Two Lejeune Men Heroes; Promptness Saves Lives

Prompt action by Cpl. George C. F. Willard of Service Co., and Lcpl. Don M. Luke of "D" Co., 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops, saved a husband and his wife from drowning last Wednesday at the LST loading ramp on Radio Island near Morehead City, N. C.

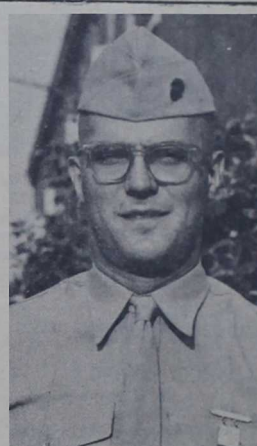

Mr. and Mrs. Othella Williams of Burlington, N. C., were fishing when Mrs. Williams lost her footing on the slippery concrete wharf and fell in. Willard, working about 50 ft. away saw her fall, jerked his boots off and ran toward the scene. Meanwhile, Mr. Williams jumped in to save his wife and she immediately grabbed him and pulled him under. Willard, on seeing two people in the water and in trouble, called for additional help.

Lcpl. Luke, working about 100 yds. away heard the cry and promptly ran toward the scene, pulling his jacket off while running. He immediately dove in and pulled Mr. Williams out, while at the same time Willard was rescuing Mrs. Williams who had gone under several times.

In the meantime, additional Marines formed a human chain to pull them out of the water and up the steep, slippery concrete slope, where a corpsman administered first aid for cuts received from barnacles at the edge of the wharf.

Marines Win Four Titles Inter-Service Matches

The 4th Annual Interservice Rifle Matches ended at Ft. Belvoir, Va., last Wednesday, with the Army carrying 10 of 15 U. S. Armed Forces crowns. The Marine retained four and the Air Force copped one. More than 88 military shooters came from all over the Armed Forces to compete in the matches which decided the Armed Forces Rifle Champion.

The big match of the competition was fired last Wednesday with wind gusts up to 40 mph. The Army's winscore of 2287-105V's won them the title of Interservice Rifle Team Champions. The Marine Corps was second with 2272-116V, followed by the Air Force with 2251-102V and the Navy with 2250-108V. Fifth and sixth places went to the Marine Corps Reserve, 2202-102V and the Coast Guard with 2158-88V.

This match was fired in four different stages with each team occupying two firing positions on the line and firing at two targets. The first stage was from 200 yards, slow fire standing, with a time limit of one minute for each of 10 shots. The second stage was also from 200 yards, sustained fire, 10 rounds from either sitting or

Wings Bond Rally Held; Drive To Begin Monday

A Savings Bond Rally, featuring the Carolina State Director, Savings Bond Program, Walter P. Johnson as the speaker was conducted this morning at the Camp Lejeune Community Center. The rally was in preparation for the U. S. Savings Bond Drive which begins Monday.

Camp Lejeune Drive will be held until Friday, Aug. 30. This time emphasis will be placed on the value of U. S. Savings Bonds to all personnel about the Lejeune area. Johnson in his talk stated that the Savings Bond Program is a drive for donations to and national charities, and that a Savings Bond, which is an investment in the country's economic security, is a dollar put into a savings account that is not lost or wasted, but is returned with interest. The lowest bond, with $18.75, returns $25.00. One of these each year during a four year enlistment could give a Marine a total of $1,200 at the bond maturity for which he paid only $90.

Savings Bonds are an investment for the future. Education, home, or just to have money available. Bonds help the individual and they help the nation. Be thrifty. Buy them now.

ment for the future. Education, home, or just to have money available. Bonds help the individual and they help the nation. Be thrifty. Buy them now.

LEADS THE WAY—MGySgt. George V. Hibbard, Administrative Chief of Marine Corps Base, kicks off the 1963 U.S. Savings Bond — Freedom Bond Drive as he invests in four Savings Bonds totalling $3,000 to provide for his children's education. Mr. R. L. Williams, manager of the Camp Lejeune branch of the First Citizens Bank turns over the bonds to Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, Base commanding general registers approval. Monday, the 26th of August through Friday, August 30, marks the annual Savings Bond Drive here. Take a hint from Sgt. Hibbard, invest in a secure future with U. S. Savings Bonds. (Photo by SSgt. R. Division To Man Three Coffee Bars

With the Labor Day weekend steadily getting nearer, plans have been drawn up for the establishment of Coffee Bars in three areas along North Carolina highways between 4 p. m. Sept. 2 and 6 a. m. Sept. 3.

Open to military and civilian personnel alike, Coffee Bars have been widely used by tired motorists and have proven quite successful in reducing the number of traffic accidents between the Coffee Bar and Camp Lejeune.

One Coffee Bar will be located three miles east of Kinston, N. C., at the junction of U. S. 258 and N. C. highway 55. Lejeune Marines passing through the Warsaw, N. C., area during the operation of the Coffee Bars will find one available one mile east of Warsaw at the junction of N. C. highways 24 and 50.

The third Coffee Bar will be operating seven miles north of Wilmington, N. C., at the junction of U. S. 17 and Wrightsville Beach Road.

The 6th Marines have the responsibility for the "Bar" near Kinston; the 2d Engineer Bn., has the one in the Warsaw vicinity and the 2d Anti-Tank Bn., is to establish and operate the Coffee Bar north of Wilmington.

Promotions And Officer Programs

Item: Upgrade rank requirements in supporting unit T/O's.

Discussion: It is realized that Headquarters Marine Corps has, since 1959, made several studies of the T/O's of all units in the Marine Corps in an endeavor to evaluate all billets and properly establish each billet in consonance with the total rank structure and that this is an extremely complex matter and cannot easily be resolved. This problem is presented as a matter of considerable concern among many NCO & SNCO's serving in the supporting arms occupational fields.

Many supporting units, particularly supporting arms units, are, but nature, limited by size and number. This automatically restricts promotional opportunities within the occupational fields concerned. The paucity of billets for senior staff noncommissioned officers, particularly gunnery sergeants, creates a career bottleneck choking off the orderly flow of advancement within the particular field. This is well illustrated in the OF Field 1800, current T/O's reflect but 1 billet E-7 of 1800 per tank company and none in an amphibian tractor company. Obviously with but three tank and three amphibian tractor battalions in the regular Marine Corps troop list the requirement for gunnery sergeants is extremely limited. The additional requirements for I&I and those in other category "B" billets, allocated to this OF expand this only slightly. Further, billets for MSGts and MSGts have yet to be designated and established thus creating a questionable area relative to the total pay grade structure in some supporting arms MOS.

Presented here, in view of this situation, is an opinion and not a solution. To upgrade billet assignments within supporting arms units would more than justify such an upgrading from the standpoint of the skills, responsibilities and the "36" to "36" required in these "36" to "36" increasing com, weapons and equipment be held by the "36" to "36" day.

Such an upgrading would assist the leadership and professional background desired in the supporting arms family and would further bring about more of an equality of responsibility and promotional opportunity among all occupational fields in the Marine Corps.

Our group has no recommended solution; however, would like cognizant department at HQMC to be made aware of problem.

Item: Establish cutting scores for promotion by MOS.

Recommended Solution:

Consideration be given to promotion by MOS after study is made by personnel department, which should prove benefit to be derived by better control of MOS.

Item: Warrant Officer/limited duty officer program for enlisted with over ten and not more than twenty years service.

Recommended Solution:

Reevaluate present program and make some provision for inclusion of more experienced senior NCO's into WO/LDO program. Extend time in service requirements to include these men.

Training And Civilian Schooling

Item: Establishment of a formal staff noncommissioned officer/noncommissioned officer leadership school at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

Recommended Solution:

That a junior level staff noncommissioned officer school for pay grade E-6-E-7 be established at Quantico, Virginia. Students to be assigned by HQMC as selected by the Enlisted Performance Board.

Item: Establish a career advisory course in the curriculum at the First Sergeant's School, Parris Island, South Carolina.

Recommended Solution:

Include career advisory in curriculum at 1st Sgt./Sgt. Maj. Admin School at Parris Island, S. C.

2d Force Recon's Jumpmasters Meet High Requirements For Title

Force Troops' 2d Force Recon Co. is now conducting a two week course in theory, map reading, wind drift formulas and pre-jump equipment checks to qualify personnel as jumpmasters.

To be designated a qualified parachute jumpmaster in 2d Force Recon Co., a Marine must satisfactorily perform four self determined exit type jumps, two during daylight hours and two at night. Each of these jumps must be made carrying a general purpose bag and a weapons bag, weighing up to 150 pounds.

The Marines must serve as assistant jumpmaster on one day static line jump and two night static line drops. As the individuals proficiency increases, he acts as a student and two night paratroops.

The Force Recon, Marine must also perform the duties of a drop zone commander for both a day and night paratroop, and be able to perform pre-flight checks on the various aircraft used in making the paratroops. He must check to see that the static line has the proper amount of tension, that there are no sharp edges at the exit, make a seat belt check, insure that the communications between the exit point and the pilot are operative, and that the exit is free of obstructions.

In addition to the aircraft checks, the student must be able to give first checks on the jumpers parachute and his equipment.

The final jump that the student makes is a tactical night drop on an unfamiliar drop zone in which he must plan, prepare and execute all the aspects of this type drop, supplying the pilot of the aircraft with information relative to speed, direction and time of arrival over the drop zone.

Following the completion of the above, he is administered a written examination that covers all aspects of parachuting. A board is then convened to determine if the student has shown the proficiency required to be designated a jumpmaster. If the student has performed satisfactorily, a recommendation is made to the Commanding Officer, 2d Force Recon Co. to designate the student a qualified jumpmaster.

Normally, it takes the average student between 12 and 18 months and between 40 and 50 jumps to satisfactorily complete the prescribed jumpmaster requirements and to be designated a qualified jumpmaster.

Drive Fast — Die Young

Another weekend is approaching and once again Death will cast its shadow over the highways, especially seeking the speeders. Five Marines uselessly lost their lives on North Carolina highways last weekend.

Life is a great and valuable gift. To give it in the defense of our country, one's beliefs or in the defense of the life of another is not wasteful. To give it for no reason at all on a highway is a crime. It accomplishes nothing, except to add to the roster of traffic fatalities and bring grief to families.

By far, speed is not the only killer on the highway but it does account for the most traffic deaths. It is one thing to reach a destination at an appointed time, and frequently slightly behind schedule, but it is something else entirely to be permanently late.

There is more in life than can be had in one weekend of liberty, but there are some who will never know all that life held for them. Learn from the sad experiences of others and don't try to rush your life along a highway which may only lead to a Speedy "Dead End."

Gift Or Quest

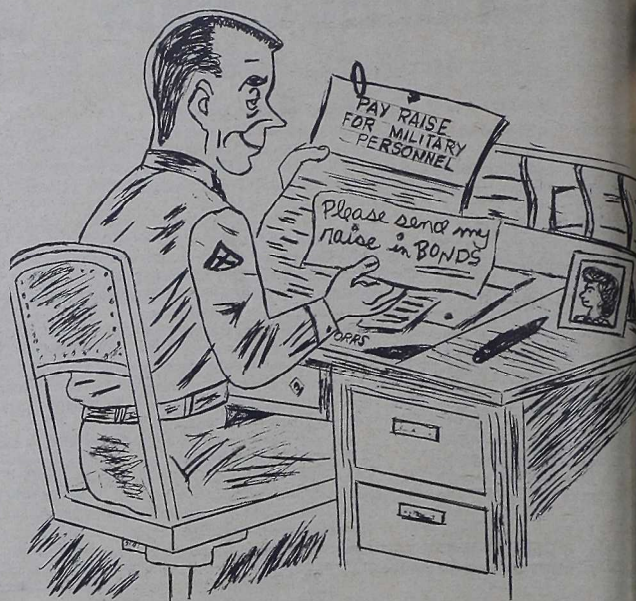

Someone said, "A little learning is a dangerous thing." We can read into this almost any thought we wish to apply. Too often we seek knowledge as an end in itself rather than as a means to an end. For if wisdom is not applied to every area of our lives, we miss many of life's most satisfying experiences.

The story is told of W. C. Fields, one of the great comedians of a generation ago. Fields was known as a "self educated man." Realizing his limitations he secured a large trunk, took it to the nearest book store, opened it, and said to the startled clerk, "Fill 'er up!" There is no filling station for understanding; it must be hammered out on the anvil of life's experiences. This is true of spiritual knowledge and understanding also. One cannot suddenly open his soul and say to God, "fill 'er up." The admonition of Holy Scripture is, we must "study to show yourself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth." Spiritual values cannot be "stacked" into our lives as books into an empty trunk. We must build these truths of God into our daily experiences if we are to enjoy the lasting values of eternal truth.

It is a continuing process of daily diligence, this quest for wisdom. St. Paul, the philosopher of the early Christian Church said, "Not that I have already attained (succeeded) but I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." A daily prayer could well be, "O, God, help me to not choose the inferior when I can choose the best. But most of all give me wisdom to know the difference between the two."

—LEONARD W. DODSON, JR.

HOW ABOUT YOU

Chaplain's Corner

To be lost is a terrifying experience. But the joy and satisfaction of being found is indescribable.

When God in His Word speaks about the man who is lost, He is speaking about the man who is in danger of Hell. And when He speaks of the man who has been found, He means the man who has been rescued from Hell. We are born lost, and unless rescued by Jesus Christ, we remain lost.

The Scriptures show how earnestly God pursues the man who is lost. God is like the man who owns a hundred sheep but has lost one. He makes a continuous search for that one lost.

The search is on today. The search will continue until the end of time. God is in pursuit of men who are lost today.

God is in pursuit of the straying, too. Like sheep, we can wander a long way. We see so much in life that is enticing. We leave God behind and look and listen to the enticements, here and there. We yield to the temptations until we wander farther and farther away.

We wander from decency into immorality and more and more impurity. We wander from integrity into dishonesty, more and more dishonesty. We wander from loyalty as husbands or sons or daughters into betrayal, and more and more betrayal. We wander from propriety into profanity and more and more profanity. We don't know how to get back. We need Someone to rescue us. Jesus Christ can.

The Good News is that God has the initiative in the search and the lost. Before a man even knows he is lost and heading for Hell, he is pursuing him. God even shows the picture to help him admit he is lost. And when he does admit it, God helps him repent and turn in faith to the Rescuer, Jesus Christ.

If you are lost, let Jesus Christ rescue you. If you have been rescued, let Christ know the indescribable joy of having been found, let you show forth His praise.

Dental Corps Marks An

DELICATE WORK—DT2 D. J. Maltman, Base Dental Department, sets teeth for partial dentures in a dental laboratory.

The Naval Dental Corps celebrating its 51st Anniversary today, was created in 1912 through an Act passed by Congress authorizing the appointment of 30 assistant dental surgeons with the rank of lieutenant (junior grade) to be a part of the Medical Department of the Navy.

During WWII the dental corps reached a peak of over 7,000 dental officers and 10,000 dental technicians serving 1,554 dental facilities ashore and afloat.

Today there are some 1,700 dental officers and 3,000 technicians providing dental care to over one million Navy, Marine Corps and other authorized personnel throughout the world.

At Camp Lejeune there are many dental facilities available both in garrison and in the field. The Base Dental Department, Bldg. 15, is responsible for providing dental treatment for all military personnel attached to units of Marine Corps Base, with additional facilities located at Camp Geiger, Montford Point and Courthouse Bay.

The 4th Dental Company handles Force Troops while the 2nd Dental Company is a part of the 2d Division. Also dental services are available at the Air Facility and the Naval Hospital.

Among the many services provided by the base unit is prosthetic care for the Air Facility, Naval Hospital, and Coast Guard units in this area. They also provide dental care for eligible retired personnel, and personnel on recruiting duty.

One of the major accomplishments made by the Base Dental Department was establishing a preventive dentistry program in 1959.

Preventive dentistry refers to any procedure, technique, treatment or measure which has or promises to have the effect of preventing dental disease from occurring. Some facets of the program being conducted are the teaching of scientifically correct dental health education measures, the proper use of the tooth brush and diet advice related to dental disease.

The Dental Service at the Naval Hospital provides specialized care in cases as well as dental treatment of patients and staff.

The Air Facility has three dental officers and five technicians routine dentistry oral surgery for the facility.

Putting Dollars Into

United States Savings Bonds, from the time of the origin of the program in 1941, have played two highly important roles in the development of American ideals. They first provide for the investor a means of saving, safe and profitable. And secondly, the purchase of Savings Bonds, by spreading the national debt among the investors, gives every man the opportunity to share in the obligation of democratic government.

There are two varieties of Savings Bonds available, their differences being in the way in which savings and interest accrue and are paid.

Series "E" bonds are the type most often purchased due to the fact that their purchase price is within the range of all incomes and they mature in only seven years and nine months. These bonds accrue an interest of 3 3/4% compounded semi-annually and are purchased at 3/4 of face value. That is to say, when purchased, a $100.00 Savings Bond costs $75.00 but 7 years and 9 months later it may be redeemed at its face value of $100.00. Also, its cash value at any time after purchase reflects the interest which has been accruing. It can be converted to cash at any time in any bank. These bonds can be bought in denominations of $25.00, $50.00, $100.00 and up.

Series "H" bonds are mostly purchased by those

Commandant's Message

Our records indicate that the once a year campaign does improve the participation in the Savings Bond Program, but shortly at the end of the campaign many cancellations are received. I feel that each individual, civilian or military, should be personally contacted and given an opportunity to participate in one of the regular bond allotment plans. Also each individual should be contacted upon joining a command, when promoted, and before a Savings Bond allotment is stopped. Each individual should be encouraged to select the bond allotment plan which meets his needs and is within his own financial capability. By doing so, sound individual thrift habits will be formed and the national economy will be strengthened. I personally commend the U. S. Savings Bond Program to the attention of every member of the Marine Corps team, and urge their participation in the program.

desiring sound investments with constant interest payments. They are bought at par face value ($500.00, $1,000, $5,000, or $10,000) and an interest check is received every 6 months at an average of 3 3/4% interest over a 10 year period. The beauty of Series "H" Savings Bonds is their use in conjunction with Series "E" bonds. Income Tax savings and a constant income in later years can be gained by the exchange of Series "E" Savings Bonds for Series "H". An example will show clearly how this may be done.

A 21 year old Marine decides to begin a systematic savings plan and so he registers a bond a month allotment to begin in July of 1963. This $25.00 bond costs him $18.75 per month. During the next 17 years and 9 months, he purchases a total of 213 bonds worth $5,587.

This is an increasingly popular size with millions of American families. If you'd started buying one every month ten years ago, you'd now have $5,230.

In less than eight years you can turn this Bond in for a crisp hundred dollar bill. You'll be getting a guaranteed return and your government's thanks.

must be ready to move out with Marines, they must keep proficient in field training just as combat units do. Since combat readiness is an important part of each company's training program they utilize their own personnel as much as possible in the field.

In the field the dental technicians erect and camouflage tents, wire gener-tors and surgical vans and perform such maintenance required during the exercise.

A dentist can begin work in 30 minutes in the field utilizing a 2.5 kw generator, while the main camp is being erected. Before the end of the first day, the dental companies are able to perform any treatment required, including oral surgery.

The 51-year history of the Dental Corps has been a proud one. Five years after their inception, dental officers found themselves in combat. Two dental officers won the Medal of Honor.

The first Navy officer killed in World War I was a dentist serving with the Marines in France.

The Dental Corps has played an important role of leadership in world-wide profession of dentistry. Dental treatment aboard nuclear-powered vessels was initiated as routine procedure with the commissioning of the USS Long Beach and Enterprise.

Commenting on the progress of naval dentistry through the 51 years, Senior Dental Officer, Capt. D. S. McClung, said, "In the 51 year history of the Dental Corps great strides have been made in the development of equipment and techniques to better serve the dental patient. The air-turbine dental drill, pioneered at the Naval Dental School, has received world-wide acclaim, and is now standard equipment in all dental clinics.

The caliber of young dentists commissioned in recent years assures a continuing effort to provide the best in dental care for members of the Navy and Marine Corps."

A lot of Communist eyes are watching the financial strength of our government and of our people like hawks. That's because their leaders have said they would "bury us" economically — and they're waiting for it to happen.

It must be a continuing disappointment to them that, year after year, U.S. savers put so much of their savings in U.S. Savings Bonds.

This stake that Savings Bond owners now have in the strength of our country is more than $45 million — an all-time high.

And because savers can get their money back when they need it, that's financial strength for millions of individuals and families.

Your dollars in Savings Bonds do stand up to be counted — as a measure of the strength of our country and our people.

No matter what their denomination, all U. S. Savings Bonds have these things in common: They're one of the safest and most widely held investments in the world — owned by tens of millions of American families.

They do the double job of helping to make your individual future, as well as your country's future, secure.

Buy the ones that fit your budget — at your bank, or through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

'T' Formation Specified As Basic Grid Offense

In a television interview last week, head football coach, Alan Fiers stated that the team would run mostly from the basic "T" formation, with a few variations. He pointed out that though the "T" is mostly thought of as a razzle-dazzle type formation, he is also going to use power-plays, and should have a strong well-balanced offensive attack.

So far the Camp Lejeune gridders are shaping up nicely, and for the most part are sustaining only minor injuries in practice.

The team is working very hard, and shows a lot of spirit in the daily practice, but Fiers feels that although they have learned a lot, there is still a good deal of work to be done before the opening game with Ft. Benning, Sept. 14.

The bulk of the individual coaching and teaching falls on the able shoulders of his assistants. They are all college players, with at least eight years playing experience behind them.

The backfield coaches are Robert Niessner and Dave Beinler.

Niessner graduated from Wagner College, at Staten Island, N. Y., in 1961. He played four years there, filling the halfback position. Niessner is from Teaneck, N. J. He played high school football, also as a halfback.

Dave Beinler is a halfback, also. He played for the University of Delaware for four years, before he graduated in 1961. He also played four years with his hometown high school, at Irvington, N. J.

The line coaches are Larry Tucker and Tom Grantham.

Tucker graduated from Mississippi College in 1957, playing

After a steak dinner, Maj. E. S. Lambert, the special services officer, introduced guest speaker, Enos Slaughter. The veteran of 25 years professional baseball told of his many ups and downs through his years of major league ball. Slaughter, among his many accomplishments, led the National League in runs batted in 1946, with 130. He played in 10 All-Star games and five World Series.

After answering questions from the ball team, Slaughter concluded his talk by saying that his only regret about base-

Maj. Gen. A. L. Bowser, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, Brig. Gen. R. McC. Tompkins, commanding general 2d Marine Division, Col. C. R. Schwenke, Force Troops, and Capt. R. A. Jasica, Air Facility, presented sport coats with "ECI Conference Baseball Champions" embroidered on them.

The formal banquet came to a close after Halton, presented a golf club assistant coach, Curt Si and a desk set with the inscription, "To John Holt, Baseball Coach, in sincere appreciation for an outstanding job from the 1963 Camp Lejeune Baseball Team."

Holt and Salzer deserve great deal of recognition for their part in the successful baseball season this year. men worked hard, molded competent ball players into a team that not only won the Conference title, but left opposition so far behind the only question throughout the 32 game season was when any team could break the Marines winning streak. Camp Lejeune team ran record to 23 straight ECI before they went down to Ft. Dix. Their final record, 29-2. The last ECI game rained out.

The Force Troops Drum Bugle Corps also deserve recognition for their beautiful renditions during home games.

Visiting Brazilian Marine Dives With 'Sea Urchins'

Captain Francisco Sergio Bezerra Marinho, a member of the Brazilian Marine Corps, has been aboard for a short stay, in connection with training

During his dives with the "Sea Urchins" he has employed some of the search techniques learned on "the Calypso" to good advantage when the diving club was asked to locate some items lost in local waters.

The most fascinating form of sea-life Marinho has found along the Carolina coast is the clam. He had never eaten them before coming here.

M1-26, from New River, MAG-31, from Beauport, C., 13-4 in the first game.

homer for Division in the third inning after Stone advanced to first via a base on balls. Reese and Epps both had two hits for the victors.

The 19th Hole

BY BOB SPENCER

TIP OF THE WEEK
(first of a series of trap-shots)
Fairway bunkers are usually signs of good golf course architecture. Strategically placed, they add character to the hole, keep the long hitters honest, and dictate how the hole should be played.

However, when you get caught trying to steal these valuable yards, or if the temptation is too great to resist, the immediate concern is not why you're there, but how you are going to get out.

Hitting a wood or a long iron out of a fairway trap requires a good lie. This shot also requires a good body turn, and a firm stance which gives both support and freedom.

Take the clubhead back as low to the sand as possible without the head touching. This encourages the downswing to return along the same path, allowing the loft of the club to take the ball off the sand with a normal trajectory and full distance.

If the sand is loose and you must dig in for support, remember to keep your swing level by shortening your grip. Do not ground the club in a hazard. This action is illegal, and under the rules of golf the penalty is loss of the hole in match play, or two strokes in stroke play.

The late Porkey Oliver once quipped after hitting his ball into a trap, "The one good thing about sand is that it isn't water."

Next week's tip will be on half-in, half-out trap shots.

Local Waters 'Off-Limits'

The waters of New River, its tributaries, and Court-house Bay have been placed "off-limits" for swimming and water skiing for military personnel until further notice, due to water contamination.

For this reason, the Water Show and Regatta planned for the Marine Corps Air Facility for Labor Day has been cancelled.

3/2 Wins All-Lejeune Softball Title; Larry Hartzler Hurls Two-Hit Game

Third Bn., 2d Marines won over Base Mat, Bn., 2-0, in the final game of the All-Camp Lejeune Softball Championship Tournament last week.

Larry Hartzler put together a baffling series of fast balls, curves, upshoots and drops to hold the base team to two hits in the seven inning contest. Hartzler struck out 15 of the 25 batters who faced him.

Speaking of Hartzler's fiery fast ball, one hitter complained,

"I smelled smoke, but I didn't know what it was from till the umpire called a strike on me."

The champions jumped on Base Mat. In the first inning for their runs, Craig Hopkins led off with a walk, then stole second base. The runner advanced to third on a fly ball, and was driven in when Jesse Cotto smashed the ball into centerfield for a triple. Frank Weber then drove in the second and last run of the game with a base hit to right field.

Base Mat, threatened in the fourth. Challenger singled down the rightfield line for the first hit against Hartzler, then stole second and third, but died there when the next two hitters struck out.

The only other runner on the base team to reach third was O'Keefe, who collected the last hit for Base Mat.

Quantico Football Team Beginning Grid Practice

MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, Quantico, Va.,—Forty-three prospective football players answered the call here as Marine Corps Schools football mentor, Major Jim Quinn, kicked-off practice sessions last week.

Despite the comparatively small turnout, Quinn is confident that he will be able to produce a team which can cope with the toughest Quantico schedule in recent years. The local pigskinners will meet with Xavier on Sept. 14 to kick off the schedule, which includes Holy Cross, Villanova, and perennial service powerhouses Fort Benning, Fort Dix and Camp Lejeune.

The 1963 squad will be built around a small nucleus of returnees from last year, including Tom Singleton, starting his sophomore year with the Leathernecks. Singleton was selected All-Ivy, All-New England and All-East Coast while playing for Yale before entering the Marine Corps. Also trying for the quarterback slot is Pat McCarthy from Holy Cross, second leading ground-gainer on the East Coast last year.

Other returnee starters from last year's squad include Herman Brauch, a fullback from Colgate; James Davis, center from Oklahoma; Joseph Eilers, Texas A&M tackle; and George Zadjelka, a stand out end with only service ball experience.

Bob Everett, Dolphs Milton, Jim Ross, Chris Stanat and Anthony Wayne will also return to the fold this year.

Other possibilities for the coming season will be halfback Henry Cutting and tackle John Whelan from Holy Cross. Both men were starters for that school last year. Guard Jay Hoffman and fullback Dave Hayes from Penn State will help bolster doubtful spots in the Marine lineup. Tackle Tom Boddard and halfback Tom O'Rourke from Villanova will also be bidding for spots on the Leatherneck team.

"We are facing one of the toughest schedules that I can remember," stated Jim Quinn, "but I think that with this type of talent filling the openings left by transfer of many of last year's players, we can come out on top."

Head Coach Wanted For Varsity Basketball

Base Special Services is accepting applications for the position as head basketball coach of the 1963 Camp Lejeune varsity team. Applications, including experience and other pertinent data should be forwarded to Base Special Services, Goettge Memorial Field House, Bldg. 751, for consideration.

Social Security Of Domestic Workers Depends On Reports By Housewives

Mr. Adrian Hatfield, District Manager of the Social Security Administration office in New Bern, said today that all employers who have employees working at jobs covered by social security are required to report their earnings accurately and promptly. He said many employers think it is not important to report earnings when a worker only earns "a little bit". But this "little bit" may be the factor which determines whether the worker's family gets social security benefits when the worker retires, dies, or becomes disabled.

Mr. Hatfield said there are three employer classifications: (1) employers who operate a trade or business; (2) housewives who have domestic workers in and around their homes; and (3) farm operators who hire farm hands.

"All these employers should ask that the worker show his social security card when he is hired," Mr. Hatfield said.

"You, as the employer, should put in your permanent records the name and social security number exactly as they are shown on the card. You will need these two items when you report the worker's earnings to Internal Revenue Service."

Mr. Hatfield explained that a calendar quarter is a three-month period. January, February, and March make up the first quarter, and the three three-month periods following make up the second, third, and fourth quarters. The maximum amount of wages to be reported for one worker in a single calendar year is $4,800, but there is no minimum amount—wages paid to an employee covered work must be reported.

Housewives, however, report the actual cash wages paid household worker only if worker is paid $50 or more the quarter. Room and board do not count but carfare or if paid in cash, household workers are reported on the household report form, while available from the Social Security Office or the Internal Revenue Office.

Nine Lejeune Personnel Gain Parts For Local Theater Guild Production

Rehearsals began this week for the "Caine Mutiny Court-Martial". The current production of the Jacksonville Theatre Guild which will be presented this fall.

"The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" is an adaptation of the book, "The Caine Mutiny," by Herman Wouk. The complete plot and story of the book has been worked into a highly dramatic court room scene for this play. It features a court martial against a young, upright lieutenant who relieved his captain of command in the midst of a harrowing typhoon on the ground that the captain was psychopathic in the crises, and directing the ship and its crew to its destruction. The odds and naval tradition are very much against the lieutenant in this trial.

One of the nation's leading critics has proclaimed "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" as "The modern stage at its best."

The play will be directed by Lola McChesney, a veteran in little theatre work.

Camp Lejeune personnel currently in the production are: PFC Philip R. Ryan and PFC kneeling positions. The third segment was from the 300 yard marker with 10 shots from the prone position, time limit of 60 seconds. The last portion of the meet was fired from 600 yards, 20 shots, slow rate, with one minute for each shot.

Highlight of the meet was when young Army PFC, Allan M. Ewing outshot the more than 580 seasoned rifle competitors setting a new record of 500-69V's to become the top shot in the Armed Forces.

Twenty-three - year - old Ewing, with only 18 months in the service fired the perfect score, breaking three previous records set by other military marksmen who have won the crown of U. S. Armed Forces Rifle Champion. He was one of only a handful of non-rated men competing. Most of the competitors were non-commissioned officers.

The previous record for this coveted title was set last year by Army Specialist 5th Class Earl L. Waterman with an aggregate score of 499-61V's. This was a record with Waterman shooting all bull's-eyes except one. Ewing didn't go out of the black circle once as he steadily poured rounds at the target.

Ewing will be the first to receive a newly instituted award from the Secretary of Defense when he is presented an especially prepared M-1 Garand Match Rifle from the Office of the Secretary of Defense and a letter of congratulations on his marksmanship achievement.

Marine GySgts. L. J. Creech and J. A. Zahm carried off top honors as the U. S. Armed Forces Individual Long Range Champions for 1963. These matches were fired on the second day of the meet as the competitors fired 20 rounds from the 600 and 20 rounds from the 1000 yard line. Creech used the Garand M-1 rifle and Zahm a bolt action weapon for scores of 199-21V's and 200-38V respectively.

Last Monday the team competition got into high gear with the Commandant, Marine Corps Schools Team Match. The Army took the crown as the team from Marksmanship Training Unit, Fort Benning, Ga., fired a combined score of 882-58V for the title.

The Army Eastern Region Team blasted a total of 1156 points to capture the Marine Corps Infantry Trophy Team Match on Tuesday amidst a morning of steady drizzle then clear skies in the afternoon.
