkins again for the second Headquarters tally. Carl Linder added the extra point to run the score to 13-0.

In the fourth frame Jenkins added insult to injury as he hit Murray with a touchdown pass that ran the score to 19-6.

Rich Phillips saved the game from being a complete shut-out as he skirted right end late in the third quarter for the lone tally.

Both Headquarters and Tank moved into Quad Comm competition by virtue of finishing first and second in league play.

Headquarters faced MCB Monday afternoon and Tank faced MCB Tuesday afternoon.

Headquarters will represent Force Troops in the FMFLant tourney at Cherry Point in this month.

Hunters Urged To Heed Safety Rules

The Month of October has been tagged "Let's Go Hunting Month," and the Red Cross offers some advice to make October "Let's Come Home Safely Month" also.

The first aim of hunters, especially military men, should be to come back to duty safely. Alfred W. Cantwell, national director of the ARC Safety Services, said "Each year guns and explosives cause nearly 2,300 deaths and innumerable injuries."

"This death and injury toll would be greatly cut if hunters and other gun owners would remember, and use, two simple hunting safety rules: care and common sense."

Mr. Cantwell offered the following tips for safe hunting. Treat every gun as if it were loaded. Avoid all horseplay with guns. Don't point one at anything you don't intend to shoot.

While traveling in cars, boats or planes, make sure your guns are unloaded and kept cased, wrapped or dismantled.

Be sure your ammunition fits your gun. Make sure your safety is on at all times unless shooting.

Keep your fingers away from the trigger until you're ready to shoot. Don't handle a gun by its muzzle and don't use it as a prop, club or prod.

Don't climb fences, run or jump while carrying a loaded gun. In rough terrain where your footing is precarious or in heavy underbrush, unload your gun or open its action.

Little League Football

As the Boys League football season passed the half way mark, the Eagles and Bears remain in a dead heat for the Midget Division lead. Both squads sport a four and one record after the Eagles pulled out a squeaker from the Colts, 12-7, and the Bears counted coup on the Redskins, 19-0.

In Tiny Tot Division action Saturday the Browns dumped the Vikings, 9-0, and the Rams took a heartbreaker, 8 to 7.

Marine To Enter In Tokyo's Sports

Marine 1st Lt. Frank Frye, stationed at Camp Schwab, Okinawa, joined the list of some of the greatest athletes in the world as he left for Japan early last week to compete in Tokyo's International Sports Week.

The Sports Week, held as a "test run" for the 1964 Olympic Games, includes over 400 of the world's best athletes from 36 countries.

Frye, who has already surpassed a throw of 240 feet with the javelin, departed Okinawa joining athletes already at the scene from the Soviet Union, India, Turkey, Greece, Switzerland, West Germany, Brazil, New Zealand, Netherlands, Belgium, Bulgaria, Italy, and Hungary.

A native of San Diego and a graduate of Claremont Men's College in Claremont, Calif., Frye's best effort has been 247 feet, 3 inches. He was formerly a member of the powerful Southern California Striders track team and won a third place bronze medal in the 1961 National Pentathlon Championships in Boulder, Colo.

In island competition for the Inter-Service championships earlier this year, Frye tossed the javelin 217 feet, far enough to give him a gold medal and beat his nearest competitor by over 40 feet.

The husky athlete is hoping to return to Japan for the Olympic Games next year.

TIP OF THE WEEK: Pitching for Bite.

When I must get a wedge to sit down quickly, as in the case when I'm pitching over a trap, I weaken my left hand grip. This permits the face of the club to open more at impact and enables me to get more backspin.

The harder the swing on this type shot, the higher the ball will go. What do I mean by a weakened left hand grip? Well, let us assume that in a normal grip, the "V" formed by the thumb and forefinger of the left hand is visible.

To weaken the left hand grip, turn the left hand slightly to the left until only one and a half knuckles are visible and the "V" points toward your nose.

In changing the position of the left hand, make certain the clubhead does not also turn to the left. You can check this by placing the club, with its face slightly open, behind the ball, then shift your left hand over as described.

This weakened left-hand grip plus the natural loft of the wedge, will have a decided effect in making the pitch shot hit and sit.

Next week's tip: The punch shot.
