Your Part In Fire Prevention

Day in and day out firemen across the nation stand ready to undo what others have done. Their's is a job of fighting the yearly average of 824,426 building fires which total $983,534,600 worth of damage. Only a small percent of these fires cannot be prevented.

The week of October 6-12 has been established as Fire Prevention Week. It is a week set aside each year to remind us that each of us has a share in the responsibility for the prevention of fires.

Fires, like auto accidents, in most cases can be prevented. A little care and caution is needed in everyday life, on the job and off the job. As much caution is needed in the home as in dry, wooded areas, or in a shop. One moment of carelessness, one little spark is all that is needed to start a blaze of destruction and danger to life.

Care and thought should be given to the proper storage of highly flammable items in work areas and in living areas. Frequent checks should be made personally to insure fire hazards are reduced and not ignored.

One way of reducing the number of fires is by reducing the number of places a fire could start. This is everyone's responsibility. Civilian or Marine. The youngest private to the oldest "salt." Whether you live in a barracks or in a quarters area.

Fire Prevention is a job for all — do your part every day.

REMEMBER

Years ago . . this week

30 Sept. 1945 — Marines of the III Amphibious Corps, commanded by Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey, began landing in North China to assist the Chinese Nationalist government in relieving and repatriating Japanese forces.

1 Oct. 1880 — John Philip Sousa became the leader of the U. S. Marine Band.

1 Oct. 1918 — The 4th Marine Brigade (composed of the 5th and 6th Marine Regiments), as part of the U. S. Army's 2d Infantry Division, moved to the front lines near Somme-Py, France and relieved elements of a French Division.

3 Oct. 1899 — Five officers and 84 enlisted Marines from Cavite and 44 Marines and seamen from the USS Baltimore joined U. S. Army forces in a skirmish with Filipino insurgents at Siran, Luzon, Philippine Islands.

3 Oct. 1903 — Col. George F. Elliott was appointed Brig. Gen. Commandant, becoming the 10th Commandant of the Marine Corps.

3 Oct. 1918 — Men of the 4th Marine Brigade took a prominent part in the battle of Mont Blanc Ridge in eastern France, helping pave the way for the drive on the Hindenburg Line.

Chaplain's Corner

"Sharpen up," said the captain, speaking words of advice that have perhaps become familiar; yet which still carry a great deal of meaning. These words can add meaning beyond the sphere of duty. "Sharpen up" is an admonition which can apply to much of our religious life. Sadly much of our life does not evoke sincere gratitude to God. This is sad, because it is in our everyday life that we must discover the wonder of God's gifts if we are to appreciate Him at all.

To sharpen up our awareness of what God is doing around us is our goal. To reflect His blessings in our prayers as specifically as possible is also just as important. We should be thankful for the kind words someone has spoken, for help given, for family and friends, health, and the peaceful surroundings of nature. Every delight ought to evoke appreciation to God.

The life lived with an awareness and thanksgiving is the life which has sharpened up to focus on God. It belongs to the person who appreciates blessings by enjoying each one.

Reach The Top United

This Tuesday marked the kickoff of the 1964 United Fund Drive. A goal of $120,000 has been established for the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County area and only through a combined effort on the part of all hands can this goal be reached.

Dollars donated to the United Fund are distributed to 15 support and assistance agencies, which break down again into an additional 13 smaller organizations in the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County region. These dollars are not wasted, but instead, they serve for all. In one way or another, through service or assistance, your donation comes back to you.

Topping the list of the 15 major agencies is the American Red Cross, followed by the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Retarded Children Fund, USO Local, Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the 4-H Club, Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Emergency Relief Fund, Jacksonville and Swansboro Red Squads, Onslow County Home Auxiliary, Salvation Army, Linas United Services (divided into 13 smaller agencies), United Fish Appeal and the North Carolina Kidney Disease Foundation.

These are the agencies that dollars help support. They can do their good for others without first receiving financial support themselves. The Marine Corps always accomplished its mission working as a team and by standing United in this mission we can succeed again. Each must do his part or the team will fall behind.

Only one donation is needed — not 15 separate times into your pocket. When your keyman calls to you don't ignore him. Dig in and help your teammates dig in and pass the top the United Give to the United Fund.

CORRIDORS OF BLOOD

The old master of terror, Boris Karloff, returns in another spine-tingler, as he appears as a mad doctor in "Corridors of Blood." The film has the usual necessities of a horror thriller: the insane surgeon with his blood-curdling and faintly sickening experiments on helpless victims, frequent boy-watching, and beautiful women threatened by the mad genius of Karloff. This one should be worth watching.

HUD

The barren plains of the Texas panhandle background a drama of high conflict between father and son, involving three generations of a family of ranch owners. The patriarch, his son Hud and his orphaned grandson, Paul Newman swaggers with indisputable glamor as the hard-driving, hard drinking, woman-chasing Hud, whose life is a revolt against the principles of his father (Melvyn Douglas), a man of strong character and gentleness to whom his land and cattle mean more than mere material assets. Young Lon (Brandon De Wilde) is torn between love for his grandfather and hero-worship for his dashing uncle. A hard-hitting, acerbic dramatic film, this one is excellent entertainment for adults, but the children should be left at home.

SAVAGE SAM

Take one blue tick hound dawg named "Sam" who just doesn't know the meaning of fear; add a scrappy youngster who thrives on attacking anything but farm chores; and an 18-year-old brother with a stalwart sense of responsibility; bring in a hard-riding, two-fisted uncle, a flaxen haired girl, her reprobate father, now bring on a marauding bunch of renegade injuns to capture the girl and the two young heroes; toss in some assorted cowboy characters to master chef Walt Disney, and sit back in your seat to enjoy 103 minutes of one of the finest Westerns to come your way in years. This one is good family entertainment.

HORROR HOTEL

Two and a half centuries ago, the populace of Whitewood, Mass., barbed a pretty local inhabitant because of suspected witchcraft. As the flames lick about her feet, she makes a rather grisly pact with the Devil: human sacrifices in return for eternal life. Centuries later, a young student checks into a hotel run by the immortal victim of the witch burning, and the gory fun begins. This film deviates somewhat from the usual vein of horror movies, and was skillfully produced and directed. The stark realism of some of the more chilling scenes may have unfavorable effect on younger children, however.

U. S. NAVAL HOSPITAL — Saturday at 2 p.m. the movie will be "Andy Hardy Comes Home."

AIR FACILITY — Saturday at 2 p.m. the movie will be "Prisoner of the Iron Mask" plus Chapter 7 of "Panther Girl of Congo."

Sunday at 2 p.m. the movie will be "Andy Hardy Comes Home."

COURTHOUSE BAY — Saturday at 2 p.m. the movie will be "Walk Tall."

Sunday at 2 p.m. the movie will be "April Love."

JACKSONVILLE...The weekend movie at the Jacksonville USO will be "When Worlds Collide" in color, plus a Walt Disney cartoon. There is a possibility of another film also.

"When Worlds Collide" is based on a science fiction novel by Edwin Balmer and Phillip Wylie. Two planets leave their orbits and head for Earth. A race begins...to build a rocket ship in time to escape the holocaust. To decide which lucky man and women will make the trip, a drawing is held. The rocket reaches Zyra, where the pilgrims establish a new world.

Free refreshments will be served at the Jacksonville USO 4 p.m. Friday by the Jacksonville Womens' club. Free coffee and doughnuts will also be served at 10 a.m. on Sunday.

p.m. to 12:30 a.m. to the music of "Bob Bass and his Combo."

Steak dinners will be served Sunday from 2-5 p.m., priced at $1.

Happy Hours go on Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5 p.m.

CAMP GEIGER STAFF NCO CLUB

On Friday evening, "Bob Bass and his Combo" will play for your dancing and listening pleasure from 8:30 p.m.

Sightless Canadian Wins U. S. Golf Championship

A caddy tapping a steel shafted golf club against the edge of the cup on the 18th green would cause some players to show amazement or possibly irritation.

However, at the Lighthouse sponsored annual United States and Golfers Championship tournament, this method was used to help the golfers draw lead on the hole.

A Canadian, Claude Paton, ended a U. S. monopoly in the tourney with rounds of 97-104: 201 over the par 70 course at the Westchester Hills, N. Y., golf course where the tournament was held.

Last year's champion, Joe Lazaro, who lost his sight during WWII when a land mine exploded during operations in the Po Valley (Italy), was runner up with a score of 202.

Third place went to Charles Boswell, thirteen time winner of the title. Boswell was a tank commander in Germany during WWII. He lost his sight while rescuing a member of his crew caught in the tank when it was immobilized by enemy fire.

He had been a regular half-back on the Alabama teams of Rose Bowl fame and had played in the 1937 bowl game.

Boswell first played golf while in the Valley Forge General hospital. Since that time he has scored rounds as low as 82 and, in addition to holding 13 American Championships, has won the International title seven times.

In the blind golfer tournaments the sightless golfer plays with the assistance of a coach.

The coach describes each lie and the distance from the pin before each shot.

He then places the club head against the ball and then steps back while the sightless player takes his swing.

On the putting green many of the sightless golfers use the tapping method of lining up their putts. Others pace off the distance and run their hands over the grass on the green to get the feel of the upcoming shot.

Little League Football

Eight squads from the Lejeune Boys League clashed in gridiron doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday at the Tarawa Terrace Field.

When the dust had cleared in the Tiny Tot Division, the Lions had outmaneuvered the Vikings, 6-0, and the Browns had downed the Rams, 12-0.

Sunday's dual tilts in the Mid-grade Division ended with the high-scoring Eagles taking their third win of the season from a stubborn Colts eleven, 12-6, and the Bears in second place as they raided the Redskins, 26-0.

'Devilpups' Get Second Set Back In Friday's Game

The Camp Lejeune "Devilpups" were handed their second set back in a home game last Friday night as they went against the Beaufort "Seadogs" who tallied up a score of 19 to Lejeune's 6.

The "Seadogs" first touchdown was set up in the first quarter by quarterback Dave Merrill and end Brady Way as Way took a short pass from Merrill and almost went all the way before being dragged down by Lejeune's Gary Ward.

Three plays later fullback Fred Biermann carried it over for Beaufort's first score. On the extra point attempt Jim Whitehead slipped through and covered the ball.

About one minute later Diermann carried 32 yards over left tackle for another Seadog score. On the extra point Wayne Merrill picked up the ball that had been centered badly and scampered over the line.

Beaufort's final score came in the third quarter as Merrill hit Way who went over once again.

The fourth quarter was Lejeune's game as they advanced to the "Seadogs" goal post. Their only score came as half-back Bob McDonough took a short pass from Jim Kelly on the 10 yard line and crossed from the left to the right side of the field to score.

Marine Places 1st In Rifle Shooting

Sgt. David I. Boyd of the Marine Corps Marksmanship Training Unit, Quantico, Va., captured the top spot to win the U. S. three-position smallbore rifle championship at the third Annual U. S. International shooting competition recently held at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Boyd fired 3407 out of a possible 3600 to win the top spot. His aggregate for the prone, kneeling and standing position was highlighted by a 1149/1200 in the kneeling position. Boyd led throughout the three days of competition.

Trailing Sgt. Boyd in the small bore rifle event was Army Capt. Verle F. Wright, Jr., of the Army Marksmanship Training Unit, with a 3403 total. Wright had won the standing position competition with 1099.

The Army broke its won record in the rapid fire pistol competition behind the shooting of SFC William D. Blankenship and SSG. James McNally of the Army Marksmanship Training Unit, both of whom recorded scores of 586 out of possible 600s to lead the way to a team score of 2315 out of a possible 2400.

The Special Services Athletic NCO, hopes to have at least five teams represented in the league.

All games will be played under the lights at the Base Intramural Field.

CRACK—Two members of the Shorin-Ryu Karate Club demonstrate their deadly art during a show held last week for the Investigators Association of North Carolina. The demonstration lasted an hour, showing the various forms of Karate, knife fighting, pole fighting, pre-play which is actually Karate fighting and a short demonstration of Jujitsu. The Karate club will take a 15 man team to compete in the Open Canadian Karate Championship in Toronto, October 19.

Angling Outlook Improves Along Local Sea Coast

Pier fishing along the coast is definitely on the upswing judging from reports, and observation made last Saturday. From a Carteret County pier, a short distance north of the Bogue Inlet Ferry Landing, many fine catches of bluefish, sea trout and flounder were taken. In addition, a small channel bass (red drum), was seen coming over the rail, along with a sprinkling of Pompano.

Sea trout have been biting best very early in the morning. The blues have been biting off-and on. When a school comes in the action is fast and furious, then when they leave there is plenty of time to rest before the next flurry of activity.

Anglers who aspire to catch fish larger than those previously mentioned might find action at the end of the piers, using a live blue for bait. Several nice king mackerel were landed last week, along with one bonito.

Large fish could be seen attacking the schools of baitfish which were in close to shore. The water was teeming with the small fish, and the signs of mauling gamesters feeding on them was unmistakable.

Acres of water would erupt as schools of frantic baitfish would break water and greyhound across the surface in their attempt to escape the foraging fish below. Then would come the circling, diving gulls, attacking the hapless bait from the air, which is the universal sign of feeding fish.

The 19th Hole

By BOB SPENCER

TIP OF THE WEEK: The hit and run shot.

While the hit-and-run may not be used too frequently in normal situations, it is, nevertheless, and important shot to have in the bag.

It is a good shot to use when you have a trailing wind which might blow the ball out of control if hit too high. With its low arch, this shot differs from the pitch and can be executed in two ways: you can close the clubface, or you can use a lower numbered club with less loft.

Which ever way you find more suitable is the best way for you. Prior to hitting the shot, there are several things you should know. You must completely familiarize yourself with the terrain. You should observe the slope of the green, the type of grass, the run of the grain, and the speed of the putting surface.

You then pick an area on which you wish the ball to land and proceed with the shot.

Your wrists should be firm throughout the swing, similar to the action of your putting stroke. Keep the club close to the ground on the backswing and don't break the wrists too much or you will hit the shot higher than planned.

Play the ball back near the right foot, keeping the hand ahead of the clubhead and the face of the club closed, or hooded, slightly. Don't rush the backswing, keep it slow and smooth. Next week: Choking up for control.

Div. Soccer Play Starts In Nov.

been in the line of duty and training and on several occasions he has tested various types of parachute equipment.

Lance Corporal Paul D. Mueller, of 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion, Force Troops, was congratulated by his Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. Thomas W. Clarke, and was presented with a meritorious mast for "outstanding performance of duty," on Sept. 17. The Meritorious Mast, read in part:

The Amphibian Tractor which you are crew chief, B-20, when recently inspected was commented on by the inspecting officer as being the most outstanding Amphibian Tractor mechanically and appearance wise, that he had ever observed. The excellent combat readiness of your vehicle definitely shows that you have demonstrated a high degree of leadership in handling your crew.

"Your everyday appearance, although working with grease, dirt, and paint, has been conspicuously neat and clean. This has provided an example for your fellow Marines to admire and follow.

"Probably the true measure of your value as a Marine however, is in your high sense of responsibility for the quality of your work and your dedication in performing your duties."

Marine Lt. Takes Honors In Army's Ranger Course

Marine 2d Lt. Everette S. Roame, Company "B", 2d Recon Bn., 2d Division, surpassed 40 officer classmates to capture top honors in the U. S. Army Infantry School's Ranger Course, Class Number One, Fort Benning, Ga.

According to a letter from the school's commanding officer, ".....Lt. Roame applied sound command and leadership principles and tactical knowledge... he distinguished himself in competition with class mates and attained the highest overall officer's rating in the class, demonstrating leadership of the highest order...."

The rugged, nine-week course, composed of three phases, stresses indoctrination and three weeks of training at Fort Benning; three weeks in the mountains of northern Georgia; and three weeks in a swampy area at Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.

In the first phase, the students receive an orientation period, coupled with a minimum of academic and weapons instructions.

During the second phase, the class travels to the mountainous region of northern Georgia where the men learn rappelling, constructing rope bridges, participating in various types of patrols, and learning mountain techniques.

In the final three weeks--survival and reptile training--the Rangers learn that a swamp is a good provider of the necessities in life--food and shelter. Hand-to-hand combat, guerrilla training, and a rigorous physical conditioning program are a daily part of training in all phases of the school.

According to Lt. Roame, "The training is tough, realistic, and to a degree--hazardous, but it teaches a man to be self-sufficient.

"After completion of the school, one has the feeling that, regardless of circumstances, a man can come through in fairly good shape."

Teen Club Advisory Group Quarterly Election Slated

Parents of teenagers, whose children belong to the Camp Lejeune Teenage Club, will elect six new members to the Advisory Group this month. The newly elected members will begin their term of office on November 1st and serve for a period of six months.

The club, located at Marston Pavilion, was organized for the purpose of providing entertainment and recreation for our teenagers. The immediate supervision is the responsibility of the Advisory Group composed of parents of the regular members of the club.

As a parent of a member of this club, you should be vitally interested in this election.

During January, April, July and October ballots are mailed to parents for the purpose of electing new members to the Advisory Board. Each member is elected for a period of six months, assuring continuity of experience, organization, planning and programming. Envelopes are enclosed with each ballot for the convenience of the parents. Ballots will be mailed to parents this week for the October election.

It is the responsibility of all parents of regular members of the Teenage Club to govern the activities through the Advisory Board. The Teenage Club needs the support of the parents to continue its operation.

Parents are urged to mark and return their ballots by the deadline, October 23rd.

Lifetime Protection Given Through Social Security

Lifetime protection—that's what social security provides for you and your family. It provides benefits not only for your retirement in old age, but also payments for you and your family if you become disabled and payments for your family if you should die.

According to Adrain Hatfield, New Bern Social Security District Manager, changes in the law over the years now make it easier to qualify for these benefits. The length of time an employee or self-employed person must work in order to qualify for benefits was reduced. To qualify for benefits, the worker must have credit for one calendar quarter of work under social security for each year after 1950 up to the year he becomes age 65 or dies. For a woman, the time is figured up to the year in which she becomes age 62 or dies. For example, a man who becomes age 65 during 1963, meets the time requirement for being insured if he has credit for 12 quarters or three years of work. Similarly, a woman who is 62 in 1963 needs credit for the same amount of time to be insured.

A disabled person under age 65 may qualify for social security benefits in the same amount that he would otherwise have been entitled to receive at age 65, provided he meets certain requirements. The basic requirement is that he must have social security work credits for at least five years during a 10-year period ending in or after the calendar quarter in which he became disabled. In addition, he must be disabled from an illness or injury which is so severe that it makes the person unable to do any substantial gainful work and the condition must be expected to continue indefinitely. Disability benefits do not begin until the person has been disabled at least six full calendar months.

Mr. Stuart Hollowell, Field Representative from the New Bern Social Security District Office, is in Jacksonville every Thursday beginning at 10 a. m., in Room 103 of the Courthouse.
