Seabees Finish Training At Camp Lejeune - Caribbean Next

United States Naval Mobile Construction Battalion ONE, 10 men strong, concluded a six-week period of advanced infantry training at Camp Lejeune last week with a field exercise, coordinated with combat elements of the 2d Marine Division.

MCB ONE of Davisville, La., commanded by LCdr. H. Miller, began the intensified combat course in preparation for training exercises in the Caribbean, scheduled for the near future.

Earlier this month, the Seabee unit was notified that it had won both a Navy Unit Commendation award and the Peller Plaque, an award given annually by the Society of American Military Engineers to the most outstanding Naval construction unit for their operations in the Antarctic and at the U. S. Naval Station at Rota, Spain.

During their stay at Camp Lejeune, the men of MCB ONE underwent specialized training in defensive weapons and operational tactics. Much of the training time was devoted to qualifying with the M-14 rifle, the use of mines, explosive, sapper traps and other combat essentials needed within a Seabee Unit.

Also while at Lejeune, the unit staged a parade and review in honor of Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, commanding general, Marine Corps Base. During the Azalea Festival in Wilmington, N. C., MCB ONE passed in review with Marine marching units from Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point.

FIRST AWARD—for the 1963 Navy Relief Drive is this beautiful 1963 Buick Riviera. (Sorry, fellas, pretty Jane Maynard, the current Miss Jacksonville, doesn't go with the car). The fund drive, due to begin on Monday, April 29, is held each year to enable the Navy Relief Society to aid Camp Lejeune servicemen and their families in time of need. This year's net goal has been set at $50,000. Five automobiles, led by the Riviera, and a boat, motor and trailer comprise the Relief Drive awards this year.

EDM Shooters Undergo Marksmanship Training

Two hundred and thirty eight shooters, representing six Marine Corps teams, arrived at the Camp Lejeune Rifle Range last week in preparation for the annual Eastern Division Rifle and Pistol Matches, scheduled for May 20-May 25.

Approximately 400 of the Corp's top rifle and pistolmen are expected to match their shooting skills for top honors this year.

Marine teams already aboard are: 2d Marine Division and Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune; Marine Corps Air Station and 2d Marine Air Wing, Cherry Point; 8th & 1st, Washington, D. C., and Marine Corps Air Base, Beaufort, S. C.

First on the shooters' agenda is a week of grueling conditioning and instruction, conducted by the Marksmanship Training Unit from Quantico, Virginia, under the direction of Captain J. A. Getchell, Chief MTU Instructor.

This unit, consisting of three officers and six Staff NCOs, is representative of some of the finest riflemen in the Corps. All of the MTU instruction staff are Distinguished Riflemen.

During this week, April 22 through April 26, the competitors will undergo intensified instruction in position, sight alignment and picture, use of windage and elevation and preferred psychological approaches to competitive shooting before the first practice round goes zinging toward the targets.

FT Provides Dental Work at Garcia

Fourth Dental Company, Force Troops, has extended its dental support of Force Troops personnel to other Marines stationed at and undergoing training at Camp Garcia, Vieques.

Under a rotation system a dental officer and technician spend 30 days at Camp Garcia treating all personnel. Captain John H. Atkins, DC, USN and DT D. L. Woods, compose the present team.

The need for this service was noted during an inspection trip earlier this year by Capt. H. H. Fridley, DC, USN, commanding officer of 4th Dental Company. Commenting on the program, Capt. Fridley noted that routine dental care is now readily available to all personnel as well as emergency treatment to units in the landing and assault phases of their exercises. He also pointed out the valuable training received by the dental team in the use of field equipment, sometimes under simulated battle conditions.

Previous to this personnel were transported to the Naval Air Station to Roosevelt Roads for dental care. Now only major dental cases will be sent to Roosevelt Roads.

ON THE MOVE—Marines of the 8th Marine Regiment move out on the double during a field problem held this month. The Marines were running to a waiting helicopter to be airlifted across New River.

Dog Show

The Onslow County Kennel Club announces that it will conduct a Fun Match and Obedience Trials this Sunday, April 28, at Wilson Bay Park, W. Bayshore Blvd., Jacksonville. It is scheduled to commence at 2 p.m. and all military personnel in this area are cordially invited to attend with an entry or as spectators.

2d Division, Force Troops, 2d Wing Combine Forces For Field Problem

A highly trained 8th Marine Regiment, supported by Force Troops units and units of the 2d Marine Air Wing, held a four day field problem April 15-18.

Following a simulated landing of the 2d Marine Division over Onslow Beach, the 8th Marine Regiment, under the command of Colonel A. Caputo, moved inland to meet and destroy organized and guerrilla enemy forces in its area of operation.

Marines of 1st Battalion, 8th Marine seized objectives and established position control over their portion of Sneads Ferry Road. They then continued the attack until they had seized the south bank of New River and prepared to conduct river crossings. Approximately 500 troops of the battalion were airlifted across the river by the helicopters of Squadron HMM 263, MAG26. Another 200 troops of the battalion made the crossing by LVTs from 2d Amphibious Tractor Battalion.

Meanwhile, the 3d Battalion, 8th Marines, flanking the 1st Battalion, overran its objectives and secured the area to the south bank of New River. They were then assigned the mission of mopping up scattered enemy resistance south of New River. Assisting the 8th Marines in seizing the ground and destroying the enemy were Force Troops combat and service support units accomplishing special tasks.

To assist the 8th Marines intelligence collection effort, Recon Marines from 2d Force Reconnaissance Company, executed pre-D-day parachute entry into enemy guerrilla territory to accomplish reconnaissance of enemy activity in the Verona Loop Road Area. They found suitable landing zones for the helicopter assault forces and maintained surveillance of major communications routes and road junctions in the area.

Company "B", 2d Amphibious Tractor Battalion, attached to units of the 8th Marines, lending mobility to the attack, moved inland. With the area south and east of New River secured, the Amtracs transported elements of the 1st Battalion, 8th Marines across New River.

Company "B", 2d Tank Battalion employed their tanks with the infantry during the attack providing shock action to the maneuver and affording strong anti-tank protection supplementing the Ontos Company.

2d Bridge Company constructed bridges for movement of personnel and equipment across Duck Creek. A five-float raft was constructed a Mile Hammock Bay and moved to French Creek to ferry tanks across to support the infantry in the counter-guerrilla action west of New River.

Other Force Troops units deployed in the field to support the 8th Marines were 8th Motor Transport Battalion and 2d Hospital Company.

Company "C", 2d Recon Battalion executed recon mission in order to determine the best crossing sites for LVTs and provided recon helicopter patrols.

Company "A", 2d Anti-Tank Battalion supported both BLT on their inland fight, and Company "C", 2d Engineer Battalion provided all engineer support. Communications support for the entire problem was supplied by the 8th Marines.

Aggressor forces were furnished by the 22d Marine and 3d Battalion, 2d Marine Regiment.

The 22d Marines controlled the problem under the command of Major R. V. Moleky, commanding officer, 1st Battalion, 22d Marines, Force Troops personnel were utilized as umpires.

Copperhead Menace To Housing Areas

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles to inform military and dependent personnel of the hazards of plant and animal life which are poisonous in nature. It is the aim of this series to acquaint the Marines and families of the Camp Lejeune area with the various characteristics of plants and animals we will be discussing.)

The most troublesome snake in the housing and base areas is the copperhead, a type moccasin, which is practically impossible to control.

The copperhead can be found in such habitats as beneath boards, steps, leaf piles, houses, damp areas and other locations which will offer protection.

Copperheads, or highland moccasins as they are sometimes referred to, are a light brown in color with about 15 darker brown bands which resemble an inverted "Y" running across the back of the snake with the bases of the "Y's" meeting at the center of the back.

Occasionally the copperhead will attain a length of over four feet, but the average length for this area is three and one half feet. The largest specimen on record measured four feet six inches in length.

The range of the copperhead for North Carolina is the entire state. They have been found even in the most heavily populated districts and localities.

Quite deadly, the copperhead is a member of the viperine family which also includes the rattlesnake and the moccasin, and feeble and the breathing labored.

In fatal cases death may occur in 24 to 48 hours. The severity of the symptoms and final outcome depends upon the amount of venom injected and absorbed in the general circulation which in a large measure depends of the size of the snake.

Young copperheads are brought forth live in a membrane sac. A brood of young will vary in number from eight to 12.

Simply because the copperhead strikes once doesn't mean that it is rendered defenseless or harmless, for it has the capabilities to strike a number of times, and each is just as venomous as the first.

One of the many ways to identify a poisonous snake from its non-poisonous cousin is the eye. The eye of a poisonous snake has an elliptical pupil such as a cat's eye, while the non-poisonous variety have a round pupil such as a human eye.

When bitten by the copperhead, it is suggested that the person remain calm, don't run or panic, apply a tourniquet above the wound, but not too tightly. The tourniquet is to close off the surface blood but not the main flow in the arteries. In addition, do not use any stimulants. This includes alcohol, coffee, tobacco, etc.

Consult a doctor immediately.

Next week, the Water Moccasin.

President —

Bill Patton

The presidency of the North Carolina Honor Society was won by Bill Patton, 18, a junior at Camp Lejeune Junior-Senior High School, on April 19, at an election held in Raleigh, N. C. Patton, son of DTC and Mrs. T. P. Patton, of 5651 Oregon St., Capehart, was one of three candidates selected to run. Ballots were cast by delegates representing high schools throughout the state. Patton won the first ballot. Three weeks ago he won an honorable mention at the North Carolina Science Fair, also held in Raleigh. His exhibit was entered in the field of bio-physical science. Patton is also treasurer of his school's student government body.

Production 'Input' Staged To Explain True Meaning

INPUT...a word that passes through the mouth of every Marine who is attached to the 2d Marine Division, FMF, Camp Lejeune--is, in essence, a two-year experience, for that's how long they will be in Input.

This proved to be especially true for many recent joiners of the 2d Division when Lt. Col. J. F. Mentzer, commanding officer, 3rd Battalion, 2d Marines, staged a production, "Input," for his battalion at the Station Theatre.

New Marines going on Input discovered the true meaning of the word when Lt. Col. Mentzer started his briefing at a battalion landing team (BLT) level and covered every duty and aspect down to the number-one man in the organization--the rifleman.

He included each Marine's position, his job and the results of each individual's effort towards fulfillment of the BLT mission. He explained the number of riflemen, automatic riflemen, machine gunners, grenadiers, rocket-launchers, mortars, 106-mm. recoilless rifles, and flamethrowers within the battalion.

Attached weapons and personnel from Marine Corps Base and Force Troops were also included in the production, and the colonel explained how a reinforced BLT could rain down more than 10,000 pounds of high explosives on any enemy in just one minute. Communications--the life-line of command control was stressed as were different duties performed by clerks, supplymen, drivers, mechanics, corpsmen, cooks and messmen.

Allied Officers Observe Lejeune Training Facilities

Thirty Allied Officers, representing 18 countries, from the Senior and Junior School, MCS, Quantico, Va., arrived at Camp Lejeune Tuesday for a two day tour of base installations.

During their visit, the officers observed units of Force Troops and 2d Marine Division, and Marine Corps Base.

Arriving early in the morning, they were met by Lt. B. C. Henry, escort officer and were billeted in Bachelor Officers' Quarters at Paradise Point.

Later they observed a parachute drop by 2d ANGLICO. Then they were taken to OP#2 to watch a live air-naval gunfire demonstration by 2d ANGLICO. In addition to the parachute drop and live firing, the officers also visited a static display of tanks, amtracs, artillery and communication equipment, which ended their tour of Force Troops.

The officers dined at the Commissioned Officers Club, and then departed for a tour of the 2d Marine Division.

After attending a briefing at Bldg. 2, they observed an infantry weapons demonstration by Marines from the 2d Division.

On Wednesday morning after an early breakfast, the Allied Officers departed for a tour of the 1st Infantry Training Regiment at Camp Geiger.

After eating noon chow, they departed for MCAF, New River, where they boarded an aircraft for their flight to MCAS, Beaufort, South Carolina.

Specialist On NBC Speaks At Lejeune

Replacing unserviceable equipment and ordering new equipment in the rapidly expanding field of Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Defense (NBC) is of vital importance today, a Chemical Defense Property Equipment Specialist explained to quad command delegates here last week.

Due to the rapid changeover and fragility of the equipment, 1st Sergeant Henry D. Arven, of the Marine Corps Supply Activity, Philadelphia, Pa., told the delegates, it is important that visual inspections be made frequently of all equipment and reporting procedures be kept up-to-date.

Sergeant Arven acquainted NBC and Supply Officers and Senior Staff NCO's from the Quad commands on the various Reporting Procedures and Serviceability of equipment during his visit here on April 18 and 19.

Camp Lejeune was one of four major commands to be visited by the Sergeant. He is touring commands throughout the country acquainting them with the various requirements for making reports required by Headquarters, Marine Corps, concerning NBC Defense equipment, the inspecting of equipment and its status of serviceability, and replacement.

He compared the various echelons of the Supply system, stressing the importance of keeping accurate up-to-date files on both serviceable equipment and unserviceable equipment by stock number and lot number, doing away with confusion as a requisition goes from echelon to echelon.

Division's Assistant Chaplain Named To Sixth Naval Reserve District Post

Commander John Vincer, Chaplain's Corps, was transferred from Camp Lejeune yesterday, after serving as one of two Assistant Chaplains of the 2d Marine Division for almost two years.

He has been named Assistant District Chaplain for Reserve Matters, Sixth Naval District, USNB, Charleston, S. C.

No stranger to the Marine Corps, Chaplain Vincer has served with Marine units at Beaufort, S. C., Operation

"Deepwater" at Saras Bay, Turkey, the 2d Provisional Marine Brigade at Lebanon, and at Vieques, Puerto Rico with a Marine Expeditionary Unit.

According to Chaplain Vincer, he would have enjoyed being closer to the line companies during his tour at Camp Lejeune, but he felt ready for the change.

Father Paul Lloyd, Cdr., Chaplain's Corps, has now assumed the full responsibility as Assistant Division Chaplain.

Bulletin

principles, the shooters will begin two weeks of practice firing, both for practice and elimination purposes.

According to Col. R. M. Calland, Executive Officer for the Eastern Division and Marine Corps Matches, some of the qualities evaluated in making the final selection of competitors are attitude, scores attained, the ability to endure the stress of stiff competition and a deep-rooted desire to win.

The Eastern Division Matches precede the Marine Corps Matches from which the Marine Corps Rifle and Pistol Team Squads are selected to represent the Corps in the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, will also host the Marine Corps Matches, June 3-8.

Citizenship Class

The instructors are Lt. Marty Sellman, Dental Corps, USN, of the Base Dental Department and Pfc. Steve Kavalgian, Division Informational Services office.

The English class is taught by Pfc. Gary Azerler of the Division Informational Services office.

All aliens, service personnel or dependents, who are not members of the class are invited to attend.

AMERICA'S LAWS PROTECT OUR FREEDOMS

The president has proclaimed May 1, 1963 as Law Day USA, a day on which all Americans should pause for a moment to give thanks that we live under a government of laws, not men.

This is no idle concept, no mere slogan, no pious phrase. It is a living reality, a system which sets our nation, and other nations so governed, apart from the tyranny which exists when men rule instead of laws.

Each of us knows what the law is; each of us enjoys its protection. How different from life in those lands where the law is what one man says it is! Here we have no "party line" which one day sets up an individual as a hero, and the next condemns him; and all for the same act.

We in the service are dedicated to protecting our country and our way of life. It is most appropriate that we stop to consider the way in which our respect for the law is the cornerstone of our way of life.

The individual in our country is the freest man on earth. We should resolve to keep our country free. As part of our effort, let us all resolve to obey and respect and cherish the law — for it is our greatest protection.

Chaplain's Corner

We are amused by the story of the Marine whose automobile was his pride and joy. He wanted to add to his car every kind of accessory which would add to its appearance, performance, and comfort. Unfortunately, after he had selected the list of accessories he wanted, the bill for all of them came to a staggering figure. The only way he could pay for everything he wanted was to borrow the money on his car. In the end, he fell behind in the payments and lost his car in his efforts to obtain the accessories.

The foolishness of this man's transaction is so obvious that we would not believe it possible for a man to be caught in that kind of trap. But in a larger sense most of us are guilty of the very same procedure in living our lives. We view the gift of life as no more than the base to which we add all sorts of delightful things. We include in our list of life's accessories a good quantity of pleasure, position, prestige, and possession of various delightful objects designed to add to our enjoyment in life. Basically, each one is good and serves its purpose well. But sometimes we are inclined to run the bill up to high. We forfeit the real purpose of life by trying to add too many accessories.

Why not take the time to protect the gift of life which God has given to you? Make a clear distinction between that which is a part of your life's purpose and that which only adds glitter to it. If you fail to make your life worthwhile, you will find that nothing you can add to it will be worth the price you have to pay.

—JOHN E. THOMPSON
Division Chaplain

'Books Increase Our Freedom To Serve'

These words express the idea that Camp Lejeune has adopted as its own theme for National Library Week, which is being observed during this week of April 21 through 27. Although the local theme differs in wording from that of the national, "Reading, the fifth freedom — enjoy it," both expressions are concerned with the preservation of our liberty. Possibly the idea used on the Base comes a little nearer to approaching the precise mission of the Marine Corps itself. As Marines, we have a responsibility toward safeguarding our freedom by keeping ourselves informed of past history and by studying the present world situation in order to interpret events that will keep our independence from being undermined because of negligence on our part. Each of us has the privilege and the occasion to make that contribution in many ways everyday.

We serve the Armed Forces of our country. We take part in the government of our country by voting with informed opinions. We are active in civic groups and organizations.

In order to continue our education, we should take advantage of the services and the resources of our local libraries which provide materials for all people of all ages, backgrounds and experience.

Each of us needs to use our libraries to read, to understand, and to act in order to LIVE OUR FREEDOM.

WASHINGTON—Senior Navy dental officers held a three-day conference at Headquarters Marine Corps this week to discuss the problems of providing dental service to the Marine Corps.

The conference, heard welcoming remarks by Lt. Gen. Wallace M. Green, Jr., chief of staff, Headquarters Marine Corps. Rear Admiral Curtis W. Schant, DC, USN, assistant chief, Bureau of Medicine and Surgery and chief of the Dental Division, delivered opening remarks. The conference, first of its type sponsored by the Marine Corps, was coordinated by Captain Victor J. Niiranen, staff dental officer, Headquarters Marine Corps.

The agenda items for the conference, although broad in scope, were grouped under five general subjects: Training, equipment, personnel, research and development, and Reserve matters.

Almost 50 years ago, on Aug. 4, 1913, the first Navy dental officer was ordered to the Marine Corps for duty. He was Acting Assistant Dental Surgeon Lucian C. Williams, and his first duty station was Parris Island, S. C.

The Armed Forces have announced a competitive program for amateur radio operators in celebration of Armed Forces Day.

and private eyes make for enjoyable viewing.

The Book Shelf

WILL ROGERS: A biography by Donald Day is the full-scale portrait of a beloved American, full of wit, anecdote, and personalities, giving a glowing account of the American that formed him and the American decades through which he lived.
Born on the frontier, from mixed blood lines dominated by Cherokee, Rogers had little education and early in life became a working cowboy. From this beginning, he gradually found his way into the entertainment world, and this book tells of his successful career.

Chaplains' Message

Twenty proud years of medical support to this great Marine Base have been successfully achieved, we acknowledge, ultimately through the goodness of Divine Providence.

In final analysis it is God Who gives life and health; the doctor's greatest dignity is that he so often is found an instrument in the Hand of God.

In prayerful dependence upon the Almighty for His continued blessing upon our healing mission, this United States Naval Hospital looks hopefully forward to like decades of future service to the military community.

Surgeon General's Message

Two decades have now elapsed since the commissioning of the United States Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, on May 1, 1943. This short span of time has witnessed startling changes, not only in world affairs and national posture, but also in the extremely complex technology necessary for the proper functioning of this Navy of ours. Throughout this period, however, the primary mission of the Medical Department of the United States Navy has remained steadfast: "Safeguarding the health of the Navy." This hospital has played a major role in fulfilling this mission.

On this twentieth anniversary occasion I wish to take the opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the staff of the United States Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, for their dedication and devotion to duty. This sense of responsibility has contributed materially to the successful achievement of our mission.

HAPPY TH

The feat of carving a military reservation out of 200 square miles of swampland and sand dunes was begun in 1941. Today the United States Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, is considered to be the world's most complete amphibious training base, and this site was approved 15 February 1941.

Initial appropriations of $1,500,000 were made for surveys and land purchase. One week after the Navy Department announced construction contracts totaling $14 the hospital which supports its needs is one of the largest naval hospitals in the South.

With World War II already engulfing Europe, it was evident that facilities at Quantico and Parris Island were inadequate to meet Marine Corps plans for expansion on the east coast. A diligent and comprehensive search was begun for a site which would meet many varied requirements, among which were: accessibility to deep water ports; an area of at least ten square miles unobstructed by public roads, railroads, industries, or habitations which would interfere with firing by artillery weapons or by aircraft and anti-aircraft gunnery, and yet be in close proximity to rail transportation and power; availability of landing beaches with varying surf conditions; a suitable site for the operation of land and sea planes; and proximity of recreation areas. After detailed reconnaissance, the vicinity of New River, North Carolina, was determined to be the most suitable area for all elements of a Marine Division. The Navy Department's request for construction of a mammoth East Coast Marine Corps Training Center on Construction of the new camp was a task, involving more than 1400 permanent buildings and 1000 huts. From the time of its concept, in 1946, a total of $750,000,000 worth of construction was still pending.

Originally designed as Marine Barracks, the site was later changed officially to Camp Lejeune near the town of Parris Island. This honored the name of John A. Lejeune, Commandant of the Marine Corps who was famous for his leadership in World War I.

The peninsula known as "Hadnot Point," covering 144 acres, was selected for the site of the new hospital. Capt. T. L. McUSN, reported as Prospective Medical Officer in Command on 30 March 1942, and the first building was turned over to Capt. M. Coulter, USN, as "substantially complete." Chief Pharmacist M. Coulter, USN, on 30 March 1942, was preparing requisitions for equipment and supplies.

Anniversary

Messages

The twentieth anniversary of the United States Naval Hospital at Camp Lejeune marks the span of time that has seen progress from the mission of filling a wartime need to that of hospital support for the community that is the modern Camp Lejeune. The development of the hospital and its medical capabilities is a tribute to the many devoted men and women who have served long and well in the fulfillment of their mission.

The medical care available to the more than 70,000 military and dependent personnel has made an invaluable contribution to the mental and physical well-being of Camp Lejeune personnel maintaining our "Force in Readiness."

My sincere congratulations to the entire staff of the United States Naval Hospital on this the twentieth anniversary of your Command.

Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley
Commanding General
Marine Corps Base

An anniversary is a time for taking stock of the past and the present. A retrospective look reveals a long history of medical support provided efficiently and expertly by this hospital.

It is more important to examine the present.
The staff energetically cares for a vast number of inpatients and outpatients. This requires great self sacrifice, patience and determination on the part of every member of the staff. I believe we are the "can-do outfit" which we must be.

I commend my 10 predecessors for the heritage they have left us. It is my hope that we leave the hospital's reputation and its facilities unspoiled and untarnished for those who come after us.

Lejeune Tops Wolfpack; Bright Whiffs Nineteen

Veteran righthander Alex Bright showed why he was signed to the major league farm system of the San Francisco Giants, hurling a one-hit, 2-0 shutout against the Wolfpack of North Carolina State, last week. Bright, now in his fourth season with the "Marines" limited the visitors to a lone infield single, walked none and struck out 19.

Lejeune scored its runs in the fourth inning, when third baseman Billy Garrett opened the frame with a walk and first baseman Hal Norton slammed his fifth home run of the year over the left field fence.

The Wolfpack managed to push only one man to second base during the game, coupling their only hit with an infield error. Following the miscue, with two away, Carolina centerfielder Warren Lineberger bounced a curve ball off Bright's glove and towards left field. Shortstop Chuck Teletchea moving toward second for the force out, reversed play and stopped the ball from

Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, will be on hand to toss out the first pitch, starting what promises to be Lejeune's most active little league season. More than 500 boys have signed up to play in the minor, major and pony leagues.

BUM TODAY — HERO TOMORROW—Catcher Tom O'Leary converted adverse followers with a grand slam home run over the leftfield wall, last week to lead the Marines over Frederick College, 12-2. leaving the infield but was unable to make the throw. Bright collected his eighth strike out to end the threat.

Norton's drive was the first hit for Lejeune and was served up by the loser in relief, George Allen.

In the fifth inning with two out, Bright slapped a triple down the right field line, but failed to score when leftfielder Bud Simpson grounded to first.

ECIC Play Starts Here Next Month

Following a ten-game road trip, the Camp Lejeune Baseball Team will return to Agganis Field where it will open the East Coast Interservice Conference against Fort Meade, May 17.

The first ECIC contest will begin a 10-game home stand for the Marines. During the span they will face Forts Meade, Dix, Devens and Eustis and a non-conference game with East Carolina College.

Other teams playing in the ECIC include Edgewood Arsenal, Fort Belvoir, Fort Lee and Fort Monmouth.

While on the road, the local nine will travel to Virginia and New England where it will oppose Washington and Lee University, in Williamsburg; Providence College of Rhode Island; Colby College in Maine; American International College, Brown and the University of Massachusetts, Yale and the University of Conn., and finally returning to North Carolina to face ECC on May 16.

ECC Pirates Trip Camp Lejeune; Marines-FSU Clash Here Saturday

Following a two-game series with the Pembroke College Indians, Wednesday and Thursday, the Camp Lejeune "Marines" will close out a 31-game home stand against the Seminoles of Florida State University, Saturday night at Agganis Field.

Sunday, the local nine will depart for a 10-game road trip which will take them into Virginia and the New England States.

Earlier this week, the Pirates of East Carolina College, collected all their runs in the first three innings and then settled back behind the ten-hit hurling of Lacy West to hand Lejeune its tenth loss of the year, 6-4.

The visitors touched starter and loser Frank Wilhelm for five runs, one in both the first and second frames and three in third and garnered one from reliever Chuck Cuppett, also in the third.

Lejeune picked up an unearned run in the fifth and put together three singles and a double in the seventh for three more.

The Marines had one or more men on base in each inning, but failed to come through in the clutch as they left ten runners stranded, and were retired with the bases loaded in the eighth.

After scoring single runs in the first and second innings, the Pirates opened up the third frame with a 420 foot solo homer to center by second baseman Bud Boverder and following, two singles and another run, capped the inning with a two-run blast to left by first sacker Tom Kidd. Boverder's smash was given up by Wilhelm, while Kidd's was tagged off Cuppett.

Cuppett and reliever Dick Hall combined to hold the visitors to two hits in the re-maintaining seven and two-thirds innings while the Marines out hit their opponents, 10-9.

Lejeune broke into the scoring column in the fifth for a long run when with two away Cuppett, who had reached first on a fielder's choice and took third on an error, scored on a wild pitch.

Catcher Tom O'Leary opened Lejeune's three-run seventh inning with his second hit of the game, a single to center. Pinch-hitter Tom Harrington moved O'Leary to second with a sharp slash to left. With two outs, Hal Norton blasted his second double of the game off the left field wall to score O'Leary, with Harrington holding at third. Both he and Norton crossed the plate on a two-strike single to center by outfielder Cicero McClellan.

Lejeune coupled a single by shortstop Chuck Teletchea, a Pirate error and an intentional walk to move the tying run to second base, but West bore down to end the rally, striking out second baseman Billy Garrett.

Home Runs Net Victory For Marines

Camp Lejeune went to the home run ball to sweep both ends of a two-game series from Frederick College of Portsmouth, Va., 11-5 and 12-2 for their 20th and 21st wins of the season, last week.

Opening the series, Bill Herrington scattered eight hits and allowed four runs in five and two-thirds innings while picking up his third victory against a pair of losses. Herrington gave way in the sixth to reliever Mike Hamilton, with Dick Hall finishing up in the ninth.

Trailing 1-2 in the third inning, the local nine exploded for four runs in the third. Lead-off batter Bud Simpson opened the inning with a single to third and moved to third on a two-base throwing error. Third baseman Billy Garrett punched a Texas league single, scoring Simpson and moved to second on a one-out single by centerfielder Cicero McClellan. Rightfielder Bill Westendick followed with a single to score the runners and scored himself on a wild pitch.

With one out in the fifth, first sacker Hal Norton homered over the leftfield wall. The 325-foot-belt was Norton's sixth of the year and his second circuit blast in as many games. After two outs, Westendick doubled and scored on a triple to center by shortstop Chuck Teletchea.

Garnering four more runs in the sixth, the Marines put together a pair of doubles, a single, a walk and an error.

In the second game, fan-pecked catcher Tom O'Leary, who snapped a serious batting slump with a double in the first game, broke the second wide open in the second with a bases-clearing homer over the left field wall 325 feet from the plate. O'Leary went two for four, beating out an infield hit deep to short in the fifth.

Hard-hitting McClellan selected the opposite side of the diamond, swatting a pair of home runs over the right field wall, a two run blast in the sixth and a 365 foot solo clout over the scoreboard in right center in the eighth.

Righthander Ralph McIntyre, was removed after the fifth inning, picked up his second win of the year against one defeat.

CALLED OUT, BUT . . .—A Frederick College batter was called out at first base after legging out a ground ball hit deep in the hole at short. Lejeune first sacker stretches for the ball as the runner touches the bag.

CS Relays Drawing Top Track Stars

MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, Quantico, Va., World discus holder Al Oerter and 16-pole vaulters John Uelses and Orlando Cruz are among the top athletes accepting bids to the Annual Marine Corps Relays, May 3-4.

Uelses and Cruz head the list of new entries that include Cary Welsiger, Tom Sullivan, Pat Traynor, Mike Herd, Dave Davis, Tom Pagan, triple jump men Chris Ladis, Winston Cooper and George Best.

Newcomers join NYU's Gubner, Morgan State's Jackson, Quantico's 1960 All-American Paul Winder and Maryland State's Charles Mays. Russ Rogers is expected to give the Harrington boys a star-studded field.

The presence of Oerter and Uelses, two world record-holders, will undoubtedly draw the field of enthusiasts from all over the East Coast, Oerter, a Tellico, competing under the colors of the New York Athletic Club, the tying man thrown the discus 204' 10" but Westbury, for the Relays, Gubner, a baseman from an indoor shotput record-holding, has convinced many of the nation's track experts that he will break the world outdoor standard this year. Dallas holds the world outdoor record at 65' 10 1/2".

The mile run is already shaping up as a real thriller. Major subfour minute miler, Villanova's Sullivan, Quantico's Bob Holland head the field to date. Welsiger has clocked in 3:58.1, seventh in the world last year. Sullivan and Holland have both clocked in 4:03.5.

The 100-yard dash is also shaping up as a real thriller. Major subfour minute miler, Villanova's Sullivan, Quantico's Bob Holland head the field to date. Welsiger has clocked in 3:58.1, seventh in the world last year. Sullivan and Holland have both clocked in 4:03.5.

Quantico's schedule after an absence of seven years. The Crusaders, who play a major college schedule including Penn State and Syracuse, have contributed many ball players to the All-American ranks. Heading the list is 240 pound Ken Desmarais, a stalwart in the Quantico line the past two seasons and one of the greatest linemen produced by Holy Cross Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Villanova, which last met Quantico in 1961, was one of the nation's leading teams in ground yardage gained last year. The hard-charging Wildcats played in the Liberty Bowl, losing to Oregon State 6-0 on All-American Terry Baker's record-breaking run.

Rounding out the 1963 schedule are East Coast Inter-service Conference rivals Camp Lejeune, Fort Lee, Fort Devens, Fort Dix and Fort Belvoir.

Hartzler Opens Division Softball Play Twirling Two No-Hit Performances

2D MARINE DIVISION--The 2d Marine Division's two-league softball program got off to a roaring start last week with an amazing three-game performance by a no-hit specialist.

Sergeant Larry Hartzler, a fireballing infantryman from Company "K", 3d Battalion, 2d Marines, threw two no-hitters and a two-hitter in a scant seven days to lead 3/2 to a 3-0 first place standing in the American League.

On opening night Hartzler pitched a perfect, 12-strikeout game over 8 innings as the 3d Battalion Bombers bested Headquarters Battery, 10th Marines 1-0.

On the following night, the 3/2 boys and strong-armed Hartzler returned to trounce the 3d Battalion, 10th Marines, 11-1. The stingy Hartzler gave up only two hits and struck out 15 in this game. After a six-day rest, on April 22, he blazed back to form with his second no-hitter in seven days, an 11-0 whitewash of 2d Engineer Battalion. Although allowing one walk, he improved on his perfect-game, strikeout total, by whiffing 12.

In other American League games played last week, Hq Battery, 10th Marines beat Headquarters Company, 8th Marines 5-4; Hq Company-8th also lost a 12-10 verdict to the 1st Battalion 8th Marines. 1/8 was blasted by 3/10, 19-14. 2d Engineer Battalion were able to salvage one win by trouncing 1st Battalion 14-2.

In the nine-team National League, 2d Battalion, 2d Marines split two games, winning 12-3 over 3d Battalion, 8th Marines, and dropping a 10-5 tilt to 1st Battalion, 10th Marines. 1/10 in turn lost to 4/10, 13-7. 2d Anti-Tank Battalion smashed Headquarters Battalion 17-5, but were defeated by 2d Motor Transport, 13-5. 2/10 bested Headquarters Company-2d Marines, 10-2, and 4/10 edged out a high-scoring victory over 3/8, 17-15.

Bacon Sizzles, Fielding Fizzles; Devilpups Lose

Errors have proved to be the downfall of the Camp Lejeune High School baseball team, especially during last week's action.

The Devilpups picked up their fifth win of the season, but hindered by 13 miscues lost games five and six.

Lejeune was shut out by East Duplin high last week, 3-0, but bounced back to drop Swansboro 6-1, Saturday.

At Beaufort, the Devilpups were limited to four hits as East Duplin scored its first victory in five games.

Paul Bacon, Lejeune mound ace was the victim of poor fielding after allowing only two hits and one earned run.

Duplin scored its first tally in the fifth on a walk and a double and picked up two more in the sixth on a hit batsman, a base knock and three costly errors.

PAULSON CONNECTS
Lou Paulson's two-run homer in the sixth inning sparked the Pups to a 6-1 win over Swansboro during an inter-county contest.

The Lejeune nine put together three runs each in the fifth and sixth innings after the Pirates had pushed across a lone run in the first frame.

McKeon going the distance gave up three hits, walked none and fanned a dozen.

BACON VICTIMIZED
Paul Bacon was again victimized by erratic fielding as the Devilpups booted nine infield plays and one in the outfield to GIVE Beaufort a 10-1 victory.

Tagged with the loss, Bacon limited the hosts to six hits, five of them singles. Lejeune also collecting six baseknocks, were led at the plate by Ned Paulson with two singles in three trips to the plate. Lejeune's only extra base hit was a double by third baseman Jack Sellers.

Career Clues

Retirement is a subject of great importance in the life of every Marine. It has always been an important factor and one which is a big inducement in choosing the Marine Corps as a career. Consequently, it is important to understand the structure of the retirement system.

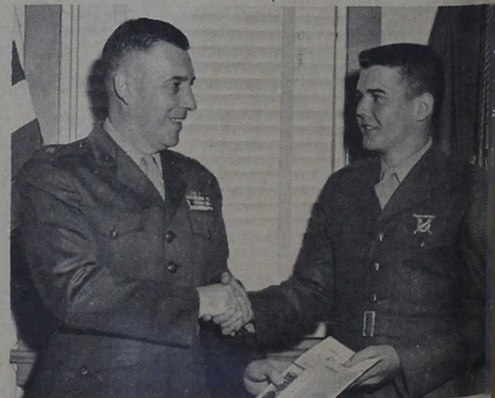

Percentage--Generally, the retirement/retainer pay of enlisted personnel is arrived at by multiplying the active duty base pay times 2 1/2% the number of years of active duty... hence, 20 years of active service would amount to 50% of base pay.

Because a Marine is eligible to "retire" at the end of 20 years service with 50% of base pay, many Marines feel that by staying on active duty after 20 years, he is actually working for half-pay. This is not so! Let us examine the pay of an active and retired Marine.

Monthly Pay--A Gunnery Sergeant (E-7) with 20 years of service receives a monthly base pay of $350. In addition, he receives BAQ in the amount of $114.90 per month. Further, he normally receives commuted rations in the approximate amount of $33.00 per month. Add in also the $6 per month of clothing allowance. The above comes to a total of $503.90 per month. It is to be noted that he may be eligible for such extra pay as pro-pay or hazardous duty pay, etc., which is not added into the above figure. Take into consideration also such pay as travel allowance and dislocations. Inasmuch as a Gunnery Sergeant (E-7) with 20 years of service "retires" with $175 per month, we see immediately that he does not work for 50% of his pay by remaining on active duty. So this Marine "retiring" on 20 will draw approximately 35% of his active duty income... quite a difference from 50%. One more point--Inasmuch as BAQ, Commuted Rations, Travel Pay, Dislocation Allowance and Clothing Allowances are not taxable, the figure of 35% shrinks still further. Also, the proposed new pay bill shows that an E-7's base pay with 20 years of service would advance from $350 per month to $375. Currently, the base pay of an E-8 with 20 years of service is $370 as compared with the E-7's proposed pay raise to $375. And so we see that the E-7 will be earning more than the E-8 is currently earning. Think it over! Stay over!

Lejeune's Schools Busily Observing Library Week

National Library Week, April 21-27, is not passing unnoticed by Camp Lejeune schools. Through various ways, they are stressing to their students the importance and the use of libraries.

Students in all grade levels of the Camp school system, through one way or another, are learning this week of the literary world.

The Tarawa Terrace school, divided into both primary and elementary grades, had its students doing creative work in the writing of original stories, poems and plays, or producing original illustrations of favorite pieces of literature. These were collective classroom projects, combining the efforts of all members of the class. Tuesday afternoon prizes were given to the three winning classrooms in both the primary and elementary levels.

The winners in the primary level were: 1st place, room 23, 1st, grade taught by Mrs. Hoagland; 2nd place, room 31, 2nd, grade taught by Miss Todd and 3rd place, room 22, 1st, grade taught by Mrs. Clark.

Winning in the elementary level were: 1st place, room 61, 6th grade taught by Mrs. Berman; 2nd place, room 65, 5th grade taught by Miss Sutton and 3rd place, room 54, 4th grade taught by Mrs. Wiedner.

In the libraries of all Camp Lejeune schools are new books, ready to prove that there is a book each person can find for his own enjoyment.

Highest Peacetime Medal Given Division Corporal

One of America's highest peacetime decorations was awarded to Corporal Stephen Fozman during ceremonies held this month in 2d Motor Transport Battalion, 2d Marine Division.

The Navy and Marine Corps Medal was presented by Major General Frederick L. Wieseman, commanding general, 2d Marine Division.

Cpl. Fozman was decorated for heroism which arose from an incident on the live-grenade range operated by 2d Service Battalion last fall.

Acting as a safety NCO, he was supervising a group of trainees throwing live hand grenades when a trainee dropped his grenade safety pin and "froze."

Fozman shouted to the Marine to throw the grenade, but the trainee would not respond. Fozman grabbed the trainee's arm and forced him to throw the grenade a few feet from the throwing pit.

Then he pushed the trainee down below ground level as the grenade exploded harmlessly.

A citation accompanying the medal, and signed by Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, stated that "...his actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and probably saved a human life."

Corporal Fozman is generally assigned duties as a motor transport vehicle driver.

He has been a member of the 2d Marine Division for slightly more than one year, and a Marine since July 1959.

Notice

Camp Lejeune Chapter No. 329, National Sojourners Inc. will meet at 6:30 tonight in the Paradise Room of the Paradise Point Commissioned Officers Mess.

Books Are Begging To Be Read

Lejeune's Library System Has Much To Offer A

A late president of Harvard University noted in commenting on a collection of books which he advocated for good reading that "countless books lie on library shelves just begging to be picked up and read."

There are no less than 54,000 books, covering nearly every field of knowledge, lying on the shelves of the Camp Library facilities. Of these, 70 percent are of the non-fiction variety and include some 2,000 reference works such as encyclopedias, dictionaries, registers and Reader's Guides.

In addition there are more than 3,000 books pertaining to Military Science and some 2,000 children's books. The Base Libraries also maintain book sections to supplement off-duty education programs aboard the Base.

Also available at the Base facilities are pamphlets and other materials pertaining to career advisory matter scholarship programs throughout the nation, educational opportunities available at Carolina College as well as other colleges and universities in the nation.

The Base Library system maintains four book sources. There is the Central Library at Hadnot Point, the Mont Point Branch and branches at Courthouse Bay and the Rifle Range.

At the Central Library patrons can enjoy the latest copies of weekly and monthly magazine publications, browse freely through stocked stacks.

The Central Library also features a spacious reference room where patrons can consult notes from standard reference works, or can just sit and read for their own enjoyment.

For patients at the Naval Hospital there are library facilities maintained by the hospital.

Two enterprising young ladies have established their own library at one of the homes. The set-up is modeled after a regular library, although on much smaller scale. They have a lending department, complete with librarian and library assistant.

The patrons of this "establishment" are just at adolescent age, and they nevertheless are made to feel as if they have their own neighborhood library.

The founder of this library is Betsy Foxworth, 11, daughter of Major and Mrs. E.D. Foxworth of MOQ 2717. Facilities are in the home of Betsy's co-partner, Nancy Adams, 10, daughter of Major and Mrs. R. K. Adams of MOQ 2612.

Despite the limited resources at their disposal the girls are helping in their own small way to promote the theme of National Library Week, April 27.

The girls pooled books from friends in the neighborhood so that everyone within their circle of friends could benefit from reading them. (Photo by LCpl. B. J. Martin)

Beware — Land Frauds On Rise In U.

Land sale racketeers are making a strong pitch to attract the vacation and retirement dollars of the public, with a special emphasis on military personnel who are dreaming of that vine-covered cottage when they retire.

The schemes vary widely, but all of them base their sales tempo on low cost and sun-kissed shangri-la or beach, usually a long way from the prospective buyer's present residence. No immediate inspection of the premises is then likely.

Confidence men even fool legitimate advertising media representatives, and place their come-on material with newspapers, magazines and radio stations. At first encounter the proposition has every odor of legitimacy, but close checking of the offering will always uncover any fraud.

United Press International

recently carried a warning from the National Association of Real Estate Boards that the "free lot" scheme is making headway with unwary buyers who are offered one "choice" lot in an area which is so described as to lead the buyer to believe that all utilities and services are ready—waiting for the house builder.

If the prospect seems doubtful, the clincher is to offer him the extra lot next door for nothing or very little money. Once hooked, the buyer finds his dream house-lot is far removed from civilization, on undeveloped scrub land.

Another scheme uses colorful many-faceted brochures which lead the prospect to believe that he is getting in on the ground floor of the ideal "potential" development. He is much too late that he is paid an exorbitant price, at the interest, for a piece of swampland which (in fine type) he is warned is lacking in drainage, water supply, utilities, etc., and none is planned.

Honest real estate operators warn all military personnel retirement to avoid coming involved with shady promoters who operate just within the law. It is suggested that no contract be signed or purchase be agreed to, unless the prospective buyer actually views the land in question before opening negotiations.

PEACETIME HONOR—The Navy and Marine Corps Medal, one of America's highest peacetime awards, is awarded to Cpl. Stephen Fozman (left) by Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, commanding general, 2d Marine Division. The presentation took place at the Division's 2d Motor Transport Battalion where Cpl. Fozman is serving as a vehicle driver. Last fall, he distinguished himself while acting as a Safety NCO at a Division hand-grenade range, when a trainee froze after arming a grenade. Cpl. Fozman's prompt actions in forcing him to throw the grenade was credited with probably saving a human life and resulted in the medal's award.
